In September, 1987, Mary and Dick Evanson came to Europe to work for the Dept. of Defense Schools. After 13 years, they've decided that it's time to go home to Nevada -- to travel and spend time with their grown children and grandchildren.

Mrs. Linda McCauley, principal, and James Lynch, assistant-principal, finish their second year together as HAMS management team.

FUN, 2000

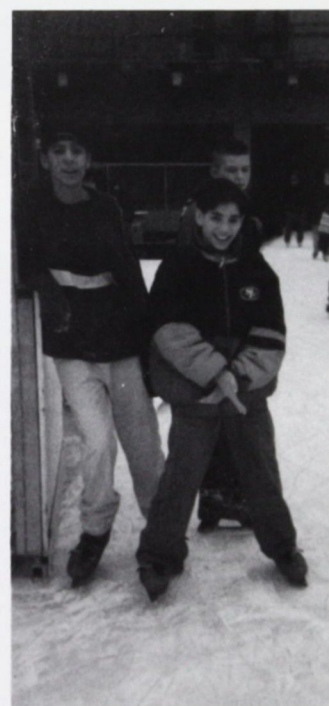

Go!!!!!!

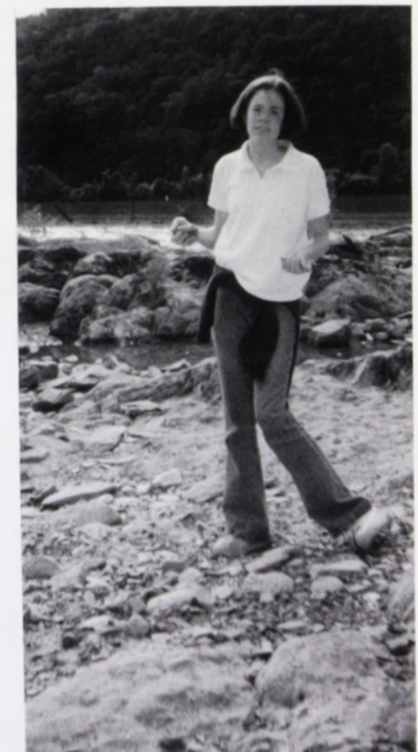

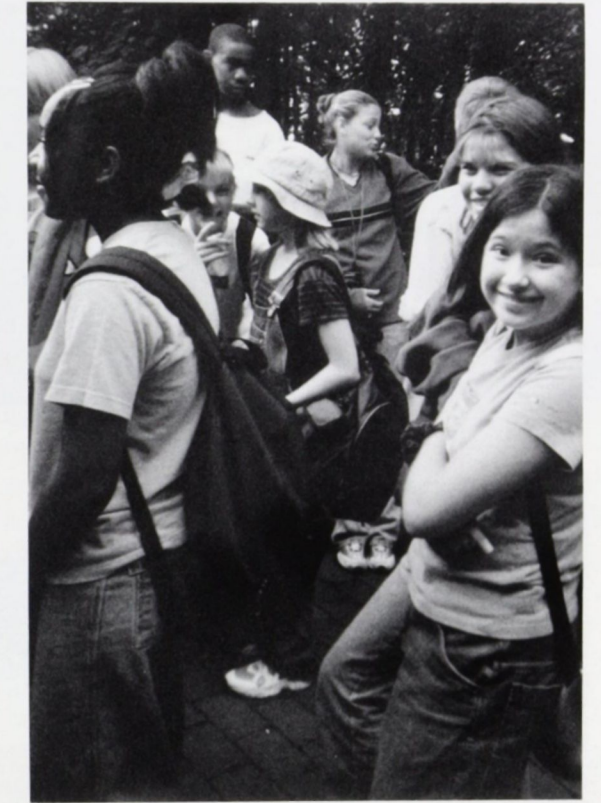

dance, dance, dance!

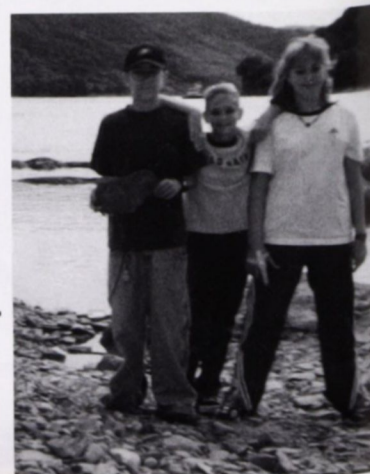

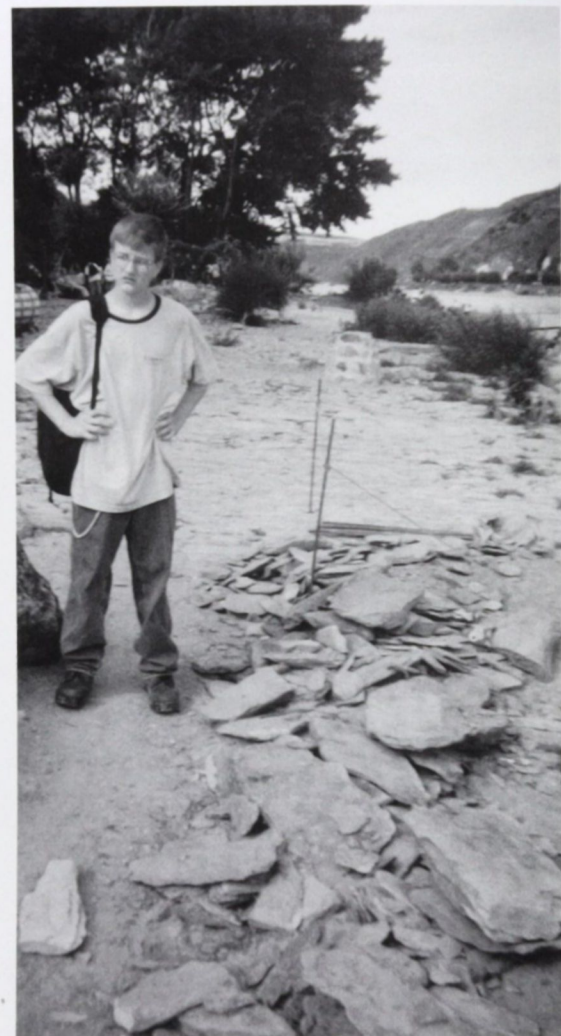

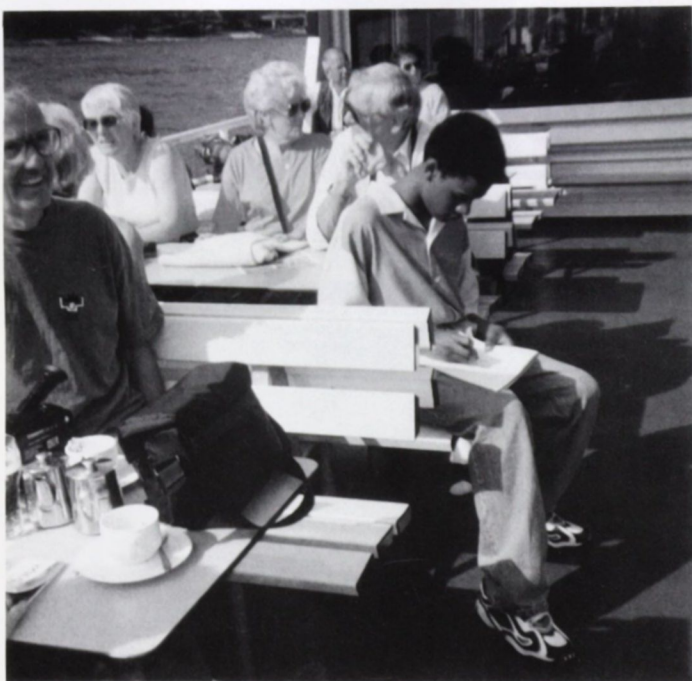

Fun History!

Rhine Trip!!!

Frau Petzold and Mrs. Lightle take AVID and German students to study culture and history. BUT, it LOOKS like FUN, too!!!!

Mimes are (L-R): Stacey Helfrich, Hanna Koch, Ashley Beaubien, and Jackie Oeser.

Mime Time!

Hanna Koch

Students in the 8th grade Drama class learned the job and rules of being a mime. They created the Mime Troupe, which included: Stacey Helfrich, Hanna Koch, Ashley Beaubien, Tiffany Baker, Nicole Buonamia, Jackie Oeser, Jessica Wiggins, Valerie Escatel, Ambern Porter, A Arce, Chris Blair, La' Conda Walker, Natascha Wright, Brittany Hill, Becky Louks, Tracy Diaz, Kellie Merserau, and Precious Smith.

Inclinations, hand movements, head movements, feet positions, were all apart of the experience. They had to learn how to act like a mime, walk like a mime, smile like a mime. In mime, you have to over-exaggerate movements because you can not talk or make noises to express yourself. But you can't just move in silence. It is like a dance routine with steps and planned movements that you have to learn and practice to really get it down.

"It is very hard to do a routine without feeling silly because you can't talk and you have to really act it out," said one student.

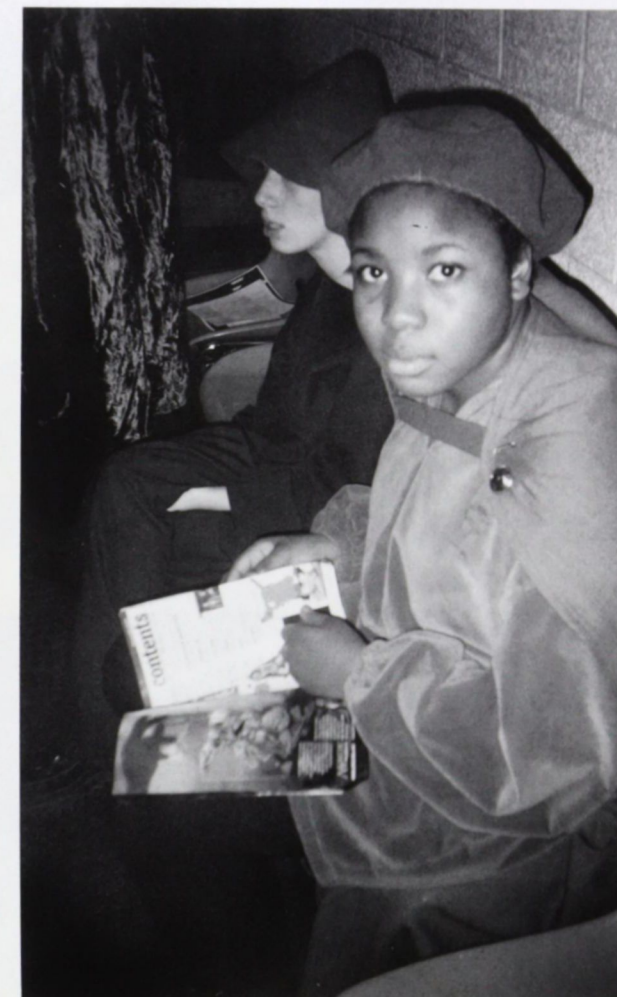

To get the experience and feeling of actually being a mime, students picked routines and practiced them to perform for a real audience. They performed for the HANAU Middle School, Sportfield and Argonner Elementary schools. They did their routines for all the grades, and earned many great compliments. The skits were entreating and original and actors did a professional job of portraying the image of real mimes. They wore real mime makeup and costumes for better effects.

"It was quite an amusing experience never to be forgotten!" said Hanna Koch.

La' Conda Walker does her routine for "The Box."

Waiting...

"As You Like It"

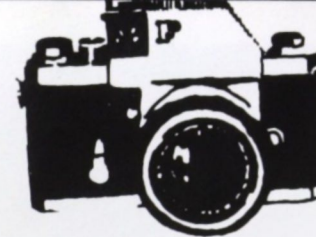

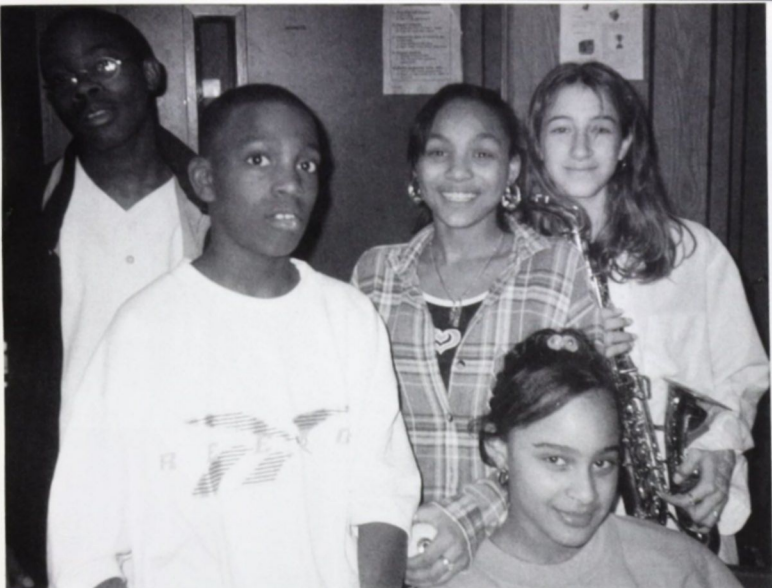

Shakespearean Actors Troupe members are from top, l-r, Hanna Koch, Stacey Helfrich, Samantha Lightle, (row 2) Dustin Castro, Michelle Moodt and Mallory Klan.

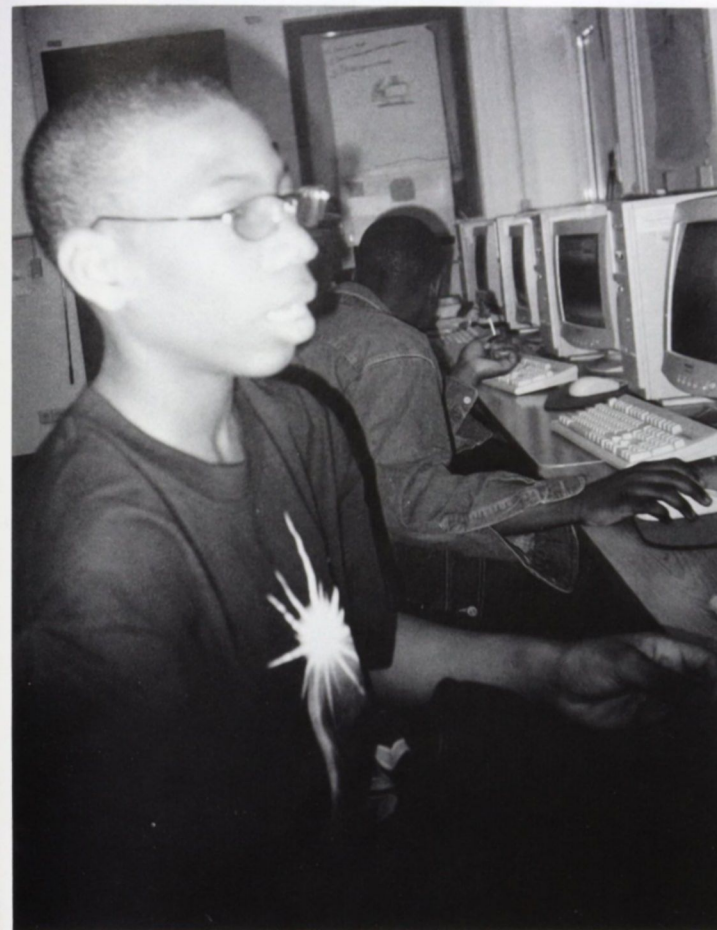

While they're out front, walking to and fro, we're back here... WAITING in the wings...WAITING for our cue and one little bit of SPOTLIGHT!!!!!!!
