Your service to Ramstein High School has been greatly appreciated. We offer you our immense gratitude and thanks for your service to RHS. Your place at Ramstein will always be honored and respected, and you will be forever missed. We hope you realize how you've made a lasting impression on both the students and the faculty, and we will always hold the memory of you in our hearts. Thanks again for your instruction and guidance. What a blessing it has been to know such an individual as you.

Peter Pan

2010

Ramstein High School presented this year's fall musical "Peter Pan," the story of a young boy living in Neverland who just wants to stay a boy forever and have fun. Under the direction of Ramstein teachers Noelle Levy and Dan Nukala, the cast worked for three months to perfect the show.

"It's just great to see the students progress from not knowing the characters in the beginning to becoming them and making them their own," Mr. Nukala said. "They have a great time and see their hard work become something amazing."

Some recognizable faces from past RHS musicals appeared, including junior Mark Davis as the cunning pirate Captain Hook, senior Tait Peterson as Hook's first-mate Smee, and sophomore Lacey Ellis in the title role of Peter Pan. Last year, Ramstein High School said goodbye to many of its senior regulars in its theater program, but new faces have taken their place. Gwen Parish, who moved to Germany a few months ago, took on the role of Wendy Darling.

With daily rehearsals each week until the performances, the students worked hard learning songs, line and dance routines. "It's a lot of fun and very exciting. We got better and better each week, and we all had a great time," said senior Brandon Wilkinson, who played the role of John Darling.

All four performances were well attended, and the children in the audience had a lot of fun singing and dancing with the cast in some numbers. It was a real audience participation show.

Was it worth all the hard work? The huge applause each night from the audience would seem to answer that question with a resounding "YES!"

--Frank Holowka

The Write Stuff

A decorative graphic featuring several colorful crayons (purple, blue, red, green, yellow) scattered around the title. The word 'CRAYONS' is printed on the sides of some of the crayons.

The Actors Nightmare

“Jazz band is all about showing what you can do. It’s very definite. You have to have skill. Music has an influence on the world today. It allows different people to unite under different genres of their choice.”

James Crutchfield

“My favorite thing about jazz band is discovering uncharted areas of music in new dimensions. I decided to play the saxophone because of my mom, it’s her favorite instrument.”

Utril Rhaburn

“There are wonderful things in real jazz, the talent for improvisation, the liveliness, the being at one with the audience.”

Henri Matisse

There used to be a point where you walked down the sidewalks and you could hear the jazz flood the street. The beats and rhythm allow people to dance and even sing along. Though jazz is considered one of the lost sounds, it has come back to life here at Ramstein, thanks to the amazing Mr. Pellaton and his students who have taken the time to bring it back to life. Although this year's Jazz Unlimited had many new faces, one thing is still true: at Ramstein, jazz is here to stay.

JAZZ Band Concert

"My teacher Mrs. Morgan inspired me to be a chorus teacher. What I like most about being a chorus teacher is that I get paid to teach music. In chorus we have many songs ranging from the tenth century to the twenty-first century."

CHOIR

Nary The Wrong

" I love to hear a choir. I love the humanity, to see the faces of real people devoting themselves to a piece of music. I like the teamwork. It makes me feel optimistic about the human race when I see them co-operating like that."

Paul McCartney

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

“NHS is an academic and community organization based on the four pillars of academic success: Leadership, Service, Scholarship, and Character. I joined NHS because it gives me an opportunity to help the students in my school and members of the community.”

- Gabriel Piñeiro

RHS provides a variety of services, but one that can be counted on every single year is a special one: donating clothes to wounded warriors through the Chaplain's Closet on Landstuhl Regional Medical Center. Kyle Borda and Amber Callan present Levi Bemetz with clothes and duffel bags bought with money earned through the National Honor Society's own efforts.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

National Honor Society provides community service for Landstuhl Medical Center, bakes food for the gate guards, babysit, bags at the commissary, assists in after school activities (i.e. ASG and Homework Zone), and a variety of other activities. Students who participate must keep up an 85 (or B) average in school. These students are also considered leaders, who step up when needed, are good problem solvers, dependable, and responsible.

Our Trip to Prague

Náš výlet do Praha

Our model UN club attended the Prague conference this year and was extremely successful in debating, negotiating, and passing resolutions. Our students debated, wrote on difficult topics, and lobbied with other delegates for 15-20 hours over the course of a few days and it is an exhausting simulation each year. Although, it was not a competition, we were clearly showing leadership with every simulation. As expected the crew traveled well, represented America honorably on their cultural tours, and made strong friends with students from Uganda, Saudi Arabia, Cameroon, Belarus, Turkey, Switzerland, England, Italy, and more .

--Mr. Paul Brennan

"Pramun 2011 was the best experience i've had and can expect to have in high school. It wasn't just hearing Russians debate from an American perspective, watching Ramstein students command the conference, or witnessing Stuart's "What is up with the exchange rate?" It was forming relationships with kids from Saudi Arabia, Cameroon, Palestine, and Belarus that changed our global awareness from informational to personal."

--Elena Fritz

"MUN's an experience that helps you gain leadership, speaking, and analysis ability that will be valuable all your life. Our conference in Prague was great. We were able to debate with students from all over the world. We also got to see the beautiful Prague sights. I can't wait to continue debating with MUN."

--Austin Marlowe

*We all are artists in this world.
Each brush stroke is the mark we leave in life.
Once we finish, the painting is done.
Our life is complete.
Ramstein students are painting our lives on a much broader canvas.
In Prague, we create a masterpiece.
This is MUN.*

Lit Lovers

"If I were here longer,
Lit Lovers is definitely something I would do
again. It was really fun, and I enjoyed seeing the little kids' faces when I read to them in Spanish."
-Sara Diego

Linguafest

"Discover languages, discover the world."

High school students from around Europe met together in Oberwesel, Germany for a five day trip -- Linguafest '10. The goal of the trip was to develop the knowledge of the students, who were selected for their success in foreign language classes, and to participate in a variety of activities.

"Learning new languages opens countless windows into the world, and even more doors to explore it with. Linguafest was a lot of fun, and I enjoyed meeting people from other schools."
-Travis Grimes

Each year, Ramstein High School hosts a Christmas Market the week before vacation. And what says Happy Holidays better than food? From funnel cakes to fried rice, RHS students gorge themselves on holiday treats. If it's chocolate, it's a hit. Fried chicken and biscuits? You bet. Red drinks, green drinks-- we've got all kinds and colors of those. Cookies and candy? We've got that, too. It's a real sugar overload, that's certain. If you're counting calories, Ramstein is definitely NOT the place to be when the Christmas Market is in full swing.

DEPLOYMENT BUDDIES

Being part of the military community, we all know how hard it is when a family member is deployed. But when you are in elementary school, you may not fully understand why they are leaving. In order to help these children deal with deployments, high schoolers have volunteered to work with these young students participate to help them cope with the sponsor's absence. We play games, do artwork, sing songs, and just have fun. Some children will tell you their story about their mom or dad who are deployed and it melts your heart. It makes you realize how fortunate you are to have your parents here with you and you begin to wonder how well you would cope with their absence. But these young children don't let it get them down. They smile and they laugh and they go on with their lives the best way they can. It's a great feeling to know that you are helping them just by listening to them and having fun with them.

Friendship isnt a BIG thing
-it's a million little things

Friendship Cafe

The Friendship Cafe was created by friends to help the faculty. They make coffee and learn to handle money. They even make breakfast for the teachers.

DEF JAM

Sometimes we all find ways to express ourselves. Whether it is writing a short story, singing a song, or playing a guitar, we show who we really are.

If I become a prisoner of war, I will keep faith with my fellow prisoners.

I will give no information or take part in any action which might be harmful to my comrades.

If I am senior, I will take command.

If not, I will obey the lawful orders of those appointed over me, and will back them up in every way.

On the 30th of December 1971 Lieutenant Commander David Hoffman was captured by the Vietnamese. He was not released until 28 March, 1973. His message was clear: "A long hard struggle is finally over; it is most important that we learn from the experiences of the last decade, and that we continue to fight for freedom and truth wherever and whenever it is threatened. A vocal minority should never be permitted to cover up the basic truths with half truths and innuendo. Continue to seek out the truth, and keep the spirit of unity, which makes this country great, moving and growing. God bless you all." He retired as a captain.

FIESTA

1. When is Mexico's Independence Day?

2. Which flag has red and white stripes, a blue triangle, and one white star?

3. Which flag has a yellow sun with a human face?

4. What's on the beak of the eagle in the center of the Mexican flag?

5. Which animal is native to the Andes Mountains?

It's Fiesta time--or as we say in Spanish Club--let's party!

The Spanish Club hosts a Fiesta every year to celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month.

Games, dance contests, lots of food and trivia--you name it, we have it! What a great way to celebrate culture!

Good Eats

What makes Open House special? In part, it has to be the Culinary Arts students who prepare and serve tasty treats for parents and visitors. Under the guidance of Mr. Larry Prine, these students spend many hours preparing treats for the many visitors at Open House.

Where do I go first period?

New students flooded the school campus when it came time for this year's Orientation, gathering schedules and materials for the new school year. While students got their schedules, they learned about the classes and activities available.

Are you drug free?

Red Ribbon Week is a time when the students pledge to be drug free. Our ASACS counselors plan an entire week of activities to increase awareness of drug and alcohol abuse among our student body. Students went through the school placing red ribbons on each locker, asking students to accept the challenge to remain drug and alcohol free.

Got a Question?

Open House gives parents a chance to meet the teachers and to orient themselves to the many special programs RHS has to offer. Our PTSO actively supports our Royal students, and many parents use Open House as a way to get involved in the activities of this great organization.

Welcome to Ramstein

It's hard enough to be a senior, but when you have to move overseas and spend your senior year in a whole new place, it can be pretty intimidating. Senior Counselor Patti Carden came up with the idea of hosting a luncheon for all the new seniors. Mr. Prine's Culinary Arts classes provided the good eats and several teachers dropped by to say hello to our new Royals and to let them know that the Royals community is glad they are here.

Cash Rewards

If you want to go somewhere, it costs money. That is a simple fact of life-and it's no less true at Ramstein. Many clubs and organizations use the Student Store as a way to raise funds for their events and travels. MUN raised money for its trip to Prague. The Junior Class raised money for Prom. Sponsors and students work together to help fund many worthwhile activities. Is it hard work? You bet. But the reward is worth it.

Dream On

Who better to tell us about success other than those who have achieved? Several members of the Florida Marlins came and spoke to our students about what it takes to accomplish their dream. Their message was simple: If you believe that your dreams are out of reach, then they probably are. Take control of your life. Work hard and make the future yours.

Senior Perks?

Who can pass up free pizza? Certainly not the Ramstein seniors! But then, they are seniors, right? And they deserve an occasional treat for all their hard work over the years. The senior officers planned a surprise pizza party for their classmates in February. What do you get after 22 pizzas and 200 bags of chips? Happy, well-fed Ramstein seniors.

Let it snow!

The weather outside may be frightful but that didn't stop these students from building a giant snow man in the middle of the football field. Snow days allowed students to relax, but provided some stress for teachers trying to stay on schedule. Whether you stayed inside with a cup of hot chocolate or played outside in the snow, these were good days.

Talented with Clay?

Every year students create beautiful pieces of art and we present them in a showcase. It takes time and precision to create such a unique art work. They work with clay to create pottery and other various objects to show off. Some of these students put a lot of effort into creating something astonishing to look at instead of an eyesore.

College?

Are you ready for the next stage of your life? Much of your junior and senior years is spent planning for the future. Many RHS seniors attend college. But how do you find the best college fit? It takes time and careful research, but it's all worth it when you get that letter of acceptance.

Ready, Set, Test!

Standardized testing is a part of life for students. Since you were little, you have been taking one test after another to measure your academic progress. Every year, RHS students take the Terra Nova test in March. These tests provide important data for the school to use about students and academic programs.

Navy Seal

Chief Don Horvarth met with students at Ramstein about the Navy Seals. Many Royals showed up in Ms. Campbell's room to watch the video and to learn about this very special program. His message was simple: strive for excellence. Don't limit yourself by focusing on what you can't do or what will be hard to do. When you see something in life that you want, go for it. Don't let others put limits on what you can do.

There's music in the air

Our music program is second to none. Our students are always bringing music to the hallways of RHS and to venues all over the local community. Mr. Jeff Pellaton works very hard to bring musicians into the school to perform with and to work with our instrumentalists. Members of the USAFE band performed for a packed house during seminar this year. It was an amazing performance that inspired our students to continue making music a part of their lives.

Student2Student

New to Ramstein? First week in Germany? Can't find your classes? Wonder who you'll have lunch with or who can tell you about that sport or activity at Ramstein? Student2Student is there to help. We can help you long before you even get to Ramstein so you can get up and running that much faster. Once you arrive, we match veteran Royals up with our newcomers to help them get oriented to the Royal way of life. Does it help? You bet. Everyone needs a friendly face on those first few days of being the "newbie". S2S. It's a great idea.

Welcome to RHS!!!

How do I find the main office? Where is SAO? How do I register my new student? Who can I see if I want to...? So many people who need so much information. This year, RHS set up a Welcome Center in the front hallway to help people find the quick answers to their questions. Manned by RHS students, the Welcome Center has made life much simpler for all of our Royal visitors.

Blood Drive

It's called the gift of life for a reason: it really can make the difference between life and death for someone in our military community. Ms. Husum's xxxxx classes worked with the xxxxxxxx to sponsor a blood drive at Ramstein. Dozens of RHS students and community members lined up to donate for this worthy cause.

Lending a helping hand

When there is a tough time who lends a helping hand?.. Ramstein students do!!! Our students made delicious cupcakes to hel support the Japan relief. After the tsunami hit our students did all they could to help even if it was dontaing a small amount of money.

Cookoff

One thing we know for sure: teachers love to eat--especially if it's free. The faculty held the annual Chili Cookoff in February, and the chili was spicy and tasty. Teachers use this event as a way to break up the long winter blahs and to share some laughter and good times. Who won? Who cares? Everyone wins when there's good food involved.

JROTC

Nice, but will it fly? That's the proverbial million dollar question when ROTC cadets build model rockets as part of their curriculum. Okay, maybe the rockets don't cost a million dollars, but there sure are a million things that could go wrong. One false move and that rocket is going somewhere over the rainbow. Over the roof? Over Sgt. Speller's head? Whatever the result, it's a lot of fun. After all, sometimes the effort is in the attempt.

Eat Healthy

So many choices--and so many of them are bad, bad, bad for your health. A key part of the Pan PE program is learning how to make healthy food choices. The local commissary is filled with tempting treats, but RHS students must learn to be healthy consumers. Ms. Sebastian takes the students to the commissary to show them how to spend their money wisely on healthy choices.

Show Your Spirit

School spirit. What is that? For those who really want to support the Royals sports teams, pep rallies provide a great chance to show that school spirit. The Varsity Club and cheerleaders plan fun games and events to give all Royals a chance to rally behind our teams. Silly sometimes? Of course. That's half the fun, right? But everyone leaves the stadium pumped up for the big games to come.

Will you make the pledge?

Suicide is a problem for everyone and deserves plenty of attention from prevention to education. Every semester, the school psychologist and ASACS counselors provide information about signs of suicide to every health class. This year we decided to bring it to the entire school and asked students to sign a banner they care about their friends and will ACT: Acknowledge, Care, and Tell if they see a friend in need. Acknowledge that you are seeing the sign of suicide in a friend and that it is serious. Care by telling your friends that you care about them, that you are concerned that he needs help you cannot provide. Tell a responsible adult, either with your friend or on their behalf.

Project Rudolph

We all know someone who either is or has been deployed downrange. The holidays are an especially hard time for those deployed. Ramstein students did what they could to provide holiday cheer through Project Rudolph. Writing a letter to a deployed service member may seem like a small thing, but the joy those letters bring to those far away from home and family is beyond measure.

Science Nerd? We'll risk it!

Science is for everyone. Really. We all would better understand our world and our place in that world if we had a better grasp of the finer fundamentals of science. In an attempt to put some of the “fun” in fundamentals, The Science Club looks for new ways to make science relevant for students. Sure, we might run the risk of being “Science Nerds”, but in the end we have a lot of fun and we learn.

Plan for your future!

If you really think you know what you want to do with your life, wouldn't it make sense to explore that now? Career Practicum is all about the exploration. Is this really the job I want? Can I see myself making a career in this field? CP gives students the chance to find more of their future than they ever thought possible. It's not easy to find our passion in life, but it's sure a lot easier to find when we are actively searching.

Make it happen!

How do they do that? How do they even know where to start? And how does it always, always end up tasting so good? Our Culinary Arts classes run the student store a couple weeks each semester, and that is something we all look forward to. Instead of hot dogs and styrofoam sodium, we get great meals for an incredible price. We don't know how they do it, but we figure it's like on Project Runway., where the guy says, "No excuses, people. Make it happen!"

Did you know...?

National History Day gives students the opportunity to explore and research important eras, movements, personalities, and topics in the long history of this nation. Students spend many months planning their projects and putting the finishing touches on the displays, videos, and other presentations. Is it worth the effort? Of course. We could all stand to know a little more about our own history.

PLAYING OUR GAME

PASSING

Stay low, on your toes, never stand still. Be ready to hit the floor for anything. Get underneath the ball with a strong platform.

SETTING

Sprint to the net, ready for the pass. Run to the ball, bring your hands up above your forehead. Use all your momentum to push the ball to the hitter.

HITTING

Drop off the net ready to get the short balls and tips. Once the pass is made call out your number. Take your approach with the ball timing everything just right. Jump in the air and slam it down.

Our Team

At the beginning of the new season, to be the best we had to come together.

Through all ups and downs we progressed and stayed together.

Once we knew how to work with each other, we won together, and became the undefeated team.

Cross Country

Huddled closely to their teammates, they make their way slowly to the start. No words, just quick glances between competitors. Two minutes until the gun goes off. One runner ties triple knots in her laces. Another massages her aching knee, the latest injury in a long, long season. Many, eyes shut, pray--to win, to avoid injury, to endure. The call comes. To the line. They shed their warm-ups, piling them in a heap. Now they are free, like children leaving home for the first time. But this is an uneasy freedom, a nervous freedom. Nobody speaks. They move automatically, with blank faces and clenched fists. They all know that soon, all too soon, the world will return to normal. But for now, it's the race. It's the drive. The race begins.

The runners bolt ahead, feet pounding and hearts racing. The pack thins into groups as runners elbow their way into place. Intense eyes scan the pack and the course for danger, for opportunity. Up the hills. Down the hills. Small leaps over hidden obstacles, over things that try to grab you, to slow you down. One runner surges ahead of the pack. Others follow, stride for stride. Another strong move. Block that runner. Take away his options. Neck to neck, neither runner can shake the other. Drive. Don't think. Drive. They push each other. The finish line nears. The crowd tenses, the roars for the Royal in blue. They stumble to the finish line. Victory.

A warm fall evening and the sun sets slowly. The course is empty now, save one runner. One runner who is running a different race against time now. In his prime, he has won many races. Tall and lean, even after all these years, he runs with long, natural strides. Running used to be a fight--against his fellow runners, against nature, against the voices in his head telling him he's not fast enough, not good enough. The course has been his battlefield. But not tonight. The cool gentle breeze carries the scent of autumn. He savors the the freedom, the space, the emptiness. He remembers the finsih line. It was here, right here. But now there is no finish line. He is a runner for life. This race has no end.

Hit It Right

In tennis, every ball that comes to you is a decision. Do I slice it, do I hit cross-court, do I hit topspin, do I hit sidespin, do I lob? What do I do?

In practice we sweat and work for hours everyday, correcting our mistakes. It is different in a game though; you've got something to loose, you can't redo your move.

But in practice we get stronger, we play till we see the ball coming and an instinct comes in and questioning ourselves no longer happens. In the game we do not play hoping we'll win, we play with intensity.

I play Tennis because

- 1. It is fun*
- 2. I get to spend time with my friends and*
- 3. all the jokes we come up with.*

--Bryan Caldwell

I like Tennis because it's just as much of a mental sport as it is a physical sport. You have to keep your mind focused on the game the whole time.

--Taylor Stewart

No matter how many times you get beat down the line or aced on serves. It is all about keeping a positive outlook and staying consistent for the match. As long as the team keeps practicing we should consistently win meets.

--Nathan Priddy

ENDURE THE GAME

1. Keep your feet moving. Be sure to bounce up and down and side to side a little bit. This constant movement will keep you loose and help you to concentrate. Remember: Lively feet equal a lively mind.
2. Breathe. Become aware of your breath as it goes in and out. Make sure to breathe in as you prepare your swing. As you make contact, breathe out. Grunting is a super way to keep the air flowing. Tennis great Ilie Nastase used to say "whoosh" to himself throughout his strokes to keep himself loose.
3. Focus. Instead of worrying about what may happen in the future, focus on the here and now. During the point, focus on the ball. Once the point ends, concentrate on your breathing and your strategy for the next point. If you feel an "if" creeping into your mind, push it aside with a deep breath.
4. Learn to think like a winner. When you feel tight, don't try to ignore it. Acknowledge it, and view it as a challenge rather than a barrier. Learn to love the battle. Remember, the ball doesn't know what the score is.
5. Don't look for excuses. They're readily available if you search for them, but excuses are the easy way out. They're a way of rationalizing our loss and hanging on to our self-esteem. There's no shame in losing a tennis match. The only shame is in not dealing with it maturely.
6. Smile. The physical act of smiling releases chemicals in your brain which help you to relax. Plus it psychs the other players out and gives them something to worry about.

I like the competition and adrenaline rush you get from winning! It's a feeling I live for!

--Meghan Augsburger

“There are plenty of teams in every sport that have great players and never win titles. Most of the time, those players aren’t willing to sacrifice for the greater good of the team. The funny thing is, in the end, their unwillingness to sacrifice only makes individual goals more difficult to achieve. One thing I believe to the fullest is that if you think and achieve as a team, the individual accolades will take care of themselves. Talent wins games, but teamwork and intelligence win championships.”

*"We worked hard all year. That's just what it takes, you have to give it 100% every time you step on the mat. Sometimes you don't feel like it but that's what it takes. That's all that separates you from the guy across the mat. Wrestling is one of the best experiences I ever had, it was a lot of hard work but it was worth it in the end."
-Ryan Gernert*

"I moved up two weight classes because I wanted new challenges. Wrestling is all about physical strength and technique. I like wrestling against bigger guys because that way I can challenge myself everyday in practice. Wrestling is just you and the other guy and whoever makes the mistake loses."
-Adam Franz

"When coach said to step it up a notch, he meant it. I'm not saying we don't work hard now; we do. But we need to work harder and smarter. Don't get lazy and tell yourself that you've been doing good so far. All the other meets were practice until now. You don't want to be at sectionals or Europeans kicking yourself when you're losing or feeling bad for yourself because you could have worked harder or you could have perfected a good move. I believe in this team. I've seen us at our best and our worst. We have to show our true colors now."

I like baseball because it takes strategy and skill to win. The games are what really counts in the end, so I focus on that. I think we are going to win the championship this year. We have good leadership and all around talent.

--Caleb Guerrero

I'm the starting catcher this season. I'm a good hitter, and I can bat from either side so that makes me versatile. I've made more friends playing baseball because we all have a love for the sport. There are six freshmen on the team but I think we can win the championship.

--Matthew Zembraski

It's a lot of work to have so many younger players, but it's exciting to see them step up and perform. I think we have a strong infield. I enjoy the challenge of baseball because you can always get better. Last year the team was united from the start, but this year, we have to work to build that team and make it happen. I think we have a good shot to win the championship.

--Andrew Grotelueschen

I'm expecting us to do well this year and in the years to come. We have six freshmen on the team to go with the four returning players, and these guys have a lot of talent and have picked up things fast. We've been in the championship chase the last two years, and I expect to be right in there again. Right now, pitching is one of our strengths. We've had better hitting teams in the past, but we're working on that and I think we'll be fine.

If I could be the school principal for one day I would make class  $\frac{1}{2}$  as long, passing periods 2X as long, and lunch 3X as long!

I would choose my cousin to experience my life so she would know how hard life is for other people.

If I

chose someone to play me in a movie I would choose Tyra Banks. She's been my role model since age 10 and I look up to her, she's down to earth and inspiring, she's the realist model out there and she believes beauty comes in any shape and size.

Mr. Dehaas. He gets so into his lectures that he ends up talking about a past girlfriend. It's always nice having a teacher who talks to you and not at you.

I live to be inspired by others, and not be jealous. My life is a quest where I hope for one outcome, but want another. My point in life is to sing, dance, and laugh in front of everyone I know.

What does Homecoming mean to Juniors? It means having a blast looking as nerdy, wacky, and as spirited as possible on dress-up days. It means competing against other classes in hallway decorating, guy cheerleading, and powder puff football. It means tying the seniors 36 to 36, and yelling "BRING IT!" when they demand a rematch. It means fun at the Homecoming dance with your friends and your date. It means showing off your dress, your hair, your dance moves. It means choosing the Homecoming Prince and Princess. Most of all, it means making this Homecoming week the best ever!

You did it.

Rahman K. Bolaji

Graduate

Rahman Kayode Bolaji, you have grown from a 4lb+ baby to an adorable and finest young man in our family. We want you to know that all of us including your grandparents treasure you very much. You have successfully completed your high school diploma with honors and we are very proud of your accomplishment. We wish you a brilliant success in college. Hearty congratulations from all of us, Celebrate!

We love you much. From Tai, Toyin, Malik, Rasheed, Jasmine and families...

Landon Ellis

Landon, You are a superb creation of our heavenly Father. You have such a love of life and for those around you. You have always had a contagious laugh! You have made us proud beyond words! You see a challenge, and with hard work & perseverance, never back down. God will prosper you because you actively seek His face and His will for your life.

We love you... Dad, Mama, Luke, & Lacey

“His delight is in the law of the Lord, and meditates on His law day and night. That person is like a tree planted by streams of water, which yields its fruit in season and whose leaf does not wither— whatever they do prospers.”

Psalm 1:2-3

Andrew,

It seems like only yesterday that you were a little boy just beginning your life. We remember the first day that we took you to school and the first time we put you on a school bus alone, when you tried to send us away because you wanted to stand there on your own. As you break away and go into the world alone, all we can offer are words that you will hopefully remember and carry with you in the times ahead. We wish you the brightest of futures and hope that wherever you go, you go with all your heart. We hope more than anything that you never forget how proud we are of you. Congratulations!

Love Mom, Dad,
and Amanda

THERESA MARIE BOLAN

Dear Theresa (Reesie),

Eighteen years ago God brought you to us, fighting for your life...and your strong spirit remains to this day. You've grown to become a brilliant, confident, beautiful young woman.

Words cannot express how proud we are of you. There are no limits to what you can accomplish.

Love,

Mom & Dad, with big hugs from Elizabeth (who is hoping you join her at KSU) and Matt (who is happy to now have the computer full time!)

Andres,

The next milestone in your life has come.
We loved you since the first day we saw you.
We counted your fingers and toes, looked into your beautiful eyes and kissed your little nose.
It's hard to send a son out into the world.
But we've taught you all we can, we've given you advice, but most of all we've given you roots and wings;
Roots, so you'll always know where you belong and wings, so you can fly.
Soar high my son, and follow your dreams.
We could not ask for more happiness than the 18 years we had with you.
We love you very much and we are proud to call you our son.
Love,

Mom, Dad
and Samuel.

Kat,

Finally, 2011 has arrived and its time to graduate! Congratulations! Our little princess has grown into a beautiful and intelligent young woman. You always adapted to our military lifestyle of frequent moves, new schools and friends. You amaze us with your passion for horses. Your wisdom, energy and compassion will take you far in life. Aim high, follow your dreams and make them your reality!

We love you,
Mom, Dad, John, & Moe

Nicole Grizzle

Nicole, over the years we've watched you mature from a little girl into a beautiful young lady. We know you'll go far in life and achieve all your dreams. Just remember that wherever you go and whatever you do, you'll always be our little princess.

Matt Carenza

Dear Matthew,

Worm! Remember when we spent hours waiting in line for the newest Harry Potter book to be on sale or when you won your first talent show? You have given us such wonderful memories. We are so proud of you and everything you have accomplished! You have been dragged across the world, attended three high schools, climbed mountains to see yet another castle, and still you have maintained your sense of humor. You have always been one to set goals and do everything possible to attain those goals. We love you for your determination and independence, and we know you will succeed at everything you set out to do. Can't wait to see your name in lights!

Love,

Mom, Dad, Tony, and Christopher

Jared

Dear Jared,

A wise son makes his father and mother glad, and adheres to their instructions. You have been the joy of our lives. You have made us glad. For the last 18 years we have seen you grow and being molded under the image of God. We are so thankful for your presence in our lives! As you turned from a boy into a wise young man, it is our prayer that the counsel of God remains always with you, for then you will make your ways prosperous, and you'll have good success. Thank you for being who you are, thank you for your love and compassion, and never forget the Lord Jesus Christ. We love you, son.

Forever our son,
Dad and Mom

Alessandra Mings

We are proud of the young lady you have become. Even as a young child you possessed the qualities that most people only dream of having. You were always concerned about the injustices in the world and wanted to make a difference; you are a born leader. You have such wonderful common sense and intelligence; Courage that could conquer the world and the bow that wraps this beautiful package together is your caring nature and love for your family and friends.

We are fortunate to have two wonderful daughters that are not only sisters but friends and have played the "defense attorney" role for one another on many occasions. Gabriella will miss you as much as you will miss her.

We know you need to spread your wings and grow, but we will miss you terribly when you go off to college.

Lots and Lots of Love Mom, Dad and Gabriella

Caitlyn Modisette-Sheets

Caitlyn,

Congratulations on the remarkable young woman that you have become! We have worried about this day since they laid you in our arms for the 1st time, but now 18 years later we are confident to let you begin this next journey of your life on your own. We are so proud to say that you are our strong, beautiful, intelligent, opinionated daughter who believes that anything can happen if an effort is put forth.

Remember, that no matter where you are we will always support you. We love you so very much. Keep reaching for the stars baby, and never give up on your dreams.

With our love,

Mom, Dad and Colton

Michael Oerther

Since the day you were born you've put love in my heart and laughter in my life. Your smile brightens my day and your kindness enhances the world. As I watch you graduate, the tears you see are of joy and pride for the wonderful man you've become. Go conquer the world and know that my heart and love are with you wherever life takes you.

--Love, Mom

Over the years I've watched you grow from a boy into a fine young man. We've had a few setbacks but they taught us valuable lessons and gave us a chance to grow closer as we struggled through them together. I am proud of you and I'm glad we took this journey together and wish you a blessed life realizing your fullest potential.

Love you- Todd

Ryan Langhorst

Ryan,

From the day you were born, we have always been amazed at what you could do. The last 18 years have gone by too quickly.

We have treasured every moment with you. We know you will do great things in your life...you already have. Your humor and intellect will carry you far. Everything we have done has been done with your best interest in mind. You have seen and experienced things and traveled to places most people only dream about. Take these experiences and grow from them...go to higher levels. It will be way too quiet without you at home. We love you more than anything. We are so proud of you. Always remember, you're the best!

Love Always and Forever,
Mom and Dad

YOU DID IT!! We are so Proud of you!
You are a blessing to our family. You bring such joy to our lives. To name a few your love for your family, your devotion to living the gospel and being an example to others, your zeal for music (whether your singing it or listening to it), your sense of gratitude, your eagerness to see the world, your loyalty to your friends, and your never ending supply of happiness to share wherever you go. Remember who you are, Pray daily, Smile often, Love much, and keep Christ in your heart. We LOVE you and we will miss you just as much. Don't forget we are only but a phone call away.

Before you were formed in the womb and born, God knew you and approved of you, and separated you... So continue to stay humble (and low)... Continue to lean on, trust in, and be confident in the Lord with all your heart and mind and do not rely on your own insight or understanding... Proverbs 3:5

As you move from faith to faith with Jesus as head of your life.... you can subdue kingdoms, administer justice, obtain promised blessing, close mouths of lions, extinguish the power of raging fire, escape the devouring of the sword, win strength, and be mighty in battle.... May Christ guard you and keep you in perfect and constant peace....

As you continue your life's journey, please remember these words from the Holy Bible; which will always carry you through life's many highs and lows.

Trust in the LORD with all your heart and lean not on your own understanding; in all your ways submit to Him, and He will make your paths straight.

(Proverbs 3: 5&6).

(Because) those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength;

they will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary,
they will walk and not be faint.

(Isaiah 40:31).
