VOLLEYBALL

Sponsor volleyball! Who asked that? Just arrived. Don't pet that cat.'' Kordon meals all day - all night. The guys think my girls are quite a sight!

We'll use our bus, you use another. Late again · here comes a mother. "Honest," says Caroline, "The bus was late." "It wasn't because I had a date."

Susan agrees and tries to explain.
"The boys took our bus," she cries with distain.
Exercises, exercises · every day!
"Deniz is in the locker room," some girls say.

"She and Monique are taking their time.
Trying to be late for the exercise line."
A couple of other girls are dragging their feet.
It's hard on Ondira trying to stay sweet.

Come on girls! Run around the gym! Knees up, arms down, loosen every limb! Barbara bruised her hands chasing after balls. Evelyn hurt her knee after several falls.

Theresa lost her glasses once in a while. And Tanya, Gail, and Cheryl ended in a pile. But then the game was started. The Varsity and JV's were parted.

Cindy scored high with her eagle eye. And many a game went into a tie. With the JV's winning their share of the pie.

Penny couldn't believe this was happening to them. The team put their heads together and decided to send Lisa to set up and Fran to spike
To get a score they all would like.

Much good practice continued every day. All was anticipation for the games away.

Improvement was obvious, we put up a great fight.

A few games we won, and others were tight.

The bodies got in shape, the minds were bright and clear.

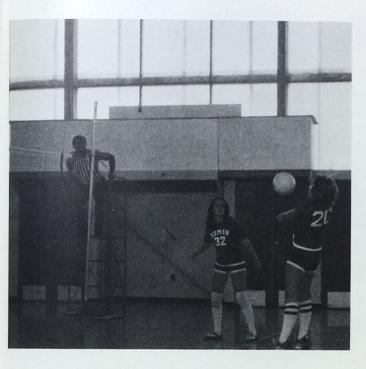

Then from the back of the bus, came another cheer.

Enthusiasm — we never did lack That's not fiction. That's a fact!

A Lady Of Many

She is energetic And fancy free She cares for us all Both you and me.

We wouldn't trade her For anything less. We all have our standards And know she's the best.

Though she is short Her talents are many We all love her much We wouldn't trade her for any. When your head is a mess
And your routine's out of wack,
Her smile lifts you up
And gets you back on the

This wonderful lady Is one of a kind. She teaches all day Then spends extra time.

She puts up with complaining
And sad sorrow tears
And with a motherly touch
She calms all our fears.

But how could she know There would be twenty-three Proud young ladies Like you and me.

The Junior Varsity Gymnastics Team had a very good season this year. In all three meets against Ankara and Incirlik, the J.V. Team came out winning. The Senior Varsity did very well also and came in second. All the hard work and practice was worth it. We credit our success to our coach, Mrs. Janis Wood and our assistant coaches Mrs. Zappa, Mrs. Gaviola, and Mrs. Coffman.

STAGE FRIGHT

It's opening night. Oh, what shall I do?
All of my dreams are about to come true.

Butterflies in my stomach, a lump in my throat.

My hands are shaking it isn't a joke!

My voice is weak, my head's in a stew. Oh, what will I do if I miss that first cue!

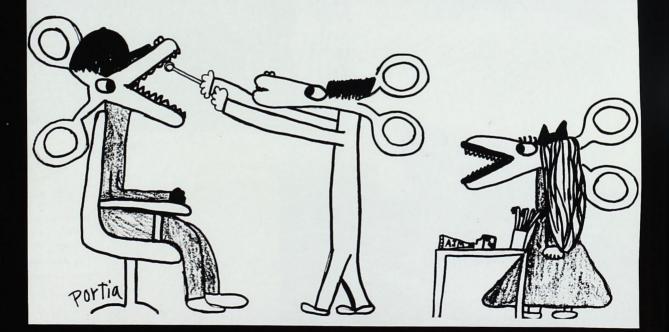

Only 2 minutes left. The lights are so bright! Is my makeup on straight? Do I look alright?

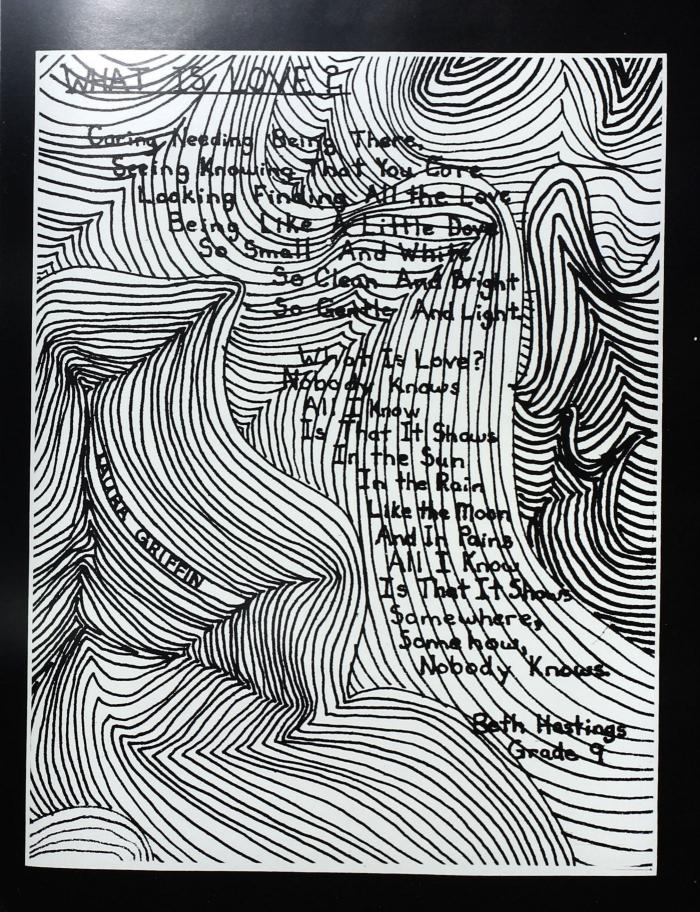

There are so many people sitting out there. I want to go home. Believe me I'm scared!

I'm out here at last. Well, what do you know, It isn't so bad. Let's go on with the show.
