Divison 2 Champions!

The Ansbach Cougar football squad consists of 4 seniors, 14 juniors, 7 sophomores and 15 freshmen. Losing 12 seniors and with only 15 players returning, the Cougars worked everyday to get better and prepare themselves for the fourth quarter of the game. As coach George goes into his 40th year coaching, he continues to say: "If everyone does their job, then we all do our jobs and we will continue to win." The Cougars had an amazing season once again, going 5-0 into the playoffs. While in the play-offs the cougars were 2-0 into the championship game. The Cougars soon became the Division 2 champions.

Ansbach Cross Country Team; Running away with accolades.

The Ansbach Cross Country team has run into the headlines with an article praising this team, this sport, and the meet that Ansbach hosted during its homecoming. The coach, David Dickens, has built a team of 7th-12th graders who are enthusiastic about running. The team consists of: 1 senior, 6 juniors, 3 sophomores, and 14 middle-schoolers. In Europeans for Cross Country, Kelly McCaskill placed 6th and Nicholas Duplessie placed 16th.

Coach Dickens states, "It is my goal in Cross Country to teach character, education, promote a work ethic, encourage goal-setting, build a positive attitude towards fun and fitness. These same values will enable any person to succeed in life."

Coach Jorgensen kept the 2014 tennis team on their toes working hard at every practice and performing their best at every match! The players kept up a great attitude through it all. They always showed great sportsmanship during the matches, while staying focused and concentrated on the task at hand.

The team is sad to be saying good-bye to almost half their players, as they will be graduating this year, but the ones who remain are still looking forward to another great season next year! Go cougars!

Ansbach Lady Cougars Basketball Team Growing Strong

Lady Cougar basketball had a year of rebuilding and learning. With only 4 returning players, a great deal of instruction on the basics became part of everyday practice.

We developed our skill level remarkably through the year which was evidenced during our final games - as The Stars and Stripes put it - "The Silent Contender".

"The girls kept good attitudes and worked really hard throughout the season to improve." (Ms. Taylor, Coach)

Ms. Taylor and assistant coaches Hillary Freeman and Arita Lane worked to help develop excellent skills.

For the season the Lady Cougars were 1-13 and the tournament 1-2.

Ansbach Track Team Working Hard
The track team consists of 2 seniors, 8 juniors, 8 sophomores, 7 freshmen, and 13 middle schoolers. The team is dedicated and puts a lot of hard work during practice. The track team has two home meets and four away meets. In order to go to the European championship athletes have to qualify for a certain time in their event. Each event shows the strengths in the athletes and proves the hard work they put into the season. The goal is to work hard and qualify for Europeans and to improve every year.

This year, the Ansbach boys' soccer team was graced with an influx of fresh talent. A whopping thirty-three players tried out. The first week was a grueling one, consisting of five days of conditioning. It was intended to demonstrate some of the principles of success, determination and discipline. The team was coached by Mr. Collins, from Ansbach Elementary School, who believed that he "saw much talent on those fields" and was privileged to coach such a lively bunch. With five home games and benches filled with talent, the players had several opportunities to unlock their full potential as a unified team.

This year, twenty-two amazing and talented girls came together and became what is known as the Ansbach Girls' Soccer team. With a total of two away games and five home games, each of the girls got a chance to unlock their potential and improve their already great skills. The team, led by Coach Spoor, has shown amazing skills during this 2015 spring season. In total, there are nine freshmen, six sophomores, four juniors and two seniors. This team played their hearts out and fought until the very end. The players really came together this season and became a really close and unified team. Overall, the team came together and is one of the greater teams in Ansbach Girls' Soccer history.

The 2015 Ansbach Lady Cougars softball team was made up of four seniors, four juniors, two sophomores, three freshmen and was coached by four coaches, as well as several other volunteers. The coaches helped each player recognize their own weaknesses and strengths. They taught us how to improve them to be able to support each other and build a strong team. We learned to communicate and encourage each other through every win and loss. The Ladies showed their commitment by practicing everyday during the typical German spring, including sun, rain, snow and almost constant wind due to the neighboring airfield. The team enjoyed their last season with their seniors, and although they are sad to be saying good-bye to some great players, they look forward to another great season next year.

Great job Lady Cougars!

Student Council

By Reiwan Hussein

Student Council is a school organization that expands the horizon of each individual student and develops their leadership traits. It takes a bold and charismatic student to be on student council, but it takes a hard-working and creative student to do things with student council. Student council allows the student to work on various projects and events that he or she has chosen or planned, making it one of the only leadership positions within the school that is based entirely off of the student's desire for action and change.

Recognized for the planning of pep rallies and Homecoming, student council is an organization that works towards bringing the school together and increasing Cougar Pride.

Yearbook

The yearbook is produced by the Yearbook class and the yearbook after school club.

These students labor many hours after school and during the weekends to capture the picture that will become a representation of a memory for the students at Ansbach Middle High School and put it into a graphics design that conveys the personality of Ansbach M/HS. The club is made up of middle and high school students. The class is only high school students. The book is constructed with labor and love that this staff has for Ansbach M/HS.

Students are not only involved in the planning, photography and design but they are also involved in the advertising and sales of the book. The class and club also make dvd's of photos to sell and make up posters for teams if there is enough interest. Yearbook requires learning lots of new skills and applying those to the real life experience of product production for a specific audience.

Oratory Contest

The American Legion Oratorical Contest exists to develop deeper knowledge and appreciation for the U.S. Constitution among high school students. Since 1938, the program has presented participants with an academic speaking challenge that teaches important leadership qualities, the history of our nation's laws, the ability to think and speak clearly, and an understanding of the duties, responsibilities, rights and privileges of American citizenship.

NHS

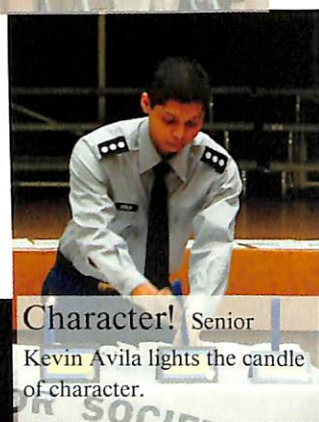

The National Honor Society is a national organization that recognizes students with outstanding achievements in scholarship, character, citizenship, and leadership. These students must maintain a specific G.P.A. and be active members in their community.

The National Honor Society students at Ansbach Middle High School do just that. During the year they hold various fundraisers to aid a specific organization. This year their fundraiser proceeds went to JustUsFriends, a clinic in Tanzania. They also help their local community through tutoring and volunteer work. These students work hard to unlock their potential academically, personally, and civically!

MUSS

by Robert Claus

The Model United States Senate Program (MUSS) gives high school students, grades 9 to 12, the opportunity to represent a U.S.

Senator in a simulation of the Senate legislative process. Students research a wide variety of contemporary legislative issues and prepare bills for discussion and debate in lobbying meetings, party conferences, committee hearings, and finally, before the entire MUSS Senate in its plenary sessions. Knowledge of parliamentary procedures used in legislative debating is an essential part of preparation. In short, the MUSS Program provides a forum for students to use a wide range of communication skills as they seek to promote and pass legislative proposals in a dynamic and challenging simulation.

Student to Student (S2S) is a organization that gives students a chance to simply give back to their community. The students get a oppurtunity to show their selfless side and help out other people. They help out with new students by helping them adjust to their new school. Earlier this year, they organize a food drive to give to the Fisher House. Also, they gave Christmas cards to the soliders at Landstuhl. Towards the end of the year, the students have a farewell "party" where they give tie-dye t-shirts to all the students leaving. They students can then have thier friends signed the shirts. The main purpose of S2S is to welcome incoming students and to let students leaving know that they will be missed.

Started more than thirty years ago, MathCounts is a "national middle school coaching and competitive mathematics program that promotes mathematics achievement through a series of fun and engaging "bee" style contests." Sixth through eighth grade students are eligible to participate. A series of competitions are held each school year, starting at the district level. This year's competition will be held in the information center at Ansbach MHS on the 11th of February. Students who do well at this level move on to the DoDDS or "state" level competition, typically held in March in Wiesbaden. Students have the possibility of advancing to the national competition, held this coming spring in Boston. There they can win scholarships and prizes!

STEMPOSIUM

Stemposium is a convention where 9th-11th graders get together to solve a simulation about a real world problem. It involves teamwork and the collaboration of civil, environmental, biotechnology, robotic, green tech, and computer simulation engineers. There were around 180 students from all of DoD Europe. We were divided into teams of five engineers and an adult to guide us. We had seminars everyday where an actual engineer would give us lessons about each of our fields.

This year we had to build an Ebola Treatment Center and prevent Ebola from spreading. I was a civil engineer and I had to survey for an appropriate location that was secluded from society and I had to build the building for seventy-five patients and a water tower. One of our problem was that the environmental engineer and I had to face was having a source of water running into the facility and having a sewage system that would not contaminate any fields or nearby rivers. I had to give my designs to the computer simulation engineer so we could have a visual design. When I was surveying I had to communicate with the green tech engineer to see if we had enough sources of power for the facility.

We went on a field trip where we could see engineers do their actual job. I went to the Corps of Engineers building at Wiesbaden and we got to speak to engineer who worked at Africa helping to contain Ebola. We visited the construction of the new commissary they were building and then we visited another location that they were building a secret building that we couldn't know about.

The Ansbach choir, composed of middle and high school students, is taught by Mr. Hunt about the techniques of singing as well as how to improve and expand our range.
While preparing for the Christmas and spring concerts, they have learned how to sing their individual parts while listening and following each other. We are also taught how to read our music and how to sing about different styles of music. The students will take away from this class how to stay focused and work together to create a piece of art.

Avid

"Avid's mission is to lessen the achievement gap by preparing all students for college readiness and success in a global society."

The AVID program at Ansbach Middle High School follows the standards and utilizes the materials and techniques developed by the nationally successful program. This program has been adopted and implemented by Dodds and the Ansbach Middle /High School. Students receive instruction in strategies which will help them to succeed in college. These skills include organization, writing, reading, test-taking and working cooperatively with each other.

This program has proven to be a very effective program for preparing students for college. Ms. Holly Cook is the instructor for both high school class and a middle school class.

Honors 10 Art Museum By Laurimar Serrano-Vega

On Thursday, December 4, 2014 at the Von Steuben Ballroom on Bismarck Kaserne, Mr. Claus' and Ms. Bruce's tenth grade Honors class took part in the Degenerate Art exhibit. This exhibit consisted of 19 artists and their paintings, which were determined as degenerate in the 1930's. Most of these pieces were later displayed at the Munich Degenerate Art Exhibit in 1937.

The students who participated enriched their knowledge and enjoyed the experience!

Film Club

The Middle School Film Club is a small group of 8 to 12 seventh and eighth graders.

The Film Club meets once a month on Thursday in Ms. Dameron's room 213 to choose the film that they will watch, as well as to plan the food and drinks they will bring.

The film club also meets during that same month on a Friday to watch the movie they chose during middle school lunch on Thursday. The film club is very relaxed. The students that participate in the club tend to watch a variety of movies. Ms. Dameron says that the film club is a pretty eclectic group!

What Ms. Dameron hopes to accomplish with film club is to let the students see that there are many students that share their same interests, and if they take the time to get to know other students, they will see that there are many students with similar interests.

Keanu Singleton says, "Film club participants are great people because they are nice and kind."

POLIS

"AMHS students worked with German students at the Political and International Security seminar in December. The goal of the program is to simulate the activities conducted by government officials and political figures. For several days, students were in charge of, "running the world," and participating in work areas ranging from economics to environmental awareness. Students are assigned specific regions and roles and collaborate with German students to solve problems presented in the POLIS for the year. This year, the teams were able to solve world hunger."

JLS

The Junior Leadership Seminar is about team building, and making new friends. Each year the middle school sponsor, Mrs.

Sykes, facilitates the selection of an Ansbach JLS team. The five day trip helps the students to develop leadership skills and promote the students' involvement in the school community. It is a fun action packed week where students develop new friendships with students from other schools, work on projects and leadership skills. The students return to Ansbach charged with enthusiasm and ready to take a role in the student leadership.

German-American Exchange

Herr Koerner and his colleague from the German school set up an exchange between their schools.

The German students get the chance to visit Ansbach Middle High School and make new friends. It helps the German students learn better English and American students learn better German. They also get to learn more about each other's cultures and customs. The German school reciprocates and the American students visit the German School later in the year.

JROTC

I am an Army Junior ROTC Cadet.
I will always conduct myself to bring credit to my family,
country, school and the Corps of Cadets.
I am loyal and patriotic.
I am the future of the United States of America.
I do not lie, cheat or steal and will always be accountable for my actions and deeds.
I will always practice good citizenship and patriotism.
I will work hard to improve my mind and strengthen my body.
I will seek the mantle of leadership and stand prepared to uphold the Constitution and the American way of life.
May God grant me the strength to always live by this creed.

The team has the honor to carry our nation's flag. Once you put the harness on, you are to become serious. There is training and practice to prepare members for this honour. The Color Guard performs at various events such as football games, ceremonies for the VFW,

Rifle Team

Rifle Team consists of ten shooters: six varsity and four JV. Schools compete against each other trying to outshoot the other. Competitions are scored in three different positions: prone, standing, and kneeling. This year, Ansbach has had a great overall season making 1st place in the Eastern Conference.

Drill Team

Drill cadets learn to spin rifles, color guard, and perform regulation. Spinning the rifle can be extremely difficult because of the heavy weight of the rifle. Color guard is a part of the drill team; you have the honor to present the Nations and the Battalion's colours, the flag. In regulations you do basic commands with the rifle, for example, left face, right face, present arms, and many more. Drill helps cadets become stronger and teaches them to have respect. The drill team contributes to the school and community by performing for many ceremonies.

Prom Memories In the Moonlight

On April 18, 2015 Prom was held in the Bergwirt Hotel in Herrieden, Germany. Guests started arriving at 7pm finely dressed, and with much excitement they entered. Once inside, many marvelled at the the detailed decorating, ate, mingled, and danced. This year's prom theme was "Memories in the Moonlight." Stars glittered and the aroma of flowers intermingled with the festivities. A buffet was served to the students and faculty. Midway through the evening the Prom courts were introduced and the Royalty for the evening announced: King Derrick McMorris and Queen Shayne Benson, Prince Dylan Drury and Delaney Cook. Students wore smiles, others even teared up a little as they recollected the past year. Both guests and planners of the event seemed to enjoy their time. Most of all, though, the Seniors sincerely seemed to enjoy their special night. With graduation getting closer this was another oppurtunity for them to make lasting memories of their high shcool experience. To those Seniors we say: Congratulations, and we hope that Prom will stay a key event in your life to treasure and remember always.

Your Future...

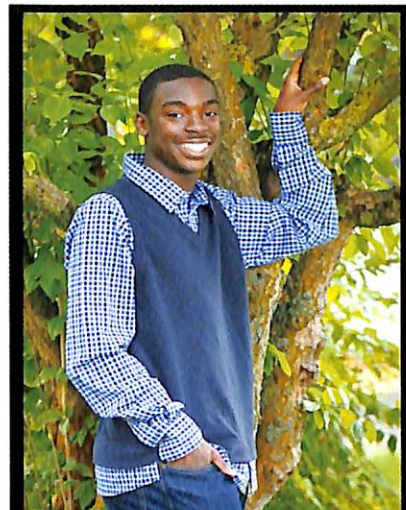

SIMON TROUPE

Blessed is the one who does not walk in step with the wicked, but whose delight is in the law of the Lord. That person is like a tree planted by streams of water, which yields its fruit in season and whose leaf does not wither-whatever they do prospers. For the Lord watches over the way of the righteous. Be blessed, son.

Simon
Now that you've graduated,
Your adventure has begun.
Your schooling has prepared you
For the race life has you run.
We praise you for your efforts,
And send good wishes, too,
For a future filled with happiness,
And your fondest dreams come true.
Your achievement is awesome, Simon;
You've worked hard and you've passed the test.
We love you so much and we want you to know -
We think you're the very best!
Good job, well done, we are so proud of you my son.
Your loving parents.

TREVONNE CUMBERBATCH

" To Trey, our wonderful son, we are so proud of you and all your accomplishments thus far. As you move onto the next phase remember you always have us in your corner cheering you on!! We love you, we're proud of you and continue to let God direct you. Your Grandmother Maxine is definitely proud of you!!
Love Mom & Dad

"Thank you, Katie, for the honor you bestowed on the Montgomery family this summer by wearing Great Grandpa's dog tag during the 70th anniversary reunion of WW II in France. You make us proud to be your Grandparents." (Paw & Maw)

"Katie Baby, we are so proud to see the leader and strong woman you have become. Your determination and no-give-up attitude will take you so far in life. You have been so blessed with awesome mentors in your life (Sargiepoo and Coach Des). Soar for the skies baby!" Love your Proud Parents

"Yeodongsaeng, you are amazing and I'm glad you are my sister, I couldn't ask for anyone better. You've gone through a lot, but you've achieved so much along your bumpy path. The sky is the limit. I love you so much, Little Sis." --Ashleigh

Katie Carson

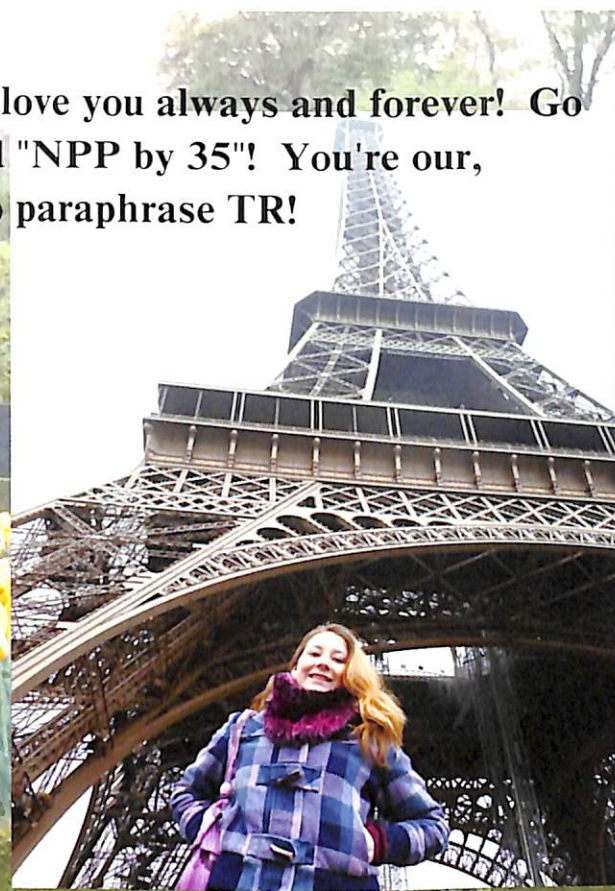

"Katie, I have enjoyed watching you grow into a beautiful, smart, driven, confident young woman. Curtis and I still remember that little girl who spent the night at our house and now your all grown up. We love you, miss you and hope that you keep your drive and fulfill whatever your heart desires, dont let anyone or anything hold you back." Love your sister Rina, Curtis, Lilyana and Jaxon

LAURA

HOUSTON

We're proud of you! We love you always and forever! Go forth have fun, learn, and "NPP by 35"! You're our, "Woman in the Arena" to paraphrase TR!

Eighteen years ago God blessed us with a handsome baby boy who has grown to be an outstanding young man with a giving heart. Now it's time to chase your dreams and aspirations. Do not let anything hold you back! May God always lead you down to the right path. Always stay true to your heart and believed in yourself. Learn from your mistakes and celebrate all of your accomplishments. Remember to stay focused on your goal and stay true to yourself.

Dearest granddaughter,
Kaitlyn, you have grown up away from me, but you still tug at my heart. You are truly your own person and you are so intelligent and perceptive. I see leadership qualities in you and I think you will use them wisely. I also see softness. I get to see that whenever I do get to see you. That is the huggable part of you that tugs at my heart. You will be successful in your adult life, even though it won't be easy, always remember that I love you. Let love sustain you.

Gramma Harmon

Kaitlyn,

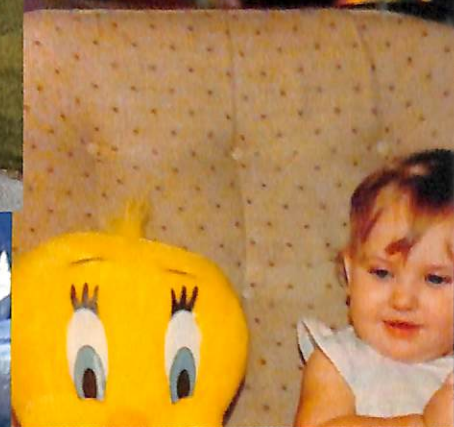

I was so happy the day you were born. My first granddaughter is graduating high school. Where have the years gone? First, I will say "Ich Liebe Dich." Then, I will describe you thorough the ABC's.

To my niece, as you venture out into this new, supposed grown up world. Remember it's okay to take a step back every once in a while and relax, do something childish and silly. You have become a wonderful young women with high moral regard for others. Don't ever let anyone try to change that. I love that you voiced strong opinions against serious issues throughtout the years. I am so proud of the women you have become. But remember, to still have fun and enjoy everything lie has to offer. I love you.

Aunt Roxie

Oh My Little Punkin, where has the time gone? It was only yesterday that I got to watch you come into this world and now you are one step closer to starting your post high school adventures!! I am so very proud of the young woman you have become. Your sense of right and wrong as well as all that you stand for amazes me still to this day. As you walk across that stage and cross into adulthood, the tears you will see are tears of joy!! Again, I am so very proud of you Kaitlyn Nicole and will always love you no matter how far apart we may be!! Love, Dad

My sweet sweet Kaitlyn Nicole! You came into this world so quietly and I am proud of you have found your voice and your ambition to go forward and achieve your goals in life. Although, I am not quite comfortable with your "leaving me" to go off to college, but I will "survive" knowing you are not too far away. Kaitlyn, you have been a bright star in my life and I could not imagine what life would have been life without you! I am so proud of the young lady you have become and continue to grow into. I wish for all your hopes and dreams to come true. Always remember to come home from time to time for cuddle time and remember to manage my expectations and FaceTime with me before bed for tuck in time! I love you Kaitybugs and I will always be here for you! Love Mom!!!!

Congratulations Dori!

Once upon a time, in the second month of '97
God sent us another gift from heaven

Dorian shall his name be Shouted out his Mom with glee

Little did we know, what would become of our beloved couch potato
We watched you grow and entertain us as you prepared us for the Doriman show

You cried out where's my Kakao and later it was take me to the soccer pitch
While you struggled to find a game to scratch your itch

Volleyball, tennis, scuba, baseball and hoops all called your name
But destiny defined football as your game

You learned, you grew, and then suddenly you knew Exactly what you had to do

Big Brother and Big Sister gave you tough love and taught you to compete and fight
Not just to win, but to protect those you love as well as the weak with all your might

Hard work, education, dedication, sweat and controlling your fears were the seeds you chose to sow
So you knew then all the distractions had to go

Following your dreams of greatness, you made it your destiny
And declared "greatness comes from within" your lifelong motto will be

You live life with all your heart and passion
To those around you it was in great fashion

You said few words, yet gave news reporters big stories to write about
All-Europe, school records and championship honors told the world there should not be any doubt

Out of Ansbach came a rising star, achieving milestone after milestone
Look out world, there is a man with a new mission and career to hone

His name is Dori, our beloved son
So far it has been fun watching you do a job well done

Good luck and well wishes we send thee
For we know you will be a great one in whatever you choose to be

Cheyenne Eckert

Cheyenne,

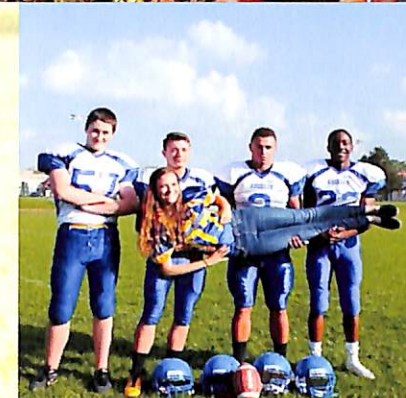

Words aren't even enough to tell you how proud I am of you. Watching you grow into the amazing, funny, silly, smart, talented and beautiful young woman you are has been an honor. I am so lucky that I not only get to call you my daughter, but also my friend. You are a pretty dang awesome kid! You took your very first steps here in Ansbach and now, here you are again taking your first steps into adulthood. Let me leave you with some words of wisdom... Always check for signal before pitching your tent. Always bring the bus driver food. Always act shocked at the "art" around you. Don't cry over bad pasta. When in doubt, go with bread. And no matter what, always remember you're pretty. Love you baby girl!

Love,
Mom

Dear daughter, you should be so proud of yourself for your dedication and persistence. Remember to set your sights on the stars and to reach for them always. Believe in yourself, because you are so unique with no limit to what you can do!

Love,
Daddy

To Cheyanne our 1st grandchild. We are so proud of the woman you have become. You are smart, loving and compassionate. You are about to begin another chapter of your life. Take time to enjoy the journey. As you make your place in the world don't forget to love who you are. Have faith in yourself and God. Live your own dreams and make a life that brings you happiness. You will always be our first. We love you to the moon and back.
- Grandmom and pop-pop.

Austin Chapman

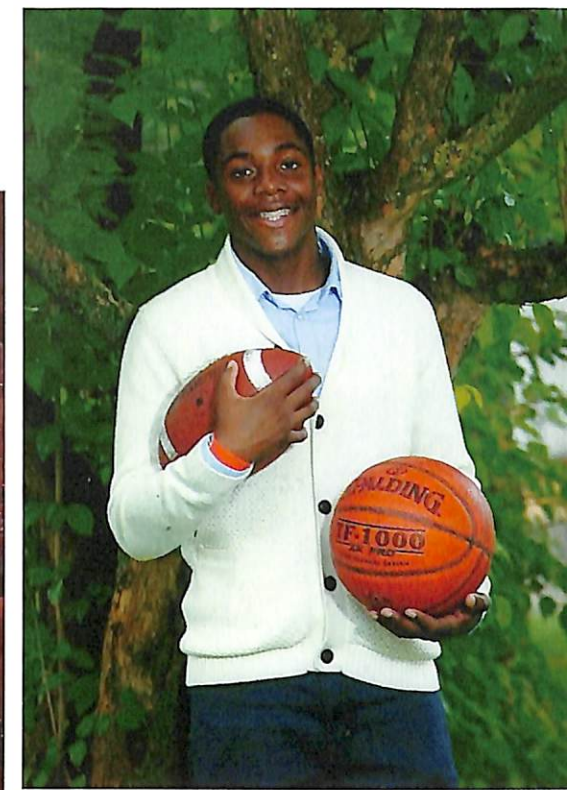

Austin,

"Do not follow where the path may lead. Go, instead, where there is no path and leave a trail." - Ralph Waldo Emerson Congratulations! You made it!

From the little boy with bright green eyes and bright blonde hair to the young man with a huge heart and amazing wit, we could not be more proud.
You are inevitably bound for success in all you aspire to do.

We Love You

Mom, Dad and Allison

Roger Brownell Jr.

ROGER, we are very proud of you and the young man that you have become. We pray that God continues to guide and bless you and give you the strength and wisdom to go after your dream. The sky is THE limit. We love you very much!

Dad, mom, sisters, Grandma Sarah, Grandma Korto, Uncle Vince, Auntie Jackie, Uncle Amos and rest of the family!!!

Tárik M. Anderson

Herzlichen Glueckwunsch!

To our first Grandchild, you've grown into a wonderful young man and we can remember when Nana would sing a song to you from Mrs. Winterbourne and you would give her all smiles. Now is the time to explore the world and live life to the fullest. Always go after your dreams and have no regrets. We are so very proud of you and we will always love and support you. Always keep the Lord first in your life and you will always be prosperous. ~ With much love, Nana and Papa

Our first Nephew, we've seen you grow from a baby into a young man so fast. Your Mom and Dad has done a great job with you. You are so respectful! Now it's on to bigger things like College and Pro Soccer. You will do great things, we know that in our hearts. We are so proud of you and we love you very much. We can't wait to see you walk across the stage. You go boi!!! ~ Love always, Aunt Nikki & Uncle Vic

Congratulations grandson & nephew! Job well done! Love you! ~ From DeDe, Grandpa Jimmy, Aunties Sharviese & Sonia, & Uncles Ralph & Phillip

Tarik, I am so proud of you. I know there were times in this journey that you felt like a square peg trying to fit into a round hole. Times like that will still happen on the road ahead. In those moments remember to ask yourself, "Why am I trying so hard to fit in when I was created to stand out?" You are a unique event in history and we're all blessed to either know you or, in my case, to witness your success from afar. Congratulations! ~ Your Mom's Best Friend, La Shawn Harrison

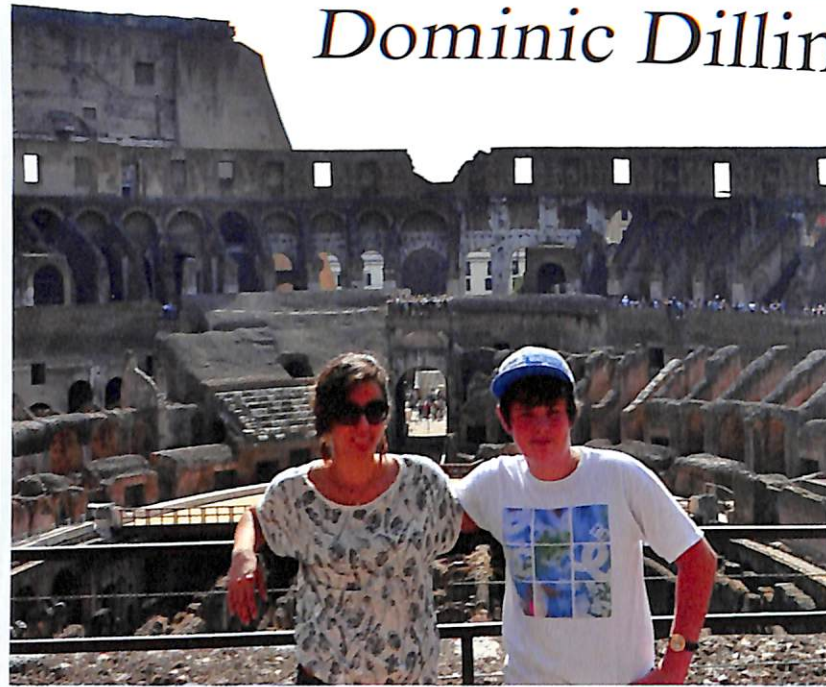

AND THE LORD SAID, "FOR ALL THE FIRSTBORN ARE MINE.
...THEY ARE TO BE MINE. I AM THE LORD."
~ NUMBERS 3:13

Congratulations to our Big Brother! You are the best big brother we could've ever been blessed with and you are an amazing soccer player. We pray nothing but success for you and we are very proud of you.
~ Love your siblings, Jaime & Jazmin

To our dearest first born, words cannot express the joy and the sadness we feel right now. Of course, we knew this day would eventually come, but it snuck up on us. We'll try our best not to cry, but we can't make any promises because our baby has become a man and we are so very proud of you. You fought your way into this life and here is where you'll remain until God calls you home. You have been the light at the end of a dark tunnel, laughter through pains of sorrow, a best friend, and a delight to watch grow up. Jesus said, "With God all things are possible." ~ Matthew 19:26. So, as long as you stay true to your love of soccer and drums, never falter in your faith, remain humble, and remember that God will always be with you through all of your trials and tribulations, you will always succeed in life and will be welcomed into the Kingdom of Heaven some day. Congratulations, Lion, on your high school graduation and welcome to adulthood! There is a whole new world out there just waiting for you, Child of God, so go out there and show them what you're made of. The world is in for an amazing ride! ~ Love you till infinity, Mom & Dad

Dominic Dillingham

The years have gone by so fast, my little boy is finishing up High School and is ready to venture out into the world. From birth to your walk across the stage at graduation, you've made me so proud along this journey and I'm so thankful to call you "Son". As you move into adulthood, keep the same drive and determination you've perfected in just 17 short years, NO doubt you'll be successful in all you do.....I'll always remember your favorite phrase "I've got it Dad"!! Our door is always open and we'll never be far away, love you Dom! Dad

Dominic, I cant believe how quick the time has past from my little baby boy to the wonderful young man you have become. There are NO words that can describe how proud I am of you. You are an incredibly kind and caring person and you have a heart of gold. I have no doubt that your future will be bright and your dreams will come true. As you go on your new journey, I wish you all the best - work hard but don't forget to enjoy life. I love you, Mom

"Your time is limited, so don't waste it living someone else's life. Don't let the noise of others' opinions drown your own inner voice, and most important, have the courage to follow your heart and intuition Stay hungry, Stay foolish." Steve Jobs

"Brodigy",

It has been such a journey watching you grow from boy to young man. I can still remember walking you to preschool and helping you put away your book bag before going off on my way to middle school. I recall the years when you were too young to read and I thought to myself how interesting it would be once you could read to me. I will not forget when we first rode the bus together and at school you would say "hi" to me in the halls. Most of all I will cherish the memories we made when you came to visit me at University in London. I like to think I was a good example to you but the truth is you have paved your own way. You are incredibly intelligent and your drive will take you far! Let me tell you, college will be the best experience and will go by so quickly. You will learn so much, not only in your studies but about yourself. Use this as an opportunity to find out who you are and to flourish! Much love and sibling rivalry, Mich

COLE MCPHERSON

We are blessed to have you in our lives and look forward to sharing your college years. Love you!

Cameron,
I can't tell you enough how proud I am of the man you have become. You are a great son, brother & friend.
I love you to the stars and back cammy cam!
I can't wait to see all the good things you achieve in the future.
Love ya, Madre

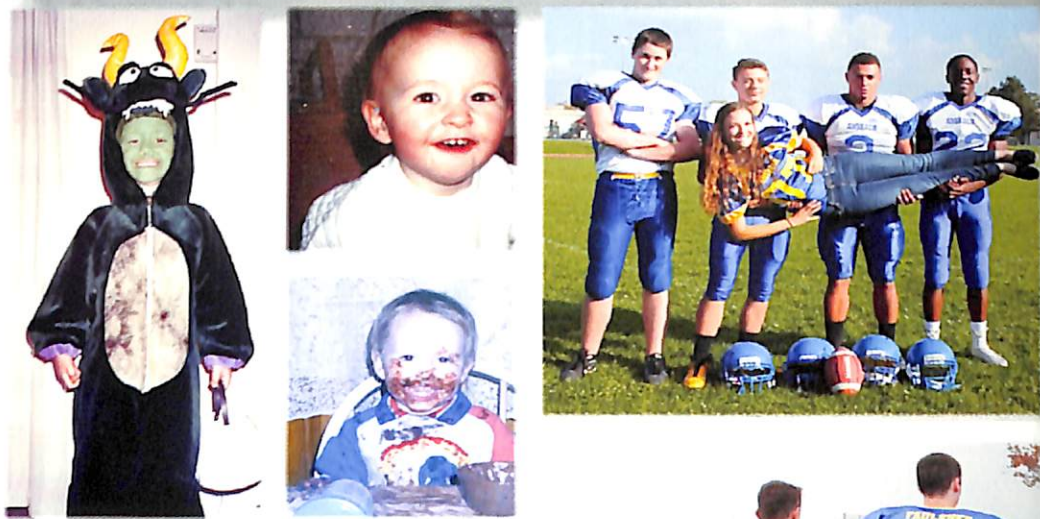

Hoopy,
I am so very proud of the young man you have become.
I love the times we have spent hunting, fishing, working on cars and just talking about whatever. As you are about to embark on the rest of your life, I will always remember those times and look forward to future times spent. I love you son.

Deandrea Carter

To my first born,
Young woman, my daughter, my joy and my heart, You've reached the end only to find a new start. The world sees the young woman with her charm and her smile, but behind the woman, I will always see my sweet darling child. As your mother you've made me so proud of the woman you have become. I love you!
- Mommy

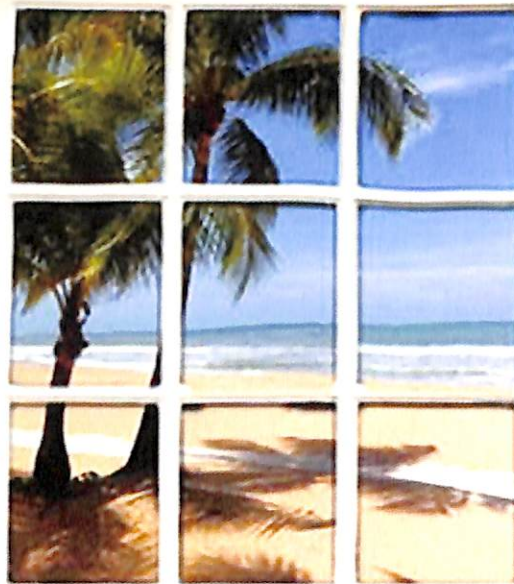

Ms. Deandrea Carter young lady as storm is almost gone, I can see the sun peeping through the clouds you have always been a smart girl when you have it your all, I taught you how to pray and you put him first in your life because he has everything you want everything you need, ask him first and you shall receive now another door is about to open for you the big world you have made it from 1st to 12 with the help of high power, and all your teachers, mother and grandmother.
I hope you will reach for you goals of what you want to be in life, you have already finish the long trip so don't be afraid to step on out into the big world, go young lady go. Grandmama is so proud of you, don't stop here! Love always - Muh and Daddy.

Elena Carlisle

Mom and I are so proud of you on all of your accomplishments. Graduating from high school is a great achievement, and you've accomplished many other things in the past 18 years. We loved every minute of watching you grow, play sports, get promoted in JROTC, learn to drive, and really just everything. Now that you are grown, you have many good lessons to guide you on your way. Mom and I have great faith that you will make this transition into adulthood with all the skills you need to succeed in life and find happiness wherever you go. I know moving all the time was rough, but you can tell people that you've sailed in the warm Mediterranean waters, run on the track in Olympia Greece, shopped for shoes in Paris, and visited the graves of the greatest composers in Europe in Vienna. Let these great experiences teach you to always explore, keep an open mind, learn from the past, live in the present and plan for the future. Always value yourself and believe in yourself. With great love, Mom, Dad and Tony who can't write for himself.

Dear Elena,
I'm going to miss you so much. You have truly become my best friend while growing up and I can't express how thankful I am to have you in my life. I will miss being able to just go talk to you about anything.

I love you so much, Amelie

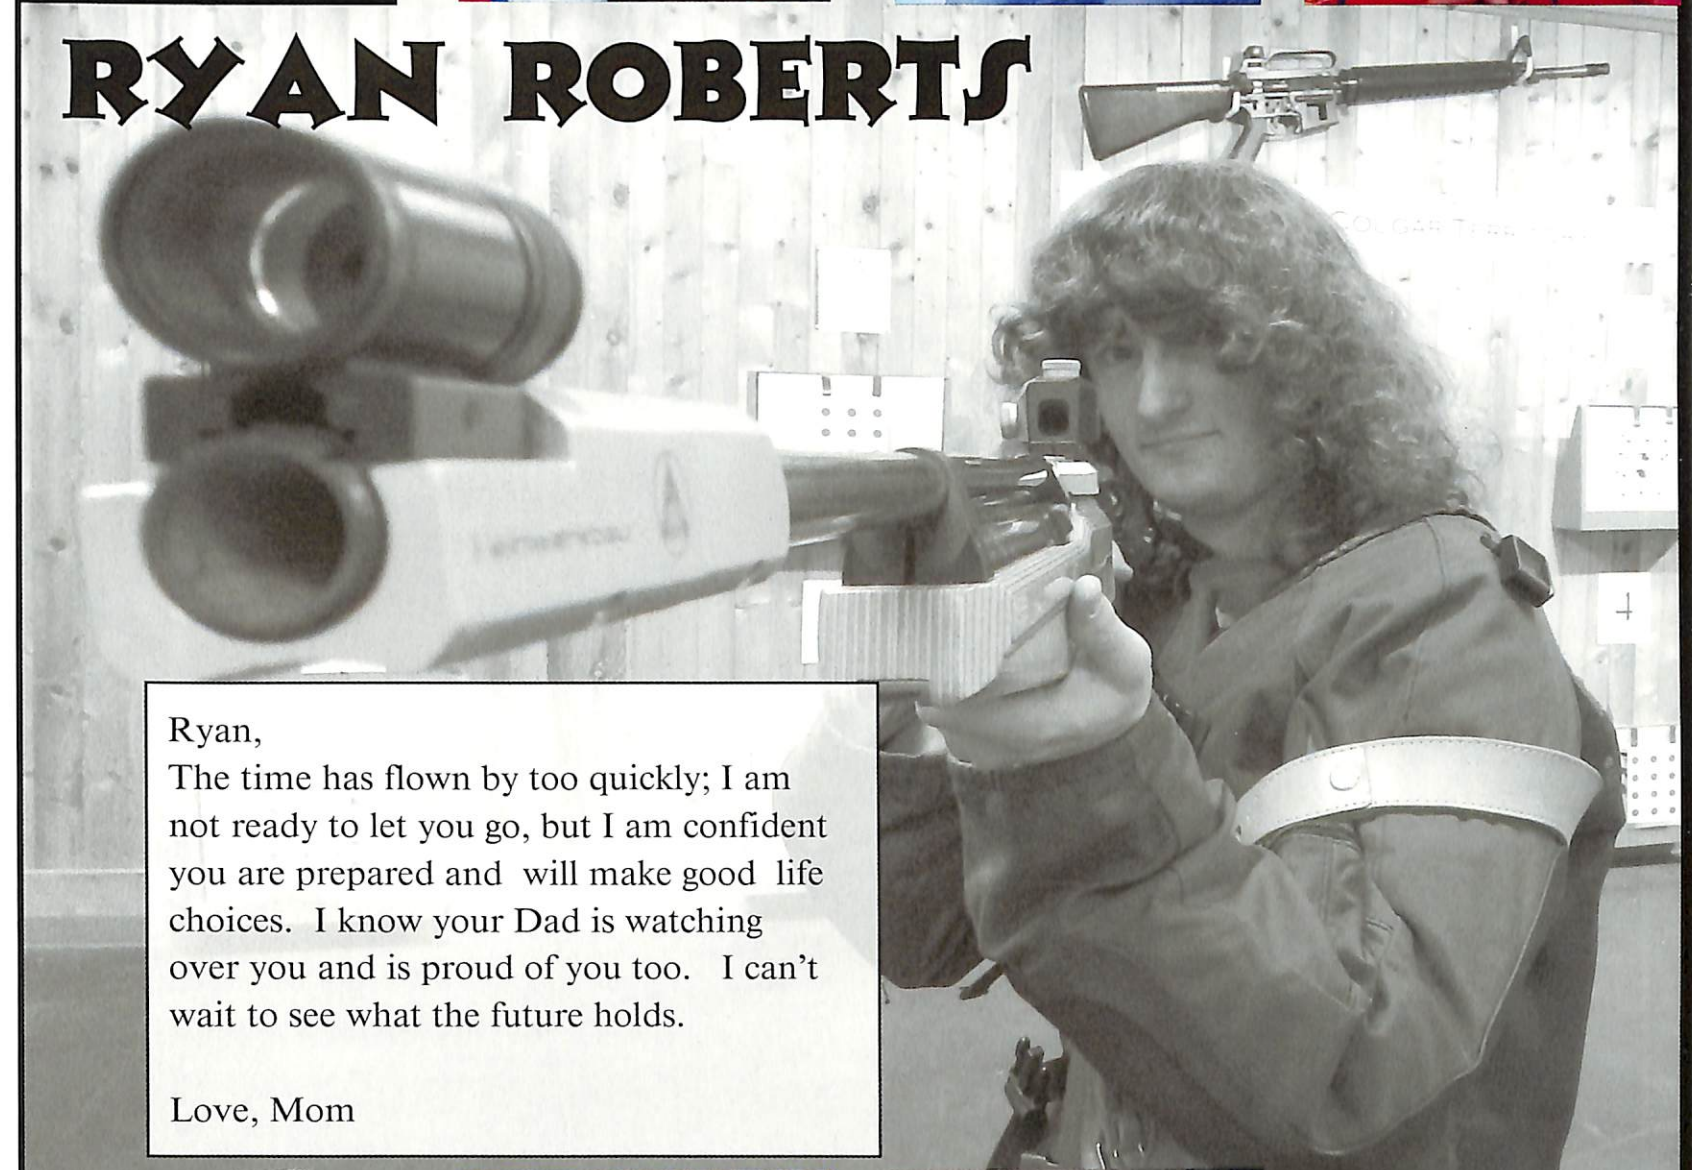

Dear Elena,
The next few years will make you question everything you thought you knew about yourself. You are going to change, that's a big part of this next chapter. But always love yourself, that is the key to happiness. Love yourself, love nature, and love your life.

Love Jo

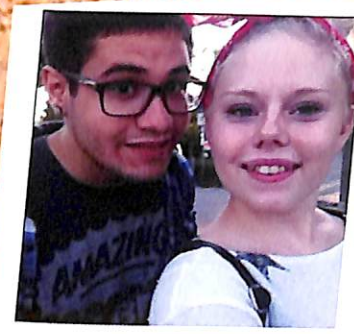

RYAN ROBERTS

Ryan,
The time has flown by too quickly; I am not ready to let you go, but I am confident you are prepared and will make good life choices. I know your Dad is watching over you and is proud of you too. I can't wait to see what the future holds.

Love, Mom

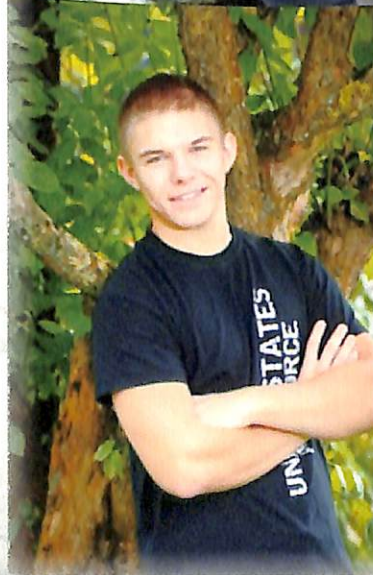

Alec,
I will always love you. I know sometimes I can be a brat. I am so happy to spend my time with you.
We have made it this far in the year, so we can make it a life time (I think). I know this is all cheesy but I learn from the best. I love you Boo Bear,
Gummy bear. I hope this last year of high school was fun for you, I tried my best. :3
I love you, Goldie aka McCaela

ALEC ORTIZ

Alec,
We are so proud of you! Always remember you can do anything you set your mind to and always dream big!
Stay strong, stick to your morals, believe in yourself and your life will be as blessed as ours has since you have been it! Congratulations son, keep making us proud.
Love,
Mom, Dad, Alan and Mia

Hannah Bee-

We are so proud of all your accomplishments these past four years. You have grown into a great athlete and leader; you amaze us in all you do. The world is at your feet, we cannot wait to see what the next years in college will prepare you for. We have never been more proud to call you our daughter.

Love,
Mom and Dad
