MS. MERTICE IRELAND, a native of Knoxville, Tennessee, has taught at the Ludwigsburg Middle School from 1981 when it was opened. She received her undergraduate degree from Knoxville College and her graduate degree from Indiana University. She has attended numerous workshops in her continuing efforts to stay abreast of trends in education and to improve her teaching skills.

Ms. Ireland has taught grades 2, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 in subject areas of math, science, language arts, and social studies. She has also taught adult English as a Second Language class. Currently, she is teaching science and computer literacy.

Prior to coming to the Ludwigsburg Middle School, Ms. Ireland taught in Indiana and later at the Ludwigsburg Elementary School. She is active in the P.T.S.A. and in the National Science Teachers Association. Her volunteer work includes coaching the Pattonville DYA Junior Girls Basketball team for three years.

Ms. Ireland likes to think of herself as a child (student) advocate. She believes that success breeds success.

This year, Ms. Ireland sponsors the Computer Club, has sponsored a break-dance contest to aid African famine victims, organized a faculty ski trip, and has made banners to honor students and classes that excel in scholarship.

1985 Yearbook Dedications

MR. JOHN F. KELLEHER has taught math to 7th and 8th graders at the Ludwigsburg Middle School since it was opened in 1981. Before that, he taught at Stuttgart Elementary Junior High, the Augsburg High School, and Giessen Junior High School—all in Germany. In addition, he taught in Illinois and in Virginia before coming to Germany. A graduate of Stanford University, he is the father of 7 children all grown and living in the United States.

Having taught at all grade levels, Mr. Kelleher feels that the middle school level is the best level to teach because once the students have learned the basics in math at this level it is possible to do a lot of interesting things with numbers. During his four years here at the middle school, Mr. Kelleher has served as math department chairman for 3 years. This year, he is sponsor of the Junior Honor Society.

Mr. Kelleher has a favorite saying, based on his insistence of strict discipline in classes—"They hate me in September, but they like me in May."

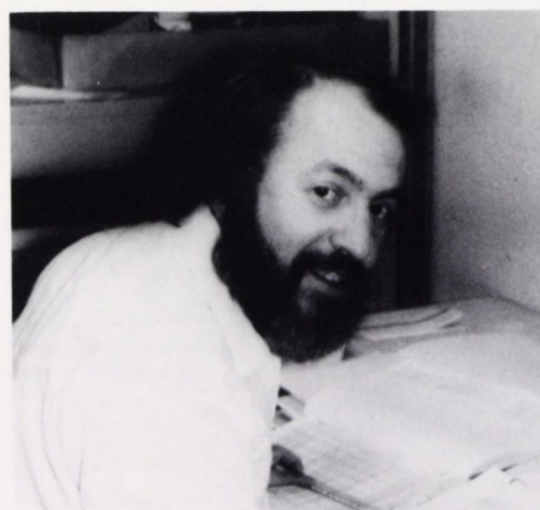

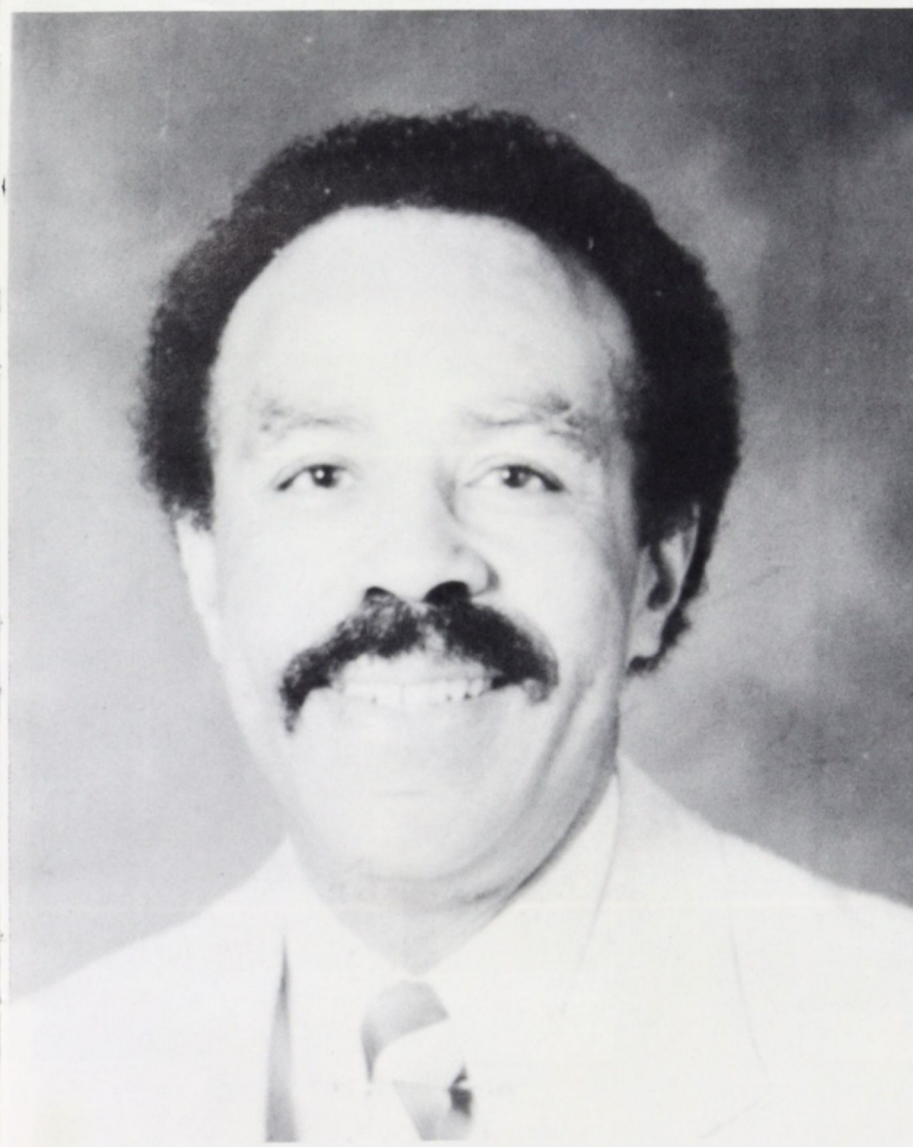

Mr. Kelleher owns farms in Virginia and New York. When he retires, he plans to raise horses on one of the farms.

"THIS IS ALGEBRA?"

On Friday, November 9, 1984 the fifth grade classes sponsored a Veteran's Day program. Students from the 5th, 6th, 7th, and 8th grades participated. Our speaker of the day was none other than VII Corps Commander, LTG. J. P. Galvin. General Galvin spoke about the history of Veteran's

Day. In his speech he also stressed the importance of education stating a good education is needed in order to understand other people of other cultures. General Galvin emphasized that we as students owe it to ourselves to do our "homework" in our pursuit of knowledge.
