The senior class started its spectacular year off with senior pictures in August, before school began, and followed that up with the election of officers when school commenced.

During the exciting football season the senior class organized the thrilling pep assemblies which included the hilarious pig kissing contest, the bonfire and the homecoming dance and activities.

Several seniors graduated early, on the 27 of January, and they were sorely missed by the rest of the class the rest of the year.

Visibly expressing their leadership abilities, the seniors ruled the school during senior takeover day.

Finally graduation culminated the school year for the class of '83.

Rounding out the crew are the admiral, Ms. Ellen Johnson, advisor; Bill Hughes and Barbie Balzadua, representing the junior class in fleet wide meetings.

Looking back on the portside of the ship, there were smooth waters. Juniors helped to make homecoming a splashing success by participating in football, crosscountry, volleyball as well as other sports and activities.

Our voyage was slightly delayed by heavy rains (geometry), winds (chemistry), and rough waves (U.S. History); but we managed to stay above sea (C) level. Just as we thought we were getting over, along came HURRICANE PROM '83.

Luckily we were prepared, but just to have some safety precautions the crew took on various activities such as candy grams and bake sales. That's called junior foresight and efficiency.

As we came toward the starboard side of our ship, we reminisce about the fun we have had. Yes, of course, there were storms, but we thank the captain and crew of the mother ship for their guidance. We also look ahead and wish the seniors the best of luck in their "retirement" from our navy.

The peppy, super sophomores started out the year with a splash by hosting the first dance of the year. Homecoming proved a breeze for the enthusiastic sophomore class as they took the spirit stick and did a very competent job in the float competition while capturing first place in the skit competition.

Amid bake sales, candy grams and numerous other money raising projects, the Winter formal was a smash!

The sophomore class of this year is looking forward to becoming the jazzy juniors of 1983-4 and the snappy seniors of 1984-5.

We want to thank Ms. Dye for her outstanding leadership and undying support.

Row Two: LaQuanda Jackson, Sgt. at Arms; Desiree Porter, Treasurer; Secretary, LaShon Jemison.

The freshman class, without a doubt, has demonstrated that they are capable of being the responsible future leaders of our school.

Spearheaded by their officers, the industrious freshmen class made many wise decisions and did an exceptional job with various fund raising activities which included weekly bake sales, dances and other activities.

The freshmen showed that they were an effective factor in the BAHS activity program with members on the JV and Varsity football, crosscountry, golf, basketball, tennis, soccer and track teams.

Homecoming was a smashing success of the class of 86. They took second place with their float in the float competition.

The freshmen also showed great spirit by winning various spirit stick competitions throughout the entire year.

Our sponsor, Mrs. Valerius, lent her whole hearted support to all of our activities and deserves a well earned pat on the back.

This year the junior high school has participated in many various learning activities. We began the year slowly, but after we had the elections in September and formed our JHSC, we got into the swing. October was a very busy month for us, as we had our Homecoming Dance, which was a real blast! We had Halloween dress-up day and the great Pumpkin Hunt.

In November we had the annual Turkey Hunt and were privileged to raise the flags of both our host nation and "old glory" over our school on the newly constructed flagpoles. Many of both the German community and the Baumholder community attended the ceremonies.

In December we had a Christmas Dance and swung on into that hallowed time of the year, Christmas break. In January, after a good rest, we came back full of verve and vitality and a game night was planned.

In March we had an annual spelling bee which preceded the annual class feud. To cap the year's activities we had planned a formal dance in May at which everyone had a great time. It is evident that we had a busy, but fun filled year and we thank our advisor, Ms. Brownell for that.

The Spanish club started with several cultural activities in October. We had a cooking demonstration by several ladies from the community. We got together one more time before Christmas and had a fantastic Christmas Spanish dinner — we like to eat.

The rest of the year was spent getting ready for your annual trip to Spain. To do this we practiced common expressions and viewed films. Then we went to Spain in the Spring to culminate our year's activities.

Ask any member of the 1983 Baumholder Ski Club and they'll tell you that there's no business like snow business. With this in mind, the members of the club embarked on their trip to Schruns, Austria.

To raise money for the annual week-long excursion, members had raffle sales, sold pretzels, and bagged at the PX and foodland. After the hard work of fundraising was over, the members enjoyed their much earned vacation. Each was placed in a group according to his ability, and by the end of the week, everyone showed fascinating improvement.

Ski clubbers wish to thank their advisors, Ms. Buller, Mr. Jensen, Ms. Larson and Mr. Mead for making this trip possible.

The pep club is a group of students who attend all Baumholder High School's athletic endeavors and give the players spirit. So far this year we attended football, crosscountry, volleyball and wrestling matches. We also attended tennis matches and basketball games.

One of the best sports we attended was soccer.

There are 75 students in the pep club and we had bake sales, sold pom-poms, ribbons and refreshments. But most of all, we have got SPIRIT AND PEP!

FUTURE BUSINESS LEADERS OF AMERICA is a national vocational student organization for high school students participating in business and office education programs. Its main purpose is to provide experiences in business and opportunities for the students to learn skills they can use in the business world. The BAHS chapter of FBLA will be participating in the State Leadership Conferences which will be held in Frankfurt in March. Students will be competing in such areas as job interviews, communications and human relations, business math, office procedures, typing, consumer economics and record keeping. Other activities include participation at officer training workshops with other FBLA Germany chapters, conducting fund raisers to raise money and learn about operating a business, and participating in field trips to various businesses.

The senior class started its spectacular year off with senior pictures in August, before school began, and followed that up with the election of officers when school commenced.

During the exciting football season the senior class organized the thrilling pep assemblies which included the hilarious pig kissing contest, the bonfire and the homecoming dance and activities.

Several seniors graduated early, on the 27 of January, and they were sorely missed by the rest of the class the rest of the year.

Visibly expressing their leadership abilities, the seniors ruled the school during senior takeover day.

Finally graduation culminated the school year for the class of '83.

Rounding out the crew are the admiral, Ms. Ellen Johnson, advisor; Bill Hughes and Barbie Balzadua, representing the junior class in fleet wide meetings.

Looking back on the portside of the ship, there were smooth waters. Juniors helped to make homecoming a splashing success by participating in football, crosscountry, volleyball as well as other sports and activities.

Our voyage was slightly delayed by heavy rains (geometry), winds (chemistry), and rough waves (U.S. History); but we managed to stay above sea (C) level. Just as we thought we were getting over, along came HURRICANE PROM '83.

Luckily we were prepared, but just to have some safety precautions the crew took on various activities such as candy grams and bake sales. That's called junior foresight and efficiency.

As we came toward the starboard side of our ship, we reminisce about the fun we have had. Yes, of course, there were storms, but we thank the captain and crew of the mother ship for their guidance. We also look ahead and wish the seniors the best of luck in their "retirement" from our navy.

The peppy, super sophomores started out the year with a splash by hosting the first dance of the year. Homecoming proved a breeze for the enthusiastic sophomore class as they took the spirit stick and did a very competent job in the float competition while capturing first place in the skit competition.

Amid bake sales, candy grams and numerous other money raising projects, the Winter formal was a smash!

The sophomore class of this year is looking forward to becoming the jazzy juniors of 1983-4 and the snappy seniors of 1984-5.

We want to thank Ms. Dye for her outstanding leadership and undying support.

The freshman class, without a doubt, has demonstrated that they are capable of being the responsible future leaders of our school.

Spearheaded by their officers, the industrious freshmen class made many wise decisions and did an exceptional job with various fund raising activities which included weekly bake sales, dances and other activities.

The freshmen showed that they were an effective factor in the BAHS activity program with members on the JV and Varsity football, crosscountry, golf, basketball, tennis, soccer and track teams.

Homecoming was a smashing success of the class of 86. They took second place with their float in the float competition.

The freshmen also showed great spirit by winning various spirit stick competitions throughout the entire year.

Our sponsor, Mrs. Valerius, lent her whole hearted support to all of our activities and deserves a well earned pat on the back.

This year the junior high school has participated in many various learning activities. We began the year slowly, but after we had the elections in September and formed our JHSC, we got into the swing. October was a very busy month for us, as we had our Homecoming Dance, which was a real blast! We had Halloween dress-up day and the great Pumpkin Hunt.

In November we had the annual Turkey Hunt and were privileged to raise the flags of both our host nation and "old glory" over our school on the newly constructed flagpoles. Many of both the German community and the Baumholder community attended the ceremonies.

In December we had a Christmas Dance and swung on into that hallowed time of the year, Christmas break. In January, after a good rest, we came back full of verve and vitality and a game night was planned.

In March we had an annual spelling bee which preceded the annual class feud. To cap the year's activities we had planned a formal dance in May at which everyone had a great time. It is evident that we had a busy, but fun filled year and we thank our advisor, Ms. Brownell for that.

The rest of the year was spent getting ready for your annual trip to Spain. To do this we practiced common expressions and viewed films. Then we went to Spain in the Spring to culminate our year's activities.

Ask any member of the 1983 Baumholder Ski Club and they'll tell you that there's no business like snow business. With this in mind, the members of the club embarked on their trip to Schruns, Austria.

To raise money for the annual week-long excursion, members had raffle sales, sold pretzels, and bagged at the PX and foodland. After the hard work of fundraising was over, the members enjoyed their much earned vacation. Each was placed in a group according to his ability, and by the end of the week, everyone showed fascinating improvement.

Ski clubbers wish to thank their advisors, Ms. Buller, Mr. Jensen, Ms. Larson and Mr. Mead for making this trip possible.

The pep club is a group of students who attend all Baumholder High School's athletic endeavors and give the players spirit. So far this year we attended football, crosscountry, volleyball and wrestling matches. We also attended tennis matches and basketball games.

One of the best sports we attended was soccer.

There are 75 students in the pep club and we had bake sales, sold pom-poms, ribbons and refreshments. But most of all, we have got SPIRIT AND PEP!

First semester saw a group of hard working yeomen embark on the arduous job of putting out a school newspaper regularly. Every two weeks the Galleon appeared and reported the news.

But besides the hard work we also had a bit of fun — the antics of Brett and Veronica spiced up our daily lives, as did the by-play in class and out.

BAHS' art program supports all Baumholder Community activities and our students are regularly recognized by the community for their efforts.

As part of the Baumholder Military Community winning effort in the energy contest this year, many Buc students participated in a poster contest sponsored by the command. Long hours of effort by the students were finally rewarded when they met with General Palmer and his aides to determine who would receive the $25.00 prize for the best poster.

Jr. High winners were Jodi Sheeler, 1st ($25.00 a frisbee and an award), Joe McGuffin (a frisbee and an award), Yvette McMillan (a frisbee and an award.)

Sr. High winners were: Patricia Tucker 1st ($25.00, a frisbee and an award), Missy Voigt (a frisbee and an award) and Danny Stokes (a frisbee and an award).

Energy conservation as a topic was one which many of our students could relate to and they used their experience through their posters.

Now we get right down to the method. This could save a life.

In, out, in, out, in, out!

John and Kristin wed as a part of their Family Life class.

Family Life is a class that virtually all seniors take. In this class students do the following: marry, hold a reception, do job applications, rent an apartment, figure budgets and shop at the commissary; apply for credit, write checks and balance the checkbook, buy insurance, draw up a houseplan, get instruction on pregnancy and birth of a child, deal with a major crisis in life and, for the grand finale, get a divorce. While not all people have to go through all of these things, they are considered normal, everyday things which most people have to suffer with in their adult lives.

The parenting section of the course makes the students look very carefully at the production of children. Each student becomes a "parent" by caring for an egg. They must name the "baby", provide a safe mode of travel and carry him or her with them everywhere they go — basketball practice, Winter Formal and to classes.

Some students find being a parent is not such a lark as they thought. They forget their "child" in the locker, on the window sill — some children are kidnapped and held for ransom. If the baby becomes injured or cracked, the parents must take care of him in the appropriate manner. One baby was left on the table overnight and in the morning he was made into scrambled egg (whoops!)

The second part of the course gives the student-parents an insight into the lives of 2-5 year olds in a preschool situation. In the pic at the right Tony Lewis fingerpaints with his little protege and it is nip and tuck who is getting the most fun out of the experience.

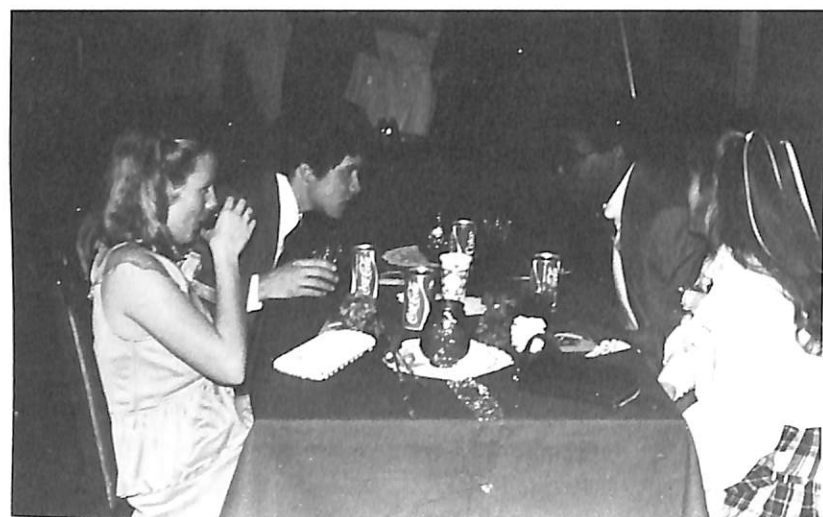

The Winter Formal Court and their escorts take the floor.

The Court and their escorts begin the action of the evening.

What's a dance if one can't sit down and relax for a while?

One of the wonderful experiences of being a high school student is the chance to attend formal dances. THE WINTER FORMAL is such an event at BAHS. The stupendous sophomore class puts this dance on in late winter, as a prelude to the onset of the beautiful spring season in Germany. This dance is second in prestige only to the Junior Prom held in May and put on by the juniors.

This year the music was loud and the action furious as the dancers showed their terpsichorean talents on the floor.

Due in large part to our Vice-Principal, Mr. James Rodney, and the efforts of others in the community, Baumholder American High School now has a dual flagpole, one for our host nation and one for "Old Glory."

In ceremonies at which the military and civilian German community attended, the poles were dedicated.

While the Homecoming events themselves weren't bright and shiny, as the day was, as usual for Baumholder Homecoming, foggy and rainy, the parade went off as slated and was a HUGE success. Spirit Week, which preceeded the Homecoming was a great success and the Baumholder Bucs made the day a complete winner by themselves coming out on top in the Homecoming football game.

The Homecoming Dance went off and gave the ever faithful Buc followers something to remember.
