I'll never forget the day I broke my arm. I went to my friend Vicky's house and played with her. We were going to have a race to her swing set. So we did.

"One, two three, GO!"

When I was running I tripped over a rock and my elbow hit a metal sewer. I screamed and I cried. I said to Vicky, "Vicky, I think I broke my arm."

She ran to get her mom, and her mom called my mom. My mom took me to the hospital. They took x-rays, and then I had surgery. After I had surgery, they put a cast on me. Two months later they took it off. When they took it off, there was a big scar.

I really want to thank those doctors!

HOPES your WISHES and DREAMS
come true...

I dreamed I stood in a studio
And watched two sculptors there.
The clay they used was a young child's mind,
And they fashioned it with care.
One was a teacher; the tools she used
Were books and music and art;
One, a parent with a guiding hand
And a gentle loving heart.

Day after day the teacher toiled,
With touch that was deft and sure.
While the parent labored by her side
And polished and smoothed it o'er.
And when at last, their task was done,
They were proud of what they had wrought.
For the things they had molded into the child
Could neither be sold nor bought.
And both agreed they would have failed
If they had worked alone.
For behind the parent stood the school;
And behind the teacher, the home.
