This year was not our best year, nor it was not the worst. From the start it was all about changing history and becoming a better program. As a team we learned that no one person can change anything, but as a group you can change a lot. This season, we changed a lot of people and we became stronger, faster, and better. ## LETTERS FROM THE EDITORS

Letter from the Editor-in-Chief

This year has been absolutely crazy getting the yearbook done, but I wouldn't trade the experience for anything in the world. I really wanted to make a book that everyone would enjoy and that would really be a great sendoff to the seniors this year. Hence the flipping book! I hope everyone really enjoys that :)

Making the yearbook has really been fun for me, even though it was quite stressful at times, and even landed me in the hospital (I'm fine, though!) Designing things like this is truly my passion and what I want to do for the

I would like to thank Mr. Hrushka, my Junior Editors, and the rest of the Yearbook Staff for all of the work they did this year. I know I was hard on you all at times, but you pulled through and I am in LOVE with the rerest of my life. sults! (Just like I hope everyone else is.) I would also like to give a huge shout out to those people who really came through for me and supported me with all of the extra last minute stress: Ally Murphy, Kelly Marshall, Emily Crawford, Angela Frausto and my family. I'm not sure the yearbook would be what it is without them. I wish the underclassmen who will take over next year the best of luck and hope that everything they produce is amazing and enjoyable for everyone. I am confident that everything that you guys have done this year and all of

I truly hope you enjoy and cherish this yearbook as much as I will. It is my baby and I will keep it with me always as well as keeping all of you in my heart.

Thanks for the great year! Danielle Holland

Letter From the Junior Editors

It's been a long journey this entire year finishing off with a yearbook that we all can be proud of. Personally, I know we all had to blow the dust off the knowledge we previously had with Photoshop to become apprentices under Danielle's and Mr.Hrushka's wings. We're all thankful for the mentorship and will continue on to become Masters in the skill. Hopefully you'll enjoy our creation as much as we had fun making it.

Makaela Premont, Jessica McCarron, Kelly Marshall

Yearbook Sponsor

I want use this space to thank several of our yearbook staff who worked above and beyond what was required individually from them. It's the old adage, 20% doing 80% of the work. It's hard in the beginning of the year to see the big picture of what is involved in designing the layout and completing a yearbook on time. So many pieces of the puzzle (pictures/pages/text) to consider and to coordinate all aspects of it. It's definitely a team effort and it's very rewarding to see the finished product in hand.

This book could not have materialized without the management and organizational skills of our editor Danielle Holland. She was always so calm and collective even as I was pushing her to complete many necessary tasks on time. I found I could always count on her to come through. A few others that stood out where Emily Crawford, Kelly Marshall, Tanner Manosa, Makaela Premont, and Jess McCarron. I so appreciate them for their dedication. And thank you fellow teachers for enduring all the interruptions caused throughout the year in order to accomplish it all. Mr. Hrushka

FCK Stadium

1920

It was built in 1920 and used to be called Sportplatz Betzenberg. It initally consisted of one wooden stand, a sandy pitch, and chaning facilities for the players.

1953

The Betrzenberg was expanded and at that time could hold just over 30,000 specatators.

Late '70s, Mid 80's

After both ends had undergone extensive refurbishments, the redevelopment was complete, and the stadium could now hold 38,000 people. The name was also changed to Fritz-Walter-Stadion.

2006

The Stadium was selected as a playing venue for the 2006 World Cup, which started another expansion on bot ends.

During the 2006 World Cup, the Stadium hosted four group matches and the round of 16 match between Italy and Australia (2-1)

1930

The wooden stand was destroyed during a heavy storm, which resulted in a new main stand and concrete terraces.

1963, 1973

The club kept expanding and modernising the stadium, with new stands along the sides of the stadium

1994, 1998

A new North Stand opened and later followed by a new South Stand

Thirteen years ago dad and I took you to school for the very first time as you started Kindergarten. I held your hand on that first day and I was excited as you began on your long journey of school life. While we waited, you were energized and eager to begin that day. As you walked away with your class I stood there and felt tears in my eyes. Of course dad said "What are you upset about? He's not leaving us. He'll be back in a few hours." Leave it to dad. And so for the last 13 years that you have attended school I've always known that you would be back in a few hours. But this year as you left for school on your very first day as a senior I knew our time together was ticking away faster than I wanted it to. Yes you would be back "in a few hours" but you're getting closer to the time that you are going to leave us to begin on your adult journey. As you begin this journey you need to remember that the world is not that big of a place and can be easily conquered by a Man like you. So journey out and enjoy the pleasures of what life has to offer. There are many opportunities out there, take the time to watch a sun rise or the sun set or to smell the flower that may be right next to you. As sad as it makes us to have you leave we know that you are ready. Dad and I could not be more proud of you Michael. You are truly the son that any parent would want and wish for and the epitome of an understanding, caring and loving adult. Dad and I wish you all the best as you travel down this new road. Although you may no lo

You have been the joy and the light of our lives since the day you were born. You are a beautiful girl both inside and out. We hope you know how very proud we are of you and all you have accomplished and we congratulate you on your graduation! Things have not always come easy for you, but through your hard work and determination, loving teachers and God's blessings, you have accomplished much. Although most of the time we have lived on different continents it has made the time we have spent together all the more important and memorable. During our vacations we traveled together to many places and many countries, an experience many do not get to do. We enjoyed the last two summers that you spent with us getting your drivers license and visiting colleges and look forward to your return to the States. You have made your parents and us proud and you should be proud for that. We know that you will do well as you

Dear Jessica-Laura,

I am happy! I've been happy since I knew you were coming! For two years I've been sad that you would leave because I will miss: your laugh, your one-liners, your cooking and your passions for music, computers, and PT.

Especially this year, but in reality I've always been-everyday-I have been proud of you. Try to not worry about "What I'm To Be". Many adults still don't know what they want to be when they grow up. I didn't know until I was 20 that I wanted to live overseas, and I was uncertain I'd like teaching. I was fortunate to love my job and where my job took me. But, I was 25 years old before it all came together. I support you in culinary arts, and becoming a personal trainer.

I consider you the absolutely best human being I've ever known! Congratulations on being not only gorgeous, but having gorgeousness along with kindness, smarts and humor with a degree-to boot!

Cassidy, you're my best and truest friend. From playing on Joel's boat to now graduating high school and going into the real world you have always been there for me and never let me down. Ever since we met in 3rd grade you have been my shoulder to cry on and I am so glad we met. Even when you moved to Germany I knew you'd be there for me anytime I needed you. I love you and I dearly miss you. Hope to see you soon, your best friend and your sister, Courtney B.

I knew Cassidy when she was just five, not so long ago. She came to school with big brown eyes and her little face all a glow. She was eager to learn, but ready to play, Always making friends in her sweet kind way. Then she moved away and traveled the world, Exploring new lands and new sights, what a girl!

Yes, I knew Cassidy not so long ago. What? What's that you say? She's finished High School,

No way! Where did the time go? How can it be? Seems like it was just yesterday I was helping with her backwards threes.

> Oh, I guess I lost count of the yearsit's easy to do.

Now you're a lovely young lady -it's true But I will always remember that brown eyed little girl that first came to school,

> Not so long ago. With love and best wishes

Follow your dreams, they can come true. The world is waiting for your arrival, to be whatever you want to be. We are so proud of you! Love, Nanna and Pappaw

Ms. Cassidy.

It has been such a pleasure to observe your maturation process. You have grown from a somewhat timid sophomore in chemistry to an assertive, confident senior physics student. Not many students suffer through four courses with me and you have managed it gracefully. I have greatly appreciated your assistance in bringing order to the chaos that is my classroom. You are my favorite career practicum student in fourth period! Your willingness to help others, whether it is with learning some challenging academic concept or trying to navigate teenage drama, consistently impresses me. The world is definitely a better place with you in it! Thank you for making it easier for mean, old teachers like me to maintain hope in future generations! May your units always cancel properly and may you continue to enjoy the chemistry and physics that surround you!

Mr. Rahn

Ally,

As I held you when you were a baby,
I never could have imagined the joy you would bring to my life. You have grown up to be an amazing young woman and I couldn't be more proud of all you have accomplished. The one thing I want you to remember as you begin your next chapter is, "If you can dream it, you can do it!" Reach for the stars baby girl, the world is at your feet and can't wait to watch what you do with it. I love you!

Mom

Ally aka Allupa aka CRACK!

want you to know how very proud of you am, It is hard to believe you have grown into the young lady you are from our very own Cabbage Patch Doll. You have taken advantage of the opportunities you've been given and turned the setbacks into positive experiences that have made you stronger and going forward will make your success that much sweeter. You are a true leader, a great person and I am honored to be your Dad. I love you!

To the Class of 2013...

Just rememoer when you're working at McOonald's. the quantity and quality of the ourgers you've made aren't as important as quantity and quality of the ourgers you're making.

Seniors, consider this as you go out in the world. People who enjoy what they are doing invariably do it well. Do what you like, like what you do.

Do what you like, like what you do.
