Matthew C. Perry Elementary School

WELCOME TO OUR SCHOOL

Matthew Calbraith Perry
In 1853 Perry was sent on a mission to Japan to re-open trade routes. Japan was a country that had been closed to outsiders since the 17th century. On July 8, 1853, he lead a squadron of 4 ships into Tokyo Bay and presented representatives of the emperor with the text of a proposed commercial and friendship treaty. The treaty was accepted on March 31, 1854, opening the ports of Shimoda and Hakodate to U.S. trade.

HISTORIC FACTS

- Started in 1955 by the Army and was called the American Dependents School.
- Navy took over 1957,

giving the school its present name.

- A year later the Marine Corps took over and retained the name.

- The school enrolls Sure Start through sixth grade students with an approximate population of 570.

COMPARING PAST AND PRESENT

PAST

The school began with 4 elementary teachers.

PRESENT

It now has 23 elementary and 15 specialists.

PAST

In 1984 the schools were combined into a unit school.

PRESENT

The schools were separated into elementary and high schools in 1987.

Sammy
Samurai

It isn't clear when Sammy Samurai became the school's mascot. However, the samurai was chosen because he is a respected and traditional figure of Japanese culture.
