Don't forget me!!!

Snowball Dance-Dec. 9, 1995

Remember good times...

Clarissa, Angela, Abby, Bri, Brandy, Lisa, Jesse, Mariel, and many more. You have all been there for me, supported me, and helped me out. So, we had our bad times, but we got through them. Some of you knew me for a long time, others for a short time, but to me...it seemed like forever. But remember memories, good or bad, happy or sad...you'll just look back and laugh.

Beautification Club

If you have noticed the ropes and posts around Kinnick, you are looking at the work of the Beautification Club. This is the second year of the club's existence. Within these two years, they have planted flowers and trees all around Kinnick. They have shown the Kinnick Pride to other students that we can make Kinnick beautiful. They put in long hours on Thursdays and even Saturdays. Sometimes they work other days of the week, too! One time consuming activity they are working on is the brick walkway. The students are dedicated and work hard. Mrs. Taylor, their sponsor, is very proud of these middle schoolers.

Ms. Pamela Austin watches over a student council meeting in her room, as Mariel awaits her turn to talk.

Mr. Vance, yearbook sponsor, Clarissa, Fiona, and Mariel confer about how to separate different sections of the yearbook. Folders for the Chosen Ones and Dedications can be seen on the work table.

YEARBOOK STAFF

On its first year, the Middle School Yearbook is doing the best job they can. In the process of making the yearbook, students learn to dedicate themselves and learn the true meaning of hard work, and learn about true deadlines. Specifically, the members meet often, and during meetings acquire skills. In order to create the yearbook, photography, film and print developing, and desktop publishing had to be learned.

As Fiona Jane Orolfo puts it, "I learned how do layouts and crop pictures. Also I had the opportunity to advance my skills on the computer."

Yo-Hi Editorial Staff

Electron Microscopes?

No. Jayson David and Geoff Nuval are using enlargers to make prints of film developed by the staff earlier. In order to do this, they had to learn about test strips, filters, multi-grade paper, exposure time, and contrast. If photography interests you, maybe you should consider the high school course and/or yearbook.

Are they playing a video game?

Hardly. Although they may be using PaintBrush to create graphics for the yearbook. PaintBrush is also useful to us when we need to make some changes to photographs "scanned" earlier. Geoff Nuval, Jayson David, and Gerald Soriano are most likely preparing "layouts" for the yearbook. The staff had to learn desktop publishing this year.

P.S. The high school yearbook staff will learn this next year.

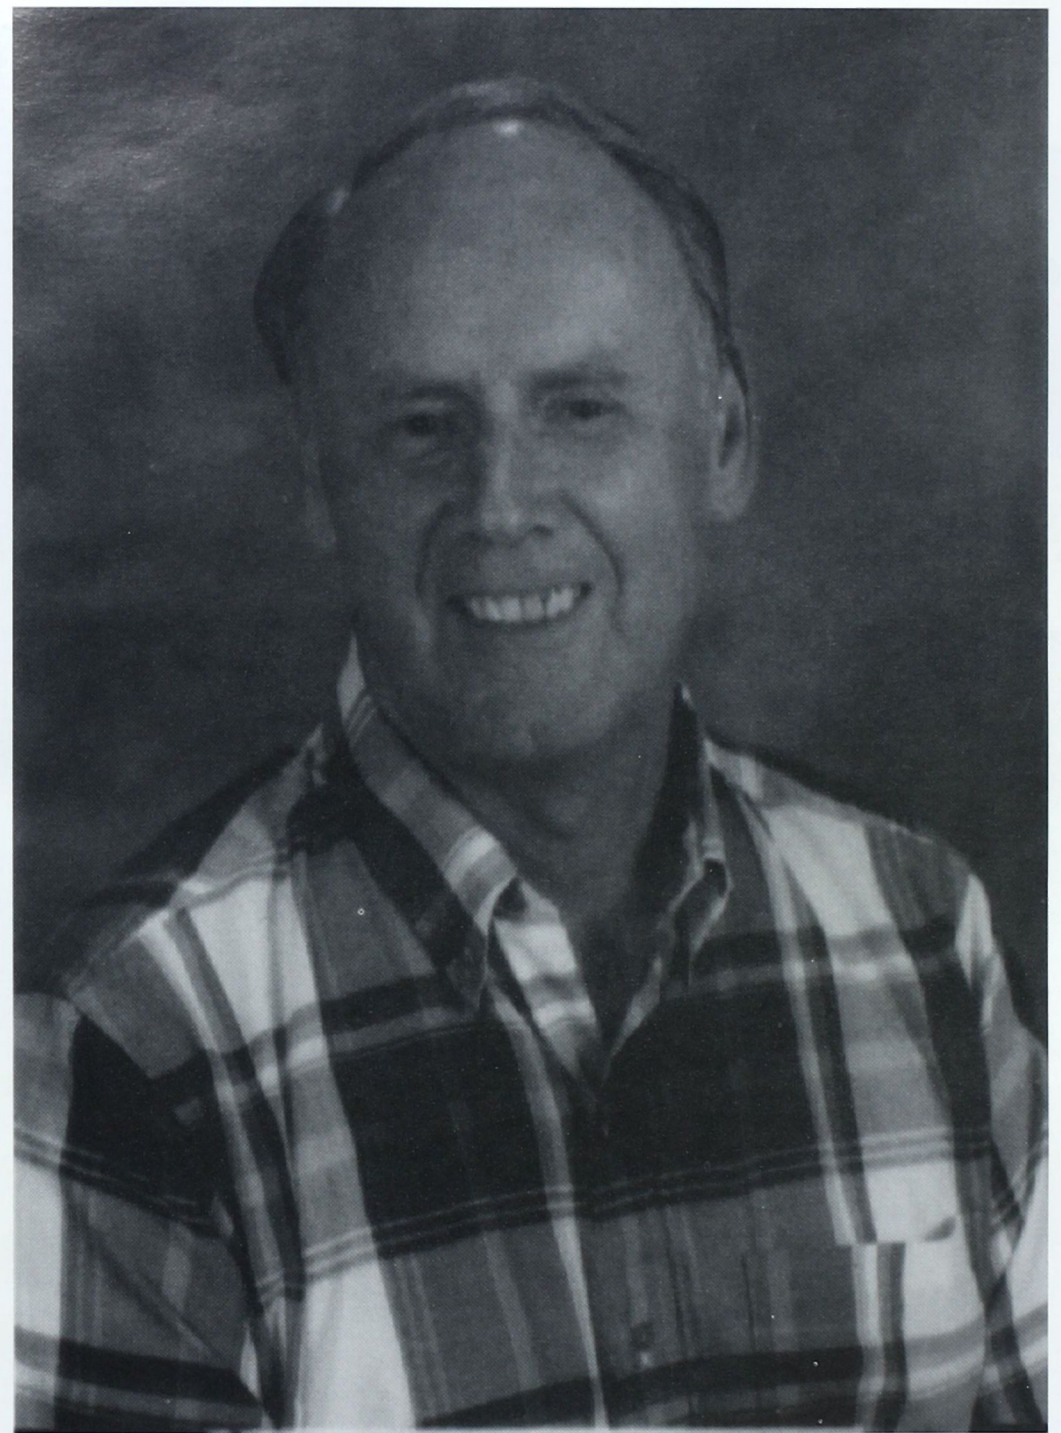

Corporal Ralph W. Prouty
Photography Instructor

The Yokohama American Schools are very grateful for the excellent photography work in this 1949 edition of Yo-Hi, which was accomplished by Corporal Ralph W. Prouty, our photography instructor. Our sincere thanks to Corporal Prouty for a job well done.

Yo-Hi Staff

This yearbook is dedicated to Mr. Robert Rydelius, without whom it would not have been possible.

He taught us photography, gave film, equipment, and time to us. Most importantly, he taught us by example how to be caring, giving people.

Music Makes Them Smile

Chorus

Bilna Nogra and Annie Hanna smile as they listen to fellow singers bring out the Christmas spirit. These two students like chorus because they both like to sing.

Percussion

Candace Gary and Jennifer Truss who are both in Cadet Band pose for a picture at the Winter Concert. Most people that are in band enjoy it very much because they get to hear and play many different kinds of music. Candace Gary personally told us she likes band because it interests her very much.

Advanced Band

Top: Steven Thomas Front: Brandie Duncan, Lisa Long, Lisa Penn These eighth grade students are the only Middle Schoolers in Advanced Band. Working hard in their seventh grade year they have managed to accomplish what many students don't even try.

What a Great Band Teacher

Our wonderful band teachers always give their help in a time of need. Mary Leinard helps Julie Bianchi and Christopher Stout learn their music.

Middle School Chorus

Wayne Travels

He may be small but he plays the mighty tuba. Here he practices for upcoming intermediate band events, blowing out those notes.

Kinnick has a great music program and is known around the Kanto Plain for thier outstanding achievements.

First Chair

The Three Music Maidens

Carol Smith, Mary Leinard, Patricia Jorgenson- or otherwise known as the Three Music Maidens, take time to pose for the Year-book Staff.

Vocalists

The seventh and eighth grade chorus sing at a recital during the school day, getting ready for the evening performance.

Cadet Band

The percussion for Cadet Band plays at their Winter Band Concert. It is a new band that was added on this year.
