Hohenfels Middle/High School

Hohenfels, Germany

Home of the Tigers

Hohenfels Middle/High School has been in existence since 1995 when the bases located at Frankfurt closed. Until 2003, the classes were held in rooms "borrowed" from the elementary school. In September 2003, students began school in a brand new building.

The number of students continues to rise and the number of classes offered has also increased. Hohenfels now has a robotics lab, an art studio, three complete science labs as well as a music room and the Great Hall.

The Great Hall is the scene of many different activities. From music concerts and drama productions to dinner theaters and drill practice, this room is definitely used by the students.

Extra-curricular activities offer the students many different opportunities. Odyssey of the Mind teams have placed first for the past few years. The FBLA students recently went to State Leadership Conference in Garmisch and for the past six years, Hohenfels has taken a team of students to Model United States Senate. Each year art and literature by students at Hohenfels M/HS have been in the SHOWCASE, the DoDDS Europe anthology.

Sports are also part of the student's life at Hohenfels. This year the football team was European Champions. In addition to football, the school fields teams for volleyball, soccer, basketball, cross-country, wrestling and track and field. This year the school is adding baseball to the schedule to round out the list of sports available.

In addition to an American style school system, the students have the advantage of being only a short distance from the Alps where many go skiing on the week-ends. If a student tires of the sights in Germany, they can take short trips to Poland, the Czech Republic, Switzerland, and even Italy.

Hohenfels Middle/High School can definitely offer the students what they want.

Student Life Welcome to Hohenfels

Hohenfels Middle/High School is one of the best kept secrets in DoDDS. A small school it may be but the friendships formed and the knowledge gained are boundless.

Students are involved in many different activities such as skiing on the weekends, sports (this year the Hohenfels Tigers are the European Champions in football), JROTC, and MUSS to name only a few.

Come with us on a tour of the high school and see why so many students are proud of their school, Hohenfels M/HS.

Hannah Porter and Connie Gibson create artistic wonders from the most common of materials.

Ms. Michele Wolff discusses business ownership with Sarah and Emily Adams during their Business Enterprise Class.

Thomas Nantz, Ryan Nelson, Ian Sellers, and Luke Reid 'dig' into their business lunch meeting with FBLA.

Sports at Hohenfels are a given. In the fall the stands resound with sounds of snapping footballs and crowd participation. While some students are all into football, others are involved in the volleyball, cross-country, cheerleading, or tennis. You name it, Hohenfels has the sport for you. In the Fall of 2005, the Hohenfels Tigers again reigned as the European Champions in football and the volleyball team did well as did all of the teams in their different competitions.

Not to be taken lightly, when the Hohenfels Tigers take the court for basketball, the rest of the division needs to take cover. Hohenfels Tigers are GREEAAT at basketball. The Winter Cheerleading Squad was there to cheer for their favorite team. But for those who prefer a different type of activity, there are wrestling matches which is a more individual, up personal, down to earth type of game.

As spring approaches, you can see the students start to look to the fields. Soccer and Track and Field sometime follow the snows. Sometimes, however, snow remains with us for a long time and we have to seek our games away from home.

Football - Bustin' thru

Once again, the sound of the Tiger's roar rang out over the 'Oberpfalzer Jura'. The Hohenfels Tigers were on the prowl. Like their cousin, the King of the Jungle, the Tigers took no prisoners and met all comers with a vengeance.

The Tigers beat their arch rivals, the Ansbach Cougars, not once but twice. Once during the regular season and again in the Championship games, ending the 28 game winning streak the Cougars held.

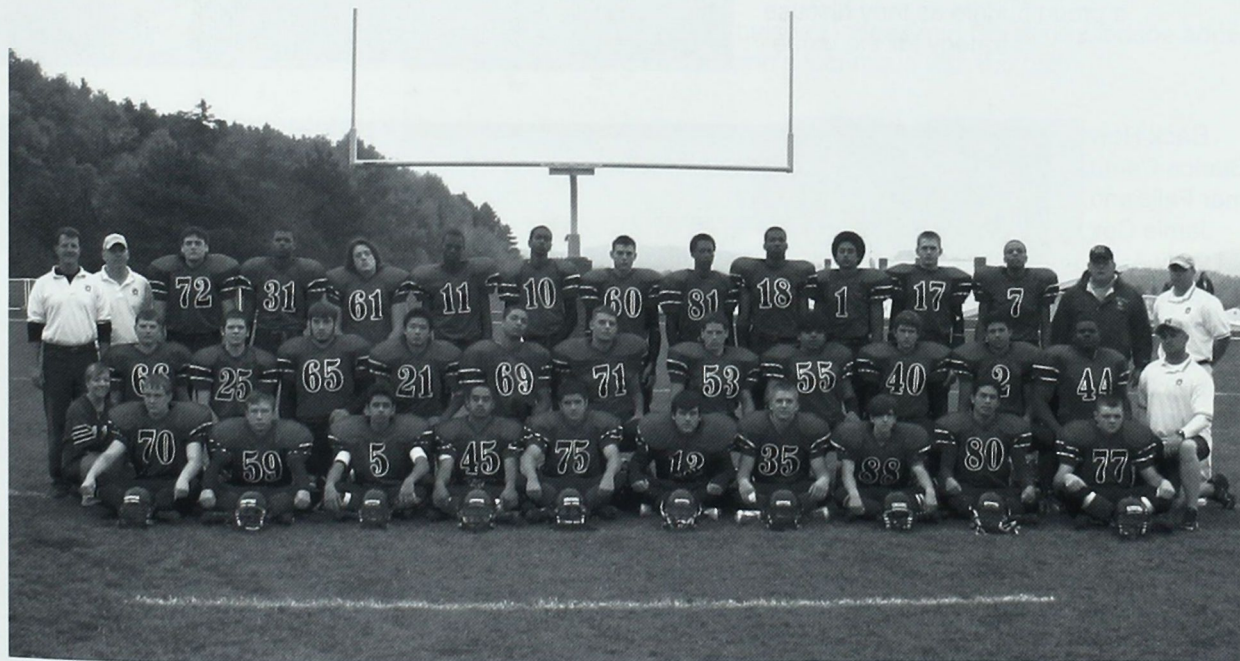

This winning season can be attributed to several factors. For one, there were many players from last year who returned to the field. There were also some very talented new players, and Coach Rodman took to the field once again. All these factors led to a winning season. Congratulations to the

Cross Country —

Bustin' Loose on the Roads

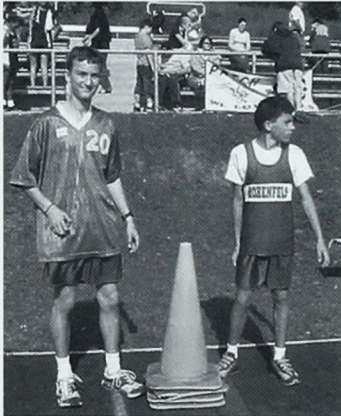

The SY 05-06 cross-country season was successful for many reasons. We had 11 runners on the team, which was an above average turn out for the team. There were 5 HS male runners; the minimum required to compete in team competitions throughout the season and the middle school enthusiasm was unprecedented.

The 2005 home meet was a successful event but, unfortunately, there were no girls on the team . . . maybe next year?

Hohenfels tennis team was very young and inexperienced this year with three 10th graders and four 9th graders, one 8th grader and one 7th grader. But it was an exciting year with a lot of traveling to the different schools, with only two home matches.

All players received a lot of experience in competitive playing both singles and doubles. All players won matches and their skill improved with each match. We are all looking forward to tennis next season, it should be a very exciting one.

Fall Cheerleaders 'bust out' in a cheer

Cheerleading is a sport. Many people, however, do not understand this. The people who feel this way are the ones who don't see the number of hours the cheerleaders put in to perfect their routines.

Just ask any cheerleader and they can tell you about the strength that is needed to do those awe inspiring pyramids and builds.

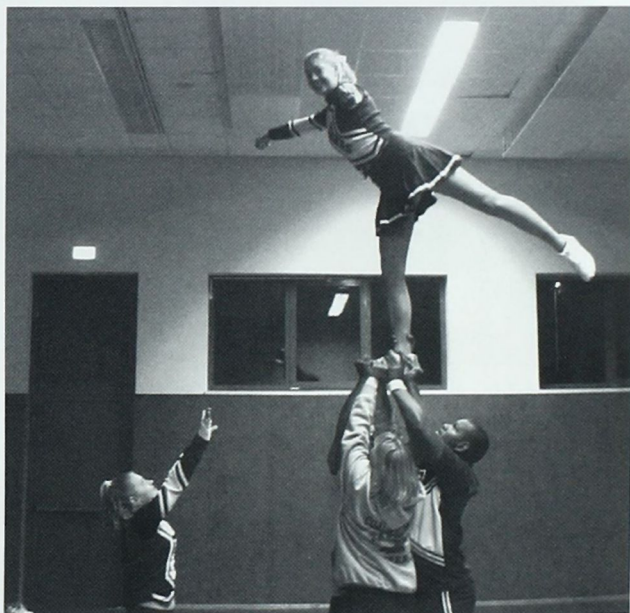

The Hohenfels cheerleaders are no exception. They practice, practice, and practice and the result is. . . a performance to be applauded by all.

Meghan Greene, Amanda Carter, and Kristi-Rene Welch show the crowds how to crunch.

The Winter Cheerleaders did a wonderful job at basketball games, cheering their hearts out to pump up the spirit of loyal fans. Despite the decrease of participants throughout the season, the Winter Cheerleaders kept spirits up and practiced hard.

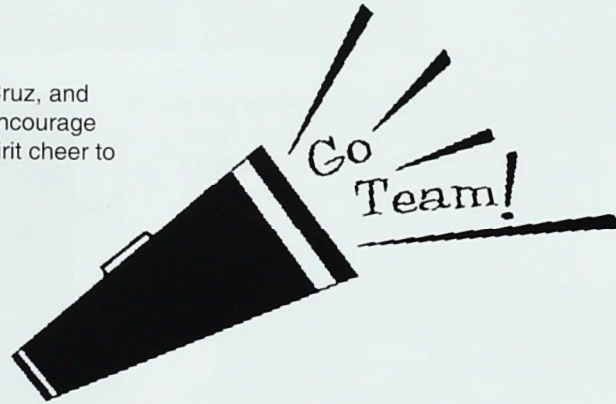

Alex Cruz was the captain of the squad and went on to receive an All-Star Cheerleader Award.

Mrs. Juanita McClure was this season's coach and her daughter, Connie Gibson, helped the cheerleaders prepare for the games.

Throughout all the difficulties, the winter cheerleaders kept up with their morale-boosting efforts.

Micielle Smith, Alex Cruz, and Vasi Papadopoulos encourage the crowd with the spirit cheer to brighten things up.

The 2005/2006 wrestling season was successful for the Tigers, who returned to the dominance they enjoyed in earlier years. After all the drilling, the sweating and weight-watching, Hohenfels High School took 2nd Place in Europe.

Paving the way for the team were Eric Vandal who took 4th Place and Dameon Odum who took 2nd Place at the European Championships. With so many athletes returning next year, look for the Tigers to continue their place at the "top of the heap!"

The school yearbook is one of the most treasured books in any American household. For the students at Hohenfels M/HS, we, the staff have done our best to create a book you will treasure.

Bethany Parks Editor-In-Chief

Throughout the year, the members of the Yearbook Staff have been having a ball

Who would ever think it would be so hard to create a yearbook. After all, all you have to do it take pictures, put them in the book and Voila', you have a yearbook. Right? Yeah!... sure!

You have to take an average of 10 pictures for each one that you use. There is always someone who has their eyes closed, not smiling or moved just as you took the picture. There are also the groups where someone was absent the day set aside to take the picture so you either have to write "Not pictured" (Who wants to be 'not pictured') or retake the picture.

You also have the problem of taking sport photos. When you are trying to take the shot and the ball is coming right at you, it is difficult not to move. Plays missed, bad lighting, movement of the subject, etc. These are all reasons it is difficult to get good sports pictures. When trying to take basketball or volleyball pictures you have to worry about the flash bothering the players, trying to get pictures on the court when they are playing and you don't want to be in the way.

You can't just dump the pictures on the page, there are certain rules you have to follow. You have to build the page somewhat like you build a house. You have to leave a certain amount of space between pictures and and between pictures and text. There are also words such as 'trapped white space', 'trapped text', 'gutter', 'bleeding off' to name a few. Each has a specific meaning when working with the yearbook.

Trying to match pictures with name is always interesting and trying to make sure that everyone is included also presents a problem.

With all this said, we have HAD A BALL and hope you enjoy your 2006 Hohenfels Yearbook.

Clubs and Organizations

A major part of school life in an American high school is the extra-curricular activities that take place after the school day is over. For those who attend high school overseas, this is especially true. Hohenfels M/HS has many clubs and organizations students may belong to and participate in after school.

Students can participate in Odyssey of the Mind (OM) which is open for all students in the middle/high school. There is also German Club which encourages students in their use of the German language. Another organization, and one that is by invitation only is National Honor Society and National Junior Honor Society. These students must meet stringent standards for admission. Model United States Senate (MUSS) encourage students to learn about their government by holding a mock MUSS in April each year.

Future Business Leaders of America is the largest student organization in America and Hohenfels has a very active chapter.

MUSS

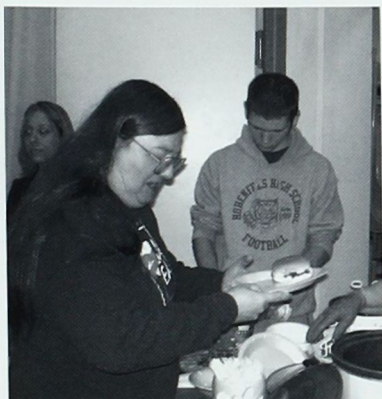

Members of Model United States Senate meet each year to discuss the state of the union. They portray senators, lobbyists, members of the cabinet, the President of the United States or any of the other positions that make our government run.

Students write bills they feel will make the United States even stronger as it strives to carry out the message of democracy across the world or make living in the United States even better. They write the bills, present them in the committee meetings, and then, if they have passed this far, take the bill to the plenary session for a vote.

Students who have attended MUSS say they have gained a better insight to how the government operates.

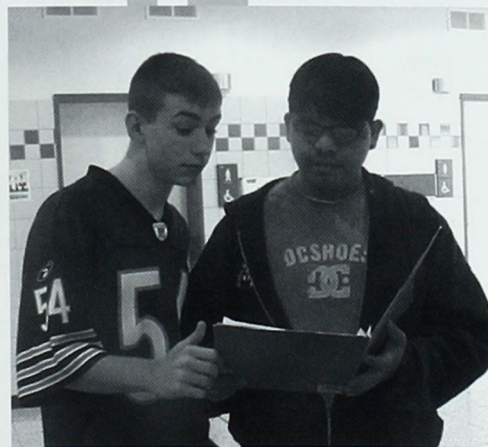

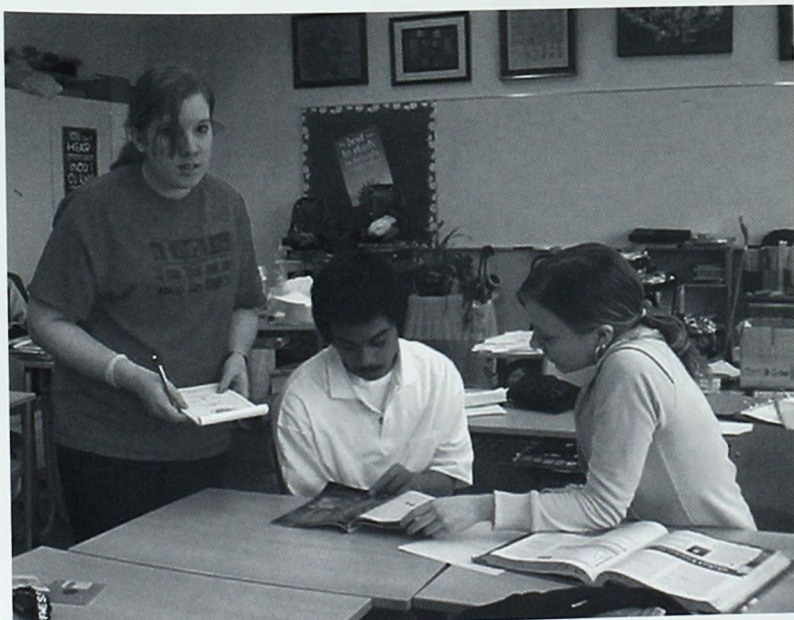

Writing things on her hand comes easy for Christina Reynolds. After all, she's a member of the Press and can tell Dawn Clagett and Jordan Allen-Baxter the new information about MUSS she has written on her hand.

MS AVID

MS AVID would not be possible without their three Tutors. Ms. Tami Tucker, Ms. Nicole Coleman, and Ms. Jackie Larkowich check binders, grade vocabulary tests, read and reread essays and in general, help the students succeed.

This year in MS AVID, the students started the year off with a bang. They sponsored the Second Annual Hot Dog Fest for those students who were entering AVID for the first time.

Their vocabulary words were from the SAT vocabulary list, they participated in Socratic Seminars, wrote essays, and worked on expanding their minds. Each student chose a lesson from the AVID curriculum book and then presented the lesson, designed the grading medium, AND graded the work.

An important part of the AVID curriculum is helping the students understand their role in the world around them. This year students in MS AVID created Veteran's Day cards and Christmas Cards which they sent to the Veteran's Hospital and Children's Memorial Hospital in Oklahoma City.

The students also collected items to place in the "Boxes for Berger" boxes. These were sent to SGT Berger who was downrange and working with a school in his area. The students filled over 25 boxes which were taken to post office and mailed.

As usual, the students will end their year with a bowling party.

Making German Look Easy

For many, the thought of speaking a foreign language is daunting. However, Frau O makes learning how to speak German easy.

The walls, windows, and doors in the room are full of German words and their meaning. Students are encouraged to not only learn in class, but to use this knowledge when they go out on the economy. To help with this, students from Ludwigsgymnasium school and the Parsberg Gymnasium visit with students at Hohenfels and then our students visited their school. Fostering better relations between the two nations is one of the goals of any foreign language teacher. German is definitely not the exception.

Outdoor Ed and JROTC

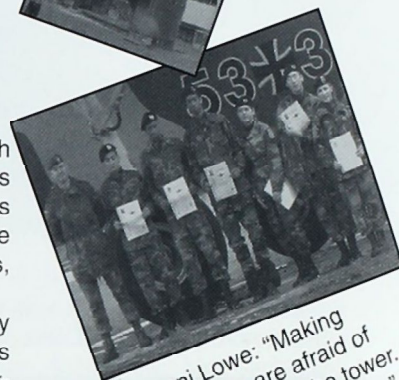

Throughout the years JROTC along with Outdoor Ed have jointly sponsored many activities for Hohenfels Middle/High School. These events include Raider Training and activities that involve anyone from the community, such as kayak trips, ski trips, and hikes.

An extensive kayak trip is also an activity that is jointly sponsored. In this event participants must kayak through the Regen River in the Bayerischerwald.

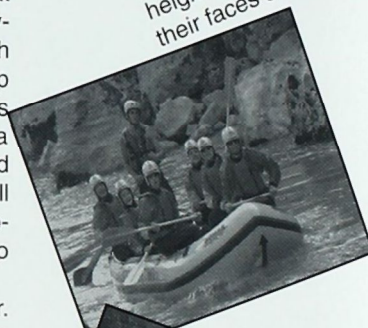

The Raider triathlon this year was held at Kallmünz. The first event was a skills test involving a cross-country land navigation phase in which raiders must have the ability to navigate with a map and compass over a 5 km course using azimuths and key terrain features. The second phase was a mountain bike race, in which raiders were required to proceed to 5 locations over hilly terrain as well as roads and identify natural and man-made objects. The third phase was a kayak trip back to Kallmünz.

A total of 6 ski trips were held this year. This is jointly sponsored by Outdoor Ed so these events are open to not only Raiders, but to cadets, classmates, and community members as well. The purpose is to teach safe skiing skills and improve the skills of already experienced skiers.

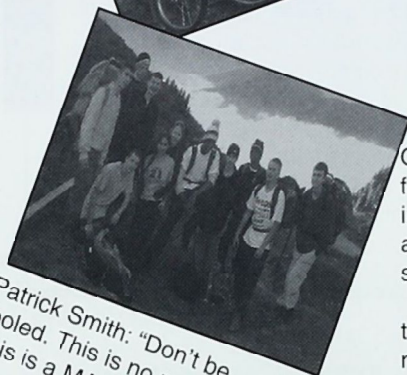

In the many years to come, both JROTC and Outdoor Ed hope to continue to work together. The experience that is offered through these activities has proven to be filled with fun, excitement, and enjoyment for all those involved. All participants eagerly look forward to future activities.

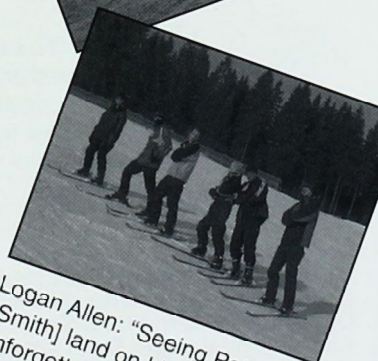

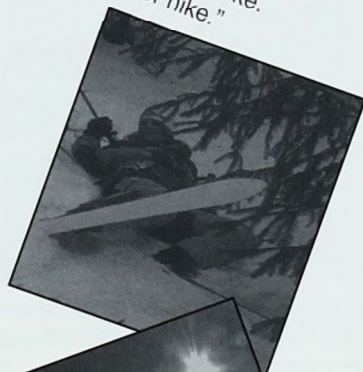

Brittani Lowe: "Making people who are afraid of heights jump off the tower... their faces are priceless."

Patrick Van Fleet: "Though it was pretty cold, the experience was exhilarating."

"Can you believe she said that", Melissa Kahler asks Erin Small.

You've heard of cruising down the river on a Sunday afternoon. Well, for Prom 2005 the attendees cruised up and down the Donau River while they dined and danced to their heart's content. The boat left the pier at Regensburg and traveled up the Donau River and then returned.

For the members of the Junior Class who worked so hard to raise the money for the prom, it was a relief when all went smoothly and there were many compliments when the evening was over.

Mrs. Lamprides, the sponsor of the Junior Class had no difficulty getting chaperones to help. The idea of a cruise appealed to many. Many were hoping it would become the tradition for Hohenfels M/HS Junior/Senior Prom.

"It will work if you put that little red wire with the green wire and plug it into the yellow hole," seems to be the opinion of Bret Green, Brandon Baxter, and Matt Blancett

Under the watchful eyes of Mrs. Lamprides, Matt Blancett is crowned Prom King 2005.

Dawn Clagett, Charlotte Hatch, and Jannika Haws paint the backdrop for the Jungle Bloke performance.

Odyssey of the Mind (OM) is a creative problem solving organization for students to expand their knowledge using innovative solutions. Students are given a choice of five long-term problems to solve at the beginning of the school year where they then choose their problem and form a team of 5-7 people. They spend all year constructing their problems to present at competition. They also must solve a spontaneous problem given the day of competition, which can range from role-playing, creative engineering or verbal conundrums.

This year, 21 Hohenfels Middle/High School students competed in three teams doing three different problems: The Jungle Bloke, Geometry Structure, and Ancient Egypt. Competition was held March 3-5, 2006 at the Edelweiss Lodge and Resort in Garmisch, Germany.

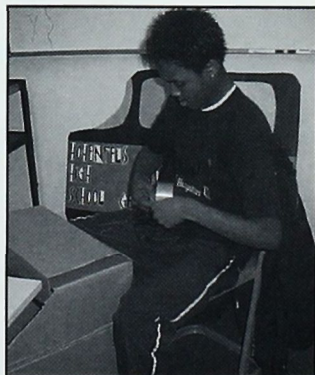

The event consisted of 275 students comprising 43 teams from 21 schools representing 6 countries. Hohenfels Middle/High School took away two first place Division III awards for their teams "Ancient Egypt" and "Geometry Structure." They also garnered second place for their team "The Jungle Bloke." Two of the three individual OMER awards were won by Hohenfels students Dawn Clagett and Bethany Parks.

College Night

College Night has become a regular feature at most high schools. This is especially true for the DoDDS schools. Being overseas, our students do not have the opportunity to visit different colleges; so the school brings the colleges to the students.

From all over the community, people bring information about their favorite college or university to the attention of the students.

The regulars come each year but there are always some new colleges on display. This year we had more representatives than ever before.

Bethany Parks and Sergeous Anikin look over the selection of information available.

Constitution Day

September 27, 2006, was the 218th Birthday of the Constitution of the United States. To celebrate this momentous occasion, the students at Hohenfels M/HS held a birthday party.

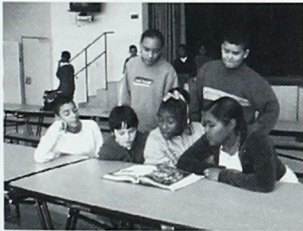

To set the scene, the flags of all fifty states lined the walls of the Great Hall and the students rose as the JROTC Color Guard presented the Colors. After the Pledge of Allegiance, Mrs. Jones sang the National Anthem and then invited the students to join her and the band in The Star Spangled Banner.

A presentation about the Constitution and what it means to the citizens of the United States was given. After the Colors were retired, the students were invited to sign a copy of their Constitution and then have a piece of the birthday cake.

We've Got Spirit

Spirit Week is one of the most exciting weeks of the school year. You can be yourself whether it be Pajama Day, Wacky/Tacky Day, or Backward Day.

Spirit Week ends with a pep rally held Friday afternoon before the big Homecoming Game and Dance. This year it was hosted by Senior members of Student Council; Melissa Kahler, Tyler Arnett, and Jordan Allen-Baxter..

Ms. Tucker watches as Megan Kasse tries to figure out which shoes belong to her.

Student Council

The Student Council at Hohenfels Middle/High School serves as the democratic way for all citizens of the school to have a say in the operation of the school. Through Student Council, every student's voice can be heard. Their goal is to keep the students, principal, and teachers informed of everyone's ideas, needs, wants, and opinions.

The Student Council also makes sure that everyone in the school cooperates in the day-to-day responsibilities of being part of a school community, enjoying improvements, special activities, and working together on specific problems.

Student Council coordinates the events of the Homecoming and Winter Formal dances, and Hohenfels' infamous Spirit Week, including bonfires, dress-up days, and the crowning of the Homecoming and Winter Formal courts.

Members of the Student Council for SY 2005-2006 are:

Seventh Grade: Rebecca Matheson, Tori Adams and Vanessa Cole

Eighth Grade: Jannika Haws and Emily Nelson

Student Council Board Members: Lyndy Axon, Dawn Clagett, Bethany Parks

A Night of Music and spaghetti.

An event that was spectacularly unique....

It started as a thought and grew and grew and grew. With all the musically talented members on the Hohenfels M/HS staff, why not have a concert so we can show off. Great idea!! What if... what would happen if... What would happen if we teamed that with a fund-raiser for the Scholarship Fund. How could we do that?

Someone came up with the brilliant idea of having a spaghetti dinner at the end of the concert and the Night of Music and Food became a reality.

Some seniors worked with Ms. Michele Wolff to prepare the food, others worked to decorate the Great Hall, and still others acted as ushers and waiters.

The music was coordinated by Mrs. Wojciechowsky and Ms. Dusenberry. From guitars to flutes, from piano to bells, the music was a variety of delightful entertainment.

The audience from the oldest to the youngest enjoyed the music immensely. Young Master Bryant, about 2 years of age, led the music from the back of the room and didn't miss a beat. He definitely enjoyed himself.

The concert ended with the Bell Choir playing several different tunes. It was a wonderful setting for the tasty dinner that was to come.

There was plenty of food for all and the service was always prompt.

It was a wonderful idea!!

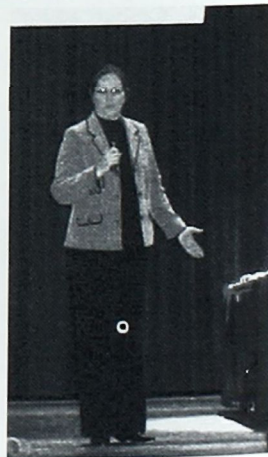

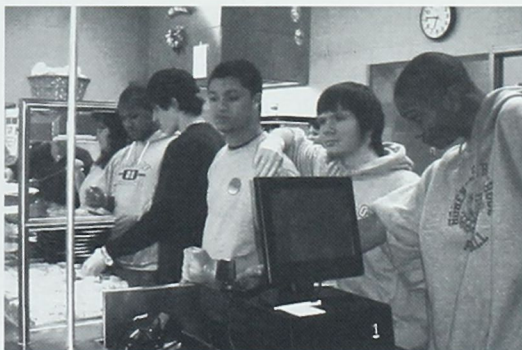

Mr. Ben Wojciechowsky entertains the audience with a flute solo.

With only 10 minutes to go, Ms. Michele Wolff, chef extraordinaire, gives her blessing to the staff.

Winter Formal

The Winter Formal Dance for Hohenfels HS was held in the Great Hall on March 18, 2006. It was truly a Winter Formal since the snow was still inches thick on the ground and the temperature hovered around freezing.

To warm up the dancers, the theme was Mardi Gras. Students had worn shiny beads all week to get people in the mood for this gala. There was an excellent turnout for the dance.

Everybody was decked out in purple, gold and green, the official Mardi Gras colors, and everyone received complimentary Mardi Gras beads.

In keeping with the Mardi Gras theme, all proceeds from the dance went to help the Hurricane Katrina victims in New Orleans, Louisiana.

The Students at Hohenfels Middle/High School

Being 'Military Brats' they move quite often but always manage to make friends in their new school. They definitely believe in the scout song "Make new friends, but keep the old" as many of them still correspond with friends they had at other schools.

Everywhere you look you will see members of the video team chronicling the events at Hohenfels M/HS

Middle School

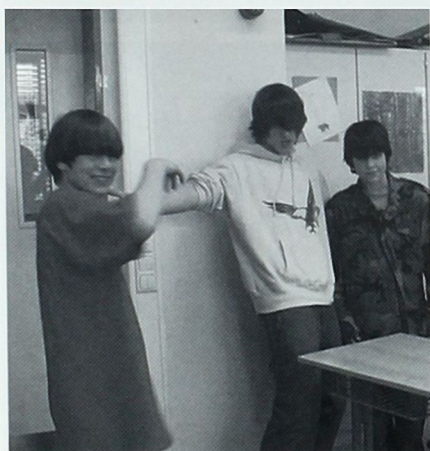

Middle School students in grades 7 and 8 are busy making the transition from elementary school to high school. Middle school students have their core classes; English, Social Studies, Math, and Science, and then they have their wheel classes.

The wheel classes are meant to acquaint the students with the different course selections they can make when they get in high school. Foreign languages, PE, art, and keyboarding are all on the wheel. They also can choose MS AVID and band as year long courses.

Yes, the world of the Middle Schooler is definitely different.

Fresh from the elementary school, the Seventh Grade students have a whole new world to conquer.

Gone are the days of recess twice a day, a nap in the afternoon with snack time during the morning. In its place they face four classes per day, each 90 minutes long, different classrooms, different teachers, and many people much larger than they are.

However, there is a good side. Seventh graders can participate in Cross-Country, Odyssey of the Mind, Yearbook, and a myriad of after school, extra-curricular activities. Yes, for the seventh grade students, Middle/High School is a very different animal, but one they quickly adjust to and do well.

The Seventh Graders

Eighth Grade

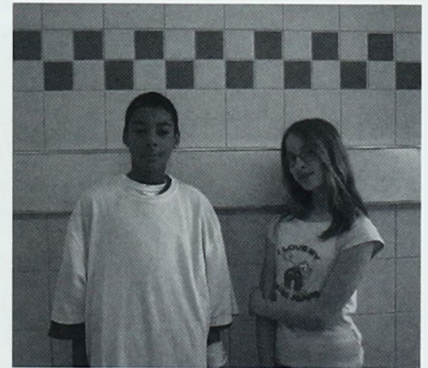

Students in the Eighth Grade face even more choices this year. They have more freedom in selecting their elective subjects. Some chose Business Enterprise, others chose Computer Apps and still others chose MS AVID.

Since they are no longer the 'low man on the totem pole' they began to show their independence. Several students in the eighth grade went out for cross-country and track and field. The going was tough at times but it taught the students the benefits of perseverance.

Several students in the eighth grade went out for Track and Field this year and did very well. Justin Smith for one placed first in his competition. There are several organizations open for students in the middle school; FBLA, Odyssey of the Mind, some sports activities, and Yearbook are all organizations that welcome the students in the middle school.

Eighth grade is a time to grow and explore and this year the students did just that. They will be a force to be reckoned with in the future.

The members of the Eighth Grade class were unanimous in their choice of Jazmine Calhoun and Ron Sloan as Best Dancers

There was no question about it, Vanessa Wells and Darnell Busby were definitely the Biggest Gossipers in the Eighth Grade, possibly the entire school.

Freshman Class. . . on a Roll

When it comes to the Freshman Class, they are eagerly busting their way into the 'real' world of high school

Mr. and Mrs. Lynch have taken on the formidable job of sponsoring the Freshman Class.

For many students, their freshman year is one of the most confusing. They mastered the seven periods when they were in middle school but NOW the grades really count. They go on the dreaded transcript for all to see. Some students learned this during middle school and for them, the task of making good grades will not be too difficult.

For the others, however, they have the signs around the school to remind them that in order to graduate, they must have a GPA of 2.0.

The freshman year also brings sports into their lives. They can now play high school contact sports; football, basketball, soccer, and baseball. They have to balance practice, games, and road trips with their school work. For some this seems to be an insurmountable problem. Those dreaded weekly grade checks tend to make believers out of them. Bad grades and you won't be allowed to play. Since colleges are also instituting higher grade requirements, this is good practice for those who plan to play sports in college.

Since they are 'just freshman' this means that they are at the bottom of the pecking order in the high school. They have gone from being eighth grade BMOC's to lowly peons as freshmen. This does take some getting use to but most have mastered the idea by the end of the first quarter.

Emily Mittag is finding something funny in her math book. Wish I did.

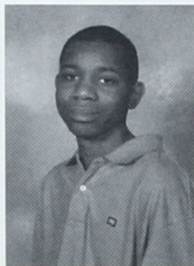

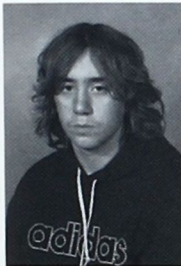

Loisann DeLass and Michael Barnes are the Most Athletic in the Freshmen Class, at least that is what they say.

Sophomore Class

Members of the Sophomore Class feel that they have this school business down. They weathered their first year as 'plebes' and have scoped out the scene. Of course, there are always bumps in the road but these are easily overcome if they pay attention to the rules and study hard.

Mr. Roark, the class sponsor has worked to instill a sense of pride in the class as they begin to raise money in earnest for their junior and senior years. The class sold goodies at the school carnival and Math, Science, and Technology Night.

For many in the sophomore class they are beginning to look at their future and what classes they need to take now to assure that their dreams can be realized. The new combined Honors English-Honors World History classes is one example of planning ahead. Taking classes with a more rigorous curriculum helps these students prepare for college after high school.

These rigorous courses did not preclude their being involved in many of the different after school activities however. Many performed well in their chosen sport or other after school activity.

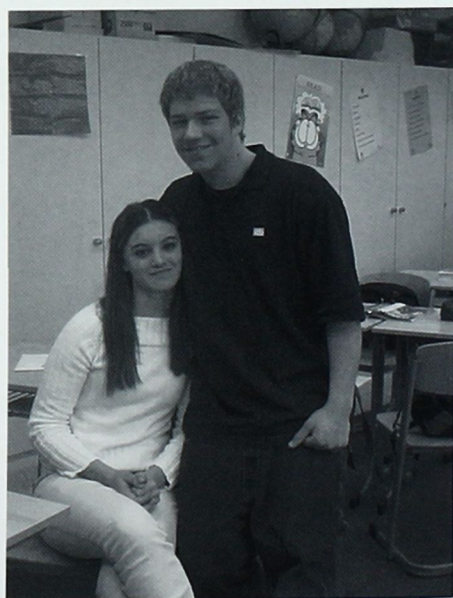

Nick Payne learns a new skill, hope he doesn't stick his finger.

The Jivin' Juniors

Class of 2007

The Class of 2007 took on the daunting task of fund-raising to throw the most amazing Junior/Senior Prom in Hohenfels history. From the first day, their sponsor, B.J. Nicklin, had them primed and ready to go.

Under the leadership of President Jessica Grazier, Vice President Kirsten Arnold and Secretary/Treasurer Meghan Greene, the Juniors rallied to raise enough money for a fabulous Midnight Masquerade in an ancient castle. From a bowl-a-thon, donut sales, after school snacks and grilling in the "Box," the Juniors will be well prepared to face the even bigger challenge of graduation. Yes, you can definitely say that the Jivin' Juniors are on their way.

Ms. B. J. Nicklin took on the exciting job of being Junior Class Sponsor.

Lyndy Axon works hard to solve the double loop dilemma on the K'Nex roller coaster for physics.

Say "Cheese!"

Front: Rachel Milock, Daniel Thompson and Jessica Grazier. Back: Charlie Hatch, Christina Reynolds, Kenny Oberlin and Vanessa Turner

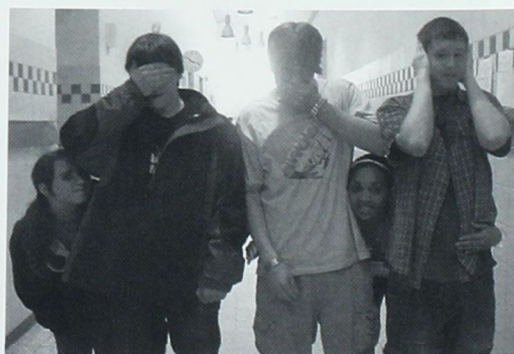

Junior Class Officers:
Secretary/Tres. Meghan Greene, President: Jessica Grazier and Vice President: Kirsten Arnold.

Mr. Bones checks to see if Christina Reynolds is enjoying her spaghetti dinner.

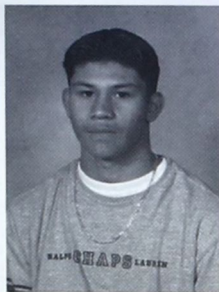

Christina Reynolds and Eric Vandal relax by looking out the window at the 'snow again' weather.

Hannah Porter and Cheryl Singleton check to see if Kevin Simpson, Vince Elmore, and William Chewning are really 'seeing no evil, speaking no evil, and hearing no evil'.

Each of us must climb our separate mountain
To reach at last our own extended view.
We can be no more than what we are,
Yet that is quite enough for us to do.

The world is far too great for comprehension,
And so we only know what we can know.
But given the abilities we're given,
That's still a long and weary way to go.

Yet on the way, how beautiful the moments!
How good it feels to have some skill or art!
How wonderful to pause in awestruck wonder
At what must fill the unsuspecting heart!

And so we're proud of each of you today
For all you've learned, and all you've tried to learn.
Knowledge brings the deepest satisfaction,
Not least because it's something that you earn.

The Class of 2006

Say Good Bye

After Commencement

Across the trampled program-littered grass
A thousand yellow chairs have broken ranks
Before the ramrod silver microphone
That stands there on the platform unaddressed
And finished with the clichés of command.

O ceremony, ceremony! Let Expression be the mere formality
The day demands; for emptiness alone
Has generality enough to send
Yet one more generation to the world.

And platitudes become the things they are
By being uninformative and true.
The words that for the hundredth time today
Bounced off the sunlit stone into the past
Have made the silence deeper by degrees.

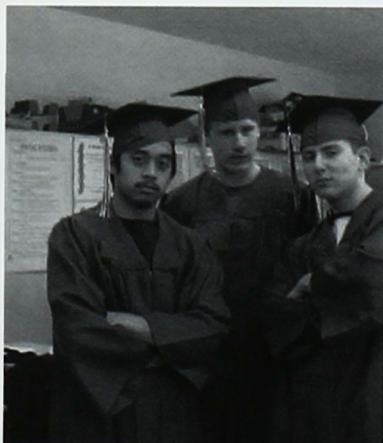

Chris Tsemelis, Tyler Arnett, Jason McBride, and Jordan Allen-Baxter compare the fit of their gowns.

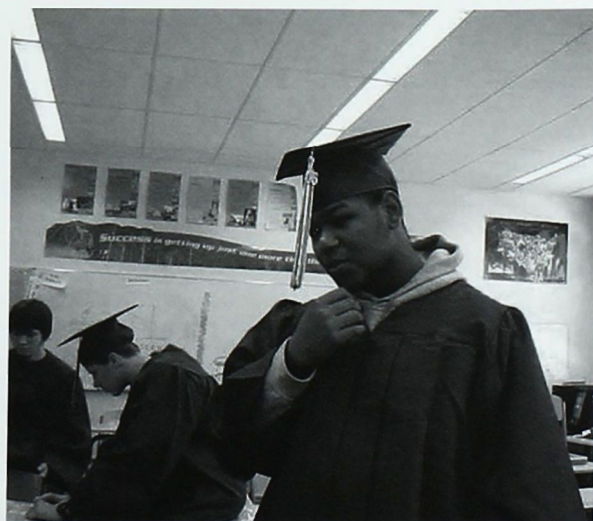

Bethany Parks tries her gown on just one more time to make sure it will fit.

Kalani Afelin, Karl Hoeh, and Chris Cote, show off their gowns.

*We have had such great fun with you through all your school years.
You have been such a joy to have as a daughter and we wish you a life of joy and happiness too!*

Melissa,

Throughout the past four years you have brought a bright light into the lives of the students and faculty at Hohenfels M/H.S.

Your smiling face, your willingness to always pitch in, and your ability to lead by example are only three of the attributes that make you special, the person you are. We are going to miss your bright smile and your laugh.

Best wishes as you climb even higher on the ladder of success.

For Bethany Rose,
with much love and pride from
Mom, Dad, Dana, & Huckleberry

Congratulations!
Today is your day.
You're off to Great Places!
You're off and away!
You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself
any direction you choose.
Just never forget to be dexterous and deft.
And never mix up your right foot with your left.
...You'll move mountains!
Today is your day!
Your mountain is waiting.
So...get on your way!

Dear Jason,

We want you to know that since the day you were born you have given us more joy and happiness than words can ever express and wonderful memories to fill our hearts and minds for several lifetimes. We are extremely honored, blessed and proud to call you our "SON".

Please remember, that as you make your way into this world, travel near or far, reach new heights and achievements, we will always be here for you. May the journey of your life be filled with adventures to thrill you, new roads to explore, and new horizons to reach, and may you achieve success in whatever you do! We love you very much and we will miss you dearly!!!

Congratulations on your graduation!

Letter to the Yearbook Staff and others

Well, it has been fun. This has been an experience for everyone. There were some long days and frustrating nights that went into the make-up of this book. There were times you tried my patience but I think you learned much about producing a yearbook, about business and about life. We learned that pictures don't always turn out and deadlines must be met. I have enjoyed working with all of you. You have all shown me that you have a sense of responsibility, a sense of humor, and a willingness to learn.

Bethany, if it weren't for hours you worked, we would have no pictures on pages. Thank you for the help and the encouragement. I learned as much as I have. Just think, next year you will be at college on their yearbook staff. You certainly have the experience for it. I did it without you.

Rachel and Christina. What can I say. Your willingness to go through pictures (sometimes for the 3rd time since the computer ate made my life much easier. Hopefully, next year we will have a single system keeping the yearbook 'stuff' and won't have to keep transferring it from one place to another. Of course, the halls won't be the same without us saying, layout for the freshman class."

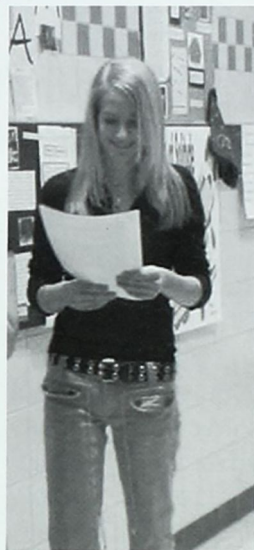

Our experience this year with the yearbook is like riding on a roller coaster. There are many ups and downs and the ride is thrilling. When things look the worst (you are about to lose it all) the end comes in sight and you have gone through that last loop, dropped from the terrifying, seemingly open space, and the car is coming to a stop. Thank you for the ride. I look forward to the next one.

To Mr. Rea and Mr. Danna. You have no idea how much it meant to the yearbook staff to know that you were only a "HELP" away. There were many things we either didn't know, knew enough to get us into trouble, or just couldn't find and you both had the patience to say, OK. Here is what you do. Believe me when I say, "We couldn't have done it without you. Mrs. Cullum and Mrs. Garcia. You were lifesavers. Your pictures were great and I will hold you to your promise.

Karen and Angela. Thank you for the hours of proofread, editing, marking, etc. Hopefully, there will be very few instances where a name is mixed up, misspelled, etc. To all the teachers who sighed when we interrupted the class to get a missing picture I know it is difficult at times to have someone come in and out of your class. Again, thank you for your patience.

For those who came in to help for a bit, thank you for helping. Samantha. You were such an addition to the staff. I am sorry you had to move but hope you are enjoying your new home.

To the students of Hohenfels Middle/High School. Yearbook Staff is very proud of the 2006 yearbook. We hope you enjoy looking at it as much as we did producing the book. Remember, the high school annual is the last time that 80% of the people in the United States are mentioned in print until their obituary. We have tried our best to make this, the 2006 Hohenfels Yearbook, the BEST.
