Going To School In Germany

Frankfurt is one of the largest cities in Germany. It is close to Hanau and has a variety of museums, churches and other cultural places to tour.

Argonner Elementary School changed from the Frankfurt district to the newly created Hanau district. Berlin is also a part of this district!

Buying flowers is a fun part of shopping in Germany. There are so many varieties and colors.

The bombed out church is just one of the interesting places to visit in downtown Hanau.

Is A Unique Experience.

The Goldschmede Haus in Hanau is a popular place for field trips.

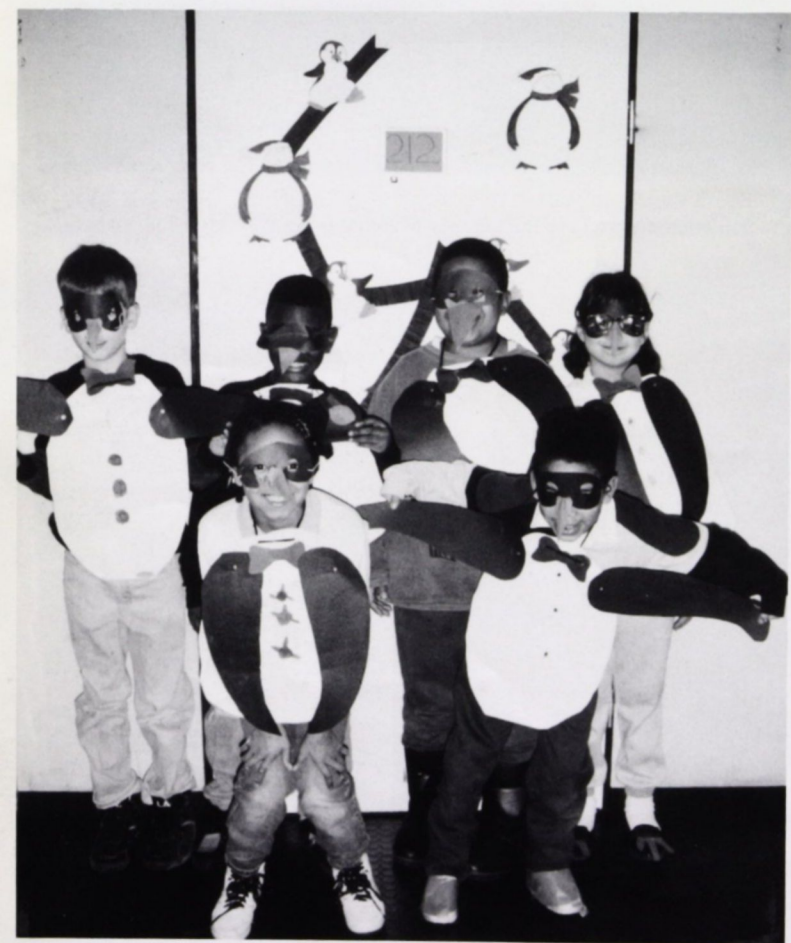

The fourth grade field trip to the Leather Museum is always a crowd pleaser.

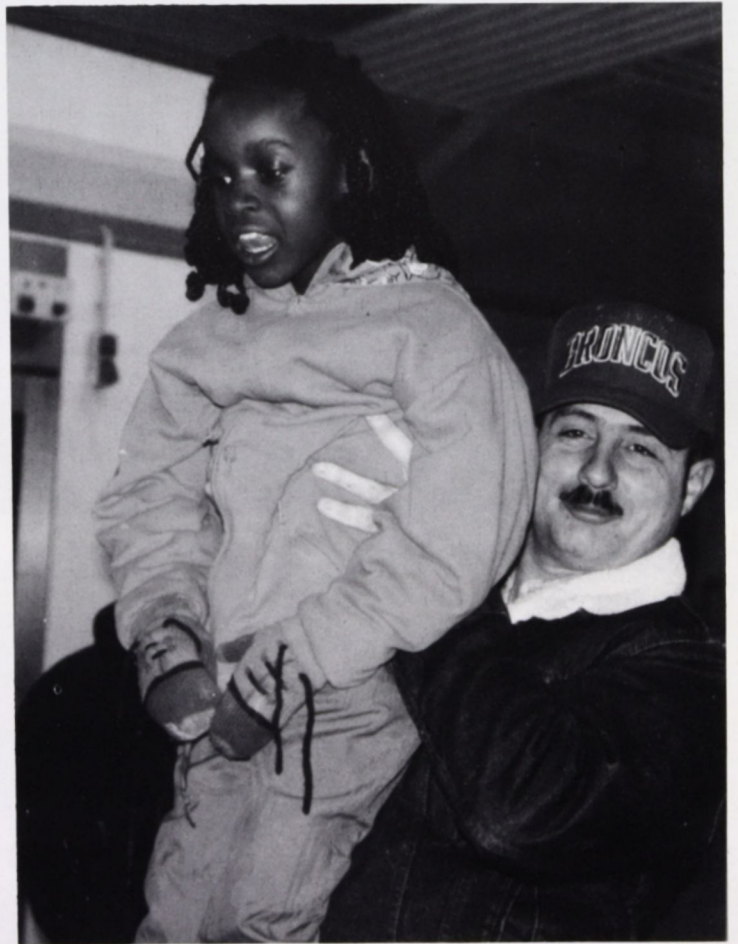

The Romerplatz in Frankfurt, with its half-timbered houses is beautiful at night.

Hanau has several interesting places to visit.

Christine Holston Principal

Our principal Christine Holston has taken her time to serve as Argonner's principal since 1985. The yearbook asked questions about how this year went. We asked, "How the cleaning team is?" She responded in a funny way. She said, "I wanted the school remodeled because it is old. We asked Ms. Holston how her faculty is, and she replied "They are the best." When asked why she became a principal, she said other principals thought she would make a good principal. Ms. Holston said, "This was a good year in spite of all the changes in DODDS."

Kindergarten

Due to the drawdown, there were only two kindergarten teachers this year. Mr. Boggs came from a small school which closed last year. He said, "I think the rules are safe and fair. My students are responsible and cooperative, and will be ready for first grade at the end of the year."

Ms. Miller has been at Argonner for several years. She also thinks her students are responsible and cooperative and will accomplish a lot this year.

The kindergartners went on field trips to the zoo, fire station and the market to name a few. They also had many fun days for Thanksgiving, Halloween, Christmas and Fasching in February. During Fasching, the students dressed up in costumes and paraded around the school performing the "Chicken Dance" in classrooms. It was a great way to take part in a German tradition.

This year 1st grade is learning how to read, add, and subtract. They are very eager to learn. Even though all 1st graders agree that recess is the best part of the day, they would also agree that learning is exciting.

The first graders participated in many exciting learning activities this year. Their favorite was Spanish Heritage Day in which the children made Spanish flags, tacos and morracos. They also learned how to say their numbers and colors in Spanish. Even though first grade is tough, the first graders made it through the year.

THIRD GRADE

The third grade teachers and students saw many changes at Argonner Elementary School this year. They watched the school get a new coat of paint and mini-blinds, witnessed the opening of a new library and saw many students leave and enter Argonner.

Ms. Sandala's class celebrated National Hispanic Month by having special dancers show the class Spanish dances. Ms. Gregg and Ms. Youngman's class made tacos on Halloween and set up a Science classroom. The third grade classes went on field trips to the Frankfurt Zoo and the Christkindelmarkt in Frankfurt. In addition to reading math, social studies, science and health, students had a Spanish Heritage Luncheon and performed in a Black History Month program. Dr. Schulte and Dr. Hunt were guest speakers for science and health and students watched a puppet show called "Kids on the Block" to learn about various disabilities. Overall, this year was a successful one for the fourth graders full of memories to last a lifetime.

Ms. Parmenter said, "I think this school has been the best." Her students earned a skating party for good behavior and showed they care about others by taking several Yugoslavian refugee children skating with them. Mrs. Sosnick ended up at Argonner because a volcano blew her out of the Philippines. She said, "I enjoy being a fifth grade teacher because it is a challenge. I especially enjoy teaching reading because students find out all about new and exciting people through reading."

The fifth grade students went on field trips to the Frankfurt Zoo and Museums, the Christkindelmarkt and produced a successful International Fair in April.

Student Council

Working Together To Make Argonner #1

Student Council is a group of students who try to make the school more fun and more educational. They try to help the students by informing them on what is going on such as Field Day and Candy grams. Field Day is a day where every grade competes in different field activities. Candy grams were sold to students on Valentine's Day to help raise money for student council activities. The president of student council, Salina Butler, did a nice job as president.

Computer Club

The after school computer club is sponsored by Ms. Wagnon and Ms. George. They say they like being computer teachers because it is very rewarding. The two teachers find teaching this after school activity challenging because they learn something new every time they go into the computer lab. They both commented that, "Teaching the kids makes the day go by quickly." They added, "Teaching computers helps children a lot and they will have a lot of computer knowledge at the end of the year." They teach activities such as creative writing, drawing, and audiovisual. The computer club includes all grades at certain times of the year.

Ms. Wagnon discusses the goals of the computer club with her fourth graders.

Ben and John apply their computer knowledge in the classroom.

Mrs. Minor is happy to be the first safety club sponsor.

Safety Club

The safety club is an organization to train young people responsibility and to be proud of themselves. They must be dedicated and always punctual. The students feel safer with crossing guards in front of the school.

Mrs. Minor was the sponsor of the safety club for the first half of the year and then Mrs. Luckie took over the sponsorship. The students in the safety club worked hard this year.

Yearbook Staff

The yearbook staff thought the yearbook meetings were fun. The meetings were held on Mondays and sometimes extra days if a deadline was approaching. We made lots of friends at these meetings. We learned how to publish a book. We learned how to do layouts. A layout is where you draw a copy of the page. We did a lot of searching through old yearbooks to get ideas for our yearbook. We also wrote stories on teachers from preschool through fifth grade. We hope everyone enjoyed the yearbook because we had fun working on it.
