N.A.H.S. United

School spirit united us as we cheered our teams on to victory. We not only showed spirit at games but also at school. The week before Homecoming we showed our spirit by dressing in wild outfits and competing with other classes for the spirit stick. Junior and Senior females showed their school pride by playing powder puff football while the male cheerleaders boosted our spirits. Pep rallies were filled with roaring crowds proud to be Eagle fans. Although competition between classes was strong the loudest cheers came when Eagle spirit was called upon.

Unity made our teams victorious. A sense of team spirit and pride in our school kept them going. Every athlete knows that without cooperation nothing can be achieved. Our teams proved their unity at every competition — win or lose the Eagles gave their all every time.

United as Americans we stood together. This year brought the 200th anniversary of our constitution; students dressed in red, white, and blue to show their patriotism. Just as the founders of the constitution were united in their pursuit of a democratic government, the students at NAHS were united in their pursuit of an education and an exciting year. Nuernberg American High School students came from many different places and have lived and travelled all over the world. Although we missed family and friends who live far away, we came together to create the United Colors of Nuernberg. by Keri Lumm

Origin of the Franconian

Have you ever wondered how the name Franconian came about? Franconia is the region of Germany surrounding the middle and upper Main River. It was created in the 9th century and named after the Franks. The area included the cities of Worms, Fulda, Heidelberg, Bamberg, and later Nuernberg. It was fought over by tribesmen until it became part of the Frankish kingdom in the 8th century. Franconia was later divided into two parts — western Franconia and eastern Franconia. The makers of the first yearbook for N.A.H.S. then employed the name Franconian to the yearbook. (by Gayle Hicks)

A New Leader

A new face greeted Nuernberg students this year. It was the new principal, Dr. Torrey, who hails from Washington State. Having worked for DODDS for 15 years has given him vast experience in both teaching and acting as an administrator. Germany, England, and France are just a few of the places he has been a teacher. His administrative duties have carried him all over Germany, the most recent being at Hahn High School.

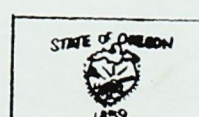

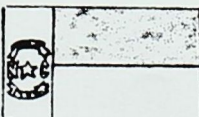

Dr. Torrey has many goals for Nuernberg American High School. The most important is to make Nuernberg American High School a warm and pleasant place that both teachers and students look forward to coming to.

Former principal, Mr. Philpot was a hard act to follow. However, Dr. Torrey remained undaunted as he proved that one good thing leads to another. by Keri Lumm

Seniors Burn Juniors

This year's powder puff game was held at our newly renovated practice field on October 9, 1987. The Seniors killed the Juniors by a score of 14-0. Renee Welch, an outstanding defensive player for the Juniors, was stiff competition for Senior quarterback Renee Shackleford. However, the Junior team's defense was no match for the speed of Valerie Hunter and Dawn Cohoon who each made touchdowns.

The Junior cheerleaders (regardless of the score) kept our spirits high and tried to keep their skirts on! Dan Downey, Heath Harris, and David Slivka were just a few of the Junior cheerleaders. The Senior crowd went wild when the victory was announced and celebrated by covering the Junior with shaving cream, the Juniors retaliated by hurling raw eggs at the Seniors. It was a sad day for the Juniors as the Seniors proved that practice makes perfect. An excellent coaching job was done by Jesse Bruce and David Starcher. by Keri Lumm

United Spirit

This year's Spirit Week was a memorable experience for all of us. Monday, Baby Day, was sponsored by the Freshman class. People were seen wearing pajamas, sucking bottles, and carrying teddy bears. On Tuesday, the Sophomores had Hawaiian Day. The spirit of the islands was brought to Nuernberg High. Wednesday brought Twins Day and people dressed like their girlfriends and even their boyfriends. Thursday was Clash Day, which was sponsored by the Junior class. Some of our students were dressed in very bright mixed-matched clothing. Finally on Friday was the traditional Green and White Day, sponsored by the Seniors. The spirit of the Eagles was displayed everywhere. Even the Juniors showed creativity by painting '89 on their left cheeks. This year was a memorable time for all of us — the Seniors, the teachers, and the students of Nuernberg High. by Ellen Perez

A Night To Do "La Bamba"

This year's Homecoming Dance, held October 10, 1987, was one of the best, if not THE best, this school has seen. As people started arriving, one noticed that almost everyone really went all out as far as dress was concerned. However, others couldn't bear to part with their sneakers and gold chains. The "La Bamba" theme was well carried out, for the song was appropriately played once every hour. The theme's creator ought to be commended. The DJ did an excellent job mixing soul, rock, ballads, and nearly every other type of music imaginable. The songs people really went crazy for were "La Bamba," "Wipeout," "Surf or Die," and "Casanova." Romance was in the air as almost everyone swarmed to the floor when ballads were played. As the dance wound down, everyone seemed to be comatose from so much dancing. This was certainly an evening that will be long remembered. by Jorge Lopez

VICTORY

Homecoming 1987 was a success with the Eagles rambling past the Wuerzberg Wolves with a score of 20-8. The halftime score was 14-8 and the Eagles knew they had their work cut out for them. Wuerzberg's offense had many opportunities to score from inside the Eagle twenty, but was stopped short because of Nuernberg's great defensive stand. The defense was led by strong safety Jimmy Philpot, who was in on 19 tackles, and defensive ends Andre Metoyer and Vasaga Tilo, who were each in on 14 stops. The defense kept the Wolves to 127 total yards.

Our offense was led by the fancy footwork of Terry Golden and Freddie Headen. Both had over one hundred yards rushing and one touchdown apiece. The first touchdown was scored by Golden's 2-yard run which finished a 7-play, 78-yard first quarter drive. Jesse Bruce scored the second TD with a 1-yard plunge into the end zone. In the fourth quarter, Headen scored the final touchdown with a 47-yard dash. The Eagles finished the game with 230 yards on the ground and 75 more, passing. The passing attack was led by quarterback Bruce and Chris Person. This win boosted the overall season record to four wins and no losses. by David Slivka and Kim Pier

This was the year of simplicity. Fashion moved from the gaudy "Madonna" look to a more mature and direct fashion statement. More and more people opted for dark and neutral colors. High tops, concert t-shirts, and denim were still among student favorites. Mini-skirts, even the pleated style, were once again seen paired with matching hair bows. Leather made a strong comeback along with ADIDAS and denim in the jacket industry. Some students adorned their jean jackets with painted designs. The winter weather also inspired lace-up boots that students wore with cuffed pants and multiple layers of socks. Sweaters were seen in all prints and colors the human mind could produce with yarn. One of the summer's most popular media-induced trends was the Original Party Animal Spuds MacKenzie. Acid-washed, white-washed, iced and oxidized — whatever it's called, it's denim and it's hot! The year's hottest hair style was the banana clip which could make a pony tail out of any hair length. It was a year that combined the casual looks of the past with the sophisticated looks of the future. By Keri Lumm

Well, Isn't this Special?

CHURCH LADY — Comedian or SATAN WORSHIPPER, you decide. Dana Carvey posed this and many other questions during his "Church Lady" skits on "Saturday Night Live."

CALVIN AND HOBBS — These two adorable characters charmed their way into the hearts of Stars and Stripes readers.

TIFFANY — She launched her career with a nationwide concert tour of the malls, and gave teens everywhere a reason go get up and dance. All this at the tender age of 16.

GEORGE MICHAEL — His scandalous videos and song "I Want Your Sex" caused a lot of people to wonder what happened to the nice boy from Wham! However, his fans had "Faith" and loved every minute of it!

MARILYN MONROE — This year marked the 25th anniversary of her death and the American public still reveres her as one of our best loved film stars.

L. L. COOL J — He's bigger and deffer and we should know, the Nuernberg fans of this rap star saw him live in concert.

BRUCE WILLIS AND CYBILL SHEPHERD — This couple kept us tuned in to Moonlighting every week as we kept hoping "David and Maddie" would be reunited.

CHER — Old fans were happy to see her making a comeback while she earned new fans with her movies and Billboard hit "I found someone."

Election of 1988

Seeing as the yearbook should be informative, I have taken it upon myself to inform the ignorant and confused, the general copulation of Nuernberg American High School. I have decided to voice my opinions about the 1988 Presidential Candidates.

Vice-President Bush is a good place to start. After that, the only place left to go is up . . . almost. This man has never taken a stand on anything in his life, mainly because at least one foot is constantly lodged in his mouth. His use of bad language ("from my days in the Navy," he explains) has gotten a lot of attention, as has his opinion of Detroit auto workers. But the thing that really made this man's career was his interview with Mr. Congeniality, Dan Rather. I have never seen such a public loss of cool in my life. They were yelling and interrupting each other like mad. I could just imagine how President Bush would react if he and Gorbachev ever disagreed of anything. Scary thought.

Now to move on to Bush's best friend, Bob Dole. The best thing to ever happen to this man was his wife, Elizabeth. She is the ex-Secretary of Transportation of the United States, and in my opinion, a better choice for President than her husband. Bob Dole is the personification of "dish it out but can't take it"; a regular school yard bully. But he came out on top of the rest of the Republicans at the Iowa Caucus.

Speaking of Republicans, let me get to Robertson. When I think of good 'ole Pat as President I get this mental image of the United States turning into an overblown version of Vatican City with President "Pat the Pope" presiding. He conjures up images of Oral Roberts and the Bakkers. I bet most of my relatives in Georgia (the people who got Oral the $1 million in the first place) are financing his campaign. Really.

As for the Democrats, Gephardt seemed to be the choice in Iowa. That really surprised me. Gephardt gave me the impression of being extremely plasticized. One of his campaign slogans was a video tape of himself, his wife, and his two boys taking a family hike up a mountain. Puke. All that togetherness nauseated me. I thought people would see through it. But perhaps I'm a little more shrewd than than your average Iowan.

Now for the Reverend Jesse Jackson. If he and wife stopped screaming about racism long enough to take a stand on some sort of political issue, maybe people would take them seriously. As it is, I can't see him as President, but he'd be a great civil rights spokesman.

I see Mike Dukakis as an ideal choice. He's good-looking, charming, seemingly aware of what would be expected of him as President, and Greek-Orthodox. His only drawback, as cited by my colleague Mr. Edgerton, is that his eyebrows are too bushy. Rather, when his face is on a dollar bill, either his eyebrows go or his face goes. I can live with that.

While on the subject of major problems, shall I mention Paul Simon's bowties? And what kind of name is that anyway? Unless that man breaks out with Art Garfunkel as Vice-President, I don't even want to know him. Besides, he reminds me of Howdy-Doody.

Now for Albert Gore, Jr. He is 39 years old and other than that he has only one major problem, his wife. Her name is . . . Tipper. Oh no, First Lady, Tipper. This country can't handle humiliation like that right now. It could not be endured. And not only that, her main concern is the censorship of records. The Gores accused the group "Twisted Sister" of including sexual connotations in their track "Under The Blade" even though the song is about somebody getting an operation. I want the name of Tipper's doctor. Albert Gore doesn't seem like a bad guy; I just can't see letting his wife loose on an unsuspecting world like that though.

United We Stand

Many events unified the American people this year. The signing of the INF peace treaty was an example of worldwide understanding and a mutual goal of arms reduction in the United States and the Soviet Union. The Olympics is one of the most celebrated acts of world unification. Everyone watched the rivalry between the world's greatest ice skaters — Katrina Witt and Debbi Thomas. At the end of the games it didn't matter who had won the most gold medals, what was important was that all nations could forget international conflicts and focus on having a good time. Our country is united in its belief that we are responsible for helping others to gain freedom. The decision about whether or not the Contras should receive American aid faced our congress this year. Some events were less controversial. For instance, Jessica McClure's accident kept the entire nation praying for the rescue team to succeed in rescuing her from an abandoned well. Other events were more controversial, like former presidential candidate Gary Hart's alleged affair with Donna Rice. All this combined with the fall of the dollar value and the stock market crash gave us a hectic year. However, these events seemed to bring us together as both Americans and humans.

Golf Team

The N.A.H.S. golf team got off to a great start this year, and continued to exhibit no signs of slowing down for the remainder of the season. The girls' team played first in Europe with strong performances from Kim Clark, Amy Bell, and Kathy Potter. Kristen Nesheim, Angie Martinez, Monica Weidner, and Sassy Johnson completed the honors in receiving their first trophy in the history of the school. During tournaments, Clark and Bell placed fourth and fifth respectively to capture individual honors.

Not as successful as the girls' team, but still very competitive, the boys' team took seventh in Europe behind strong performances by Bryan Charlton, Robert Alexander, David Weidner, and Scott Younghans. Ray Higgs, Mike Turner, and Brian Baldwin complemented the team with strong back-up. Mike Clark and Arthur Gillespie were two exceptional players who were unable to play in the tournament. Younghans was the focal point of the team throughout the season, but Weidner received the best score in the final tournament getting fifth place in his bracket. Younghans and Charlton also placed second and fifth respectively in their group.

Coach Dan Robinson was really pleased with this group, and with Junior High players like Glen and Valorie Colvin, as well as other returners. Coach Robinson should be eagerly waiting for next year.

Taking It to the Very Top

The 1987-88 Varsity football team had a great year, winning seven games, including Homecoming, and only losing two games. With the help of Coach Crowson, Nuernberg earned the first place position in the AA conference and were the first runners-up in the big school play-offs. Our players still have a lot of confidence. "We're going to win it all next year," said Jim Philpot, who earned the most valuable player award for defense. To accomplish this goal, though, Coach Crowson said, "The Varsity football team needs to work on their legs."

Outstanding players that made all Europe for the 1987-88 football season were Vasaga Tilo (offensive tackle), Pat McKinley (punter/kicker), Doyle Cockrell (defensive end), and Terry Golden (offensive back), who was also the most valuable player for offense. If our team continues to be as determined and hardworking as they were this year, we will surely take the AA-AAA title next year.

The 1987-88 Junior Varsity football team had a split season, winning three games but also losing three games. These scores may not seem ideal, but "The purpose of a Junior Varsity team is to make varsity material," as Coach Forren put it. Four Junior Varsity players (Tim Hasty, Rick Hutchinson, Anthony Lannone and Romero Montero) did so well they got to play on Varsity for the remainder of the Varsity season after the Junior Varsity season, which is shorter, ended. # Tennis Teams Love To Score

This year's tennis teams enjoyed a great success. The boys' team came in 2nd as AA runner up. The girls' team came in 3rd place in AA. The girls team was represented by Kendra Turner, Sara Henderson, and Katrina O'Neal in the 1987 European Finals. The boys team was represented by Greg Fish, Armin Taube, and David Raflo. Greg Fish and Armin Taube, seniors at Nuernberg, were 1987 AA doubles champs and came in 4th in the European Finals.

"All the teams we played were more of a challenge this year since they were all AA and AAA schools," said Kim Pier, one of the members of the team. The team was sponsored and coached by Ron Toussaint.

This year's MVP awards were given to Molly Laster for the girls and Greg Fish for the boys. Although the team is losing assistant coach Millidge, who helped with the team for 4 years, and many players, Coach Toussaint has high hopes for the coming year.

A "COLORFUL" SEASON

Volleyball is a sport that takes a lot of skill in order to be any good. The Varsity coach, Coach Fontaine, commented that the player on his team that had showed the most skill when playing on the courts was Christine Tilo. The Junior Varsity coach, Coach Warren, said that the player that had showed the most skill on his team was Tanya Holmes. Both of these players did extremely well during the season.

Even though both of these teams did not do as well as they had wished they had done, they still tried their best, gave their all, and had lots of fun! But they had even more fun when they achieved victory!

Both of the coaches were not too much fun to be around when mistakes were made on the court, but they still found time to joke around after the game (especially Coach Warren).

The games that were won by the Varsity volleyball team were one out of fourteen and the games won for the J.V. team was four out of fourteen. Both of these teams tried very hard when on the courts and gave their all when playing against their opponents. These two teams, unified throughout the 87-88 volleyball season.

Long Strides to Victory

This year's boys' varsity team brought home the first cross country trophy in the team's history. The team had five All-Conference runners, two of whom received All-Europe recognition. At their first meet at Ramstein, the team was plagued with many injuries including one to their second boy runner, Bucky Evers, who came home with a severely sprained ankle. The team was the largest ever, numbering thirty by the end of the season. Out of these thirty team members, however, only three were seniors. The team was dominated by freshmen and sophomores.

Here's what several team members and their coach replied when asked about the season:

"This was the best team Nuernberg ever had," said Coach Provinsal (with a huge smile).

"It was great. It was spiffy," said Jeff Thomas, All-Europe runner.

"Coach gave a lot of support. Let me meet some boys," added Erin Coffman, All-Conference.

"I like to run!" was Joe Salamone's contribution. He was one of the Jr. High runners.

"My sister was in it. You get to travel everywhere," said Joanne Head, another Jr. High runner.

"An easy letter. I love to run," was the opinion proffered by Robert Vire.

When asked about the most memorable thing during the season the following team members replied:

Carlton Hamrick, manager, "The butterfly tattoo on the side of Becky's thigh."

Lee Hogate, varsity runner, "The butterfly tattoo on the side of Becky's thigh."

Becky Harms, varsity runner, (comment unfit for publication)

Eric Metoyer, varsity runner, "The overnight trip. They kept banging on the door and we couldn't sleep. We beat them anyway."

by Lisa Richardson and Coach S. Provinsal

Bucky Evers, Steve Frank, Robert Vire, Jeff Butler, Eric Metoyer, Jeff Thomas, Scott Westfall, and Lee Hogate stretch before a race at Bitburg.

Adrienne Lore, Becky Harms, Erin Coffman support "the men."

Three Cheers for the Eagles

This year's fall cheerleading squads did their best to raise the school's spirits.

This September both the Varsity and Junior Varsity squads attended the National Cheerleading Association Spirit Camp in Kaiserslautern. For four days the cheerleaders practiced jumps and learned new cheers and pyramids.

At the end of the camp there was a competition. Suzi Mancine was nominated for All-American Cheerleader. This is a great honor as only ten girls are nominated from all of Europe (which includes England, Italy, Belgium, and Germany). When they finally returned home, all of the girls were tired but exhilarated and happy that they had won the spirit stick and an award for helping to keep the gym, where they practiced, performed and even slept, clean. The cheerleaders practiced daily under the guidance of Mrs. Schrankel during the fall season to bring the crowd weekly halftime performances. Varsity captain Valarie Kerksey was assisted by co-captain Cathy Gawronski. The two of them choreographed both halftime and pep rally routines. The JV was led by Lennie Davis as captain with Lisa Hunt as co-captain. Both squads did their best whether they were learning new cheers at spirit or on the sidelines rooting for the Eagles. # Breaking Those Winter Blues

Our varsity basketball cheerleaders worked hard to maintain their standings as first runner-up at the Big schools' basketball tournaments. This is the second year in a row that the squad has been first runner-up. The year before they took first place. To have such an impressive record shows a lot of determination when the competition includes over 8 teams many of those being AAA.

The Junior Varsity squad had some problems with injuries and other member loss. However, they managed to overcome these problems with a lot of spirit and pep.

The wrestling cheerleaders rooted for our wrestlers every chance they got and added a lot of spirit to the wrestling meets.

The combined efforts of these three squads pushed our teams towards victory and helped to give spirit to the spectators at games and pep rallies.

This year's dance team was certainly a turnabout. It was sponsored by Mrs. Fish who took over for Mrs. Horten. The girls practiced every day in the old cafeteria from 3:30 to 5:00 p.m. They danced to music and preformed at all home games. "We perform to lift peoples-spirit," said Diana Merriweather, one of the dance team members. They had to maintain a "C" average and attend all practices. The dance team was headed by Michelle Collins (Capt.), Lavette Shackelford (1st Lt.), and Michelle Carter (2nd Lt.). The other members were: Bernadette Basa, Antonette Beltran, Shiela Harrison, Latrice Hebron, Yvonne Hunter, Corella James, Diana Merriweather, Kim Sherell, and Omoto Grant.

Hooping It Up to Victory

The women's Varsity team made huge improvements during the 1987-1988 season. The hopeful attitudes of returning players combined with enthusiastic new members made for an outstanding team. Their season record was 8 wins to 6 losses. The women's team also practiced four days each week. Their work was obvious to all who watched their games. Coach Smith said he had an "outstanding team, outstanding season." Three of his players won All Conference recognition. Shona Jackson earned AA All-Conference award and Kerry Smith and Toni Starks made 2nd team in AA All-Conference standings. Shona Jackson, a team captain, commented, "Our team has come a long way since our first game. Our team plays well together, got along well with each other, and worked hard. That's what led us to victory along with the opportunity to go to the Big Schools Tournament in Mannheim." by Kimberly Pier

RIISING STARS

The 1988 Junior Varsity basketball teams started the year with tough competition. Our JV girls have defeated two of the formerly undefeated teams. Coach Robinson and Coach Kern agree that everybody should play and put the team ahead of themselves. This philosophy is appreciated by the players, as Teon Lockett explains, "I don't like riding the pine, if you know what I mean." Prospects for players in DODDS schools are difficult to predict because it is not known which students are returning for the following year. With this in mind it is impossible to plan what kind of team will be formed the following season. However, if next year's team is as hardworking as this one, then our JV is sure to do well. Coach Robinson and Coach Kern feel that the sportsmanship and behavior of this year's teams surpassed any other team they have coached here at N.A.H.S.. By Malena Padgett

Hammering the Competition

The 1987-1988 wrestling team continued to exhibit signs of a winning team this year. Mr. Nelms took over coaching duties from former coach, Konowicz, who had previously coached for quite a while, and had led the team to a thirty-four game winning streak that ended last year, with a loss to Heidelberg near the close of the season. Nelms had quite a job trying to follow up the success of the last few years, but after showing teams like Stuttgart, Ulm, Patch, and Wurzburg what they were made of, the wrestling team under him was doing fine. "My philosophy is to help every individual wrestler to do the best for himself. This would mean getting as far into tournaments as he possibly can," Nelms said.

Returners Jim Philpot, David Slivka, and James Baladad anchored the team with strong wins. Gary Godbee, Tony Ianone, Larry Broadwell, Boris Brito, and Chris Robinson showed fine form that led to the securing of every win. Chris Wooten, Yol Westerfield, Gary McCartney, and Keith Harley also brought success to the squad.

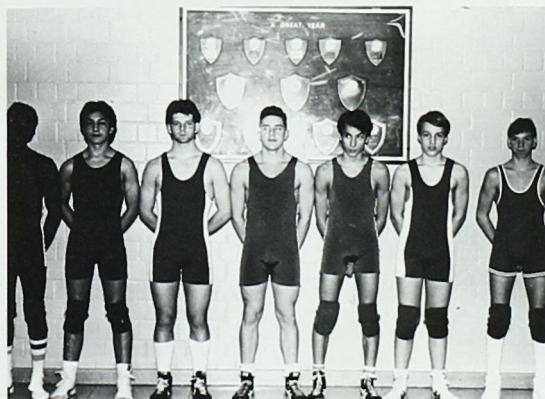

With many of the wrestlers returning next year, the spirit, vigor, and skills of the wrestling team will remain intact for the future. by David Weidner

AJROTC — A MAINSTAY AT N.A.H.S.

The main priority in JROTC is to develop good leadership, citizenship, and to attain a knowledge of basic military skills. JROTC program also aims to instill self-confidence in cadets.

To be in JROTC is a privilege not available to all students in the U.S. Through sincere effort students can earn college and military benefits. JROTC is a great course to take for the student who's planning a military career according to cdt./maj. Jorge Lopez a JROTC must be disciplined, mature, and able to accept responsibility. By doing what he or she is told, and with all the above characteristics, a cadet can readily be promoted. Says Cdt/LTC David Vergara,

"ROTC can work for you if you work for it."

SKI SOBER

The Students Against Drunk Driving (SADD) program is an essential program. The members of S.A.D.D. have been trying to get the point across that drinking and driving is very dangerous. More than 2,000 people die every year from alcohol related accidents, more than 3,000 people are injured. Car related accidents are the leading cause of death of American teenagers. This organization is trying to prevent these tragic deaths. The real question is... are you listening? This is a very serious tragedy not only to the person who is drunk, but to the innocent person who is struck and killed by the drunken driver. This can be a life and death situation, just think the next victim could be you. So think carefully before letting a friend or relative drive under the influence of alcohol. Article By: Amy Midtbruet

The Nuernberg American High School Ski Club has been operating for more than five years. Mr. Robinson, a seventh grade math teacher was the sponsor of ski club this year.

There were thirty-one students in the ski club. The members were in 7th-9th grade. They took a trip to Villach, Austria. The cost was 515 Deutsch Marks which included room, ski lessons, all their meals, ski insurance and transportation. This money was from their own pockets. The trip lasted for one week, from the 14-20th of February. The ski club was one of many clubs designed to give students a chance to meet new people and see new places. By Robert Schmidt

Bavarian Knights Shine

The Bavarian Knights and Model United Nations are two organizations that expect more from their members than mere meeting attendance. Being a Bavarian Knight is a great honor. It is only bestowed on those students who maintain a high grade in R.O.T.C. and display those qualities that define excellence in a cadet.

The Model United Nations is held in Den Hague, Holland, annually. The delegates chosen to represent the various countries of the United Nations must be knowledgeable of that country's government and national party.

Both of these organizations require their members to exhibit leadership, knowledge, and represent our school favorably.

Getting to Know the Ropes

Outdoor Ed

Outdoor Education is an experience held either at Hinterbrand Lodge in Berchtesgarden or Hessen Huette in Darmstadt every year. The students were put in situations that facilitated teamwork. Students cheered each other along the ropes course which seemed to be the most challenging and frightening event that took place. Cooperation by the students on this trip made tasks and chores easier to accomplish. The students were divided into groups to set tables, prepare meals, and wash dishes. One group even had a little fun at dishwashing; they started a water fight (so much for mopping the floor). Students were taught to read maps and use a compass. Later they used this information to go on a nature hike. On the hike they learned about trees and where they grow. Overall this trip was an unforgettable educational experience. It brought out leadership skills and led to many plans and goals for the future.

A New Start

Coach Provinsal kept his runners in shape with the start of a Running Club. People came for diverse reasons (i.e. to stay in shape for track, to build muscle mass, to socialize). Their activities included a slow 20-minute jog/walk, weight lifting, volk-smarches, and sitting around the gym eating popcorn with Coach Clark. When asked about the Running Club some runners commented:

"To socialize!," commented Robert Vire.

"I thought it would be fun," Margaret Brown added.

"To relieve stress," stated Jeff Booze.

Rex Richardson added, "Because my sister did."

"I joined because the people are a lot of fun," commented Molly Laster.

Here's what Erin Coffman had to add, "It gives me a chance to meet the boys (JOKE!!)."

"It's a great social club!" stated Coach Clark.

Nuernberg American High School Gifted and Talented Program

NAHS offers a gifted and talented program based on the model developed by Joseph Renzulli at the University of Connecticut. This model has been adopted by DoDDS school worldwide, and is coordinated at NAHS by Mrs. Mary Brady.

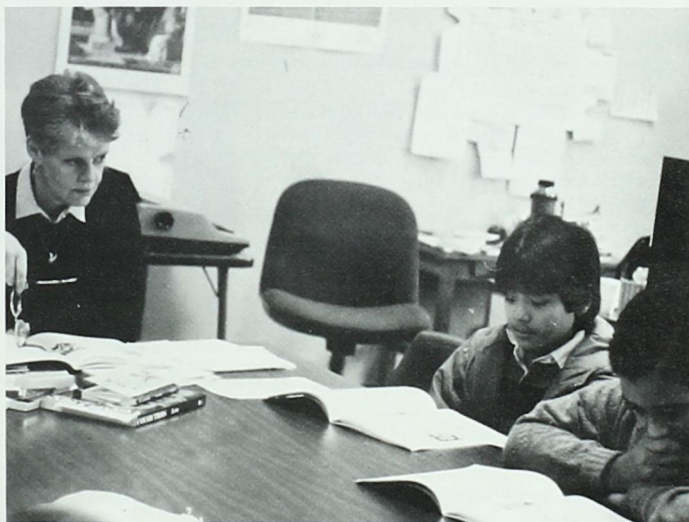

Students who are identified as being eligible for this program comprise what is referred to as the "Talent pool," and most are enrolled in advanced classes. Enriched activities and experiences are brought to these students through the advanced classes, in the form of guest speakers, field trips, and mentors for students electing to do specialized projects.

Dr. Renzulli identifies a gifted student as having three traits in common and they are: 1) above average ability, 2) task commitment and 3) creativity. Students are identified through testing, classroom performance, teacher recommendation, peer nomination and self nomination.

Further enrichment activities offered to the gifted students are trips to other countries. One or two major trips are offered each year. Last school year, for example, a trip to France was taken in October and a trip to Italy was taken in May. These trips include specific assignments for the students on a daily basis and some in-depth research prior to the trip.

This particular program is relatively new to DoDDS and NAHS. This is the second year that the Renzulli model has been in place at this school and each year it grows and expands to meet our gifted population.

Leadership Through Unity

Under the steady guidance of Ms. Parker, the Student Council has accomplished many of its intended goals, but mainly that of representing the student body. President David Slivka, Vice President Andrea Voit, Secretary Becky Triplett, and Treasurer Molly Laster comprise the Executive Board. Student Government's largest project has been the popular Homecoming events, held on October 10. This year's projects included a faculty men's/varsity boys' basketball game, held February 24. Other projects undertaken were a Student Council Advisory Board, to directly handle student problems, a School Spirit week, and an attempt to improve cafeteria food and prices. There is a bright future for this unique organization and we thank them for their efforts.

The Trichter United N.A.H.S. Happenings

This year's Trichter staff's hard work has paid off. Before publishing the Trichter Newspaper, the class discusses each story, deciding what topics would interest the students. Also, the artwork had to be put into the newspaper. Most of the artwork was created by the staff artists, Dale Elliot and David Koeller.

The articles were written by all members of the Trichter staff, and then carefully examined by Ms. Madden, and the Editor-in-chief, Alecia Crauswell.

Any student could enter an article or piece of artwork to the Trichter journalism staff to be considered for publishing in the newspaper, and if the staff thought it was good enough and would interest the students, it was published.

The articles for the newspaper were on a variety of topics, from everyday things that happen in school to top fashion in the world today. All of the articles were written for the student body of Nuernberg High School, and tried to entertain and inform them at the same time.

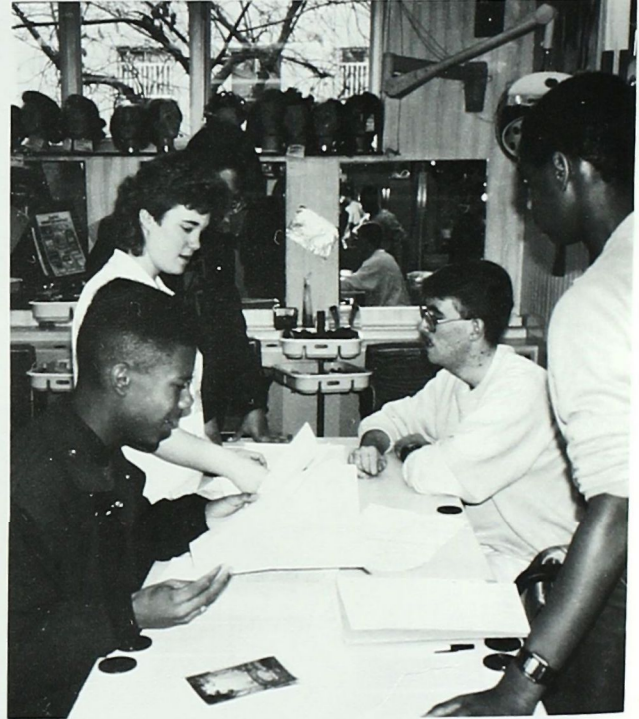

There is no prerequisite for joining the journalism staff, other than having a little bit of creativity and interest in newspaper production and writing. This year's staff seemed to have just that!

The Staff of the United Colors

The 1987-88 Franconian staff was a group of hard-working individuals whose efforts created a successful yearbook. Many deadlines were met by working persistently during and after school. In fact it was sometimes necessary to come in during school vacations. "There was a lot of stress before the deadline but when we finally made it, it was a great relief," said Keri Lumm.

The staff had fund raising activities to help pay off the debt from 2 years ago. They had funnel cake sales, dances, button sales, and of course, yearbook sales. These all helped to keep down the price of the yearbook.

This year's editor was Kim Pier. She said, "Becoming editor of the Franconian has been the most challenging and rewarding experience that I've ever had." Her ideas along with those of the staff helped to establish this year's theme as United Colors of Nuernberg. We hope that our hard work shows through as you flip through the pages of this year's annual.

Tree-Lighting Ceremony

This year's tree-lighting ceremony, although kind of rushed, was an uplifting experience. The brass choir played throughout the program with the direction of Mr. Ronald Judd. Opening remarks were made by Chaplain Donald Gover and Chaplain led the students in a moment of prayer. Special music was provided by students from Johann Kalb Elementary School and that was followed by the introduction and remarks made by the new Community Commander, B. G. William Boice. He then led the official lighting of the Christmas tree and Chaplain Charles Hemming provided the closing prayer. All in all, it was an event worth remembering.

Special Exploration in Scouting

Explorer Post 80 is sponsored by the school's Special Education Department. All students that are enrolled in Special Education participate. Every Friday during seventh period this class puts away the books and begins their Explorer meeting. These students participate in many activities such as cooking, sewing, and hiking.

Great care is taken to insure that these students enjoy their scouting activities. Last year, the students (with the aid of their instructors) were able to take on the difficult task of sewing their hard-earned patches onto their Scout uniforms.

The students do many of the exciting activities involved in scouting. Both boys and girls alike are able to experience new things and surpass new boundaries thanks to the hard work and dedication of their instructors who decided to begin this exciting Explorer Post.

A Fond Farewell

Mr. Josef Kerpen retired from his NAHS auto shop at the beginning of the 1987-1988 school year. When he arrived at Nuernberg High School ten years ago, Mr. Kerpen found an empty garage designated as his auto shop. There was only one building there at the time. After his arrival Mr. Kerpen worked very hard to build up the shop to current professional standards. His goal was to build the high school's auto shop into a professional mechanic's shop. To put this program together so well possible with only the support of the administration. For six years, he worked with the administration to convince school officials that auto shop students needed the chance to learn all parts of the business. It took many trips to Wiesbaden to fully supply and equip the shop. Last year's addition of the painting booth completed the complex, Mr. Kerpen commented, "I am proud to have it accomplished. All the students who really wanted to learn made (all the work) all worthwhile."

Mr. Kerpen led a very interesting life before he came to Nuernberg to teach. He was born in Trier, a city founded by the Romans in 15 B.C. During World War II, young Josef Kerpen was drafted into the German army. His first assignment was in Poland. In 1941, he was transferred to Russia with a Schuetzenpanzer Division (infantry, in a tank division). In Stalingrad, on February 10, 1943 he was captured and remained in a Russian prisoner of war camp for seven years. Of the 360,000 men in his division, nearly 96,000 were captured, and only 2000 ever returned home.

After his release Mr. Kerpen was apprenticed to French engineers. He later moved to Luxembourg eventually becoming a Master Mechanic. After 3.5 years in that position, he applied for an immigration visa to the United States. On January 13, 1960, he arrived in America with his wife, Ilse. He settled in New Carrollton, Maryland, where he owned and ran a very successful auto garage. After ten years of running his business, he returned to his home country and NAHS.

Over the last ten years, hundreds of students have profited from his experience and his hands-on guidance. His aim was to teach his pupils to diagnose problems and repair rather than replace the old with the new. His Prussian commands and twinkling eyes will be missed by all who knew him.

Juniors

Class of 1989

A day in the life of a junior generally consists of the same, everyday routine. Becky Triplett says, "Some people have one of those days, I have one of those lives." Frank Mancine says he gets up, leaves for school in a state of exhaustion and somehow manages to get through the school day without falling asleep or getting into too much trouble. After school, he goes home, then out somewhere to hang around, before going back home and eating. After dinner, he does his ever-present pile of homework and bums around the rest of the night watching TV. Boring? Yes, indeed. Jennifer Chappelle was quoted as saying, "A day in the life of a junior is a day you'll never understand or STAND unless you're a junior."

Lords of the Rings

Like homecoming, prom, and graduation, purchasing a class ring is an honored tradition of high school. Individuality shows in the design, shape, and color of the ring. Different metals and gems are available from either of the two ring manufacturers, Josten or Balfour. Displays of high school achievements are molded into the ring to give it special significance. These small momentos are one of the ways students at N.A.H.S. capture the spirit of their high school days. Memories that will last forever, that's what class rings are for seniors.

Seniors Mindy Phillips and Kim Broadwell discuss options for class rings with the Balfour sales representative.

Sitting by the Window

Sitting by the window
Gazing at stars
Shattered glass in a fractured mirror,
That sits in the sky.
Darkness engulfs like a blanket,
Swallowing light of day.
Ostracized children crawl from hiding,
To dance under the moon.
Long dead spirits rise to play,
Along currents of swirling air.
Howling of the banshee,
Goes unnoticed in the screams of tires against the pavement.
And the people just keep walking,
Not caring enough to glimpse at the astral display
And the children dance on glass.

Sophomores

Class of 1990

The 1987-88 school year found Larry Broadwell President of the Sophomore Class. Larry enjoyed working hard for his class. He had to make various decisions about sophomore activities such as assisting in school dances and spirit week. Producing a class calendar and establishing a constitution helped the Class of '90 communicate with one another.

Larry believes that "your class is what you make it," and with this attitude many opportunities arose for his class members to make the Class of '90 great. They even conducted a "Sophomore of the Month" competition. Larry's and the class's efforts helped the Class of '90 through the year with enjoyment. by Crystal Ray

Nuernberg's "Bonn Bonn"

Students have seen Bonn in many groups over the years, both as a temporary member of the group L.A. ART AND THE CRUISE and in IZE at the yearbook dance in 1987. He plays several instruments; his favorite is the drums. However, his first love is singing. He prefers to sing rock ballads, but he likes all types of music because he says "everyone understands music, it's universal." His favorite group is DOKKEN and his favorite songs include "Dust In The Wind," "Alone Again," and "Harder Faster." His musical philosophy is to make people happy and not worry about being perfect. He plans on getting a group together with Sean Blakely. He claims that the Yearbook Dance 1988 "is going to be a blowout." He's been writing some new songs lately that are a result of past experiments and are more down to earth and not as glamorous as some of his older music. Bonn Bonn would like to be the next Bon Jovi, but he says he is willing to be a starving singer if that's what it takes to keep on making music. Bonn credits Brett Nelms with teaching him how to have stage presence and with encouraging him to be a lead singer. Get his autograph while you can folks, one day he may be famous!

AN UP AND COMING ATHLETE

Christina Tilo is a persistent athlete, who, no matter what the odds, can spike over the net, swish it through the hoop, or throw the discus down the field. Tina was born in Stockton, California. She has been playing volleyball since eighth grade, and basketball and track since ninth grade. Throwing the discus, last year, she managed always to get second place, just missing a win by inches. However, it is for volleyball she wants her sports scholarship. With a little hard work, there should be no trouble in that.

The Watering Hole

There are many places in the morning where people hang out. Here's what some of these people do in the library. Tracy Thomas and Sheri Benoit, who are sophomores, said they like to go to the library in the morning to sit and talk to their friends. Linda Nettles, a junior, said that she goes to the library to do her homework from the night before, and one of her fellow classmates Dan Downey goes there until the bell rings to kill the time before school. There are a lot of places to hang out in the morning but for these people, the library is where they go.

HIGH SCHOOL HOPES

The class of 1991 entered the ranks of High School drudgery with big smiles and a lot of hopes. These hopes were dashed when they received homework on the first day of school. Welcome to High School! Some freshmen day-dreamed through the first month of school about the "good old days" of Junior High when teachers were more understanding and there were no Seniors cutting in front of the lunch line. The year wasn't all that bad, more sports were open to them and just the ability to say, "Hey world, I'm in High School!" made life better. However, the best thing about this year occurred at the end when they became sophomores — one year closer to nirvana, Seniors!

Doing Time

Oh no! It's detention time again and no one wants to go. But since serving detention is better than being suspended, everyone goes and tries to make the best of it.

"Some students try to find every way possible to talk, read, (or) pass notes . . . anything to disobey the teacher without getting into trouble," was a comment given by Cathy Phillips, a Senior, while Kathryn Kimball feels that "doing homework during detention is one of the things (to do) so that after school you won't have as much homework."

If you have other things that you must do during lunch some just "try to serve half of the time and serve the rest later."

Sometimes the most you can do is just to make the best of it.

Homework Blues

As long as teachers have assigned homework, students have been trying to make excuses to get out of doing it. For nearly as long as work has been around, so have excuses such as these:

"My hamster chewed it up."
 "The dog ate it."
 "My little brother drew on it."
 "It went through the wash."
 "Oh . . . did we have homework?"
 "I lost my notebook."
 "I took the wrong book home."
 "My friend has my notebook, and he's not here today."
 "My locker ate it."
 "Mom accidentally threw it away."
 "I turned it into the wrong class."
 "I thought yesterday was Friday."
 "You said it was due tomorrow."
 "A martian stole it from me."
 "I thought we were having a sub today."
 "I was absent yesterday."

And the two most famous:

"I left it at home."
 "I lost it on the way to school."

NO SCHOOL!

School is delayed throughout the year for many reasons. There may be: a power failure, the water might be cut off, or the roads might be too icy for the buses to get through.

When this happens the students of N.A.H.S. do various things to pass the time until school starts. "When school is delayed, which is usually during winter, I'm mostly out looking for helpless snowball targets," says Demetrick Ray, a 10th grader at N.A.H.S. While another student says he just tries to get home . . . and beware of snowball fights . . .

Other students feel it's time to party. "I get me a soda" was a comment given by Felix Pasi.

Living With Change

Every student at NAHS has been, in one way or another, affected by the constant reconstruction of our school. In the past year, we have had ceilings lowered, floors and doors replaced, stairs rebuilt, walls and railings repainted, bathrooms renovated plus many other noisy and inconvenient projects.

"School construction is really a riot for a person like me because I can't get to my classes," said Sean Scott. Although stairwells and hallways have been closed off for weeks at a time, students have adjusted to taking roundabout routes to their classes.

David Starcher commented, "The construction is a real drag, but I think it'll turn our already good school into a great school." Although the inconvenience of these seemingly endless projects got to everyone after a while, all the renovation just added to the charm of NAHS. by Jorge Lopez (photo by K.P.)

Seventh Grade

The Other Half — J.H.

The day starts out for most seventh graders leaving from home and going to the bus stop to catch a bus or walking to school. They arrive, they go to talk to friends or go to their lockers. When the first bell rings, half go to their first period class while the rest wait until the last minute to get to their class. Most are late!

As second period winds around, kids (and some teachers) can't wait until the day is over. Some students don't. They love this class so much they wish it would never end!

Third period is the in-between class. The reason for this is some students don't know how to feel. Fourth period is next and right after that is lunch!

On comes fourth period and no one can wait until the bell rings. Some of the students don't pay any attention to their teacher and often get in trouble.

The average seventh grader's lunch consists of a bowl of fries, a coke, and a candy bar. However, some have tacos or pizza. While others bring their own lunches. Some don't even eat at all!

Fifth period some students are okay; others aren't. The tension builds for the last bell of the day to ring. This period is often like fourth hour.

Sixth period is also an in-between period. The tension is even greater for the last bell to ring. Some students say that this is their favorite.

Seventh period kids are relaxed; they usually shut everything down and just sit there. Others watch their watches waiting for 2:55 to come.

At last, but not least, it is 2:55 and everyone's tension is released. The stress is off and nobody wants tomorrow to come (unless tomorrow is Saturday!).

Skating Sweeps the Nation

The art of skating (thrashin') is unique. Although everyone has heard of skating, only ramp locals know the term "thrash." The teens of California, Florida, and Pike's Peak (half pipe) are really into it. Skating is composed of skill, a board, and vans.

The main thing needed is the right kind of board. Here are some recommendations: Santa Crus, G & S, and Vision. The first thing a skater looks for in a board is the concave wood. Then he, she, or it checks out the wheels. When you ride a skateboard, your life is at stake. Always wear your gear, especially on the ramps. If you don't, the result might be fatal.

There are some good movies out for all skaters. Some are Thrashin', Skateboard, and Radical. Some of the best skaters are in those movies.

The cold, German winter ends the skate season in Nuernberg. When spring arrives, get out your board and take a berm. The skate season is at its highest peak. "Go skate or go home!" by Robert "Rad" Johnson, photo by L.R.

Restriction Gives Homesick a New Meaning

Restriction, restriction, restriction. Didn't do your homework? Got a bad grade? Talked back to your parents? Well, you have to learn somehow.

But what do students do while they are on restriction? Does restriction really help students learn their "lesson?" A lot of students just lie around and watch videos while others are more aggressive, so to speak. "I go (in my room) and complain a lot," said Jeff Thomas, a junior here at Nuernberg High. Others are more passive like Cathie VanSickle, a junior, who reads or cleans her room, or like Jeff Butler who stays "in the house and begs my dad to let me off (restriction)." But is any of this teaching them a lesson?
