FORT CAMPBELL HIGH SCHOOL

1994-95 Dedication

Mrs. Kathy DePriest

Great books are dedicated to great people. This year we have chosen to dedicate the yearbook to Mrs. Kathy DePriest. Mrs. DePriest has been teaching art here at Fort Campbell High School for the past 18 years. Her interest in the subject has helped others to enjoy it too. She has a special talent for taking students who are unartistic and can teach them how to draw like a true artist. "Mrs. DePriest encourages students to broaden their horizons and creativity. She rarely sets barriers on assignments so students can be as creative as they want to." — Emily Paxton. She takes her work seriously but always has humor. Her time and effort have helped most of us, and that is why this year's yearbook is dedicated to her.

It's About Time

The 1994-1995 school year has passed by in a blur for some, and has dragged on slowly for others. The passing of the year indicated freedom and independence for the graduating Seniors, and promotion from underclassmen to upper-classmen for others. This year was eventful from the murder of serial killer Jeffrey Dahmer, to the threats of war in Haiti.

There were many "Kodak" moments to uphold, like the football team's memorable season. They won their way to the play-offs, even though they only advanced to the first round.

Life was great. Some good movies that we've enjoyed watching this year have been: Interview with a Vampire, Forest Gump, Above the Rim, A Low Down Dirty Shame, The Lion King, Speed, Jason's Lyric, Santa Clause, and Star Trek. We also enjoyed the new sounds of Changing Faces, All-4-One, Usher, Snoop Doggy Dogg, Offspring, Bone, Smashing Pumpkins, YNV?, 69 Boyz and Nine Inch Nails. There was also the conversion of Prince's name to a sign. One event that occurred was Woodstock 94 reunion.

This year's spotlight was on Michael Jackson's marriage to Lisa-Marie Presley and O.J. Simpson's trial for the murder of his wife. Both received a lot of attention from the media. There was a lot of conflict over this subject matter.

When asked about the student body's feelings towards the closing school year, they responded,

1994 Student Council 1995

The Student Council is a vital part of the student activities program. It consists of an elected group of officers and homeroom representatives and alternates from within the school.

This group is charged with the responsibility of providing leadership as the voice of the student body in helping to bring about change for the good of the school.

The Student Council considers activities for the student body such as Falcon Night, Spirit Week, Homecoming, Christmas food and toy drive, Shamrocks against Dystrophy, Military Mail Call, March Madness, and the Kaliedoscope.

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes have accomplished many things. Among them was the successful conversion of unbelievers into believers. The FCA members have plans to help families in need during Christmas. But the main goal of FCA is to convert all students into Christians.

Vive le French Club

The French Club at FCHS has been going strong for eight years now. It began when Ms. Crowe first arrived at this school.

The French Club is a nice addition to the French Classes and allows students an opportunity to share in French related activities outside of the class.

The meetings are held the first Wednesday of every month and the club plans its monthly activities at that time. Each month something new is planned that offers a great time for all. Some of these activities are: film/french bread pizza nights. Halloween party, Thanksgiving dinner, Secret Santa pals helping a needy child to have a better Christmas, Mardi Gras, Immersion night, and the Spring

The French Club is sure to offer a "Bon Temps" for all.

Odyssey Of The Mind

Odyssey of the Mind values and nurtures creativity. Through its activities O.M. provides opportunities to develop creative problem-solving skills that are important in an ever-chang-

O.M. encourages the development of cooperation, self-respect and the appreciation and understanding of others through a cooperative team-learning mode.

The team must solve a long term problem as well as spontaneous problems. The high school team selected the Set It Free problem.

The students build a structure from balsa wood. Following guidelines the team must build a structure that supports as much weight as possible. The total weight of the structure weighs no more than six paper clips.

Time is like a river. The past, the present, the future all flow together to form one long never-ending stream. We get echoes of the past every day of our lives and we see the images of the future as we live in the present. Time gone and time yet to come is all around us, a time is a dimension all to itself.

To achieve my goal as a Top Ten Senior, I have taken all the required courses that are needed to graduate. I have studied and maintained good grades. I would like to thank my friends and family for encouraging me in my studies. I would also like to thank God for helping me make it through school. Finally, I would like to thank my teachers for teaching me. h a r m i

Bottom: President Faireca Bates, Vice President Dave Albritton Top: Secretary Katie Bell, Treasurer Meghan Matthews

This year's senior class has had a bip year. Unlike the Juniors who had the task of planning prom, the Senior class had to prepare for this year's class trip. President Faireca Bates, Vice-President Dave Albritton, Secretary Katie Bell, and Treasurer Meghan Matthews had the difficulty of planning this year's trip to Florida. From the very first meeting it looked like it would be a hard job to do "The very first meeting was only some. what productive. I wanted us to have a successful senior year and trip. The only way we could accomplish that was by having the cooperation of the entire class." said Faireca. The class had bake and candy sales, car washes, bagged at the PX, and sold holiday grams, all to help make money for the trip. These four have worked hard to make the trip the best that Fort Campbell Seniors have ever had.

I have set high standards for myself throughout High School. I've always pushed myself to be the best I can be, falling at times, being human. I could not have done it, though, without the support from my mother and father. I would especially like to thank them because they have always been there for me and they have sacrificed a lot on my behalf. I would also like to thank God for giving me courage, my teachers for the care they've shown and the knowledge they've taught me, and for all my wonderful friends and their support.

This summer I will attend West Point where I will major in medicine.

I have focused on school and have tried my best to do well. On days that I wanted to go out, I stayed home to study. Instead of having my mind on partying, I focused on trying to keep my grades up and on doing the best that I could do.

I want to thank my parents for inspiring me to do my best. I also want to thank them for continuing to tell me I can do whatever I want to do and that I can achieve what I want as long as I set my mind to it and tried my best. I especially want to thank my third grade teacher, Mr. Williams. He was the one who started me on the path to being one of the best of my class.

My parents always taught me to develop the talents God gave me. I discovered that academics was one of my talents and I've been developing them since.

I'd like to thank my mother for being a wonderful rolemodel and both my parents for supporting me through all my ambitions. I'd also like to thank my eighth grade social studies teacher, Mr. Milall, who opened a whole new world to me. Also the teachers I have had here at Fort Campbell: Mrs. Hatcher, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Greene, Mrs. Briggs, Mrs. Schoonover, and Mr. Gillis for making learning fun.

FCHS

I have always worked hard and challenged myself. I always wanted to see what I could do if I had, and now I know. I would like to thank my parents for never pushing me. They taught me early in life that I could be anything, and then stepped back and watched. I would also like to thank teachers like my mom, Mrs. Cacal, Mrs. Robinson, Mrs. Hatcher, and Mr. Gillis. They always presented me with work that was challenging and purposeful. They made me think and question. I am definitely a better person for having known them.

Looking back, high school is a four year blur of classes, parties, and sporting events. I've always listened to the guidance of my parents and teachers. I've always taken high school seriously, but not too seriously.

More than anyone else, I would like to thank my parents for their endless guidance, love, and support. I could not have achieved anything without their help. I would also like to thank, all of my teachers for keeping me motivated. Finally, I would like to thank all of my friends, you know who you are. I would especially like to thank Mike who always made me believe that I can do anything in the world if I put my mind to it.

Studying and becoming involved in school activities had a big influence on keeping my grades. I love the athletics at FCHS, and I especially love to run. I plan to major in Environmental Science at the University of Georgia or the University of Maryland. Hopefully, I will be able to run in college and keep my grades high. I'm looking forward to college and the opportunities that will come.

I would like to thank the FCHS staff and administration. Coach Lange, thank you for making me a tougher person mentally and physically. Frau Loucks, your love and support will never be forgotten. Thank you Mrs. Green and Mrs. Robinson for reading countless college essays, their revisions, and the revisions of the revisions. Ms. Allensworth, thanks for letting me haunt the guidance office with requests for transcripts, etc. Mrs. Schoonover, thanks for always being happy to see me. Stan, a word from you never failed to brighten up my day.

Sanchia, I love you for all the times we've laughed and cried together. Thank you for running through the school parking lot with me at 7:28 every morning. Mom, I love you for your support. Most importantly, thank you Dad. Without you I never would have finished high school here. Come home soon from Korea.

Co-Valedictorian

I can only accept the best for myself and expect that much of me. I took the challenge and did just that.

I would like to thank God for his grace and blessings. All my friends through the years of high school, especially Cindy, Kadeija, Tiffany, and company. To my teachers who have taught me to think, reason, and accept only my personal best. To my parents and especially to Brandon Waddell, who gives me the support and confidence I need to accomplish all of my goals.

Co-Valedictorian

First and foremost, I'd like to thank my parents for always being there to support and guide me. I would also like to thank all of my teachers and friends who have advised and encouraged me throughout these past four years. Next fall I plan to attend either Murray State University or the University of Kentucky where I plan to major in accounting.

1994 Marching Band/Flags

This year's Marching Band/Flags began practicing in the afternoons two weeks before school started. Given the large number of freshmen and eighth graders, learning the basics took awhile. Once everyone learned their left from their right, and they were all on the same sheet of music, everything started to fall into place.

The Marching Band/Flags played at all of the football games and performed at halftime for all of the home football games. They also performed at the Veteran's Day Parade in Clarksville, which was an interesting experience considering the fact that it was pouring rain all day.

Overall this year's Marching Band/Flags enjoyed a good year. Junior Tracy Braddy said, "We had a great year, we had our problems at times but everyone has problems, and we overcame our problems."

Members of the band took the field to perform at all home football games.

The Army Junior Reserve Officer's Training Corps (JROTC) at Fort Campbell High School is a valuable program that makes a difference in a student's future. It is a challenging course at each grade level of a student's enrollment and requires a commitment to work.

Cadets are among a special group of students headed for success. Each member of the JROTC Corps of cadets are a unique team, a team of winners.

The Mission of JROTC is to motivate young people to be better Americans. Cadets learn skills that they can use in school and throughout life. Courses such as leadership, american citizenship, physical fitness, first aid and youth health.

The Army JROTC program provides many benefits to the student. It also provides a framework for the skills that will help lead students to succeed in life. The program offers opportunities for teamwork, advancement, and self-confidence not available in other courses.

By enrolling in the program students have taken the first step towards a promising future, a future of success.

Journalism

Whether it was through mind boggling editorials or through eye catching headlines, this years newspaper always got everyone's attention. This year's journalism class did it all, started an argument over cheerleading being a sport that went on for weeks, and wrote an article on I.S.S. that struck fear into the hearts of Journalism not only taught students how to write articles, but it also was valuable in letting the students get to know the important people around school or more importantly, getting the important people to know the students.

The Journalism class is valuable because it helps me learn skills that I need for life such as writing and computer skills," said co-editor Melissa Hoagland.

Emily Paxton explained, "I enjoy the class a lot! It allows me to express my opinion and that of others." Emily also added that if you're interested in Journalism you need to be able to write well, and you also need to be reliable, because they can't get anything done if work isn't turned in on time.

Man I didn't do very much, but first on the serious tip — I LOVE YOU SARINA and thanks for everything! Joel Brown my main man, you're the man with the master plan and a heck of a baseball player "79th Street" Rules! Dereck, when are you going to move that piece of junk in front of our house, man that car is ugly! Hey Kurt, Daddy's home! Hey maybe when the curse ends we'll weigh more than 5 pounds. Even though you're gone Cranor, your still a friend. Mark, too smooth just too smooth. Jeff, keep shooting, you're the man! Megan, thanks for your time, and Paul, well I can't think of much to say about you. Lisa and January, I probably will never see you again in my life, so take care. Since I have no more imagination and am limited I want to make a shout out to all my homies in Ft. Campbell and am out with a few words from my homeskillet Bruce - "Your Mommies Alright!"

First of all I want to give thanks to my parents who put up with me through all this. "Hey Mom, I'm all grown up." To Monica I give you all the good times we've had together as sisters because you can't get no closer than us. Sam, It's almost time and even though your older, I walked before you. So ha, ha! Karma, we ain't gonna talk to no boys this year and now look. It's been fun and I trust you not. Chae, Jennifer, Eric COSMOS was a trip. Georgette and Michelle I've known you both for years and we've had a lot of good moments. You are my Senior pals and we're about to walk the isle. Last but not least my heart, Tony, you mean a lot to me. If we don't last forever what we've shared will never be forgotten. I will always love you. To everyone don't let no one come between you and your future. I wish all my classmates good luck in the future and wish to Mom and Dad thanks for everything, I really appreciate it. I love ya'll! To the Chuck-E-Cheese fans — dancing with the Cheeser and playing in the balls was the best. Alcia — I understand girl, love ya. Kristen — I would of never made it through chemistry without you, shhhl BANG, BANG — 10:31!! Katie — thanks for the cd's, tissues, and $2.00 (eventhough he wasn't worth it.) Melissa — It WAS funny at the gas station, and NO M.D. for you. James Bagby — I love you and thanks for looking out for me. Shannon Brown — He did it then and he did it again. Josh — I promise I won't tell, even though she stinks. Brigham —You should DO some of the things you speak of, oh and I probably will forget about you next year. Jeff D. — Let's talk about personal items over a nice drink. Frank and Travis — Love ya, you guys rulei To my junior COSMOS class - All I have to say is, It was GREAT!! Jorge - Get away from me, I hate you! Johnny B. - No drinking for you, and thanks for letting me drive your car. To all my other friends — Jennifer, Sabrina T. (love ya), Tom, Sara B., Dan, Meg (just ignore the rumors), Jaymee, Jesse, Michelle, Georgette, Adam, Jeff, Thad, and Derrick C. — thanks for the memories. To all underclassmen and future seniors — You can NEVER top the class of 1995!!!

Some people say that high school is the best time in your life. In some ways I can agree with that. Mom and Dad — Thanks for always being there for me, I love you both. Teeny — You'll always be my little sister even if your gonna be taller and bigger than me. You're on your own now Meghan, Jenny, and Tess — You three made my first year at FCH5 better than I expected — Thanks Meghan — be careful in college you never know what II happen "I swear I haven't Inanks Megnan — be cateful in Congress you include the Alexander Partiest, Partiest place to be! been doing anything!" Alicia and Kristen — Chuck-E-Cheese the Partiest, Partiest place to be! Don't forget our Baskin Robbins excursions — Maui Brownie Madness — YUM! Misty — who knew we'd become such good friends. Yearbook wouldn't have been the same without Jorge around. Jorge - I hope whoever you meet in the future doesn't kill you. I wish her (or him) good luck. They'll need it. Lady Falcons Basketball - We made it through the season without pulling decorations, you're the best, and I'm glad you liked my Fluffernutters. Ms. Ladd and Jaime - So reach for the stars. Let no one deter from your aims and dreams. Dream but work to make them a ciology was a blast. My favorite class. Men are pond scum, right Brian?! To whoever I call my reality. "Happiness is in the taste, and not in the things themselves; we are happy from possessboyfriend at the end of the year — I love you. You are my love, my life, and my star. Thanks Mom and Dad for all of your help, support and patiencel To all of my friends and teachers, you've made these years fun and exciting and I'll never forget them. M&M — Cruise or tour the city? Study group at Jen's house? Thanks for all the laughs, tears, and help through those rough spots. You're a great friend! Jen — You'll be over in 5 minutes, right? ARBY's ROAST BEEF PLEASE!! You're a great taxi driver. Shall we take the s-route or the b-route? Prom — I'll never forget it! Thanks for all your help, advice, and triendship. Dave — You up for doughnuts! Watch that ankle! Katie Bell — Take care of those fingers! Marcisha — Runners set ... FLEX-POST! You've been a great pal through everything! Good luck next year. Have lots of fun! To all my soc cer pals - Thanks for making my last season a fun one, even though it didn't end too great. Derek — Good luck with the team next year! Big Smitty — You've been a great and loyal friends. Thanks for all the great times and for keeping me sane. I'll never forget you! To my brother Joe — Good luck with football next year. Thanks for making Homecoming a memorable one. It was really great Carmen — They are all POND SCUM! Sarah Jo — Have a mint. Take a bag of them! To everyone else — Remember, if you find a path with no obstacles, it probably doesn't lead anywhere! Take care and God bless.

1994 Falcon Cross Country

To many, Cross Country may be a bunch of people who run insane distances for no reason what so ever, but to the few who accept the challenge and participate in Cross Country it's something more. They may not be able to tell you why they do it, but deep down inside of all of them, it's there. The feeling that we all need to succeed in life, the determination to excel not only on the Cross Country course but in school and in life as well. This year's Cross Country team has fought through many hardships and injuries, but through it all has maintained a close bond of friendship that is hard to find among other teams.

The season started off, as always, with day camp in the summer. This helps prepare the team for the upcoming season. As the season continued the girls team enjoyed great success. As a team, they placed well at all of their meets, but injuries weakened the team. Nicole Charles, a vital part of the team, suffered from a stress fracture and was out for most of the season. The others would step it up to make up for the loss. The number one runner, Carmen Patrick, placed in the top ten in every race, and qualified for state competition with her teammate Marcisha Brazley.

The boys team also had their fair share of injuries. At the beginning of the season James Page, an eighth grader from Mahaffey Middle School, was the only member of the boys team. Travis Landrith would join in after the first few weeks of the season, brand new to Fort Campbell. Unfortunately Page would also suffer from a stress fracture, and Landrith would have to continue as the lone member of the boy's squad. Travis explained, "The only tough part about being the only guy on the team was that I never had a teammate to run with during a race. I think that would've helped me a lot." Travis improved a lot as the season progressed, and placed well at the regional race considering the fact that he missed the first part of the sea-

The season came to a disappointing end when at the regional race the team did not qualify for the state meet, but did send two members to represent Fort Campbell. Overall it was a good year for Cross Country.

This years boys basketball team began the season with a slow start, but with great team effort came back with an outstanding winning streak. "Starting with little experience and playing the toughest schedule in the schools history this group got better each game and started upsetting teams one by one. Never has a team played so hard for a school." said Coach Fisher.

Coach Burgett surveying his turf.

With seven returning players from last year, this year's Lady Falcon's basketball team was destined to have a winning season. Having a better season than last year, this team has been able to show that they can improve over time. They suffered through painful losses and celebrated emotional wins, and with all their hard work they managed to make it to the end of the season in one piece and as potential district champs. "We worked hard and finally when we began to play it showed," said Senior Tresa Van Heusen. Good Job Lady Falcons!!

The 1994 falcon softball team had a good year. They over came the fact of being a JV team playing a varsity schedule. The lady falcons managed to overcome this with a few blackeyes, scraped knees, and a few grand slams. The Varsity infield consisted of Katie Richie, Sarina Barnes, Shannon Brown, Sarah Hanks, Sam Laughery, and Sarah Russell. Varsity outfield consisted of Yolanda Shaw, Tenesha Handley, Alicia Burroughs, Kristen Nesbitt, Keri Parker, and Julie Perez. Trina George, the Lady Falcons varsity pitcher, made it on the 1994 All-Star team. When the girls were asked how the season was Sam Laughery responded "It was strange at first. Then once we all got to know each other we started to communicate and become a team." Keri Parker said "The season was fun. We all got to know each other real well and became a family." Julie Perez said "We all became real good friends. The season was fun, especially the crazy things that happened during the games." Coach Rodgers, Coach Willard, and Coach Manning should be proud of all the girls. Most of the varsity players will be returning next year and hope to have a great season. They also hope to have new players that will be willing to work hard and dedicate their time to softball. When Coach Rodgers was asked how the season was he said "It was as easy as picking peas."

The 1994 girls track team started practice early this year. Their main goal was to put forth their best effort and to achieve perfection. Practice focused on teamwork, by running warm-ups together and lifting weights together. Each girl realized that a team is not filled with individuals but it is a team of individuals.

The following members qualified for state: Carmen Patrick 1st 3200m, 2nd 800m; Shekera Weston 1st 400m, 200m; Marcishia Brazley 2nd 300 hurdles; 2st 2mile relay, Nina Johnson, Shelly Castillo, Nicole Charles, and Carmen Patrick; 1st mile relay, Rebecca Gerton, Coreen Jenkins, Sanchia Patrick, and Shekera Weston; 2nd 4x100, Michelle Hodges, Danielle Leavy, and Threasa Tate.

Hold Fast To Your Dreams

Hold fast your dreams!
Within your heart
Keep one still, secret spot
Where dreams may go,
And sheltered so,
May thrive and grow —
here doubt and fear are not.
Oh, keep a place apart
Within your heart,
For little dreams to go.
— Louise Driscoll

Iraqi leader Saddam Hussein orders his troops to the border of oil-rich Kuwait. The U.S. sends 350 warplanes to the area to support the Kuwaiti forces. By October 11, Hussein orders the withdrawal of most of his forces.
