

"A Different Shade of Blue" defines Falcon life perfectly. Fort Campbell High School is not your typical school. It is not just plain BLUE. FCHS is a holder of the BLUE Ribbon Award, which exemplifies our high standard for which other schools reach. We Falcons fly proud and shine with BRIGHT BLUE.

Our high school lives are filled with ups and downs. As a senior, I find myself smiling when I look back at the experiences I had as a student at Fort Campbell. I remember the happy times, as well as the BLUE times.

Freshman year was filled with nervousness and adjustment. The freshmen were not ever noticed unless they were at the end of someone's joke. We were lost in the swarm of NAVY BLUE polo shirts. Freshmen year was the beginning of many firsts...first detention, first semester exams, first boyfriend, first date, first break up, first football game, first homecoming. Out of the BLUE, sophomore year began. The so-called "experienced high schoolers" were now the ones telling the freshmen jokes. By the end of the year, I was so sick and tired of kneeling down every locker break to get my books. Junior year began, and we no longer had to kneel to get our books. It was exciting that we were finally upperclassmen, but we were again BLUE that we still had one more year before ruling the school. Finally, the countdown began for the long awaited graduation. As seniors we finally felt like we deserved to wear the FALCON BLUE.

Ten years later, we will remember the many different BLUES we faced throughout our life at Fort Campbell High School. When we sit down and think about our Fort Campbell BLUES, we'll smile.

Dedication Kesha Harper

It was 11:33 a.m. on another gloomy January day at Fort Campbell High School. As many students were actively engaged in conversation over the days gossip-worthy events, three yearbook students mirroring the skills of Charlie's Angels crept through the lunch room unnoticed. They were on a mission; one that would surely grant them the worthy title of 007. Their task: to unravel the life of Mrs. Kesha Harper.

They navigated through the dozens of tables only so often tripping over a student's loose binder, but yet they maintained their composure for the assignment at hand. Visiting various tables, they quizzically questioned a variety of students on what made Mrs. Harper a unique teacher as well as such a positive attribute to FCHS. The answers: consistently astounding. Words such as caring, understanding, and inspiring were being fervently written down on a yellow Steno notebook by one of the angels. After collecting numerous heart-felt quotes from students, they moved on to Part B of the mission, the most difficult stage.

Just like Charlie's Angels though, they were ready for the challenge. As one of them entered the fluorescent lit room, vaguely smelling like cafeteria spaghetti, they called on their first contestant, Coach Berner. Back in the hallway they read off questions with the demeanor of Regis Philbin on Who Wants to be a Millionaire. However, this time, Berner was forced to buzz in on all his fellow lunch room colleagues. The yellow Steno notebook, however, was left blank except for quotes depicting Mrs. Harper. The angels then proceeded to call out the rest of the lunch crew, including Mrs. Harper herself, just to cover their tracks. They left with only a simple thank you and excitedly walked back to the yearbook room occasionally poking each other, amused by their success. The secrets of Mrs. Harper were uncovered. The mission was complete. -Kelly Schloesser

In the beginning, there was big hair, cowboy boots, and study hall....thus began the career of a new young teacher. Kesha Harper (a.k.a Kesha Ladd) joined the faculty of FCHS in 1992 and over the years she has sponsored or coached cheerleading, dance team, student council, 4-H, TCC, the junior class, the senior class, volleyball, football, and numerous senior trips. As a valued member of the Social Studies Department, Mrs. Harper has taught psychology, COSMOS, world history, civics, study hall, sociology, geography, street law, and contemporary issues.

According to the dictionary, dedicate means to devote wholly and earnestly and Mrs. Harper is the epitome of dedication when it comes to the students of FCHS. She leads more by example than by words. Mrs. Harper has exposed countless students to the richness of life through cultural field trips as well as the inequalities of life through serving food at the homeless shelter or taking quilts to terminally ill children at the Ronald McDonald House.

Mrs. Harper is a teacher to the very core of her being, and she truly goes above and beyond. She gives her students every opportunity to learn and she encourages them to apply their newfound knowledge to make the world a better place. This quote posted in her room demonstrates her belief in education, "He who does not learn from history is doomed to repeat it." Mrs. Harper is truly a dedicated teacher and we are proud to dedicate this yearbook to her. -Kim Butts

Yearbook Staff 03-04

Ray Gilbert Iris Loucks Sponsors

Ray Gilbert has been the Yearbook Sponsor at FCHS for seventeen years. This year, he worked in a partnership with Frau Loucks to organize the new staff into leadership positions and groups. The two of them worked side by side to make sure deadlines were met and that everyone was doing his or her job. Throughout the year, the yearbook staff and the sponsors got to know each other well. Frau Loucks said, "I knew many of the staff from them being in German class, but it was nice getting to know other students that I wouldn't have gotten to know outside of German." Mr. Gilbert and Frau Loucks agree that the staff was highly effective in making a great yearbook. "Each group I have had is unique in itself. However, I believe what makes this staff stand out compared to others in the past is how well the staff as a whole worked together in creating a yearbook that is truly representative of the 2003-2004 school year," said Mr. Gilbert.

On the first day of school, the Yearbook Staff of 03/04 gathered in our first "business meeting" of the school year. We were definitely not the ideal group of "business people." We were a group that liked to socialize and have fun, but we were also a group of FCHS's most creative and hard working students. Each of us brought our own talents and individuality to the class, and our personalities came together to make this book "a different shade of blue" from all the past yearbooks!

Most staff members agree that putting the years memories together makes the book even more special to them. Christie McCrum and Charis Botelho will tell you that being able to contribute to the creation of their senior memories is a favorite thing about being in Yearbook. Hopefully, the Yearbook Staff will always look back on the pages we created and feel great about our accomplishment of an awesome yearbook!

"The future belongs to those who believe in the beauty of their dreams." -Eleanor Roosevelt

As we all look back on our years at Fort Campbell High School, many different memories flood our minds. As seniors, we have encountered countless good, bad, and wonderful moments over the past four years. Abraham Lincoln once said, "People are just about as happy as they make up their minds to be." I fully agree with his statement and strongly believe that your high school experience similarly follows this concept. High school is what you make of it. So for all you underclassmen, remember to create strong friendships, work hard in class, and don't stress too much over navy polo shirts and khaki "un-riveted" pants.

In addition to these tips, I'd like to share some advice and facts that I have learned during my high school career. Change is inevitable—you might as well get used to it. Running is in fact good for you—no matter what your body may sometimes tell you otherwise. Save time to laugh with your friends—it will bring sunshine to the rest of your day. Try the cafeteria's veggie dip—it tastes better than you think. It's okay to cry...a lot—just know that you more than likely will wake up with red, puffy eyes the next morning. And lastly, never forget to say "I love you" to those who are dear to you.

I would like to thank some of those very people who have helped me to grow and fully appreciate life. First, I'd like to give thanks to God for His guidance and for keeping me strong. To my parents, words cannot describe how grateful I am to have you as my dad and mom. You have supported and encouraged me in all my endeavors. You believe in me, and I am who I am because of you. I love you SO much! To Mandy, Thank you for being such an awesome big sister to me. Ever since I was little, I've tried to be just like you! I am constantly in awe of your beauty, charm, and knowledge. To Ben, the best brother ever! (and my only ①) You have grown so much. Remember to be nice to all those girls, Mr. Buffness! I'll miss you terribly next year in college. I'd also like to thank my teachers for their patience and words of advice for the future. I concur with Irving Babbitt when he quoted, "The best that the great teachers can do for us is to help us to discover what is already present in ourselves." Lastly, to Adam: You brighten every moment of my day! Thanks for always making me feel pretty. I would not be the same without you. Long live c/o 2004!!

Erica Kimberly Travis Salutatorian

It still seems like yesterday that I was starting as a new sophomore at FCHS. Memories here will be short and sweet since it's such a small, invitingly warm school. I want to thank my parents for always being there as I grew and for supporting my wish to become a crime scene investigator. To all the teachers and staff that have taught me even the tiniest, simplest things-thank you for leaving an impression on me. To those of you who still have a while to go before you're released into the wild, some words of wisdom. Don't chuck a tissue box across the room no matter how desperately someone needs to blow their nose. Aneus is pronounced A-knee-us, no matter what General Roberta E. Lee says to the contrary. "Barley" is not an attention-getter; it is a substance grown on a farm. Don't panic when you see green stuff on vegi burgers- it's supposed to be there. Finally, you only go through high school once, so make the best of it and laugh. To my lunch pals, thanks for brightening up the day! Now I think we're ready to travel down to second generation evil, where Deer Park water is better than Moose water! If anything stands in your dream's way, walk around, or over it, and say, "Booyay! I made it!", and don't forget to be proud. And remember, the closest things to you will live forever, so keep them safe!

Plans for the Future: My plans for the future are to become a forensic scientist working in Arizona.

Amidst the very high school symptoms of shyness, depression, teenage angst and perpetual lack of sleep, I have learned a lot. Someday we'll all look back and smile with nostalgic reverie... it was the best part of my life, high school has been the crossroads of adulthood. And just like Robert Frost, I have a choice and I hope my path does make a difference.

Thanks so much, to everyone. I get a little blue just thinking about leaving- but it's always better to remember things as they were, not how they ended. So, here's to high school, friends, and the future.

All you that are left behind, keep chugging along and remember the teachings of the Little Engine that Could, Grasshopper. And all you eager grads, lots of luck- whatever you do- and I hope to see you in the real "Real World" (aside from reunions).

Thank you Mom, Dad, and Aaron- for good or ill, you've had a BIG impact on my life. Ft. Campbell Teachers and Staff- you can chalk up another one on her way, thanks to all your hard work. Thank you

Christie Lynn McCrum Number Three (tie)

As the day we are handed our diplomas quickly approaches, I find myself thinking about my life at FCHS. I tried to analyze my four years of high school to pass on some kind of reasoning to life. First off, remember there IS a world out there, and not just Fort Campbell. Try not to make everything such a big deal, because most of the time it's not worth your stress. Don't try to make everybody happy because we live in a society that is never satisfied. Someone will always complain, so get used to it. The only other piece of advice I have is to SMILE, despite the mood you are in. Believe it or not, it really does help!

I want to thank God. It is He who has guided me through everything and it is He that will always continue to do so. During my years at FCHS I have experienced many different situations and obstacles, through all of which I have learned "The things which are impossible with men are possible with God." (Luke 18:27).

Mom, you are the strongest person I know. Thank you for being my crutch. I want you to know that I admire all that you do! Dad, I am who I am because of you. Your sacrifices, along with every other soldier's are amazing. Thank you for preserving our freedom. You are my hero. HOOAH! Chelsea and Kyle, I sure will miss ya'll next year! Remember, Mom and Dad really do know what they're talking about! Michael, you taught me that life doesn't have to be serious all the time, and that it's okay to laugh once and a while. I will always love you for that. Frau, es ist so schwer alles zu sagen. Du warst nicht nur meine Lehrerin, aber meine Freundin. Ich werde dich so sehr vermissen, auch wenn ich nur bei dir Nachsitzen musste! Was werde ich ohne dich machen!? Ich liebe dich! Mr. K, thanks for being there. I will always remember the times you caught for me! To the rest of my mentors, thank you for all the knowledge. Because of you I am ready to spread my wings and fly. To the seniors, I want to share something with you. I hope it inspires you the way it does me.

Because life shouldn't be perceived so seriously, I must digress. Our futures are subjective like the shapes of clouds; they keep changing. And change is good (even if Hershey's advertisements speak otherwise). When I sat down to write this literary piece, I knew I wanted to say something that would impact at least one person-if not myself. Maybe it was the desire to be remembered or to simply give someone an "AA" when their flashlight goes out on a desperate night. Here's my extra battery to anyone who needs it:

- an early wrinkle and wish you'd been more professional.

 Never let Hildi, of Trading Spaces, put molds of her hands on your fireplace unless that's your flavor of ico grown.
- unless that's your flavor of ice cream.

 4. Getting married is fine, but don't plan your entire life around it.
- Surround yourself with people who love and support you; these people will be there even when you have to gum your food in order to survive.
- 6. Learn from your mistakes; if you think something bad is going to happen, prevent it from ever happening.
- 7. You are never stuck in any situation. Your life is a book and there can be just as many twists to the storyline as you allow.
- 8. This may be the worst cliché (sorry Ms. Greene!) and I must apologize beforehand: Believe in yourself to the point if anyone tries to put you down you simply say, "Umm, didn't you get the memo? I am rubber and you are glue."

Thank you for lasting through my barrage of advice that will mostly be guffawed or carelessly parked into a corner of one's mind. May all who follow or precede me be successful in happiness (after all, no one will die thinking: I'm so happy that I made a 36 on my ACT and graduated from Harvard!) Hopefully someday, I will meet each of you again somewhere in Italy where I hope to reside, writing in the sunlight until there is no more absorb.

Plans for the Future: Become a JAG Officer in the military and then retire to become a traveling anthropologist.

Michelle Lawanda Bell

Number Six

I do not measure my success by being in the top ten of my class. My academic status has only opened the door of opportunity for me to learn to make a difference in the world. It does not measure my character nor defines myself as a person. High School has been a learning experience for me. I have learned about myself and the true character of others. Many people live for success, but I strive for personal fufillment. One's sacrifice in life reveals their true colors. My leaders have prepared me for the classroom, but only one person has prepared me to take on life, my mother. She has made so many sacrifices for my family and is the bond that holds my family together. Mom, I love you. I have loved you since the day I was born and I will love you forever. The words thank you can never be said enough.

You have guided me and given beyond your strengths as a mother to make me a better person. I hope I have made you and will continue to make you proud!

Plans for the Future: Western Kentucky University here I come! Toga! Toga! I plan to major in advertising and minor in broadcasting.

Number Seven

Lucky number 7!!! The last four years have been challenging, tire-some, and most importantly fun. When it comes time to actually sit down and write out thank you's, where does one begin? First with God, without all of His blessings I wouldn't be here. The faculty and staff here at FCHS have gone way beyond normal expectations to make my years here very memorable. Mr. K- You have encouraged me to strive for the best and I hope my room is ready... I'm moving in. Mrs. Chaney-Thanks for all your help inside and outside of the classroom. You brought me things I will never forget. Mrs. Depriest-Thanks to you I will always remember to use a tripod. The Blue Review will continue to prosper because of your effort, just don't get so stressed out! It always ends up working out. My parents have always been there for me, pushing me to do my best. Dad- Ever since I learned to walk you have shown me the way to greatness. Mom- Without you by my side I would have given up long ago. Last but not least, Tommy- You have been one of my biggest supporters. Over the last three years you have listened to me complain, helped me study for those big exams, and you've always known exactly what to say and when to say it. Thanks to everyone's support (along with a lot of personal effort), I have accomplished this milestone in my life, and now it's time to start a new chapter.

Plans for the Future: Attend Bellarmine University to major in Accounting

Julie Elizabeth Campbell Number Eight

Well seniors, we're almost finished! For some, time at FCHS has been short; for others it has been a lifetime. This year has gone by fast and graduation will be here before we know it! Alexander Graham Bell once said, "When one door closes, another opens; but we often look so long and so regretfully upon the closed door that we do not see the one which has open for us." All of us should turn towards the future and embrace the unknown. Some of us will continue our education; other of us will begin careers in fast foodafter all, we will always need someone to say, "Do you want fries with that?" Everyday that we get to open a door can be an adventure. We only get one chance to open some doors, so grab those doors with enthusiasm!

There are so many people I have to thank for helping me through it all! First I want to thank God for all the opportunities he has provided for me, and the strength he has given me. Mom and Dad, ya'll have always been there for me when I needed you. Thank you for all your support, and having confidence in me! Meredith and Jimmy believe it or not you guys have been big influences in my life! I hope ya'll continue to succeed in all you do! Mrs. Green, oh... what can say! I know I would not have been able to get through all those college essays without your help! Thank you! Mrs. Hatcher, thank you for all you help during third period. My senior year would be vastly different without your guidance! Mrs. Harper, thank you for all your support and always being there for me! Fort Campbell would be a totally different place without you!

To the future classes of FCHS, I have two words of advice... NEVER procrastinate!

Monica Antwanette Gipson Number Nine

I want to say thank you to anyone who has helped me in any way during my lifetime. To everyone who has stood by me and pushed me to be strong, thank you. I couldn't have done it without you! I want to say I love you and thank you to all my friends no matter who you are. Mom, thank you for all the love, knowledge, and care you have given me throughout my life. You have made so many sacrifices for me and I'm eternally indebted to you. Thank you for dealing with my "problems" and helping me realize you were right all along. I love you! Daddy, thank you for all you have done for me. Thanks for pushing me to be a better person and a better student. I love you for all the love and laughs you have given me. You are my muse for everything! I love you! To all my teachers: You not only educate people, you change lives. Being able to spread your knowledge to so many people is a gift only you could know. Again, thank you and I will miss you all.

Plans for the Future: I plan on going to college and majoring in history or medicine.

Brian Charles Fields Number Ten

I would like to thank everyone who has helped me make it through high school. Without the help and support that I have received, I wouldn't have made it. But I was fortunate enough to never have to face anything without support.

To my parents, I appreciate you for all that you've done for me and for always being behind me 100% on every decision I made or anything I chose to do. You pushed me to succeed and work hard in everything I did and I'm incredibly grateful because it made me a better person.

To my friends, I'd have to thank all of you for always helping me through a bad time and by making me focus on I doubt there ever will be.

having a good time. There hasn't been a dull moment yet, and To everyone who reads this, I'd like to say that I wish you the best at whatever you do and I hope that you all succeed in life. Advice to all- Be true to

"It's not the size of the dog in the fight, it's the size of the FIGHT in the dog"

"Nothing hits the floor" was the motto the 2003 Lady Falcon Volleyball Team lived by. With only three returning varsity players, the young Lady Falcons started their season off with a bang. They continued their success throughout the majority of the season. The Falcons went undefeated in the Trigg County tournament, defeating the tough Madisonville Maroons in the championship. The Falcons found the way to win by consistent passing, great sets, and smart hits.

At district time, the Falcons did not advance as far as they had hoped for. Despite the tough loss against Hopkinsville, the Falcons left the tournament smiling because the two anchors of the team, Alisha Levin and Melyssa Moulden, were awarded with All District honors. The best of luck to the Lady Falcons next year!

The Team As Tight As Their Spandex Falcon Volleyball

You know we're cute!

I'm about to smack it down your throat!

You only wish you were this strong!!!

Bring it on!

Hey Ladies!

First, I wanted to say I hope everyone had a great season! Through both the good times and the bad, we stuck together and have truly become a team. I had a great season and hope you guys did as well. I hope everyone will stay with it and keep playing the BEST GAME IN THE WORLD. LoL. I love you ladies and will greatly miss all the seniors!

"The harder you work, the better you will become. Always work hard ladies."

-Crystal Johnson

Hey Girls,

First off, I wanted to tell you guys that I had a great time playing with you all. These past four years have been awesome here at Fort Campbell. I want you all to know that you've taught me a lot in your own little ways. It's been great being your captain and I hope you have a great season next year!

The Senior Corner

Hey guys,

This year has been really great. We didn't do too well but in the end it wasn't that bad. We had fun and that is what matters. We had our good times; bus rides, waiting on the games to start, Cricket Porta Potty, and a lot of other stuff. Thanks to all you guys; Justin, John, Nate, Rich, Greg, Justin, Jordan, the Moyers, and the rest of you...thanks. If we didn't have all of you this year then we wouldn't have had near the time that we did. So, thanks you gully, snakes slithers, snakes slithers you. Have a good next one. Peace.

With an uphill battle to face and a new coaching philosophy to learn, the Falcon basketball team started early in the summer to turn the program around. "There are many new faces and a complete new staff but we are all working toward a common goal." says new Head Coach Amy Sholar. The Falcon basketballl team attended Austin Peay's summer camp last summer and started conditioning not soon after school started to get the basketball season rolling. With a few returning starters from last season, the Falcons hoped to improve this year and start a winning tradition. They played a very tough schedule early this year and traveled to Mayfield, Ky, to play in a Christmas tournament in hopes to be a much improved team by the end of the year.

The Lady Falcon Softball Team had one of the best seasons yet. Headed by Coaching Staff Amy Sholar, Michelle Bosch, and Amanda Travis, the team defeated several teams for the first time in school history. After going through a six game losing streak, the Lady Falcons managed to overcome it with a defeat over Marshall County 2-1. Defeating Hopkinsville High School 2-0, the Lady Falcons placed second in the district tournament. They advanced to the semi-finals of regions, defeating Lyon County 3-0, but fell short of a chance to win the region when they were defeated by Madison North Hopkins. In all, the Lady Falcon Softball Team ended with a record of 14-10 and a

MARCHING BAND

Field Commander

Sophia Lopez

The Fort Campbell High School Marching Falcon Band and Guard was excited to have both our assistant director, Ms. Grace Carmichael and our guard director, Ms. Rachel Fisher, return for the 2003-2004 school year. The 2003 Field Commander was Sophia Lopez and the Guard Captain was Amanda Hedges.

Summer band camp was July 21st-August 1st. Many members of the band attended a DCI competition in Murfreesboro to celebrate the end of camp.

This year's show, THE BEACH BOYS, included: I Get Around, In My Room, Help Me Rhonda, and FUN, FUN. FUN.

The guard, with Ms. Fisher's assistance, developed their own routines. For the first time in over ten years, the guard added rifles to their performances.

The Marching Band included 18 winds, 3 percussions, 6 flags, and 1 field commander. We also had 14 members of the band participating in fall athletics and JROTC who were unable to march. The band/guard wore beach-type outfits for the first three home games. The Marching Band performed at all home football games and attended all away games as a pep band. The band was the lead unit in the Hopkinsville Veteran's Honor Parade and then presented a twenty-five minute concert after the formal activities were completed.

Choir Director Ms. Schoonover

The FCHS Honor Choir is open to students by audition only. The choir performs a Christmas and Spring Concert, sings at Graduation, and sings at various post funtions when requested. Students also have the opportunity to audition for State and Regional Honor Choirs. This year Satara Johnson was selected for the Tennessee All-State Choir, and Nicole Paul and Satara Johnson were selected to the Tennessee All-Midstate Choir.

Band Director Mr. Hofe

The 2003-2004 school year proved to be very unusual and busy for the FCHS concert band. We presented our normal schedule of three concerts: Christmas, American Music, and combined with the two middle schools. During the 101st Division Band's deployment, our band was tasked with performing several times in their place. In this position of service, we led the Hopkinsville Veteran's Cemetery, the Fort Campbell Christmas Tree Lighting Ceremony, and for three returning flights from Iraq. Students also participated in Quad-State Junior/Senior High Honors Band, All-County Honors Band, and Solo/Ensemble festival.

Throughout the year, members participate in required service projects. These include a clothing drive, caroling for cans, raising money for Cystic Fibrosis, serving as student ambassadors to new students, and tutoring. Members also conduct fundraisers and hold character trait of the month acitivities, which emphasize the importance of good character.

Mission Statement

The purpose of this organization is to make students aware of the world: its colors, forms, lines, textures, balances, movements, and spaces. Members are challenged to combine all of these into a beautiful statement of what it is to be human. Members learn what it is to give back to the world the beauty they, the artists, takes from it. This organization recognizes students who have outstanding character and abilities in art.

The Blue Review Mock Trial

Mrs. Kathy DePreist

Mrs. DePreist's students described her as: Inspirational

Mission Statement

The mission of the Blue Review is to report, focus, and expose the heart of the student life from the student's perspective in a military community, a changing world, and a new tomorrow, which will create a high school experience that will last a lifetime.

Back Row: Amanda Carroll, Cassidy Driscoll, Zach Knight, Cesar Fernandez, Michelle Bell Front Row: Danielle Combes, Amber Duncan, Marlea Waiters

The Blue Review is unlike any other course taught at FCHS. It is not just learning facts and figures; it offers a real hands on experience. Everyday, through trials and errors, the students learn something new. Students in this class are selfmotivated, as they work closely with each other as a true cast. Each student brings their own creativity into each episode of the Blue Review to help make it unique. This is a class that has been beneficial to all who have participated.

"This is the true story of seven seniors and one junior..."

Student Council members were elected at the end of the 2002-2003 school year and didn't stop working until the school year ended. Student Council sponsored events like Homecoming and Spirit Week. Student Council was also the reason for those data matches that everybody laughed at around Valentine's Day, along with various other activities that they put together to ensure that the school year was jam packed with events.

TCC is a service organization. This club does numerous activities to improve our community. Some examples are: nursing home visits, contributions to adult daycare and families in need, On the Wings of Love Homocide and volunteering at Union Mission Soup Kitchen to say a few. Not only do they help others, they also have fun. They invite anyone who likes to help other people to come and join TCC next year.

"LET VALOR NOT FAIL"

Kelly Leona Schloesser

You are a beautiful young woman and we are proud of the person you've become! We are proud of all the achievements you've worked so hard to accomplish. You have gone through so much for someone so young and yet you've prevailed and succeeded. You are strong, determined, and invincible. Success will come because you'll make it happen! We will miss you next year! You are our sunshine!

Brian.

Sometimes we can hardly believe that the young man we see when we look at you used to be our little boy. We are in awe of the changes that have taken place in you over the past 18 years. From cheering you on as you took your first steps to cheering you on at all of your football games. Though sometimes we are saddened that the part of our life with you as a little boy is over, we also feel enormous pride in the handsome, talented, witty, intelligent, kind, young man you have become and we will continue to cheer you on through life. Thank you for bringing fun, happiness, laughter (and even a little mischief) into our lives. Each day we thank God for you! Your determination, dedication, and commitment to succeed will bring you a bright, happy, successful future. Just know that we will always be there for you with our support, guidance, friendship and love whenever you need us. We are so proud of you, we love you, and we love being your parents! Continue your tradition of excellence in college and throughout your life! Mom and Dad

CONGRATULATIONS ON YOUR GRADUATION!

Look at the past and smile... Look to the future and dream... You are a very special and strong young woman who will accomplish many wonderful things in life. Choose your path wisely and follow it with conviction. Respect yourself and others and always remember that we love you and believe in you.

We love you, Mom, Dad, & David

I'll always be your biggest believer. Norman-Put your game face on! Thanks for loving me for me. To all of you above, I love you. A big thanks to all my teachers, friends, and haters! Thanks for making me stronger.

You all are influential pieces in my life. God Bless!

"Many moments we've shared since I met you long ago, but now it's time to say farewell, farewell. We've shared smiles, we've shared tears, but we've grown all along. And you mean more to me than you'll ever know. So we sing farewell, let's take the mem'ries as we go. The years were good to you and me, we know. You'll remember me, I'll remember you. It won't matter where we live or where we go, these are the times we both shared, times we laughed, times we cared. And you mean more to me than you'll ever know. Farewell, farewell." GOOD LUCK '04!

Shades of Blue-

There is nothing quite like the color of blue,
 It is the color I think of when I think of you.

It is a color I loved long before we became two.
 But I love more now because of the way you do.

When I am lonely and missing you through,
 My colors turn to a different shade of blue.

It's the kind that takes on a slightly sadder hue,
 Whenever I was wishing that I was with you.

So when I'm feeling alone and a little askew,
 I cheer myself up by looking at something blue.

Cause I have a hundred or more memories of you,
 And how you so much like the color of blue.

So to put a smile on my face and a spring in my shoe,
 I think of blue, because it's the most beautiful view.

And I only wish that you really truly knew,

Farewell to the Seniors: Class of 2004
As this poems illustrates, high school is a time of strong friendships and countless memories. The seniors will graduate and move on to a new and exciting life. However, they will never forget the years spent at Fort Campbell High School. The yearbook staff would like to wish the senior class the best of luck in the future.

Congratulations Class of 2004!

How much seeing the color reminds me of you.
