Honors Assembly Recognizes Yamato High School Students

YAMATO AS — Students of Yamato High School were recognized May 24 during an awards assembly in the theater here.

Numerous awards were presented for scholastic, athletic and extracurricular achievements, and four students were inducted into the National Honor Society.

Heading the list of award winners was Douglas Wenzel who received the National Merit Honorary Scholarship Award. School officials note that recipients of this award are in the top two per cent of the high school graduates nationally.

Douglas also has received a four-year General Motors scholarship to Michigan State University. He was also named valedictorian of the Yamato graduating class.

Receiving scholarships from the Officers' Wives Club (OWC) were Frances Hironaka and Karl Mehring. Frances' award was for $750 while Karl received $500.

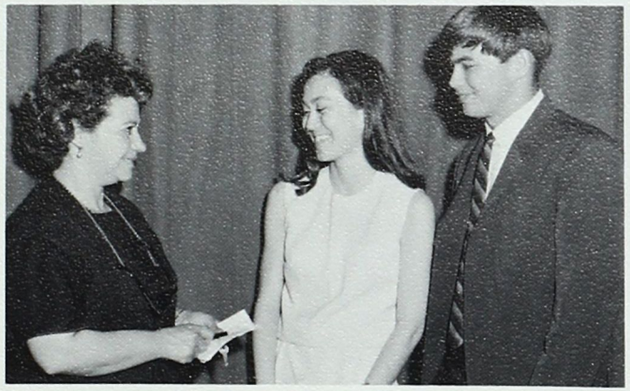
The OWC also presented bonds to students in each grade who had compiled the highest scholastic average. Receiving these awards were Gerald Erb, Roy Glantz and Susan Petty, 11th grade; Kathy Kawabe and Kathy Talbert, 10th grade; and Andrew Halliday, 9th grade.

Winners of scholarships presented by the NCO Wives Club were Carol Loftus, $300 and Siegfried Ching, $150. Carol was also named as one of the two salutatorians of the senior class while Siegfried received a gold medal and $25 award as the outstanding fine arts student in the senior class. The other salutatorian is Kiyomi Ogihara.

Frances Hironaka received the Bausch Lomb Science award which annually is presented to the outstanding senior science student.

Four members of the junior class were inducted into the National Honor Society during the assembly. They were Jean Furuta, Tom Honn, Steve Liljedahl and Dennis Yamamoto. Membership in this organization is based on a student's leadership, scholarship, character and service abilities.

Included among the athletic awards presented were all-conference patches to five football and two basketball players. Receiving the football awards were Ken Imamura, Tom Lang, John Myrick, Fred Price and Joe Roussin. William Bosley and Robert Iverson received the basketball awards.



Members of the band and chorus received certificates as did those members of the Girls Athletic Association who had attained a required number of points.

Numerous other awards were presented during the program. These included outstanding business students awards, typing awards, chemistry award and shorthand awards.
