The Eclipse Baumholder Middle/High School

Baumholder Middle/High School

Mr. Robinson

Dear Students,

Thank you for making this 2006-2007 school year one of the very best at Baumholder Middle/High School for all. You must be very proud of your contribution to the clean and safe environment that our school projects. When you reflect on your years at Baumholder Middle/High School, you will realize that time spent here with your friends and faculty helped you to become the success you are now. Not only have you been fortunate to be part of the DoDDS school system, Baumholder Middle/High School has provided you a stepping stone towards a future of tolerance of other cultures, acceptance of new ideas, and a worldly point of view.

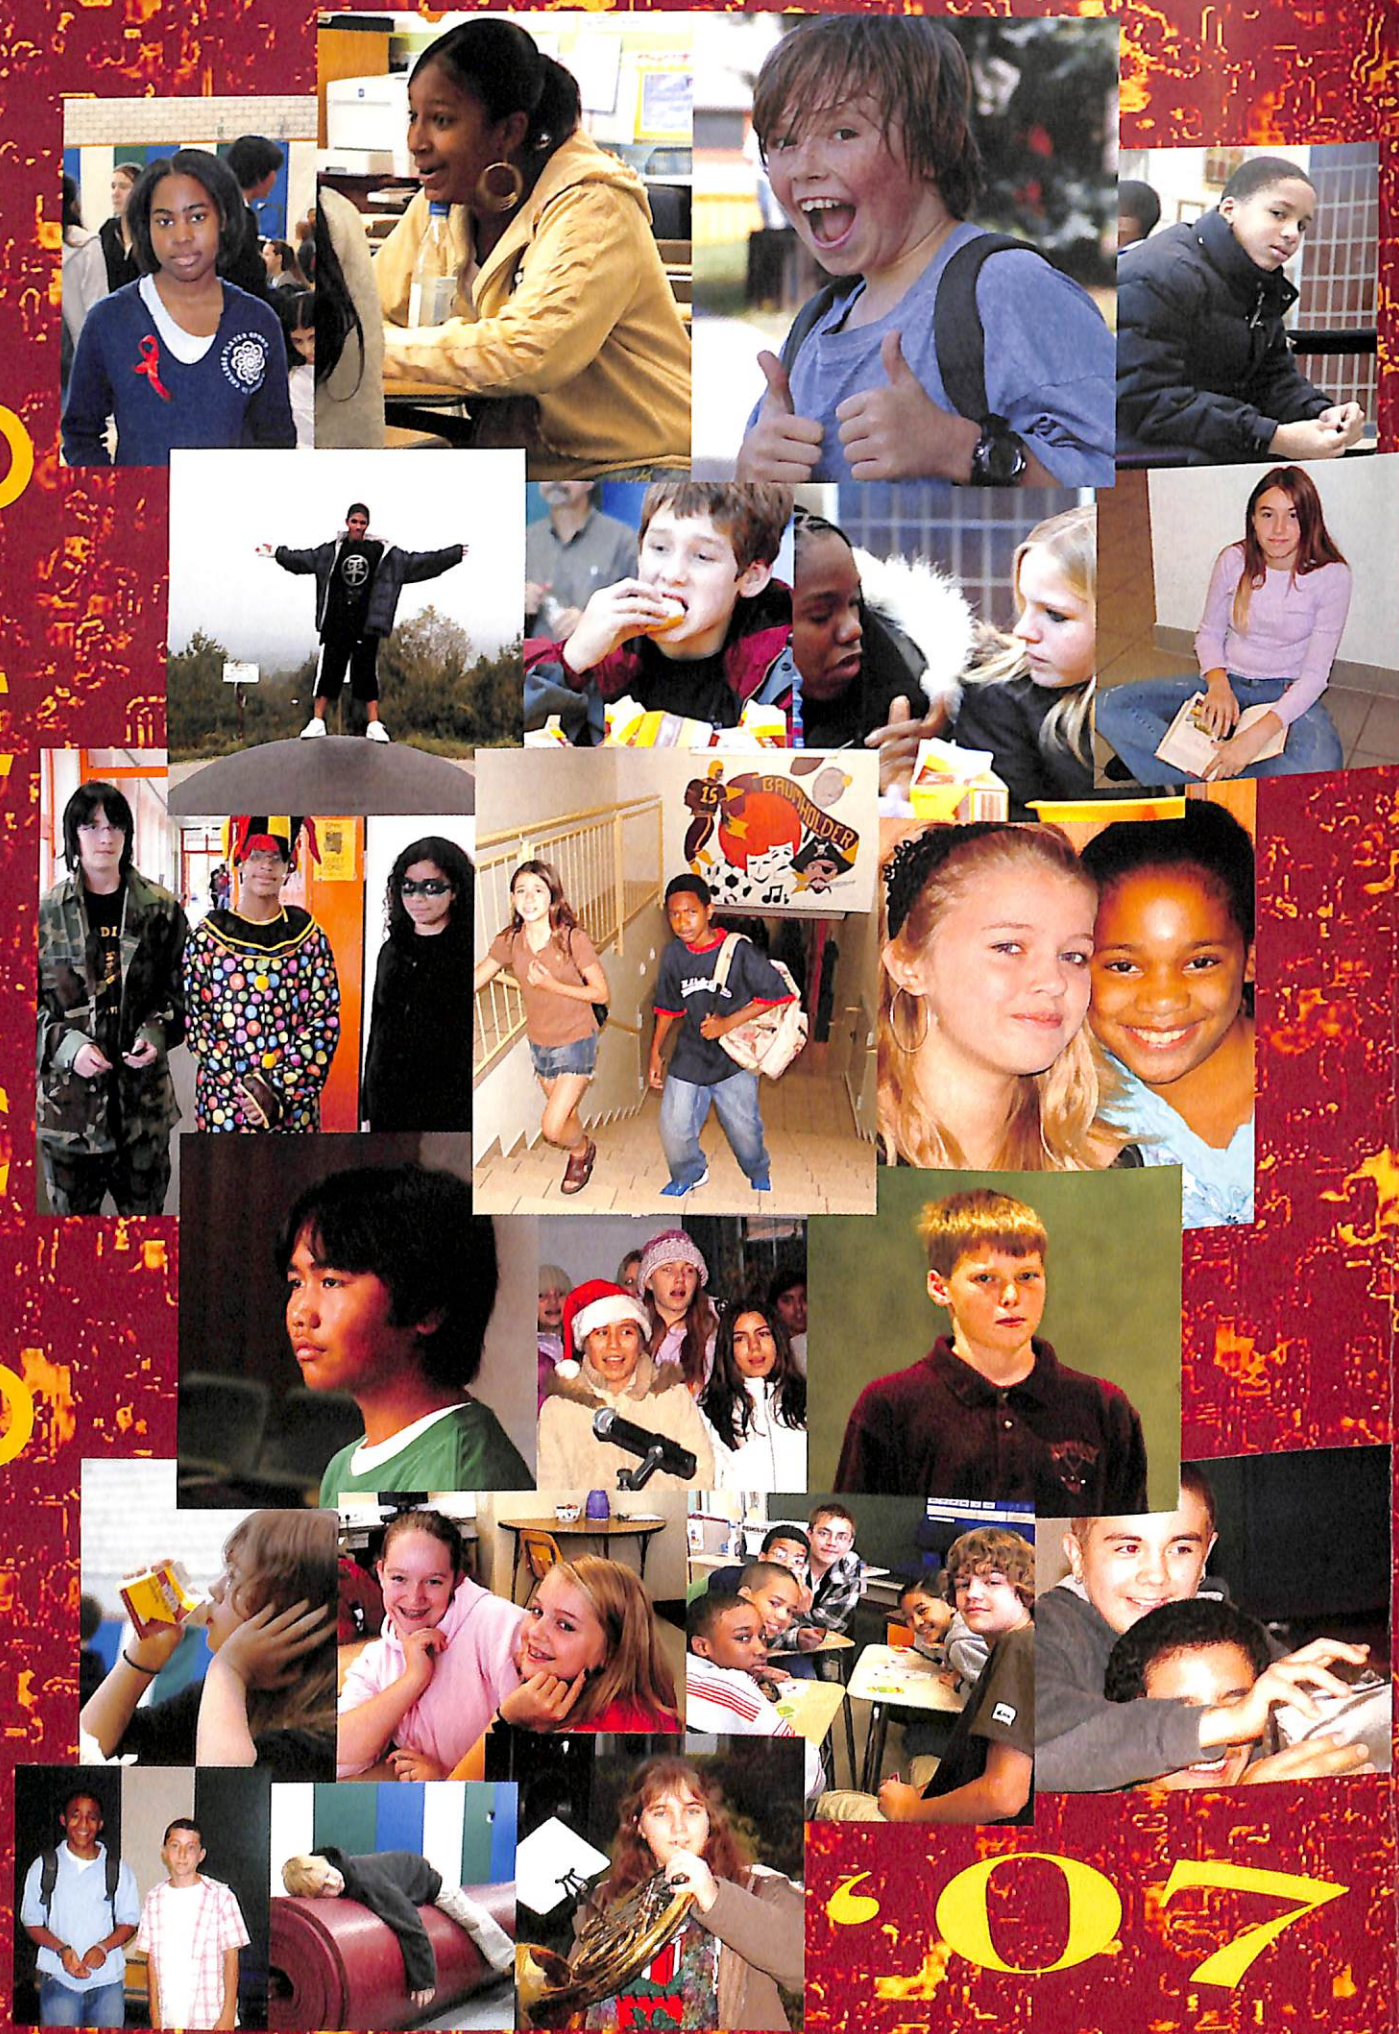

In conclusion, when you look at your yearbook twenty or so years from now, you will not believe you dressed the way you did or that your hair looked really strange. You may be asking yourself, "What was I thinking?" Use this yearbook as a reference or window to your past and all of the positive experiences you had at Baumholder Middle/High School.

Good Luck and Thank You,
Mr. Danny R. Robinson
Principal

P.S. I would like to give a special thank you to Ashley Zadra for the beautiful cover on this year's Eclipse.

SADD, Students Against Destructive Decisions, was initially founded as Students Against Driving Drunk in 1981. SADD broadened its mission a decade ago and now also addresses other issues affecting youth, including underage drinking, violence, suicide, tobacco, and other drug usage. Today, SADD is about students helping students make positive decisions about challenges in their everyday lives. On Nov. 2nd, SADD celebrated its 25th year as the nation's preeminent youth peer-to-peer prevention education organization. With its members committing to a "No Use" contract, it is hoped that their choice to make positive, healthy decisions in their lives will affect those around them as they lead by example.

Leadership, Scholarship, Service, and Character. These are the four qualities found in every member of the National Junior Honor Society. NJHS is an organization available to those 8th, 9th, and 10th graders who make a 3.4 GPA or above, show leadership, and are willing to help their school and community. "Adopt A Child" and Success Month are some of the annual projects performed by the members of NJHS. Although it is a lot of work, it is also a really fun organization to be involved with.

The National Honor Society has made it a priority every year to help the Baumholder community and the local schools. In 2006-2007, the society helped the elementary school students by organizing an activity called "Dear Elf". The members received letters from the children asking questions about Santa and the North Pole. The NHS members then wrote back answering their questions. NHS also held a Data Match fundraiser, a compatibility test of students within the school. NHS members also assisted with the after-school tutoring program to help their fellow classmates meet their potential.

MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Model United Nations is a great role-playing activity where 3,600 students from all over the planet come together to spend a week in The Hague, Netherlands simulating the work of the real United Nations.

This year, Baumholder American High represented the country of Finland and Human Rights Watch, a non-governmental organization that monitors human rights violations around the world.

Each Baumholder student participating in MUN had to become an expert in some area of international affairs, (i.e. Disarmament, Environment, Human Rights, etc.) and write a resolution that proposed a new solution for solving the problem.

MUN is a great intellectual experience and it was a lot of fun, but the best thing about MUN was meeting other students around the planet.

They also discuss international news reports and local events. Before the winter break, Foreign Language Club members created cards with holiday wishes in various languages for all the staff and faculty members.

VIDEO COMMUNICATIONS

Directed by Ms. Childers, this year's video communications class has taken a completely different approach at presenting the news. Various writing and speaking techniques were implemented into the curriculum as the students worked diligently all year to bring the school accurate and up-to-date information. From News Shows, to Music Videos, to the Media Fest Competition, the students have produced fabulous videos and will undoubtedly be successful in related future endeavours.

The choirs of BHS have been quite busy this year in our community. They have sung for the Post 9/11 Commemoration Service, Memorial Services, the Post Christmas Tree-Lighting Ceremony, as well as our school concerts. Several high school students auditioned for and participated in Jazz Seminar and the DoDDS-E Music Honors Festival 2007. Mrs. Matthews is pleased with the student singers. She hopes that the students have learned a lot about performing, good tone quality, and choreography.

Middle School Drama

Taking the Baumholder stage by storm, Mrs. Rudd's middle school drama class continues to display their budding talents in new and creative ways. After learning the basics for creating a theatrical masterpiece, middle school drama students perform improvisation, readers' theatre, and other forms of production. Look out Broadway; here they come!

High School Drama

Once mastering the basics, high school drama students improve their cultivated theatrical talents. They perform in one-act plays, pantomimes, monologues, as well as improv. Under Mrs. Rudd's masterful direction, the high school drama class continues to make audiences laugh and cheer.

Baumholder Football

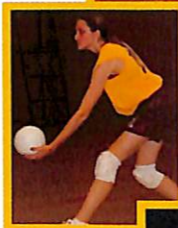

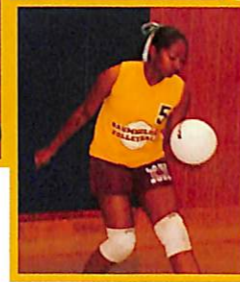

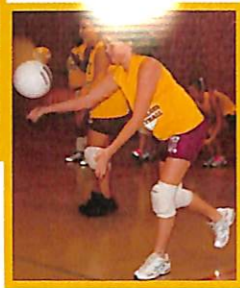

On the gridiron in 2006-2007, the Bucs battled Division II opponents with great discipline and determination. A completely new coaching staff assisted Coach Hollenbeck, which became a learning process for both players and coaches. The Bucs focused on team chemistry and surpassed many expectations. Their only losses came from the two teams playing in the European Championship game. As Coach Hollenbeck reflects on the season and sees many players moving on, due to graduation or PCS, he notices that this season was one of the most rewarding seasons, as a coach and as a person.

With more than half of the team new to the sport, it was an uphill battle this tennis season. However, each player worked hard and exceeded the expectations of the various coaches that helped the team, including a professional trainer. By tournament time, six players were given the chance to compete against all divisions for a European title, including Audri, Jolinda, Zach, Steven, Isabelle and Andrew. Winning 5th Place in the Women's Singles, Isabelle managed to bring the season to a successful close. In a team full of spirit and diversity, it's no wonder the team had a great year.

Baumholder Wrestling

The 2006-07 Baumholder American High School Wrestling team was outstanding, ending the season with a second place finish in Division II at the European Championships. Team captain David Crow provided strong leadership to the fifteen wrestlers who completed the season. Justin Westbrook and Aaron Hogg represented the middle school. Junior Varsity wrestlers were Danny Carrier, Spencer Fletcher, Lester Perez, and Aaron Howe. On the Varsity team were Scott Richardson, Edgar Acosta, J.D. Hall, David Crow, Michael Smith, Ryan Horton, James Lampe, Joseph Lamoureux, and Jason Stanley. Super-managers Kierstin Vater and Allison Deane supported the wrestlers and helped keep them healthy through the season.

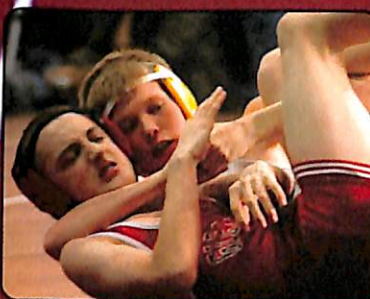

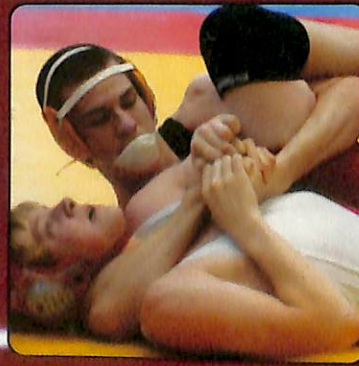

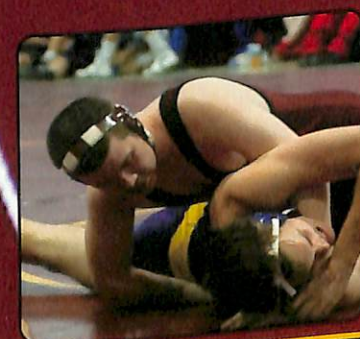

After six regular season tournaments, the team competed strongly at the Sectional tournament held at Heidelberg. Edgar, David, Michael, and Jason finished first in their weight classes. At the European Championship, BAHS and Ramstein tied for the most champs in the tournament. Scott and Jason finished sixth, Michael finished fourth, and David and Edgar won championships!

Congratulations to David, Edgar, and the entire 06-07 BAHS Wrestling Team on the best season ever for Bucs wrestlers!

The winter of 2007 marked the arrival of Neil Simon's classic, "Fools." Set in pre-Soviet Ukraine, the town of Kulyenchikov is plagued by a curse that can only be broken through a marriage. One man, a young schoolmaster named Leon, ventures into the village in hopes of lifting the curse once and for all. Along the way, he encounters the ignorant Doctor Zubritsky, his equally clueless wife Lenya, and the memorable Something Something Snetsky. No matter how vigorous the task is for Leon, he soon realizes that there is nothing quite like a pure heart and devoted love.

Zachary Splittstoesser as Leon Tolchinsky
"I know the dangers of loving such a simple soul. It would mean a lifetime of blissful passion...and very short conversation at the breakfast table."

Taylor Brunwald as Doctor Zubritsky
"We know not what we do because we know not what we do."

Mavonte Johnson as Count Yousekevitch
"I may be a villain, but I do not fool around. Maybe that's why I'm so unhappy."

Demarcus Hagewood as The Magistrate
"Nine o'clock and all's well...Nine o'clock in the village Of Kulyenchikov and all's well!"

Steven Billington as Slovitich
"Sheep stew for you!"

Carol Rudd Director
"That means that the young man in this curse may possibly be related...to our front door!"

Austin Strickland Stage Manager
"Oh-oh. It's time for Count Yousekevitch to propose again."

Megan Winfree as Sophia Zubritsky
"You felt a flutter in my heart as well? How alike we are. And yet your hair is so much shorter."

Courtney Turpin as Lenya Zubritsky
"I can't draw curtains. I can draw a cat or a fish..."

Jacob Lamoureux as Snetsky
"All stupid. Including me. Talk to me another ten minutes and you'll begin to notice."

Tara Turpin as Mishkin
"Every time I wash my cow, you know he's going to throw down water."

Samantha Guarina as Yenchna
"That's a long time to be late. I wish he was dead."

"My Friend, my companion, through good times and bad, my friend, my buddy, through happy and sad, beside me you stand, beside me you walk, you're there to listen, you're there to talk, with happiness, with smiles, with pain and tears, I know you'll be there, throughout the years!" unknown quotes

Best

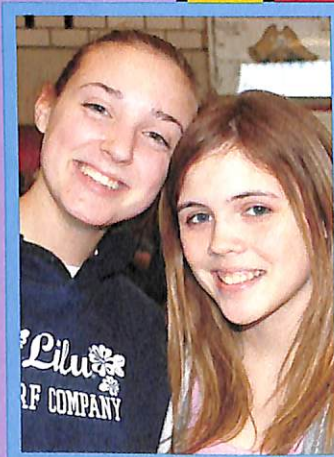

"We are best friends because we make each other laugh so hard."

"We are best friends because no one else will be our friend."

"We are are best friends because we complete each others sentences."

"Your friends are your release. They're who you have the most fun with, and yet when the going gets tough, those people turn around and suddenly they're not just making you laugh, they're being this rock and giving you all their advice. Their influence is incredible. Best friends are what you need the most."

AP DAY

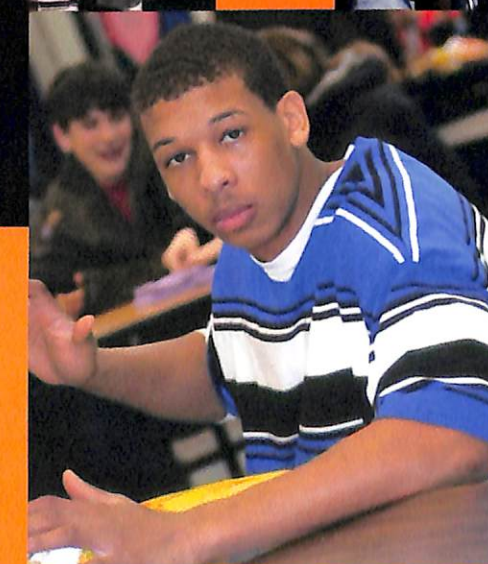

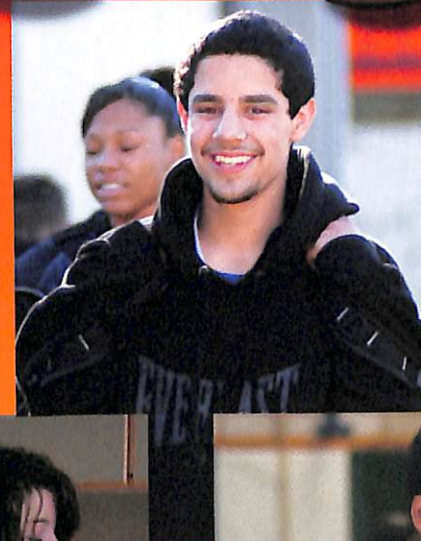

AP Day was an opportunity for all of the advanced placement students to mingle during the many activities that were planned. Directed by Mrs. Rudd, Ms. Magowan, Mr. Kelly, and Ms. Lockhart, the students worked their minds to solve problems, analyze their learning preferences, and create art out of every day items. The different activities helped the students learn time management, dealing with stress, and ethical behavior. Throughout the day, teachers and students alike began to understand better what the other group experiences everyday. AP day proved to be a rewarding experience for everyone involved.

This year, Baumholder hosted a Welcome Home Ceremony in recognition of the deployed soldiers return. Family and friends gathered in Baumholder's Minick Field on December 6th to welcome back the soldiers after their year long deployment. The JROTC Drill Team consists of students both in and out of JROTC that display hard work and the willing to learn something new. Drill Team performs precision drill, color guard, individual regulation drill, squad drill, and exhibition drill or spinning. With last year's success on making it to Europeans for each of the different events for the first time in five years, this year's Drill Team looks to greatly improve on that success. Congratulations to the JROTC Drill Team!

Melodi,
I'm very happy for you. You are the first one of us off to college. I pray you do well in Trach and Field at the college level and continue to have fun. I can't wait until you come home during your Thanksgiving, Christmas and maybe Spring Breaks. I'm very proud of you and I love you.

Your Brother,
Sheldon "Lil J."

Melodi,
I am going to miss you when you leave for college. I'm happy and proud of my big sister and can't wait until I go to college. Come home soon for a visit; I'll always need your help. I love you!

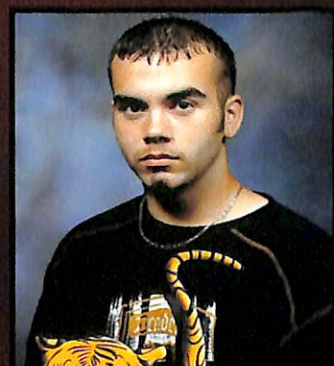

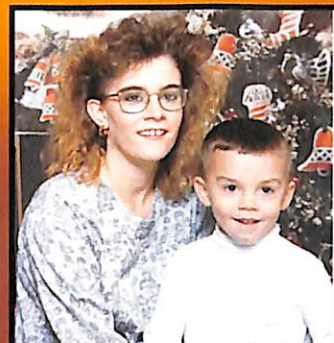

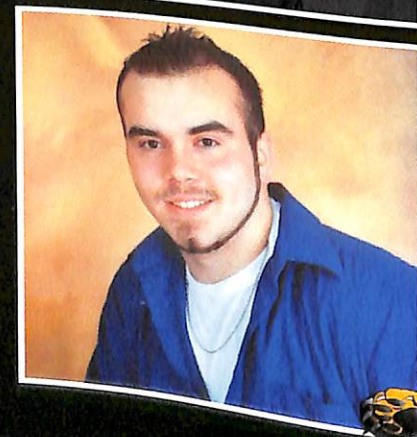

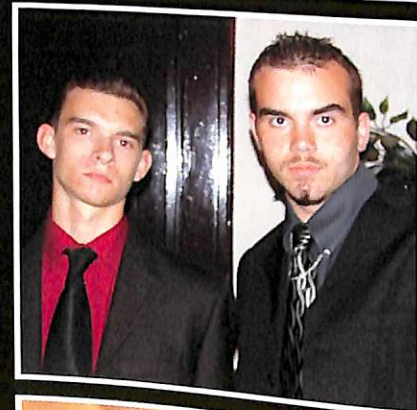

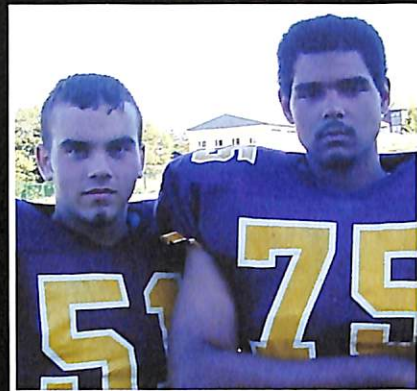

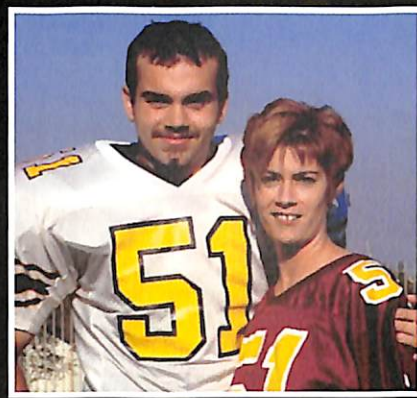

Your Little Sister,
Brooke "Nokey"

James Dickerson

James (Booger),
The words that I am about to say to you are not new and have been repeated many times. When I look at you, I see what the world sees only much, much more. I see the complex interaction of the man that I have taught you to be, combined with the man you are deciding to become. The result is fascinating. Your life has become a point of convergence for music, comedy, honesty, sportsmanship, competitiveness, love, loyalty and righteous indignation. You are accepting of what is without losing sight of what could be. Once you have graduated and gone off to college, I will so miss living in the midst of this world that you have created; A world where you fascinate and confound, surprise and shock, and manage to put a smile on the face of all who are in the midst. While this makes me sad, it also excites me to know that you will make a great impact in the future, as graduation is a new beginning. You will encounter obstacles along the way, but take it as a learning experience, as its those struggles that will make you stronger and more successful. As you get older, you will obtain wisdom, but that is by learning from those mistakes. Dont get discouraged. Just remember that this is YOUR future. You are the son that would make any mother proud. I am so very fortunate that you are mine. I wouldnt change a thing about you. I love you unconditionally James!!
Mom

Stephanie we are so proud of you! We're going to miss you. The house is going to be a lot more quiet. Love you,
Mommy, Daddy and Michael.

MANDY & TIFFANY

"Let's become little old ladies together- we'll stay up late looking at old pictures, telling 'remember when' stories, and laughing till our sides ache. Let's become eccentric together- the kind of old ladies who take long walks, wear silly hats, and get away with acting outrageous in public places. And if anybody should ask how long we've been friends, we'll say, 'Oh, forever - since before you were even born!' Let's become little old ladies together- because a friendship that's as special as ours can only grow better through the year."

-Jennifer Fujita

Audri Bustoz

Over the years, we have watched you grow from a fragile rosebud to now, taking as many pictures as possible to capture the moments along the way. We love the one in your Daddy's uniform. Who knew you'd aspire to be part of the military. Baby girl, it has been a blessing watching you blossom. We are both very proud of you! You'll go far in life. We love you!
Mom & Dad

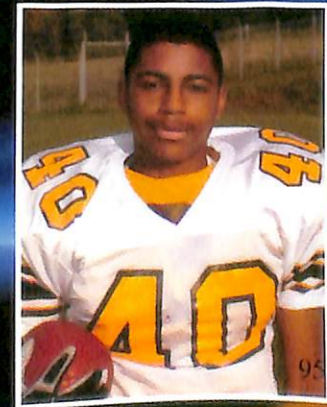

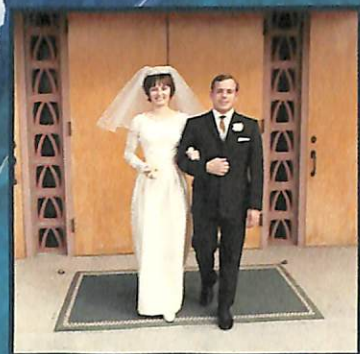

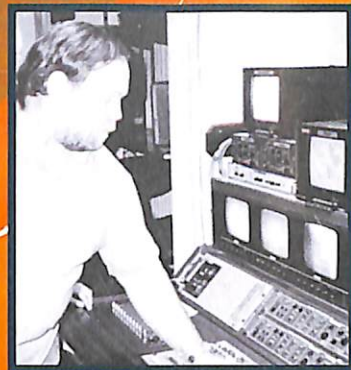

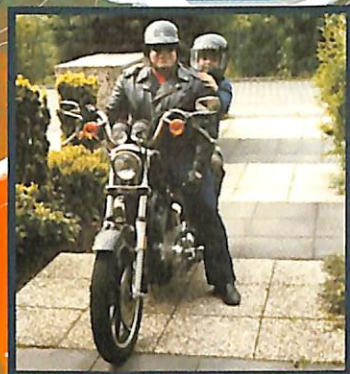

We are so proud of you. You have come a long way. Now it's time for you to face the world and be all you can be. We are proud to be your parents, and you've made us so happy. Glad to have you as our son. Good luck in the future.

Love,
Mom & Dad

Baumholder Says Goodbye to Mr. Tate

Mr. Tate began his career with DoDDS in 1974 when he was hired from his home in southern California to teach Industrial Arts at Bonn American High School in Bonn, West Germany. Mr. Tate taught metalworking, woodworking, welding and drafting. During the 1980's, Television Production and Computers were added to the list of courses he would teach. For two years in the mid-70's and again for a few years in the mid-80's Mr. Tate coached wrestling. In 1997, Bonn American Schools were closed due to the upcoming move of the American Embassy to Berlin. At that time, Mr. Tate was transferred to Baumholder American High School to teach Computers. In June, after teaching with DoDDS for thirty-three years, Mr. Tate will be retiring with his wife, Kay, to their home in Idaho. His interests are many and varied. His great loves, besides his family, are shooting, sailing and motorcycling.

He will be greatly missed here at Baumholder!
