Music

Some band members begin

"Middle School is a place where children can experience many different kinds of classes and educational activities. They can 'explore' new and different areas at the same time they are working on basic skills." Music is one of the areas in which Giessen Middle School offers students several areas to 'explore.' Instruments (band) and voices (chorus) provide experiences which allow youngsters to discover talents and develop life-long interests.

Beginning Band

Others advance

Giessen Middle School students have an additional opportunity to experience music because their director and teacher, Ms. Carol Taylor, is a performing musician who generously shares her talent.

Activities

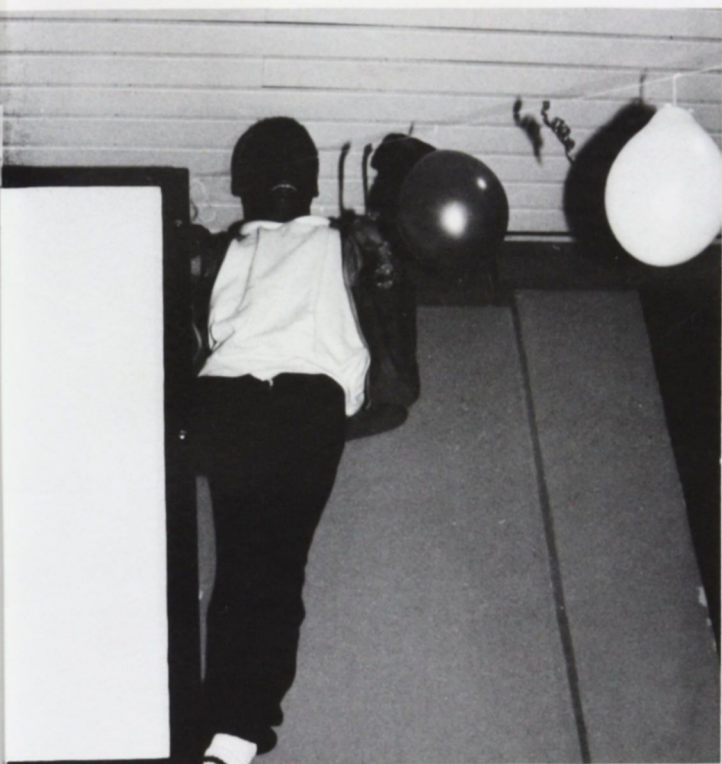

Student Council meets with success

Giessen Middle School Student Council meets Thursday after school under the direction of its elected officers: Thomas Bailey, president; Christine Lopez, vice president; Shari White, secretary; and Joann Lopez, treasurer.

This school major projects included a canned food drive for the ACS Holiday Food Basket program, a Christmas dance, a Carnationgram, a Valentine dance, and together with the PTSA, a sweat shirt sale.

Thomas Bailey and Michelle Brown decorate for the dance.

Rock Climbing Challenges Outdoor Club

Giessen's Outdoor Club has been off and running all year. Several rock climbing trips, a swimming trip to the Hallenbad, star gazing, a trip to Hessen Huette, cross-country skiing and a ski trip to Chiemsee are only a part of the activities offering challenges to Middle School students.

Panthers Print

Student publications at Giessen Middle School offer a variety of experiences to youngsters. "Panther Tales", the yearbook, allows students to try their hand at photography, design, merchandising, writing, copy and editing. The newspaper staff may try interviewing, reporting and writing editorials among their activities.

The Art Club

Art Challenges Creativity

Art presents yet another area in which Giessen Middle School students can experience new challenges. Mrs. Johndrow's art classes have made and exhibited various projects throughout the year. Several items have been on display to the Community at Pendleton Barracks Library, including 'netsuke' or soap sculptures and stained glass windows. Additional opportunity to develop artistically is provided through the Art Club which, among other activities, designed and made props and sets for the Christmas program.

Student Aides Learn By Doing

Giessen Middle School has two areas that give students the opportunity to learn by actually aiding in the process. Media center aides help Ms. Fricchione in the school library. There they learn about the card catalogue, Dewey Decimal system, various kinds of audio and visual media and the many machines and processes used to implement them. The office aides work, with Mrs. Jackson, in the Student Affairs office which allows them to practice new acquired office and clerical skills.

Gymnastics Tests Physical Capability

Ms. Damoff is the sponsor for the gymnastics intermurals at Giessen Middle School. Students participating do not have to have previous experience. Each session includes stretching time and some instruction on basic stunts. Gymnastics work on the vaulting horse, balance beam, and uneven bars.

"Day By Day"

Giessen Middle School has much to give to the students who attend here, and they in turn have much to contribute to the school. The sixth and seventh graders have learned to open lockers and remember combinations. The eighth graders found that they could be leaders and even enjoy it. Sixth grade sponsor, Ms. Crooke, organized a trip to Mainz to the Gutenberg Museum and Christmas market. The seventh grade and their sponsor, Ms. Newby, went to Frankfurt to the Christmas market. Ms. Beau's homeroom won the canned goods contest sponsored by the Student Council and enjoyed a pizza party as their prize. All part of student life - day by day.

Challenger - January 28, 1986

Challenger shuttle craft explosion was indeed a tragedy. Those people who went in that shuttle were brave. They knew the risks and the consequences that went with it. Maybe one day if someone ever asks me to go in space I would because I would be doing a new exploration of space for a new era."

Ayanna Dawson

Excited, waiting a minute more closing and locking behind the door.

Exploding away in their eyes
Expressions screaming and haunting cries.

Wishing for another day
Their only last hope is for the

Dear Lord to take them away.

Kristi Wilkins

"I hope they find enough to find out what happened in the space shuttle. It's true that everyone is thinking about the teacher, but I think about all of them. I really can't believe they are all dead. It's like I saw them on T.V., then in the air. Then boom! They were all dead."
