ALL-AMERICAN

Caylon Dygert, a sophomore from Magnolia, Texas, was named the opening day starter and racked up three strikeouts and no runs allowed in 8.1 innings pitched. In 2024, he made 14 starts as a pitcher, and appeared in 25 games as a DH/1B last season with the Mavs. He picked up 48 strikeouts and allowed just 16 walks while leading the team with a 3.79 ERA. The sophomore allowed just 38 earned runs across 90.1 innings pitched and picked up his first complete game in just his third-career start at Lamar (3/2/24) ... Offensively, Dygert slashed 11 hits in 33 at-bats with two doubles and slashed for 5 RBIs and a home run while holding an OPS of .921. He was named Second Team Freshman All-American by D1Baseball.com and won a conference player of the week award.

BULLPEN

UTA opens the season with a reworked pitching staff featuring a mix of returning contributors and new additions, with roles still taking shape early in the year. Junior two-way standout Caylon Dygert headlines the group, while arms such as Zahradnik and Skolfield are expected to factor into key innings as the weekend rotation and bullpen structure develop.

The staff is composed primarily of experienced upperclassmen, giving UTA flexibility with matchup options and multi-inning usage out of the bullpen. Emphasis entering the season is on limiting free passes and generating strikeouts, with several pitchers capable of working in both starting and relief roles depending on need.

CONFERENCE PLAY

UTA enters 2026 with an 18-game conference schedule in the Western Athletic Conference, consisting of six three-game series against Tarleton State, California Baptist, Sacramento State, Abilene Christian, Utah Tech and Utah Valley. With only seven teams in the league and a shortened slate, each series represents one-sixth of the conference schedule and will play a major role in positioning for the WAC Tournament in Mesa, where the league's automatic NCAA berth will be decided.

TOUGH SCHEDULE

UT Arlington faces one of its most demanding nonconference slates in recent seasons, highlighted by road trips and matchups against nationally regarded programs including Arkansas and TCU. The Mavericks will also square off with regional powers such as Dallas Baptist, Baylor and Oklahoma, along with a road conference test at UTSA, as part of a schedule built to prepare UTA for WAC play and postseason positioning.

UT Arlington named Mike Trapasso as the eighth head coach in the UTA baseball program's history on Aug. 22, 2024.

Trapasso served as the team's lead assistant in both 2023 and 2024, and boasts a storied career in college baseball, including a National Coach of the Year award in 2006 while he served as the head coach at Hawai'i.

During the 2024 season, Trapasso was able to orchestrate one of the most dominant strike-throwing pitching staffs in the country. The Mavericks ranked third in the nation in walks allowed per 9 innings with a mark of 2.94. Additionally, the pitching staff led by Trapasso surrendered just 156 walks in 56 games, which ranked second in the NCAA.

Trapasso spent the 2022 season as a pitching coach at Navy, but prior to that was the Hawai'i head coach for 20 years from 2002-21, recording 536 victories including eight campaigns of 30 wins or more. He guided Hawai'i to multiple NCAA Regional appearances (2006, 2010), was named Western Athletic Conference Coach of the Year three times (2004, 2006, 2011) and guided the Rainbow Warriors to consecutive WAC Championships in 2010 and 2011.

In 2006, Trapasso was named the National Coach of the Year by the National Baseball Foundation and was a National Coach of the Year Finalist by College Baseball Insider after leading Hawai'i to 45 wins and its first regional since 1992.

Additionally, Trapasso coached 13 All-Americans, 27 All-Big West selections, 52 All-WAC honorees and 80 academic all-conference selections during his time with Hawai'i – including graduating nearly all of his seniors from 2015-22. Along with the collegiate honors earned under the tutelage of Trapasso, 43 of his players were selected in the Major League Baseball Draft.

Prior to his time in Honolulu, Trapasso spent time as an assistant coach at Georgia Tech (1995-2001), South Florida (1992-94) and Missouri (1989-91).

While with Georgia Tech, Trapasso was named the top collegiate baseball assistant/recruiter in the country by Baseball America in 2001. In his seven years with the Yellow Jackets, Georgia Tech never had a recruiting class that wasn't ranked in the top 20 in the nation by Collegiate Baseball: 4th, 18th, 7th, 1st, 14th, 11th and 12th. The top-ranked recruiting class in 1998 was named the best ever in the draft era, at the time, by Baseball America.

In those seven years in Atlanta, he helped guide Georgia Tech to 294 wins (an average of 42 per season), six regional appearances and two ACC championships in 1997 and 2000. In total, 16 pitchers were drafted by MLB clubs and seven were named All-America.

During his time at USF, Trapasso was the Bulls' pitching coach. He oversaw a staff which led the then Metro Conference in ERA all three seasons he was in Tampa, and made a regional trip in 1993 following a league championship.

Outside of the collegiate landscape, Trapasso was an assistant coach for Team USA at the 2004 World University Baseball Games in Taiwan. In 1983, he played for Team USA, making him the first person to play and coach for Team USA in baseball.

A four-time MLB Draft pick, Trapasso spent time as a player in both the Atlanta Braves (1985-86) and St. Louis Cardinals (1987) organizations.

Trapasso was an outstanding player at Jefferson College in Missouri (1982-83) and at Oklahoma State (1984-85). At Jefferson College, he was a finalist for the Golden Spikes Award in 1982, which is bestowed annually to the best amateur baseball player in the country, while at Oklahoma State he led the then Big Eight Conference and was 5th in the country in ERA (1.42) in 1984.

He was a member of the OSU teams which went to the College World Series in both 1984 and 1985, including leading the Cowboys to a win in the CWS opening game in 1984. Trapasso received his undergraduate degree from Oklahoma State in Business Administration/Marketing in 1987.

A native of St. Louis, Mo., Trapasso was inducted into the Greater St. Louis Baseball Hall of Fame in 2015. He and his wife, Catherine, have two sons: Michel and Matthew.

Record Crowd	2,008 vs TCU (February 21, 2017)

Clay Gould Ballpark has been the home of record breakers, major leaguers and champions. The 1,600-seat facility originally opened in 1974 and has undergone several upgrades to keep the complex amongst the best in college baseball.

In 2015, the Mavericks opened a state-of-the-art clubhouse that gives UTA a new on-site home. The 6,000 sq. ft. facility includes a players clubhouse, an equipment and laundry room, a sports medicine training room and coaches' offices.

UTA's home was re-named Clay Gould Ballpark on April 26, 2003, after the former UT Arlington standout player and coach. The name change was at the suggestion of Dr. Allan Saxe, an associate professor of political science at UT Arlington, whom the ballpark was previously named after. In front of a crowd of nearly 1,000 people, the name change officially took place and Gould's widow, Julie, and daughter, Logan, unveiled the memorial of Clay Gould on the outside wall of the main entrance.

In 2009 a Daktronics ProStar ® LED Display video board was installed and the center section of the grandstands also received an upgrade with approximately 345 new seats added. Other additions to the stadium took place in 1999, when a three-foot high brick wall spanning from dugout to dugout was added, along with a new net backstop.

In October 2018, Clay Gould Ballpark was equipped with artificial turn for the home bullpen and mounds. A turf warning track and draining system was installed in January 2020. Renovation and installation of an updated scoreboard and video board is scheduled to be completed in 2021.

The Mocek Patio, named after John & Pattye Mocek was built in March 2019. There are still two more phases to complete the patio. Phase II will consist of adding an outdoor kitchen, while Phase III will include adding patio furniture.

The stadium was originally opened in 1974 as the Mavericks hosted TCU in what became the UT Arlington debut of head coach Butch McBroom.

Besides UTA baseball, the diamond has played host to the Texas State Junior College Tournament, the state American Amateur Baseball Congress Connie Mack and American Legion Tournaments and numerous high school playoff games. It also served as the venue for Major League tryout camps. The field has dimensions of 330 feet down the lines, 380 feet into the power alleys and 400 feet to straight away center field.
