From the Editor:

DEDIC

Hello Readers,

At the beginning of the year, the yearbook staff hemmed and hawed about this year's theme. We could not decide for weeks, and then, inspiration struck. We decided to title this year's annual, The Game of Life, and the entire yearbook has a universal theme of fun and games.

After the theme was chosen, we discussed the title. I think I speak for most teenagers when I say that, to us, life is a game. While hard work and good grades can guarantee some things, like entrance into a certain college, luck and opportunity also help decide if many of us will become the successful businessmen, doctors, lawyers, or diplomats we dream of becoming. So we hope this yearbook will put some lightheartedness into that sobering thought. All work and no play makes for a dull person, indeed.

I am honored to be this year's editor, and have worked hard to ensure this annual be all that it can be. With an incredibly diverse, ever-changing student body, a memory book such as this is imperative to the remembrance of this year in what will surely be very eventful lives. Please take the time to peruse the annual and remember this year with fond memories. I hope you enjoy looking back at this year through this book as much as my staff and I have had creating it for you.

A THOUSAND WAYS TO LIVE YOUR

ATION

Mustafa Bulut

E.B. Stafford

It's not often that a school loses both administrators in a single year, and it's even more unusual that both the principal and assistant principal choose to retire at the same time; but that's the case for George C. Marshall School this year. Both Mr. E.B. Stafford and Mr. Mustafa Bulut have decided to retire after serving long and successful careers with DoDDS and we proudly dedicate this yearbook to them.

Mr. E.B. Stafford began his teaching career in 1967 in Alabama as a teacher of biological science after serving in the U.S. Navy and graduating from Auburn University. He joined DoDDS as a science and history teacher at Nuremburg High School in Germany in 1982.

His first job as an administrator came in 1985 when he became assistant principal of Ansbach High School. In 1989 he was transferred to Schweinfurt where he served as first as assistant principal in the K-9 school and later principal of the middle school until 1999. In 1999 he moved to the Mediterranean district when he became principal of Rota High School where he served until 2005. From Rota Mr. Stafford came to GCM and has been principal here for the last 3 years.

He is married to Patricia George, our first grade teacher who will be retiring as well, and has 2 children and 2 grandchildren. After his more than 40 years as an educator, he plans to retire to Alabama where he will spend his time reading, cataloging his rock and roll music collection and playing with his grandchildren.

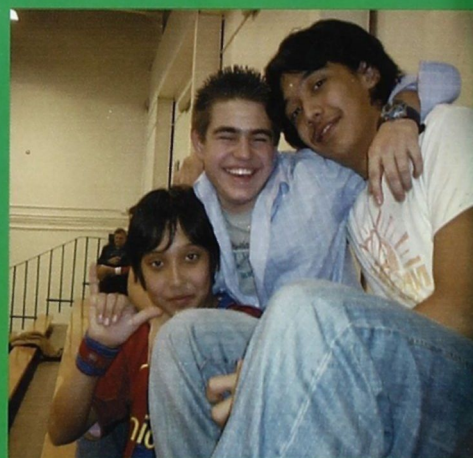

Mr. Mustafa Bulut hails from Kars, Turkey and attended the prestigious Turkish Military Academy in Ankara. After serving in the Turkish military for 6 years, Mr. Bulut attended the University of Minnesota where he received a BS in Elementary education and Boston University, receiving an M.A. in Guidance and Human Services.

He began his career in DoDDS in 1976 in Bindlach, Germany as an elementary school teacher and transferred 2 years later to Incirlik, Turkey where he served until 1996 as teacher and guidance counselor. In 1997, he transferred to Bahrain where he served as a special education teacher and guidance counselor. He came to Ankara in 2001 as a guidance counselor and was named assistant principal in 2005.

He is married to Patricia Bulut, a former DoDDS educator and as 2 children who are successful products of a DoDDS education. He plans to retire to Minnesota where he will indulge his love for gardening, fishing, and eating.

"We were trained on three subjects: academics, relationships, and finding the way. We are hoping that by introducing this program to our school, we will be able to recruit trainers who will be able to reach the program's main goal by changing the transitioning student's focal point of view of what was gained and lost. We thank Ms Kelly, Ms. Dempsey and Ms. Noyse for accompanying us on the trip."

The faculty and staff at GCM collectively bring more than 1,000,000,000 hours of experience in teaching and guiding students. Because of GCM's small population, these teachers show a great level of versatility in the tasks they perform that nurture the diverse talents of this school's children. Besides doing an excellent job in the job they are hired for, these teachers coach sports and teach a wide variety of extra-curricular activities.

We truly are in luck to have such a diverse and dedicated group as our teachers, our gurus and our mentors.

My mother drew a distinction between achievement and success. She said that achievement is the knowledge that you have studied and worked hard and done the best that is in you. This year's girl's volleyball team started out extremely hopeful. The largest turnout the school has seen in years, the team began the season with over twenty young women. Practices were spent teaching the newest members of the team the basics, and later Ms. Neumann and Mr. Giraldi began to help the girls hone their teamwork skills on the court. The trip to Incirlik was successful. Not a single game was lost to the Hodjas, but at the end of the Incirlik trip, tragedy struck the team. The majority of the Varsity team had become ineligible to play for the remainder of the season. The promising team was shattered and a new one needed to be built... fast. The newly formed ASA sponsored a tournament just a few weeks later. Even with the devastating loss of players, our school's girls came in second place. There was only one more tournament left for the girls to compete in, the DoDDS Athletic Tournament in Germany. Yet another disaster occurred the day before the team was due to leave. One of the Varsity setters found she was also ineligible to travel, and the team had to learn to play without one of their most important players in one practice. The Germany trip went well overall. While the team did not place, the girls performed admirably against the top three teams, narrowly losing to the number one team. The season that started with so much promise, ended with a great show of spirit and a sense of accomplishment in overcoming many obstacles.

WRESTLING '07-'08

"As teachers and coaches, we must remember we are not here to win. We are here to teach. If we are doomed to disappointment and failure. Our focus is on preparation and sacrifice and effort. If we do that, we will never lose."

Keith McGuire started wrestling when he was a freshman at Independence High School. While living in the mountains, he has wanted to for a long time to make a contribution to a young person's life. He wants to help kids believe in themselves, the determination, the drive to achieve their goals in life and that there is nothing more important than making a contribution to a young person's life.

that when mere winning is our only goal, we are doomed to disappointment and failure. But when our goal is to try to win, when our focus is on numbers on a scoreboard then coached wrestling this season. He began was in 7th grade and continued until he in college at San Jose State University. San Jose, California and attending School he won or placed in various tournaments. This was his first year coaching, the past 16 years. His goal is to help a young person's life and to help themselves and have the courage, dedication and competitive life and on the mat. He says then making a contribution

Boys' BASKETBALL

"If you are afraid of failure you don't deserve to be successful!" -said NBA legend Charles Barkley.

This year's basketball team was unafraid of failure. After losing their first 10 games, the team overcame all odds to defeat rival school Oasis 51-47. Even more unlikely they accomplished this feat after the departure of ex-captain Muzzafar Umarov.

The team was made up mostly of freshman this year with only two juniors and two sophomores. The captains were Grady Wilson, Meylis Amanmuradov, and, up until he left our school, Muzafar Umarov.

Ryan Norton and Tim Redden were the coaches.

Cheerleading

I think I speak for the whole squad when I say that we had a pretty good cheerleading season this year. Half of the squad was brand new to cheerleading, and together we learned a lot and came a long way. We had our rough spots, as any team does, but in the end we overcame many obstacles and came together in more ways than just cheerleading. Although we didn't take place in Germany, our experiences working as a team will last longer than any trophy. Thanks again to Tamara, our wonderful coach, and Ms. Idzerda and Ms. Kelly, our sponsors for all their hard work and dedication. Go Trojans!

The Fantastic

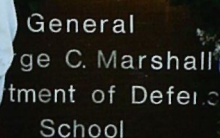

Fourth Grade

A simple line drawing of a girl with spiky hair, wearing a short-sleeved shirt and a skirt, jumping rope. The rope is in a large loop above her head, and motion lines indicate the rope is moving.

A photograph of a classroom scene. A female teacher with short brown hair, wearing a black short-sleeved shirt and a light-colored skirt, stands on the left side of the frame, facing the students. She is looking towards a group of young children seated at their desks. The children, of various ethnicities, are sitting at wooden desks with metal frames. Some are looking at the teacher, while others are looking towards the camera. The classroom has large windows on the right side, providing a view of trees outside. There are storage cabinets on the left and educational materials, including a 'Chart Tablet' and books, on the windowsill. The overall atmosphere is that of a typical elementary school classroom.
