INcredible

SALLY AND ALICEA: meditate over junk food. SMILE: if you're a freshman.

A N K L E - GRABBERS: Eric Simon and Scott Johnston modify their views of the world.

Another school year. Two semesters, four quarters, nearly ten months, already over. Summer's here again. Incredible! Over 540 students have made new friends, accomplishments, and discoveries. Incredible! So, what remains of the 83-84 school year, except approximately 540 report cards? This. Yes, this is it. The yearbook. Your yearbook. It contains people, events, groups, things that made this year stand out. 200 pages, on which a great part of 83-84 is preserved. Incredible!

PATTY transforms Christine into the Thespians' fairy godmother. Where are you Prince Charming?

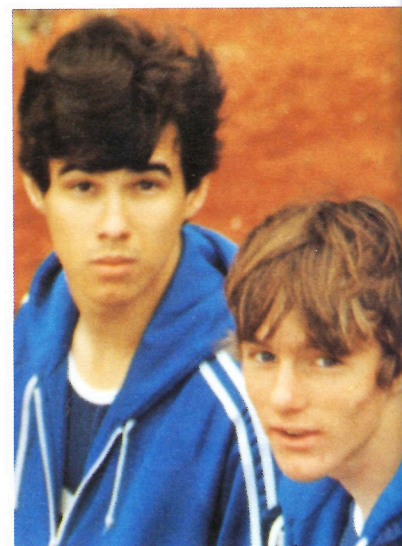

SCOREBOARD SABOTAGE: all in the sporting spirit, Robin, Julie, and Bertha practice some psychological warfare on Bitburg's opponents.

ON THE FLOOR, off the wall, the only way to go according to Mike Bernhardt.

OUTrageous

MOO-000: David McClintock tries to escape a bevy of bovine admirers.
STARE-DOWN: Chris Aguilar defies the camera eye.

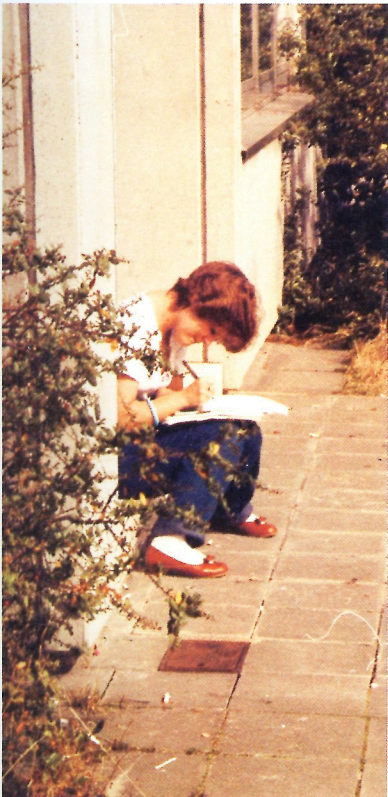

CURE FOR COLD HANDS: lots of p-o-m-p-o-m-s.
STACEY AND BARBIE: conducting a Bitburg bench session.

School was not always a steady stream of vocabulary words, reading assignments, and tests. We all needed some time out for some outrageous behavior, something to break the period one to period six, eight o'clock to three o'clock sameness of average high school life. Unscheduled antics included frolicking in cow pastures, wearing punk sunglasses, piercing ears, both males and females, once, twice, three to four times, and in general sticking our tongues out at tedious tradition.

NYAHI NYAHI
When asked the reason for her eminently eloquent statement, Dawn remained tight-lipped. HUNGRY, Mila?

STUDYING in the sunshine doubles your risk of skin cancer. SILENCED: the freshman who said too much.

INteresting

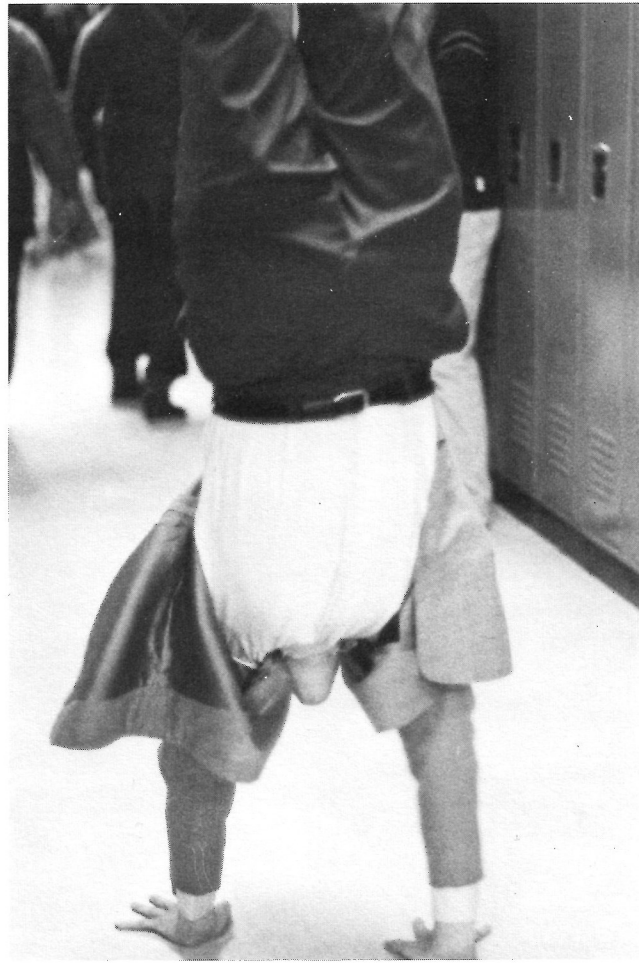

LEAN TO THE LEFT: Band members make up a large part of the cheering section, in addition to providing music. "Stand up, sit down! Fight! Fight! Fight!"

CAUGHT IN THE ACT: Jeff Muehleisen, a secretive mopster, is caught hard at work. Work?!? FOOTBALL'S FAMOUS LINE: "Hi Mom!"

The school building doesn't change from year to year, it's the students who change annually. This year, different people asserted their personalities in different ways. Some people wore Vans, black, blue, or red and white, some attached themselves to their Walkmans permanently, lots wore the famous Izod shirt, even more wore the Ocean Pacific emblem, and still more wore concert t-shirts. Alligator, Op, Def Leppard's British flag, or none of the above, everyone made their own statement.

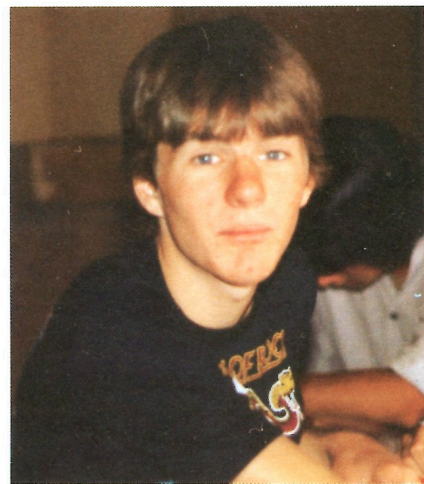

HANGING OUT: Christal Hallowall awaits the bus.
HEELS OVER HEAD: who else but Allen Wrede? Uh, Allen, school is for mental acrobatics.

SCALES AND CHORDS: Kim Bethune seems to have hit a sour note. "Bethune" sounds remarkably like "Beethoven." Mere coincidence? Or is it something more? WINDOW READING: Lori Spurger entertains a hidden audience.

OUTspoken

A REAL LEDGE-HANGER: curiosity apparently got the better of this camera-shy student. SCOTT JOHNSTON: a picture of Scott without his letter jacket or running shoes — amazing!

FRISBEE: a popular lunchtime activity when Bitburg has some nice weather. SURPRISE: you are not alone — even the peace of an in-the-hall test can be disturbed without warning as long as there's a yearbook photographer on the prowl.

Words are another way for people to assert their personalities. Each year usually has one or two phrases which become popular. This year showed a continuing of "for sure," "I'm serious," "really," and "totally." Most of the Valley phrases died out last year, but every once in a while you heard a "barf me out," or "bag your face." Two big ones this year were "bad," and "radical." They're all just words, but they evoke an atmosphere, and bring back memories of a certain point in time.

GO TEAM: Jenny, Rhonda, Michelle, and the rest of the cheerleaders led the sports spectators through a spirited season. HANDS UP: Jeff Messick seems to be a dedicated advocate of "chemistry" warfare.

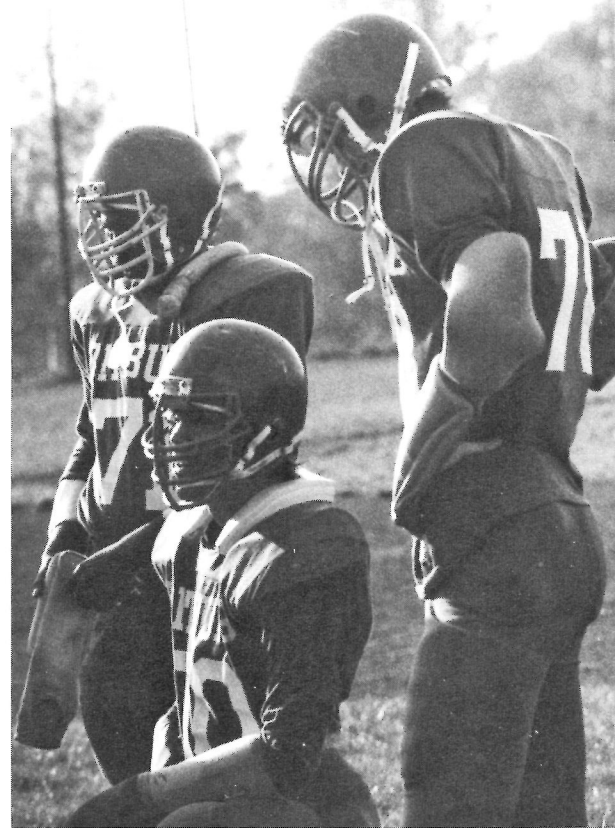

THROUGH THE WINDOW: the schoolbus, a social vehicle. ASLEEP ON THE JOB: the road to higher education seems to be a tiring one for Charles Trull.

INtense

I LOVE STUDYING:

Lisa Denesik, another victim of Mr. Kennedy's Trig asylum, discovers the hidden wonders of sine, cosine, and tangent. FOOTBALL: isn't all in the cleated feet, fumbles and forwards, plays take real concentration if they're to be successful.

VOLLEYBALL players have meditative moments too.

Whether we were figuring four-digit Trig values, getting the plays down for the next game, losing our voices cheering at a pep assembly, or just taking a little time for ourselves, we gave it our best effort. The desire to succeed comes from within. We had the strength within ourselves, the intensity, to take something from inside, and turn it into success outside. We passed the Trig tests, won the football games, enjoyed the pep assemblies, and got to know ourselves a little better.

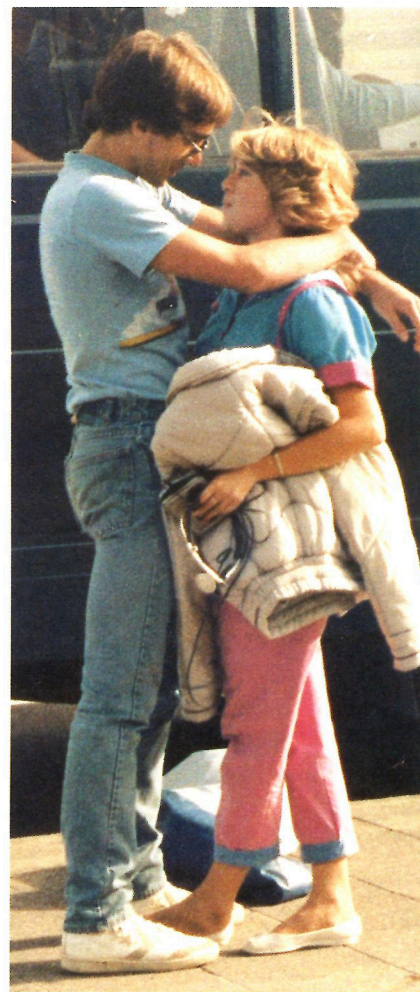

THE WONDERFUL WORLD OF SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY: Marc, Don, and Tim get the measurement exact down to the last millileter. SIDELINE SCENE: Bitburg Barons watch every play.

SPIRIT? You bet! "Hey you! Watcha' gonna do"?

OUTlandish

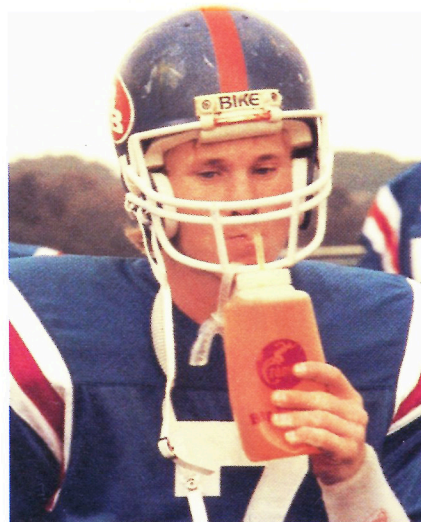

GOSSIPING AGAIN: the football field isn't the only place on which huddles are forming. HIGH SCHOOL HEARTTHROBS: a sunny day, a Walkman, and thou.

LOOKING BACK: Glenn displays great hindsight. PANIC: Scott Pfender, potential chemist, has just been instructed to draw the electron configurations for every element known to man, with a stick and a piece of Mr. Chaney's carbon paper.

Living in Germany, our high school years are a bit different from those of most American teenagers. Instead of hot dogs, we're eating bratwurst, in place of Six Flags, we have the annual Oktoberfest, in addition to Homecoming, we have Fasching. Not many U.S. high-schoolers can say they were late to school because a herd of cows had blocked the road. Outlandish, a mix of cultures, and the gain of many new experiences. We're growing up in Germany, and that makes us out of the ordinary.

NATHAN WIMER shares a few syllables with Candy Kramer. ALL'S FAIR IN LOVE AND WARMTH: three football fans fight for blanket ownership. EUPHONIC EARPHONES: Gai Brooks, side-line orator. What's he really listening to?

INexpressible

WRAPPING IT UP:

Jenny Hollenbeck strikes a pose while cleaning up pep assembly wreckage. CAUGHT IN THE ACT-ING: a Thespian inductee endures prolonged weirdness for the opportunity to see his name in lights some day.

AN INCLINATION

to recline — Mark Sweeney, sophomore slouch. SMILE: it's 2:50.

Words, even pictures, are not able to describe the atmosphere of the year, the real Ins and Outs. Your personal feelings about the year's events, particular personal experiences, these are inside you. The words and pictures help you remember these things, bring back a memory, "Oh yeah, I remember! That was when . . ." 1984 was an experience, new and unique in itself. You have memories now that will stay with you, inside, for the rest of your life. Inexpressible, yet unforgettable.

FLAT OUT FATIGUED: an anonymous student collapses under scholastic stress.

SENIOR FORCED LABOR: Nathalie Wright cleans up the senior courtyard. TEAMWORK: an integral part of football.

INspiring Faculty

New Year, New Faces

The student body at Bitburg High is always changing. As at all military schools, students arrive, and students leave, providing a constant turnover, and a sea of strangers every fall. This is also true of the faculty at BHS. Students registering for classes this year were met by many new faces on the staff. Mr. Charlie Toth and Mrs. Larissa Toth took on a heavy load of English classes as new teachers this year. Ms. Fogler headed the new Speech and Drama Department. Mr. Hubbard took up the baton and directed band and choir. Mrs. McWilliams gave the newspaper and yearbook classes a new face and a new look. The Science Department added Mrs. Travers. Mrs. Staponski taught Health/PE, and coached girls' basketball. Mrs. Vorrath made her Bitburg debut in the Home Ec. area. Mrs. Chandler came in to appease the fears of college-worried seniors, and Dr. Doengis joined the administration.

Staff members were always there to answer questions, and students were always there to ask them. The faculty lost a lot of familiar faces, but these new teachers are well on their way to replacing them.

Scheduling Scramble

Field House Scheduling was a big day for some people. For the freshman, it was the first day in a real high school atmosphere. For the rest, it was a mad scramble to get all their classes. Confusion reigned, as students, all classes alike, wandered around, trying to figure out where they were, what they were doing, and where to go next. There was also tons of paperwork to fill out. When the dust cleared, nearly everyone finally had the classes they wanted, when they wanted.

YOU'VE GOT TO BE KIDDING!: Ms. Tarbox inquires about student Jannette Jurado's math average.

HARD AT WORK: A harried student labors to fill out his scheduling forms. REALLY MR. FRITCHMAN?: really have to go to high school for 4 years?!?

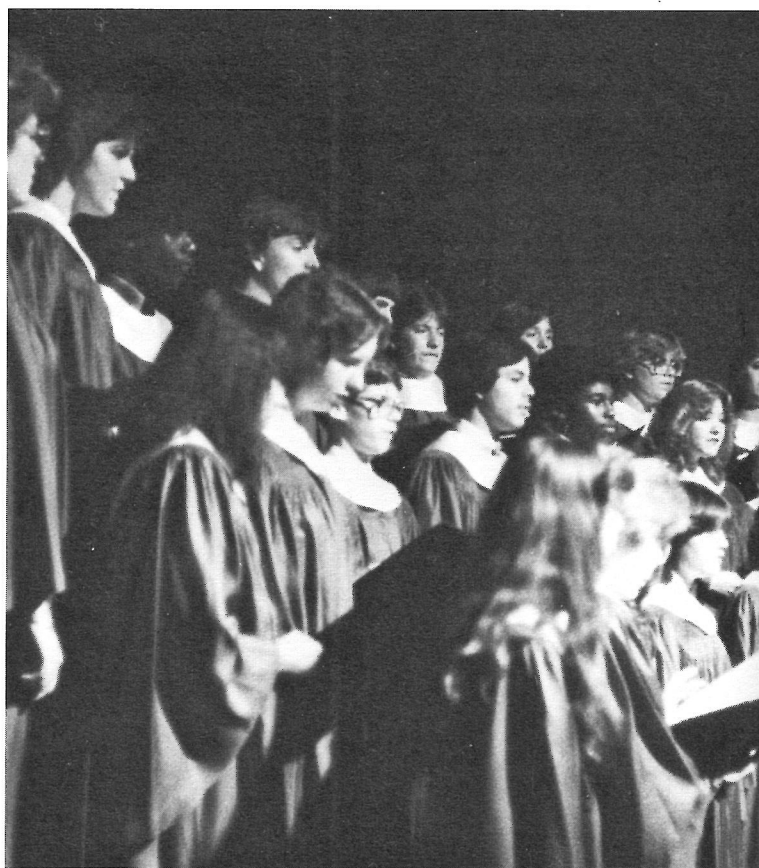

GO! TEAM! GO! Exuberant sophomores Modesty Wood and Jodi Lindquist show their stuff. WHAT AM I DOING HERE?: Mark Sweeney showing his spirit for the Sophomore class.

The First Yell . . .

The opening assembly, the first pep rally of the year, was a chance for the school to warm up its vocal chords in preparation for the upcoming Homecoming pep rally. Following tradition, the individual members of the football, cross country, and volleyball teams were introduced. The cheerleaders also led the classes in spirit yells. No spirit stick was awarded though, it had been stolen the year before. All in all, it was a great way to kick off the 1983-84 school year.

SOLO SINGER: Lori Spurger sang a great rendition of a beautiful song, "The Rose."
FLUTISTS FLAUNT IT: Penny Kincaid, Dina Lane, Kelly Waggoner, and their flutes, lead the band in the upper registers. HALLELUJAH, AMEN: the Concert Choir sings in unison.

Play, Maestro!

The Fall Concert proved to be a success. Under the direction of Mr. Hubbard, the Concert Band, as small as it was, performed excellently, as did the Concert Choir. This concert was Mr. Hubbard's first at Bitburg. Two musical groups made their debut. Twillite, made up of Jeff Eismann, Kurt Samler and Gary Spurger, played a rock medley. The other group, Sandhurst, consisted of Lori Spurger, Sascha Womack, Gary Spurger and Bertha Benavides. They played a few old favorites. All in all, it was an enjoyable evening.

Pep Rally Best Ever

Spirit was high, and competition was hot at the annual Homecoming pep rally. The pep rally was the climax of the fierce class competitions that had gone on all week long. The classes had the chance to flex their vocal cords in a cacophony of hoots, howls, yells, and screams of "84," "85," "86," or "87." The freshmen had a lot of spirit and were well-organized, while the sophomores just sort of stood in the background. The juniors made a super showing with signs declaring, "Juniors are #1!" All this wasn't enough to beat the seniors though. They made a tremendous sweep of awards, placing first in the skit and spirit yell. It was generally agreed that this pep rally was the best ever at BHS.

PEP ASSEMBLY PATIENCE: An eager group of freshmen wait impatiently for the spirit yells to start. OH NOO-OO, IT'S MR. BARON MOUTH: Cheerleaders Dawnelle Warkaske and Jodi Hibdon star in the freshman skit. We all needed some Alka-Seltzer after that one.

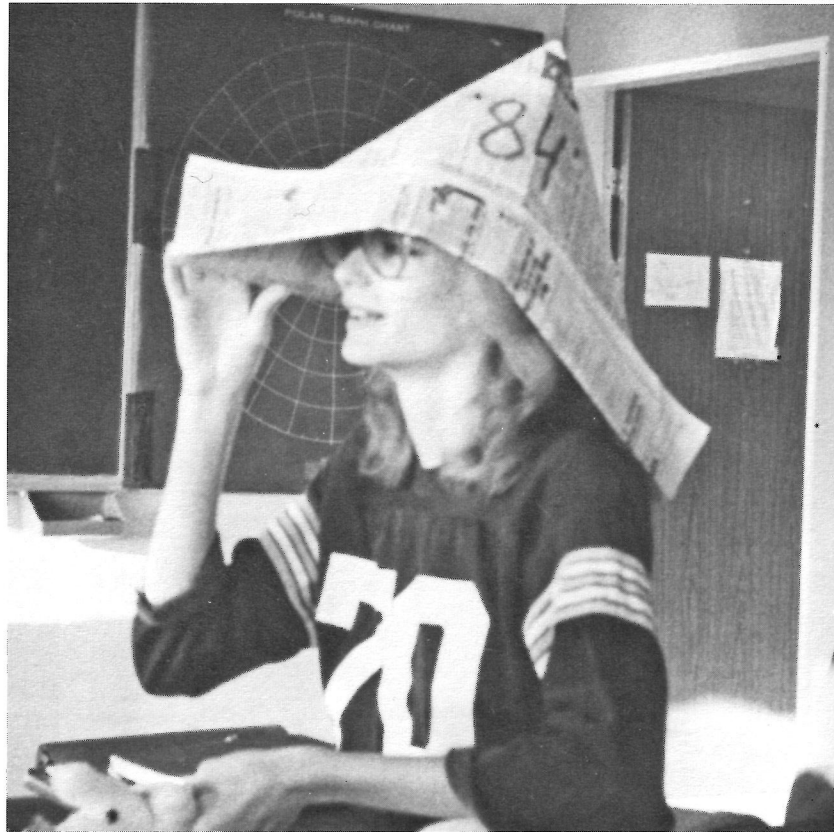

CHAIN REACTION: Elke Gardner poses with the sad remains of the sophomores' winning spirit chain.

Up Where We Belong

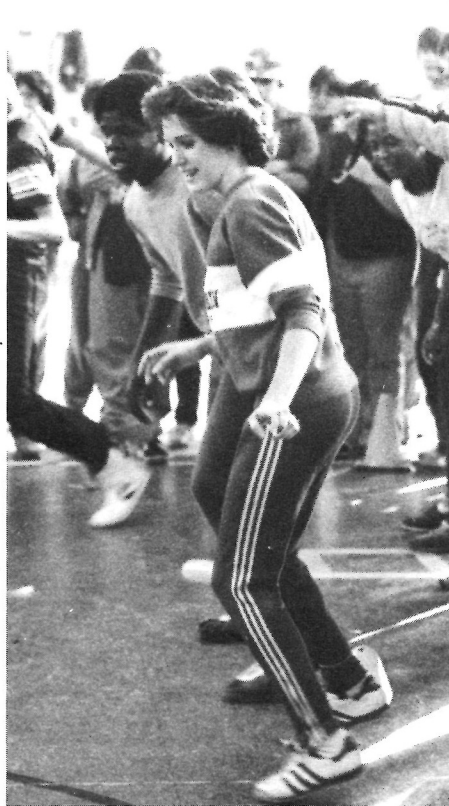

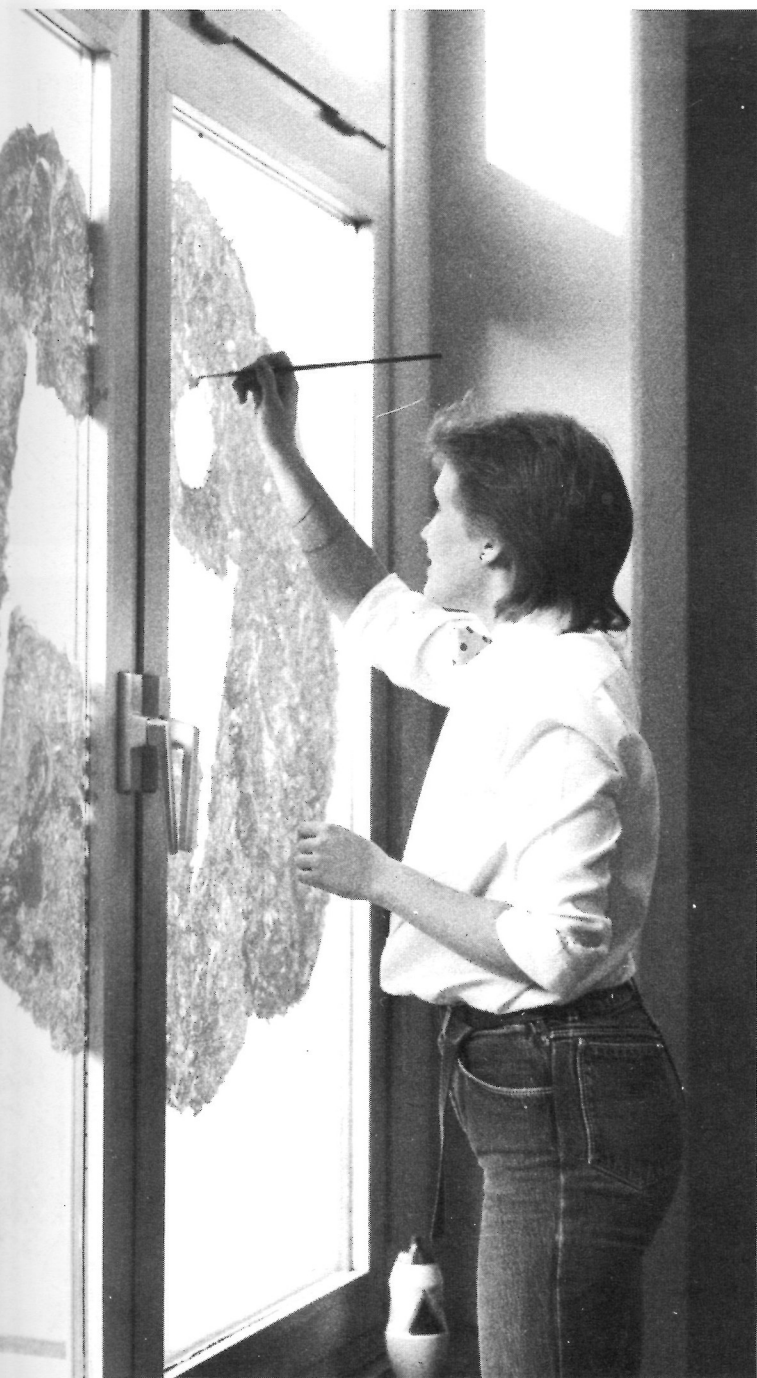

Togas flapping in the halls, punked-out rebels with pink hair, fuzzy teddy bears normally found on beds appearing on desks? If it's not the Greeks, not London, and not even the first annual meeting of lonely toys, it must be Homecoming. Many hours were spent after school painting windows and putting up the bulletin boards. Normal lunchtime activities gave way to class competitions. Why hang around with your half-eaten pizza when you can see Tim Thompson ride a tricycle? No question. The final results showed the seniors in first place, juniors in second, and sophs and freshmen with a tie for third. Fold up the togas, Homecoming's over once again. Don't rest on your laurels though; like the Pythagorean Theorem, Homecoming is hard to get rid of.

1999: Jill Petrick demonstrates a little future fashion.

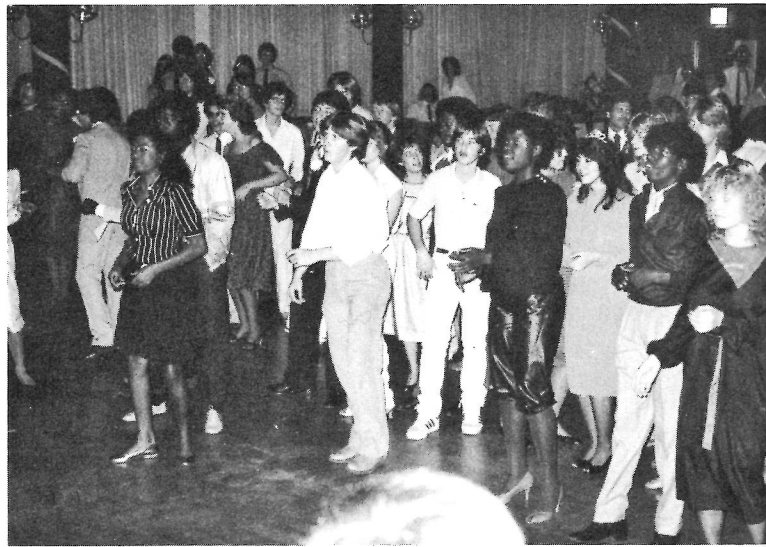

HAT ATTACK: Watch out Lady Di, Karen Damon and her paper creation are expected to be seen in Paris early next Fall! BURNIN' UP: Enthusiastic fans bake at the bonfire.

MOVE OVER MICHAELANGELO: Sally Quale adds the final touches to the senior window. The seniors won first place, so she must have been up where she belonged — brush in hand. FANCY FOOTWORK: Nicole Folse eludes enemy balloon stompers.

— Homecoming Dance '83

So you stomped all the balloons, skinned your knees and your dignity in the tricycle race, ruined your sweater painting windows, and got hauled in by the Security Police for stealing bonfire wood. Was it worth it? Surely you deserve some sort of reward! You're right! What could be better than the Homecoming Dance? This was your chance to bandage the knees, get spiffed up, and pursue that gorgeous human you saw in the toga on Wednesday. It was your chance to forget the wins, losses, and laryngitis, and just go out and party. Baron fans danced their way into the night, thanks to the senior class. The festivities finished off the week with a flourish, and made any injuries well worth it.

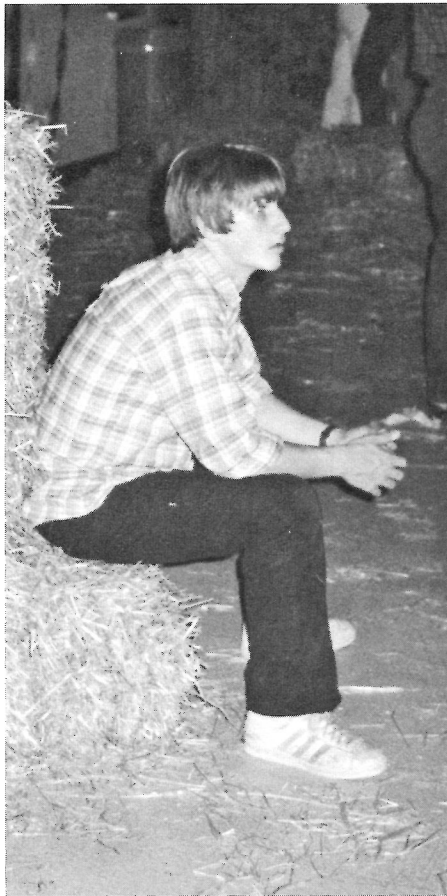

HOMECOMING COURT '84: Kurt Samler and Michelle LaPlante; juniors, Keith Jones and Bertha Benavides, King and Queen; Christine Weeks and Jeff White, sophomores; and Brad Blondet and Monica Gomez, seniors. Not pictured are the freshmen: Nicole Folse and Kevin Trow. TOE TAPPIN': Charles Byrd and friends dance to the music.

EVERETT AGAIN: Everett's at it again. A real rock and roll diehard.

“Girls Rock the Boys!”

This year's Sadie Hawkins theme was, appropriately, “Girls Rock the Boys.” The scene was set with the church, the jail, and lots of hay. There was momentary panic when the scheduled DJ didn't show up, but a replacement was found, and the dance got off to a loud start. As the night went on, there were marriages, divorces, and a few folks found themselves thrown in jail. The climax of the evening was the pie-eating contest. This event pitted the Lil' Abners against each other in a mad race to devour a pie. There was one catch though — no hands! The dance came to an end, leaving a floor full of hay for the juniors to take their pitchforks to. Sho'nuf, Sadie's over for another year.

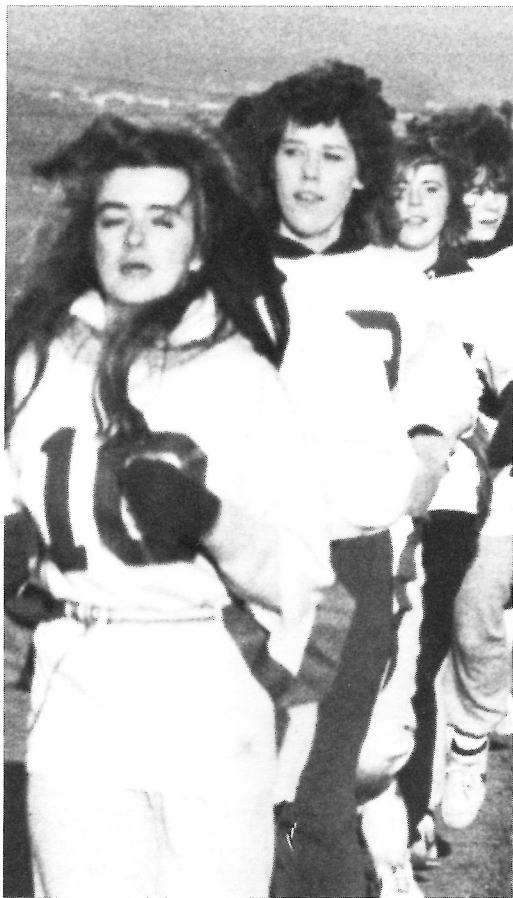

“BALE” HIM OUT: Dennis Wright surveys the scene from his straw seat.

'84 DAISY MAE AND LIL' ABNER REPS: Kelly Waggoner, Kevin Trow, Robin Beckwell, Mark Valderama, Jenny Hollenbeck, Pat McGurk, Alicea Zickert, and Tom Thornton. PIE IN THE FACE: Eat it up, Mark!

JAILBIRDS: Patti Smith and one of her captives. HOE-DOWN: Holly Bizzell, Glenda Bunting, and Jean Chittenden make the hay fly on the dance floor.

— Powder Puff: Beautiful Brawn

At the annual Powder Puff Football Game between the juniors and seniors, the seniors came out on top. They defeated the juniors with their excellent running and passing plays. Bertha Benavides and Kristy Waggoner led the seniors in scoring, each contributing a touchdown. The junior defense, under the direction of coaches Sean Moreau and Phillip Ardoin, made a heroic showing, holding the seniors to 12 points. The cheerleaders put on a cute half-time show and kept spirits high with their cheers. This year's Powder Puff was a good way for the juniors and seniors to pound out the daily frustrations they cause each other. Good luck to next year's juniors and seniors.

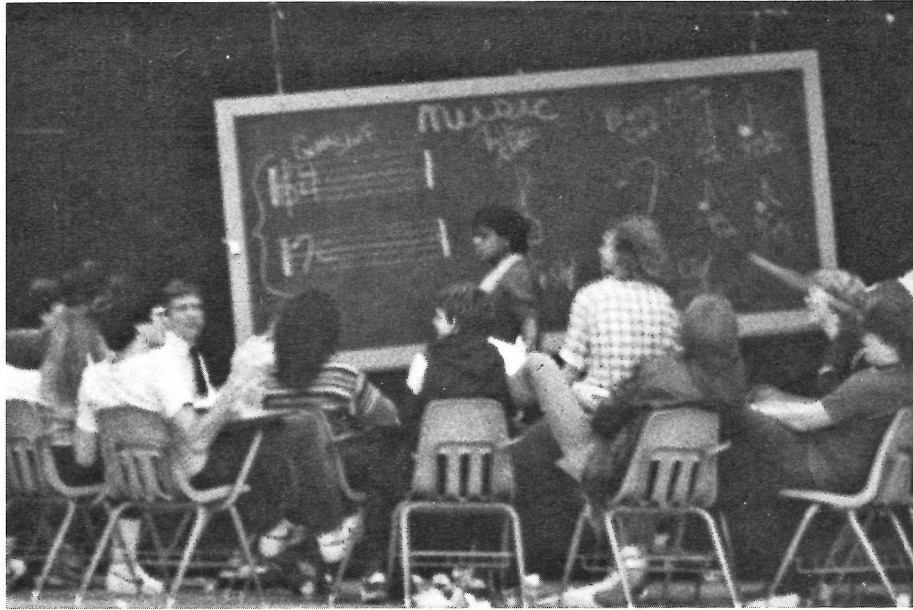

SENIOR LINE: Julie Hall, Angie Rawls, Patti LaMedica, and Mindy Byram — brutal beauties. THE PILE-UP: the Powder Puff cheerleaders attempt a pyramid. More like pyra-mush.

BUXOM BOY: John Gardner, the epitome of, er, masculinity.

Lights, Camera and . . .

Under the direction of Ms. Fogler, this year's Christmas Drama Production was a great success. Though the production was a rather spur of the moment thing, the school enjoyed the performances. Especially liked by the audience was the finale, Pink Floyd's "Another Brick in the Wall." All the performances were good, considering the fact that they were put together in 3 days. Acting is much harder than it looks, and the actors, actresses and Ms. Fogler did a great job in making something difficult look incredibly easy.

TOGA-TRUSSED THESPIAN: J. D. Smith, a Caesar in tennis shoes.

MELODRAMATIC MOB: A group of enthusiastic Thespians put on a skit for the student populace.

BACKSTAGE BUMS: Gary Spurger, J. D. Smith and Allen Wrede checked out the scene backstage.

SING IT: Kathi, Kelly, Angie, and Kim practice for the big concert.

DRUMMER BOY: Jeff prepares for an entrance during rehearsal.

ALL IN A ROW: BHS students Trish Rutledge, Allen Wrede, Dawn Woodard, and Lori Spurger tune up among strangers.

Noteworthy

The 1984 Symposium of the Performing Arts was the first held at Bitburg, and for a first, it wasn't all that bad. Attending the symposium were choirs and bands from Hahn, Bonn and Ramstein high schools. The Honors Choir performed excellently, their voices blending perfectly. The Honors Band performed just as well. The directors did a good job of organizing and conducting the band. The 1984 Symposium of the Performing Arts was a memorable experience.

SOCKLESS WONDER: Kathy Allinson seems to have misplaced one of her socks. Does this happen in public often, Kathy? DEMPSEY'S DUDS: Andre's clothes are looking a little strange today. I'm not sure why, just this feeling I have inside (out).

B-Week

"The Best Is Yet to Come." That was the B-week theme. However, it seems that most students modified it to read, "The Best Is Yet to Come, So Let's Just Sit Around and Wait for It." B-week was fraught with disaster this year. The dance was rescued by the SCA and the freshmen. The sophomore class were the culprits. They seemed to have even more apathetic members than the other classes. Well guys, we tried. What do you say we re-adopt this year's theme now for the next year? Maybe in '85 the immobile majority will get active and look within themselves for the "best" instead of waiting for it to drop from the heavens or sprout from the die-hard dedication of a tiny group of spirited students.

SCA PANIC: An emergency meeting was called to save the dance. GROWN UP SENIORS?: Jill Petrick and John Gardner still seem to need a helping hand in dressing themselves. Have you ever tried that at 6 AM in preparation for school?

OUT OF SIGHT: Junior Milla Maphies and partner near the end of their ordeal.

INnumerable

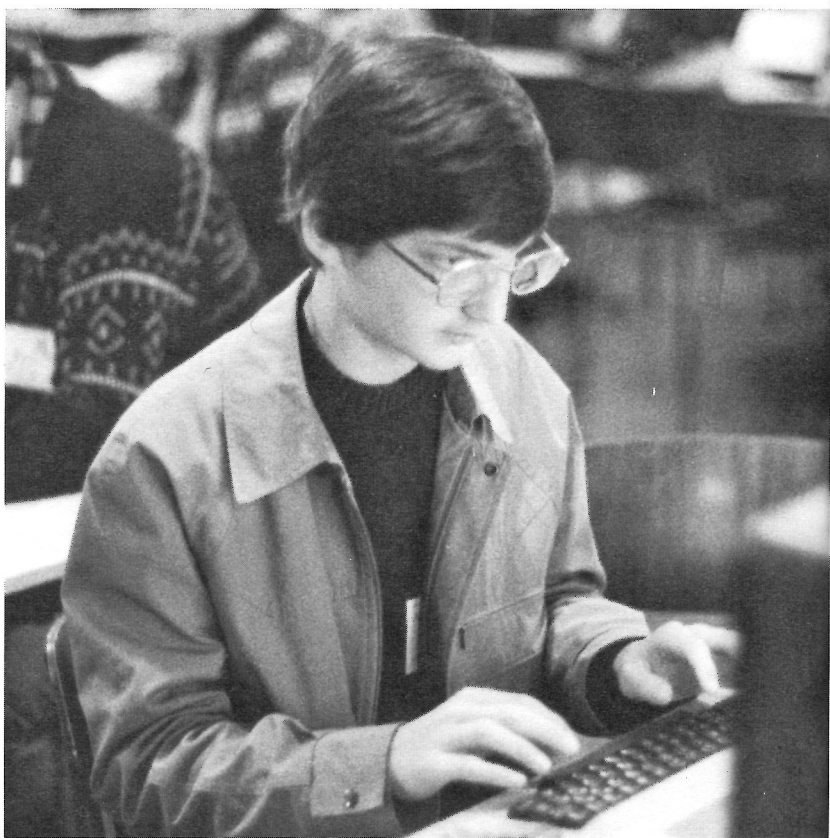

The rest of these pages are devoted to the infinite extra events at BHS. These are the innumerable things that happen throughout the year and warrant a picture or two. These pages are an addition to the INs and OUTs of Bit-burg High. We're involved and outshining all the rest.

HO-HUM: Another enthusiastic day at SCA. Yes folks, democracy at its usual break-neck pace.

WAR GAMES: Nathan Wimer at the computer at the Frankfurt Science Research Seminar.

HEAVY METAL: Gary Spurger tunes up his guitar. SLOW DANCING: Homecoming Senior Prince and Princess, Monica Gomez and Brad Blondet on the dance floor.

SLOW TRAIN TO KOLN: Tiffany Tafares and Herr Vogt chug along. Looks like Tiffany needs some "training" in travel tolerance.

BOMBS AWAY: Another day, another bomb threat; Students wait for the O.K. to go back into the building.

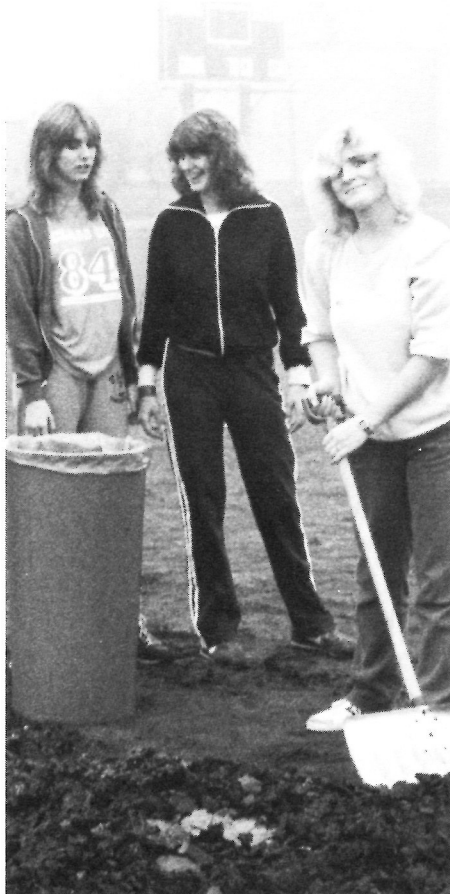

DIPLOMATIC DELIVERY: Mike Jensen addresses the General Assembly at Zweibrücken M.U.N.

OUTshining —

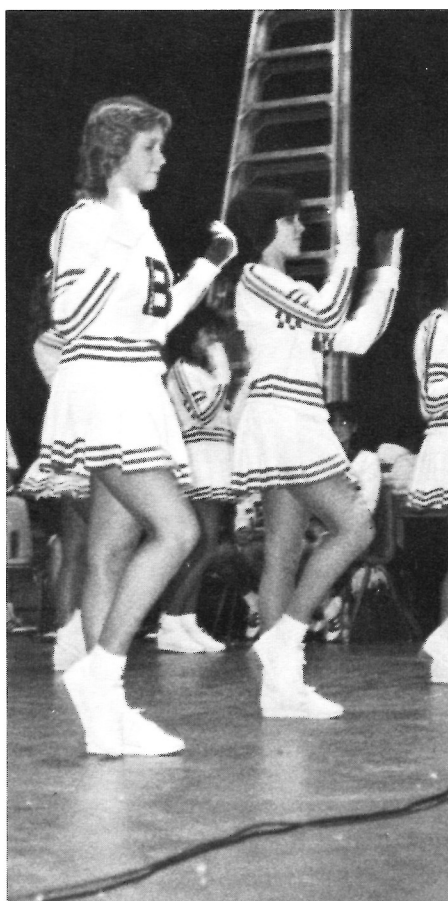

LOAD 'EM UP: Volleyball and Cross Country get ready to board the buses on one of their trips. Busy. busy.

IT'S CLEAN-UP TIME: Wendy, Jill, and Angie help clean up the post-bonfire mire.

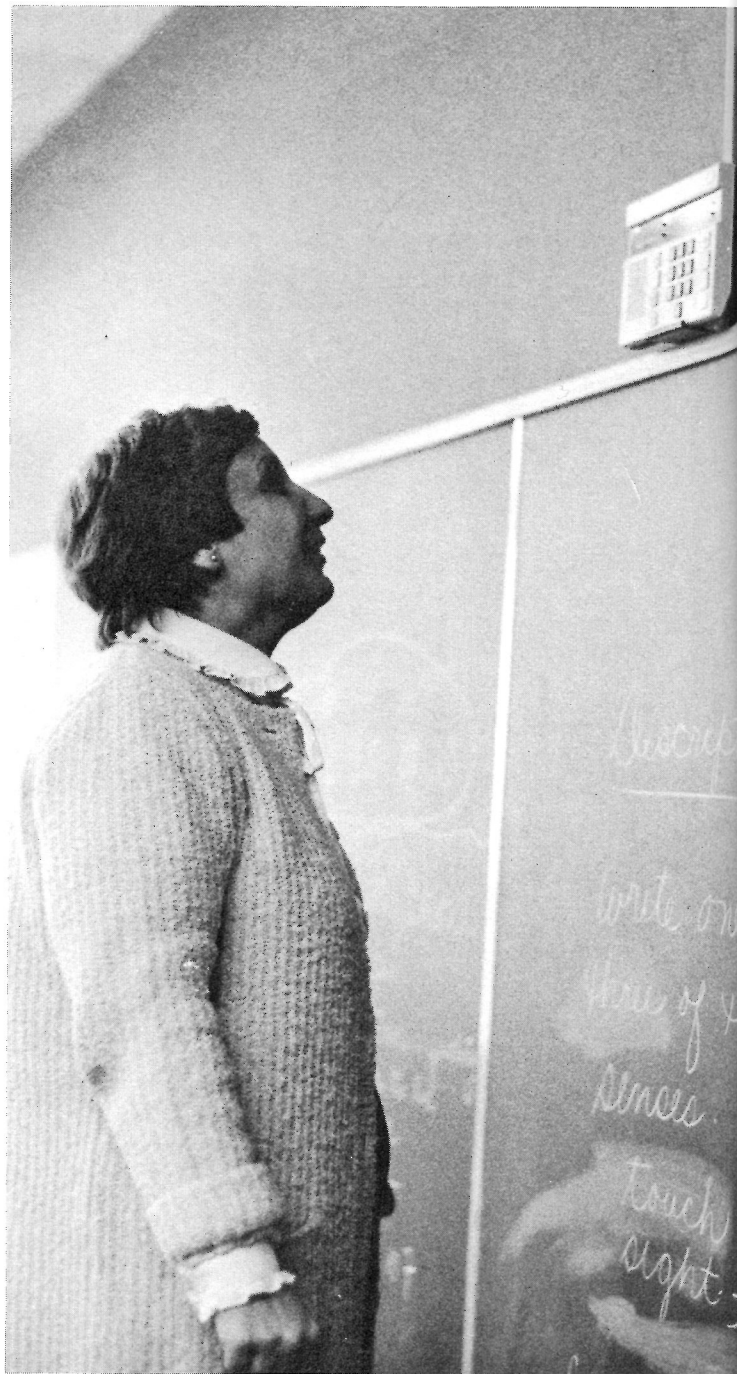

MR. EMCEE: Coach Schwartz handles vocal aspect of BHS football games. Look, in the sky . . .

CROWD SCENE: Spectators Kim Bethune, Emmy Nichols, Debbie Corley, Karen Damon, and Kristy Waggoner doing what else but, spectating. THE JOY OF COMMUNICATION: Ms. Behm tries out the new intercom system installed at BHS. The system is very convenient, and saved everyone a lot of time and hassle this year. Of course, in some, uh, isolated cases, a chair does help a little. Nothing personal, Ms. Behm.

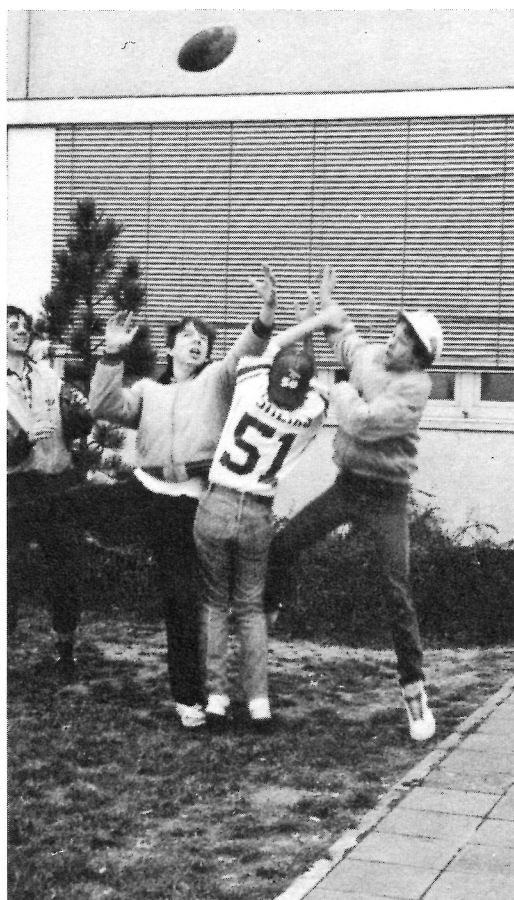

SLEIGHT OF HAND: Daquari Minier performs one of his card tricks for students. Daquari made several performances this year, and left them gaping every time. Watch out Doug Henning, not only is Daquari catching up in magical skill, but he also has a much more interesting name. Daquari?

FRIENDLY WAVE: Coach Lemmon takes a break from his duties. He and Coach Fritchman were given the task of judging Homecoming class skits.

INvolved —

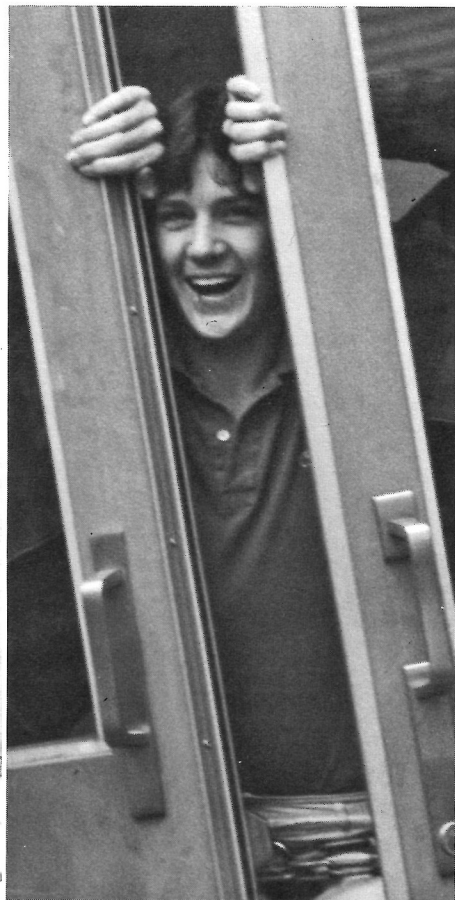

BRAIN BUSTING: Ella Spray, Irene Tamaru, Andre Dempsey, and Kelly Ray battle for points at the 1983 Interscholastic Brain Bowl. Bitburg didn't win, but made it into the semi-finals.

FIRE DRILL FUN: Freshman pile back into school after a false alarm.

PAINTED LADY: Janelle Perkins receives treatment from Patti Smith. Janelle was one of quite a few Thespian inductees who were forced to don questionable attire in order to prove their dramatic worth.

NEW STUDENTS: back: Alma Paros, Lisl Ewing, Melissa Blokzyl; middle: Ginny Duncan, Debbie Ramsey, JoLynn Ramsey, Lisa Hailes; front: Michael Odell, Perry Ardoin, Toni Turner. LET ME OUT! Sascha Womack seems to want to escape the academic life at school.

LOOKING INTO IT: Marc Jackson and Melody Ellyson see something interesting in a locker. Or maybe they're preparing to begin a new fad: locker stuffing. ON TOP: Julie and Kristy are heads above the rest. SERENADING CHANEY: Mr. Chaney gives his computer students a different kind of notes.

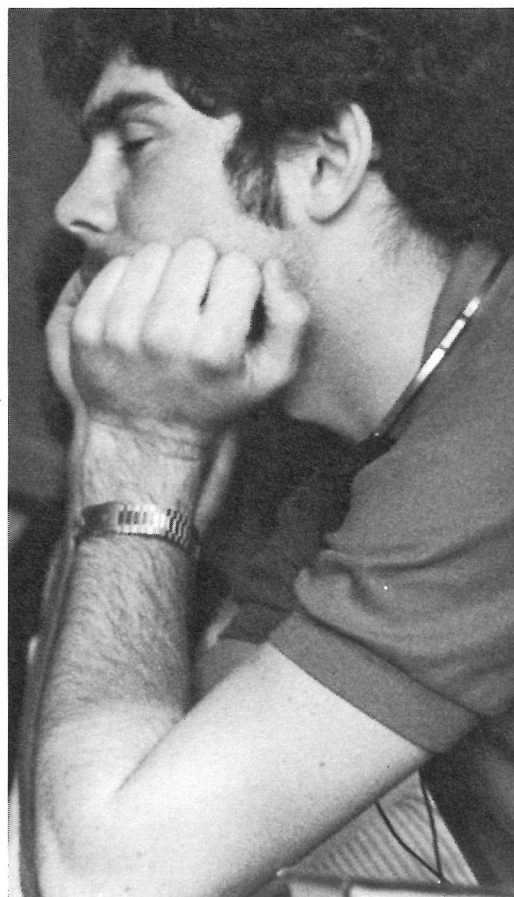

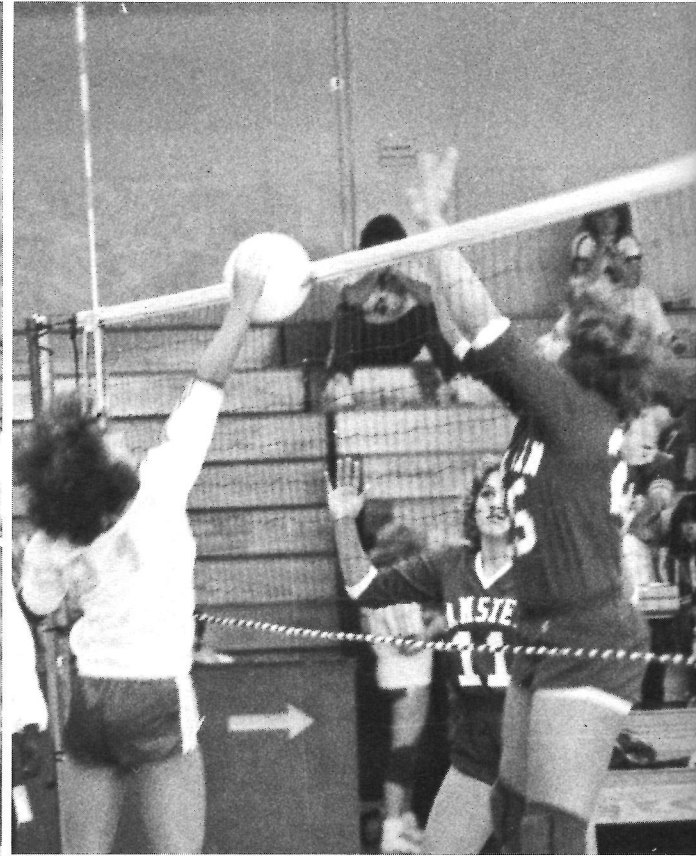

LINE-UP: BHS players wait for the outcome of the coin-toss at the opening of the Homecoming game.

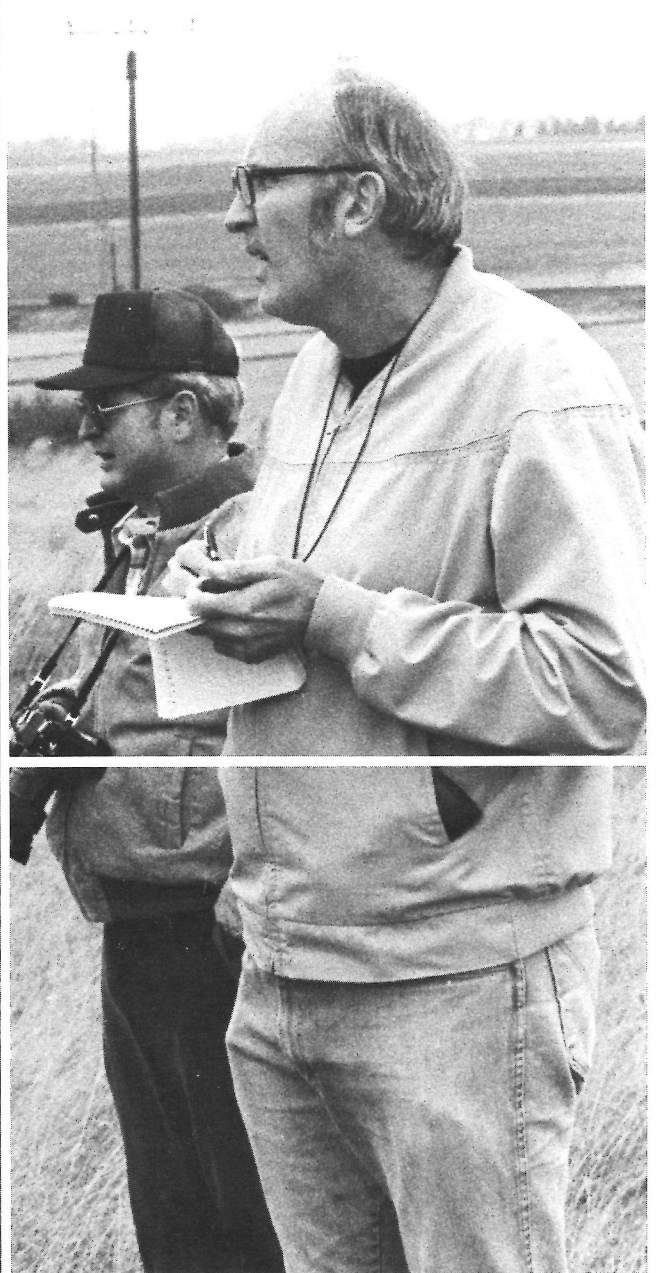

HE'S AN OLD COW-HAND: Sascha Womack herds off some cows that wandered onto the BHS football field.

ZZZ-ZZZ: Tommy Thornton, a student in the recovery stage. Bet he's counting the days until graduation instead of sheep.

Varsity CC Sets the Pace

VARSITY CROSS COUNTRY: back: Kathy Paquin, Lisa Denesik, Amy Gilley, Wendy Gilbert, Vince Gavin, John Gardner, Scott Simon, Karen Damon, Jill Petrick, and Patti Smith; front: Everett McCarley, Kenny Paquin, J. D. Smith, Scott Johnston, Seedy Fehli, Glenn Pearson, Eric Simon, and Joey Schaeffer.

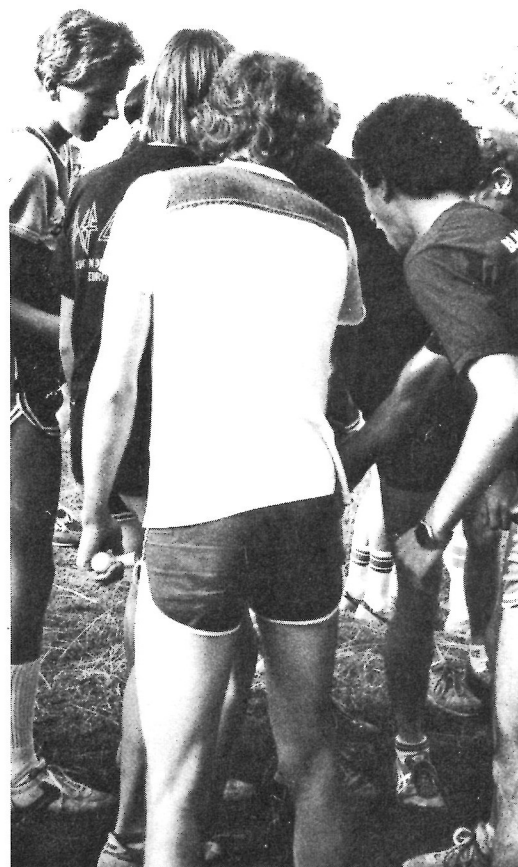

GET 'EM: Team determination.

CHILLY START: CC women brave the cold.

SUPER START: Coach Gaittens spurs the runners on.

TOTALLY AWESOME: The awesome varsity runners get psyched up.

WARM-UPS: Everyone's got a different method. Techniques range from meditation (Scott Simon — a Buddhist??) to modified pogo-stick movements (does Seedy ever sit still?)

Bad? Totally awesome! That was this year's Cross Country team. Both JV and Varsity, as usual, trampled all the competition. CC finished out their shining season with a 5-1 record and the Class AA Championship. Varsity was led by the winged feet of superstars Seedy Fehli and John Gardner. Everett McCarley and Vince Gavin added to the winning atmosphere. In JV action, Scott Simon, Chris Aguilar, J. D. Smith, and Joey Schaefer led the pack. Jill Petrick kept her #1 position in women's Varsity. CC has always been a strong sport at BHS, thanks to Coach Gaittens' enthusiasm (and his concerts!), but this year was truly an exceptional one. The team had a lot of seasoned members. They are now 14-1 over the past three years. You can bet your Nikes that next year will be even more "awesome!"

BANG! They're off! Watch the concert t-shirts!

GO LISA: Bitburg's mittened marvel.

LAST STRETCH: Karen and Jill leave 'em all behind.

JV Goes for the Gold

JV CROSS COUNTRY: back: Eva Guitterez, Lana Philips, Wendy Ware, Dirk Gavin, Fred Irwin, Chris Aguilar, Mike Denesik, Sandy Bergman, Melissa Albright, Theresa Trucini; front: Dave Sinclair, Jerry Witzman, Steve Huber, Danny Gray, Eddie Marlow, Joe Clevinger, John Ferrendini, Mark Carpenter, Randy Gleason.

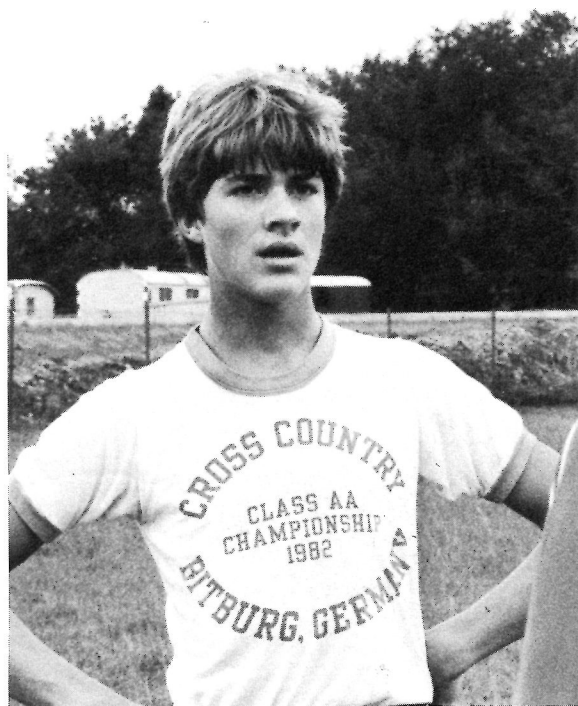

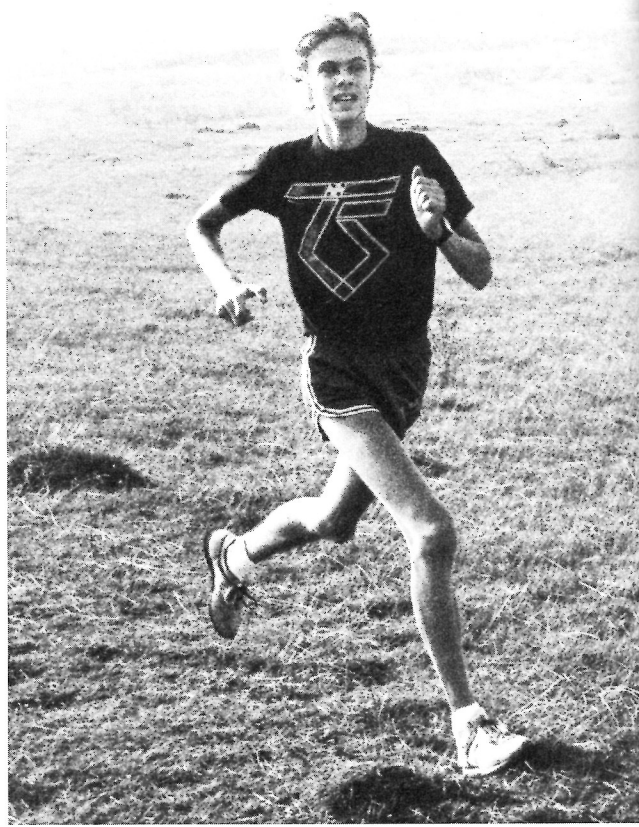

ONWARD: They never looked back.

COMRADES: Of course we'll win!

Winning . . .

HOT PURSUIT: Eric Simon edges out a competitor. DISBELIEF: Glenn sees the other team's secret weapon — rollerskates.

SOLO SPRINT: Scott sails to the line. FINISH: Wendy drags herself through.

RESTING RUNNER: Lisa takes a break. SUPERIOR SEEDY: One of this season's top runners, Seedy was always in the lead.

THE PUSH: Patti Smith strains for the finish. THE VICTORS: John Gardner displays CC's plaque.

Varsity Serves Up Success

VARSITY VOLLEYBALL: back: Coach Heidt, Angel Geeseman, Angela Gross, Glen the Trainer, Angie Rawls, Michelle Armstrong, and Coach McWilliams; front: Heidi Adler, Sonja Roberson, Ellen Fritz, Shawn Wayman, Janelle Perkins

ST-T-RETCH: Varsity warms up.

FLYING: Bitburg guards the net.

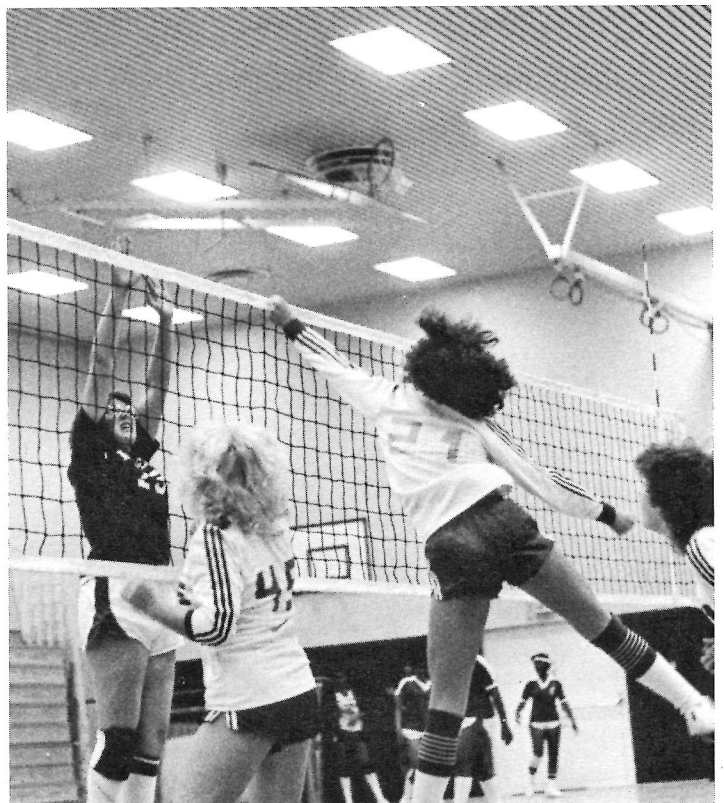

SET IT UP: Bump to victory!

Spikes, bumps, kneepads, and teamwork — all are part of volleyball. The 83-84 Varsity Volleyball team utilized all of them. The team practiced long hours after school, preparing for games. Mr. McWilliams and Mr. Heidt coached the team again, lending experience and leadership. The team finished out the season with a 23-19 record. That's admirable, considering what a competitive sport volleyball is. The team acquired some new players this year too. The new recruits have learned and improved over the season. Volleyball should be even better next year, and we're looking forward to seeing them work their way to the top. Keep it up!

SCORE! Ellen and Sonja congratulate each other on a point.

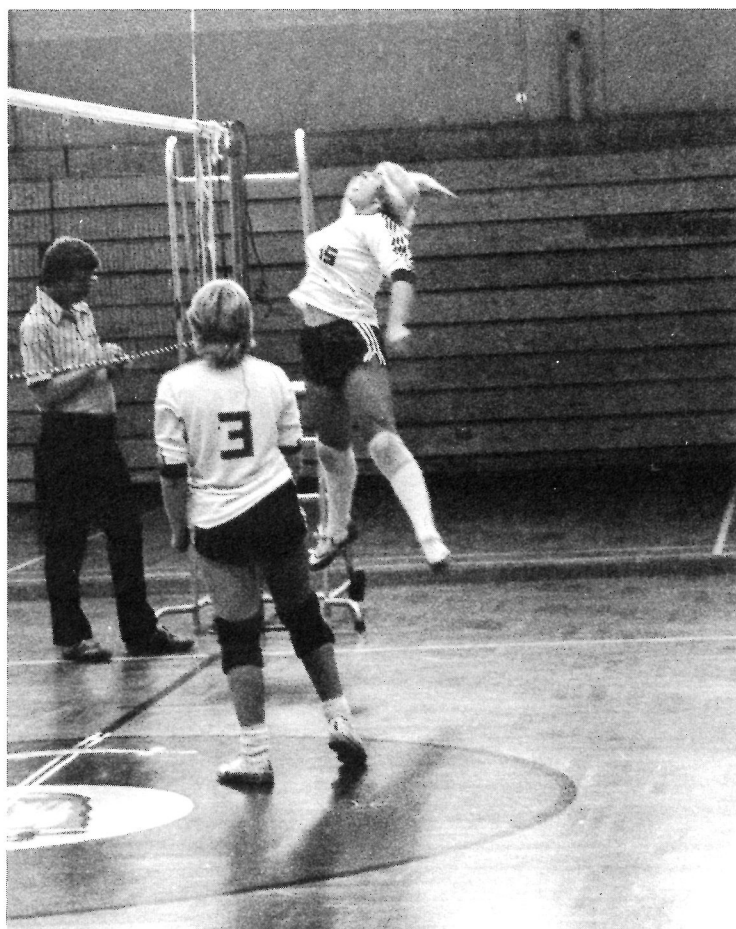

ELKE AIRBORNE: What a hit!

HUDDLE: Let's do it!

WHO ME?: A Varsity player gets tough.

SPIKE! What an arm! Angie takes control.
DEDICATED MANAGERS: Mila Maphies and Wendy Taubinger took care of behind-the-scenes necessities.

UP, UP, UP, AND AWAY! A mighty JV'er leaps into the air to wallop the ball.

GIGGLES: Shawn really likes practice.

READY: Out on the court, waiting for the game to start.

COURT CHAT: A little team pep talk.

JV Breakdown on Ziggy Oy

JV VOLLEYBALL: back: Coach Heidt, Angela Walker, Lisa Martin, Rhea Woodcock, Michelle Dodd, Coach McWilliams; front: Tammy Morrissey, Shellaine Huddleston, Janette Juradio, Sherry White, Laura Thorn, and Glen the Trainer.

CONCENTRATION: precision bumping.

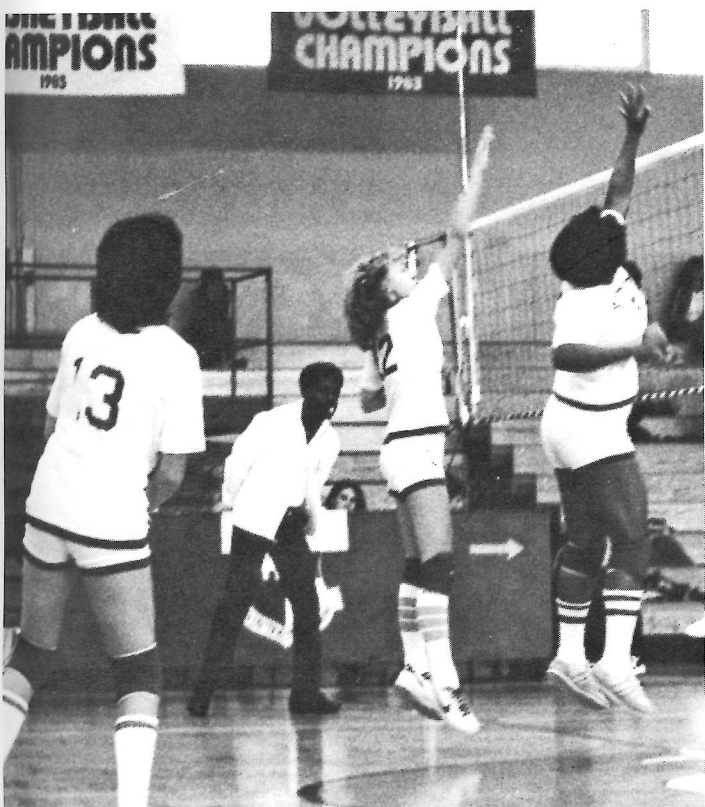

UP: and over — JV teamwork.

STRATEGY: JVs make plan of attack.

The 83-84 Bitburg Junior Varsity Volleyball team contained a mixture of old pros and new arrivals. Likewise, the team finished the season with a mixture of wins and losses. Not all good, yet not all bad, a pleasant compromise between the two, the team's final record was one of eleven wins and nineteen losses. An admirable showing, and the result of lots of sweat and practice after school. Janette Jurado, though a first-year player, showed remarkable talent and was chosen Most Valuable Player. She was a good leader and helped keep the team together. The team solidarity was also aided by Coach McWilliams and Coach Heidt. Their good relationship with the players and superior coaching abilities provided the young team with a strong foundation upon which to build. The last serve, the final spike, and another season over. The girls will undoubtedly be seen on the courts next year either as more experienced second-year JV players or seasoned Varsity team members, ready to take on the competition and set themselves up for a victorious 84-85.

SYNCHRONICITY: two in-tune players at the net.

BEGGING: on bended knee — Shawn wants to win.

Head Over Heels

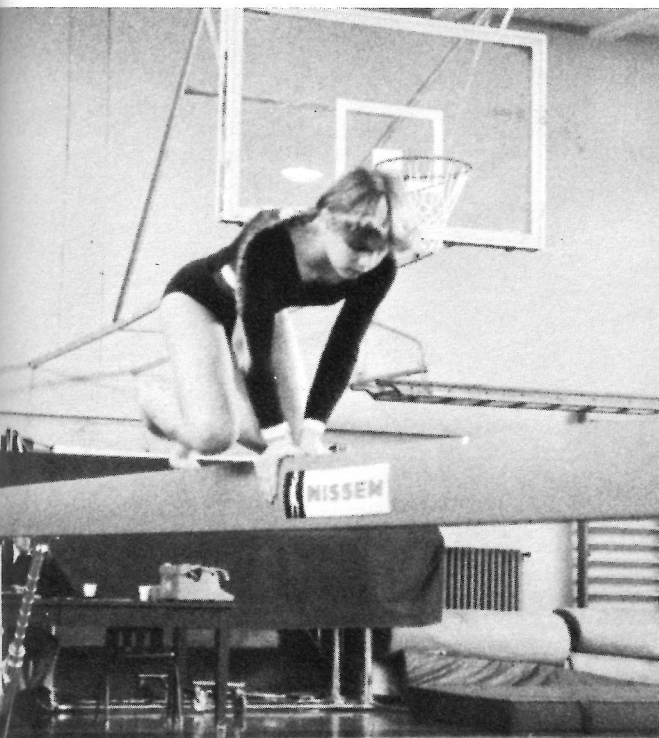

BHS GYMNASTS: Liz Langhammer, Sara Mason, Lisa Flores, Tracy Adler, Denise Umland, Kelly McDonald, and Jane Conley. Coach, Ms. Stewart, is not pictured.

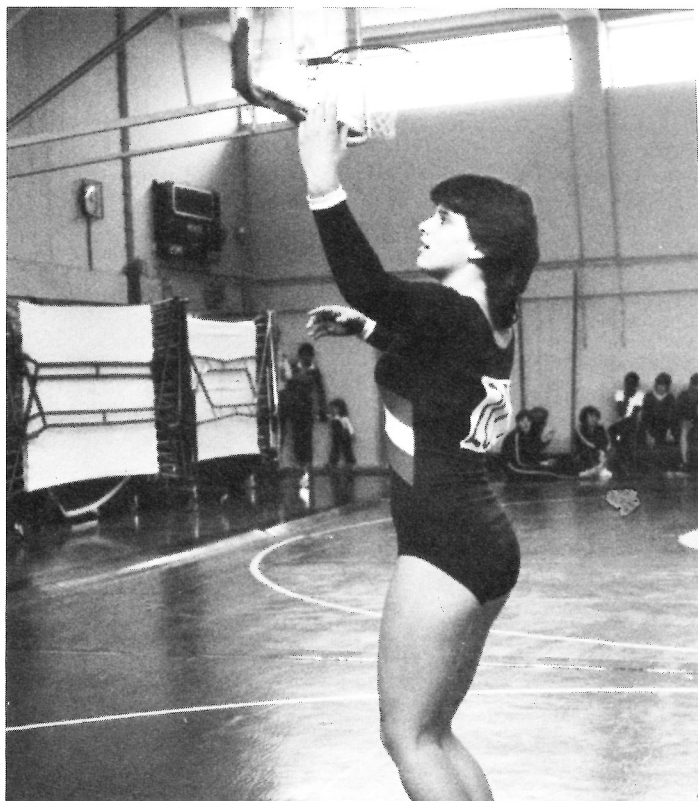

CAREFUL: Sara competes on balance beam.

SMILING KELLY: BHS must be winning.

WATCH IT: Denise steadies herself.

PRETTY POSE: Sara on floor.

OFFICIALS: Team members keep score.

HANDS DOWN: Cartwheels!

This year saw a big increase in the BHS Gymnastics Team. With more people displaying their individual grace and agility, how could this team do anything but win? Our gyrating gymnasts went through some grueling competition, but came out with an overall second place for the season. Bravo! Gymnastics seems to be winning a dominant place in BHS sports, and we hope the team will continue to grow.

The 83-84 season was a tough one for the Varsity Barons. Coach Carr summed up the problem thus: "They have a lot of talent and worked hard, but with the Varsity Team being so young, they lost the leadership and togetherness so vitally important to win a championship." The team finished out the season with a record of two wins and five losses. And so it goes . . . There were some season high points though. Three players made All-Conference this year: Jeff Kreidler, Mike Lintz, and Scott Gumaer. Scott Gumaer was also chosen for the All-Europe team. Recipients of this year's annual awards were: Jeff Stiggle, Most Outstanding Offensive Player; Mike Lintz, Most Outstanding Defensive Player; Coach's Award, Tom Gribble; Most Valuable Player, Jeff Kreidler. One of the big sports events each year is the trip to Berlin. This year the Barons were up against the Bears at their Homecoming game. Berlin won the game; however, there was a bit of questionable officiating after a Baron 82 yd. TD was called back. It was a disappointment for the team, but the trip was fun anyway. Coach Carr stated that he is expecting fifteen returning lettermen on the squad next year, and hopes that more experience will make for a victorious 1984 season.

BARON LINE: Ready for action.

S-CARR-Y: Coach Carr lays it on the line — without arguments.

HEAD-RESTS: The team really knows how to use each other's heads.

'83 Varsity: Nearly There

RR-RRRIP: the Barons tear into a great season.

STRETCH IT: Don strains the abdominals before practice.

The colorful uniforms and cheering fans march proudly down the red-white-and-blue trail, accompanied by Mom's apple pie, long-stemmed roses, a Chevrolet, and a lively rendition of "Yankee Doodle." They arrive at the stadium, and the team bounds out onto the field, helmets glinting in the afternoon sun. The crowd roars, and so begins another Saturday at the football field — Home of the American Ideal. Well, of course it's not really like that. We all know that ideals have a funny way of moving in slow motion while the real world clips along at a steady pace, telling it like it is and not taking time to gloss over the difficulties. Ideals skip over the behind-the-scenes info. Remember that for every minute of glory a football player experiences, five hours were spent sweating on the practice field. Sure, it looks easy, but that's only because they've practiced the plays and moves so much. Football players deserve our respect, if not for their groans on the turf, then for their ability to uphold one of the most prominent edifices of high school life: the football season.

SIGH: Call in the cheerleaders — things are looking pretty grim.

GRABBED: A Patch player jumps Jeff.

HUDDLE: a quick pep-talk boosts confidence.

DOG-PILE: Who's got the ball? BARON BLOCK! JV power play rolls over an opponent. OUCH! Gai Brooks checks a battle-wound. PSST! A moment of silence on the field as Tony Stiggle calls the play.

Unfortunately, the JV team did not fare much better than the Varsity team did this year. They also ended the season carrying a record of two wins and five losses. In spite of the defeats there was no lack of spirit. The team always pounded out onto the field with lots of confidence. The wins were few, but when they won, they really celebrated! Victorious games ended in a big pile of happy, cheering football players in the middle of the field. As usual, annual awards were given out at the Sports Banquet. JV award-winners were: George Crawley, Best Offensive Player; Steve Salisbury, Best Defensive Player; Kevin Trow, Most Improved Player; and Scott Pfender, Best All-around Player. The team did their best, and we expect even better things from them next year!

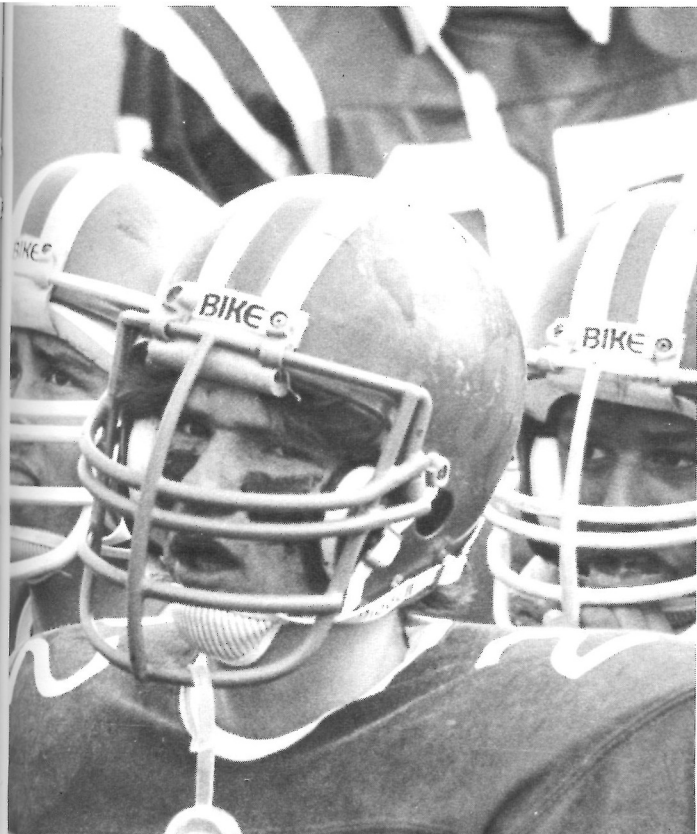

HARD WORK PAYS OFF: JVs revel in the thrill of victory. Practice supplied a well-deserved win.

JVs Gave It Their Best Shot

1983 JR. VARSITY TEAM: back: Coach Diekman, Coach Crawley, Coach Valderama; third row: Mike Holstein, Randy Lintz, Steve Stackelhouse, Robert Kirkland, Steve English, Rene Benavides, John Fitzgerald, Kevin Jones, Dwight Johnson, Dennis Wright, Jeff White; second row: Joey Frailand, Don Weikal, Carl Walker, Kevin Trow, Hayward Davis, Bobby Rodriguez, Danny Ridosh, Chris Ornelas, David Walker, Scott Fitzgerald, Wayne Bartlett; front: Ivory Whitfield, Tyree Carter, Richard Meadows, Allen Clouse, Scott Pfender, George Crawley, Tim Probert, Steve Salisbury, Scott Sinclair, Darrel Cooper, and Sean Hinkson.

MASKED MARAUDER: Hey Allen, where did you get those eyes? HUSTLE: Sean Hinkson and Randy Lintz head over to the sidelines for a strategy.

ACTION: Down, set, hut, hut, hut! POST-GAME POSITION: Darrel takes it easy.

Varsity Shoots for the Top

VARSITY TEAM: back: Kristy Waggoner, Dre Brosch, Heidi Adler, Sandra Beck, Sonia Roberson, Barbara Nelson, Tiffany Thornton, Barbara Collins, Lorna Little; front: Elke Gardner, Ruth Baker, Venetta Webb, Barbie Ramsey, Patsy Harris, and Bertha Benavides.

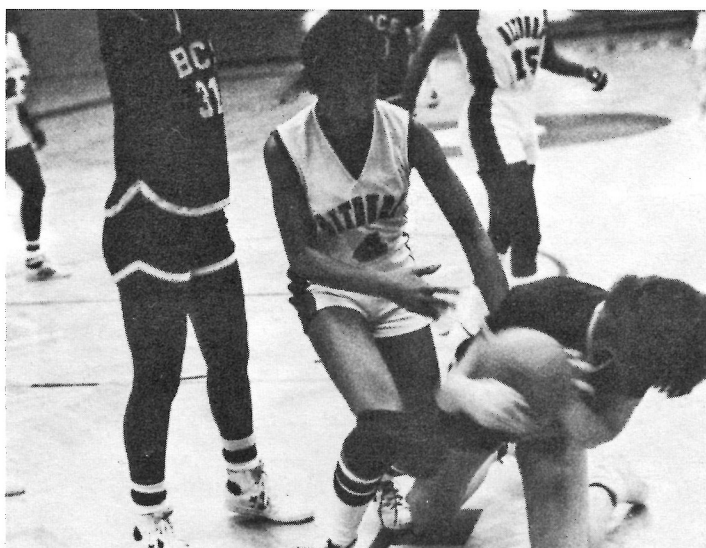

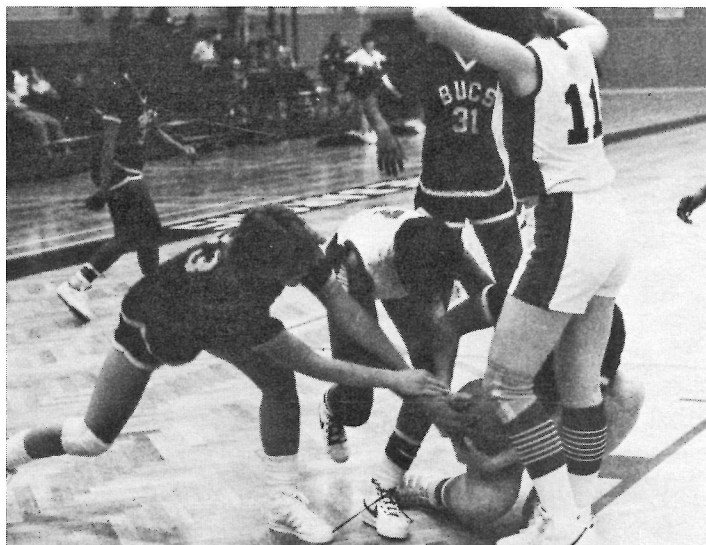

DON'T WORRY: Sonia comforts Tiffany after the opponents make two.

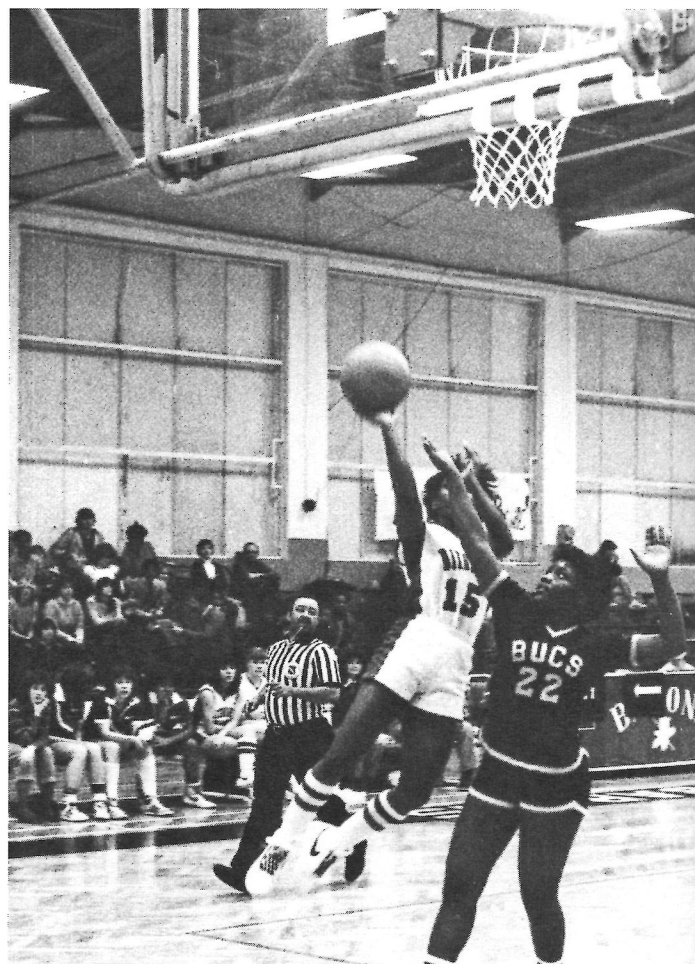

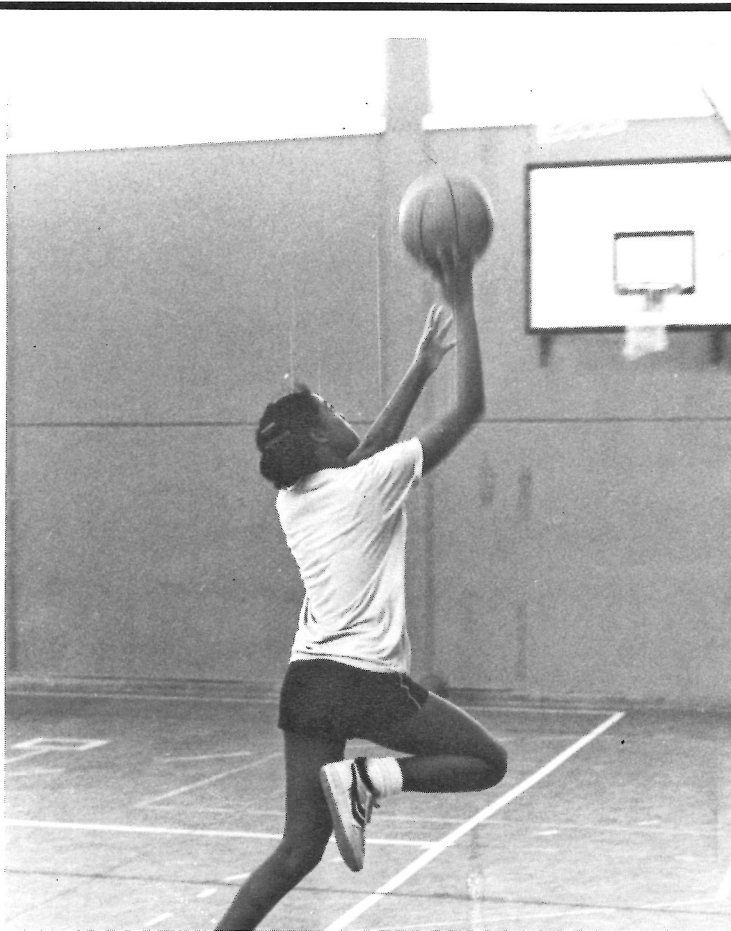

GO GET 'EM: Coach Schwartz gives the Baronettes a pep talk.

GULP: Barbara Nelson takes a mouthful of water with her attention on the game. SCRAMBLE: Baronettes battle for the ball.

OVER HERE: Tiffany Thornton's ready for a quick pass. YOU CAN'T HAVE IT: Sandra Beck tries without success to grab the ball from a possessive Baumholder opponent.

LOVELY LAY-UP: Venetta Webb goes for two at practice. AIRBORNE: Sandra Beck flies through the air with the greatest of ease. EYES ON THE BALL: Patsy Harris watches a rebound. SOLEMN SIDELINES: Jodi, Venetta, and Dre discuss the situation in preparation for a comeback in the next quarter.

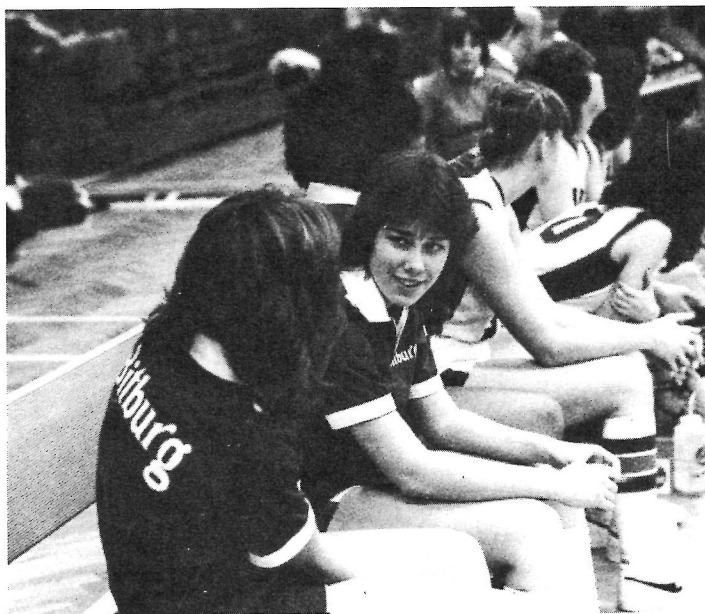

JV Women Jump Into '84 Season

JUNIOR VARSITY TEAM: back: Lorna Little, Heidi Adler, Lisa Martin, Barbara Nelson, Kristy Waggoner; front: Lynn Corley, Venetta Webb, Barbie Ramsey, and Jodi Hibdon.

TIME OUT: Coach Staponski explains some of the faults and improvements to the JV women.

SURE! Heidi looks in disbelief as Barbie tells her about the 7-foot team member the opponents have.

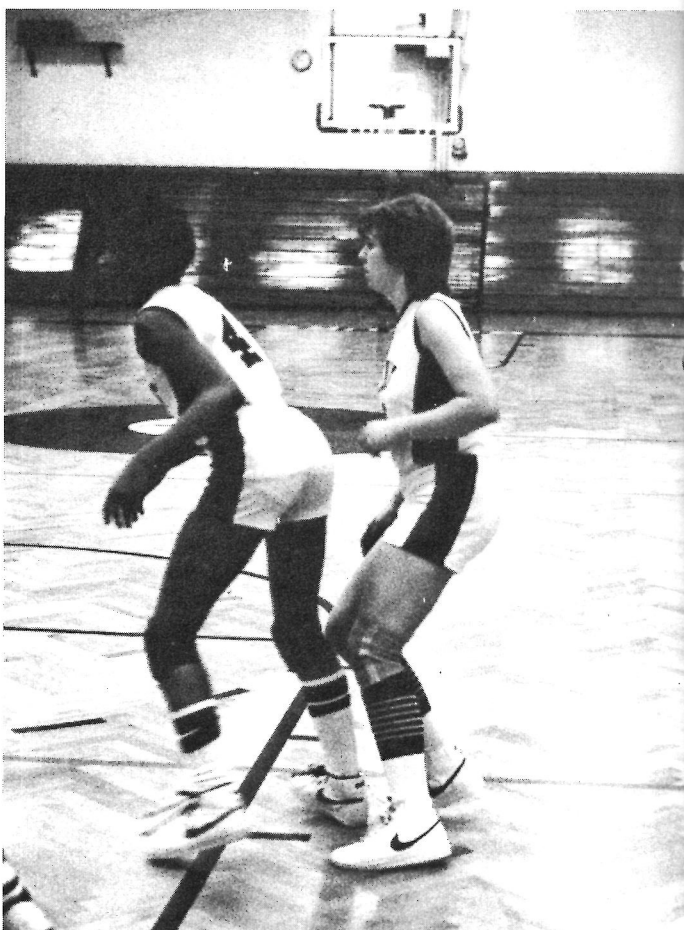

JUMP BALL: Sonia strains for Baron possession. PRACTICE PATIENCE: Dre and Bertha wait for the practice routines to begin. DOUBLE DEFENSE: Sandra and Tiffany pair up for protection.

It's Not Whether You Win or Lose . . .

"Our win-loss record doesn't indicate our talent; our knowledge and cooperation does!" That's how women's basketball coach Geary Schwartz summed up the team and the '84 season. Neither Varsity nor Junior Varsity had an outstanding season, but the effort was there. The practices went on and there was lots of spirit on the court. The teams were both young this year, and have gained some valuable experience. According to Coach Schwartz, the team's goal was to "improve individually and then improve as a team." In that case, we can expect two experienced teams to be representing BHS in women's roundball next year. The team may not have made it to the top, but they enjoyed themselves trying. One team member explained: "A sport should be fair and played by rules, but don't let the fun of it slip away from you." It's how you play the game that counts; and both Varsity and Junior Varsity teams were champions in that respect.

ELKE ON THE LINE: Elke Gardner is the picture of concentration as she prepares to release the ball. GYM GIGGLES: Jodi Hibdon, Sandra Beck, Barbara Collins, and Patsy Harris manage to maintain a sense of humor in spite of the hard work.

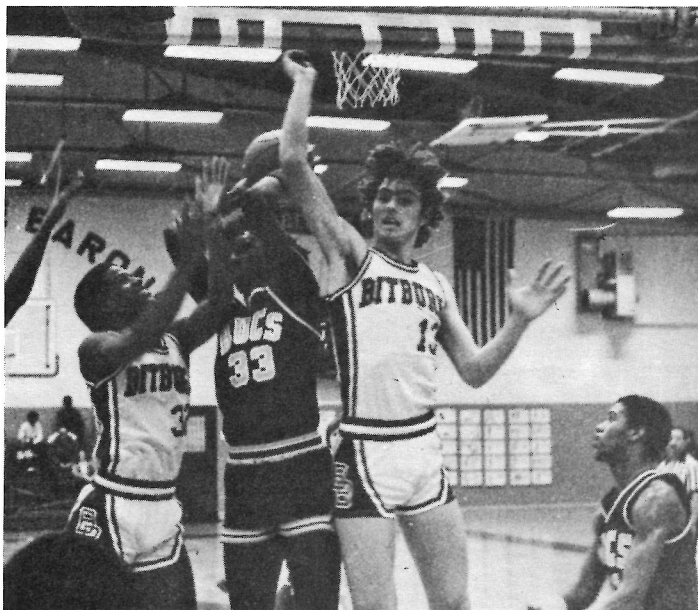

HANDS UP! Baronettes battle against the Bucs below the basket. SONIA SOLO: Sonia Roberson tries to get the attention of another team member in the distance.

1, 2, 3, Bitburg!!

VARSITY TEAM: back: Shawn Cook, Howard Hall, Weldon Walker, Jeff Stiggle, Mark Valderama, Keith Jones, Robin Beckwell; front: Tom Gribble, Cedric Parker, Scott Moon, Marvin Payne, Tim Hibdon.

BLOCK 'EM: Keith and Weldon block a Buc at the basket.

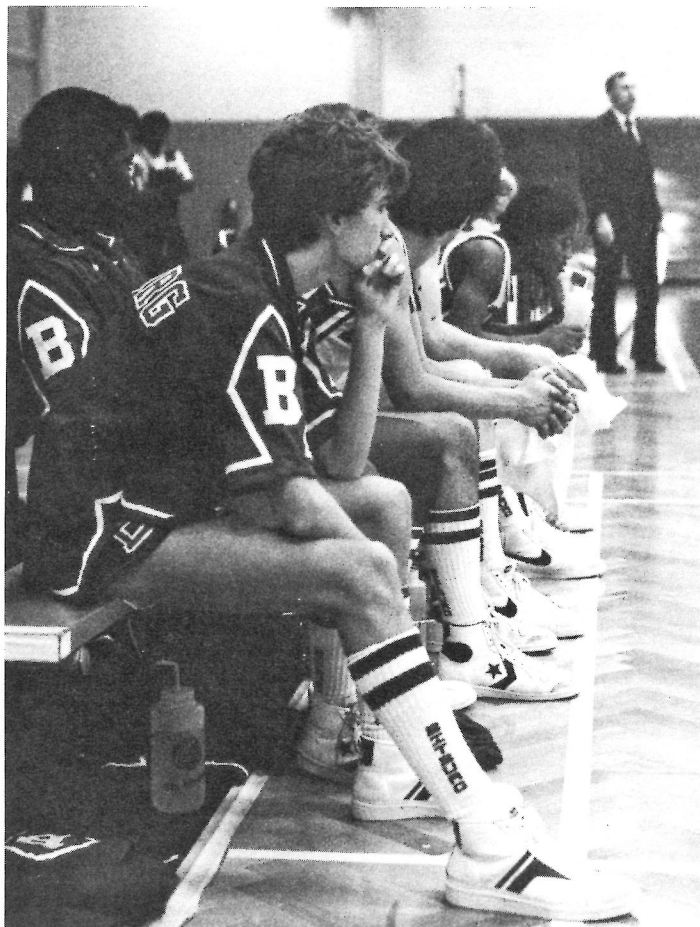

INCOMING: Keith sends the ball in for some action.

THROW IN: Howard Hall looks for a likely candidate for a pass. OFFENSE: Scott Moon directs a pass to Howard Hall in spite of the defensive player plastered all over him.

WARMING UP: Scott Gumaer helps a tired Weldon Walker get the ball up to the basket. Did you forget to take vitamins this morning, Weldon? 1, 2, 3 BARONS: Varsity players rev up for the next quarter.

HMMM: Tim Hibdon analyzes the other team from the bench. IT'S ALL
THE WRIST: Scott Moon follows through on a free throw. READY A
WAITING: Jon Carroll prepares to jump for the rebound.

Bad Luck Plagues Season

The '84 men's basketball season was one of almosts, not-quites, and just-about. The JV team lost most of their games by a one or two point margin. The Varsity team had a problem with their lay-ups and free-throws. Coach Phillips believes that if this could have been corrected, the team would have been undefeated. Still, the players persevered. The JV team always has a lot of novice players, and this year was no exception. Coach Boyd stated that "JV playing teaches players many variables of the game; one of which is to handle the agony of defeat as well as the thrill of victory." The JVs didn't dominate, but the games gave players beneficial experience, which should make them invincible players next year. The Varsity team also had a mixed season — not entirely without wins, but also not without losses. In Coach Phillips' opinion, "The only time Bitburg lost was when we beat ourselves." Both teams can be expected to improve steadily, and we'll be rooting for them in '85.

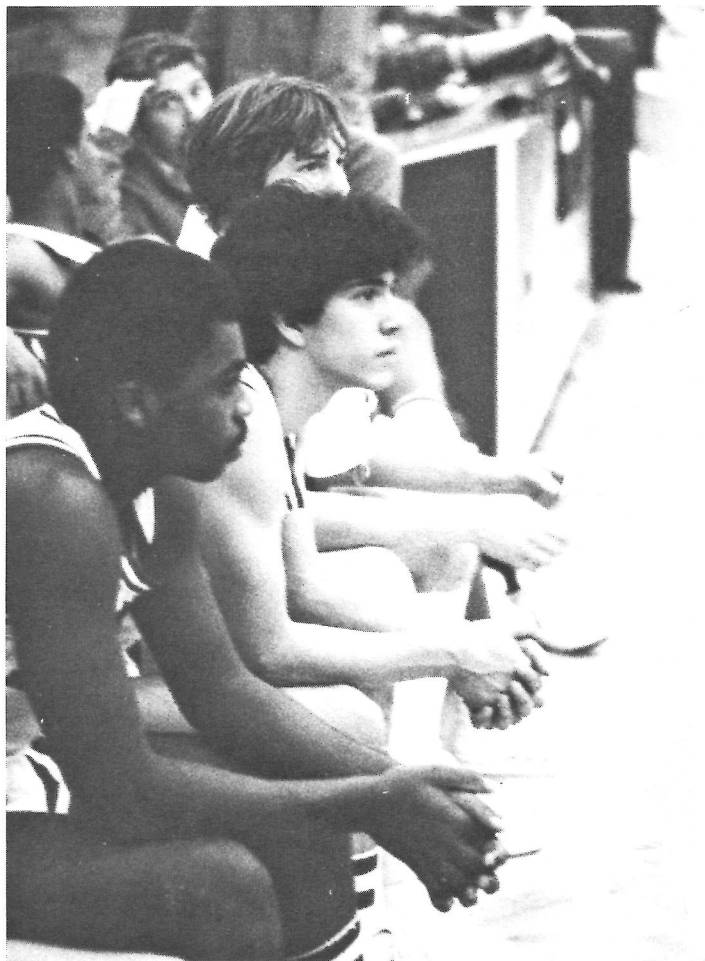

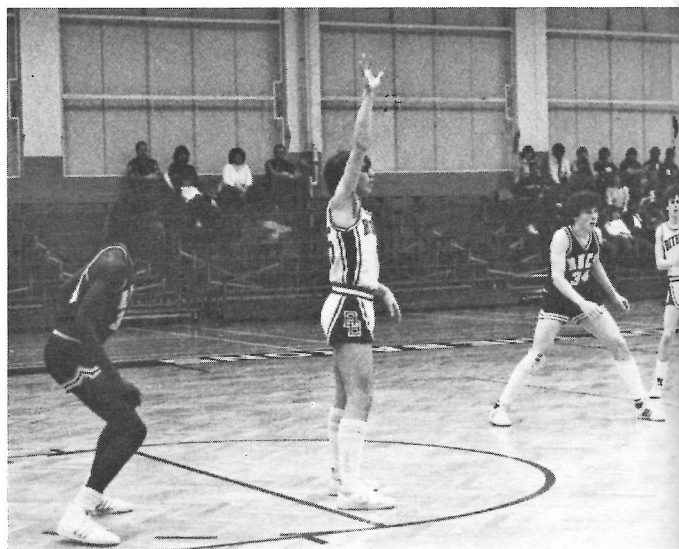

GATHERING: Scott Moon, Weldon Walker, and Tim Hibdon listen as Coach Phillips describes the next course of action. IT'S SO HEAVY: Scott Gumaer has apparently caught the 50 pound ball by mistake.

KNEE BEND: Tom Gribble puts everything into his free throw attempt. SOARING SHOT: Howard Hall hops above a Baumholder Buc to launch his try for two.

THE WAITING IS THE HARDEST PART: Cedric Parker and Mark Valderama sit patiently and wait their turn on the floor. TWO HANDS FOR TWO: JVer Dennis Calloway runs up for a basket.

DIRECTED ATTEMPT: Weldon Walker even went so far as to point the direction out for the ball. "That way!" ME! ME! Scott Gumaer really wants the ball.

JVs Stick to It

KEEP AWAY: Barons use some dribble action to avoid the Bucs.

BARON POWER: JV's huddle up during half-time.

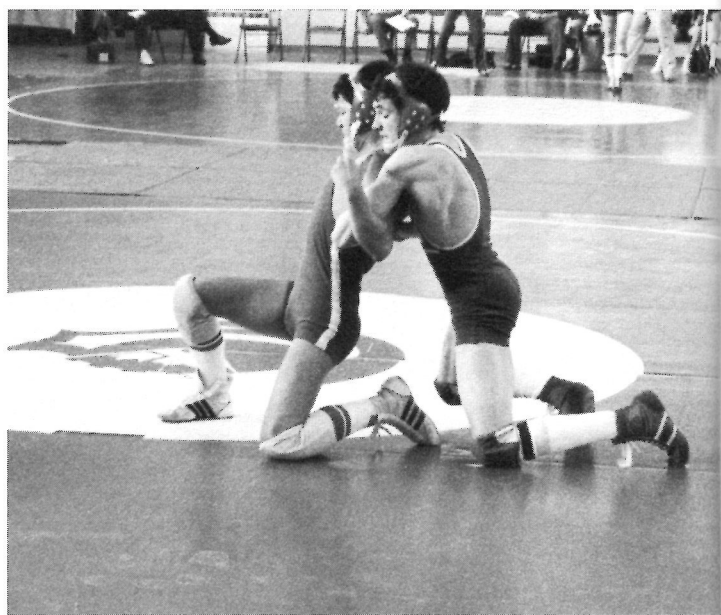

Matmen Grapple for Title

WHAMMO! Chris Umland downs an opponent.

BACK-GRABBING: Maurice Pruneau gets 'em from behind.

GAI FLYING: He's on top of the world. AND THE WINNER IS: Danny Seigle gains another victory for BHS.

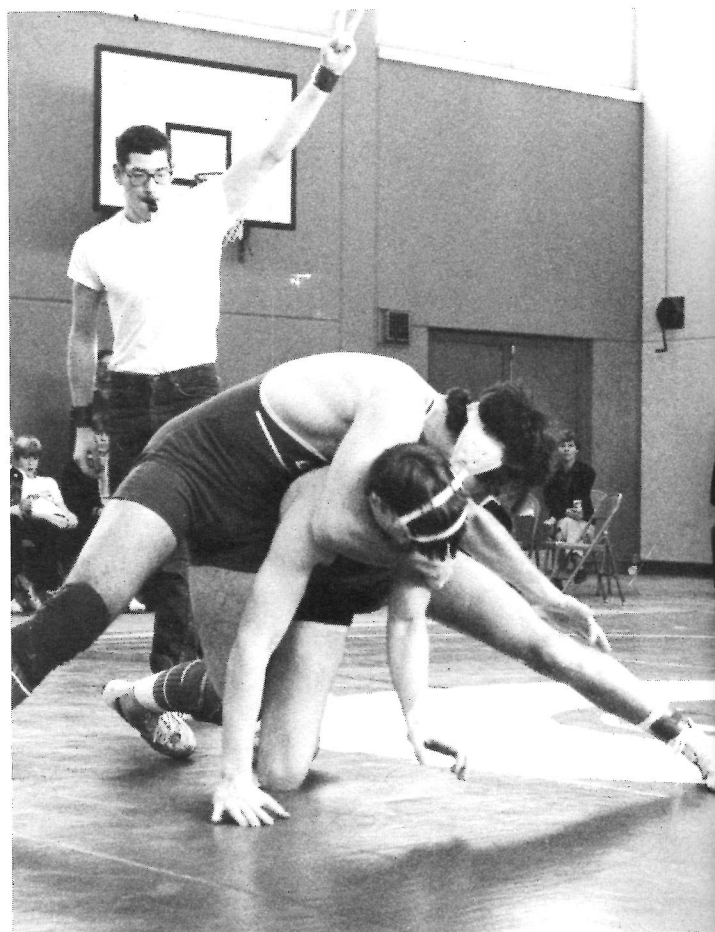

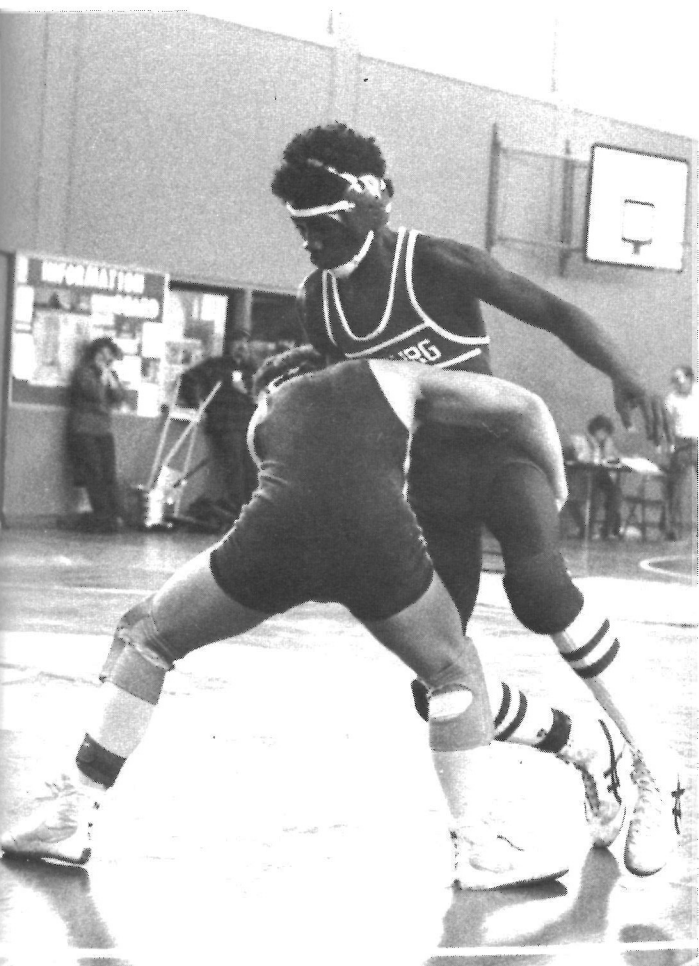

TEAM TALK: Coach Massey gives the team a few pointers. THE STRUGGLE: Are these guys wrestlers or contortionists?

MAT MESSAGE: Everett receives a little limbering from his wrestling partner. "Are you guys sure this is therapeutic?" NECK IN NECK: Chris Umland endures a neck hold.

CHARGE! Gai makes a rush for his Patch opponent. HEAVYWEIGHTS: Jeff Muehleisen in action.

UP AND OVER: Body-slamming for a pin. It's not over yet though, Bitburg will overcome. HEAD GAMES: Everett gets a pat from Patch. AT THE HOME FRONT: Wrestlers psyche themselves up for the next match.

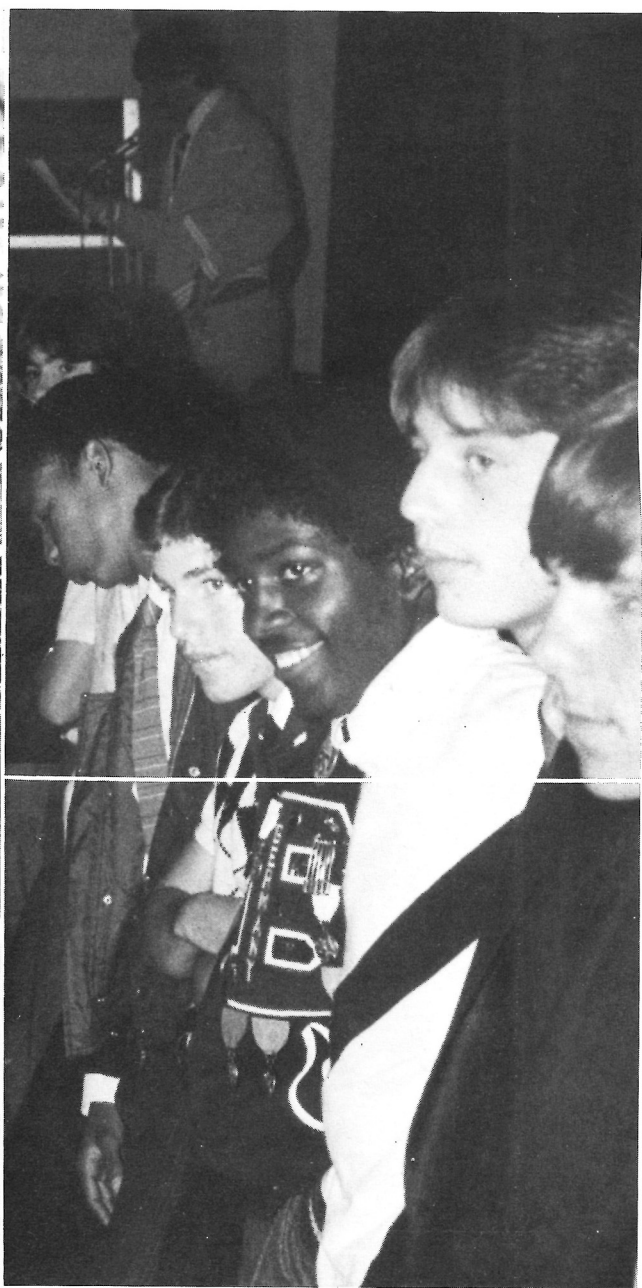

Wrestling Wrap-Up

"Pin him down!" That familiar phrase is one that all BHS matmen had pounded into their brains this year. The effort showed. This team was the youngest in Bitburg history, but they certainly weren't pinned by inexperience. They made great improvements throughout the season. Mr. Gaittens and his assistants trained the wrestlers and prepared them for the difficult matches they were to face. The team was met with nothing but praise. "Hard-working, dedicated," and "Really work at a win" are an example of some of the kudos they received. Whether it was compliments or competition, our wrestlers strove for more in '84.

"And a one, and a two, and a one, two, three, four ..." As the group's attempt rises into chaotic cacophony the band director slams down his baton and admonishes the clarinets. Once more they try to achieve unity, this time successfully. The director nods approval. This is the regimental and organized world of music. Everything must be perfect; there is no room for slipshod operation. The work in Band is difficult, it demands one's time and lots of it. Each day brings more practice and sometimes frustration, but the rewards are great. There are few more satisfying experiences than a successful concert. The feeling that rises in the pit of your stomach comes only from thunderous applause. The achievement of this feeling is the goal of Band members. The Fall Concert, Christmas and Spring Concerts are performed with this in mind. I can say only this about the Bands: Mission Accomplished.

Concert Band

BREAK TIME: Antoinette and Karen rest their lips between numbers.

BELOW-ZERO BASS-PLAYER: Gary Spurger adjusts his guitar at a chilly home game. He and the band provided the spectators with an ongoing stream of popular songs, and the ever-present fight song.

INTERMEDIATE BAND: back: Carter Hollenbeck, Cindy Grunsby, Brian Dillo, Mr. Hubbard; middle: John Thiele, Tanya Brunson, Jeff Davies, Chris Johnston, Steve Stackelhouse, Tanya Dunham, Robert Kirkland, Scott Christy, John Ferrandini, Dawnelle Warkaske, Penny Kincaid; front: John Hannaford, Mike Denesik, David Sinclair, Vicki Hymoin, Dina Lane, Shawn Wayman, Kelly Waggoner.

1983-1984 at Bitburg High for the Thespians was a good year. They acquired some new and very valuable members and the old talent kept up the good work. Their first production of the year was to be a play, however, they decided instead to do two hours of improvisation and skits for the student body. Most of their acts were warmly received, but a few met with indifferent response. Very enthusiastically accepted was their last performance, a rendition of Pink Floyd's The Wall. Later on in the year they laid plans for another performance, and several performances for the Middle School were also in the works. Overall, this group of highly talented and motivated students demonstrated their abilities very successfully throughout the year.

1984 QUILL AND SCROLL: back: President, Ella Spray, Daquari Minier, Christine Rahlf; front: Sponsor Mrs. McWilliams, Melody Ellyson, and Kathi Nelesen.

NEWSPAPER PLANNING: Editor Christine Rahlf writes up assignments for an upcoming issue of "Eifel Echoes."

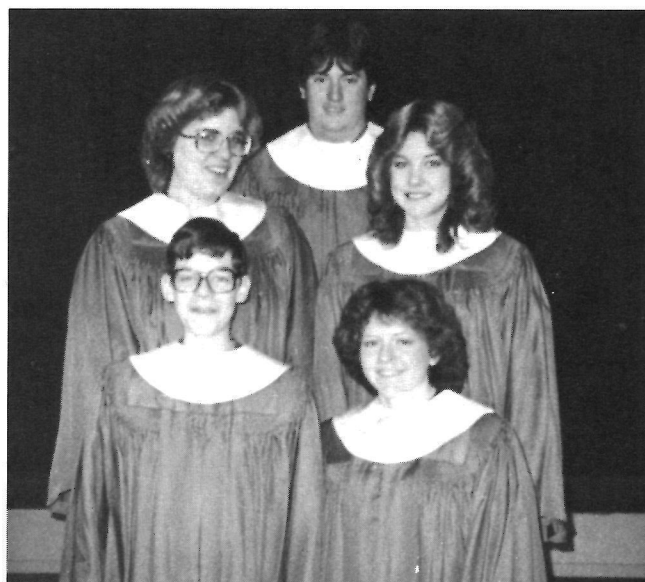

This BHS organization is not as flashy or rowdy as some of the others you hear about, and with good reason. Quill and Scroll is an honor society for those individuals who display an aptitude for writing. Certainly it is obvious that this coterie of penpersons would have a much quieter character than say, the Varsity Cheerleaders. However, they remain active and can be found critiquing each other's work or comparing notes on style. Requirements for this club are of course, a high grade point average, teacher recommendations, and certainly a strong desire to write. Quill and Scroll is not a showy club, but rather a serious group of students who derive pleasure from writing. All members are on the staff of the school yearbook or newspaper, and worked hard meeting deadlines and churning out copy throughout the year.

The students found in the Concert Choir are a special group, it's true, but this organization is not an exclusive club. Some people found here aspire to a singing career, while others just enjoy vocalizing. The choir's activities throughout the year are the usual concerts, but for promising students the Honor Choir is an aspiration. At the Honor Fest, students get together with other scholars from around Germany to learn new pieces and perform. For the rest of the Choir, however, concerts and maybe a solo in a school production are high goals. The Christmas Concert, a perennial favorite, remained so this year, both for performers and audience alike. The earlier Fall Concert introduced the Choir to performing for an audience, and they sang well. For the Concert Choir, it has been a successful year.

The sixteen members of the Bitburg High Drill Team of the 1983-1984 year performed admirably. At pep rallies they demonstrated quite a capacity for organization and skill at maneuvers. During half-time entertainment their drills were impressive and accurate. All of these good looks were not arrived at through pure luck, however. After school the team could be found in the cafeteria vigorously practicing their drills to make for outstanding performances. Spectator's comments ranged from "They were good!" to "They were very well organized," illustrating the fact that they did an excellent job of entertainment.

Too many students, SCA seems to be nothing more than another meeting in the bulletin. This organization plays a vital role in all of the activities that take place at Bitburg, everything from school clubs to B-week festivities. At the weekly meetings dances are approved, new policies discussed, and ideas brought out. Perhaps the most important aspect of the SCA is that it allows students to voice their opinions, and communicate them to the administration. During the year SCA had some trouble with attendance, and consequently caused a periodic back-up in activity approvals. For the most part, things went smoothly, thanks to the efforts of a dedicated group of students: the officers and the elected class reps. Let's hope they set an example for next year.

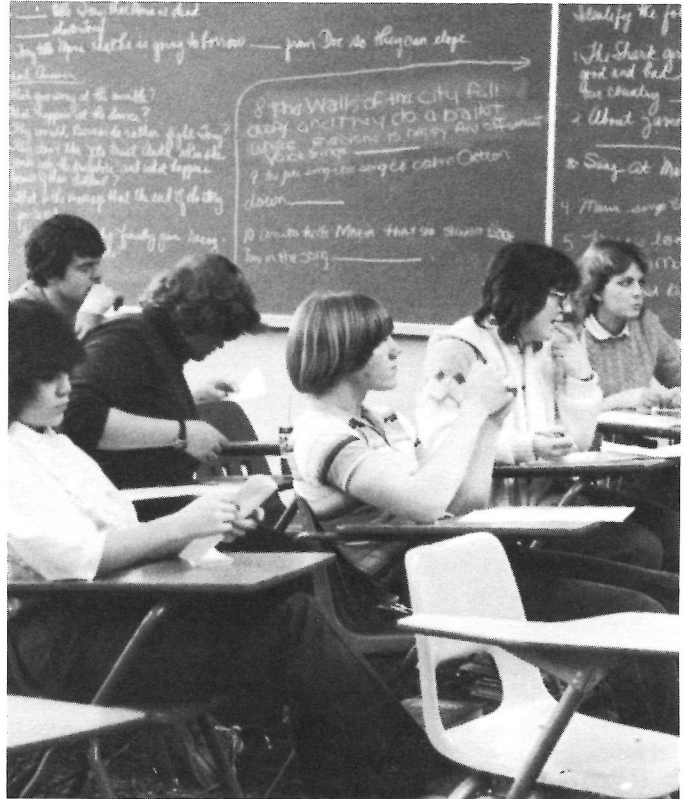

SPECIAL SERVICES: Nancy McCarthy, Reporter; Brian Edwards, Photographer; Ella Spray, Parliamentarian; Everett McCarley, Activities Chrmn.

PONDERING PRESIDENT: Tiffany Tafares listens attentively to another student's suggestion for some lunchtime activity or class-sponsored dance. DEMOCRACY AT WORK! DELIBERATING: The student legislative body gathers at midday to discuss school matters and decide upon a course of action regarding Homecoming or perhaps B-Week. This, before your very eyes, is the lawmaking process at BHS.

The Yearbook staff for the 1983-1984 Baron Shield was a very small one — only five people — yet these five managed to pull off a very successful yearbook. At one point, they were only four, but at the semester they gained a new recruit. Everyone worked daily to fit copy, crop pictures, complete quad-paks and ferret out information for stories. Some students put in overtime, working on weekends and far into the night to meet deadlines. Angie Walker, staff member, had this to say about the year in Publications: "I feel we all worked hard to get our sections in and do what had to be done." Irene Tamaru felt it was "an interesting experience and a lot of hard work." Despite these references to work, work, work, the Yearbook staff all felt the satisfaction of seeing their efforts on the printed page.

LOOKS CAN BE DECEIVING: She looks pretty normal, doesn't she? Two eyes, one nose — all the basic human features. A closer look would reveal the shaking hands, bitten nails, and hidden supply of Tylenol characteristic of yearbook editors facing deadlines.

Yearbook Staff

ACTIVE ANGIE: Angie Walker learns the meaning of the word "index." Indexing pages always produced surprises of some kind — unknown faces, unknown names, and people who don't exist were some favorites.

MAKE A FACE: Melody Ellyson LOVES her job. She LOVES the work. She LOVES the stress ... What a masochist. PICTURE PERFECT: Irene, Angie, and Melody uh, organize the underclassmen pictures.

1983 JUNIOR VARSITY CHEERLEADERS: top: Simone Martin, Lori Pruneau, Dawnelle Warkaske; bottom: Mindy LaPlante, Jodi Hibdon.

Led by Captain Simone Martin and Co-captain Mindy LaPlante, the Junior Varsity Cheerleading Squad had an exciting year. The five-member team could be seen after school and during holidays learning new routines and brushing up on old ones. At pep rallies they and the Varsity squad led the entire student body in cheers and shouts for "Victory!!" Particularly impressive were the routines they did during the Homecoming Pep Rally. It was there that their hard work and perseverance paid off. Despite being unable to attend the away games officially, the Junior Varsity Squad went on a spectator bus in order to cheer the Barons on when they were not at home. They certainly were real crowd-pleasers at Bit-burg where they led the observers in shouts and yells.

CO-CAPTAIN: Mindy LaPlante; CAPTAIN: Simone Martin.

CAPTAIN: Shari Kreidler led the squad this year.

With a year or more of experience behind each member, the Varsity Cheerleaders had a spirited 83-84 season. There were many new routines introduced this year, in addition to some old favorites. They managed to convey spirit and energy to football game spectators and pep rally attendees alike. Their acrobatics and enthusiasm were contagious to everyone. At the Homecoming pep rally, the cheerleaders put on a hilarious skit which was greatly enjoyed by both students and faculty. During half-time, through the games, and for the entire football season, the Varsity Cheerleaders led the crowds in frenzied shouts of "Go Barons!" and "We're #1!" The vivacity of this group was evidence of their gregarious personalities and enormous school spirit.

STAFF: back: Daquari Minier, Tammie Morrissey, Steve LaVigne, Christine Rahlf; middle: Angie Rawls, Sponsor Lana McWilliams, Tom Burlison; front: Kathi Nelesen, Kelly McDonald, Stacy Surber.

The school newspaper, which had in the past been known to many as the "Baron Broadcast," took on a new look this year. The biggest change was in the title. The staff changed it to "Eifel Echoes." This title was thought to better represent the student body. In addition to the new title, the format was improved and professionalized. This was accomplished by an update in printing methods. Most of the changes took place under the direction of the new advisor, Lana McWilliams. The staff has a semester to get used to each other and the system before the personnel changes for the second semester. The class requires students to go out and cover school happenings in true journalistic style. Hats off to our mild-mannered muckrakers for a job well done.

JOURNALISM IS SLAVERY: Editor Christine Rahlf and Mrs. McWilliams battle the deadlines.

JOURNALIST AT WORK: Angela Rawls writes up an article. Another victim of journalistic stress.

The great metamorphosis of semester change bombarded the "Eifel Echoes" this year in '84. Cub reporters were taken on and shown the journalistic jargon and reporting techniques that have made BHS's newspaper famous. Events like B-Week, the Music Fest, and Black History Month added spice to the monthly staples of the editorials, classified ads, and 'Senior Spotlights'. After the usual rules and regs briefing from sponsor Mrs. McWilliams, the reporters and typists got down to the business of newspapering. The new staff shifted gears easily and effectively from one job to the next, be it layouts, an interview, or a hot-off-the-press story. Throughout the year, new events like dances and fests cropped up and were ferreted out by the dedicated writers in their efforts to cover it all. In addition, the new darkroom made photography on the 'Echoes' a state-of-the-art operation. All in all, the new year ushered in fresh faces and new approaches that made BHS's newspaper even better than 1st semester.

To be a member of this club, you need a good grade point average, outstanding character and citizenship. You must be inducted through a special ceremony held at the end of the year in an assembly for the student body. Here you receive a certificate of membership, a card that has your name on it, and a pin. These certify you as a member of the NHS or NJHS. The two societies do a few extra activities throughout the year, but most members are so busy with other clubs and keeping their grades up that they have very little time to spare for yet another cause.

Excellence in athletic endeavors, along with all-around good sportsmanship are a couple of the requirements necessary to gain membership in the Varsity Club. This may sound like an easy slot to fill, but it is really no simple task. A Varsity letter in some sport at BHS is a definite must. Some members even have more than one Varsity letter! Activities sponsored by the Varsity Club included the Student Store last year. This was discontinued in '83. However, the club still remained active and continued raising money for school projects. Ms. Staponski, a new face at Bitburg High, sponsored the club this year. With her help, the Varsity Club continued to be one of the highest honors possible for a BHS athlete. Teamwork, eh?

Model United Nations, led by sponsor Mrs. Revelle and President Tiffany Tafaes, maintained an active membership throughout the 1983-1984 school year. M.U.N., for those of you who are unaware of it and what it does, is a club of students who participate in debates and discussions dealing with current world affairs. This is done using the same procedures found at the real United Nations. Students prepare for the trip to The Hague in January by attending a conference in Zweibruecken and engaging in often very heated debates during their own time at lunch. Due to their diligent work and extensive research, Bitburg's Model United Nations was able to make an impressive showing at The Hague, where they represented the small country of Sao Tome e Principe.

Freshmen Get INto It

Freshmen: the underclassmen, yes, we've all been there, juggling books, fending off upperclassmen, losing ourselves in the halls . . . The first year is always hard, but Bitburg's freshmen took on the challenge whole-heartedly. Being without money for Homecoming, many could be seen roaming the halls garbed in rags, begging. At the Pep Rallies they demonstrated an excitement and enthusiasm sometimes surpassing even the seniors. Often their volume was due to sheer number, for at 176 members, the freshmen were the largest class, and definitely the most involved, often garnering more than 20 people at their class meetings, quite an accomplishment for a class. Best wishes for a terrific next year, freshmen, and for continued class spirit!

INcomparable: '86

Led by class officers Shawn Gavin, President; Irene Tamaru, Vice-President; Mindy LaPlante, Secretary; and Treasurer Lorna Little, the sophomore class managed to make a successful, if low-key, showing. They sponsored the first dance of the year, and although it was only a moderate success, it did start the year off on the upbeat. For many it was a second year at Bitburg, but newcomers had no problems fitting in. Most found it interesting but not particularly spirited, which was something of a problem for the class of '86. Coming in third during Homecoming Week was a small blow, but they improved over the year. Here's to a terrific junior year with lots of spirit, sophomores!

Jrs. Moving Up and OUT

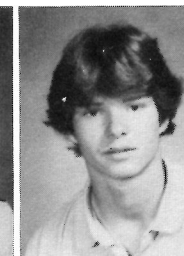

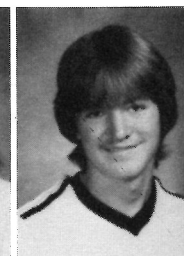

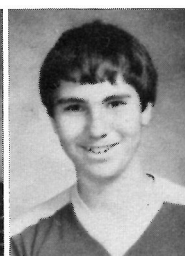

The junior class of 1985 had an exciting and eventful year. With officers Jenny Hollenbeck, President; Dawn Woodard, Vice-president; Christine White, Secretary; and Candy Kramer, Treasurer, the juniors kicked off the year with a second place award for Homecoming activities and spirit. At pep rallies they displayed amazing organization and lots of pep. B-Week was a challenge with other classes, but the juniors took on the contest vigorously. Their great enthusiasm was an accomplishment for a class, and the juniors never had any problems getting rowdy. If the juniors' spirit and drive were any indication of their future as seniors, then look out Bitburg High!

Senior Hall of Fame

André Dempsey

The BHS faculty certainly didn't choose incorrectly when they elected Andre Dempsey to the Senior Hall of Fame. Andre is an outstanding example of the well-rounded individual. He maintained excellent academic standing throughout his high school years in spite of all of his extra activities. He was an outstanding player on Bitburg's soccer team, an NHS member, Varsity Club secretary, and SCA Vice-president. We can be sure that Andre will go to accomplish great things.

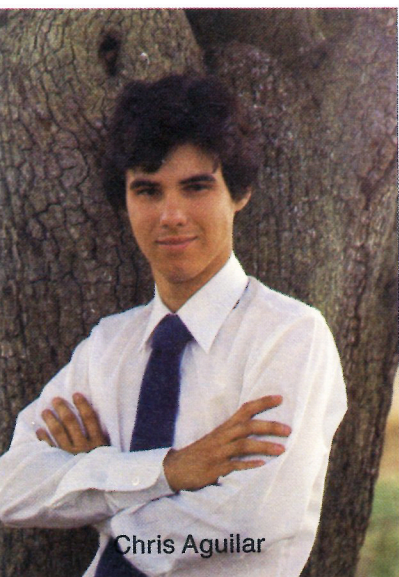

Tiffany Tafaes

Tiffany Tafaes was a shoe-in for the female spot in the '84 Senior Hall of Fame. Tiffany will be remembered by all as an excellent SCA president. She kept up superior grades and participated in various extra activities. Tiffany was a member of the National Honor Society, and led the Model United Nations Organization as its president and Head Delegate to The Hague. She made an outstanding showing at the Hague session, and we may expect to see her face at the real United Nations someday! Tiffany excelled in high school, and will certainly continue to excel in the future.

INventive

STARE DOWN:

John Thompson's icy stare is enough to give Santa Claus the shivers. Find out what you got on your last Chemistry test, John? LAI
BACK: Tom Brown does a little peripheral perusing.

EVERYONE KNOWS IT'S WENDY:

Wendy Taubinger slowed down long enough for a quick picture at The Hague MUN in January. THERE'S A SUCKER BORN EVERY MINUTE: George Crawley's wearing his heart on a stick instead of his sleeve.

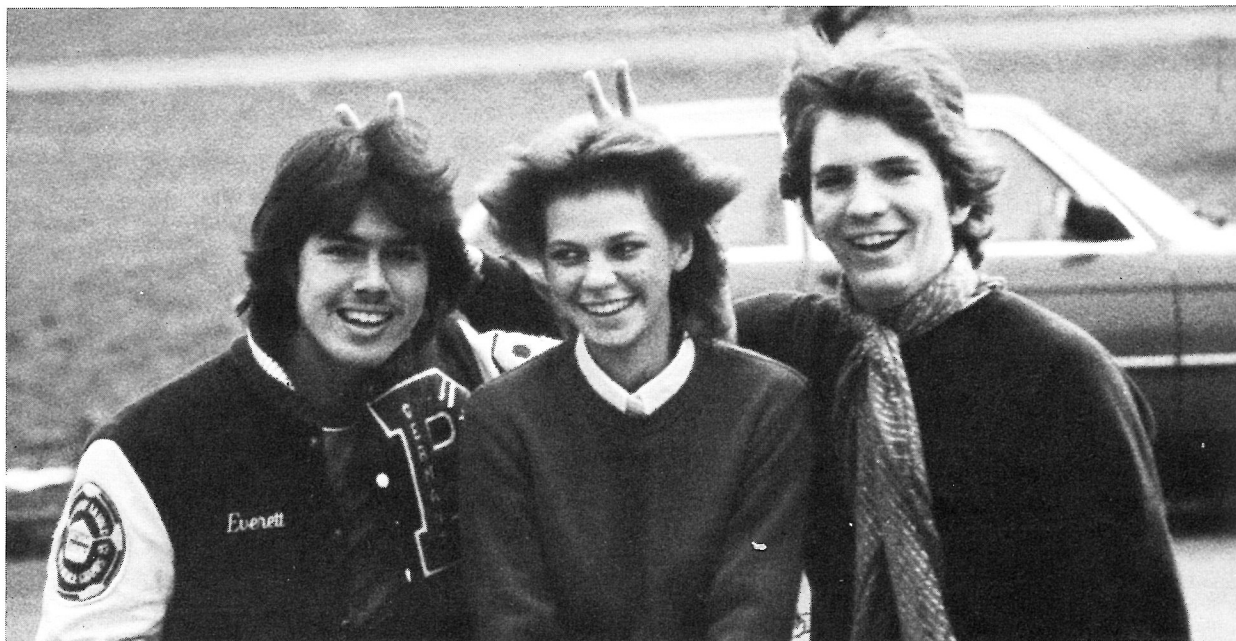

CONTEMPLATIVE COACH: Coach Carr briefs the football team on the strategy for practice. HALL-O, JULIE! Senior Julie Hall practices her paper airplane folding skills. A future aeronautical engineer, perhaps?

OUTranking

SENIORITY RULES: Seniors Everett McCarley, Cathy Needs, and Allen Wrede, er, act their age. They've got the "4," but where's the "8"?

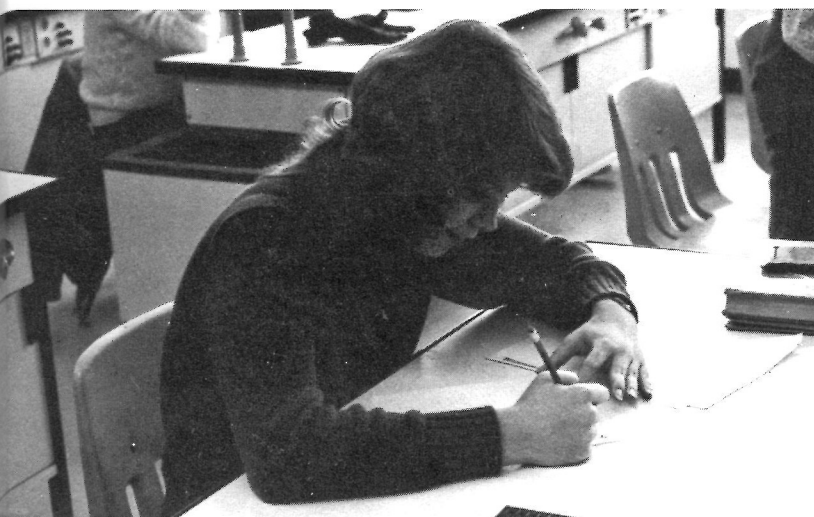

MUNCH OUT: Armando Trujillo enjoys an airborne lunch thanks to his supportive friend, Chas Neel. DIRTY DEEDS: "One whole month! Yep, that's how long it's been since I washed my face!"

STUDENTS AT PLAY: Terri Andrews, Conrad Harris, and Monica Demers catch a breath of fresh air and a football during one of the few sunny days at Bitburg. MEDIA MADNESS: Maxine Winkler makes use of the Media Center's card catalog.

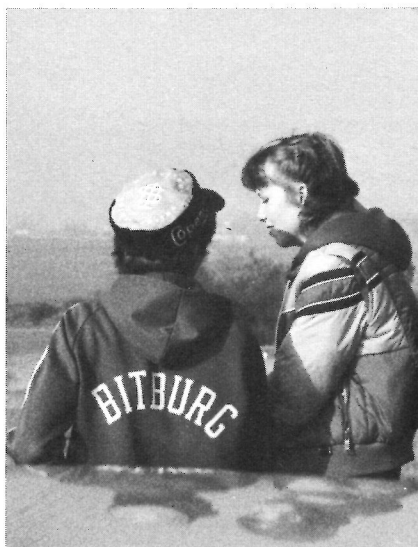

PHYSICS PHUN: Janelle Perkins finishes up one of Mr. Chaney's famous Physics tests with only seconds to spare. IT'S MR. BILL: Bill Roy is planning on running for president sometime within the next twenty years. This is his campaign portrait.

INseparable

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT: BHS football players begin their afterschool practices with a quick run around the track. MELODY MAKERS: Juniors Michelle LaPlante and Dawn Woodard work on their harmony in choir.

TALKATIVE TWOSOME: Robin Beckwell imparts some secrets to an intent listener while waiting for a Cross Country meet to start. THREE'S A CROWD: Franke Delahon, Modesty Wood, and Debbie Corley take a look around outside during a bomb threat.

FIRELIT ROMANCE: Scott Gumaer and Kelly McDonald enjoy each other's company (alot) at the bonfire. DAQUARI! Daquari Minier caught during a solitary moment with his Walkman — man's best friend.

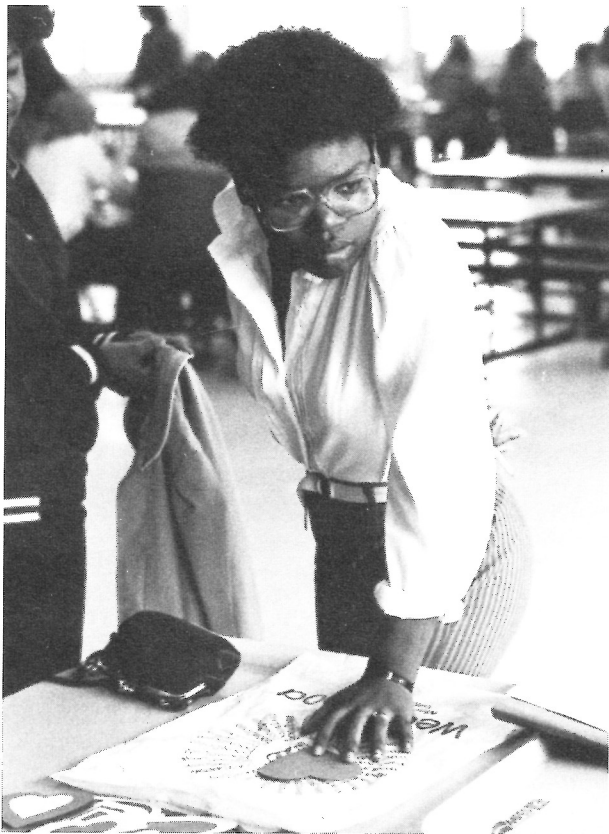

FRESHMAN FEMALE: Kelly Waggoner waits patiently for Mrs. Toth to call the class in. DISHEVELED DUO: Allen Clouse and Darrel Cooper try to keep warm on the sidelines.

OUTlasting

GRAM SCANDAL:

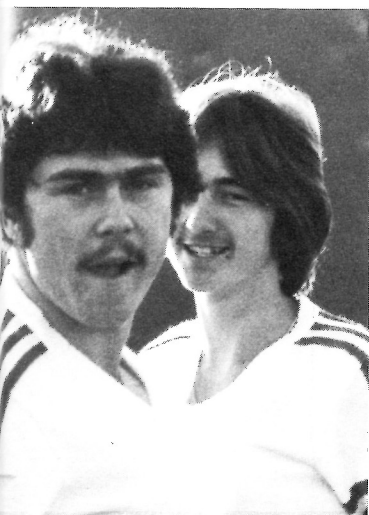

Evelyn Spencer discovers that Valentine's Day gram prices have soared: $10 for a plain gram, $45 dollars for a gram accompanied by a rare red Tahitian rose, and $200 for a 14 karat gold heart to be flown in by helicopter during the sendee's first period class. Better luck on St. Patrick's Day, Evelyn. TO THE POINT: Natalie Sommer lectures the rest of her German class.

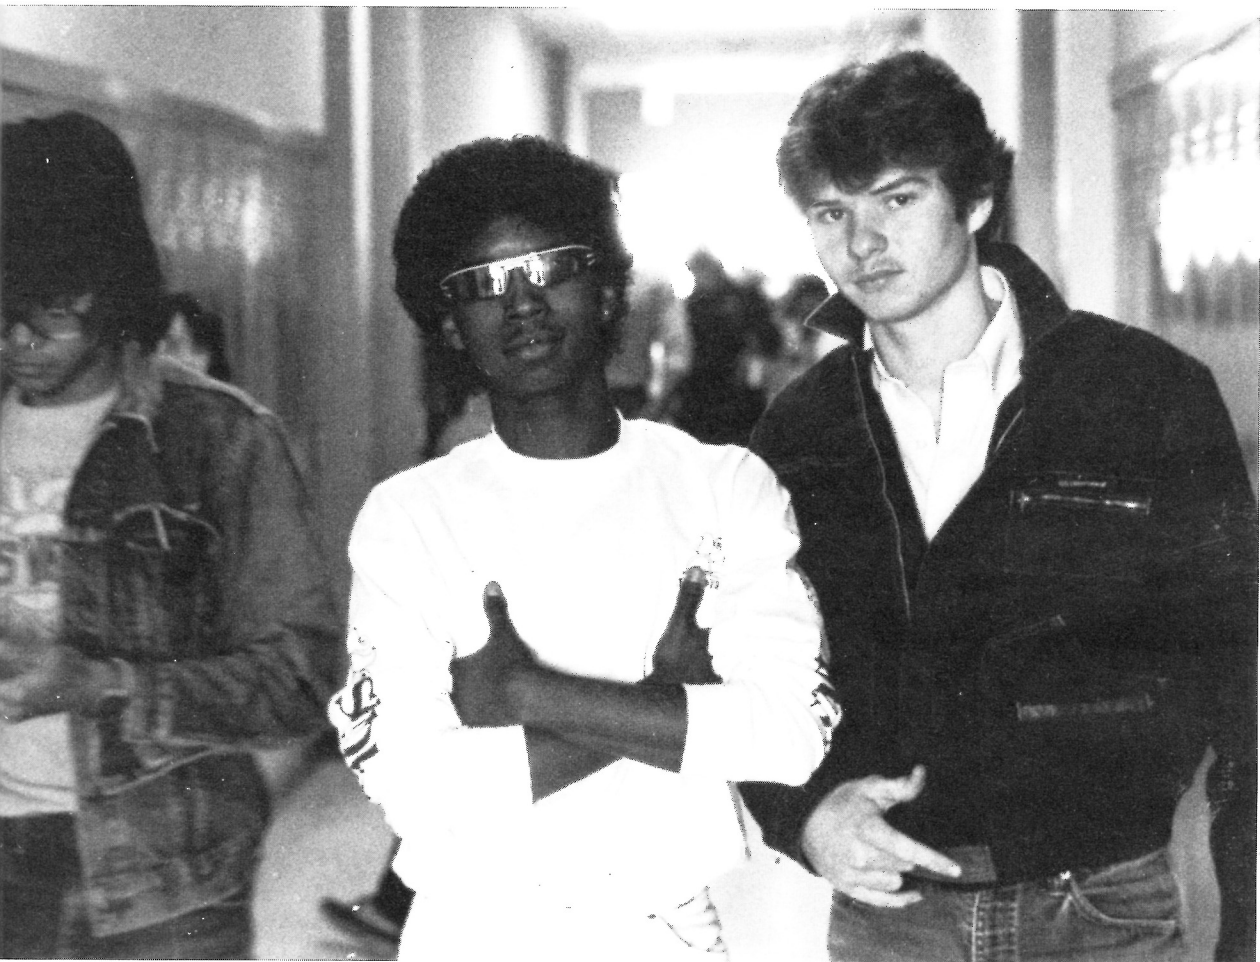

A GLIMPSE FROM

GERALD: Gerald Kuehn can't seem to concentrate with someone looking over his shoulder.

TOM-N-JOHN: Tom Thornton and John Gardner take a break from the rigorous job of senior cheering squad. Must be a real strain for such buxom lovelies, LOCKER SHOCK: "I swear! It's the truth! There's this tall, blonde, muscular California surfer in my locker!" Dream on, Nicole. This is Bit-burg, not Malibu!

TOUGH GUYS: Sean Hinkson and Allan Clouse: two macho dudes.

COLOPHON

320 copies of this 200-page book were printed. The body was printed on 12 lb. matte paper. The types used were a combination of Helvetica Bold, Helvetica Standard, and Helvetica Outline. Headline size was 36 pt.; copy was 10 pt., and captions were 8 pt. The cover is blue and white Durolith. The Baron Shield is produced by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. We would like to thank our Taylor representative, Melissa Johnson, for seeing us through the panics and confusion. We would also like to thank Foto Seiwert of Bitburg for processing our film. Finally, we would like to thank you, the students, for giving us something to write about and photograph. We couldn't have done it without you.
