*The flower droops-for it is as frail as the humans.
The world is rough, but it is everchanging.
But now the world is as frail as the flower,
For the humans are now changing.*

The Polite Touch—Your Ettiquestions Answered

I am sorry to say that very few people these days pay much attention to old-fashioned manners. I, of course, am an exception. To moi, beauty and good breeding are, like a pig and her frog, inseparable.

Still, I do realize that many personnes would like to behave properly, but simply do not know the correct thing to do in a given social situation.
