ANIMAL HOUSE

ERIC SIMON STUDIES the aerodynamics of pinto beans while Bruce Rooney shows his approval for the edible experiment.

MEMBERS OF THE VOLLEYBALL team experience a second childhood. LISTEN GUYS, it's times like these that make people say football players are animals. Take heed, Bryan Griggs and Scott Gumaer.

Remember the first day of school? What a big and lonely place Bitburg High seemed then. Confusion was the rule of the day. Students wandered aimlessly about the halls in search of hidden classrooms. Our school seemed infinitely large that day, without a friendly face. Look how far we've come since the days of the Animal House.

NOBODY SAID
life as a senior was easy, Eric Guth.

A TYPICAL DAY
in the life of accident prone Ron Caron.

BREATHLESS

PAT MCGURL
and Angie Gross
cool their buns
on the new ice maker after a hot pep rally.

JENNIFER HOL-LENBECK: "Who says cleanliness is next to godliness?"
SMILE if you're French, Maurice Pruneau.

Not only is 1984-85 at BHS a year in pictures, but the American society of today is more visually oriented than any other generation. So far this year, VCR sales are up 81% over last year. More people get Cable T.V. than ever before. Americans are spending more and more time in front of the television.

Bitburg has not been left out of the video revolution. In a survey conducted earlier this year, 80% of the student body said their families owned a VCR. Over half of the 80% owned more than one VCR. The average number of tapes per family was nearly 500! That's over a month of non-stop viewing. Figures such as these can leave you Breathless.

ANA KEARNEY:
"No, my name isn't Mark and I don't want my picture taken."
CARDINAL SIN:
Carl Walker is caught cleaning his locker.

TOYS IN THE ATTIC

SHAWN DAY
pulls a few strings.

EDDY KORAN-DA wears his sunglasses at night.

MICHAEL MALONE and Bruce Wade
celebrate the end of another school day.

ELLA SPRAY:
"Somebody
come and play."

AN INCREASE in the student body this year has resulted in overly crowded classrooms.

JOLYNN RAMSEY unravels the meaning of life.

A SOCIABLE WORKER: Bonnie Cabral puts in time on the Eiffel Echoes newspaper.

THREE PIGEONS: Ruth Baker, Rhea Woodcock, and Angie Gross sit on their "stools."

that was all that mattered

BEING THERE

NO WALKMANS
ALLOWED Charles
Byrd.
DO YOU THINK
we spend every Saturday like this?

EVERBODY wants to be in pictures.

School is not just books, pencils, and blackboards. A school is also people. After all, without the students to study, the teachers to teach, and the administrators to administrate, would this be a school? Your Being There helped make this school. Whether you attended every sports event or attended classes, you were here and that was all that mattered.

MILA MAPHIES AND DAWN WOODARD: future leaders of the world.

TED DEWING AND TODD WRAY find the table very interesting.
JEFFREY BRUGGEMAN: "Could one of you girls help me find my contact lens?"

we've got CLASS

ANGEL GEES-AMAN overcomes a case of writer's block.

MIKE THOMPSON participates in classroom gossip.

JAMES JOYCE, Don Steed, Teresa Dewing, Ron Caron, and Lori Pruneau all desperately try to sneak a peak at Mr. Chaney's teacher's manual.

Each day the students of Bitburg endure the difficult task of learning. Each day we report to class and each day we return home with a pile of books. We put up with pop quizzes, semester exams, and the subjects we hate the most, all for the sake of knowledge. But we know we'll survive because we've got Class.

THE EXCITEMENT of "Beowulf" has finally gotten to Tom Gribble although Bonnie Cabral seems slightly more alert.
RON CARON discovers "Physics is Phun."

FRESHMEN discover school isn't all work.
SIMMERIN' STACEY STACKELHOUSE prepares a gourmet dish.

THE BLACKBOARD

MUSCLES: Scott Gumaer works out in Weight Training.

TOM GRIBBLE: "Aargh! I hate homework!"

MR. HUBBARD instructs a guitar student in the art of the pluck.

JUNGLE

NATALIE SOMMER gets into some heavy reading.

JEFF WHITE:
"Test?! Today?!"

COMPUTER WHIZ
Latonia Studevart concentrates on the keyboard.

STIR CRAZY

RANI TUDOR AND CHRISTINE RAHLF: Two
heads are better than one.
TA-DA!: Mr.
Chaney tap-dances around
John Fitzgerald.

ROBIN OLIVER
prays for divine inspiration.
THE VARSITY
CHEERLEADERS
kick their heels up.

With all the pressures confronting us during our high school years, sometimes we need to cut loose. Friday is an eon away on Monday and each day seems longer than the last. To break the monotony of the endless school day we sometimes resort to the outrageous. From English to P.E., Chemistry to Band, sometimes we all go a little Stir Crazy.

ELKE GARDNER and Jodi Hibdon display their wares.

A CHORUS LINE: Stephen James, Joe Clevenger, Katie Forsman, and Carla Samf reveal their hidden talent.

P.E. is what you make of it.

THE MAD SCIENTIST: Greg Martin plans his next close encounter with some test-tubes.

RON CARON
and Ella Spray
rivet their attention to the SCA meeting.

AGAINST THE WALL: Members of the Cross Country team visit the Berlin Wall.

YVETTE VICTORIA and Kim Samler enjoy a cup of hot chocolate and a Baron's football game.

BUBBLE-TIME:
Michelle La Plante
blows a bubble
during a pause in cheering.

SCREENPLAY

In order to have a good production, you must have a successful screenplay. This year at BHS the screenplay has ranged from the ever-busy SCA to a non-active honorary such as Quill and Scroll, each playing an important role in the school year. Additional scenes accompanied the new year while other episodes ended their run earlier than expected. Through it all, the production personnel, directors and actors alike, learned that despite setbacks and letdowns, the show must go on.

Vicki Heimer models some typical Punk Day attire at BHS during Homecoming Week — garbage bag, futuristic make-up and hair-do NOT by Vidal Sassoon!

WHOLLY MOSES

Sean Hinkson, Yolanda Davis, and Charles Byrd share the warmth of togetherness. Right: Michelle LaPlante, Shari Kreidler, and Nicole Folse protect an unseen Elke Gardner from a charging Jodi Hibdon.

Registration Day, August, 1984: Who would've ever thought so many students would be this eager for school to resume.

On the first day of registration, people were seen crowding the halls, filling out schedules or just plain lost. The freshmen wore satisfied smiles because they were now officially in high school. The rest of us were just glad to see last year's friends. After the day was finished, everyone, well ALMOST everyone, was satisfied with his schedule.

One of the early school year highlights was a brief visit to Bitburg by Edwin Moses, the gold medalist in the 400 meter hurdles at the 1984 Los Angeles Olympic Games.

Moses, unbeaten in competition since August 1977, was accompanied by his wife. After a short speech in front of the BX, Moses autographed pictures.

Oddly enough, his well-attended appearance might have had some correlation with an uncommonly high number of absences from 6th period classes.

SOME LIKE IT HOT

The pep rallies were awesome as spirit was high and the yells were loud. The band played their regular number, "We got the Beat." The cheerleaders led the spirit yells to see which class had the most spirit, and the seniors always seemed to win.

For Homecoming, the pep rally included a skit from the Drill Team and from each class and of course the seniors won that, too, with their skit, "The Wizard of Oz."

All in all, the pep rallies this year once again proved that Some Like It Hot.

VICTOR/VICTORIA

Before the championship game, the cheerleaders sponsored a "Big Schools Beauty Pageant." Some of the senior football players were in the spotlight as they glided across the floor dressed as young beauty contest hopefuls. The candidates were asked several questions pertaining to the boys at BHS and their answers determined who would be crowned Miss Big School. The winsome winner was Pat McGurl.

Far left: Nicole Folse can hardly wait to get off stage after escorting Philip Ardoin into the spotlight. And Philip seems to be expecting ... a victory! Left: Escorted by Jenny Hollenbeck, bountiful beauty Bruce Wade acknowledges his adoring fans.

Sexy Ladies: Pat McGurl, Scott Gumaer, Charles Byrd, Allen Clouse, Philip Ardoin and Bruce Wade compete in a pep rally BEAUTY (?) contest before the championship game against Heidelberg.

AGAINST ALL ODDS

Far right: Allen Clouse, how's your date? She looks a little stiff. Right: Mrs. McWilliams, the only teacher to go punk on Punk Day, shows that the Class of '63 had spirit, too.

Far right: Sascha Womack demonstrates that rock-n-roll hasn't died yet, but maybe we should put it out of its misery! Right: Why these glasses? Well, all the better to see you with, my dear!

Stacey Stackelhouse, 1984 BHS Homecoming Queen

Michelle LaPlante, Senior Princess

Jodi Hibdon, Sophomore Princess

Homecoming Week was, as usual, a wonderful mixture of the sublime and the ridiculous. Such activities as the Tug-of-War and the Baby Bottle Feed, combined with costume days like Punk Day and Blue-and-White Day, led to some strange looks for BHS students wandering around base. Friday night's bonfire, held in the usual misty Eifel weather, culminated the week's activities.

PLACES

The annual Powder Puff football game saw one important change this year: for the first time in many years, the juniors won, 14-2. At last! Someone other than the seniors won something!

Even though it was freezing outside, everyone was very spirited and enthusiastic. Michele Arnold blocked and Elke Gardner scored the touchdowns to lead the victorious juniors.

All the cheerleaders contributed a lot of their time, effort and legs to this crazy event.

The senior Powder Puff football team, gracious and smiling even in defeat. (L-R) Standing — Shari Kreidler, Robert Zayas, Heidi Adler, Jeff Bruggeman, Stacey Stackelhouse, Scott Gumaer, Leslie Lindquist, Sean Hinkson, Tiffany Thornton, Mila Maphies, and Charles Byrd. Kneeling — Karen Miller, Lisa Shelley, Yvette Victoria, Antoinette Hull, Stacey Wray, Kelly Billington, Teresa Dewing, and Ana Kearney.

The Sadie Hawkins Dance, traditionally sponsored by the Junior Class, was once again a memorable occasion.

While "Moonshine" flowed freely, the greatest action took place at the jail and the ever-popular, traditional marriage booth.

The highlight of the evening was the competition between the Daisy Mae and Lil' Abner selectees from each class. The jello eating and bobbing for apples proved to be more popular with the spectators than with those eating and bobbing.

Top Left: Sheriff Duffy says, "I think we should take up a collection to send Teresa Dewing to Miss Manner's etiquette school. Maybe she'll learn to use silverware!"

Winter Wonderland Dance

The Winter Wonderland dance, considered a great success by those who attended, was sponsored by the Thespians. Break dancers popped and bopped as the crowd cheered them on.

The court was announced at the dance. The Queen was Sophomore Nicole Folse and the King was Junior Jeff White.

The rest of the court was made up of Seniors Jenny Hollenbeck, Pat McGurl, Junior Patty Duke, Sophomore Kevin Trow, and Freshmen Lisa Finelli and Chad Davies.

Another nice surprise was the appearance of Santa, who allowed us to relive our childhood fantasies and tell him our secret wishes.

MIDDLE: St. Nick surveys the dance floor.

That's Entertainment

The International Thespian Society is an elite group of actors, actresses, and stage personnel that operates in many schools throughout the world. BHS troupe 2773 got off to a slow start, due to the lack of a sponsor, until Ms. Walls agreed to help. The group's first activity was the Winter Wonderland Dance, sponsored to raise money for their Spring production. Despite several setbacks throughout the year, the Thespians pulled together and presented Electra in May, once more bringing theater to BHS.

MIDDLE: Thespian Officers, President Dawn Woodard, Vice-President Mike Bernhardt, Secretary Michelle LaPlante, and Treasurer Sharon Villegas.

THE CANDIDATE

In light of the election year, first semester government students, under the guidance of Mrs. Virginia Revelle, conducted a Mock Election. All major election topics were debated by the candidates. The candidates were played by four of Mrs. Revelle's students. The Republican candidates were Don Steed, Ronald Reagan, and Tom Gribble, George Bush. The Democratic candidates were John Thompson, Walter Mondale, and Tara Keith, Geraldine Ferraro. The audience was comprised of sixth period social studies classes. Afterwards, the students voted on the presidential candidates. The surprise results — Reagan by a landslide.

Each year, students from all over Europe and the United States gather in The Hague, Netherlands, for the annual Hague United Nations with the goal of promoting international peace and harmony. Although the goal is often elusive, much is learned from the Hague experience.

Bitburg High School participated again this year in the Model United Nations or MUN. Bitburg represented New Zealand, home of sheep and Kiwis. To prepare for The Hague, a visit was arranged to the New Zealand embassy in Bonn where the Ambassador helped the delegation by supplying information on each of the topics.

This year's delegation consisted of: Ella Spray — Ambassador; and delegates Don Steed, Christine Rahlf, Rani Tudor, Greg Martin, Candy Kramer, Lorna Little, Stacey Stackelhouse and Ken Wellens. The delegates were chosen on the basis of attendance at meetings, their notebooks, and past experience with MUN.

BRAIN STORM

The National Honor Society and the National Junior Honor Society are two very prestigious groups at BHS. In order to be eligible for membership, a student must display the qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service.

During the year, NHS/NJHS members attended the Brain Bowl where they captured 7th place. They also sponsored Teacher Appreciation day in April, and held an Induction for new members in May. Two members, Ella Spray and Christine Rahlf, were chosen to compete with nominees from other chapters for NHS scholarships. "I think people should realize that we're not just a bunch of 'brains'. We have a lot of good ideas and fun," said Senior Teresa Dewing.

THE SOUND OF MUSIC

This year's band, under the guidance of Mr. Hubbard, displayed some raw talent.

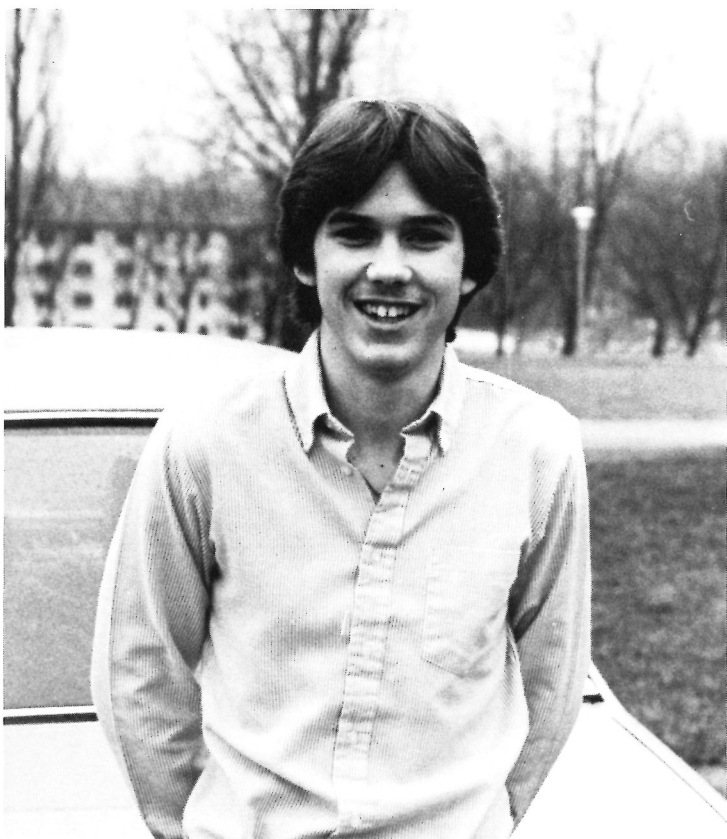

The band worked hard and were even loyal to BHS. They played at pep assemblies and at varsity football games. Along with the choir, they put on a Christmas concert and held a school assembly to display their talent. At various times throughout the school year, Sascha Womack, Kirk Samler and Jeff Eiseman performed solos. The Concert Band even got to perform at the SOPA fest, held in Berlin.

With determination and hard work, the band, composed mostly of freshmen, continued to improve and has fine prospects for next year.

SAY IT WITH MUSIC

The 1984-85 BHS Choir. Back Row, (L-R): Ron Jones, James Wrede, Mr. Hubbard, Charles Trull, Lynn Patterson, Karol Damon, Jennifer Koranda, Dawn Woodard, Melissa Brown, Lisa Wieden and Angela Studevant. Middle Row: Reggie Smith, Paula Felming, Mark Trull, Terri Davenport, Tara Keith, Michelle LaPlante, Lisa Matheis, Amy Gilley, Christine White, Shural Baskerville, Sheleatha Leonard and Angela Knupp. Front Row: Ruth Baker and Robin Hensley.

The 1984-85 BHS Concert Choir started the year plagued by illnesses and unlearned music. Due to his prolonged illness, Mr. Hubbard had to cancel the Fall Concert, but the Christmas Concert was performed without problems.

At the semester, Choir was split into two classes, a Concert Choir and a Chorus, in order to separate the advanced students from those who still needed to learn.

The highlight of the year for the Concert Choir was a February trip to Berlin for the SOPA Music Fest. Three students were also chosen to attend the DODDS All-Germany Honors chorus held in Bad Kissengen in March.

Left: Eight seniors, with a total of 25 years experience in BHS choir, formed the backbone of this year's organization. Their departure will leave a big hole as far as talent and experience are concerned. Those seniors were (L-R): Ron Jones, Charles Trull, Michelle LaPlante, Amy Gilley, Dawn Woodard, Tara

THE ORGANIZATION

The BHS Student Council Association (SCA) started the year with a new sponsor and the goal of accomplishing all that they set out to achieve. The first task was the writing of a new constitution.

To insure that things ran smoothly, cabinet meetings were held on a regular basis. They planned and supervised the lunchtime activities and pep rallies for both Homecoming and B-Week. Most importantly, they provided leadership for the school.

Even though many difficulties arose during the year, including the midterm resignation of the SCA President, Student Council achieved their purpose of unifying the student body.

Screamers & Scribblers

Spirit engulfed BHS this year, and one club which helped promote that spirit was the Pep Club. Joining forces with the cheerleaders, the Pep Club helped with the making of posters for the football games and pep rallies. Some other activities the Pep Club engaged in were selling tickets for fan buses, selling BHS painter caps, and a bake sale. The Pep Club showed their enthusiasm and spirit at games and rallies.

Like any club, officers were elected. President was Ashley White, Vice-president was Kate Tepedino, and Michelle Gumaer was Secretary-Treasurer.

For its first year the Pep Club showed tremendous spirit. Let us hope that this club will stick together and be back again next year in even greater numbers.

Quill and Scroll is an elite group of aspiring journalists that operates undercover at BHS. Virtually unknown to the student body, this honorary organization is composed of current or former members of the newspaper or yearbook staff. In order to be a member, a student must maintain high grades, must have teacher recommendation and must be reasonably gifted in the area of writing.

Certainly a less visible or vocal group than, for instance, Pep Club, nevertheless Quill and Scroll members have had the satisfaction of seeing their efforts and hard work preserved in print.

Varsity Club made a strong comeback this year at BHS. Led by President Mark Valderama, along with Vice-president Seedy Fehli, Secretary Lorna Little and Treasurer Tiffany Thornton, the Varsity Club sold nachos and funnel cakes at bazaars, sold pins and, after a long absence, started to get the student store back together.

The athletes who make up this club's membership worked hard, not only in sports, but also for the school.

PRETTY MAIDS ALL IN A ROW

Varsity Football Cheerleaders scored high with the fans. (L-R): Teresa DeWing, Sheri Kreidler, Nicole Folse, Jennifer Hollenbeck, Jodi Hibdon and Michelle LaPlante.

The Varsity Basketball Cheerleaders show the crowd the "dying roach" at a home game.

Practices makes perfect. That's what the BHS Varsity Cheerleaders showed us with their dazzling performances throughout the school year.

The Cheerleaders led many rowdy pep assemblies and supported the football and basketball teams throughout the year. To try and get everyone involved they sold, among other things, spirit ribbons and they made signs. They also developed a new cheer, called "Frankenstein," which proved to be a crowd favorite.

Cheerleaders are always a great asset to school and this year's squads proved that with flying colors.

1985 Varsity Basketball Cheerleaders. (Top to bottom): Yolanda Davis, Lisa Trost, Nicole Folse, Jennifer Koranda, Kate Tepedino and Teresa Dewing.

JV Football Cheerleaders "Turn it on!" (Top to bottom): Tanya Meadows, Jackie Papizan, Sheila Cooper, Michelle Jones and Beth LaVigne.

The BHS JV Cheerleading squads proved that they were as good as the varsity in backing their teams and nearly as good at getting everyone rowdy. They helped put on the pep assemblies and with the help of the Boosters' Club, the football cheerleaders were able to go to away football games to cheer the JV team to victory.

The cheerleaders showed great enthusiasm and energy. If this year was the start for them, they should be in really good shape for next year's squads.

New cheerleader were selected for basketball season but they failed to show up for their picture. However, they were Sheila Cooper, Michelle Fernandez, Lisa Finelli, Christa Hardy and Shawnda Nearing.

HIGH STEPPERS

The 1984-85 BHS Drill Team was organized and sponsored by Elizabeth Boller. The squad performed at all the pep rallies and home football games. Although the squad was small, their enthusiasm was great and their performances were greeted with much applause. Captain Kim Phillips led the team to a successful year.

The 1984-85 Eifel Echoes newspaper staff was small but energetic. The staff consisted of only four students but they covered many aspects of school news, from sports to the issue of bathroom conditions.

With the semester change they lost one reporter and gained two more. Their total was up to five reporters. But also at semester, they lost their typist and were left on their own to learn the dreaded Word Processor! That skill acquired, they overcame their problems and began cranking out more papers, hunting the school over to find story ideas.

The devotion and hard work of this small corps of students provided BHS with a written record of the year's happenings.

SOMETHING OF VALUE

The yearbook staff this year had many difficulties. The first was an inexperienced editor with little knowledge of the many difficulties to follow. All year the staff was plagued by a lack of pictures. It seemed a reliable photographer was hard to find. Many headaches were also caused by disloyal staff members.

At semester change, several hard-working, patient, loyal, and skilled staff members joined to help pull off the miraculous feat of finishing this book.

You have been looking through probably the most difficult task a group of people could possibly undertake to produce — a yearbook. Many hours of creativity and hard-work went into it. At times we all wanted to quit but we finished because we knew a yearbook was Something of Value.

STUNTPEOPLE

BHS has again shown the winning spirit so common on campus. Although not tremendous in size, BHS is certainly tremendous in success. This year saw the emergence of the Varsity football team as the Big Schools champs, finishing with a 7-1 record.

Cross Country again had a championship season for all four teams. Fine performances by the gymnastics team and some gutsy play by the volleyball teams helped BHS be proud of its entire sports program.

Returning lettermen and women to the wrestling and basketball teams made prospects high for success throughout the school year.

A contemplative moment on the sidelines for BHS placekicker Eric Guth.

The Loneliness Of

Well, Cross Country has done it again! Another winning season with a championship to boot. The men ended up with a 14-1 record, the women a 12-3 record, the JV men a 15-0 tally, and the JV women a 15-0 mark. All of the teams were just awesome this year. This was due to the coaching ability of Bob Gaittens. He never rebuilds, he just reloads. He had a very young team this year which should return next year for an even better record.

All the Right Moves

Teamwork!! That was the name of the game for the Champion Barons. Without teamwork they would have been just another contender for the championship. Instead, they held together at crucial points in the season to bring the "title" back to Bitburg. This teamwork was not forged in just one season; it was learned by at least one year's experience. This is evident by going down the roster — more than half the team were returnees. Even with all this experience these Barons were not able to get that much coveted prize, an undefeated season, because of a controversial call by a referee at the end of the game against Hanau. Then the Barons pulled together again to come from behind and defeat Heidelberg for the AA-AAA CHAMPIONSHIP.

This year's JVs had a re-building year. Very few of last year's team returned because players PCSed or were moved up to the Varsity. With this young team they weren't expected to have a winning season and they didn't. Even though their 1-3-1 season doesn't show much on paper, their experiences and never-give-up attitude will be invaluable for the challenges which will face them later in life.

Above And Beyond

The Volleyball team this year had a very good year considering they had only two returning seniors. All the rest were underclassmen. They had a 7-8 record, but that doesn't tell the whole story. These girls worked hard for all they earned and if they had gotten just a couple of breaks during the season they would have brought a championship home. Since only two players are graduating, next year should be a dominating year for the volleyballers.

JV Volleyball Team

The JV Volleyball Team proved to be one of the most dedicated and hard working of the teams at Bitburg High. These young ladies finished with a final record of 11-3-0. "They worked hard all season," stated Coach Heidt. This team was a very young team with no returnees from last year, but don't expect any next year either because a few of them have enough talent to be shoe-ins for next year's Varsity.

Best Foot Forward

Basically a young team, the gymnastics squad performed competitively against conference rivals. Showing a lot of spirit and pride these young Barons proved to be a foe to be dealt with. Practicing hard, these girls were not stifled by any challenges. They showed their grace and dexterity both on and off the floor.

ONE ON ONE

The 1984-85 season found the Barons with one of the quickest and toughest teams in Bitburg history. This team started out undefeated in six games, then went on a five-game losing streak. The streak was broken by an 11-point win over a previously unbeaten Nuremberg team who had the best record in the conference until facing the Barons.

The squad, led by seniors Jeff Stiggle and Tom Gribble, never gave up, even when they were down in the middle of the fourth quarter. This team proved that the old sports adage was true: any team can make up for talent and size with heart.

Boys' JV Basketball

The Boys' Junior Varsity team had an excellent season this year. At the half season mark the JVs posted an undefeated record with no signs of stopping. Since there is no championship for JV, these players will just have to hold their laurels for another year when they can prove themselves on the varsity level. Winning isn't everything on the JV level, but gaining experience is, and this experience mixed with the confidence of winning should bring Bitburg another championship team next year.

FAST BREAK

What an excellent year this was for girls varsity! This 1984-85 season should be remembered as one of the best seasons that any team could have, and the Lady Barons did it. They almost won the conference championship but lost to arch-rival Baumholder, their first defeat in 12 outings.

The team went to tournament with high hopes of taking the European Championship. As in all their endeavors, they did very well because these girls worked hard every time they got on the court.

JV Girls' Basketball

This year's JV Girls' basketball team was one of the best in Germany. They practiced hard and it paid off, because the team only lost one game in the 12 which they played. Next year should be a great one for the Baron's girls' basketball team because when these girls get to varsity level, they should have the confidence and the experience to beat every other team they play.

THE DIRTY DOZEN

This year's wrestling team proved to be one of the best in Europe. They lost very few matches individually and usually were in the top three places at the end when the overall scores are tallied. Another good point about these hard-working Barons is that many of them are underclassmen which should bring Bitburg at least one more year of excellent wrestling.

THE MISFITS

Under the guidance of Mr. Lemon, lunchtime intramurals became a reality at BHS.

One of the great things about the intramurals was that anyone could get involved. From exalted upperclassmen to lowly freshmen and even the teachers, the competition proved to be an exciting sight. There were a variety of sports, from wiffleball to volleyball and tennis. The Sophomores basically dominated the competition but the rest of the teams came on strong and everyone who participated seemed to enjoy themselves.

If intramurals continue during lunch next year, enthusiasm and participation should be much greater than this year.

PRODUCERS AND DIRECTORS

Every successful production needs professional producers and directors. At BHS this year, our producers and directors, the administration, faculty and staff, gave us the most support and encouragement possible. They helped us through hard times of ebbing enthusiasm and surging apathy. They guided us to expanding maturity and high achievement. From the initial face-in to the final screen credits, they educated us, taught us to cope, and most importantly, they became our friends.

Mr. Mel Romeu, the Spanish teacher at BHS, runs 12 miles a day to "keep in shape." Mr. Romeu, who also teaches Social Studies, has taught at BHS for 15 years and says "It's not bad; could be worse, could be better."

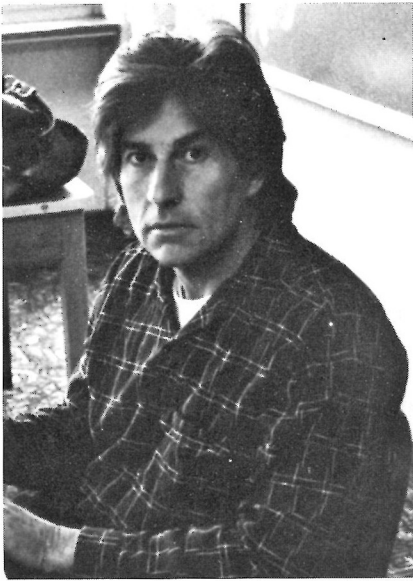

Mr. Romeu was born in Puerto Rico and moved to the U.S. in 1953. Later, while he was in Japan, he met his wife, or as he put it, "I didn't meet her, she met me."

Mr. Romeu says that in the past 15 years, student attitude has gotten worse, but otherwise students are the same. "Girls are better than boys in learning; especially in foreign languages," he claims.

When asked how he felt about his life, Mr. Romeu replied, "I'm too old now to think about life. I'm working my way toward retirement and then I'll fade away like all things."

Herr Sebastian Vogt, who teaches German at BHS, had the best possible preparation for the job — he was born and raised in Heidelberg, West Germany. Besides teaching German, Herr Vogt arranges and coordinates exchange visits with German students from this area.

After meeting his future wife in London where he was teaching and she was touring, Herr Vogt moved to the United States and they were married in 1978. They lived and worked in Portland, Maine, before moving back to Germany. They have a daughter Marianne, who was 5 in April, and a new baby son.

As a dependent spouse (his wife is Dr. Ruth Robinson of Bitburg's USAF Clinic), Herr Vogt enjoys his position: "It's really great. You get all the privileges without having to be active duty."

Herr Vogt enjoys reading, cooking, traveling, classical music, and swimming. His favorite American author is Vladimir Nabokov.

Herr Vogt has been here for 4 years and he admits, "I like being here; the students are very nice."

Ms. Nancy Earl, a ten-year veteran teacher at BHS, enjoys teaching here because she feels that she has a lot of liberty to experiment with new ideas. Ms. Earl, who has taught in such countries as France, Turkey, Japan, and, of course, West Germany, teaches math at BHS.

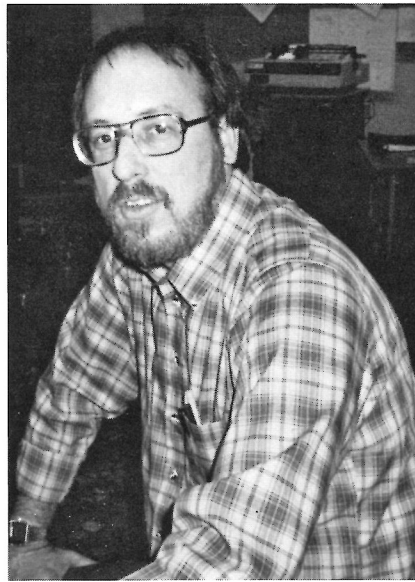

When she isn't teaching, Ms. Earl enjoys skiing, visiting museums, being outside, reading, and, her favorite activity, traveling. She has visited many countries but says that it is difficult to decide which is her favorite because there are so many different cultures.

Ms. Earl feels that students at BHS are "pretty much the same now as they were ten years ago, but that more students are being quite lackadaisical about education." Her favorite teaching experience was the TAG class that she guided at BHS last year.

THE YEAR OF LIVING DANGEROUSLY

The first year of high school: frightening, forbidding, fatiguing, fabulous, foreign, frantic, festive, formative, far-fetched, fun, frustrating and yes, sometimes possibly fatal. Being a freshman had its ups and downs. Many went from being king of the hill in middle school to being at the bottom of the heap as a 9th grader. It was a strange new situation in uncharted territory.

To those who have already lived through it, the trials and tribulations of being a freshman may have seemed trivial, but for many in the Class of '88, it was a Year of Living Dangerously.

“10”

On a scale of 1-10, Sophomore spirit rated a “10” this year. They achieved this rating because of all the spirit and participation they showed in activities. The second biggest class in BHS proved to be the best overall in the intramurals the first half of the year, and - proved to be a force to be dealt with at pep rallies during spirit yells and skits. With all these good points in their favor, there’s no doubt that these “Super Sophomores” will be one of the best classes at BHS next year. Keep it up!

THE HIGH AND THE MIGHTY

Being the smallest class in the school and taking on some of the greatest responsibilities, the Juniors have earned the title of The High and the Mighty. Even though the Juniors haven't made their impact felt in pep rallies, they left their mark in other places. One example was the great Powder Puff game won by the Juniors for the first time in many years. If it's left up to the Class of '86, the first of June will have been unforgettable.

Behind the scenes of the production of "The Sound of Music" were the four young women who played the roles of the four daughters.
 From left to right: Patricia Richardson, Susan
 Richardson, and the two other daughters.

THE GRADUATE

It's been a long and hard road to becoming a Senior, but it looks like the class of '85 made it and they're The Graduates. In the past four years they've been through it all, from being freshmen at the bottom of the totem pole, to scrambling up the ladder to reach their final year of high school.

Many choices await them: college, marriage, the military work — maybe welfare! Whatever they choose wherever they go, the Class of '85 will have shared a unique experience, and although life at BHS may not have always been thrilling, it has been memorable. Best wishes, graduates!

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS:
President Jennifer Hollenbeck,
Vice-President Tom Gribble,
Secretary Michelle LaPlante, and Treasurer Teresa Dewing.

Senior Hall of Fame

Tom Gribble

Tom Gribble, a four-year senior at BHS, has not only been an excellent student, he is a top athlete and is active in student organizations. A varsity football player for three years, he was one of the team captains this year. He was also one of the captains for varsity basketball this year and played on the varsity tennis team in his junior year.

For the past two years he has been an active member of Varsity Club. He was senior class vice-president which involved him in many other activities this year. Tom was also one of two BHS seniors chosen to attend Boys' State at the University of Maryland last summer.

When his father was transferred to the Netherlands, Tom chose to remain at BHS for his senior year, enduring a separation from his family. Despite this, Tom managed to keep his grades high, his sports performances superior, and his activities organized, thereby earning him the respect of teacher and students alike, and the election by faculty into the Senior Hall of Fame.

Ella Spray

Ella Spray, a three-year student at Bitburg High School, seemed the natural choice by BHS faculty for the 1985 Senior Hall of Fame. During her three years here, Ella has compiled a record that is outstanding in both academic achievement and extra-curricular involvement.

As editor of the Baron Shield in her junior year, she almost single-handedly produced a fine yearbook that received a 2nd place rating in a national rating competition. She also found time to serve as treasurer of Model United Nations (MUN), secretary of National Honor Society, parliamentarian of the SCA and was a member of Quill and Scroll, a journalism honorary.

As a senior, she was president of National Honor Society, president of Model United Nations, and was the head delegate of the MUN gathering in The Hague. Despite her schedule, she still finds time to pursue hobbies of reading and photography.

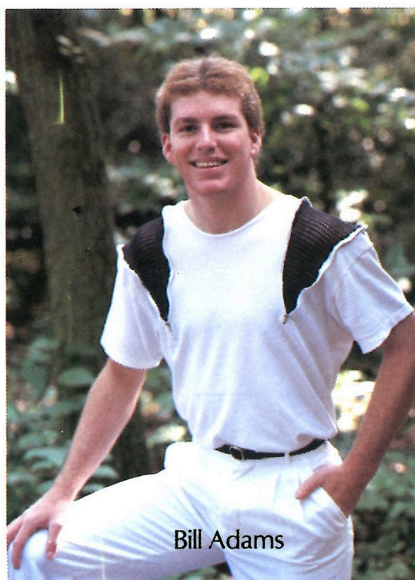

Ella leaves a tremendous high school record but will no doubt go on to greater successes in the future.

As an added feature to the yearbook this year, we decided to include the seniors who missed having their picture taken due to late arrival or because they weren't feeling photogenic that day. Somehow those who missed the first sitting and retakes managed to miss our retakes also. So, here are the remaining members of the Class of '85: Carlos Gonzales, Troy Gray, and Lynn Pitchers.

BACKERS

The advertising section is perhaps the most important and most difficult section of the yearbook. Living in a foreign country and producing an American yearbook make it ten times as hard to sell ads. Many times the language barrier alone is enough to discourage any hopeful salesperson.

Then the obstacle of trying to explain the concept of a yearbook to the potential buyer arises. Most European schools do not have yearbooks and they are usually an unknown quantity to local businesses. Often several visits must be made to the same establishment because the person in charge was not there to agree to the ad, or the text and artwork for the ad were not ready.

It becomes a real headache to accumulate enough ads for the section, but without the ads, a large source of funds for the yearbook would be lost and the price to students would skyrocket. Difficult though this section is to assemble, we are grateful for the support we receive from the bases in our area and from the German businesses who have supported the Baron Shield throughout the years.

"I brought her the tire. What more does she need?" says Junior Mark Valderama to Super Sophomore JoLynn Ramsey.

COLOPHON

400 copies of this 200 page book were printed on 80 lb. enamel stock. The type faces used were alternates between Broadway and Optima. The body copy was done in 10 pt. and the captions in 8 pt. The cover was done in Blue Lexatone with Silver Foil. There are 24 4-color pages. The first 16 pages were printed on cream stock with brown ink #43. This book was published by Taylor Publishing Company of Dallas, Texas. A VERY SPECIAL THANKS TO MELISSA JOHNSON, OUR TAYLOR REPRESENTATIVE, whose advice and unending well of knowledge (as well as her cropper, grease pencil, type-book, etc . . .) helped us to finally finish this Yearbook. We would also like to thank Foto Seiwert of Bit-burg for processing our film. I would personally like to thank the yearbook advisor, LANA McWILLIAMS, for not having a nervous break-down when she needed one.
