Nike-Zeus Acquisition Radar Transmitter

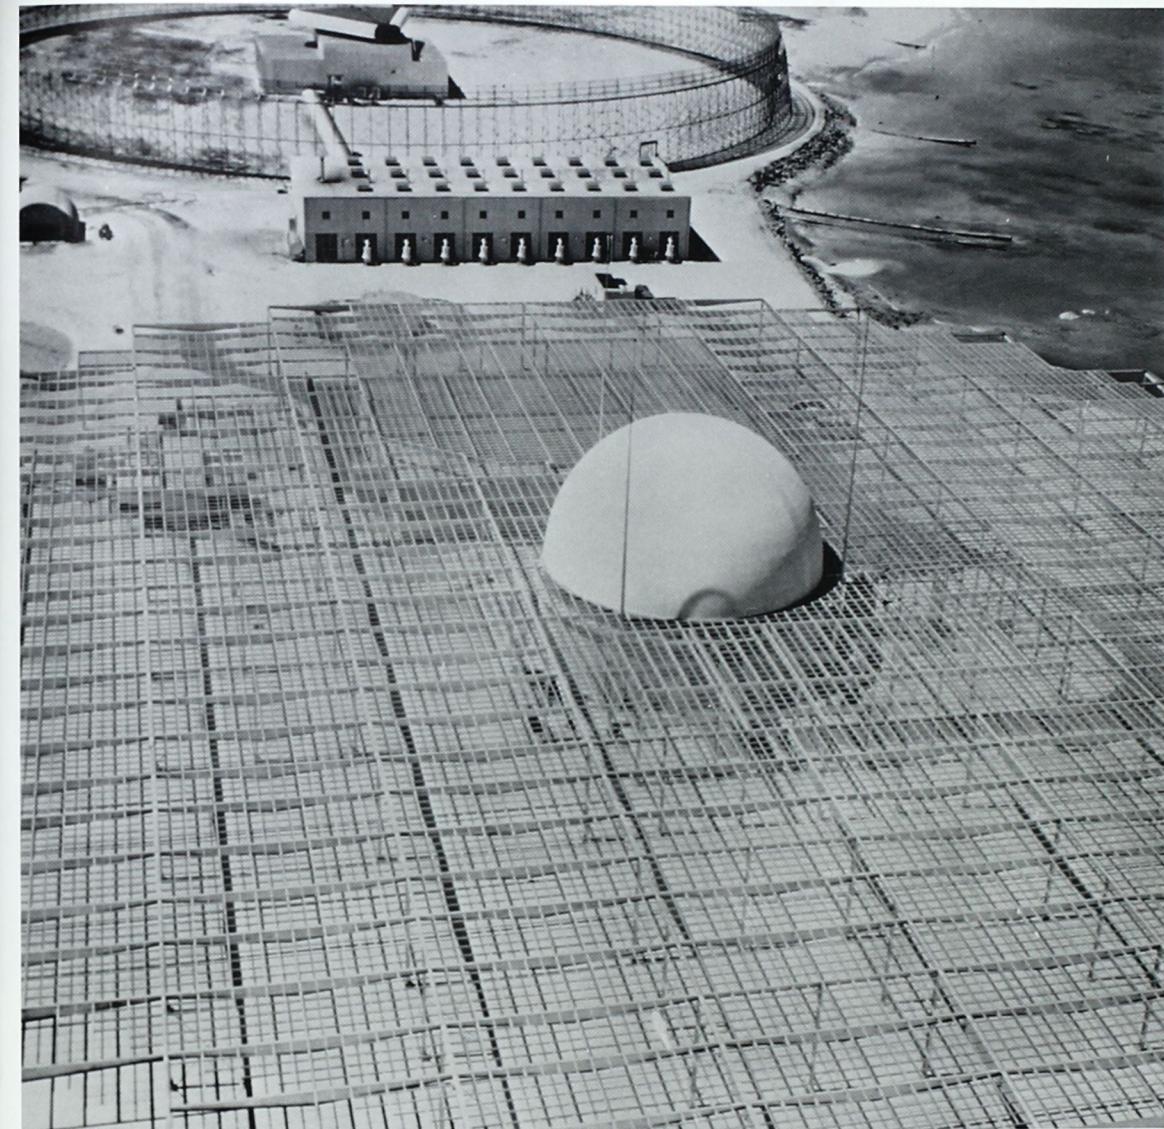

Utilizing new radar techniques, Continental's super power transmitter gives Nike-Zeus, the U. S. Army's anti-missile missile defense system now under development, an effective range heretofore thought to be impracticable or impossible. It is a significant achievement of the Zeus program. Western Electric Company is prime contractor for the Zeus program. Developed under subcontract to Bell Telephone Laboratories, responsible for overall system design and development, this transmitter, used in the research and development models of the Zeus Acquisition Radar, is an outgrowth of Continental's AN/FPT-7 transmitter supplied to the three BMEWS installations. It represents another contribution to our country's defense from the specialists in super power transmitting equipment.

WHO ?

Who will develop tomorrow's space vehicles, build tomorrow's structures, find the cure for cancer, be the leaders in business and government, find the formula for peace on earth and goodwill between men of all nations?

People with education, people with trained minds, and education, like a fine building, must have a firm foundation. The strength of its foundation is developed in the grade schools, where you are now. On that foundation you will build your future.

And so again, who will do the above things? Who but YOU-if you are prepared. And the future of your country depends as perhaps never before on your being prepared.

We wish you every success as you lay the foundation for your future, and the future of our country.
