Bad Nauheim Elementary School

We support our troops!

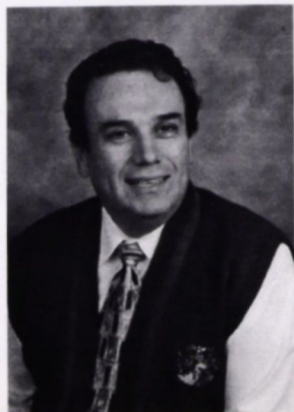

A note from the Principal

I am very grateful for this opportunity to extend my congratulations and best wishes to all of you. In a very real sense, every teacher is not only the product of his own schooling; he is also the product of every class he has ever taught.

Every teacher worthy of his profession not only inspires his students, but in turn is inspired by them. By the same token, every student has the obligation to participate actively in his own education, for the learning process and the teaching process are but two sides of the same coin, you can't have one without the other. But the most remarkable feature of this double process is that it continues. For not only have you learned from your teachers here at

Bad Nauheim Elementary School, but also you have taught them something as well, and in so doing you have influenced the education of future generations. It is my earnest hope that with the realization of your awesome responsibilities as students, will come a maturity that will insure your success in future endeavors.

There is a thought that I offer you. If you wish to leave this world better than when you found it, you must care about others. There is a need for each generation to set its own goals, hopes and purposes. Through the acceptance of responsibility to take the initiative, each generation creates a responsibility for a better today and even better tomorrow. The diversity of our environment and the focus of your learning have given you an advantage in the world, its culture and cooperation that few can match. Understanding the needs and addressing the concerns of the people of the world is becoming not just an important, but an essential requirement for our survival and prosperity. For though the changes are still before you, you must go forth and seek them, give flight to your dreams, take hold of the reins of destiny, and live life to the fullest.

Principal, Dr. Perillo
