By The Numbers

6- Walks in 12 innings by starting pitchers. The bullpen has surrendered 7 in 13.

28- Wins last season, breaking the old program mark of 27, set in 2006.

5- Times last year Greensboro went consecutive games without a home run, as they just have for the first time this year.

16- Earned runs allowed against Roanoke Wednesday, the most since allowing 16 to Southern Virginia on 4/20/24.

6- Homers hit by the Pride against Averett in last year's series. Greensboro batted .389 over the three games.

2022- The last time Greensboro pitching did not allow a home run through four games. This year, pitchers have kept opponents in the yard through the first three.

9.7- Strikeouts per game by Greensboro hitters.

Game Notes

- Ouch: Greensboro was handed their first loss of the season, 16-0, against Roanoke on Wednesday.

- Hey, I Know You: It's an early season reunion for Trevor Testerman with his former squad. The Greensboro outfielder is batting .400 in his first three games with the Pride, including a home run and is 4-4 in steals. With Averett, he hit .336 over 73 games, with eight homers and 28 steals.

-Ralls Enthralls: Isaiah Ralls made his collegiate debut against Washington & Lee, delivering five innings of one-run ball, earning USA South Rookie Pitcher of the Week.

- A Lot of Firsts: Through the first three games of the year, twelve players have made their collegiate debuts for the Pride, including three who picked up their first collegiate hit and three pitchers who recorded their first strikeout.

Chris Fenisey - Head Coach

PROFILE:
Name: Chris Ryan Fenisey
Hometown: Valrico, Florida
High School: Tampa Preparatory School
College: St. Leo University '13
Career Record: 88-78-1

Coaching Experience:
2022 - Present: Greensboro College Head Coach
2018 - 2021: High Point University Assistant Coach
2016 - 2018: Greensboro College Assistant Coach + Recruiting Coordinator
2013 - 2016: St. Leo University Assistant Coach

Chris Fenisey was named Greensboro College's baseball head coach in August 2021. Fenisey is not new to the Greensboro College campus, as he served as the baseball team's hitting coach from 2016 through 2017. Entering 2026, Fenisey is ranked 3rd all-time in wins in program history.

Fenisey recently served as a volunteer assistant and camp coordinator at High Point University. During his time there, Fenisey was responsible with helping the outfielder and corner infielders on the defensive side while being a first base coach and assisting the development of the offense.

Previously at Greensboro, Fenisey was tasked with the defensive strategy for the team's outfielders and first baseman and served as the first base coach. In addition, he headed the Pride's player development program and was the team's travel coordinator, recruiting coordinator, and camp coordinator.

A native of Tampa, Fla., Fenisey spent six seasons at his alma mater, Saint Leo University in Saint Leo, Fla. His playing career was cut short due to injury in 2010, but he joined the staff as a student assistant and aided the pitching staff for four seasons. Upon his graduation in 2013, Fenisey was promoted to a graduate assistant coach where he oversaw the development of the team's outfielders.

In 2025, Fenisey guided the Pride to the USA South Conference Tournament Championship Series, the first Championship appearance for Greensboro College since 2019.

Assistant Coaches

Justin Ebert- ASSISTANT COACH

Justin Ebert is in his third year at Greensboro College as an Assistant Coach, in which he assists with hitters and infielders. As part of his role on the coaching staff, Ebert assists in the development of scouting reports, coordination of camps, and team logistics.

Ebert joined the staff shortly after finishing his playing and educational career at High Point University (HPU). He also has served as a travel ball coach, working with players from the 14U-17U levels with some nationally recognized organizations - Team Elite Baseball and Evoshield Canes. Ebert's playing career at HPU was riddled with injuries. Throughout his 3 years, he appeared in 70 total games and registered 40 starts with the Panthers.

Prior to HPU, the Fayetteville native graduated from Terry Sanford High School. Over his 3-year span as a member of the Varsity Baseball Team, Ebert was a career .418 hitter and accumulated 99 career hits. He was named to the North Carolina Baseball Coaches Association 3A all-state team, 1st Team All-Conference, 1st Team All-Region, and 1st Team All-State. Ebert graduated High Point University with a degree in Exercise Science and a Psychology Minor.

Ed Porcelli- VOL. ASSISTANT COACH

Ed Porcelli joined the Greensboro College baseball program in 2024 after serving three years as the pitching coach with William Peace University. During his tenure, the Pacer's pitching staff was in the top 3 teams in the USA South conference all three years, including being ranked first after the 2024 season. In the first full season as pitching coach, the Pride finished second in the conference statistically.

From 2018-2021, Porcelli was an assistant coach with North Carolina Central University in Durham, NC. He served as a roving instructor throughout his tenure, working with infielders, outfielders and catchers on both the defensive and offensive sides of the playing field. He also served as the primary coach for player development, focusing on statistical data and historical data to promote and instill the team's philosophy in game approach and preparation. This requires the use of video and the compilation of sabermetric statistics to provide players with the knowledge they need to perform with greater confidence on the field. He also served as the Assistant Pitching Coach and Director of Player Development for the Eagles baseball team his last two seasons with the Eagles. In 2015-2016, Porcelli was the pitching coach at Pasco Hernando State College in New Port Richey, FL. The PHSC Bobcats play in the NJCAA D2 Region 10 and play many of the local junior colleges that are here in the greater NC area.

Porcelli has had the opportunity to coach a number of players that went on to sign professional contracts over his 9 years as coach. These include Devin Sweet (ML-Detroit/Seattle/Oakland), Tyler Beck (AA-Minnesota), Austin Vernon (AA-Tampa Bay), Shane Davis (A-Baltimore), Carter Williams (A-San Francisco) and Corey Joyce (AAA-Detroit). Porcelli has been involved with the game of baseball as a player or coach for more than 50 years. After graduating from Wilton (CT) High School in 1983, he walked on to the University of South Florida and played under the legendary Hall of Fame pitcher Robin Roberts. After two years he transferred to Florida State, where he played under the all-time winningest coach in NCAA history, Mike Martin. At Florida State, he compiled a career 9-1 record for the Seminoles and earned trips to the College World Series in Omaha, Nebraska in 1986 and 1987. In his first trip, he pitched nearly four innings against the best hitting team in college baseball, Oklahoma State. He gave up one run on one hit by future MLB player Robin Ventura and helped the Seminoles eventually win 6-5. He also pitched the last three innings of the 1986 National Championship game against University of Arizona. In 1987, Porcelli gained not only a Metro Conference All-Tournament pick but was named the Tournament's Most Outstanding Player as the Seminoles went on to win their eighth Metro Conference Tournament in nine years. Over the two-year period that he was a player at Florida State, the Seminoles' national ranking never fell lower than fifth while compiling a record of 116-31, the best in college baseball over that span. After graduating with a Bachelor of Arts in Literature at FSU in 1988, Porcelli continued to play baseball as an amateur. After a couple of missed chances to sign a minor league contract with the Milwaukee Brewers, he was given the opportunity to play as a replacement player for the Brewers in the 1995 MLB strike. During what was possibly the most tumultuous time in the history of professional baseball, he had the opportunity to experience it on the front line. He wrote about the epic baseball shutdown and explained many of the views of the players, coaches and fans in his book "Scabs Heal All Wounds". The experience of playing during the strike gave him the perspective of how difficult it is for even the best college players to succeed at the pro level. He uses his experiences to help future potential professional players understand some of the obstacles they face if fortunate enough to attain the next level.

After North Carolina Central University dropped baseball during the covid crisis of 2020, Porcelli penned another baseball themed book, "The Last Dance-The Eagle's Rise to Extinction". Porcelli delved into why the University dropped the baseball program, wrote about the inconsistencies of the statements given by the administrators and revealed the dark secrets why NCCU will never bring baseball back.
Ed and his wife Suzanne Goodknight live in Apex, North Carolina.

Cooper Ferguson- VOL. ASSISTANT COACH

Ferguson is in his second year coaching with The Pride. He primarily works with the catchers and assists with the hitters.

Ferguson played for the pride in 2022-24 as an infielder where he started in 18 games. He was a career .338 hitter tallying 26 hits, 6 doubles, and 1 home run.

Ferguson Graduated from Greensboro College with a degree in Exercise and Sports Studies with a focus in Sports Management.
