Hampden-Sydney College
vs.
Greensboro College

0-0, 0-0 ODAC

3-0, 0-0 USA-S

By The Numbers

46- hits for Greensboro over the weekend, good for a .414 team average.

9- Strikeouts for transfer Isaiah Faudoa in his Pride debut. The total fell one shy of making the single-game Top-10 in Greensboro history.

40- Greensboro's early home run pace, on track to surpass last year's record of 36.

2- Times last year the Pride scored 10+ runs in three consecutive games, a feat they have already accomplished once in 2025.

5- Wins needed by coach Chris Fenisey to move into a tie with Matt Aker for 4th all-time at Greensboro. 12 wins would move him into a tie with Frank Maldonado for 3rd.

Game Notes

- Started With A Bang: The Pride opened their season vs. Lycoming for the third year in a row. Greensboro swept the weekend series, taking Friday's doubleheader by scores of 11-1 and 13-4 before winning the Sunday finale 14-9.

- Starter Pack: Greensboro got dominant outings from their weekend starters. Ian Bast (5 IP, 2 H, 0 R, 8 K), Michael Richards (6 IP, 0 R, 1 H, 4 K), and Isaiah Faudoa (6 IP, 2 H, 1 R, 9 K) all had stellar first starts of the year.

-To the Ted- For the first time this year, Greensboro plays at Ted Leonard Park after opening the season at Truist Point in High Point.

-Extra! Extra!: Greensboro banged out 15 extra base hits over the weekend, including 7 in game 1.

-Preseason Honors: Shortstop Evan Sykes was named to the preseason All-American Third Team by D3Baseball.com. Last season, Sykes raked .360 with 7 home runs and 46 RBI.

-Week 1 Honors: In addition, Sykes was named the USA South Baseball Player of the Week for his opening weekend against Lycoming. Sykes hit .583 with a home run, 7 runs scored, and 5 RBI. In the opening game, Sykes went 4-5 and fell a home run short of the cycle.

Coach's Corner

Chris Fenisey - Greensboro College (4th season @ Greensboro, 4th overall)
Career Record: 61-61

Entering his fourth season as head coach of Greensboro College baseball, Fenisey is coming off a career-best 24-19 season that marked the program's best since winning 26 games in 2008. His 58 career wins rank 5th in program history. Fenisey also served as assistant coach at Greensboro from 2016-18. In between those two stints was an assistant coach position at High Point University. Before moving to North Carolina, Fenisey's first coaching post was at his alma mater, St. Leo (FL) where he spent six seasons as both a player and coach.

Michael Mulvey - Hampden-Sydney(1st season at H-S, 1st)
Career Record: 0-0

Making his head coaching debut today, Mulvey was hired as the head coach at Hampden-Sydney this past summer. He comes to the program after serving as the pitching coach at his alma mater, Marietta, where he made a Division III College World Series appearance in 2022.

Scouting the Opponent

The Hampden-Sydney Tigers open their season today against Greensboro. Their scheduled season-opening series against St. Mary's College of Maryland was postponed due to weather and will be rescheduled. The Tigers return 27 from last year's roster, including 13 with pitching experience. The pitching looks to be led by junior Sterling Austin, who went 2-4 in 56.1 innings last season, while the bullpen is anchored by Alex Fitz-Hugh, who notched four saves last season. Offensively, the Tigers are strong in the infield, with Matthew Arnold (.330 average last year), Jaxon Masterson (.307), and senior Grayson Harris (.391) all returning quality bats to the Hampden-Sydney lineup. The outfield is also led by returning veterans Jack Wilson (.304, 25 RBI) and Christian Lancaster (.339, 33 RBI), an All-ODAC recipient last season. Last year, the Tigers went 16-19 and finished 9-13 in conference play. They begin the 2025 season as the ODAC preseason #9.
