LIVORNO AMERICAN HIGH SCHOOL CLASS OF 1995:

Emerson once wrote that "the things taught in schools and colleges are not an education, but the means of education." Learning is a life-long experience. As this chapter of your life comes to a close, a new one opens and you are the chief author.

However challenging these years may have been, you will always remember them as representing one of the most defining periods of your life. This marks the end of your youth, the beginning of young adulthood.

The friendships you have formed and the lessons learned represent the foundation upon which the rest of your life will be built. Use all the tools available to you and continue to build well. Congratulations Class of 1995!

JASON VI: Expedition Island Earth

Dept. of Defense PINS, RAF Lakenheath

27 February - 11 March, 1995

The Jason Project was started by Dr. Bob Ballard, who discovered the Titanic. The program offers students the opportunity to participate via telecommunications with scientists at the site of the study. The site for this year's expedition was Hawaii. Livorno students spent two months studying the Hawaiian eco-system, biology, geology, volcanism, and astronomy. They then traveled to the PIN site at RAF Lakenheath where they participated in evening programs and competed to ask questions via computer and satellite hook-ups with the scientists. Amber Yeager and Jackie Cormier were two Livorno students who had their questions selected for broadcast in Hawaii.

Livorno students who participated in the Jason Project were: Jackie Cormier, Peter Fowler, Rhiannon Hood, Cheryl Howser, Jamal King, Michaela Norman, James Portis, Maya Robins, Mike Roper, Muhammed and Traviyas Shamsid-Deen, Ian Strand, Richard White, Jessica Workman, and Amber Yeager.
