"If, in the years that follow, this publication can help the former students find memories of their high school days at Fort Campbell High School; if, as they turn its pages, they can again remember their teachers, reach the crossroads of this great year, walk respectfully down the faithful halls, experience the spirit and enthusiasm of each day once forgotten, and uphold the honor of having been a Falcon, hear cheers on the field and visualize Fort Campbell the way it once was, then the FALCON will have fulfilled its purpose."

THE GAME OF LIFE

While you have ceased to play the game of football . . . you will soon begin to take part in an even bigger and more important game . . . the game of life!

I would like to pass on to you the advice a Chaplain gave his son upon graduation. "I am giving you the ball, son, and naming you the quarterback for your team in the Game of Life. I am your coach . . . so I'll give it to you straight. There is only one schedule to play . . . it lasts all of your life, but consists of only one game.

"It is a long game . . . with no time out and no substitutions. You . . . each of you . . . play the whole game . . . all your life. You'll have a great backfield. You're calling the signals but the other three fellows in the backfield with you have great reputations. They are named FAITH . . . HOPE . . . and CHARITY.

"You'll work behind a truly powerful line. End to end . . . it consists of Honesty . . . Loyalty . . . Devotion to Duty . . . Self Respect . . . Study . . . Cleanliness . . . and Good Behavior.

"The goal posts are the Pearly Gates of Heaven. God is the referee and sole official. He makes all the rules. You know them as the Ten Commandments . . . and you play them strictly in accordance with your own religion.

"There is also an important ground rule. It is . . . 'As ye would that men should do to you . . . do ye also to them likewise.'

"The ball? . . . IT is your immortal soul. Hold on to it. Now, son, get in there and let's see what you can do with it!"

We the People of the United States, in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common Defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this Constitution for the United States of America

We the people of the United States Military Reservation at Fort Campbell, Kentucky, hereby pledge to support and defend the Constitution of the United States, which we so gallantly fought for . . . In Revolutionary times, state ratification began immediately. Many states were eager to adopt the Constitution, and to get in on this new idea for " . . . life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness!"

For two hundred years, our Constitution has symbolized America's belief in the rights of the individual, and in October of 1987, we began the 200th year commemoration of one of our country's greatest pieces of literature — our Constitution!

On October 18, the Fort Campbell, Kentucky, School System relived the days of the signing of our Constitution, by dedicating an all-out, All-American gala to one of our most treasured freedoms: the right to the pursuit of happiness!

Over 700 Students representing each school at Fort Campbell performed an extravaganza at Fryar Stadium to commemorate "A Declaration of Independence." Each Student sang a medley of patriotic songs in order to set the mood for the spectators; however, the performance was not complete until our principal, Mr. Gary Stewart, lead the ensemble in singing our National Anthem — "The Star-Spangled Banner." The celebration ended with fireworks and tons of happiness and comradery.

A Salute To A Man Who Played "The Game Of Life" With Excellence!

Thanks to our beloved Coach Houston Mills, Fort Campbell High School has not only earned respect for its athletic and scholarly endeavors, but it has become a high school that has pride and courage in every feat it tackles, throughout "The Game of Life." This year's publications staff would like to dedicate the 1988 FALCON to Coach Houston W. Mills ... a man committed to excellence through honesty, respect for himself and others, patriotism, responsibility, and loyalty!

For 25½ years, Coach Mills unselfishly gave much of his spare time to his coaching career, at the high school, never missing a practice of a game. He also contributed to the great progress of the track program, by coaching for several years, and serving as the track coordinator, in 1979, when both the male and female teams won the state title.

Coach Mills began his higher education at the University of Florida on a football scholarship, then he transferred and completed his education at Austin Peay State University, majoring in health and physical education. He is survived by his wife, Betty, and their two sons, Scott and Craig, who live in Clarksville. Mrs. Mills is also an educator in the post school system.

In the words of those who knew Coach Mills best, "He was a fine coach who gave respect and loyalty where it was due."

Coach Marshall Patterson, the athletic director at the high school, says, "He took pride in working with those students who were not necessarily physically gifted. When a kid managed to do one pull-up it was just as important, to him (Coach Mills), as the one who did twenty-five."

Steve Lowe, a Junior at FCHS, says, "He demanded excellence and he got it ... from the whole team!"

Coach Houston W. Mills left a legacy at Fort Campbell High School — athletic excellence. He taught us how to carry the ball. We must continue to carry it well — with remembrance and pride!

CENTRAL OFFICE

Superintendent

The base of the school system is the school board. Our school board is responsible for maintaining order and continuity in each and every school, located on the Fort Campbell Military Reservation. This year's school board has done an outstanding job in the maintenance of our system. The budget has been leveled well and each school's curriculum has been reared in such a way that it is beneficial to every student attending a Fort Campbell school. One of the best things that the school board has done for the high school is give its support to the construction of a new wing onto the high school. Other notable instances that the high school has done in conjunction with the school board are: the authorization of a school bookstore that will go into effect next year, a student phone book, and other minor improvements in our school.

This year's school board consists of: the Superintendent, Dr. Leon R. Sitter; the Assistant Superintendent for Finance, Dr. Arthur G. Kupisch; the Coordinator of Secondary Curriculum, Mr. Hugh Hatcher; the Elementary Supervisor, Dr. Suzanne Jones; the Director of Staff Development and Personnel, Dr. Ray McMullen; and the Director of Instruction, Mr. Fred Newton. Also on the school board are various other board members elected from each housing area on the post.

The Special Education Department is staffed by Miss Kuhn, who is aided by Pat Vanderwege (top left), Chris Hilbun (top right), and Peggy Haas (not pictured). There are six goals which are to help the students become contributing members to society, develop positive attitudes towards themselves, and acquire vocational and living skills. The students also learn how to use those skills, how to develop an interest in leisure activities, and how to recognize and practice good health habits. Along with learning these basic skills, most of the six students in the class are enriched by being mainstreamed in the normal high school courses such as P.E., art, Home Economics, and crafts. We really appreciate the special people who teach our special students.

GUIDANCE

As always, ready to help each and every student, the guidance staff was much appreciated. The two counselors, Mrs. Allensworth (top) and Mr. Lane (bottom), were a big help this year.

Junior and Senior English classes were visited by Mrs. Allensworth several times throughout the year so that questions concerning college plans and schedules could be discussed. As in past years, the PSAT, National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test, was administered.

Due to new policies and continued old ones, guidance served each student individually, helping him explore his interests, find his aptitudes, and pursue his abilities.

SERVICE WITH A SMILE

Student Council played a vital role in our school this year. The officers as well as the class representatives wanted to make this year a memorable one for FCHS students.

They began the activities last summer with several car washes held at Arby's to raise funds for various projects. They sponsored the first annual Turkey Bowl, a volleyball tournament between students and teachers, and Kaleidoscope '88, featuring an array of talent and the Prom Review. Spirit Week, the Homecoming Dance and the Christmas Dance were also planned with the fun-loving nature of the students in mind.

However, student council also wanted to sponsor some activities that would demonstrate the caring nature of the organization. Military Mail Call, Christmas food baskets, collecting money to contribute to Coach Mills' hospital bills, and Shamrocks for Muscular Dystrophy were but a few of their service projects.

The Student Council was sponsored by Ms. June Cacal, Mr. Ray Gilbert, and Mrs. Louvenia Peavie. The officers were: Maribel Torres, president; Jennifer Moss, vice-president; Kimberley Haluski, treasurer; and Francie King, secretary.

The National Honor Society continued to promote scholarship, leadership, and citizenship at FCHS. Among the many service projects undertaken by the group were ushering school-sponsored events, selling Turkey Grams, collecting for a Christmas Basket for the needy, and tutoring students.

The society, led by Francie King, President, did much to inspire the students of FCHS. There were over 25 members, in the club, which represented the top students of the school. They were chosen for membership on the basis of achievement, their contributions to school clubs and organizations, student government, and other meritable extracurricular activities. New members were selected by both the sponsor, Mrs. Allensworth, and the old members, and inducted into the society at a special induction ceremony.

This year's Honor Society, Francie King, President; Tracy Garrett, Vice-President; Georgia Anderson, Secretary-Treasurer; Meggin Garrett, Historian; and the rest of the club, would like to give special recognition to Mrs. Martha Allensworth and thank her for a tremendous "job well-done!"

ACADEMIC TEAM

The 1987-88 Academic Team represented Fort Campbell High School on several occasions this year. They participated in several small, local competitions as well as the Western Kentucky Academic Association Tournament in December, at MSU, the Hopkinsville-Christian County Invitational in February, and various other large, WKAA tournaments, held in March.

Our Academic Team, with Greg Gibson (captain), Jerry Bishop, Joe Galan, Tannesia Wright, Angel Rose, Anna Suarez, and sponsor, Ms. Bittel, sacrificed many hours to prepare themselves for their "olympics of the mind" competitions. Although they didn't bring home any hardware, they did bring back with them the experience of having done something to help promote their school.

LIBRARY CLUB

Fort Campbell High School introduced a newcomer to its system of clubs this year. The Library Club is made up of library assistants and others who wanted to be a part of this active group.

Meeting once a month, the club learned about parliamentary procedure and discussed upcoming activities, one of which was decorating the library. They also sponsored four contests this past year.

The main objective of the library club is to get the student involved and to show them that the library can be a fun experience.

THE BEST OF THE CLASS

The top ten seniors, for the class of 1988, have worked long and hard to get to the position which they now occupy. Each student has shown merit in every academic subject from the time they entered their secondary education in the fall of 1984. They have accepted the challenge of high school and worked to their capabilities for four years trying to achieve the highest grades possible.

The class ranking of every student begins the day they become Freshmen in high school. Class ranking is based on the student's grade point average (GPA).

Competition for placement in the "top ten" was very stiff because a small majority of the top ten to twelve seniors were all within tenths of a point of each other. In one case, the battle for the numbers 4, 5, and 6 spots was crucial — these students were within only hundredths of a point of each other! In any case, the following pages contain the top ten seniors, based upon GPA for seven semesters of high school.

"I give most of the credit to my parents. They supported me the whole way and without them, I don't think I could have done it. Besides that, it has all been hard work and self-discipline, especially having stayed up and studying after the sports activities that often finished late in the evening."

SENIORS

Our time has finally come to say "good-bye" — to our friends, teachers, and even our old routine way of life. We have worked long and hard to get to where we now stand, and now it is time for us to take our next big step in the game of life ... the responsibility of adulthood.

We will always remember our high school years with memories of all the good times we had while doing things we were not supposed to, and all the bad times we had when we would get caught for doing them. High school was a time for all of us to experiment with a new way of life — the one that involved growing up. As we stop and reflect on all the events that have happened to us over the years, it makes us wonder how such trivial occurrences can be changed into all of the wonderful memories that will stay with us forever.

Our friends will be the hardest thing for us to part with. Friends have made our entire high school experience worth-while. They were there for us when we needed a shoulder to cry on or when we needed someone to share secrets or happiness with. Our friends stood by us when we felt betrayed by others and they gave us all the encouragement we ever needed to succeed in life and leisure. As far as friends go, all of our friends have managed to somehow find a special place in all of our hearts that will remain untouched by the rest of the world — through all of our thoughts and memories of the times we once had.

As we move into the new chapter of our lives, we will undoubtedly shed a tear or two as we glance down the friendly halls of our faithful Fort Campbell High School, which will soon become just another memory to add to our high school collection ... Good-bye Fort Campbell!

HOMECOMING '87 . . . KEEPING THE SPIRIT ALIVE!!!

"THROUGH THE YEARS"

Spirit Week was the name of the game as Fort Campbell High School students took part in activities such as Super Hero Day, Class Olympics, a bonfire, and the Homecoming Parade. Hordes of Falcon fans flocked to Fryar Stadium on September 25, for the Homecoming football game against Heath.

Anxious students, parents, faculty, and alumni were brimming with excitement. However, twelve young ladies were anxious for more than just the game to start. Before the game, the Homecoming Court was announced and each girl was escorted on the field. Amber Gower was crowned 1987 Homecoming Queen. Her court was Maribel Torrez, Senior Princess; Colleen McDowell, Junior Princess; Michele Caro, Sophomore Princess; and Jenni Young Freshman Princess.

The week of festivities ended on Saturday evening with the traditional Homecoming Dance,

"Through the Years". For many students, the evening began with a nice dinner at O'Charley's, Bartholomew's, or "Chez Gile"! Then students filled the Commons Area as Stan Hardister was announced as Homecoming King. After hours of dancing to the music of Z-100 Jam Factory, the lights were turned on and Homecoming officially ended. However, the Spirit is still alive!!!!

The Fort Campbell High School Marching Band and paratroopers from the 101st Airborne Division added excitement and a special touch to the evening as the American Flag, the game ball, and the roses were parachuted into Fryar Stadium.

Amy Depreist, daughter of Art teacher Kathy Depriest, and Brett Fisher, son of Physical Education teacher Mickey Fisher, lent a helping hand during the coronation ceremony by presenting roses and tiaras to the Queen and her court.

Cheerleader, Stan Hardister, class of 88, was named Homecoming King at the dance on Saturday evening, September 26.

The Fort Campbell High School JROTC Color Guard presented our nation's flag while the marching band opened the pregame activities with the National Anthem.

THE ROAD NOT TAKEN Robert Frost

Two roads diverged in a yellow wood,
And sorry I could not travel both
And looked down one as far as I could
To where it beats in the undergrowth;

Then took the other, as just as fair,
And having perhaps the better claim,
Because it was grassy and wanted wear;
Though as for that the passing there
Had worn them really about the same

And both that morning equally lay
In leaves no step had trodden black.
Oh, I kept the first for another day!
Yet knowing how way leads on to way,
I doubted if I should ever come back.

I shall be telling this with a sigh somewhere ages and ages hence
Two roads diverged in woods, and I —
I took the one less traveled by,
And that has made all the difference.

INFLATED SPIRIT

FCHS school spirit was not something that most people could touch, see, or describe. It tended to float in untouched and settle down wherever students gathered to take part in FCHS activities. Nevertheless, whether or not anyone could actually see "spirit," it was alive, well, and living at FCHS.

The most obvious appearance of spirit came during "spirit week." This annual week provided the one time when no matter what grade or activity students were in, they could participate together. In a week which consisted of a day for Tutti-Frutti, Wanna Be, Twin, Superhero, and Blue-Gray, the opportunities for self-expression abounded. Even some teachers took part, like Ms. Bittle who dressed up in Jim Willey's football jersey on Wanna Be day.

The results from the week were promising, especially from the junior class. This class lost the first two pep assembly spirit competitions to the seniors and sophomores. At the third spirit competition, the juniors showed the school their overwhelming enthusiasm. Not only were they loud when they cheered, but they made many signs to accompany their loud mouths. Also, groups of juniors collected as much spare change as they could to purchase spirit links. With a huge donation of fifteen dollars, Charles Alexander insured the junior class a win.

STRIVING FOR THE BEST!

The junior class officers are always striving for the best for the class of "89." This was the year when the whole junior class got to do all the planning and organizing, not just little odds and ends but also big events. The officers took a tremendous part in this. They had to lead the way for others to follow and also had to help make new additions to the school. They enthusiastically sold candy and Christmas decoration to raise money to finance the Junior-Senior Prom.

PERSONALITY PROFILE

Walking the halls of FCHS is junior classman, Clarence Alston. Born in Florence, South Carolina, Clarence describes himself as "just an average Christian teenager." More than "just average, Clarence is a terrific student and a terrific person, with a smile for everyone.

Clarence hopes to become "the loudest evangelist ever"! His favorite text of scripture is John 3:16. When faced with problems, Clarence relies on prayer to pull him through. When not busy with homework, he likes to "lose himself" in his albums.

Clarence speaks to his peers at a FCA meeting.

CELEBRATING OVERTIME

The sounds of squeaking tires, revving engines, honking horns, and screaming teens all blended together forming "after game" spirit at Fryar Stadium.

After the game, the stadium grounds were filled with exuberant fans racing to their favorite aftergame meeting place. Those who preferred a quick bite to eat usually showed up at Burger King, while those with patience and an appetite waited for the steamy hot pizzas served at Mr. Gatti's. The atmosphere, nonetheless, was one of festivity, whether the Falcons won or lost. The enthusiasm mounted as people constantly entered and left the restaurants, making the after game fever almost chaotic!

Football players and band members arrived later with enthusiasm reaching just as high. With the arrival of the football players, the topic of discussion turned to the specifics of the game. As the night wore on, the crowds moved outside to their cars as they made plans for the rest of the night. After much debate the crowds usually ended up at parties or other social gatherings to continue the festivities. Meeting after games at these places is a Fort Campbell tradition — groups of people join together and have fun, even if the Falcons lose.

A CASES OF THE MUNCHIES THERE'S INTERNATIONAL FLAVOR TO CURE

Fastfood

When hunger strikes the students at FCHS, they usually do not have to look far for a cure.

As you glimpse down 41A and around Clarksville, a wide variety of restaurants, serving hamburgers, tacos, seafood, and roast beef, can be spotted. If it is a sandwich you are after, Burger King, Wendy's, or Arby's will be able to help you. Falcons find pizza a great meal choice and often turn to Mr. Gatti's after the game or avoid the "noid" with Domino's free delivery at home.

Taco Bell, Taco John's, and various other Mexican restaurants offer a "spice of life" to some at Fort Campbell. Captain D's is still another possibility offering numerous seafood dishes for those searching for something different.

There is no doubt that when the students at Fort Campbell get a case of the munchies, there is international flavor to cure it!

Burger King lounge is a frequent stop for Falcons who are looking for something to do.

Looking for an inexpensive meal? Beefy's the place for you!!

The door is open and FCHS students file in after the home football games.

RINGS MEAN . . .

On September 24, the juniors walked into the school and the realization that they were no longer underclassmen suddenly hit them. As they walked down the halls, the other faces seemed unfamiliar; they used to know who everyone was. What happened?

What had happened was that they had become a part of the school that students considered truly important. No longer did they have to know people to be known themselves. Now the underclassmen looked up to them and seniors, for the most part, viewed the juniors as equals.

As time went on the time finally arrived for ordering class rings. Now there would be a reminder of high school experiences, something to hold on to as a keepsake forever.

There were many traditions that came with class rings which made them even more special. To have people turn the rings without touching the stone was one of the first activities the new ring bearers did. The person who rotated the ring on the year the bearer graduated was supposed to be a very special person.

"BABY, BABY, I GET DOWN ON MY KNEES FOR YOU."

On your mark, get set, roll!

GOING FOR THE GOLD

On your mark, get set, go!! And they're off. At 5:30 p.m. on September 23, 1987, the students of Fort Campbell set their books aside to join in the annual class olympics and Homecoming bonfire.

The first event held was the obstacle course, beginning with a tricycle race then a three-legged race, a golfball push, and finally a sprint to the finish line.

As the events proceeded, the bathroom tissue roll was next. Fans cheered on their classes and gave complaints and advice on how to roll the students. The students hopped across the finish line one-by-one, seniors finishing first, then juniors, sophomores, and finally freshmen.

Don't drop it, "Oh No!" "I'm soaked!" You guessed it; the water balloon toss was next. Four people were picked from each class to participate in this event. It did not take long for teams to be eliminated leaving the seniors left holding the final water balloon.

Chocolate cream pie was a definite must in the pie eating contest. The biggest mouths from each class were drafted into this event; and although all the pies disappeared quickly, the senior's mouths moved the quickest.

Finally the event everyone had been waiting for, the tug-of-war! Six girls and six guys were selected from the classes and the seniors were against the juniors, and the sophomores were matched against the freshmen for the final victory.

Falcons made their way over to the bonfire and joined in to help the cheerleaders in their chants and cheers. Winning the spirit yell, the juniors definitely showed their spirit by holding up signs and yelling class chants.

All in all, the students showed their spirit well on September 23, 1987.

GETTING DOWN TO BUSINESS

"It's a great responsibility, but it is a good experience that will prepare me for the future!"

FALCONS WORK HARD ...

"Now accepting applications." When the students read these words, many jump at the opportunity to be hired. Just why do these students want to be employed while still in high school? After being asked this question, many Falcons replied, "So I do not have to BEG my parents for money!" Others commented on the great deal of responsibility it takes to have a job, but how it prepares them for the future. Many put their earnings towards a car, into college, or just spend it on those little things you "just can't do without".

Some Falcons find the Post Exchange, the Credit Union, Arby's, Wendy's, Burger King, and other similar places of work satisfying, while others prefer babysitting or doing odd jobs as their type of work. Still another possibility students find for employment, is the volunteer program for the Red Cross and other clinics on Post.

The Community Learning Program (CLP) allows 11th and 12th grade students to work with or without pay in a community business or organization. The students experience is supervised by both an on-the-job sponsor and a school coordinator.

The length, hours per week, and the nature of the assignment is agreed upon in advance, by the student, the sponsor, and the school coordinator. Students can earn a maximum of two credits per school year for 15 hours of work per week in an approved program.

Many students hold part time jobs. The working environment aids the students in experiences for the future, and provides a little extra spending money. However, their time must be well divided among their jobs, school work, and leisure time.

SOPHS GET INTO THE SWING

With an enrollment of 190 students, the Sophomore Class was very large this year. Elected to guide the class were Stephanie Dyess, president; Kevin Burke, vice-president; David Switzer, secretary; and Kate Keneally, treasurer. Each advisory then elected a representative and an alternate to the Student Council. The representatives were very active in the planning of this year's Homecoming, which included spirit week, the bonfire, the Falcon Olympics, and the main events — the Homecoming dance.

This year's sophomores joined forces with the upperclassmen in the pep assemblies and enjoyed active participation in all phases of the school life here at FCHS.

Friendships and Relationships

What we shared will never be replaced, not by anything or anyone . . .

Another school year has come and gone. All the pep rallies, football games, parties, dances, basketball games, pizza celebrations, car washes, class fundraisers, and parades of class spirit are only memories now, that we may look back upon. But, the friendships and relationships that we have made through the school year are not so easily forgotten.

The Army exposes us to a wide variety of people. Some we will choose to forget, but most we will try to hang on to for the rest of our lives. Friends do not come that easily, and true friends are even harder to find. It seems that when we finally meet that special person to whom we can tell our deepest, darkest secrets, and pal around with, something always happens to break up that special bond you've created. Most of the time moving is the cause of broken friendships, but sometimes other circumstances cause friendships to stir.

Relationships are no different — Moving or graduation always seems to be the cause of broken relationships. Although it is said that most high school relationships never last, it is true that a special bond is made between two people that will never be broken, an everlasting friendship!

Friendships in high school are a very important part of growing up. There is so much to be learned from dating. Not only do partners learn to care, but they also learn the art of RESPONSIBILITY!

"Though I won't be with you for a while, just remember two things: I'm always going to be with you . . . through your fond memories and thoughts; whenever you feel down, at your new home, take a walk and think of how many people you have made happy.

I feel our friendship is like no other. I realize that miles tend to restrict relationships. We will write for a long time but, then, our lives will go on . . . Though, eventually, we may not be in touch, I want you to know that I have learned so much from our friendship. What we shared will never be replaced, not by anything or anyone — no matter how wonderful or brilliant they may seem.

We will both survive our separation, whether it be temporary, or permanent. We are both strong-willed and will use our friendship as an example for the rest of our lives.

With love always and forever,

YOUR SPECIAL FRIEND"

SOMETHING TO LOOK FORWARD TO NEXT YEAR . . .

Early in June, ten boys and three girls attended Boys and Girls State at Morehead State University. Each delegate was selected on the basis of certain criteria: good teacher recommendations, leadership qualities, enthusiasm, character, and academic standings.

Several hundred boys — all from different high schools, all from different cities, all from different parts of the state of Kentucky, state speech contest winners, state track champions, All-State halfbacks, All-State clarinet players, student council presidents, football captains, and many other fields were represented there by the best in every field.

The schedule was tough — up at 5:30 a.m., inspection, exercise, breakfast, lectures, lunch, politics, recreation, dinner, entertainment, politics, sleep, at 11:00 p.m. if you were lucky. Each day had a different schedule.

The guys went to MSU to learn government — that they did — in approximately 10 hours of lectures. They also learned politics — signs posters, speeches, demonstrations, trading votes, rallies, conventions and finally, voting procedures.

They learned government, but more important, they learned people. They met them got to know them, and liked them. They worked with them and against them and for them. They got to know them better and more important, they got to know themselves better.

"I came, I saw, I learned Kentucky government, I sang the Girl's State Song, I ate in the college dining room, I danced in the college gym, I awoke at 6:00 a.m., I went to bed between 12:00 and 2:00 a.m., I kept my room clean for inspection, I heard many stirring speeches, I ran for public office, I met many wonderful girls, but time ran out too quickly.

This, or a comparable statement, could have been spoken by any of the three girls who attended Kentucky Girl's State from June 8 to 13, 1987.

This week-long program in good citizenship began Sunday afternoon with registration, assignment to cities and either the Nationalist or Federalist party. The next day, mayors of the cities were elected. The party conventions took place Tuesday when delegations from the cities assembled to make their nominations for governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, secretary of state, superintendent of public instruction, treasurer, auditor, and secretary of agriculture. Following these were the election Wednesday and inauguration Thursday.

A joint session of the citizens of Girls' and Boys' State was held at MSU on Thursday afternoon where Governor Collins addressed each delegate with some words of inspiration.

The other social events of the week were the Girls' State banquet, held in the college cafeteria — a formal event, and the dance, held in the college gym, with the Boys' State delegates. The 1987 Boys and Girls' State candidates selected from FCHS were: Jerry Bishop, Chuck Gant, Richard Grice, Matt Graves, Joe Klapperich, Terry Moss, Jason Myers, Joe Park, Mike Taylor, Bart Tragemann, Cynthia Biamon, Carolyn Hughes, and Trish Schlicht.

The class of '91, Freshmen, underclassmen; they all mean the same thing. Throughout the years Freshmen have had diapers thrown at them, and even carried away from a water fountain by a senior. It's all part of the game of being a freshman. Yes, it may be fun for the "upperclassmen" but have they ever taken note of what the freshmen think?

THE LIFE OF A FRESHMAN . . .

"Being a freshman is a big difference from middle school. In middle school, we were up top, the upperclassmen; we had all the power; now, we have nothing."

Although many freshmen wish they were an upperclassman, there are a few that are proud to be freshmen.

Freshmen are picked on, made fun of, and even pushed around. But why? Because they are coming into the school trying to be a more mature person. "There is a lot of responsibility", — Kelley Patrick, "Being in a sport is a great way to be treated like someone, instead of being treated like a "freshman", — The freshman cheerleaders.

There are many big differences stepping up from the middle school. There is a lot more homework, not just little quizzes, but exams. Besides that there is a very big difference in the "MALES AND FEMALES." Soon there will be a time when the class of '91 will look back and say, "We did that?"

But until then . . .

We came here not knowing what to look for,
We came here with the thought we are not children anymore,
We met new faces and friends,
We had a few broken hearts
We had to try and mend,
Now we are moving up going on for another year,
And to the freshmen coming along,
We leave our long forgotten fear.

Hup, Hup ready Ho . . . The FCHS Marching Falcons started off their season winning First place in their class in the Constitution Parade and second place in their class at the Clarksville Veteran's Day Parade. They played Lennon & McCartney hits such as "Hard Days Night," "Can't Buy Me Love," "Yesterday" and a Spanish song "Cortez."

Loretta Carmichael is spot-lighted for her performance in "Yesterday". When asked what made her join the Marching Falcons she replied with, "I love music, and joining the marching band expanded my field of music to not only performing it in a concert but also performing it on the field. With joining the marching band, you learn a lot more about yourself and others. It's a great experience!"

Band field commander was Patricia Schlicht. When asked to use three adjectives to describe her feelings of the Marching Falcons, she replied with, "Spirited, hardworking, and dedicated."

In the last home game during halftime the Marching Falcons recognized the seniors in the band. They are: J. Flores, K. Coultas, A. Starr, S. Lord, T. Gibson, T. Hitt, V. Crawford, T. Heath, J. Gregg, and P. Schlicht.

Last but not least the band officers voted for the 87-88 school year were: President — P. Schlicht; V. President — L. Carmichael; Historian — R. Smith; and Secretaries — G. Zavala, and L. Case.

The 87-88 Flag Squad for the marching Falcons consist of Tricia Gibson, flag captain, Tammy Hitt, Susan Lord, Keisha Brown, Tara Heath, Pam Roberson, Stephanie Watson, Ebonnie Moss, Michelle Van Meter, and Syndi Boyett.

When Tammy Hitt was asked what she liked best about being on the flag squad, she said, "Getting into the game free! But seriously I like the feeling I get when I finish a show and I know I've done well. It's fantastic! When the band as a whole finishes a show, we're all happy about it. It takes everyone, not just a couple of people."

The Flag Squad shows its dedication, hard work, and leadership in supporting the Falcons.

7. Mr. D. shows with his trumpet playing that he too likes to join in the music.

THE VOICE OF THE FALCON

The Choir here at FCHS had a very busy year, from Christmas concerts and a big Showchoir Spring Concert to going to the middle schools to recruit students for the next school year. The 9th grade Mass Choir traveled to MTSU to sing with 700 other students.

The Choir had five students who did outstanding at some auditions. J. Costa and T. Schlicht made All-State. C. Hughes made Mid-State, while A. Weiss and E. Dunn made Mid-State Women's Chorale.

First Row: L. Coleman, Y. Parker, S. Stephens, T. Schlicht, M. Torres, J. Keneally, K. Keneally, C. Hughes, S. Willey, T. Brocious, I. Rodriguez, T. Byrd, V. Cobbs, A. Washington. Second Row: T. SHARING IS CARING

"FCA is not just for athletes." That was the slogan of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, sponsored by Coach Marshall Patterson. Meetings, which consisted of discussions, skits, and games, were held every Wednesday night from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. The discussions gave the FCA members a chance to "open up" and share with their peers the problems they were encountering. These discussions and other fellowship events were led by such individuals as: president, Katie Schlicht; vice-president, Kim Haluski; secretary, Georgia Anderson; treasurer, Burt Collins; chairperson, Deanna Anderson; and regular members.

Not only did FCA hold meetings, but they sponsored many events such as the memorial for coach Mills, a Thanksgiving prayer meeting, Christmas caroling, visiting local nursing homes, and an annual lock-in. One of the goals that FCA strived for was to be a group known for promoting a Christian attitude at FCHS.

... FOR FRIENDSHIPS SAKE

Caring — Our Way of Life Key Club, a service organization for high school students, is unique in that it is sponsored by a local Kiwanis club, a service club for leading business and professional men in the community. Through this association, students learn how best to serve their community, while gaining knowledge of various professions. Key Club, along with serving the community, also provided many services to FCHS. Participation in Key Club service activities helped students develop initiative, leadership, good citizenship, and it helped heighten their awareness of the community's needs.

The 1987-88 Key Club officers are: president, Katie Ward; vice-president, Larrisa Galenes and Kelsie Hill; secretary, Amy Fritch; treasurer, Tannissa Wright and Sergeant at arms, Chuck Gant.

Although the enrollment of JROTC puts no military obligation on the cadet, cadets learn many useful skills and facts that will help them if they decide to pursue a military career as well as help them in civilian life.

The purpose of JROTC is to teach good leadership along with learning to read maps, oral communication, marksmanship, and first aid.

Extra-curricular activities are a big part of the JROTC. The cadets have the opportunity to participate in the rifle team, drill team, color guard, rangers, hayrides, and the Military Ball. Parades are another extra-curricular activity in which the JROTC participates. On September 17, 1987, Maj. General Teddy Allen gave the honor to the FCHS cadet corp to carry the Constitution Day banner in the parade at Ft. Campbell.

Giving it their all, the FCHS cadet corp ranked second highest, 97 percent out of 100 percent in the state of Kentucky during their annual inspection. With this outstanding rating, the JROTC department received three nominations to sponsor a cadet for admission to the West Point, Military Academy.

Pressing Situations

... AS DEADLINES CLOSE ON YEARBOOK

On the first day of Christmas Vacation not a creature was stirring at FCHS, except the yearbook staff. Giving up vacation days or weekend time were just a few of the sacrifices the yearbook staff had to make in order to produce a quality yearbook and meet the deadlines. The staff began work in August and continued working diligently until early March, when the final shipment of material was made. There were twelve original staff members plus two sponsors, Ms. Sylawa and Mr. Gilbert.

The 1987-88 yearbook staff met many new challenges. They had to become word processing wizards, so that actual work on the yearbook could begin. The yearbook staff also had to learn how to draw lay outs, fit copy, crop pictures, and write articles with some form of journalistic flare, while still attempting to meet their deadlines.

Even though there is much hard work put into producing yearbooks, the staff felt they had learned so much from this experience that could benefit them in the future. Nonetheless, most of the hard work and sacrifice these students endure are not noticed by their peers outside of the staff.

In essence the yearbook staff has learned, suffered, and endured all so that the 1987-88 FCHS years will live on forever.

THROUGH ADVERSITY FALCONS POST WINNING RECORD

The Falcon football team, under the leadership of a dozen seniors, posted a 7-5 record as they returned to Class AA play. These seniors are Leon Hill, Pat Moody, Darrin Gile, Pat Isom, Rick Anthony, Terry Moss, Mike Gillies, Richard Grice, Jason Myers, Bart Tragemann, Frank Graves, and Chris Lehew. Of these twelve seniors, eight started on defense and nine started on offense.

A shining falcon defense which recorded three shut-outs during the regular season kept Fort Campbell close as the offense was hampered by injuries. Fort Campbell linebackers Richard Grice and Pat Isom, who were also the team captains, led the defense in tackles.

The season started similar to the 1986 season, and the Hopkinsville Tigers scored late in the fourth quarter to defeat Fort Campbell. The next week, Fort Campbell traveled to Todd County and stomped the Rebels 37-6. The Falcons extended their winning streak to three games with victories over Trigg County, 17-12, and Russellville, 6-0.

In the homecoming game, Fort Campbell managed to out do the Heath Pirates in every statistic except the most important one, points scored. Final score, Heath 10, Fort Campbell 3. In the first of three district games, the Falcons defeated Caldwell County 17-6. A disappointing loss to Fort Knox in the Army Bowl was followed by a devastating loss to Mayfield in a district game.

To close out the regular season the Falcons posted a 21-0 shutout over Northeast; and in a key district game, rolled to a 44-0 victory over Reidland to become district runner-up and to send the Falcons into the state playoffs.

In the playoffs, Fort Campbell jumped to an early 21-0 lead before the McLean County Cougars posted 22 points on the board. Pat Moody led a final minute Falcon drive that set up a game winning, and school record field goal of 46 yards off the foot of Bart Tragemann. Fort Campbell 24, McLean County 22.

Once again the Falcons met the Mayfield Cardinals, but this time it was for the Regional Championship. Once again, the Falcons defense kept Fort Campbell close as they headed into the locker room at halftime down by a score of 3-0. Inconsistency in the offense kept the Falcons off the scoreboard all night. A late third quarter touch-down and two fourth quarter touchdowns by Mayfield, ended the Falcons season with a 24-0 loss.

"We're proud of this football team," said Coach Patterson. "I don't know if I ever had a team that faced more adversity." The adversity to which Coach Patterson referred are the nagging injuries to the Falcon backfield, inconsistency in the Falcon offense, and the devastating loss of assistant head coach and defensive line coach Houston Mills.

Tragedy hit the Falcon football team early into the fourth week of the 1987 season. Coach Houston Mills was admitted into Memorial Hospital in Clarksville due to a losing battle with cancer. Before missing a practice early in the week, Coach Mills had never missed a practice, let alone a game, in his more than 25 years of coaching. Although Coach Mills personally never returned to the playing field, his presence was felt in the souls of all the players and coaches.

On November 7, 1987, Coach Houston W. Mills died. The Falcons adorned their helmets with the decal shown to the left in memory of their great coach and friend Houston Mills.

The Falcons Freshmen squad started the season with a 1-4 record before winning their last three games. A loss to Northeast in the opening game was quickly made up for as the Freshmen smashed Christian County 20-0. A three game slide set in as the Frosh lost to Dickson County, Hopkinsville, and Caldwell County. In the final three games of the year, the Falcon defense came to life giving up 6 points and recording 2 shutouts.

“... a great game of strength, skill, and teamwork.”

The 1987 Falcon Soccer team which included: (Returning Seniors) Mike Taylor, Clint Reger, Matt Graves, Vern Daley, Joe Klapperich, Jamie Virginiak, and Billy Gutsche, (Juniors) Ricky Lacey, Kyle Penman, Darryl Anderson, Tom Reid, Colleen McDowell, Tiffin Kreger, Mike Pfab, and various other sophomore, freshmen, and eighth grade players. The team outscored their opponents, 94-47 with four shut-outs.

When the season began, none of the players including their Coach Chuck Burgett realized the glories that lay ahead of them. There were a lot of returning players, so it was a little easier for the team to work together, quicker and more efficiently.

The FCHS soccer team showed lots of potential when they began practicing late in the month of July. Every player exercised his/her talent throughout the summer session and all of their hard work payed off when they defeated Marshall County (5-4) at their first seasonal soccer game.

The soccer team drove on, after they defeated Marshall Co., by defeating the former Regional Champs, Paducah Tilghman (8-2). The Falcons lost their winning streak against Murray (5-4), and then Madisonville (3-1).

The Falcons went on to have a great season, tying their formidable opponent, Fort Knox (1-1), and ending seasonal play with a long awaited revenge, beating Paducah St. Mary's (6-0).

The soccer team went into regionals and, because of their efforts, they advanced to the finals in regionals, but only after they stomped over Paducah Heath (17-0), Calloway County (7-2), and Marshall County (4-1). The Falcon's season ended with they got beat by Madisonville in a very devastating game of wills. Each player played up to their potential and managed to hold off Madisonville's players in a tie at the end of regulation time. Each team then battled on for two ten-minute overtimes, but neither team was victorious. The game was determined by a shoot-out in which Madisonville won (3-2).

Fort Campbell may have been stopped short of a state bound championship, but the team did challenge others to a great game of strength, skill, and teamwork!

A YEAR OF HARD KNOCKS

In his second term as head coach of the Fort Campbell Falcon boys basketball team, Mickey Fisher took more than his share of loses. The boys team ran into some problems, during which they managed to drop fourteen straight games.

Many factors contributed to the weakness of this years team. With only one senior, Todd Page, the squad seemed to lack the leadership and experience that tends to make great teams. This lack of experience and leadership hurt the boys when they would fall behind, or when it was a close game going into the final quarter.

Another factor causing a let down in this years team is its lack of height. When opponents took three shots for every one FCHS took, due to rebounding, it makes it difficult to win. Bryan Strobe, a 6-5 junior, led the team with about 6.7 rebounds per game.

Shooting was another inconsistency with the Falcon boys this year. Scott Kurtz, who led the team with about an average of 18.5 points per game, had his share of trouble from the field. James Washington and Randy Jett followed Kurtz in points per game averaging around 10.5 and 10 points respectively.

This years season was not all down. In the home opener against Northwest, a stubborn Fort Campbell Falcon team refused to succumb to the Vikings. The boys battled back from large deficits to tie the Vikings. Down by three points in the final seconds, Scott Kurtz put a three-point shot threw the hoop as he was fouled. His free throw was off, but Bryan Strobe grabbed the rebound and after a number of attempts he put in a game winning basket.

The future is optimistic for the Falcon boys. With a little luck from the army the team should return 4 juniors to next years squad. These juniors, then seniors, would give the Falcons the experience and leadership that it lacked this year.

A THIRST FOR FIRST

The girls varsity basketball team started off the season on a less than happy note when their opening game against Stewart County left them defeated. However, the 87-88 team went on to beat several adversaries proving that they were the best FCHS girls team in four years. The highlights of the season included victories against Northwest, Christian County (who took eighth in state last year), Hopkinsville, and Northeast.

Head Coach, Connie Jackson credits the team's success to experience and hard work in the off season as the two major contributors. Many of the girls attended a basketball camp held at Western Kentucky last summer which improved their skills and increased their team "closeness."

The addition of the three point line brought excitement to high school basketball this year. FCHS point guards, Kelsie Hill and Deanna Anderson, averaged 30% and above in three point shots.

Although the key success for the team this year was teamwork, individual's were recognized for their outstanding talent. Tammy Toutges, a 5'10" junior, led the team in rebounds averaging 10 after 16 games. She also led FCHS in scoring, averaging fourteen points per game with Gretchen Holt following close with 12. Another junior, Kelsie Hill, led the team with 41 steals and 23 assists.

CROSS COUNTRY . . . WINGS OF THE FALCON

"I AM THE MASTER OF MY FATE, I AM THE CAPTAIN OF MY SOUL." This statement, taken from the poem "Invictus," by W.E. Henly, proved to be the cross country team's "words of wisdom," for the 1987-88 school year. Not only were the male and female squads able to conquer their opponents in physically demanding team competitions, but they were also victorious in another battle — the one against themselves!

Early in June, the newly elected captains — James and Jef Scott and Carolyn Hughes — of the boys' and girls' cross country teams, respectively, made some phone calls to their teammates and said, "The training will now begin!"

Prior to the first practice, on July 15, 1987, only a fraction of the cross country hopefuls had been running. When the first organized practice was called, the team appeared to be in dismal shape. The teams started out their training season with a "very" slow five-mile run. Only a little over half of the entire team finished the practice without walking. At that point, neither the coach nor the runners had any idea of the glories that lay ahead for them. It wouldn't be easy, but then again, nothing is ever easy for a distance runner!

Mid-season for the cross country team was very bitter. The majority of the runners were injured, and the team's spirit was hindered by the loss of some very valuable runners during some crucial meets and invitationals. The team's vitality was down, and it was imperative that something be done immediately! The captains quickly came to the rescue by calling a mandatory team meeting. At the end of the long, two-hour "talk" both squads came out with a new and improved peace of mind. As written by Dr. George Sheehan in his book Running and Being, " . . . and I know I am made for more. And by becoming more, I am challenged to choose suffering, to endure pain, to bear hardship . . . I have reached the end of my physiology — the end of what is possible. And now it is beyond what I can stand. The temptation is to say 'Enough.' This much is enough, but I will not give in. I am fighting God. Fighting the limitations He gave me. Fighting the pain. Fighting the unfairness. Fighting all the evil in me and the world. And I will not give in. I will conquer . . . and I will conquer alone."

Region week approached and the slump was dispelled. The team realized the importance of a strong well-being with the mind and the body working as one. Both teams began to really think as a distance runner should: "I am the equal of anyone. I am world class. I am unbeatable!"

The Lady Wings ran tough on their home course at region, despite their physical complications, and managed to take first place with a score of 33. The male squad showed strength in their running but was unable to take the first place trophy home; yet, their strong second place finish made them stronger at heart and more solidified.

State week was the most crucial week the teams had experienced all season. They had to work hard enough to be able to maintain their strength; yet, each runner had to be alert and run hard to practice, stay warm after practice, eat balanced meals every day to keep up strength, and get to bed early. A lot of sacrifices were made, but each runner was determined to be the best there ever was . . . "No matter what I have done, there is still more to do. No matter how well it has been done, it can still be done better. No matter how fast the race, it can still be run faster!"

The big day came and the girls' squad ran as "one." They ran like they had never run before and finished second in Class AA in the state of Kentucky. They were well rewarded for their efforts — by the trophy they received, a show of happiness from their supporters, and the thought of a job well done! The male squad was pleased with the performance of their sister squad; yet, the guys were unable to walk away with a trophy on the state level. The male cross country team suffered a terrible downfall at state which cost them a state title, and in their own eyes they thought that they had once again hung that dreadful albatross around their necks; but in the eyes of the female cross country team, their brother squad had been the best team out there. "We love you guys! You have helped us to realize our potential, and are more important to us than any State Runner-Up title could ever be!"

A PINNACLE OF SUCCESS

Wrestling is a sport of finesse, control, and power — not "gorilla" warfare as one might think. Each wrestler has to know their stuff — from a half-nelson to an escape from a two-count pin.

The wrestler's success can be attributed to the coaching staff. Coach Parrent and Coach Voorhees invested many long hours in each member of the wrestling team.

Not only was the varsity team important, but also the junior varsity. Their practices were just as hard and just as intense. They had to be ready in the event of an injury. "Second string" is really a misnomer. The way our junior varsity puts points on the board during matches prove that they are a "first-class" team.

One particular victory that was a highlight of the season was the annual Blue-Gray Tournament where our wrestlers beat their old rivals, Fort Knox and Christian County. The very next week found the Falcon matmen on top again at Clarksville High School's Wildcat Invitational. Coach Parent said, "It makes me feel good ... It's just got to prove that something is going right. They've worked hard."

The hard work that was put in by the team members was really worthwhile. The wrestlers had a star-studded season with personal victories inspiring the whole team. Fort Campbell High School was proud of these triumphs. But the road to victory wasn't sweet; the matmen paid for it — pound for pound — with "blood, sweat, and tears".

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF . . .

While watching our Fort Campbell High School wrestlers at a tournament, one doesn't realize the time, effort, and work involved just to prepare for those few minutes on the mat. It certainly looks like a glamor sport from the stands, but an ordinary day in the life of a wrestler is anything but.

For three hours each day, the wrestlers drill, practice their moves, and do various exercises that promote strength, endurance, and flexibility. They wrestle each other during practice to refine their techniques and to learn how to anticipate their opponents maneuvers.

Aside from actual workouts, a wrestler must keep his weight below a certain level to make his weight class. During the season, the guys become regular calorie counters. A visit to a local sauna would usually find one of our wrestlers already there. Eat your heart out, Hulk Hogan! Our guys are GOOD!!!

Dean Ferguson talks to his team mate as they relaxed before warm-up time.

Steve Lowe is declared winner!

Clarence Alston was the round winner in the 145 weight division.

With a look of seriousness, Frank Graves concentrates on what he must do to pin his opponent.

"Looking" for guidance, Billy Crawford thinks about his strategy.

After a long, tough round, Coach Parrent congratulates Clarence Alston on a job well done.

AHH CHECK US OUT . . .

The members of the Varsity Football squad are as follows: Captains, L. Vanderwege and M. McLemore; other squad members, A. Copeland, K. Schlicht, S. Brickman, E. Dunn, M. Garrett, Y. Carter, L. Duplessis, B. Beckles, and S. Hardister. The squad attended a cheerleading camp at Middle Tennessee State University last summer and left very proudly with the Camp Champ trophy, which symbolized cheerleading excellence. The squad is not just known for their outstanding cheering and dancing abilities, but also for their quality promotion of school spirit at pep rallies. The group as a whole had been working together for a total of five months. They had done everything that was possible to fulfill all their duties as a cheerleader on and off of the school campus. FCHS is really lucky to have had a squad that was truly dedicated to their sport. Hopefully, in the years to come, other cheerleaders at FCHS will look back at all the accomplishments that this squad has achieved, and work just as hard to maintain the strong reputation that this year's squad has established.

There goes that bird.

Check out those cheerleaders.

Where is the crowd?

The cheerleaders display their version of rap.

FRESHMAN CHEERLEADERS

The Freshman Cheerleaders this year was a very enthusiastic group that elevated school spirit to the fullest extent. The squad was made up of captain: Lynn Page and Brandy Torres, Chasity Bowen, Stephanie Taylor, Thelma Shumate, and Joanna Steinhurst. They may have been a very small squad, but they never failed to realize how much spirit they contained as a whole.

L. Page, K. Schlicht, H. Putnam, S. Farrow, S. Skrodzki, C. Hughes, J. Scott, S. Brickman, J. Scott, L. Vanderwege, A. Copeland.

This year's basketball squad, made up of L. Vanderwege, A. Copeland, H. Putnam, J. Scott, K. Schlicht, S. Brickman, J. Scott, S. Skrodzki, S. Farrow, C. Hughes, M. McLemore, was the first squad in the school's history to ever attend the Regional Cheerleading Competition, which was held in Peoria, Illinois. The squad had a lot of talent, ambition, and school spirit. They set a tremendous example for the student body to follow.

The matmaids are another version of cheerleaders. They are confined to mats, but they definitely display their spirit and support whenever possible. The squad was composed of fourteen girls. The returning members are: C. McDowell, A. Fritch, and R. Symes; others are L. Arnold, M. Caro, J. Young, M. Garrett, C. McElwee, K. Keneally, A. Weiss, J. Steinhurst, T. Hunter, G. Kaelin, T. Hargis.

JAMMIN FALCONS

V. Football Cheerleaders perform their "pleasure principle routine."

Whenever a student at FCHS hears the word "Jammin," the first thing that comes to mind is "the cheerleaders!"

Throughout the year, the cheerleaders came up with original dances that were performed in front of the student body and faculty. Their up-to-date dances and jazzie beats always kept the audience pleased. By the end of the dances, the cheerleaders had left everyone with smiles on their faces and a feeling of excitement inside!

Concentration takes a big part in perfection.

Let's go big blue!

Who said the cheerleaders can't chill.

MORGAN'S SULTANS OF SWAT

FCHS began the 1987 season with three wins and three loses before rolling off seven straight wins behind the batting of homerun hitting Terry Moore and batting champion David Duplessis. FCHS dropped two games before slipping past Russellville to close the regular season with a 11-5 record.

In the opening game of district, a great pitching performance by Scott Kurtz and a single by Billy Gutsche led the Falcons to a 2-1 come from behind victory over Hoptown. Against Christian County for the district championship, Kurtz pitched a shut-out and the Falcon bats, lead by Bart Tragemann, exploded for a 11-0 shelling of the Colonels.

In regionals, FCHS took no prisoners as they pounded South Hopkins, 16-1, and destroyed Lyon County, 16-0, behind the super pitching of Kurtz and Moore, the hitting of Darrin Gile, and of course, the rest of the explosive Falcon bats. With Pat Moody's 3-run homerun in the regional final, Fort Campbell never looked back as they won the regional baseball championship for the first time in the history of the school. However, the Falcon's dream of a state championship ended as Warren Central topped Fort Campbell, 4-2, in the first round of semi-state.

RUNNING HARD . . .

Who had the best track team in 1987? That is an easy one. The Fort Campbell men and women did.

The season began a bit slow with the Falcons first two meets being canceled on account of bad weather. Fort Campbell's first journey was to Paducah to compete against 5 other states. The Lady Falcons fared well, bringing home a third place trophy and the hope of having a great season.

And a great season it was. The Lady Falcons, coached by Chuck Burgett, were able to capture all first places in regular season competition. On the way to the STATE meet, the Lady Falcons stopped off to take the Regional and Sectional championships. Nine women competed in the STATE competition and brought home to Fort Campbell a fourth place trophy.

Through hard work and dedication the mens team finished with flying colors. Coach Parent and Coach Casasanta lead them through a season of first place trophies.

The Fort Campbell men claimed the Regional and Sectional championships before going to the STATE meet to battle it out on the track to bring home a third place trophy.

(Above) Charles "That a Way" Adaway attempts his best at the shot put during the regional track meet, held at Fryar Stadium on May 16, 1987. Charles finished in the top 4 in Regionals and proceeded to Sectionals where he placed second in the discus.

(Below) "Look at her go!" Junior Sanova Farrow hurdled her way to State. She was able to capture first in Regionals and second in Sectionals and because of an injury, she was unable to compete in the State meet, but she will be back next year giving competitors a run for their money!

THE CREAM OF THE CROP . . .

On Saturday morning, May 30, 1987, the Kentucky STATE track meet was held in Lexington, Kentucky. The Fort Campbell tracksters showed their stuff. Throughout the day the Falcons continued to add up the points. The men finished third and the Lady Falcons brought home a fourth place finish. All were proud of themselves, their team, and their school!

FALCONS NET A WINNING SEASON

Coach Marsha Zenker and manager Shari Weiler had no complaints with last year's tennis teams. The girls' broke even with a 5-5 record, while the boys' team netted a 7-5 record.

Jennifer Cox and Lisa Ogle were co-captains of the girls. Rounding out the team were Virginia Yandall (Most Outstanding), Amber Gower (Most Improved), Lisa Abodeely, Miko Watkins, Christie Taylor, and Tracy Garrett.

Todd Smith and Bobby Ebel headed the boys' team as co-captains. Also members on the squad were Jon Fleckenstein (Most Outstanding), Mike Taylor (Most Improved), Sam Cross, David Bramel, Sandy Newman, and Lionel Michon.

"Keep your eyes on the ball, Virginia."

FCHS: TAKE IT TO THE GREENS

Vern blasts his way out of a sand trap.

The 1987 Golf Team, coached by Frank Davis, got off to a swinging start this year. The team members were Tom Reid, Jacob Couch, Steve Ostberg, and Rod Hartwig. Joe Klapperich and Vern Daley served as co-captains. Superlatives went to Jacob Couch (Most Dedicated) and Tom Reid (Most Valuable Player and the only medalist for the season). Even though the team record was 2 wins and 4 losses for the season, Coach Davis was pleased. "I was satisfied and proud with the team's performance. Everyone put forth their best effort. I really enjoyed working with the team."

A SEASON TO REMEMBER

The lady Falcons got off to a bad start due to weather. But as soon as there was sunshine, they were fired up to start a victorious season. Throughout the season the lady falcons were constantly giving 100 percent for perfection; not just for themselves, but also for their teammates as well. Coach Jackson would not settle for less, only the best out of you. She always believed in the motto "Give it your all."

The team ended up with a record of 9 wins and 3 losses making it a season to remember!

Your class ring A GREAT FEELING

Pride is the catalyst for human achievement...the mover of minds, of muscles and most of all hearts. Your class ring is more than a mere piece of jewelry. A class ring shows Pride.

Your class ring identifies you with your school and your class for all to see. It carries with it much sentimental value and will help you preserve special memories forever.
