On the verge of adulthood, we each stop and look back on our lives, wondering... "Where am I?", "Is this where I was headed?", "Am I content with who and where I am?" and most of all, "Where do I want to go?" It is here, in these days of youthful aspiration and optimism that we find ourselves at the crossroads...

With so much to see of far away lands, so many to love from places so different from our own, we are united. United in peace, in understanding, in acceptance. Here, in the center of our diverse universe, we come together and find ourselves at the international crossroads...

In this world where the sun rises and sets as it did the day before and will the day afterwards, some things never change. But then again, the only thing that remains the same is change, and in between now and then is here- where we stand. So, once again, we find ourselves at the crossroads...

At the Crossroads...

Live not in yesterday,
For it has gone.
Live not for tomorrow.
For it might not come.
Remember the days past, fondly
Aspire for the best in the future,
But live Now,
Because today is what makes yesterday's beautiful memories and tomorrow's beautiful dreams...

SENIORS

The Class of 1999

Driving past the obstacles of school life, the Senior Class of 1999 not only represents the end of the millennium, but a group of students who are on the way to the real world. With a total of sixteen students, sponsored by Mr. Paul Generelli, this year's senior class was a cultural mix of colorful people.

Not only did they hog most of the benches, use up all the lockers at the end of the hallway, and take charge of several upperclassmen roles, but they also made a memorable contribution to the school with their individual personalities.

The seniors worked hard together in various fundraisers to make a potential success out of graduation—the big event at the end of the year, that makes being a senior distinctively special. However, things were “laid-back” thanks to the sufficient sum of money left over from the previous year.

Despite all the road blocks and speed bumps involved with a typical senior year, like college applications and a burdensome pile of life-affecting decisions, this unique class made it all the way through and is on the high-way to a bright future.

Megha, you are the kind of sister every sister should be in life. You are the best in the whole wide world.

Friends, thank you for all the pleasant memorable times which we have spent together. This period of my life will always remain in my heart and will never fade.

Dear Mum and Dad
Since I opened my eyes
you directed me and showed me
the old and new ends of the world
you were the ones who named me and gave support through all the years
now, I am graduating in 1999
I wonder if I could have achieved all this without your help and loving it was still a long way to come yet your love and understanding will not finish in the coming years
but will keep on leading me.
Teachers, I am very thankful to you for all the help and cooperation which you have rendered to me.

*Chains of memories hold fast
Never to let go.
Never to loosen.
To be strong forever.
To live on until
Death does separate us
For all you are
Is just a memory
A sweet, sweet memory.*

*Forever is a hard word
To think about or to say.
Forever is a hard time
To think about or to live.
Forever is how long
I can be with you.
No matter what happens.*

*Through rain or shine,
Tears, or smiles,
I Will Always Love You.*

*Don't let go.
Hold on.
Don't try it.
Do it.
Don't cry.
Smile.*

Mom and Dad: Thank you for everything. That means for putting up with everything from the dirty diapers to college applications. I love you guys!

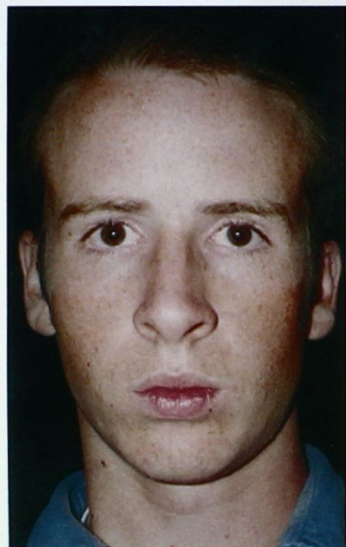

Shanta: What can I say? You better be good to our parents. Don't try to give them a lot of gray hairs. Thank you for everything as well - all the noise from the room next door, to all the fights and the short, once-in-a-while loving and caring moments. I might not show it or say it, but I love you.

Sean: I will always remember you and you will have a special place in my heart. Remember all the good times we had and even all the bad and whatever you do in life, Keep Faith with you Always.

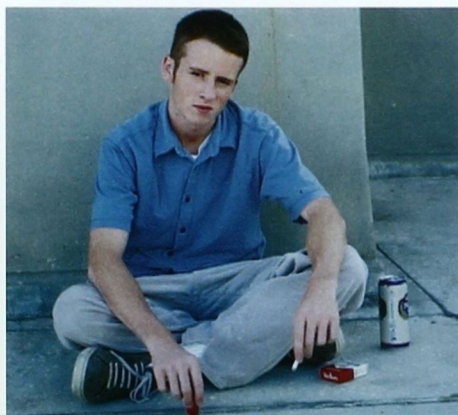

Amed and John: You were there for me my first two years of high school in Fairfax. Now I will be there for you for the rest of our lives. You mean the world to me. No one could ask for a better pair of best friends. Amed, someday we will get our timing right. Jon, my sunshine, Thank you for all the sun rays into my life. I LOVE YOU GUYS!

All my friends in Fairfax: If you ain't here, then you must be there! I miss you guys so much! Home is where your heart is and mine is with you. I will be with you soon!

All my friends in Ankara: You know who you are. Remember all the fun times we had! The sniff-stick club to cheerleading and just goofing off anywhere, anytime. It's been fun! I will see you guys later! I will miss you until then! Luv ya!

If you've got to be something all the time besides alive, you might as well be funny.

- Henry Rollins

To act well in this world one must give up all selfish aims. The people, who become the missionary of a religious thought, have no other fatherland than this thought. Man is not on this earth to be happy; he is not there to be simply honest. He is there to realize great things for humanity, to obtain nobility and to surpass the vulgarity in which the existence of almost all individuals drags on.

-Truman Capote

Today we love what tomorrow we hate.
Today we desire what tomorrow we shun.
Today we seek what tomorrow we fear.

Mom&Dad: I'm sorry for being a pain in the neck, but I hope you know that I'm thankful for your support and for letting me see the world with my own eyes. I love you both. Fara: We've been through so much together! Te quiero mucho hermana, but I'm still mad at you for taking most of the good genes. Natalie: BFF. Don't ever forget all our freshman and sophomore adventures. Denat power will 'always' be out there. Ryan: The times we've had were some of the happiest, craziest and most memorable of my life. Never forget Sundays at the park, "No, you have a cold face!", feisty goats, celebrated anniversaries, dumb fights, my magic box, the energizer bunny, and the list keeps 'going and going and going'. You'll always have a special place in my heart. I love you, Ryan. Sara-bear: We've had some wild times together. Bodrum, the gang, clubbing, ugly pervs, Golden Cue, Bailey and her antics, St. Patrick's Day (enough said), Brybry's house, spiking power, the Sudanese guys, cooking at your house. Your friendship means a lot to me, and I love you like a sis- don't ever doubt that. Ryane: Bomp, bomp, bomp baby. To crazy summers, an awesome volleyball season, and a great friendship. Oh yeah, and fire drills wink,wink. Mike: My little bro who almost got me killed when driving recklessly on that scooter ride, j/k. El chico del apartamento cinco doce rules. Bryan: Diaperboy, so what if I'm Malaysian? And ok, I won't scream. You know, if you're nice, I just might give you my glass statue one day. Jess: C'mon, hurry, let's get a coke! Thermal resorts are cool. Oops, it's past 7am! What is a big sack of sugar doing in your locker? Jason: You crack me up. But no, I'm not giving you my Efes back pack! Erol: My fellow tennis captain, Spanish and math homework buddy, and a really good friend. Keith: Fethiye - rubber band fights, scuba diving lessons, and "Hey, I still have that apricot stuff." Erinç & Sinan: Cheers! Zeeshan: Denver, the last dinosaur, she's my friend and a whole lot more! Mr. President, I think we should have another senior skip day. Shanta: Thanks for picking up my photos, hehe. Good luck with love and life. To all my other friends: I love you all, thanks for the great memories.

Jen, Chrys, Danielle, Amy, Jeremy, Christina, Carrie, and Mo, all of you have touched my life more than I could have ever expected. We've been through so much; where did all the time go?

Kelly...where would I be without you to talk to? Thank you for caring. I missed you these years.

Hillary...my 'little sister' ...friends and I've never seen you...what a wonder. Mollie...no words can express. I love you.

Marcia & Dan-hey look, the gang is breaking up a little more...one left! I love you both. Thank you for all the times and memories.

Some of it's magic, some of it's tragic, but I've had a good life all the way.

To all my friends all over the world:
I wish I could gather you all in one place and take a big picture. Realizing that some of you I will never get a chance to see again, I want you to know that I love you and will always have in my memory the happiness and grief we lived through.

To Dear Sister:

Anya, even though our pointless fights are still not over, I hope you recall all the great moments we spent together. Despite everything, I love you anyway.

Your "little" sister

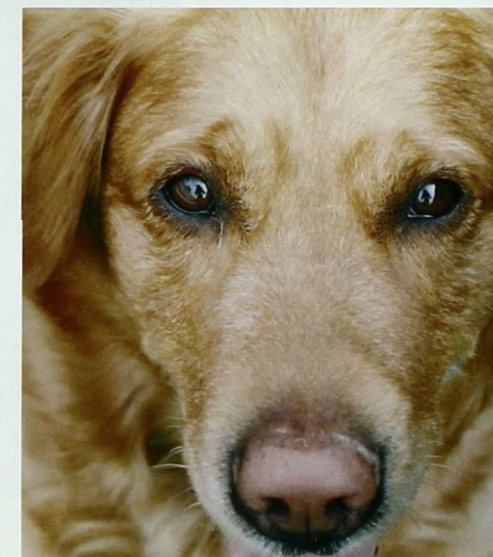

Dear Mom & Dad:

I just can't express in these few words how much I love you for all that you've done for me. Thank you for always being there for me; thank you for your patience, love and support you've given me throughout these years.

Friends are forever. Near or far, you guys'll always be close to my heart.

Ever dearest Mom and Pops, there have been many times when I've been mean and bad and unreasonable. There were many times when I thought you were unreasonable!!! But I now realize that it was all for my own good. All I can say is thanks for being there for me through my ups and downs. I could never have come this far without U 2.

My Brucie boy, I'll love you forever.

Baba & Amma: For me, the last 18 years have been a great journey with many achievements and failures. And through this journey only two people have stood by me at all times. You've been the ones I've always relied on in my need. I could utter a thousand words for all my satisfaction; however, they will only fall short of the feelings they are to represent. I can only pray and ask that you remain in my shadow and watch over me. Thank you for all that you have done. I hope I have made you proud. I love you both very much, and I'll surely miss Baba's COOLNESS and Amma's murgir gosh, dall & bhath. T/C.

Arshad: Remember, even though you're the greatest sister and a true best friend, you still don't get anything of mine when I move out. When you are missing me badly, just think of all the tricks I have played on you over the years; I am sure it will make you feel better. Take care of Baba & Amma, when I am gone. Love you- Bhayia.

Friends- Here, There, Everywhere: The world would be a very dull place without love and friendship, and I would've been a very dull person w/o your love and friendship. Thank you all for everything you have done for me. I couldn't ask for anybody better to be my friends. Treasure the good & crazy, and bad & harsh times we shared together. We can truly say, "We actually lived through it." Enjoy life wherever you are and keep in touch. Remember, you got but one life to live, so live it to the fullest.

To those who are dear to my heart, You know who you are; you'll always have a special place in me. I love you all very much. To my fellow classmates, It's been a great three years; remember the past, live the present and look towards the future. Keep your head high. And remember, Class of 1999 RULES!!!!

Till we meet again, adios amigos.

Each time I hear Elton John's song "The Circle of Life", I am reminded of the quality students enrolled at our school. In the song, Elton John sings "in the circle of life, never take more than you give." As all of us experience many things in our circle of life at GCM, our students continue to exhibit their abilities to consistently think of others. From cleaning the building, watering the soccer field to providing blankets and toys to those less fortunate, our students stand out in academics, sports and above all, their willingness to give to others. Truly, in the "Circle of Life" our students continue "to give much more than they take". GCM is a school of future world leaders who instinctively give themselves. It is with great pride that I am part of this school with such giving and caring individuals. I look forward to observing the growth and leadership roles our students will take as their personal circles continue. I wish the students the very best in the future. Thank you for giving so much.

The wonderful students and staff here at GCM are easy to get involved with. I am constantly amazed at how supportive they are of each other; it really is like a family atmosphere. I've seen students arrive at GCM sad to be leaving their large school at other locations. I've also seen those same students cry at leaving the warm friendly environment of GCM. It's great at winter and spring breaks to see former students returning from all over the world to see their classmates and teachers. We can also boast of our high- test scores, winning athletes, multiple visual arts, and performing arts accomplishments. However, our greatest asset, I believe, is the way we support each other. I am extremely proud to have had a very small part in the history of this great school.

It's no secret that we always have exceptional volleyball teams here at GCM, but they never really knew how good they were until they were given a chance to compete outside of our district. With their minds focused on the guidance of Mr. Bruce Donahue, the girls began their soon to be victorious season. For the first time in Ankara's history, the winning volleyball team from the Turkey District would attend the European Championships in Alconbury, England! With their hearts set on going, they worked hard and after three roadtrips and a total of nine matches, they proved to be the best once again.

THE UNTOUCHABLES

The 98-99 Trojan soccer team got off to a great start with fresh faces on the coaching staff and the team. Despite being limited to a three-team competition, the Ankara Trojans made the best of the season. With the guidance of Mr. Baker--the head coach, the Trojans learned to "get hungry" for goals. With the talent of the starters and the backing of the substitutes, the Trojans remained undefeated. Aside from a few close encounters, the Trojans dominated the Turkey Division. We got hungry and stayed hungry!!

CROSS-COUNTRY: DRIVING PAST THE FINISH LINE

On your mark, get set, GO!

This year's cross-country season was very different from the previous year. The customary 2 mile course that the female runners ran was changed to a male course of 3.1 miles. It was a big change for the returning runners but, in the end, the cross-country team proved to everyone as well as to themselves that they were up to the challenge. With the expert help of Coach Lance Posey and manager, Ryan Elza, the cross-country team was primed for success. The male runners consisted of Chris Christensen, Matti Kiviranta, Dejuan Parker and Thomas Flagg (captain). Having five female runners enabled the team to compete for medals. The team included Amanda Augustenborg (captain), Abby Sargent, Chiara Bozzelli, Gal Landesman and Tiffany Rouff.

At the last meet of the season, the mighty Trojans definitely left their mark. Thomas came in first, and the female cross-country team won the tournament- an event that has not happened since the late eighties. Another difference from prior years was a crossing into European territory to compete with other runners. The only runner from Ankara that qualified to go was Amanda. Even thousands of miles away, we still made a great impression.

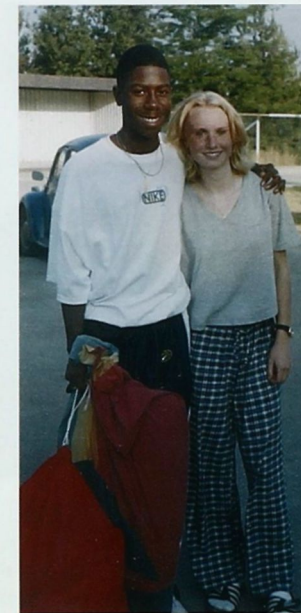

All in all, this year's cross-country team was full of dedicated and ambitious runners who wanted to prove just how much skill the Trojans have.

TROJANS

After a nail-biting tournament in Incirlik, the Lady Trojans emerged victorious, earning the right to compete in Alconbury, England, in the DoDDS European Division III Volleyball Championships. Trojans at home and abroad were all glued to their phones and e-mails, desperate for news of the girls' progress throughout the matches. One team after another fell to the "Tiny Tenacious Trojans from Turkey," and finally the Lady Trojans dominated over the home team of the Alconbury Dragons, taking the first place spot and becoming the Division III European Champions!

CONQUER

On October 16, Amanda Augustenborg ran five kilometers under the qualifying time of 24 minutes allowing her to travel to Heidelberg, Germany, to participate in the European Cross-Country Tournament. With her mother, and Mr. Lance Posey cheering her on, Amanda ran the slippery and wet course in 23:40.

This year's drama production was a string of three one-act plays. These included parody scenes from famous plays such as "Medea" and "A Streetcar Named Desire." The leading roles were played by Sara Ben-Aida as Medea and Jessica Elza as Blanche. Cast members learned never to say the forbidden "G-L" phrase the hard way...never in a production, ever! This production brought together a new group of actors in the school resulting in a very successful show.

THE STRIKE

The workers' strike from July 23, 1998, to September 29, 1998, made the students, parents and faculty of GCM get directly involved in the school. Volunteers cleaned and scrubbed the school to start the new year. With the work of these people, GCM was able to open on time and in an atmosphere of community spirit.

With only two returning players and two new coaches, the women's basketball team had quite a challenge ahead. After meeting the competition in Izmir, only having had a few practices, the lady Trojans realized how great the struggle would be. At the next meet in Incirlik, they showed that they could hold their own and would never give up. In the double elimination tournament on home court, the little ladies were ready for their rivals. With the encouragement from the crowd, the Ankara Trojans proved they were all heart, finishing in second place. Congratulations to Amanda Augustenborg (captain) and Sara Ben-Aida for receiving "All Tournament" awards. After a season of continuous hard work and dedication, the Lady Trojans ended on a very successful note and are looking forward to next year.

1999 has been a remarkable season for the men's basketball team. After many years of disastrous defeat, the Trojans finally accomplished the one goal they had long desired. The two rivals felt to the wrath of the international Trojans team this year at the Turkey District Championships. The team consisted of players from Bangladesh, Korea, Poland, Taiwan, Turkey and the US. Having new faces and, this time, more than six players, the team felt confident in achieving a victorious reign. Marcin Pietrzak won the MVP title, while Yon Wei Huang and Erol Yayboke were placed on the All-Tournament team. The team spent endless hours learning plays and sprinting to keep in condition. In Germany the team played various other teams, expressing their skills as well as learning new ones. Even though the team was not as successful in Germany, it returned with much experience and the knowledge never to lose faith. A season well played, guys. Coach Bruce Donahue was proud and happy to coach a team with such energy, talent and enthusiasm. Overall, the team had a sensational season, and the one thing they enjoyed the most were the "sprint lines." CHEERLEADING

There were tears, and there was laughter; there was alienation, and there was esprit de corps; there was even a bizarre experience with grape jelly. But, enough about emotions and various other eccentric experiences with food products. Let's get our motto...No Fear, Just Cheer. Even though the '98-'99 women's and men's basketball teams and wrestlers had their ups and downs, one aspect remained constant: their support from the cheerleaders. Led by captain Heather Foster, the other members, Abby Sargent, Jacin Thomas, Mallory Isaac, and Tara Cortez-Greig cheered the teams wherever they went. A huge blow to the team's unity came when co-captain Erica Thomas and her sister, manager Anna Thomas, left Ankara for the States. However, we quickly recovered and concentrated on competing in the end of the season tournament in Ankara. Practices were spent revising and modifying dances and cheers to accommodate the loss of our teammates. We definitely could not have made it through the season without the dedication of two very important people -Ms. Susan Kane and Ms. Lisa Flagg. These women were not only our coaches, but our mentors and our friends.

Wrestling to Germany

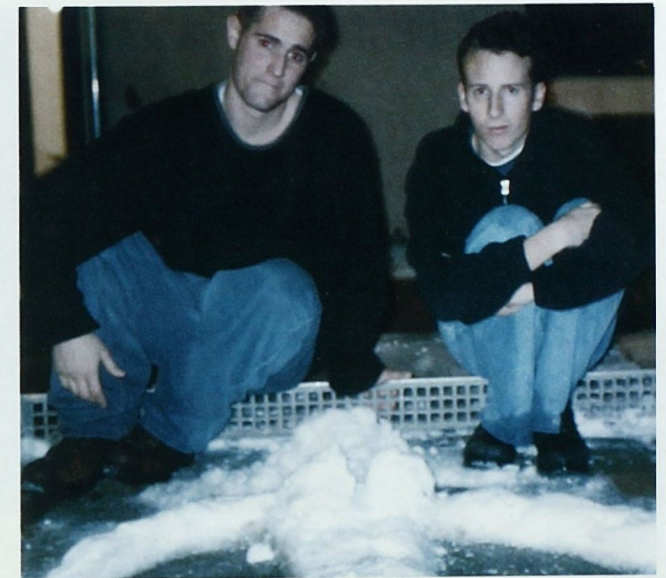

Two exceptional wrestlers from George C. Marshall School were selected from the winter District Championships that took place in Ankara. They were chosen by weight group and records to represent the wrestling team from the Turkey District along with other competitions from Izmir and Mersinlik to compete in the European Championships. MVP Keith Stilwell at the 171-weight class and Jason Byrnes from the 140-weight class ventured to Mannheim, Germany for this event.

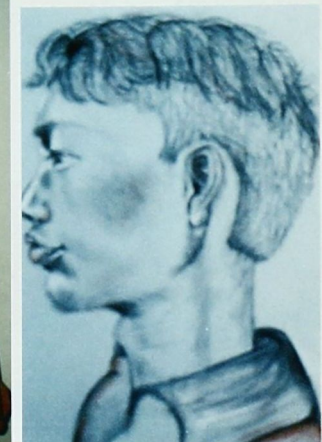

This year with much success, the Trojan basketball team was able to travel to Baumholder, Germany to compete in the Div III European championships. After a lot of hard work and strenuous practices, the Trojans won the Turkey Conference championships and were ready for Germany. Although the trojans failed to champion teams there, they returned with knowledge on how to prepare better in the future. All the players commented unanimously, "After learning about their school sizes, we were a little scared, but after all the hard work, we just wanted to enjoy and have fun." The Trojans sports teams have been especially successful and the men's basketball team is a result of all the efforts put forth by the athletes and coaches cooperatively.

The workshops included: watercolors, drawing, linoleum block printing, etching, puppet theater, character acting, dance studio on Broadway, improvising and strings that swing. Keith Stilwell emceed the talent show, and Thomas Flagg sang in a gospel duet. The trip proved to be a learning experience and gave yet another opportunity to meet other students.

1999 IS A NEW YEAR AND ANOTHER NEW SEASON FOR THE TROJANS' TRACK TEAM. AFTER LAST YEAR'S SUCCES, THIS YEAR, COACH DONAHUE HAS HIS HANDS FULL WITH RETURNING MEMBERS AND BIG GROUP OF FRESH NEW TRACKSTERS TO HELP MAINTAIN ANKARA'S REPUTATION. THE ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE LADIES HAS BEEN FAR GREATER THEN EVER ANTICIPATED, WITH ONLY THREE RETURNING RUNNERS AND ONLY SIX ON THE TEAM. THE TALENTS AMONG THEM WERE FORTUNATELY QUITE DIVERSE WITH A DISTANCE RUNNER, SPRIINTER, AND A HURDLER TO TEACH THE NEW COMERS THE ROPES. WITH LAST YEAR'S HURDLE, DISCUS, SHOT PUT, AND HIGH JUMP CHAMPIONS, REMAINING FOR THE MEN'S SIDE, THE TEAM WAS ALL SET. FOR THE FIRST TIME IN A GREAT WHILE, THE MEN ZOOMED IN TO CLAIM A FIRST PLACE VICTORY "BLOWING AWAY" ALL COMPETITION. THE TROJANS PREPARED THEMSELVES FOR THREE MEETS, TWICE IN NCRLK AND ONCE IN ANKARA. WITH LITTLE COMPETITION FROM ZMR, ANKARA WAS MAINLY GEARING TOWARDS CHALLENGE FROM NCRLK. THE TROJANS THIS YEAR ARE ALSO PRACTICING HARD TO QUALIFY FOR THE TRACK CHAMPIONSHIP IN GERMANY. DESPITE THE CONFLICTING SPORTS THIS SEASON, THE TROJAN TRACKSTERS HAVE PERSEVERED THROUGH ALL HARSHIPS TO GAIN THE MOST OF THE SEASON.

At the beginning of March, six students, accompanied by their director, Mr. Terry Huber, voyaged to Oberwesel, Germany, to attend the European Drama Festival. Once there, Trojan spirit crossed the paths of their competitors. The drama team as a whole was awarded an "Outstanding" performance, for the spoof of "Medea," by Christopher Durang. The Drama Festival consisted of the participants performing their scenes a total of three times, each time being judged by two different drama teachers. Teamed together, Zeeshan Rahman and Thomas Flagg received an "Outstanding" award for "A Night in the Ukraine," by Dick Vosburgh; Jessica Elza and Keith Stilwell were awarded an "Exceptional" award for "A Lion in Winter" by James Goldmen; and Sara Ben-Aida and Shanta Cortez-Greig were handed an "Exceptional" award for "Blithe Spirit," by Noel Coward. Free time consisted of playing 'spoons' or venturing to rooms and meeting new people. The talent show was emceed by Thomas Flagg, and its participants from Ankara were Keith Stilwell and Shanta Cortez-Greig. Shanta had the glorification of being the 'star' of the show, with her original compositions she crooned with the guitar.

This was the pioneer of all the trips that were presented to the students this year, although it was the last to take place, but here's its story. In the fall, the Ankara Trojans Soccer Team went undefeated, passing out loser tags to Izmir and Incirlik soccer teams every time they met, just totally annihilating the objectives of the other teams and keeping their goalies busy with sonic shots. Due to this charismatic season, the team felt the year to be unfinished and desired to compete in Germany. With a couple of letters from our Captains and parents and with a little help from Mr. Zingaro, the Athletic Council decided unanimously, that the Ankara team travel and compete in Division III European Soccer Championships. Sponsor Ms. Daughtery and coach Baker accompanied the team.

PUBLICATIONS

This year's hardworking Publications class abolished forever the image of journalism as a goof-off, do-nothing class. During fifth period, students were often seen dashing from one end of the school to the other, rushing to meet deadlines and perfect page layouts. Their frantic and frustrated faces would relax for only a few minutes; then there was another job to be begun. But their labor was well rewarded. Through countless page sales and fundraisers, they raised enough money to produce the entire yearbook in color: an unprecedented feat. Their literary efforts also surpassed expectations.

The journalism requirement is a quarterly school newspaper; yet every month, after much stress, editing, and banging on stubborn computers, 100 copies of The Jolly Green Giant were handed out. At the end of the year, the journalists' fiction writing skills were exhibited when the 1998-1999 GCM Literary Anthology was published, also by journalism students increased computer and writing skills, realized the importance of deadlines, and learned to manage their time responsibly in free and open class.

At the beginning of the year, this small group of select students and their sponsor, Mrs. Guinn, were faced with a challenge: to raise enough money for the expensive induction ceremony in April, but sacrifice none of the service projects they enjoy performing every year. With only eight members, including the four NJHS members, this was a very difficult task. To raise the large amount of money necessary, they held countless bake sales, provided food at the annual lock-in, and other miscellaneous projects. Their numerous service projects included a Welcome Newcomers Night, a toy drive for the Hacettepe Oncology ward, volunteering in the community Easter egg hunt, and a project to buy trees for Earth Day. In early spring, they became even busier, and an agitated flurry of preparation was evident as old members rushed to welcome their new members in a ceremony held at the American ambassador's residence. Throughout the year, all of these admirable students demonstrated the characteristics for which they were selected to this elite society: Leadership, Service, Character, and Scholarship.

Humanities Club

Involvement in the international and the school communities was the goal of the humanities club/class. They sponsored a clothes drive initiated by the UN Relief Organization, in order to assist refugees. The class also worked diligently to raise money to update and republish *GEORGE C. Student Council

It was a tough year for the 1998-1999 Student Council Association. They began the year with only three members and a sponsor: Tara Cortez-Grei, President, Erica Thomas, Vice President, Chris Hazelwood, Senior Class Representative, and Mrs. Hargis. Through unforeseen events, by the end of the year this group had diminished to only Tara and Chris. In spite of the tremendous stress and responsibility that these members were forced to assume, they managed to sponsor a very successful homecoming in January. However, to their great disappointment, other planned activities proved impossible.

ART CLUB

Sponsored by art teacher Mrs. Poppy Kincaid and led by President Tania Motsyk, the GCM Art Club had a busy and productive year. The majority of the proceeds of their numerous and various fund-raisers went to charitable causes. In support of the endangered Siberian Tiger, they sponsored a Crepe Luncheon and a Cappuccino Breakfast, and sold hand-made jewelry and candles at the Fall Festival. At the same event, they also auctioned two baskets and sold cookies from many different nations. Other activities included an Indian Luncheon and a beautiful end of the year art show displaying the students' work.

Math Counts

Since September, the committed Math Counts club met every week on Tuesdays and Thursdays in preparation for the competition in March. Their dedication was rewarded when they took first place in the Turkey- Spain- Island District. After winning the local championship, the proud team attended the Chapter competitions in Mainz-Kastel, Germany. Tal Bar received fifth place among 48 other competitors; she also appeared in the countdown round where she placed sixth. Their club sponsor, Ms. Serra Coruh, took on a great deal of responsibility in preparing the team for the competition, and she was greatly appreciated.

As part of our School Improvement Plan, School-Home Partnership once again received major focus this school year. Parents were actively involved with PTSO and SAC committees as co-decision makers. Many parents volunteered their time and talents for a variety of school activities such as coaching, assisting coaches, and co-teaching. Co-learning was accomplished by attending school in-service programs and town-hall meetings where information was reviewed and questions were answered. Co-support was evident throughout the year with parents who supported fund raising activities classroom parties and study trips, tallied reading hours, supplied food for dinners, attended school programs, and responded to the school newsletter the MARSHALL MEMO. Co-communication was again addressed with the use of the student agenda/assignment notebooks (provided by the PTSO) and through the MARSHALL MEMO.

We salute strong School-Home Partnership that it makes a positive difference in our lives.

THE WONDER

Lose yourself in the wonder that is India. Meander through lands steeped in chivalry and pageantry that begin before recorded history. Explore modern cities that have grown organically from the roots of a multi-hued past. Make a pilgrimage to holy shrines that echo with tales of antiquity. Frolic on a vast array of golden beaches that dot an enviable coastline, washed by two seas and an ocean. Sport with adventure in style. Let the jungle lure you to a fascinating world at a diverse array of wildlife sanctuaries and national parks..... this is the wonder that is India. Explore India-choose the locales of your choice.

AJANTA CAVES

It was only in the 19th century, that the Ajanta group of caves in the western Indian state of Maharashtra, lying deep within the Sahyadri hills, cut into the curved mountain side, above the Waghora river, were discovered. A group of British officers on a tiger hunt, stumbled on these ancient works of art. They depict the story of Buddhism, spanning the period, 200 BC to 650 AD. The 29 caves were built as secluded retreats of the Buddhist monks, who taught and performed rituals in the Chaityas and Viharas, the ancient seats of learning, and nerve-centres of the Buddhist cultural movement. Using simple tools like hammer and chisel, the monks carved out the impressive figures adorning the walls of these structures.

Exquisite wall-paintings and sculptures speak volumes of the India of yore. Many of the caves house panels depicting stories from the Jatakas, a rich mine of tales of the several incarnations of the Buddha. Images of nymphs and princesses amongst others are also elaborately portrayed.

The third youngest state of the Indian Union, Mizoram is perched on the high hills of the north eastern corner of India. Mizoram has the most variegated hilly terrain in the eastern India. The hills are steep and separated by rivers creating deep gorges between the hill ranges. The word Mizo means highlander. Mizoram is a treasure-trove of natural beauty, with its emerald valleys and dales, gurgling streams and falls, amazing fields of exotic blooms, and a teeming fauna population. Most of the Mizos are Christians, and speak Mizo and English. The Mizo culture boasts a plethora of folk and community dances that get passed down over the generations. The most popular of these dances the Cheraw (bamboo dance), Khuallam, Solakia and Chheihlam. None of these dance-forms were intended for the stage-they evolved through community participation.

Khajuraho

The fascinating temples of Khajuraho, India's unique gift of love to the world, in the northern state of Madhya Pradesh, were built between 950 and 1050 A.D. The divine sculptures in these temples are a tribute to Life itself, embodying everything that is sublime and spontaneous about it. The murals depict the life and times of the Chandelas and celebrate the erotic state of being. They not only testify to the mastery of the craftsman, but also to the extraordinary breadth of vision of the Chandela Rajputs under whose reign these temples were constructed. Originally these were 85 temples, of which only 22 still exist. Their style of architecture was also rather peculiar to their times. Each structure stands on a high masonry platform with a distinct upward direction to their build, further enhanced by several vertical projections to simulate the effect of an overall lightness.

THAT IS INDIA

Wildlife

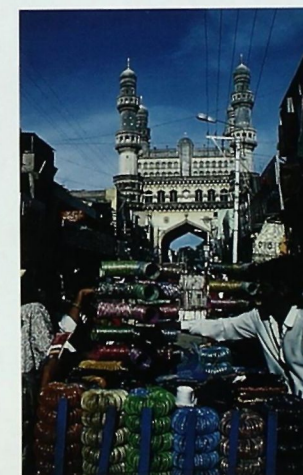

The natural wealth of the Indian subcontinent has remained unique, mysterious and fascinating for nature lovers. In Indian philosophy, life in any form is deemed sacred, and it is advocated that compassion for all living creatures is essential.

The worship of nature in all its different forms is an essential part of our cultural legacy. The tree has held a vital place in religious tradition, symbolizing the myth of creation. The rich and fascinating variety of India's wildlife can be seen in the 80 national parks, 440 sanctuaries, and 23 tiger reserves.

Hyderabad

A charming blend of the ancient and the modern, Hyderabad, also known as the Istanbul of India, is a vital centre of the Islamic culture, and central India's answer to the Mughal grandeur of the northern city of Delhi, Agra, and Fatehpur Sikri. It boasts of some fine examples of Qutab Shahi architecture the Jami Masjid, the Macca Masjid, Toli Masjid, and of course, the impressive symbol of Hyderabad, the Charminar. Hyderabad is the creation of the Qutab Shahi rules in 1589. Consequently, a city adorned with magnificent places and mosques, embodying a style of architecture that was unique to the Mahammed Quli Qutab Shah, in 1591 to propitiate the evil forces from destroying his new city with the plague. The symbol of the city, the Charminar, looming at a height of 56 meters, is an impressive square gateway with four minarets. The arch, is illuminated daily in the evening, is an unforgettable sight, indeed. Near the Charminar is the Mecca Masjid, one of the largest in the world, said to accommodate up to 10,000 worshippers. The foundation of the mosque was laid during the reign of Mohammed Quli Qutab Shah, in 1614. One of Hyderabad's prime attractions is the Salar Jung Museum, the world's largest one man collection, the 35 rooms of which house around 35,000 exhibits. These include unusual collections of jade, marble statues, rare manuscripts, Persian miniature paintings, Chinese porcelain and

Darjeeling

Darjeeling, centre of India's most celebrated tea growing district in Eastern India, has possibly the most picturesque views among all Indian hill resorts. (June to September), the views across the snowy peak of Kanchenjunga and other mountains down to the swollen rivers in the valley are simply magnificent. Darjeeling is a fascinating place, where the tourist can see Buddhist monasteries, visit a tea plantation, see how the tea is processed, go for a ride on the chairlift, go shopping in the colourful markets or go trekking to high altitude spots, near the border with Sikkim. Darjeeling has the unique feature of a toy train, which takes visitors from Jalpaiguri to Darjeeling through the steep mountainsides.

BELUR

In the southern Indian state of Karnataka, the quaint hamlet of Belur, 38 km from Hassan, is located on the banks of the river Yagachi. Once the capital of the Hoysala empire, it still draws hordes of visitors, who cannot get enough of its fascinating temples. In 1117, Vishnuvardhana built the Chennakeshava Temple. The main entrance to the shrine is guarded by twin statues of a youth slaying a tiger. What is remarkable about this shrine is its compact structure, and perfect proportions. The wealth of sculptured friezes is simply unbelievable, since from the base to the projected eaves, every inch of available wall surface is covered with the most exquisitely sculptured images. The Hoysala sculpture reaches its apogee in sculptures of celestial maidens carved with a marvellous plasticity of modelling, and imbued with the most ac-
