you are educated.
think of it as your ticket to rule
the world.

here's to the crazy ones. the misfits. the rebels.
the troublemakers. the round pegs in the square hole. the ones who see things differently. they're not fond of rules. and they have no respect for the status quo. you can quote them, disagree with them, glorify or vilify them. about the only thing you can't do is ignore them. because they change things. they push the human race forward. and while some may see them as the crazy ones, we see genius. because the people who are crazy enough to think they can change the world, are the ones who do.

creative connections was amazing. it was like a school of art for an entire week.

i attended garage band; it was eight hours of playing guitars & jam sessions. you seriously get to be a rock star for an entire week. the food sucks, but everything else is truly amazing. the people.

the teachers. the hostel. everything.

to anyone with interest in the arts, i highly recommend this program.

i'm running for vice president for the student council for the 2010-2011 sy. as of now, i am running unopposed, so chances are i'm going to win. wanting to change or enhance some things in the school inspired me to run. for example, last week i attended the teacher in service with paul luce, the current vp of the sc, which helped me understand how the school works. after the day long meetings, i was most impressed by how similar teacher behavior is to student behavior. i could give a few examples, but i won't. -robert dewitt-this year, i was junior class secretary. we worked on major fundraising by pushing carts at the bazaar and selling donuts and other goods. we got the junior class to vote on this year's theme and came out with midnight masquerade. we booked cial de brent for our location and ordered decorations, crowns, invitations, and gifts. we spent almost every lunch planning this prom and selling prom tickets. between talking to italians, ordering from the states, and getting volunteers, we [the junior class] had our work cut out for us. despite all the hardships, prom came and was a major success. i would definitely do it again in a heart beat. being Junior class secretary definitely brought some stress but i loved every minute of it. -kaitlyn casmedes-

placed 3rd at divisionals

aviano fall sports shocked people this year with its talent. womens' cross country placed third in europeans and mens' placed second. sean wilson is now the fourth fastest runner in all of europe. mens' volleyball started the year with few returners and many new players to the sport, but managed to place second at europeans. senior steven reynolds and sean outing both made the all-conference and all-tournament team, as well as junior sam hillestad. on the womens' team, senior audrey mcgregor and sophomore jasmine mailoto both made the all-conference team.

the hallways of aviano always seem so full of life. for such a small place, it's hard to believe, but looking back, it finally makes sense.

i hope, in ten years time, you'll remember the people who made these years the best, the worst, and the unforgettable. those people will always be apart of you. and when the day comes you actually have to let go of aviano...

... i hope you appreciate our little bubble. it's a much simpler place.

if you have come to these pages for laughter, may you find it.
if you are here to be offended, may your ire rise and your blood boil.
if you seek an adventure, may this song sing you away to blissful escape.
if you need to test or confirm your beliefs, may you reach comfortable conclusions.
all books reveal perfection, by what they are or what they are not.
may you find that which you seek, in these pages or outside them.
may you find perfection, and know it by name.
christopher moore

class of 2010, we made it. we've had some seriously unforgettable times together, & for that, i'm sure we are all extremely grateful. most people don't get the opportunity to have such a tight bond among a class, but we are the lucky ones. whether you've been here all four years of high school, or a fraction of that, it's safe to say we've all learned one important thing, if not in the class room, then from each other..

if we set our hearts and minds on a goal, we can accomplish it with determination & support.
i hope you never forget that.
