Our SCHOOL

In these buildings, houses close to 1,900 students(K-6). This makes Hanau Elementary one of the largest schools in DODDSEUR. In the near future(hopefully), a new elementary is to be built at the Sportsfield annex area to accommodate the mass. Hanau elementary school #2 shall be reborn again.

GERMANY

Our
"Host
Nation
Country"

We express our gratitude to the friendly German people for their kind hospitality. We've had a taste of your culture which will forever be remembered by us. The beautiful woods, the quaint & clean little towns, the fairytale houses & castles, the fun volksmarsches, the yummy candies, cakes & pastries, and the sometimes beautiful weather, will always be a part of us. We dedicate these few pages to our wonderful Host Nation, DEUTSCHLAND.

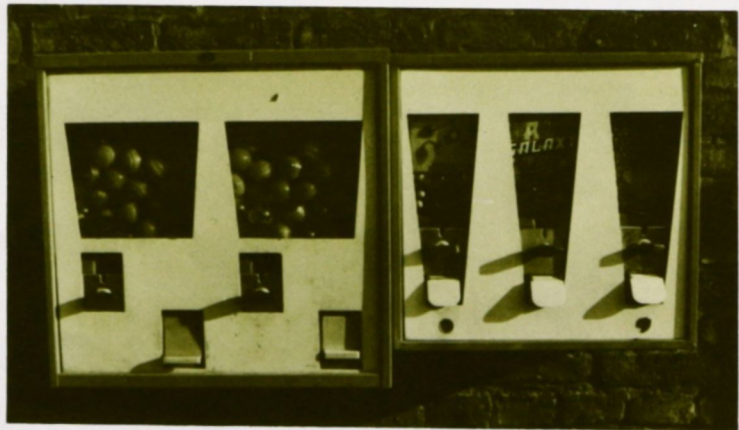

Fasching is the time to dress-up, to dance and sing in the streets and to watch beautiful floats in a parade. It begins on the 11th of November & ends on Ash Wednesday, the start of Lent. But the wildest time is the last three days. Various cities or towns have their parades on "Rosenmontag", the last Monday. The German children love to play outside in their costumes during these last days of Fasching. Many of our American students have enjoyed participating during this time of the year.

At the October fest, there is a lot of beer drinking and oomp pa pa bands.

Germany to me is a land of pastries and candies.

These candy machines are a familiar & welcoming sight to children.

These are two of the many beautiful churches in Europe, one in GrosAuheim and the other in Mainz(right).

....many beautiful places to see

At the Market Place

Many American classes have visited the Hanau Market Place, to see the various fresh fruits & vegetables, busy shoppers, and the town itself. We thank the German vendors for being so patient & nice to the children.

Hanau's Rathaus

German people are nice and friendly, but they are difficult to understand because they talk too fast.

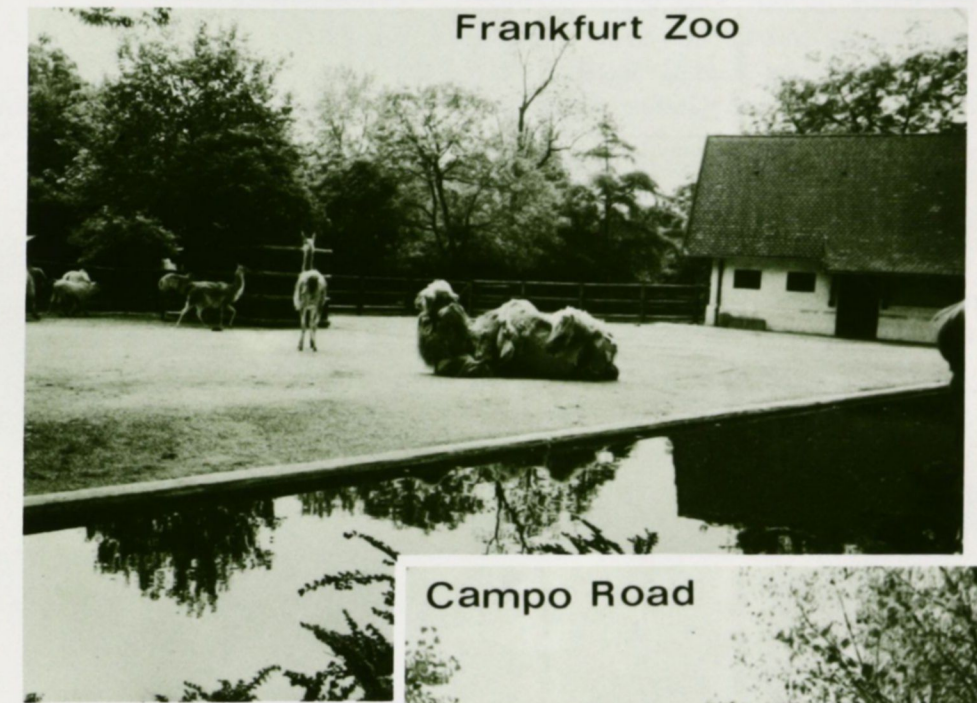

THE LAND OF HAPPY HANAU

Have you been to the land
of Happy Hanau,
Where everybody's happy all day,
Where they joke and they sing
Of the happiest things,
And everything's jolly and gay?
There's no one unhappy
in Happy Hanau,
There's laughter and smiles galore.
I have been to the land
of Happy Hanau--
And what a bore!

Hanau's Castle

Walking along the Main River is a nice and pleasant thing to do. Many are familiar with this walkway, since it is by the nearby town of Gross Auheim.

"Guten Morgen! My name is Herr Jensen. It is good that you could come on this trip. Yah! Now repeat after me."

In Germany, the countryside is remarkably fantastic!

An open letter to an American student in HAES from his Host Nation teacher.

HANAU AMERICAN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL
School-year 1978/79

Lieber Freund!

Sometimes I wonder, if you are fully aware, what a privileged person you are, compared with most students your age in the States. You have already travelled longer than most people will ever have a chance to do. You are living in a foreign country, in a society, in a community different from your own. You have the possibility to become one of those intercultural educated persons the world will need in the future, open-minded people understanding, that the whole world is more important than its parts!

Through appropriate class experiences, community observations and person-to-person contacts you will get to know your Host Nation and its population. You will see, that we share far more similarities than differences and that Germany, the United States and all nations are nothing but parts of a world-wide system of ideas, goods and people.

So, promise me, to make the most out of your stay here! Go and see Germany and meet Germans whenever you can - together with your parents or in school; you will enjoy it and take back beautiful memories, important for the rest of your life!

You don't have to go far to experience Germany, just outside your doorstep it is waiting for you.

What I like about Germany is the Germans have a game called, "Kegeln".

It is fun to play.

THE DAYS OF MY YOUTH

Used to fly like the birds
on the wings of the wind
I have played in the sun with a joy deep within
I had laughter as a toy
and a sweet for my tooth
In the beautiful days of my youth.
Everyone that I met
was a friend not a foe
The fears I have learned
'way back then I didn't know
Not one deed meant unkind, not one thought uncouth
In the beautiful days of my youth.

When the new elementary begins construction in Summer '79, Sportsfield and its fairytale buildings will be no more. Joe Robinson, a former art teacher, designed the Grimm Brother drawings a few years back. Many people participated in the painting of the buildings. Mr. Rubin was the Principal at that time. The memories of Rapunzel, or Red Riding Hood, or Snow White, or Tom Thumb, or Rumpelstiltskin, . . . will at least remain a permanent record in this year's yearbook.

The School Months

SEPTEMBER brings a new school year
And football games.

OCTOBER brings us a big marvel,
Because of the P.T.S.A. Halloween Carnival.

Dull NOVEMBER brings the blast,
Delivering turkeys big and fat.

Chilly DECEMBER brings the sleet,
While children are bundled with Boots on their feet. And not to Forget Santa, school parties and Vacation time.

JANUARY brings the fluffy white snow,
Which is when the wind starts to blow.

FEBRUARY brings the rain,
Tapping classroom window panes.
. . .and a card from my sweetheart.

MARCH brings breezes loud and shrill,
It blows the trees outside my window
Sill. . .Easter is near!

APRIL brings the primrose sweet,
Scatters daisies at our feet. . .
Spring is here!

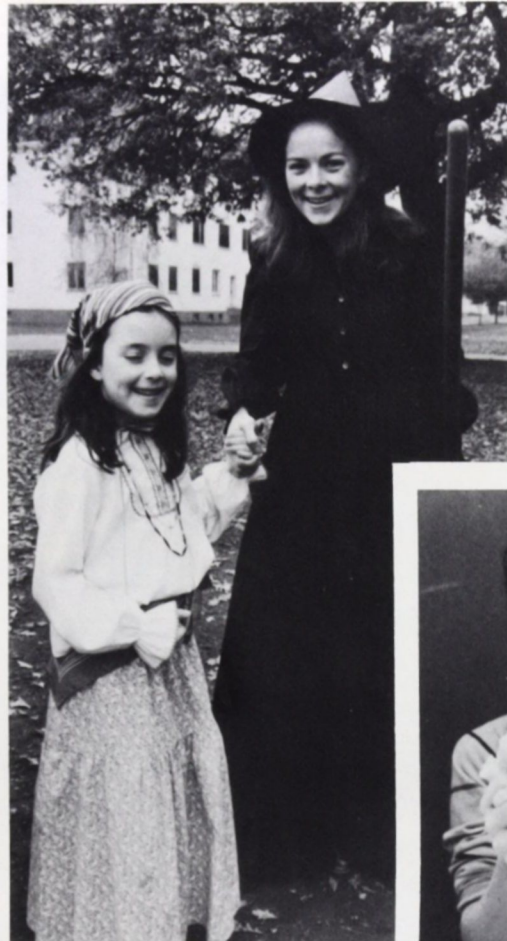

MAY is a time for many Youth Hostels,
Going on hikes and playing games.

JUNE is a time when school lets out,
And children jump for joy and shout!
Hooray for Summer!

YOUTH HOSTELS

This school year, 17 classes went to a youth hostel, even a first grade class (Miss Pumphrey's). Frau Olbrich-Hoerr, Host Nation teacher, was responsible for making this all possible. This was an economical way for the students to experience Germany. Most classes had money making projects to help pay for their trip.

Dilsberg, a beautiful & quaint little town, was where many classes stayed at. This little walled city sat on a picturesque hill, overlooking the Neckar river. One day, we took a boat down the river to the lovely city of Heidelberg, to see the town & the famous castle.

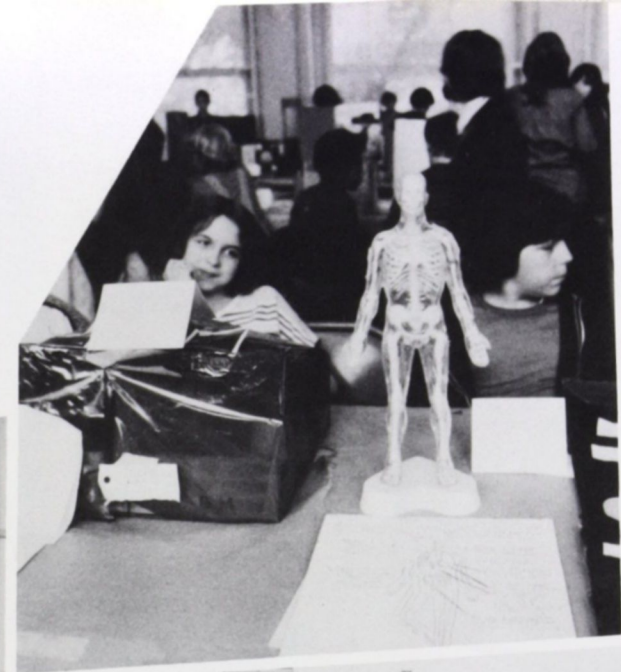

A beautiful day at the St. Goar Castle!

Science Fair

In Spring '78, our school had its Science Fair. Many students had a chance to display their talents.

We're proud of the way our students respond so quickly and orderly to fire drill practices. Good job, students!

Fire Drill

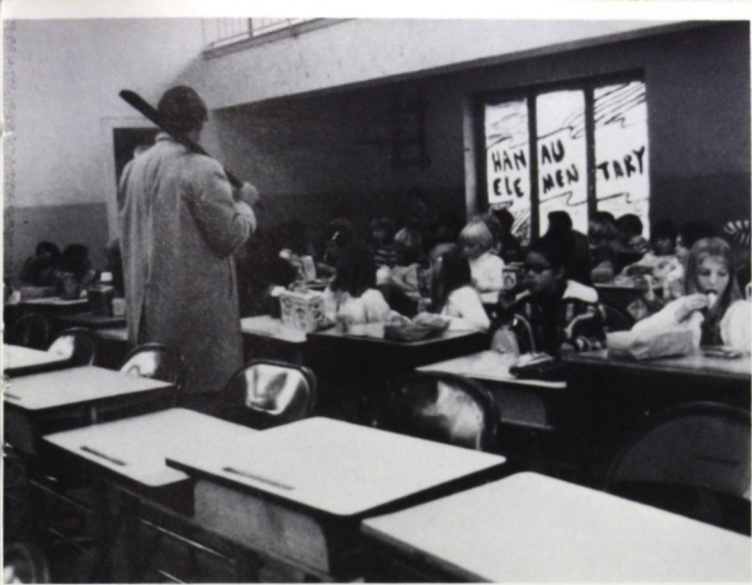

The best part of baking, is getting to eat what you baked (Mrs. Whittenberg class).

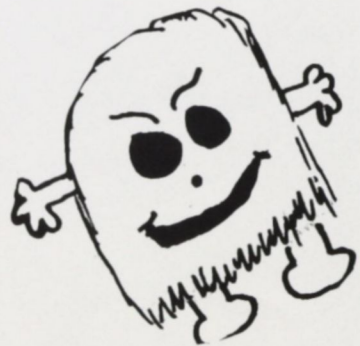

Mrs. Ellinger's class dressed up according to the characters they wrote about in their stories.

Due to an overcrowded cafeteria, some students eat their lunches on the gym stage. Mr. Schyberg carries the big stick to make sure that everyone eats all their lunch. EAT!

Movie time, is an enjoyable time. Mr. Ewert is the AV coordinator.

Mr. Wong's students are enjoying an afternoon of knitting. Some became very proficient at it.

Some of Miss Russell's students are showing what can result if you're not careful in using the stove. A good lesson for Fire Prevention Week.

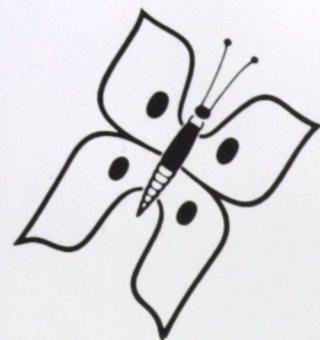

Bake Sale Mania! The 6th grade helped raise some money for the yearbook with this bake sale.

And as I go, I love to sing,

VOLKSMARSCH

Everybody was prepared to go on the long walk. People brought back packs, sack lunches & Mr. Wong's class even brought Muggy, the Mugwoomp. The march started at the trimmisch. The halfway point is a beautiful pond where everybody stopped to eat & rest. On the way back, it didn't seem as long as it was on the way up, but everybody was very tired. Despite the long walk, everybody had fun! We got a very pretty medal with a picture of the Gold Schmidt house in Hanau.

-Ann Asiello (6th)

The Mugwoomp had to be piggy-backed all the way. What a lucky fella!

Hanauer Wochenmarkt begeisterte

Kinder der amerikanischen Grundschule lernen Deutsch beim Einkaufen

Hanau (me). — Praxisnahen Unterricht vermitteln seit einiger Zeit die Deutschlehrer der amerikanischen Elementary School, der Grundschule in der Argonnerkaserne in Hanau-Wolfgang, ihren kleinen Schülern, indem sie mit den Kindern auf die Straße gehen, ihnen Dinge erklären und dann zusehen, wie die Kinder mit ihren Sprachkenntnissen zurechtkommen. Der Hanauer Wochenmarkt ist dazu eine ideale Gelegenheit, bietet er den Kindern nicht nur Neues und Interessantes fürs Auge, sondern auch die Möglichkeit einzukaufen und mit den Menschen in Kontakt zu kommen.

from the HANAU ANZEIGER

Meist mittwochs fahren einige Lehrerinnen und Lehrer, die von Müttern der amerikanischen Kinder unterstützt werden, in die Innenstadt, um dann, in kleine Gruppen aufgeteilt, über den Hanauer Wochenmarkt zu bummeln. Dieser Tage waren es etwa 200 Kinder der Klassen 1 bis 3, die aufgeregt durch die Reihen der bunten Marktstände liefen, um etwas zu kaufen.

Die Marktbesucher haben sich längst an die kleinen Amerikaner gewöhnt, die eifrig, nach den erlernten deutschen Worten suchend, ihre Wünsche vortragen. Auf diese Weise verlieren sie nicht nur die Scheu vor den Erwachsenen, sondern auch vor der fremden Sprache. Sie freuen sich, wenn man sie versteht und wenn man ihnen etwas schenkt, was oft der Fall ist, wie einige Kinder dem „Hanauer Anzeiger“ berichteten. „Die Leute sind alle sehr nett zu den Kindern“, betonte eine der begleitenden Lehrerinnen, Stefanie Ross. Trotz des meist herrschenden Trubels nahmen sie sich Zeit, die Wünsche der Kinder anzuhören. Auch die übrigen Kunden brächten den Kindern, bei denen der Einkauf nicht so rasch vonstatten gehe, viel Verständnis entgegen. Es mache ihnen offenbar nichts aus, wenn sie wegen der Kinder einige Minuten warten müßten.

Schwer bepackt mit Tüten, zog eine Gruppe von Buben und Mädchen von Stand zu Stand. „I still have 20 Pfennig left, do you think I can still buy something for that?“ (Ich habe noch 20 Pfennig übrig, glaubst du, daß ich dafür noch was kaufen kann?), fragte ein Junge einen anderen, der mit dicken Trauben liebäugelte. Die Marktfrau unter dem roten Schirm scheint die Frage verstanden zu haben und packt den Buben zwei dicke Birnen in eine Tüte, die sicher mehr gekostet haben. Hoherfreut bedanken sich die beiden und eilen sich, um wieder Anschluß an ihre Gruppe zu finden, die müde vom Bummeln auf den Stufen des Brüder-Grimm-Denkmal rastet. Das ist der Treffpunkt für alle, die ihre Gruppe im Trubel verlieren, denn von den auf ihrem steinernen Sockel stehenden Märchenerzählern haben selbst schon die Kleinsten in der Schule gehört. Jeder schaut mal dem anderen in die Tüte und will wissen, was er erstanden hat. Ganz Kluge haben „Mummy“ einen frischen Blumenstrauß erstanden, damit sie ihnen das vom Taschengeld gekaufte Obst vielleicht abkauft. Wegen des bevorstehenden Novembers waren Kürbisse sehr gefragt. Die Kinder hielten sie für ihr „Halloween“ genanntes Fest aus und machen sich Masken daraus. Einen ähnlichen Brauch, allerdings mit „Dickwurz“, gibt es ja auch in Hessen, wenn die Kinder mit den ausgehöhlten Rüben, die innen durch Kerzen beleuchtet werden, die Leute necken.

Aber nicht nur dem Marktplatz statten die Schüler einen Besuch ab, sondern sie schauen sich je nach Alter auch die Stadt vom Turm der Marienkirche aus an oder machen einen Besuch im Deutschen Goldschmiedehaus. Staunend werden oft auch die Reste der alten Hanauer Stadtmauer an der Metzgergasse besichtigt. Mit diesen Besuchen, so Stefanie Ross, will man den Kindern deutsche Lebensart und Kultur näherbringen und so zum besseren gegenseitigen Verständnis beitragen.

Einkaufen macht Spaß, bringt Abwechslung, und man kann seine Deutschkenntnisse ausprobieren. Hier einige amerikanische Kinder, die von zwei Frauen betreut werden, beim Kauf von Bananen. Aufnahme: Merlau Meet a good guy, named, Guy!

Lisa, Michele, and Corinna are trimming pictures to fit the 6th grade pages. Corinna is showing off some student faces.

Muggy and Ann are thinking up some good captions to write.

Many of our wonderful drawings were done by Jamie, along with Vickie. They never said much, but they were two very dedicated yearbook workers.

Because of these dedicated students, you have a wonderful elementary yearbook to be proud of. A very good job, people.

Photographers Kim, Jeff and Chuck are inspecting the camera very carefully.

Debbie and Natalie did an outstanding job recording the receipts, and just keeping the records straight.

Many of our good pictures were taken by our outstanding photographer, Kimberly. She'll be a great photographer someday.

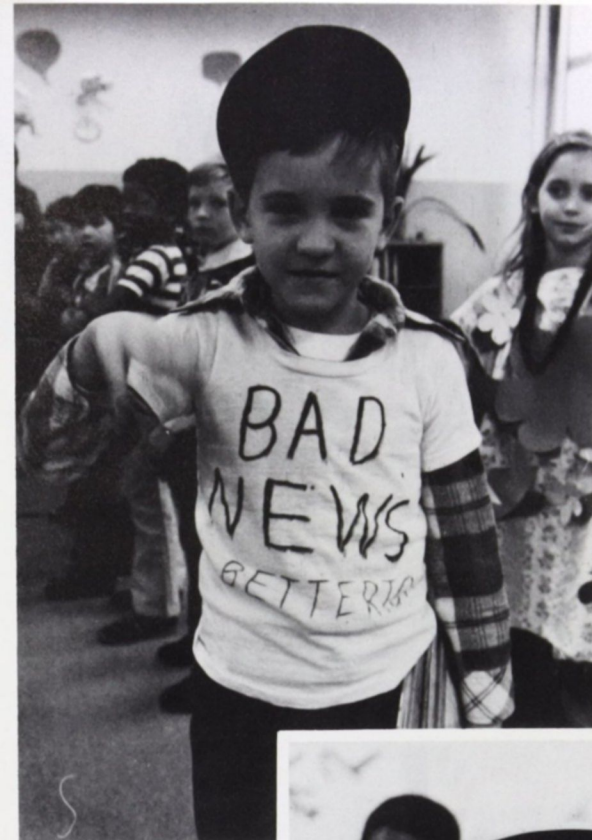

Heather did a little bit of everything--a real dependable worker.

Brenda was always ready for her next assignment.

Linda and Lisa worked well as a team. Interviewing Mr. Harr was their most difficult assignment.

OLD ARGONNER HAD A FARM
Old Argonner had a farm,
E, I, E, I, O!
And on this farm there were some students,
E, I, E, I, O!
With a shout, shout here,
and a scream, scream there,
Here a shout, there a scream,
Everywhere a MADNESS!!!
Old Argonner had a farm.

JUST FOR FUN PAGES

"California is home, sweet home to me."

THE BEST PLACE OF ALL

I have been in London;
I have been in Spain;
I have been in Germany,
And all along the main.

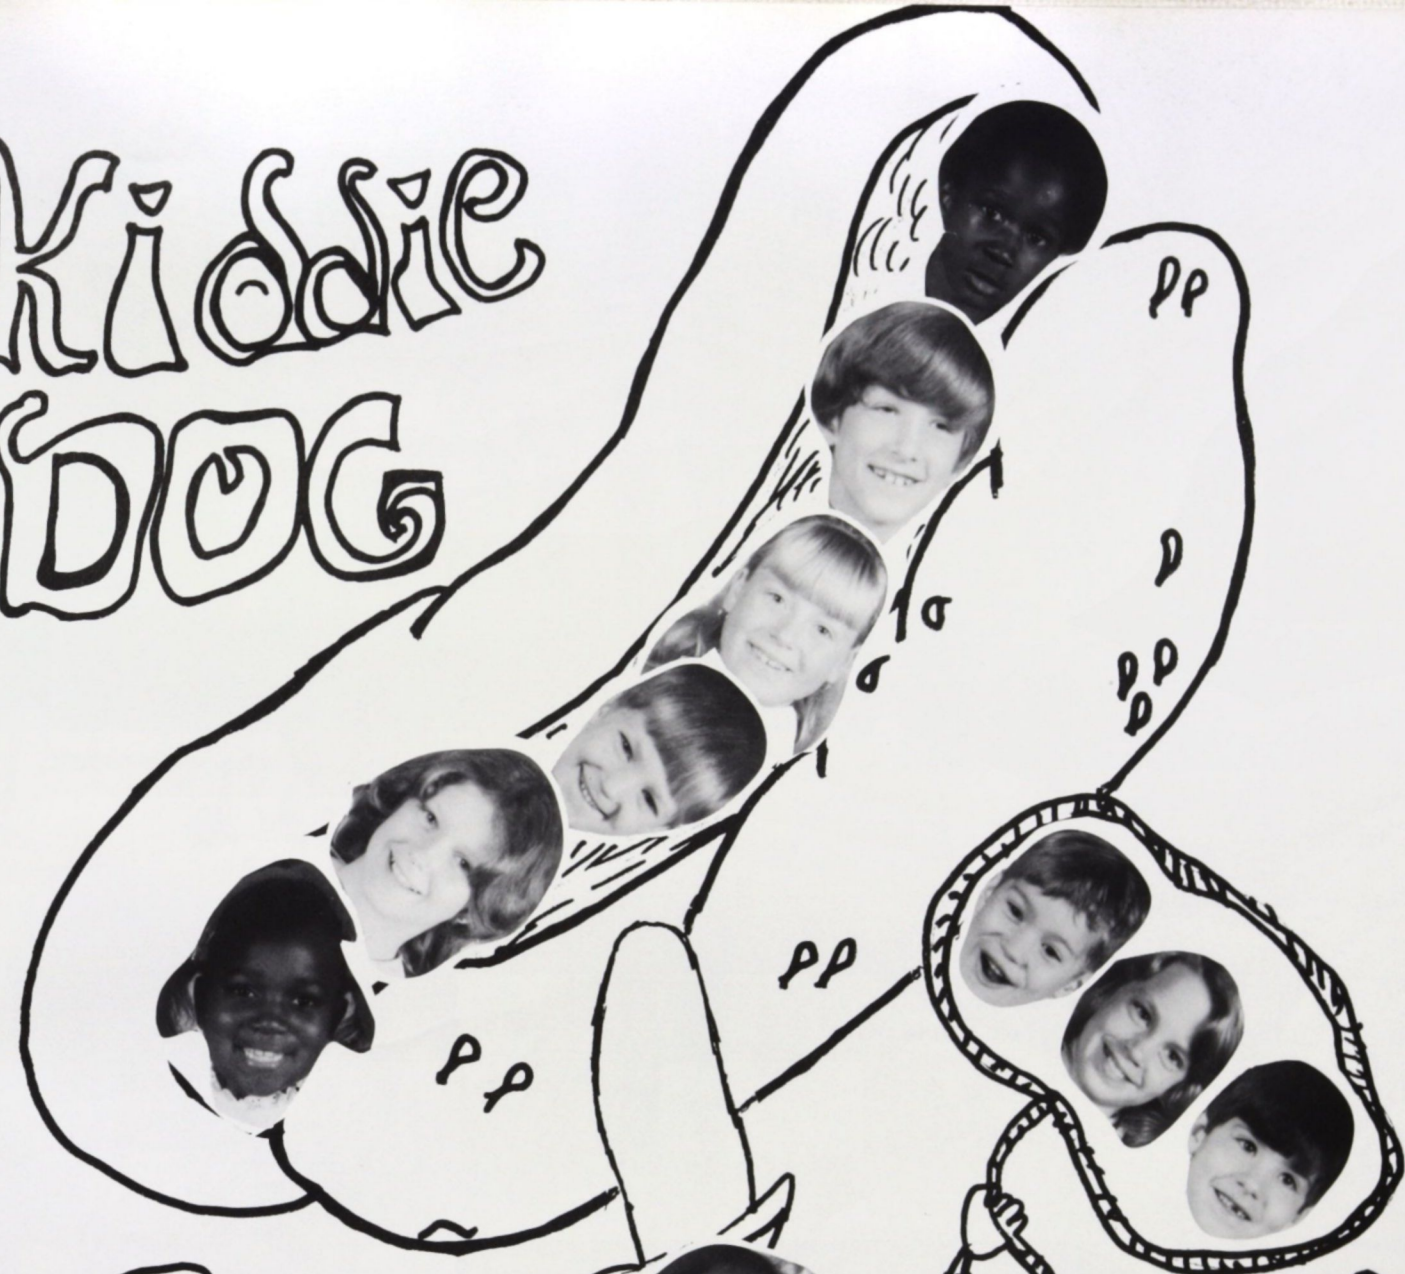

I have been in Holland;
I have been in Rome,
I have been in Japan,
And all around the world.

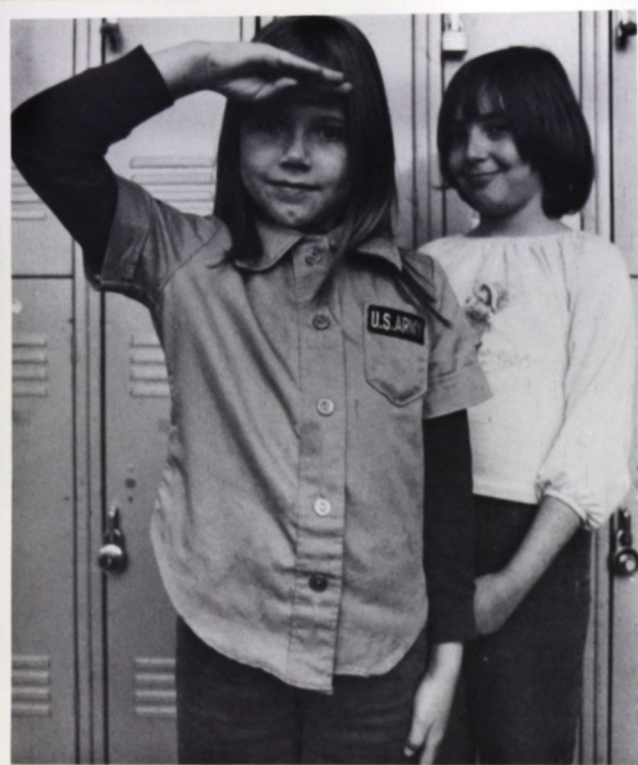

But of all the places I have seen
There's none like home, sweet home.

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
I copied your paper
And I flunked too.

Kiddie DOG

"Yes sir! I will obey the school rules."

WISHFUL SCHOOL RULES

- ... Chew all the gum you can!
- ... All students going to detention, will have an extra recess!
- ... Talk loudly in line so that everyone can hear you!
- ... Do not litter the bus, throw all your litter out the windows!
- ... All students early to line-up, will do push-ups!
- ... Run down the hallways! Do not walk slowly!

-Linda Hettinger &
Lisa Thompson (6th gr.)

We almost missed being in the yearbook, but here we are.

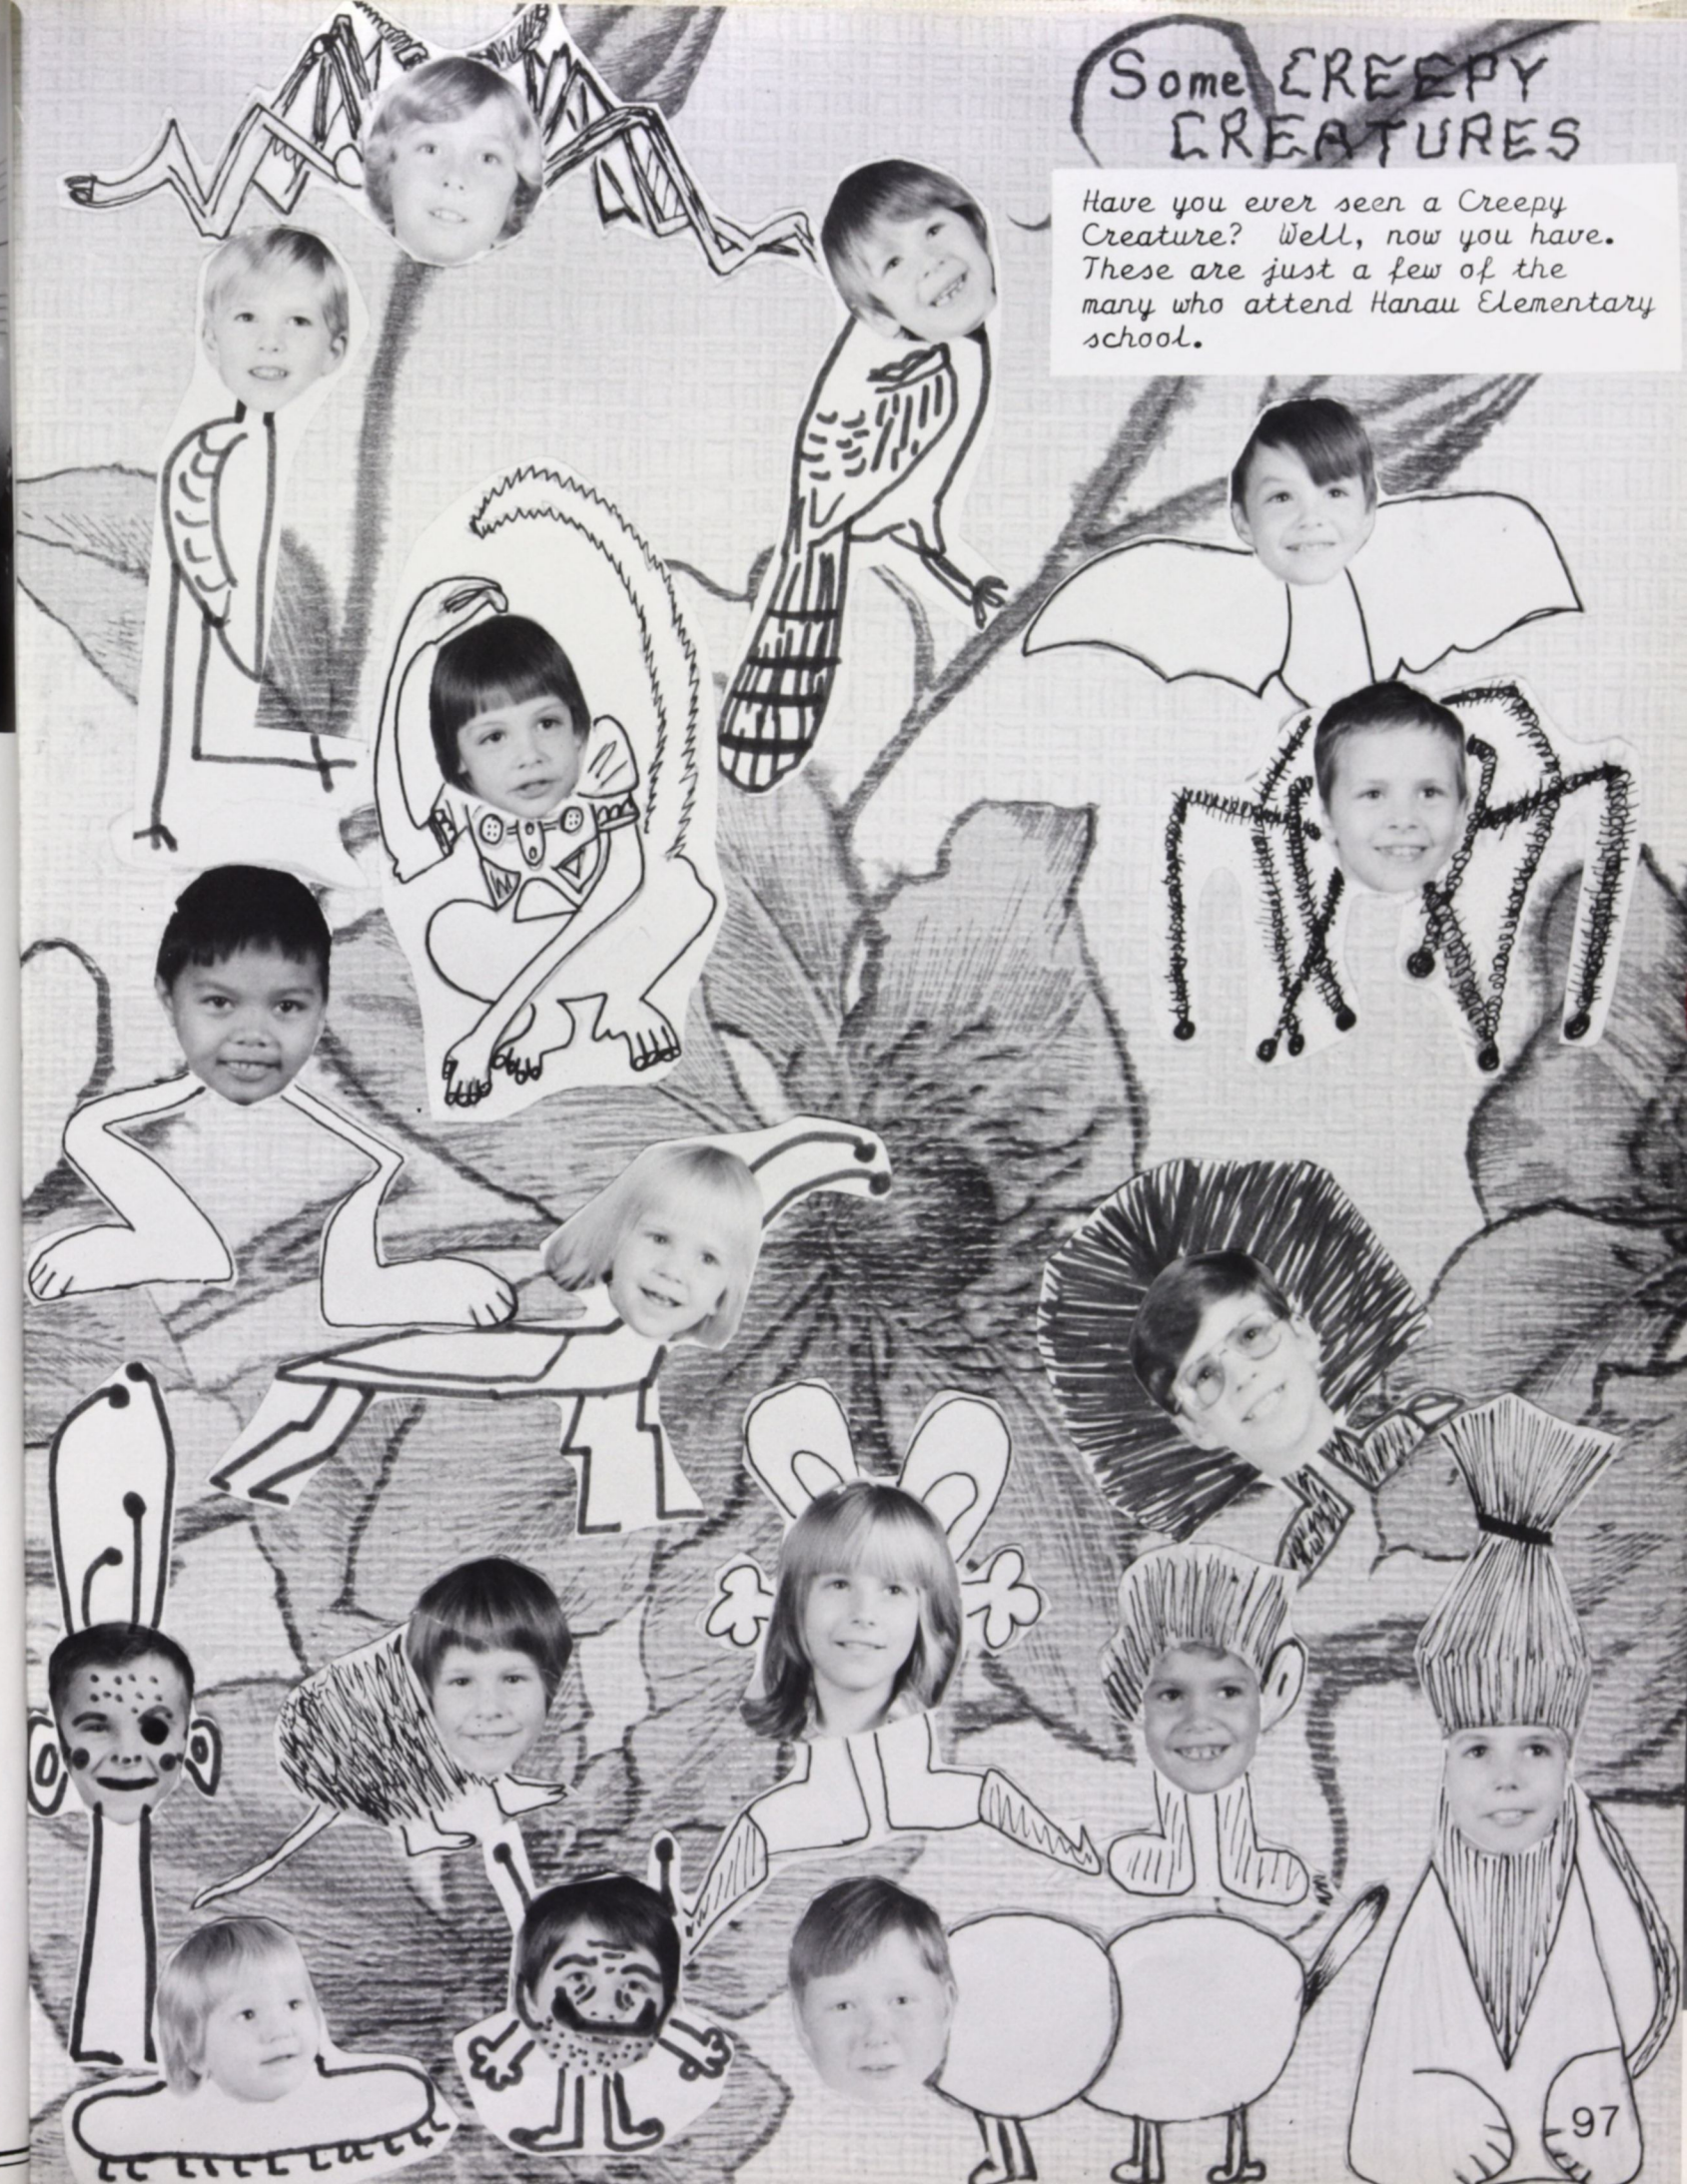

HANAU ELEMENTARY EXPRESS

Many students were fortunate to take a train field trip.

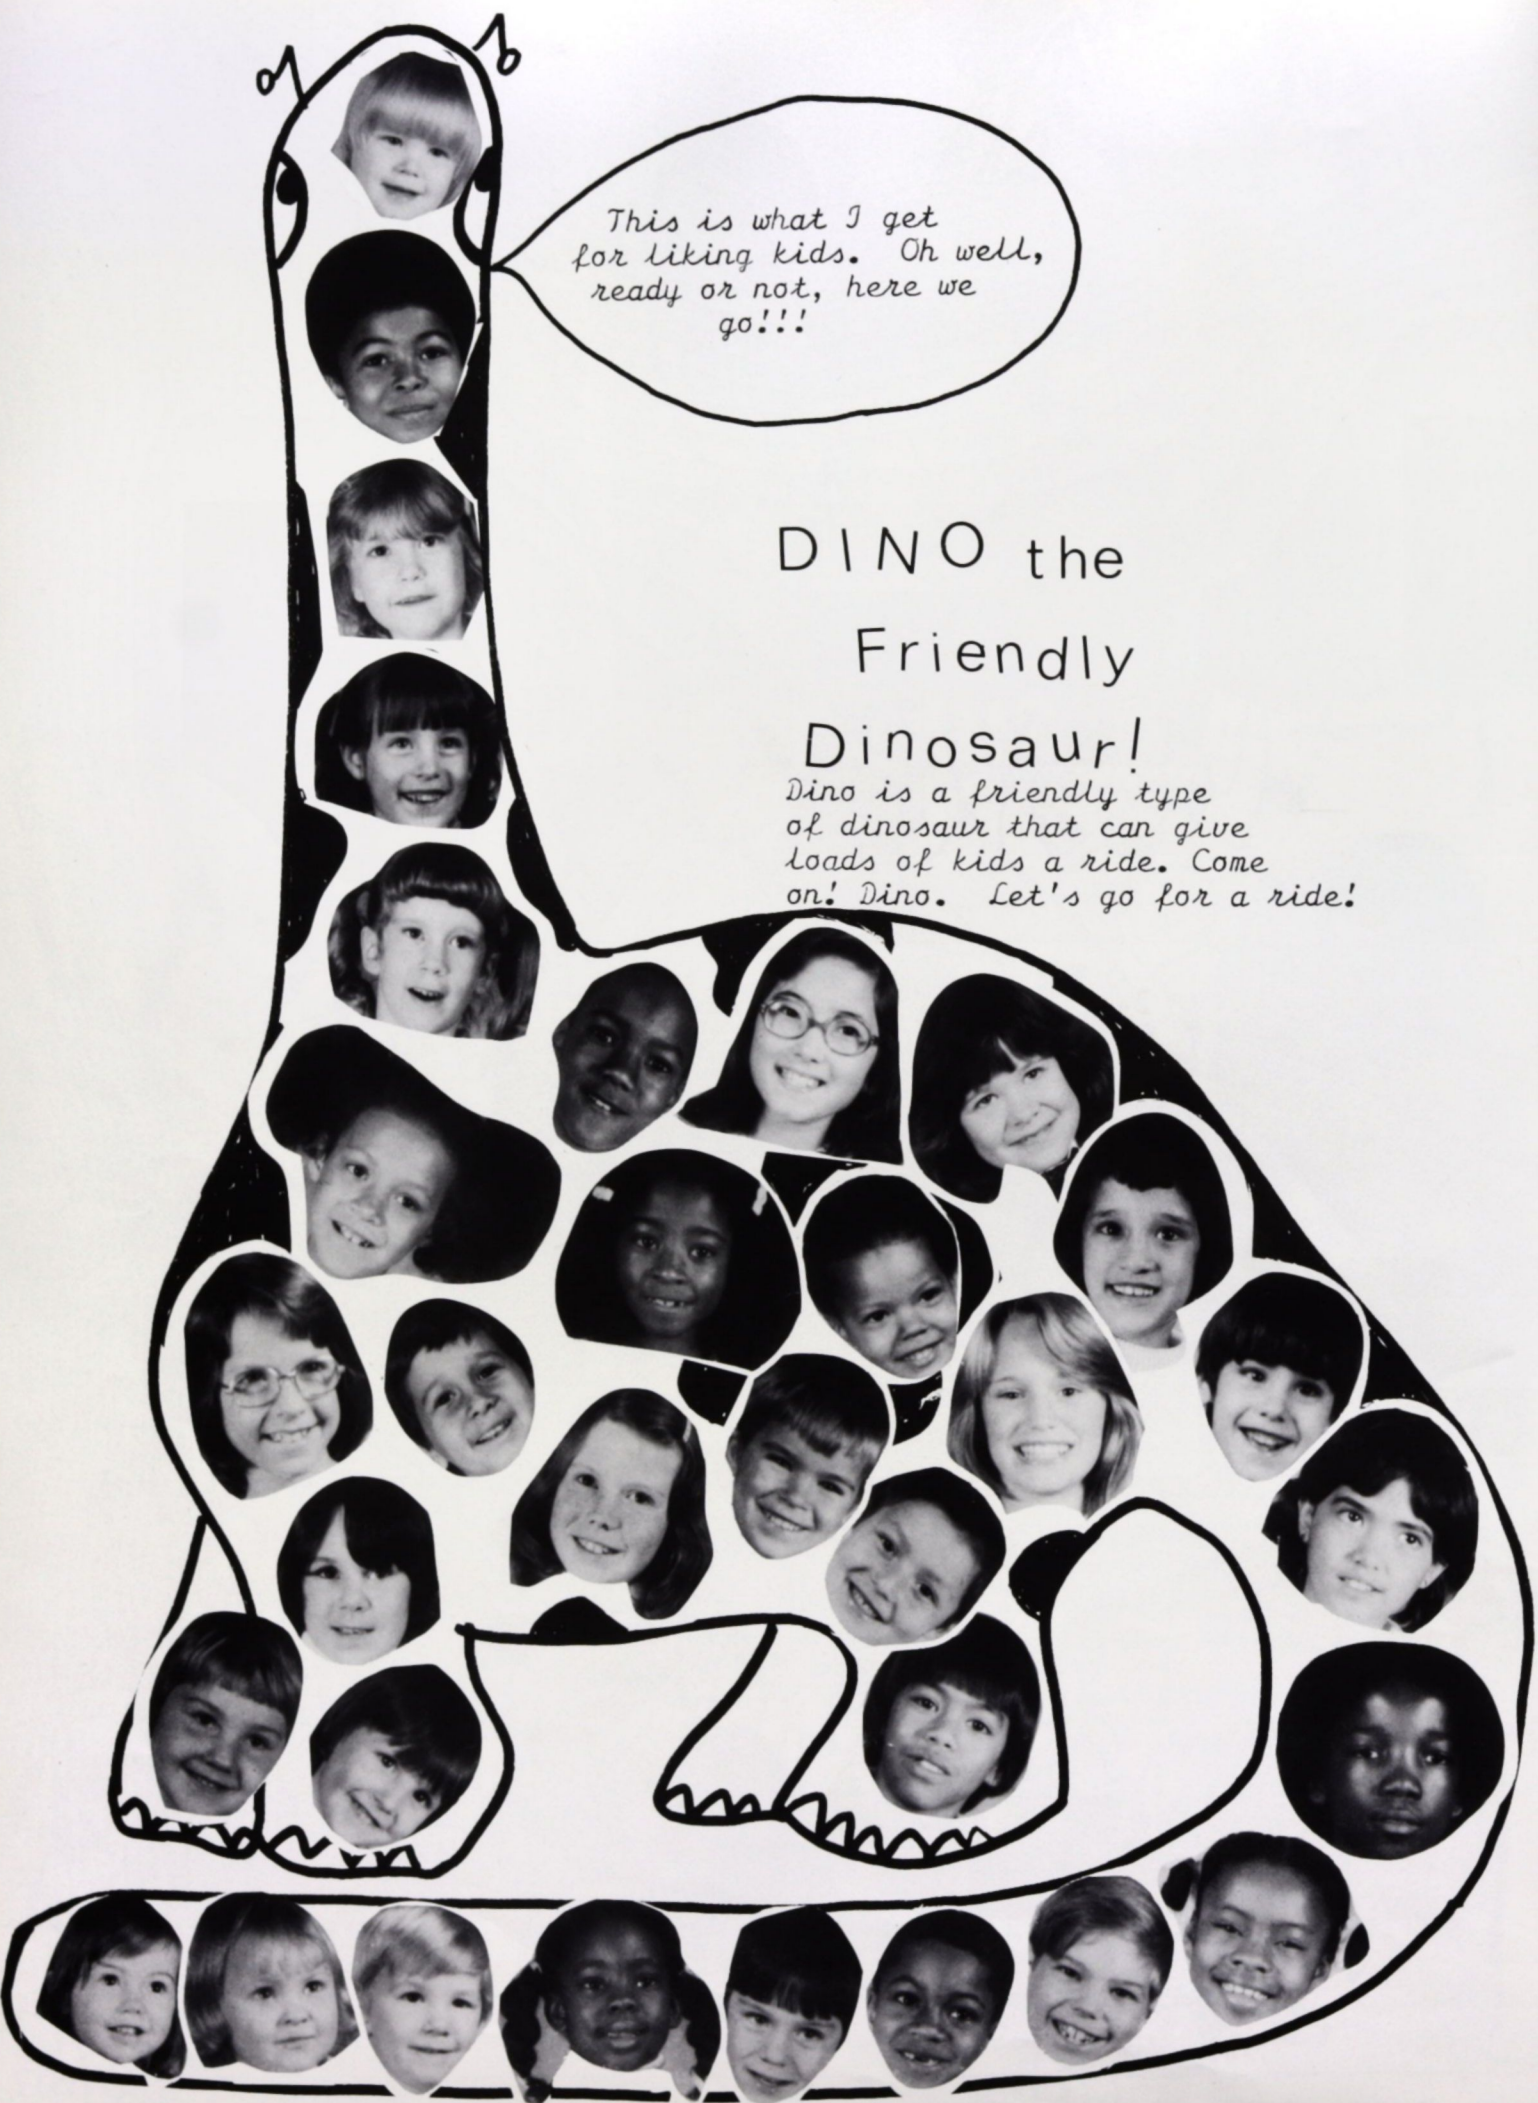

to Nurenburg

Some CREEPY CREATURES

Have you ever seen a Creepy Creature? Well, now you have. These are just a few of the many who attend Hanau Elementary school.

DINO the Friendly Dinosaur!

Dino is a friendly type of dinosaur that can give loads of kids a ride. Come on! Dino. Let's go for a ride!

This is what I get for liking kids. Oh well, ready or not, here we go!!!

A DIMPLE

A dimple is a little dent Found upon a cheek or a chin. It's a "nothing" that is "something", And it grows a little deeper with a grin.

It's a hallow that is shallow, An "Isn't" that is there. It's a trap for catching shadows And for fancies it's a snare.

It's a "nil" that has a value, And it's frankness with a wile. It's illusion, It's confusion, But it's a treasure with a smile!
-Frank X. Coughlin

What a doll!

You know what she wants for Christmas.

What a Smile!

The world needs a few funny faces once in awhile, just for a laugh or two. And where can you find funnier faces, then right here at Hanau Elementary.

FUNNY
and YUKKY!

SIMPLY Weird!

Just some funny faces Mom & Dad can be proud of!

Now I lay me down to rest,
I pray to pass tomorrow's test;
If I should die before I wake,
That's one less test I'll have to take.

Mr. Cunningham makes a good patrol.
Everyone was on their way to the start of the Volksmarsch.

Everyday Bus Mania!!!

We're not walking another mile.

The Munchens are Coming!!!

The Munchens are Here!!!

Be on the look out for Munchens.
They are friendly, lovable little creatures. They were last seen playing on the Hanau Elementary playground. They may turn into regular children.

Lisa Thompson, Natalie Strippling, and Debbie Webster.

A hand-drawn signpost pointing to the right. The sign is rectangular with a pointed right end and contains the text "Children's SPIELSTRASSE" in a simple, hand-drawn font. The sign is mounted on a single vertical post.

Never in your life will you find a street such as this. This zanny street is for children only! No adults are allowed. It's whereabouts is TOP SECRET! They dress like little toys, and have a good time all the day long.

HELP!
HELP!

This steering wheel
is getting us dizzy!

"What's up Doc?"

I'm making a house for my guinea pig.

You think anyone will recognize us?

Help! Here comes the big bad wolfe.

It's hard work on a farm.
Almost anything you do makes you warm.
You've gotta water a cow, slop some pigs,
And go to the store to buy some figs.
You have to plant a garden,
And pile some hay,
And do work the whole darn day.

By Mark Knell (4th)

This hat is too big!

It's a Small, Small WORLD

From east to west,
they came to meet.
Alike are children
in every land.

Though the mountains
divide and the oceans are wide, it's a small, small world
after all.

Children from far and near, getting together.

It's a world of laughter, a world of tears. It's a world of hopes,
and a world of fears. There is so much that we share that it's a small world after all.

A special children's page by our yearbook
staff.

A smile means friendship to everyone.

Muggy

Muggy, the adorable & lovable Mugwoomp, has been the yearbook's official mascot the past two years. He does what any student does, and sometimes more.

Muggy enjoys reading all kinds of books. He does enjoy animal books.

There is Muggy, showing off his Volksmarsch medal.

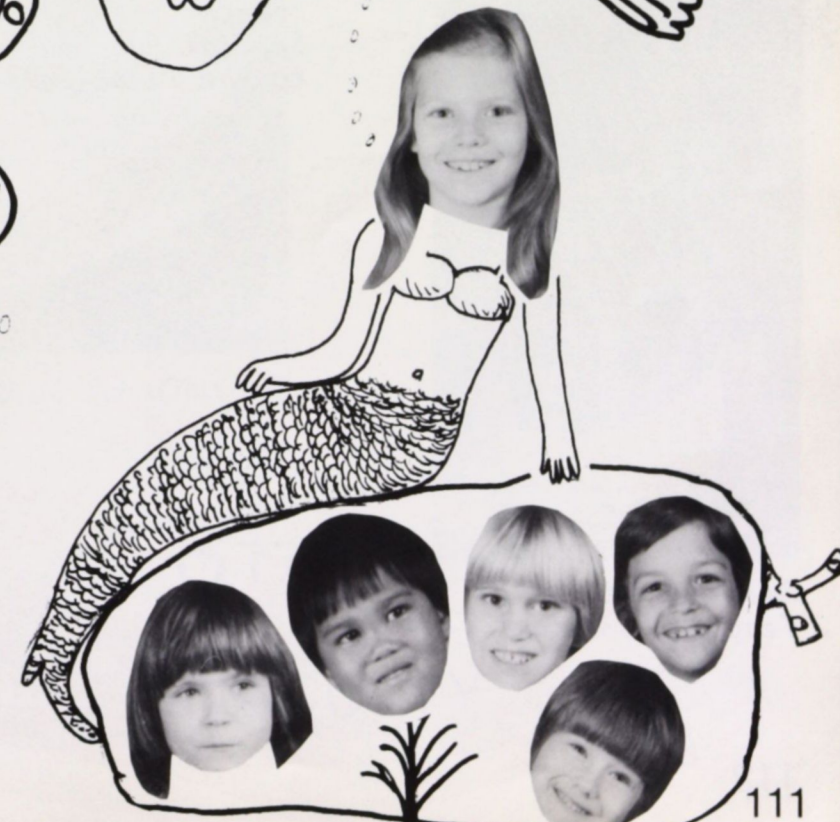

Muggy's favorite candy is gummi bears because it looks like him.

Muggy likes all the children in school. Oops! His shirt is a little too short!

Boy! Muggy sure weighs a ton.

What you would SEE, under the SEA.

All About Our Principal

Mr. Harr is married and has a daughter aged 18. Mr. Harr has a dog named, Bowser. Bowser is an intellectual type of a dog. He thinks kids are great. Mr. Harr usually enjoys being Principal of Hanau Elementary. He enjoys working with the teachers and the children, whom he thinks are very fine people. In addition he enjoys the challenge. In his spare time, he hikes a lot in the forest, reads, skis, and collects mushrooms. He also jogs some. Occasionally, he scolds naughty teachers. In faculty meetings, he talks about things that teachers and he should do. He enjoys trying different foods from different countries. Mr. Harr would have been disappointed if his dog did not get his picture taken for the yearbook.

PARENTS Who Cared

These pages are for the many parents that volunteered their time and energy for the school and children. You made the time to help in various capacities. The school can never quite manage without all of you reliable, concerned and responsible moms and Dads. Thank-you.

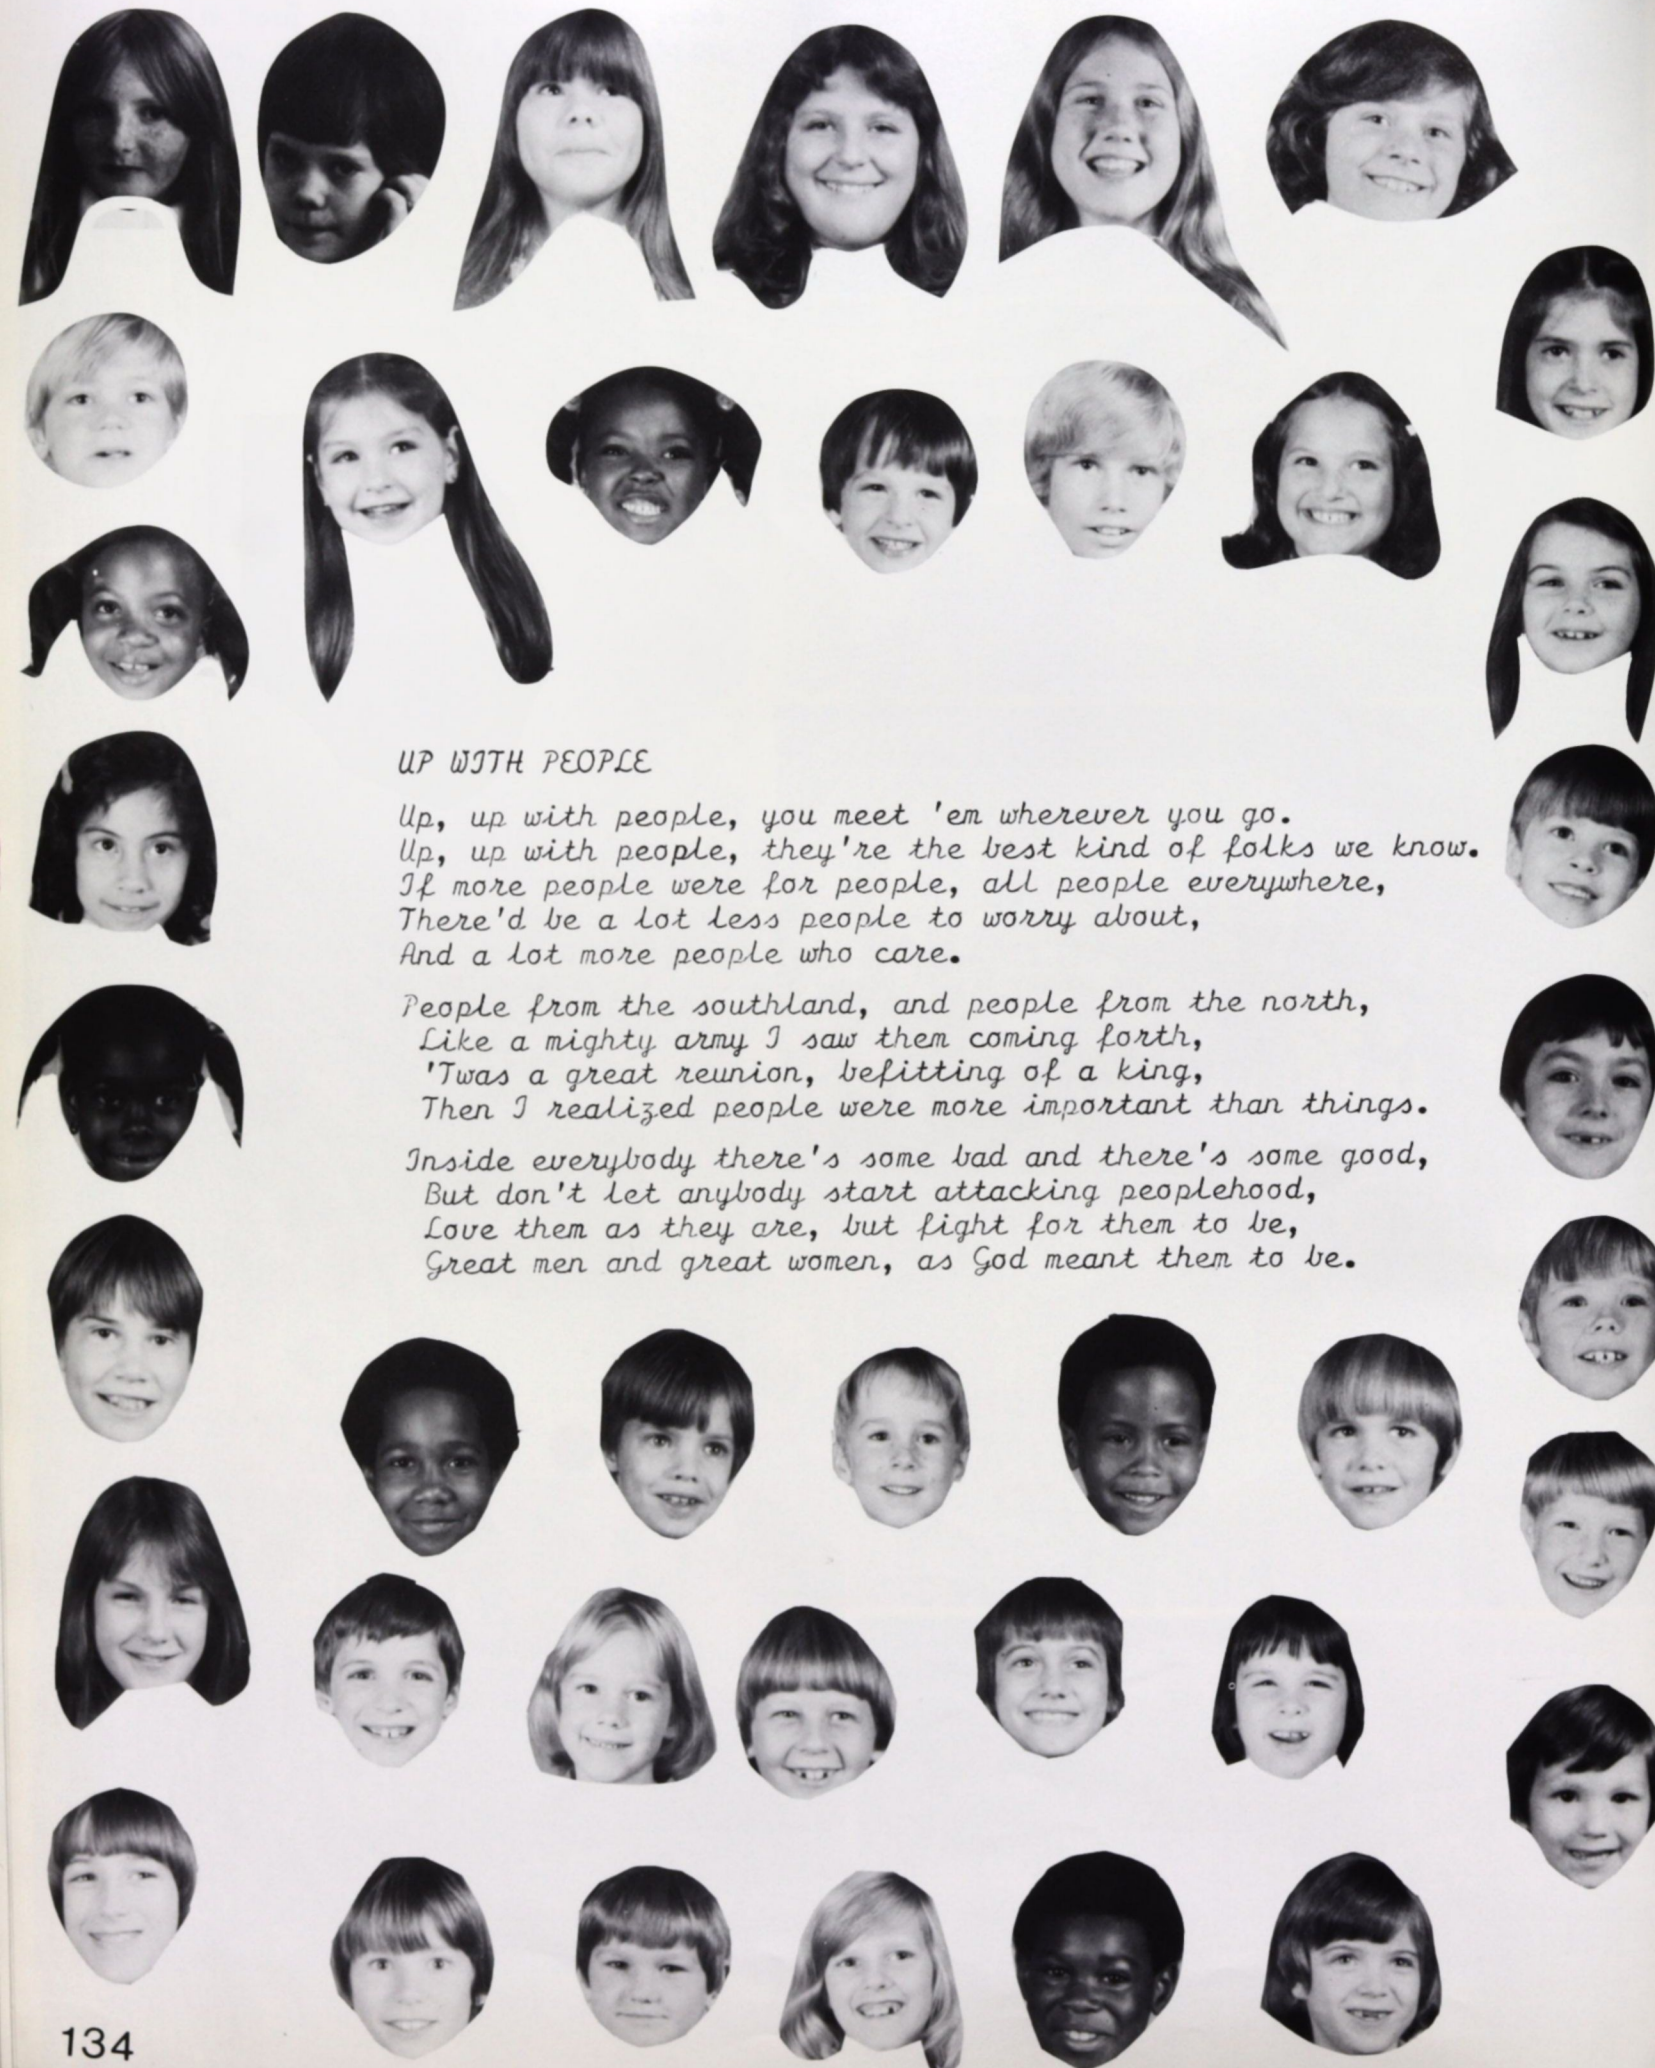

PARENTS ARE PEOPLE

Parents are people.
People with children,
When parents were little
They used to be kids
Like all of you,
But then they grew.
And now parents are grown-ups,
Grown-ups with children,
Busy with children,
And things that they do.
There are a lot of things
A lot of mommies
And a lot of daddies
And a lot of parents
Can do.

Here's one last mob of faces for some pages we couldn't fill with ads, or contributors. Just a part of our 1,800 student population.

UP WITH PEOPLE

Up, up with people, you meet 'em wherever you go.
Up, up with people, they're the best kind of folks we know.
If more people were for people, all people everywhere,
There'd be a lot less people to worry about,
And a lot more people who care.

People from the southland, and people from the north,
Like a mighty army I saw them coming forth,
'Twas a great reunion, befitting of a king,
Then I realized people were more important than things.

Inside everybody there's some bad and there's some good,
But don't let anybody start attacking peoplehood,
Love them as they are, but fight for them to be,
Great men and great women, as God meant them to be.

Some Staff Members

Yearbook #3 required an enormous amount of time and energy to complete. The students did an outstanding job. They were very much a part of this book. Thanks to the staff and faculty people who took pictures at their annexes, handled the orders, and obtained a few ads. And to Mrs. Young, we appreciated your efforts in seeking financial aid for the yearbook. And finally, to all of you who supported our yearbook with a good word or two. That was often needed!

The Yearbook Workers were the first to see the '79 Yearbook. Of course, they had every reason to be proud of their tremendous accomplishment.
We're all proud to present this fine memory book to you. Enjoy it!

We are pleased with the Walsworth Publishing Company's workmanship.
Thanks!

Except for a few drawings, all art creations were done by our students, with a few funny faces placed here and there. Jami Fowler was our top artist.

All captions, cut-out faces, and art work were produced in fun, and not meant to demean anyone.
So SMILE!

We've passed the 700 Yearbook
sales mark, and expect to sell 800 once the books are all circulated. I think that this indicates that a few think an Elementary yearbook is worthwhile.
Thanks for the tremendous support!

About Our Yearbook

In 144 pages, our Yearbook includes 1,800 students and 100 staff and faculty members
. . . a lot of people to fit into one book. My Yearbook Workers labored during lunch breaks to prepare the fun-filled pages. The students were truly involved in this year's book, with their drawings, captions, page
arrangements, creative ideas,
picture taking, reporting,
sticking and pasting
pictures, selling, record keeping, and whatever else was needed to make this Yearbook. For sixth graders, they did a commendable job.
I'm proud of these kids who stuck it out from start to finish. They showed a lot of fortitude. It was my pleasure being the Yearbook Advisor the past three years.
I hope this tradition will be carried on.
