Two More Annexes

Too many classes, and too little space, resulted in this unique situation where ten American elementary classes are located in two different German schools.

A dedication of the new annexes was held, with both German and Americans present.

This has to be an American class at Bruchkoebel!

At Erlensee, six American classes reside. These sixth grade students must find it unique to mingle with German students, during their break.

We even have a little fish pond at our annex.

The Happy Wanderers

Each school year, we have a volksmarch. The 5th and 6th graders had to walk 18 K's. Boy, was it a tiring walk! But it was worth it. We saw beautiful scenery all the way. When we reached our destiny, we ate lunch. We felt happy! We received a beautiful medal, but best of all... it was fun.

-Tammy Smith (6th)

Some students (and Parents) wished that they could have rode the bus the entire way.

Hi! My name is 88!
That's Double 8.

They're having a little chit-chat break.

Ms. Gibbons is too bushed to boogie!

It's so good to sit after a long and tiring walk.

Hey! What's going on???????

Come on horse! Get moving!

Captions by Kim Stroup & Tammy Smith

Ms. Butler won the award for taking the longest to reach the half-way point.

Who's Muggly bumming a ride off of this time? There's Mike, one of the photographers for the Volksmarch.

We finally made it to the half-way point. Where's the drinks? We're dying of thirst!

Come on! Let's eat lunch. I'm starved.

It's just about over, and look at the smiling faces!

OK! Let's Move out!

This pond(quelle) was a marvelous place to have lunch and to rest at.

Ms. Cook and her gang just keep romping along!

Dear feet, Rest in Peace.

Only three more K's!

Three's Company!

In Spring '79, Sportsfield had its farewell Volksmarch. But the Sportsfield annex continues to live on, and on, and . . .

A Couple Happy, but tired Wanderers

Reading is for Everyone

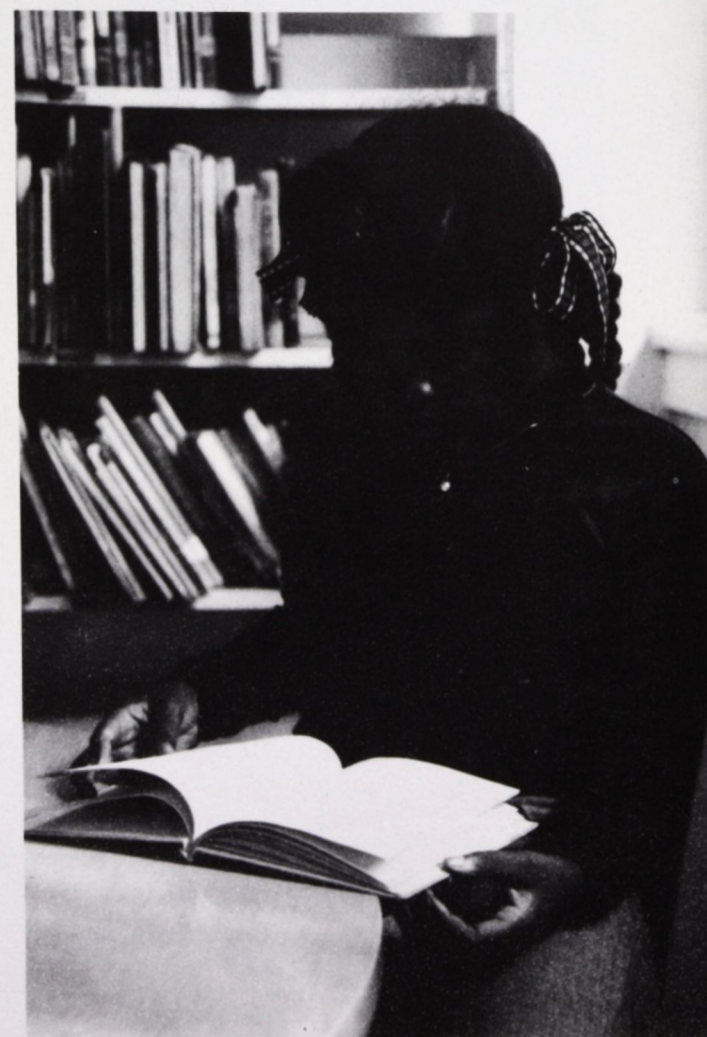

We are here to help you! Meet the LRC people: Ms. Aquino, Ms. Nordgren, and Ms. Shiner.

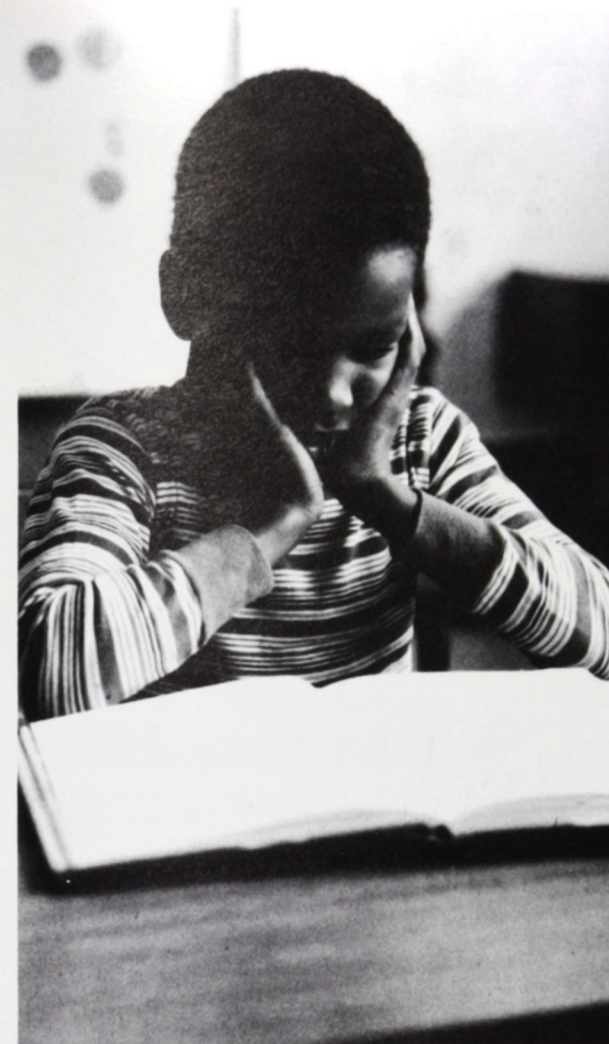

The most popular books in the LRC are our very own school Yearbooks.

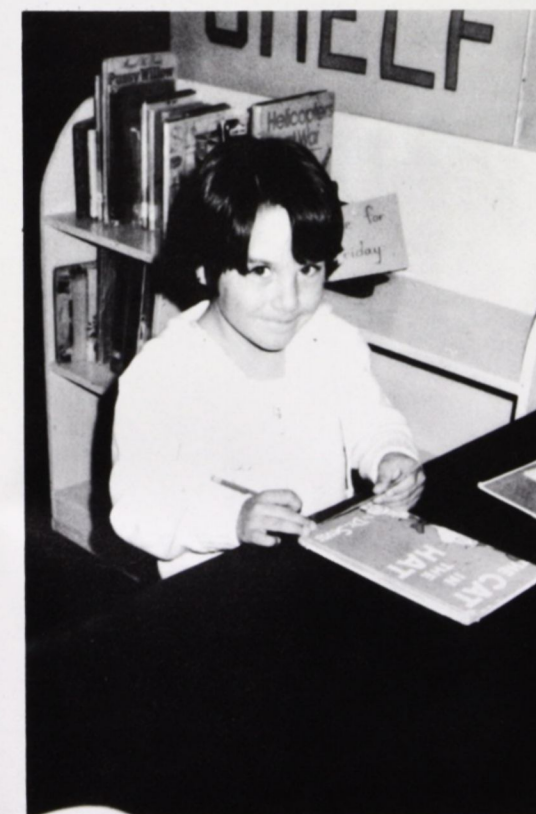

LRC Aids work very hard, and are very important helpers in the LRC.

I just love to read!

Boy! This a difficult book to read!

The Cat in the Hat is a fun book to read.

Welcome to Ms. Nordgren's

The Sounds of MUSIC

Introducing the 5th Grade Choir!

These first graders seem fascinated by Mrs. Kroon's Harp. She makes beautiful sounds from it.

The students enjoy singing with Mrs. Morton. "Let's sing Do, Re, Mi,"

Mr. Bush is really proud of this plaque, which was given to the choir by the Officers' and Civilians' Wives Club.

This one we'll do right!!

Here's the 6th Grade Choir in full formation.

Youth Hostels

Once again, a number of classes stayed at a youth hostel in Germany. It was an experience to remember, especially for the Parents & Teachers!

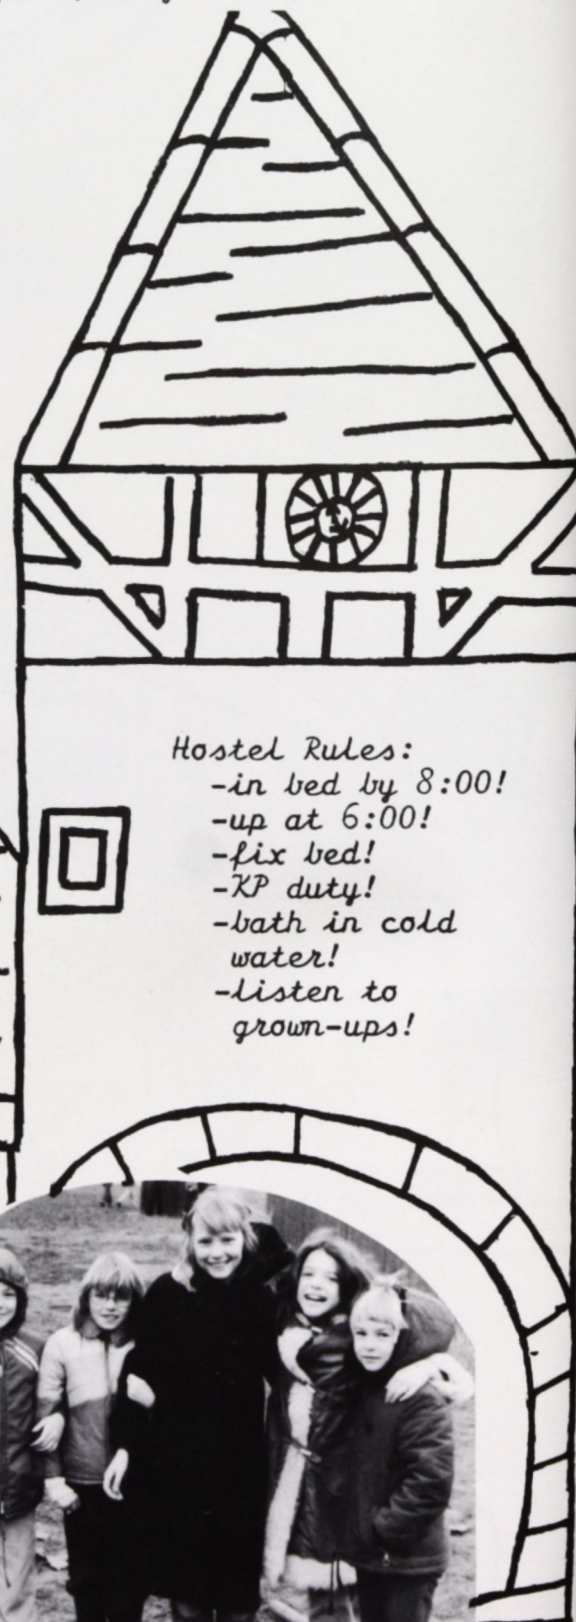

The Heidelberg Castle is one of the more popular places to visit. Many students stayed at the Dilsberg Youth Hostel, close to Heidelberg.

At Steinheim Kinderheim

This is one of the wards, where older boys reside.

Frau Hamel told us about their home, which houses about 35 children, aging from 2-18. Some children live there for a short time, but others stay for a longer period. They attend regular German schools during the day.

76

Frau Hamel gave us the tour of the house, including the kitchen.

Carmen, everyone's favorite, loved the Christmas cookies that we brought for them. Thank-you Frau Hamel and Children for a wonderful day, and experience, at Steinheim Kinderheim.

The UN Declared 1979 as:

THE International Year of the CHILD

In 1959 the countries of the world joined together in the United Nations General Assembly and unanimously passed the Declaration of the Rights of the Child.

This special section is dedicated to the CHILDREN of the WORLD (pp. 80-97).

The Declaration of the Rights of the Child says that all children shall enjoy all of the rights without any exception or discrimination. . .

Children shall be given the opportunities to grow and to develop in body, in mind, and in spirit.

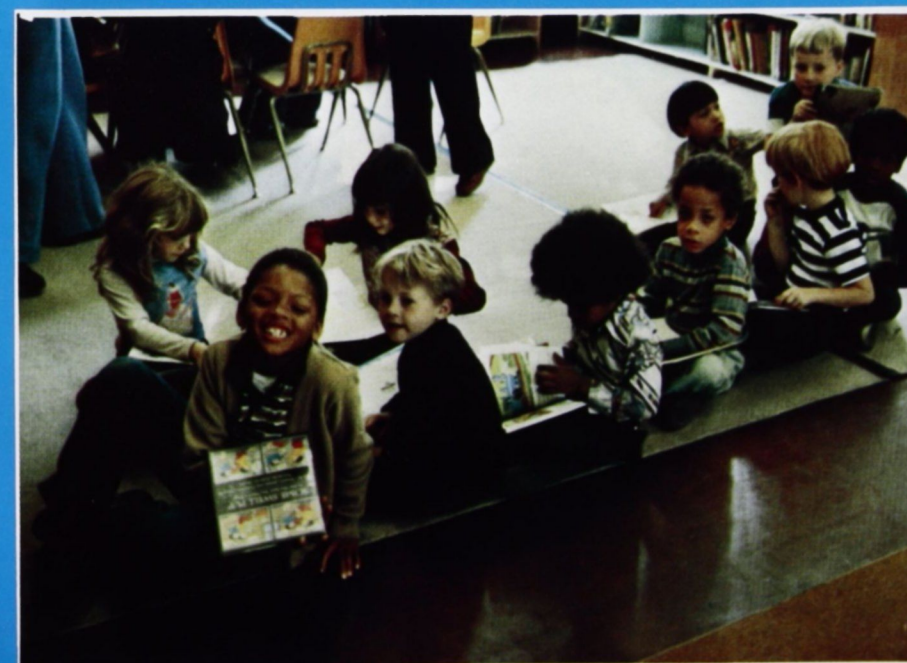

At the first P.T.S.A. meeting, our students recited some of the Rights of the Child, to commemorate this year (1979), "The International Year of the Child."

A Child's Poem

If a child lives with criticism, he learns to condemn.

If a child lives with hostility, he learns to fight.

If a child lives with ridicule, he learns to be shy.

If a child lives with shame, he learns to feel guilty.

If a child lives with tolerance, he learns to be patient.

If a child lives with encouragement, he learns confidence.

If a child lives with praise, he learns to appreciate.

If a child lives with fairness, he learns justice.

If a child lives with security, he learns to have faith.

If a child lives with approval, he learns to like himself.

If a child lives with acceptance and friendship, he learns to find love in the world.

Being a twin is fun. I really think it's funny when people mistake me for my twin sister, but it can also get on your nerves. It gets me sick and tired when people say, "You're Jill, aren't you? Oh, I got it

Twin Power?

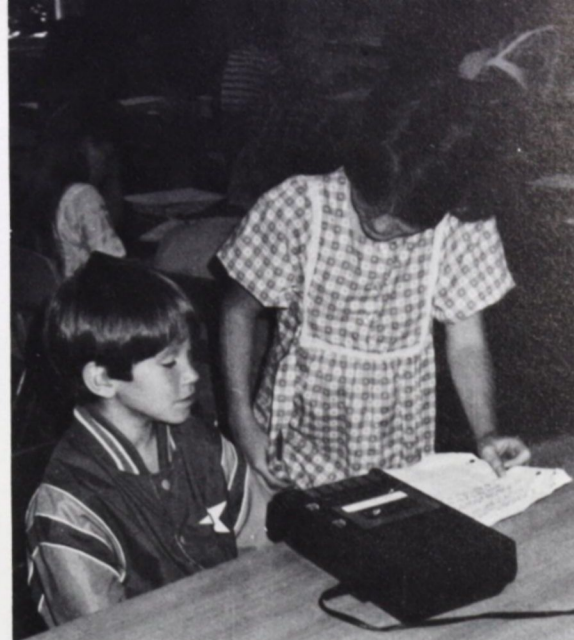

Sometimes, I'd like to know what life would be like without the other half.

KIDS HAVE SOMETHING TO SAY!

Interviewers: Libby Rojas, Genie Cannon, and Jill Goodwin

Who would you like to be like?
Brandon: "A King of the World."

If you had $10, would you share it with your brother?
Susie: "Yeah! Cause I love him."

How would you conserve energy?
Ernest: "Don't waste gas or money on useless products."

What do you want to do when you grow up? Why?
Brett: "An Astronaut . . . to collect rocks from the moon."

Who would you like to be like?
John: "I'd like to be like Burt Reynolds because he's famous, does really good stunts, and he's rich."

How do you feel about being an adopted child?
Mikki: "At first I was sad because the people I call Mom and Dad were not really my parents. Then I realized that I had people who wanted and loved me. I became happy again."

What's the most important thing to you?
Corlis: "Matchbox cars."

If you had a flying carpet, where would you fly?
Tracy: "To the P.X. to buy me something."

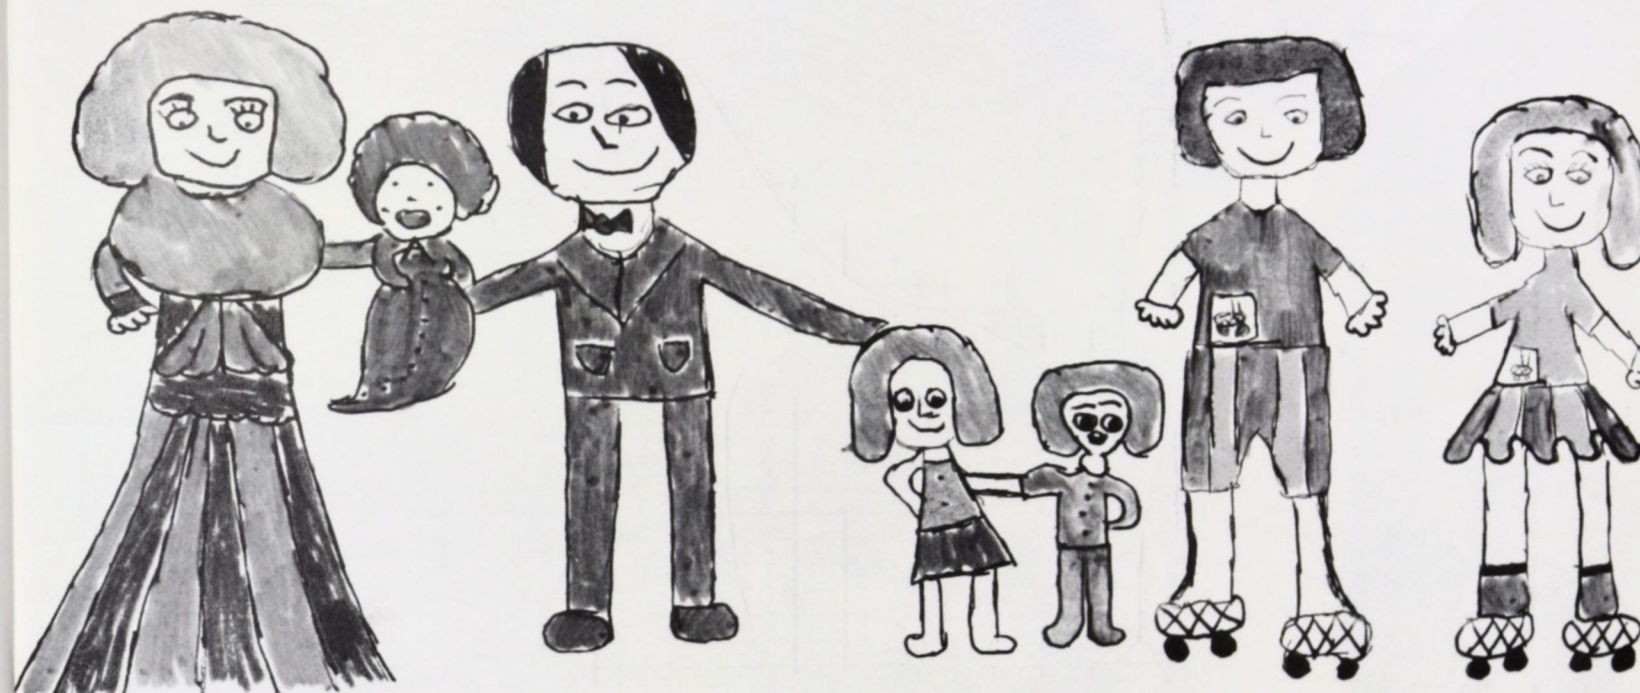

Who would you like to be?
Vicky: "Alice in Wonderland. I'd like to have Alice's exciting experiences."

Friendship, Family & Love for Everyone

Children shall have the right to be brought up in a spirit of understanding and of peace and friendship toward all peoples. Children shall learn to love and to be loved.

do you think it used?

There are many happy faces after a hearty and delicious cafeteria lunch. Oh, look at all those big and wide smiling faces. Good Grief!

Eleven year old kids come in all sizes. Christy must be the tallest person in school, and that includes Teachers.

Is it possible for a tree to grow in a classroom? Yes! Ms. Culpepper's classroom has one. The children water it everyday.

Never worry,
Never fear!
Doctor Smith
is here!

Lisa got the fritts,
Cause she couldn't do
the splits.
So she sadly had to quit!

Mirror, mirror
On the wall.
Who's the prettiest of them all?
"I am!" said the Mirror.

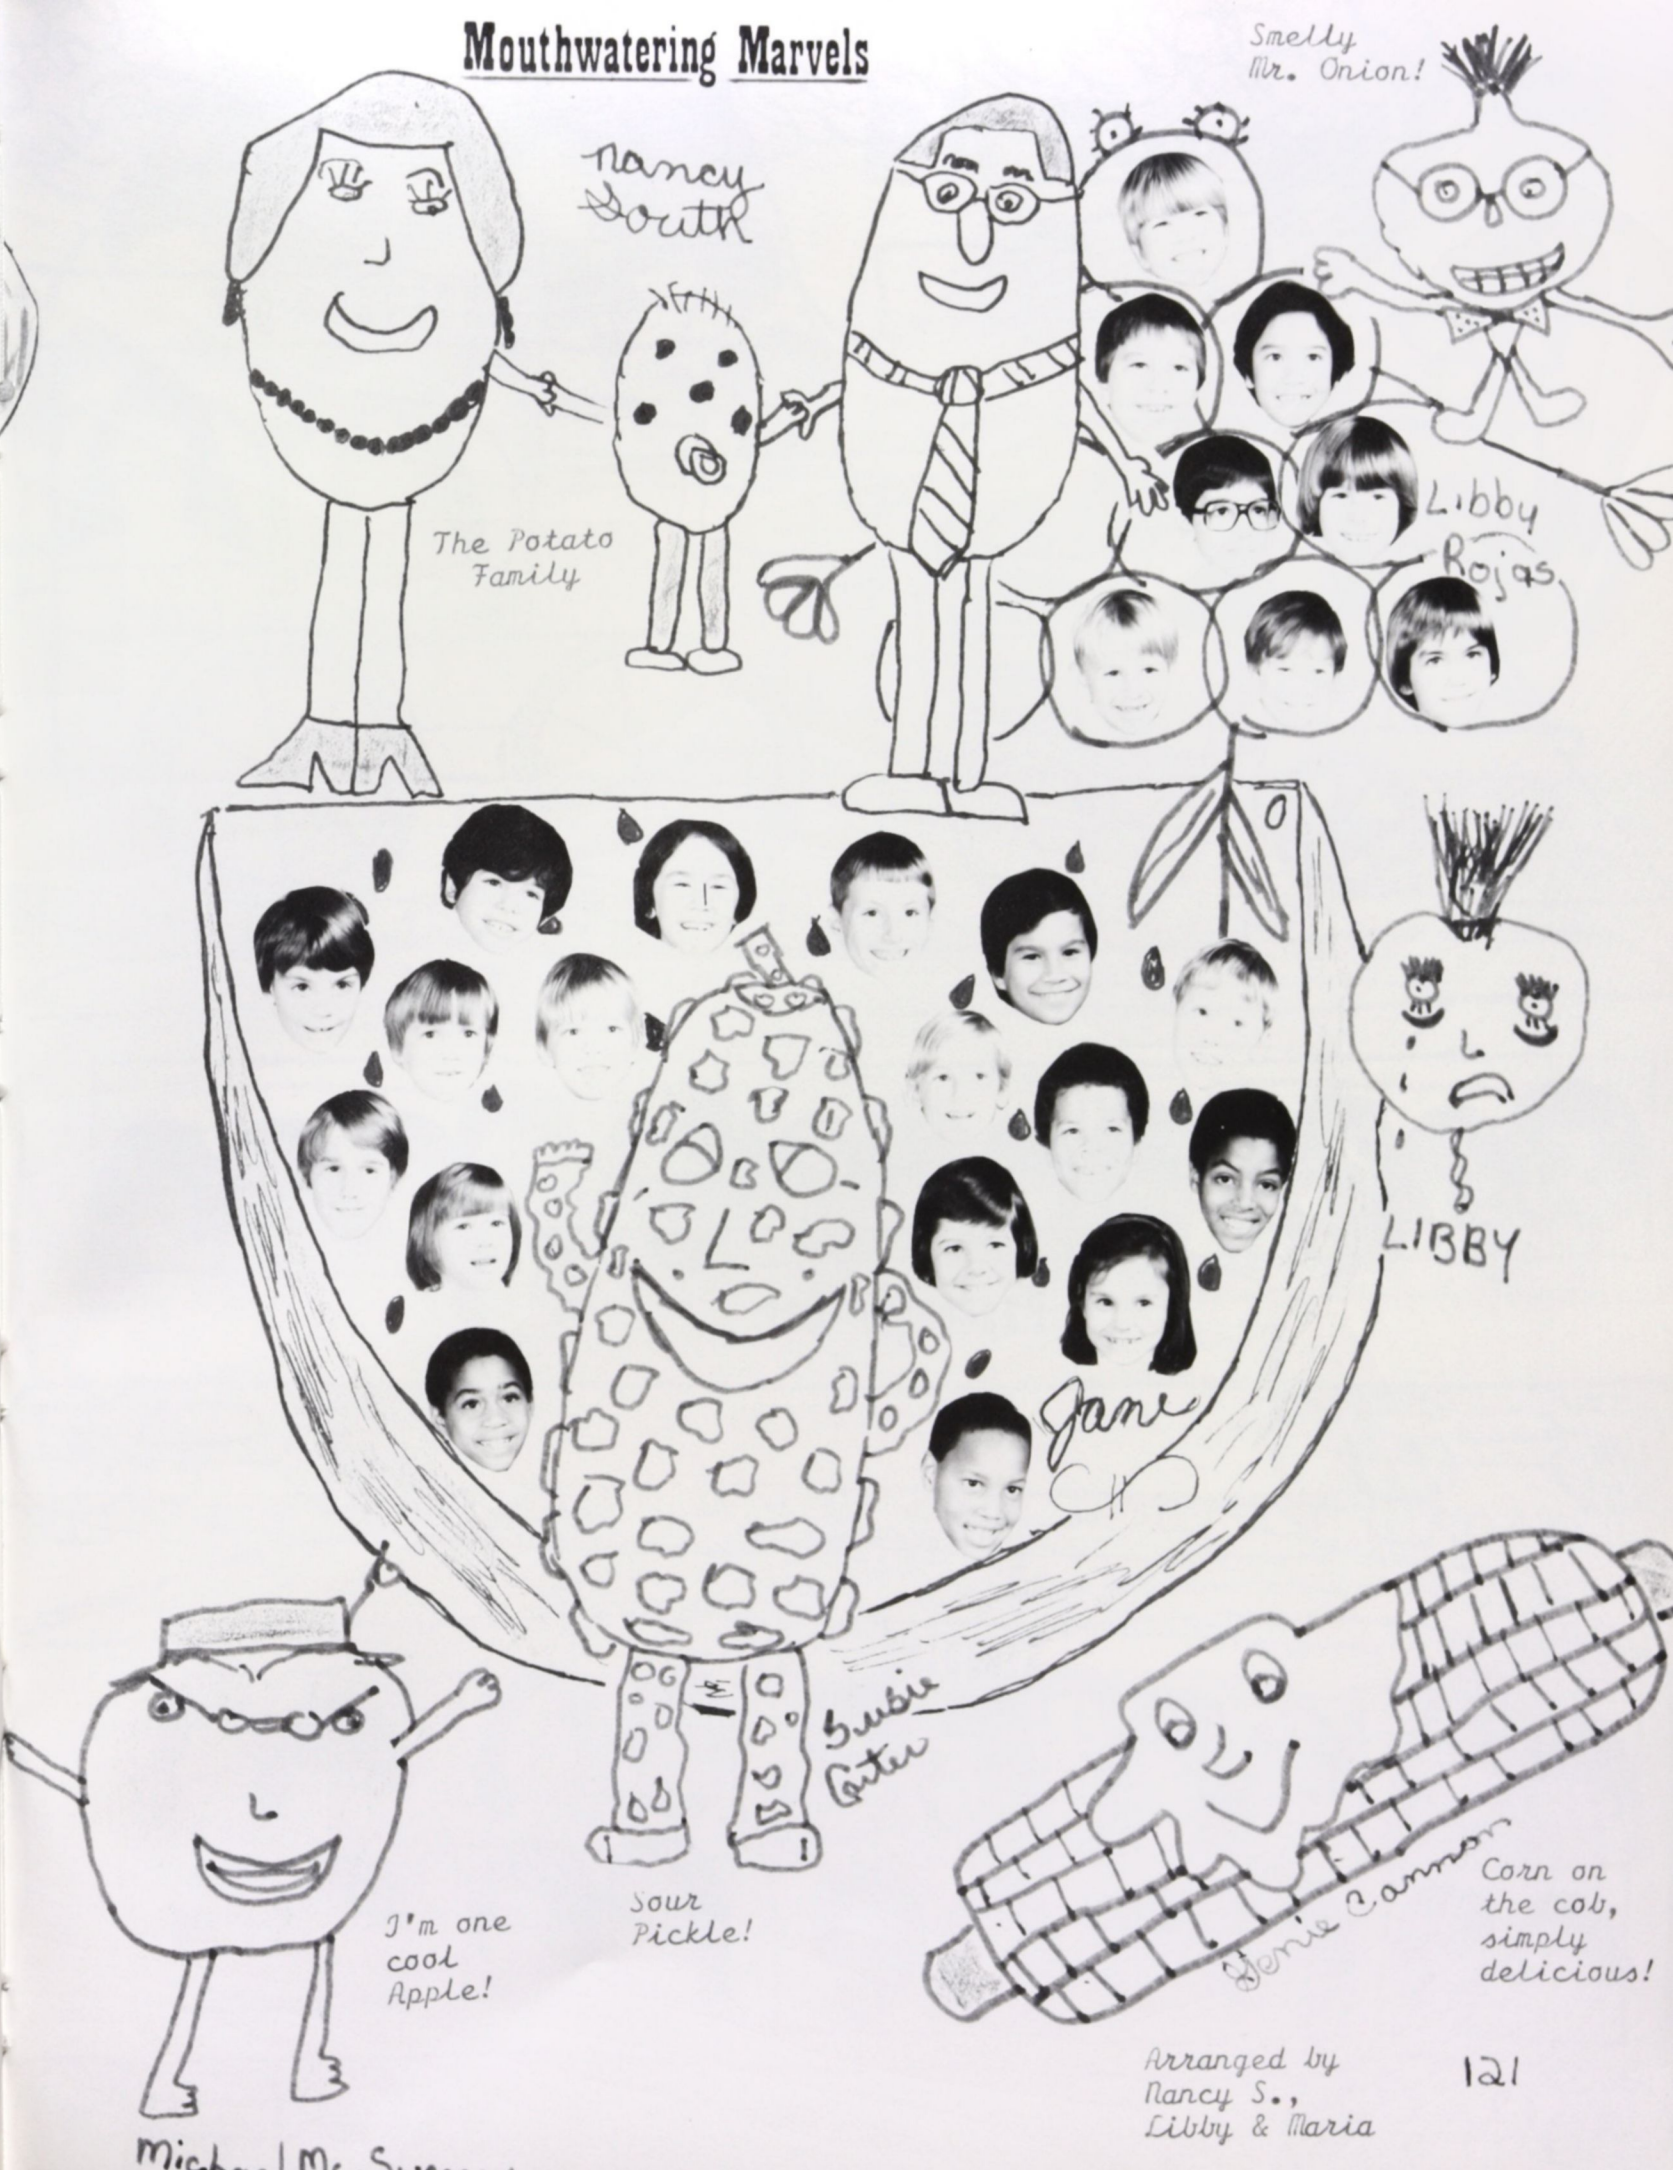

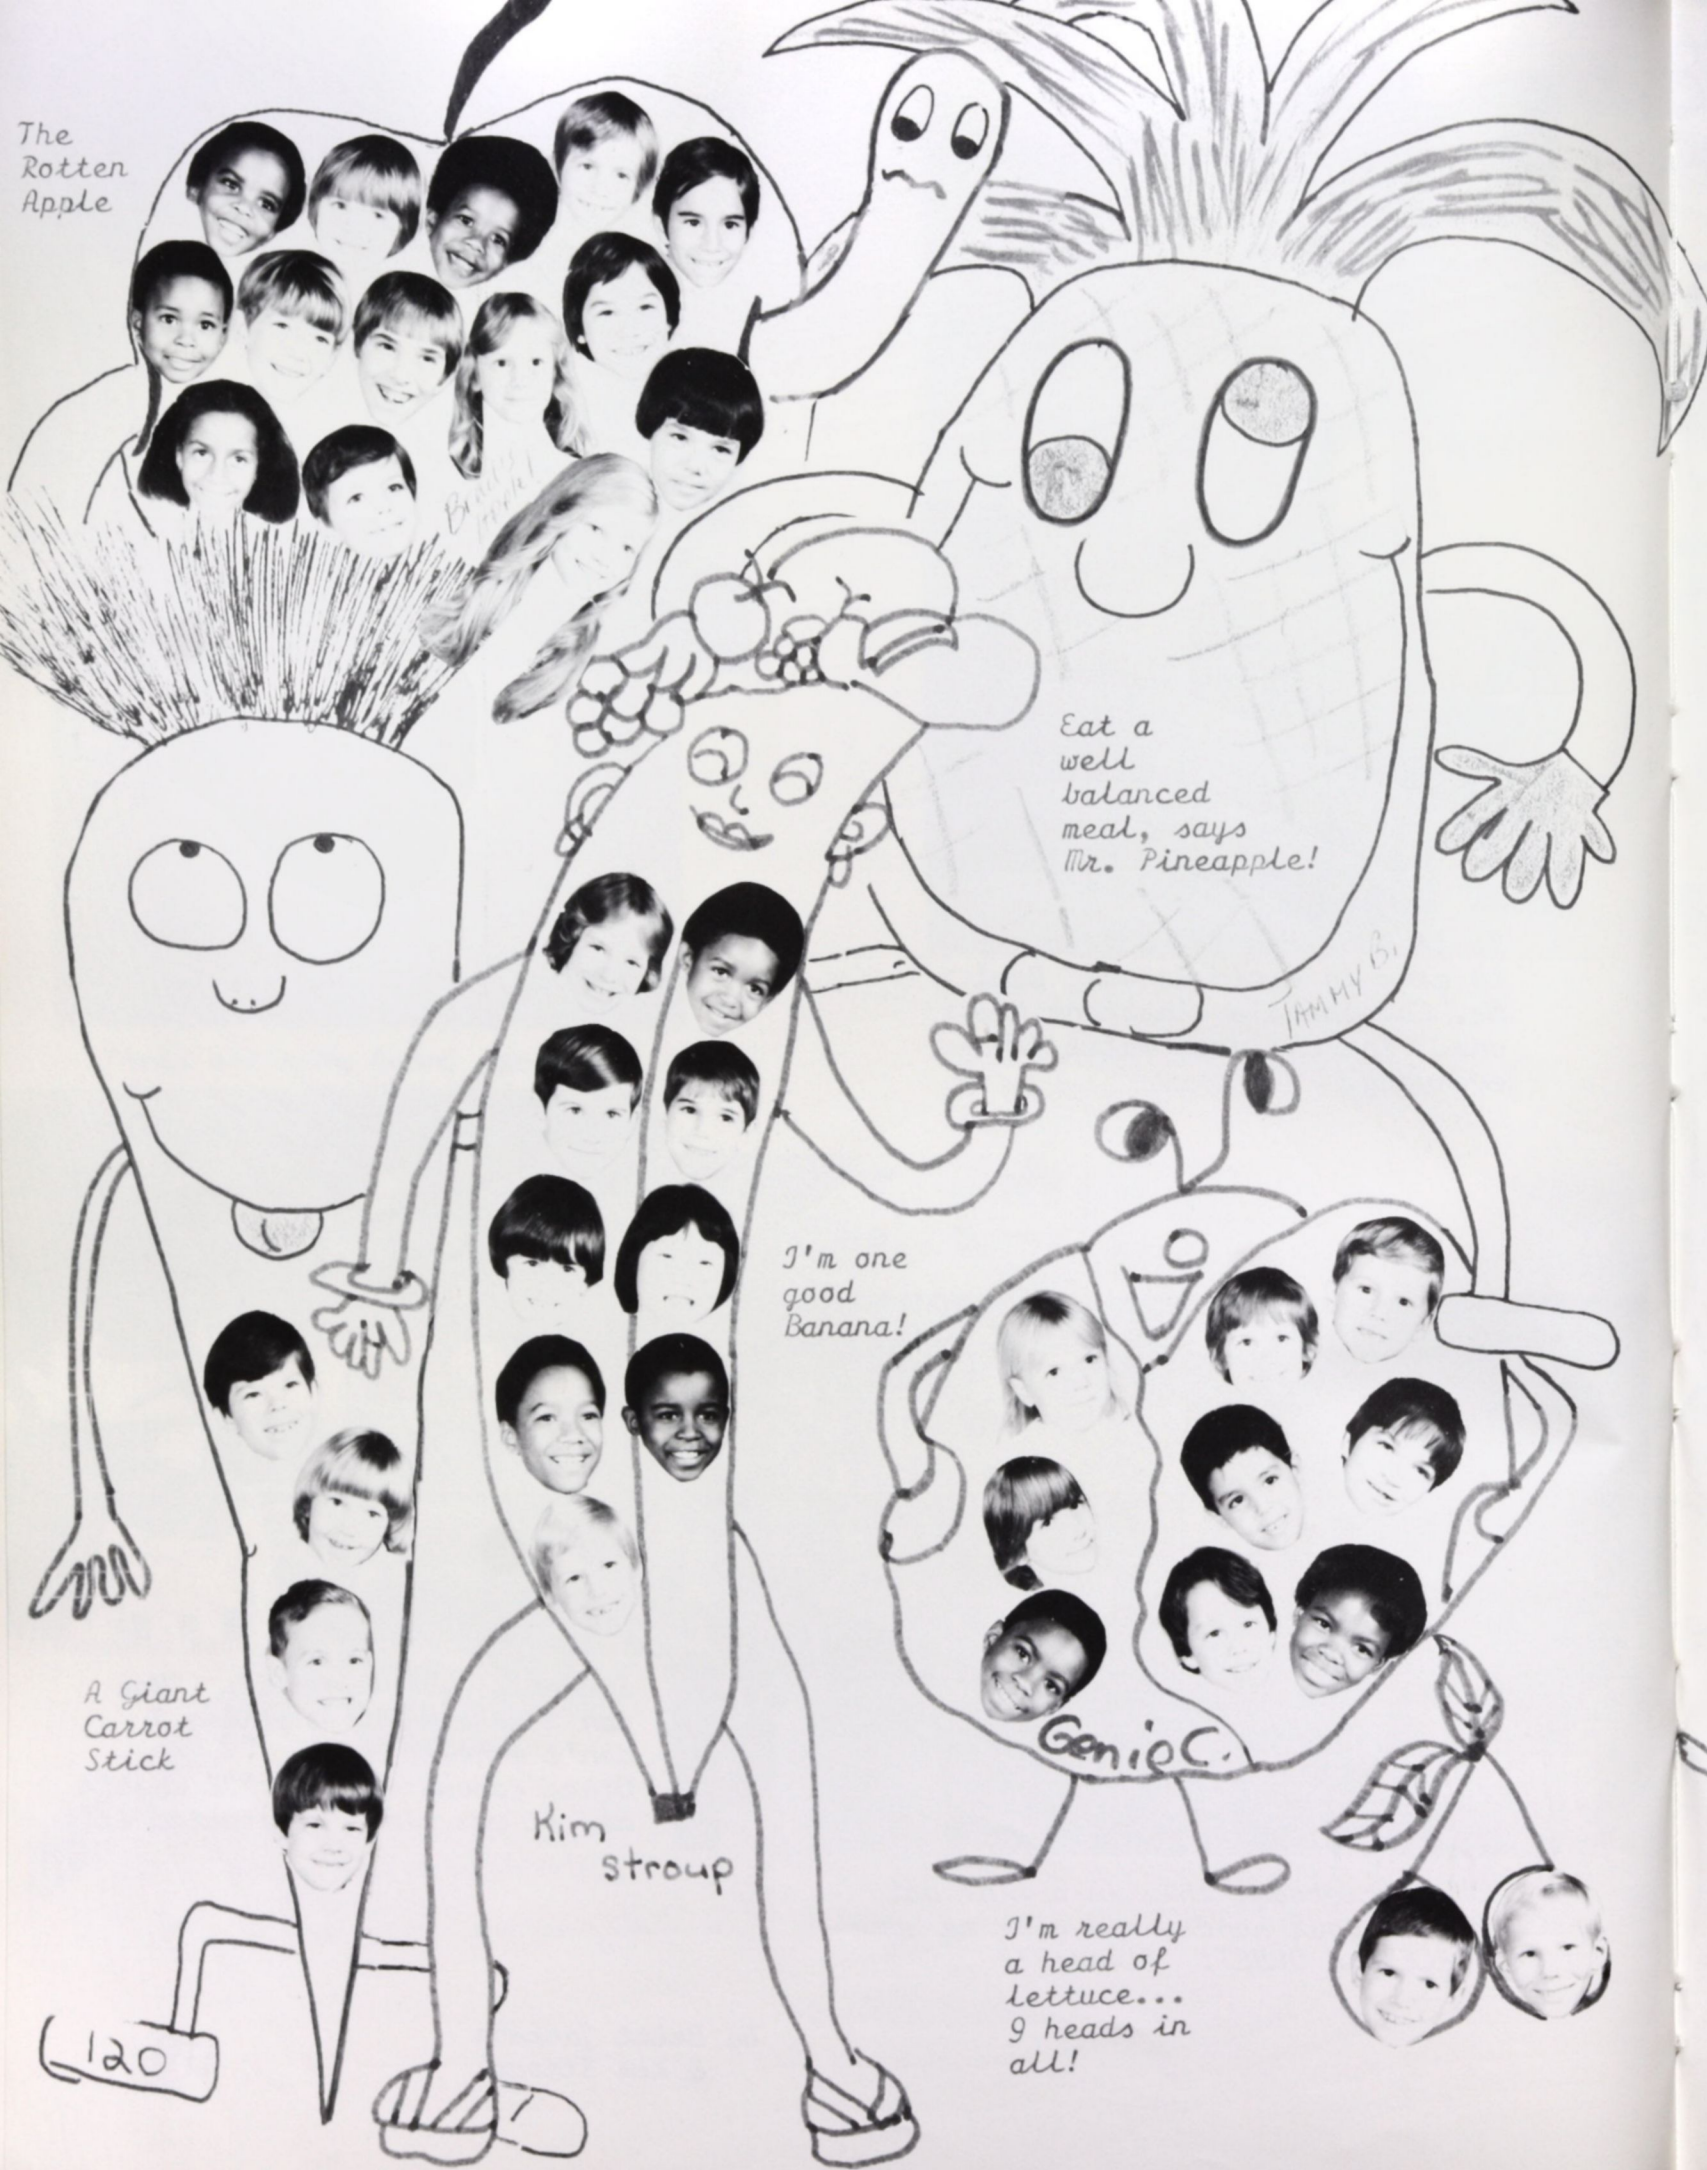

Ok, everybody, this is a line up!
Put up your hands, and give me some PEACE and QUIET! Please???

Thank you, PARENTS

We just want you to know that you're appreciated! The next four pages are especially for the good Moms and Dads who have given their valuable time and energy to help the school.

It must have been an exhausting day for these Moms!

Many activities would not have gone over smoothly without your help, especially the messier ones!

Thanks for sending in the treats for parties!

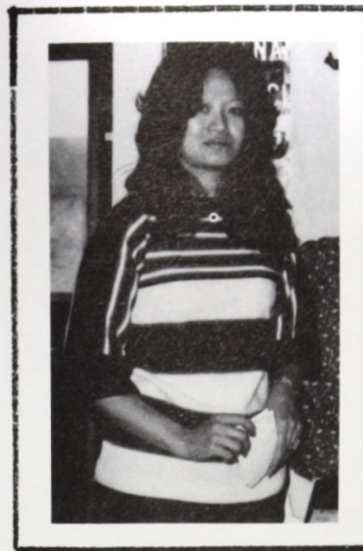

Nurse Dunn always needs help with vision testing.

The kids appreciate your support at our school programs.

...more on the Parents!

Kindergarten Teachers always need help with the little ones.

I think most children feel good when their Parents take an interest in their school doings.

Thanks 127

Some Parents served as great assistants, in the classroom.

What's Happening?

We must learn to like people for what they are,
and not what they look like!!

There's something very wrong with these people! I'm the only normal one here!

Our thanks for the use of the various bodies.
Sorry, but the heads were lost!

Germany has been a place of wonderful experiences and memories.

It was an unforgettable moment when we saw the border.

Germany is made up of:
Beautiful wooded areas; castles;
delicious bakeries; tall towers;
lots of red roof tops; little ponds; trimm dich paths; many endless autobahns; interesting rivers and quaint little towns;
alpine homes; German people,
of course; old churches; hills;
swimbads; and finally, 1800
Hanau Elementary Students!

Oh boy! The last exercise station, number 20.

The Trimm Dich is fun and big, with alot of exciting things to do. I like the Trimm Dich, and so do my friends and my whole class. We all feel that it's fun, even my Teacher, who doesn't like that many exercises.
-Andrea Ebert

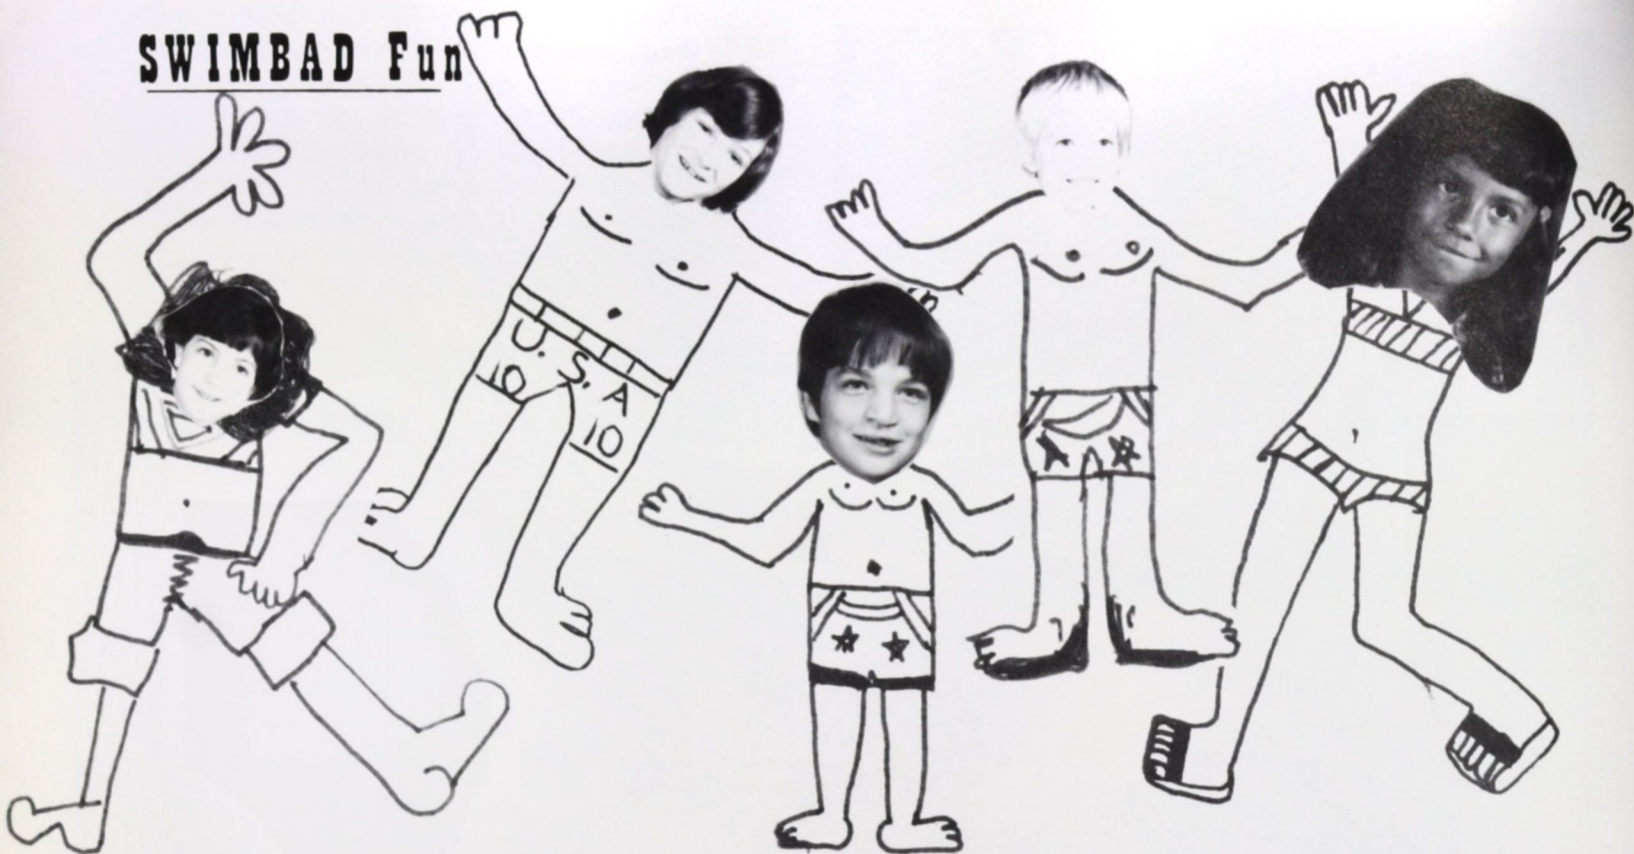

Germany has many exciting and fun playgrounds for children to enjoy.

Trimm Dich

Gosh Martha, how long is it to the end? 133

SWIMBAD Fun

Swimming pools are fun! They usually have lockers and showers. Most of the time the pools are inside and are very big. Some pools have salt, and some make waves as in the ocean. For only a mark, you can have many great hours of swimming fun!

-Genie Cannon

In German pools, you must wear these funny swim caps. Look, Mom! No hair!

The Sweet Shop

As we entered the bakery, we were bombarded by the sweet smells of the baked goodies baking. We had entered a completely different world. Around us were cookies, pastries and cakes beyond our wildest dreams.

Like Father, Like Son!

What a big oven you have, big, big Baker Man!

These yummy captions were by Jill Goodwin & Libby Rojas. They are now professional Baker Women!

Six Suffering Slices of Sliced Bread!

What in the world is that?

We go together like Butter and Brotchen.

Getting to Know HANAU

A few yearbook workers spent an afternoon enjoying the sites of Hanau. Although 90 percent of the town was destroyed during the war, it still remains to be an interesting place.

Brad, Jane, Kim and Britt, met a little friend.

Chef Boy-ar-dee is showing off his food!

That's one of the oldest structures in Hanau.

We could do this all day, and not get tired at all.

TOYS Galore!

Do you think that my big foot could fit into this??

We're just thinking about something to wish for.

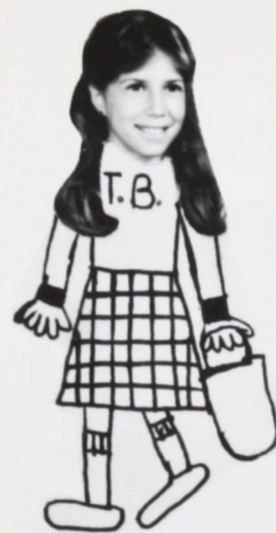

Girls can spend all day window shopping!

Eating a pastry was the best part of the trip. German pastries are delicious, but fattening!

Market Day in Germany

The Open Market is an interesting place. There are all kinds of things you can buy and do there. It's just an enjoyable place to visit, and the people are very friendly.
-Jane Goodwin

I'm the only clown,
in this ole town.

Has anyone seen a peacock?

They're just marveling at the juicy grapes.

Mmm! How very interesting.

The Count(Dracula)
has come to count apples.

These flowers have knock-out aroma.

My Mommy will love these flowers I bought her.

Why do these kids have such large name tags?

"P" stands for some pretty good pretzels.

A Few Last Words From the Staff. . .

"...It has alot of fun pages in it
 ..."
 -Letrice Tennette

"...I can't wait until the yearbooks are finally done.
 It's alot of fun."
 -Andrea Ebert

"Working on the yearbook has been a fun and exciting experience. I learned how a book is made and how hard it is to make it, but I'm glad I'm part of the yearbook staff!"
 -Nancy VanCleve

"Working on the yearbook. . .
 was worth every minute of it."
 -Libby Rojas

"The yearbook work was fun, but it takes alot of work. . .You'll love it."
 -Susie Carter

"...it takes alot of hard work."
 -Vonda Banks

"Working on the yearbook has been a fun and learning experience."
 -Marsha Day Moxcey

"Working on the yearbook has been great fun and good experience, and I really like it."
 -Judy Greene

"We've got a special yearbook this year because special people made it possible!" -Britt Jackson

"Working on the yearbook is alot of fun & I really enjoy it. But don't think it's all fun and games, it takes alot of work, time, and effort to produce a yearbook." -Jill Goodwin

"This year the yearbook staff put alot of effort in making the yearbook."
 -Vickie Hill

"I like the yearbook alot. It was fun helping Mr. Wong and the yearbook staff." -Mary Quinata

"I think the work we put into the yearbook was worthwhile."
 -Tammy Bruton

"This year working with the yearbook staff was fun and sometimes boring, but it meant a great deal to me working with Mr. Wong." -Maria Jasper

"...I really enjoy it. It's hard and sometimes easy. . ."
 -Genie Cannon

"I have enjoyed working on the yearbook. It is a fun & a learning experience. I hope to do it again."
 -Jane Goodwin

"I like working on the yearbook staff because we have alot of fun, but it's not all play. We have to write ads and captions for pictures, and that's hard!
 -Tammy Smith

"I liked working on the yearbook staff, because we all worked together. We had alot of hard times, but we got the yearbook done!" -Kim Stroup

The Advisor's Farewell Note

Yes, Gretchen! There is such a thing as an Elementary Yearbook. Little unknown People work on it, just for little girls and boys. They're proud little people who make much sacrifice to do something really special for children. A mean ole Man makes them work so very hard. He really is very proud of them, and likes them all very much. If he wasn't a little mean, they would never finish their busy little jobs. So Gretchen, when you look through your book, thank these little people (and even the mean ole Man), for a job well done! So the story ends, . . .until next year??

Our Good FRIENDS

Although we charged $8.00 for a yearbook, in reality, it cost at least $9.00 to produce(per book). Almost 50% of the difference was financed by our "Good Friends." You helped make this book possible. . .THANK YOU!
