Delalio Dolphin Thoughts from the Principal

Benjamin Disraeli once said, "Nurture your mind with great thoughts." I hope as you look through this yearbook that you find a picture of yourself thinking great thoughts and doing great things. Maybe you were caught reading a good book to help propel Delalio to our 1,000,000 minute goal or maybe you were caught being the Good Citizen of the month. What was the greatest thought you came up with this year?

Look at the picture of you all by yourself and think of all the great thoughts you had this year like reading your first chapter book or discovering for yourself what happens to that drop of water that falls as rain but disappears. Look at the picture of your teacher and realize that he or she never stopped thinking great thoughts about you and your learning for over 180 days! That's a lot of thinking to put in one place!

Take a good look at the pictures of the classrooms and the media center and the playground. These pictures are evidence of where great thoughts are stored, inside YOUR school. All you have to do is keep digging into all the stuff we have here at Delalio and great thoughts will be yours for a lifetime. Your mind will grow by leaps and bounds just as it did this year!

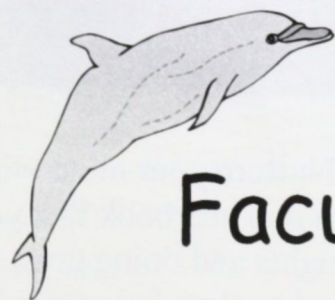

Keep thinking!

DEDICATION

We would like to dedicate this millennium yearbook to HMT-302 and to all of the Marines and Sailors of the squadron who unselfishly volunteer their time at Delalio Elementary. With their devotion and support, our school has seen many improvements in education, fitness, and citizenship. It was not uncommon to see these volunteers reading to a child, tutoring math or science, eating lunch with the students, pushing swings or working at the Fall Carnival.

We offer sincere and heartfelt thanks to everyone at HMT-302 who have dedicated themselves to the improvement and enrichment of our children at Delalio.

Not pictured: Many HMT-302 Marine and Sailor volunteers that we are thankful for.

Special Thanks

To the faculty and staff for dedicating themselves to the education of our children,

To the PTO and volunteers for helping to make this school year extra memorable,

And to the yearbook committee for this wonderful collection of Delalio memories.
