To Everything there

As the seasons have changed, so have the attitudes, ideas, and goals of our students. Day to day, season to season, we have undergone changes like leaves on a tree. The Seniors are now ready to enter a "new season" after Graduation, while Freshmen are at the beginning of their high school "journey through the seasons" which will end when he or she is finally handed a diploma.

is a Season . . .

And the seasons
They go 'round and 'round
Painted ponies go up and down
We're kept upon the carousel of time
We can't return
We can only look
Behind from where we came
And go 'round and 'round
In the circle game.

— Joni Mitchell

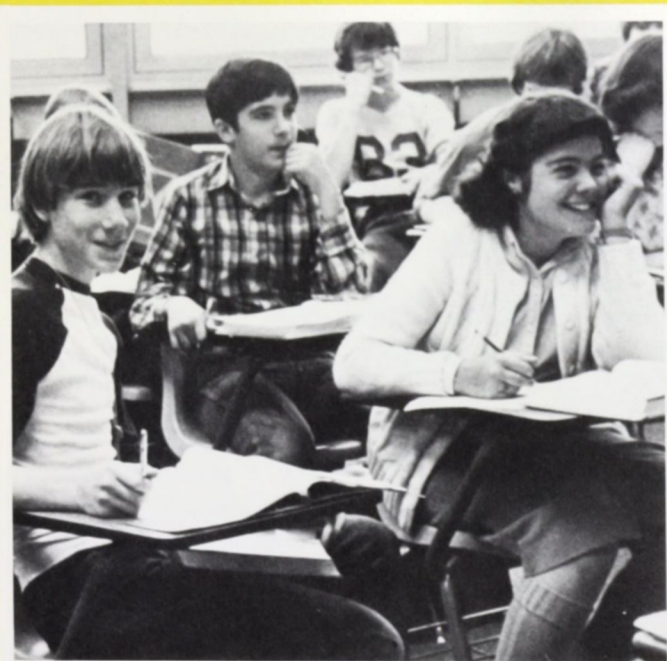

1. How many dates are you fellows taking to Homecoming?
2. Our music Department faced a budget cut so the Marching Band will have to use this as a "cymbal" and "drum."
3. "Hey Kim, with these loose togas we'll be in big trouble if the wind picks up."

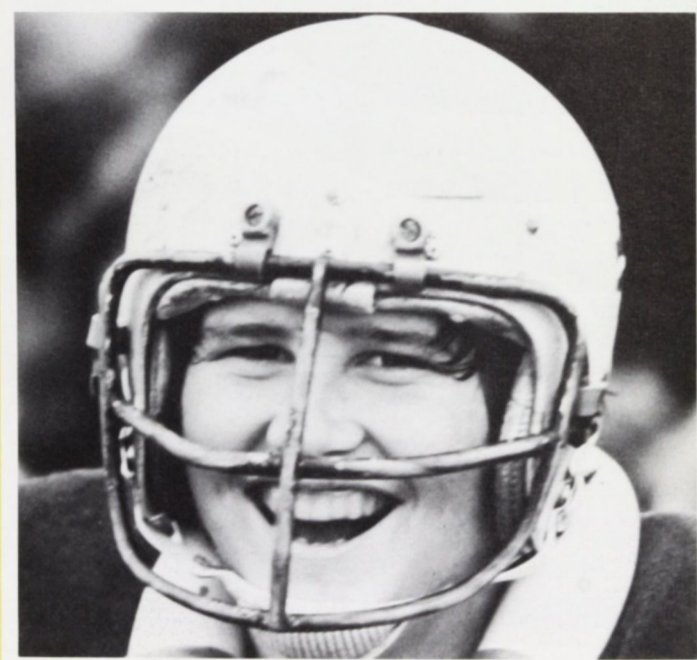

1. Just smile and move slowly toward the door like this and maybe no one will notice what you sat in.
2. Though she can't spell or type "Pucker," one picture is worth a thousand words.
3. "Don't worry about flunking the test . . . we all still love you!"

"... Because if we don't hold our heads up with our hands, we'd fall over on our desks."

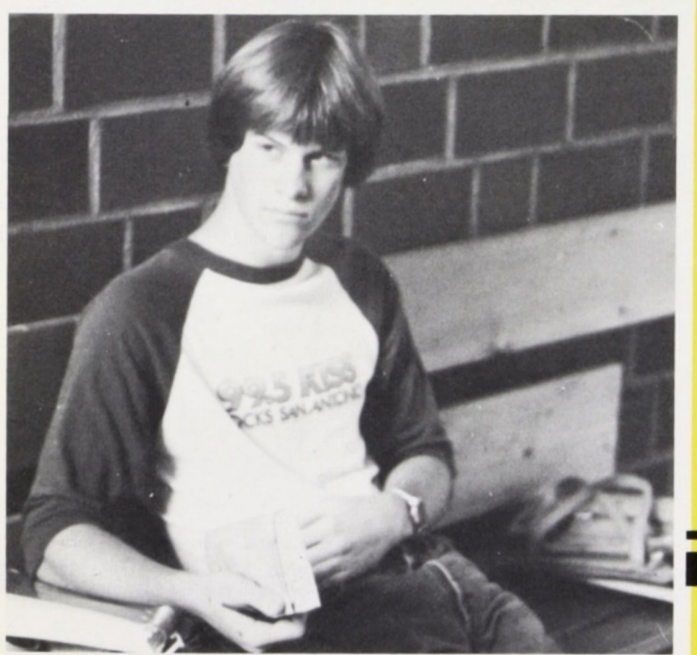

"Heck no, we don't discuss plays in the huddle, we tell jokes, and the one Phil just told was a riot."

The trumpet is so little work and so much fun, as noted by the enthusiasm on Caroline's face as she awaits her turn.

Dr. Apkarian has just told the student body that he has cancelled Xmas vacation to further their educations.

Time between classes is always exciting.

"What's really in here making us smile?"

Enthusiastic students watch an exciting Videotape titled: "How to Spend More Time On Your Homework And Enjoy It."

Kevin has just told David that he feels a run in his tights.

Memorial on Washington Square.

Chris is one of a few in the world that can sit without a chair.

No doubt about it!! Van has a look of confidence and certainty as he hands in his exam.

1. Joan and Darrell have just learned that the number of unexcused absences days has just been doubled.
2. Headquarters Building.
3. Is Monika concentrating on class studies, or thinking about what she will do on the upcoming weekend?
4. Laura has just discovered that the second page of her speech notes is blank.

1. Sharon Harris asks, "Do you think if I dropped my hanky on the floor this guy would pick it up?"
2. No pyramids, leaping jumps, or splits for Monica Brown — she cheer-leads the safe way.
3. John Myers, of Star Trek visits Patch.
4. "Well, I think it's pretty tacky when you have to buy HIM a corsage," remarks Sonya Burttram.

1. Patch Playhouse — a frequent meeting place.
2. Candidates for Senior class officers meet to discuss campaign strategy, "If you vote for me, I'll vote for you, . . ."
3. Here, folks, is proof!! The sun DOES shine in Germany!
4. One of the hundreds of spirited fans that turned out in the warm sunshine to watch each Panther football game.

Student Senate

This year, Patch began a new type of Student Government, called the Student Senate. The Student is made up of three representatives from each grade, who were chosen by their classmates. These representatives began meeting before school started, and voted for Senate officers and to decide on projects that they would work on throughout the year. The goal of the Student Senate was to improve the school, and the representatives did their best to achieve that goal.

A Question of Life

Can we see the faces of yesterday?
Are they all just memories tucked away?
Will our lives from all the years gone by
Be packaged up and left to die?

Will we live the lives we want to live,
Will the seasons share what they have to give,
Can the friends we love stay in our heart,
Or will the world bring us apart?

Does the future hold the strength we know,
Of the early autumn winds that blow,
To protect us from the chance we fear,
That there'll be an end to another year?

Can the smiles that remain so big and bright,
Still keep us warm through the winters white,
Or will they fade in our books of old,
Creating tales that are never told?

Will the spring bring hope with its gift of life,
To put an end to the conflicting strife,
That destroys the love, the joy, and cheer,
Of the innocence within a brand new year.

Should the summer put an end to all The security of the coming fall?
Do our lives take form so clean and free
With the farewells that begin our destiny.

Where are we friends? Where have we gone?
Did we find our lives? Do we carry on?
Have we found the paths we hoped to find,
When we took the step to leave childhood behind?

— Kathy Leinen

SENIORS

Class of '82

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

Debi Koons — Vice-President, Liz Bell — Corresponding Secretary, Monica Brown — Recording Secretary, Kim Constant — Corresponding Secretary, Phil Bujakowski — President, Esther Pilar McDonald — Historian, Darrell Lynch — Vice-President

It was finally the Class of '82's turn to be called SENIORS. Suddenly they were faced with college applications, SAT's, and graduation, and the dilemma of keeping the underclassmen in line.

The Seniors were left with traditions passed down by their predecessors to follow. These included an '82 chalked on Husky Field, the ritual of "borrowing" Mr. Minette's podium and early cases of Senioritis (beginning on August 20). They no longer had to worry about making fools of themselves in front of upperclassmen — because they were the upperclassmen.

After 12 years of struggling through long lectures and tough courses, the Seniors of '82 have made it to the top!

... Business ...

The juniors, without doubt, were this year's most successful businessmen. Steve Coley and his classmates participated in typical money-raising activities, such as hat and scarf sales, bagging days and bake sales, and managed to fill the junior class treasury up to $2000.00. With this money they sponsored the International Cross Country Meet, the Sadie Hawkins dance, and the Prom.

...Or Are They?

This year the Sophomore Class has reached new heights. It started with a great Homecoming; '84 won the float contest and who knows who put "84" on Husky field? It certainly showed Sophomore SPIRIT!!

They held a very successful raffle to raise money. Later in the year, the Sophomore class will use some of this money to take advantage of European travel.

FRESHMEN

The 1984 Sophomore class dedicates their section to a Beautiful person, Chris Castleman. We give her our moral support, as she has supported us in making our class Superior.

Freshman Means . . .

Vice President — Mark Magee, Historian — Stephanie Mitchell, President — Mike Koons, Treasurer — Sharon Venzke, Corresponding Secretary — Karen Gorka, Senator — Joanna Hadley, Recording Secretary — Cheryl Roth

The first year of High School is always a challenge, and this year was no exception. After finally making it to High School, the Freshmen were not about to let their upperclassmen counterparts beat them at anything. The Class of '85 and their sponsor, Mr. McFall, worked hard at class projects to make the year profitable and fun.

The Freshman class will miss Richard Nail. Many of us who knew him — and those who didn't — will all be deeply moved that someone so close is gone.

Involved in many activities he always gave 100% to Band, Harmony Express, and in the play, "George Washington Slept Here", he played Mr. Kimber, the caretaker.

We will all miss

Ankle Biters

The term "ankle-biters" is used affectionately by Patch's upperclassmen to refer to Eighth Graders. The term came into use because Eighth Graders are not known for being tall. Next year the "ankle-biters" finally join the ranks of high school, where the joys of initiation await them.

The Eighth Graders, and their sponsor, Mrs. Coleman, made this school year a great one, and they plan to make their coming high school years even better!

FALL ACTIVITIES

Fall

To most students, the coming of Fall meant school. For some, school meant an end to the boredom of summer, seeing old friends, and meeting new ones. Others dreaded getting up early to sit through long days of school waiting for the 3:10 bell to ring. To everyone Fall, like most seasons in Germany, meant rain — and lots of it. Many mornings Patch students splashed through puddles on their way to school, and those who lived off Post impatiently waited in the rain for their bus. Throughout the Fall, Patch students did their best at everything they undertook.

The jocks and jockettes excelled in sports during the Fall season. Football, Volleyball and Cross Country teams had an enthusiastic school behind them to cheer the teams on to many wins. There were also our "Rah-rahs" who cheered through many soggy games to keep the teams' spirit high.

The highlight of Fall was Spirit Week and Homecoming. During the week, class rivalry was high, especially after an "84" was discovered chalked onto Husky Field. Seniors hurried to put an "82" on the field, but by then the damage had been done. Soon the "Sophomore Hit-List" appeared and instead of Freshman initiations the Sophomores got the honor. According to a tradition handed down by our esteemed predecessors (the Classes of '80 and '81) Mr. Minette's podium was abducted. On Homecoming day it could be found perched atop Victoria Falls with an '82 on the front.

School was dismissed early on Homecoming day so that everyone would be able to watch the game. Students followed behind their class float in the parade on the way to Husky. The Sophomore float was announced as the best float, and the class was awarded $50. During the Homecoming game an excited crowd watched as the Panthers beat Munich. Later that night there was a lot of celebrating at the "Best of Times" dance.

"The Patch High School Football season was an enormous success for our athletes. Our team remained unscored at home and outscored all opponents until the last two minutes of our final game."

"Patch Panthers all the way" was a cheer often heard on the sidelines and the 1981-82 Panthers did just that! They kicked off the season with a 45-6 win over Ulm, and went on to a 6 game winning streak. The defense held the opponents down to 20 points in those 6 games, while the offense rolled the score into some very high numbers.

The last game, however, brought a tough loss to Wuerzburg. The Panthers ended the season with a 6 win — 1 loss record.

The team was loaded with talent. Juniors Mark Caffey and Mike Swartz, and Seniors Dave Dickson, Paul Grove, Phil Bujakowski, and Joe Martinez were chosen for the All-Conference team. Mike Swartz, Dave Dickson, and Phil Bujakowski went on to make the All Europe team for their outstanding effort during the season.

The 1981-82 Panthers were surely a team to be proud of. They turned in the best seasonal record for Patch high school football so far, and made this year, The Year of the Panthers!

The J.V. Panthers had a rebuilding year. They played only 2 full games and a few extra quarters after the Varsity games. The guys were very dedicated and had to stick through some very tough practices. Many of them were moved up to Varsity before the season was over.

Next year most of them will be playing on the Varsity squad so there will be a lot of experienced players coming up.

Girls' Cross-Country

The 1981 Girls' Cross-Country team has completed their 3rd consecutive undefeated season. Under Coach Dunkle's guidance, the girls defeated every team they competed with. The girls began their winning season with a victory over Mannheim and Karlsruhe. During the season, the girls' team had two perfect scores, against Augsburg and Wuerzburg, and Ulm and Baden. (A perfect score occurs only when one team comes in the first five places). Four girls went on to Germany Individual Championships — Shannon Brierly, Karen Ricketson, Nettie Scott and Lisa Burttram. Their proud sponsor, Ms. McKenzie, has every reason to believe that the Patch Girls' Cross Country Team will remain #1 for years to come.

Volleyball

The Girls' Volleyball Teams really did super this year. The I.V. remained undefeated all year long, while the Varsity Team won the title, Germany AA South. After devastating the courts at tournaments, 5 of the 7 member "All Tournament Team" came from Patch. The players were: Lisa Gardner, Shannon Vos, Michele Picard, Valerie Mullins, and voted most valuable player — Marla Mundis. Captains Lisa Gardner and Marla Mundis stated, "This was definitely the best Volleyball team Patch has ever had. I guess the equation is really true —  $P^2 = NO. 1!!!$ " Good luck next year, Panthers.

Congratulations to Lisa Gardner and Mike Meisenhelter for being chosen 1981-1982 Homecoming
Queen and King.

Homecoming weekend topped off a very exciting Spirit Week. Each day of the week was given a theme and students dressed up to fit the theme. The clothes included crazy hats and socks, punk rockers, babies, hillbillies and executives. The night before Homecoming was a busy one for many class members, who worked late into the night to finish putting together their floats. The floats led the way in the parade which went to the pre-game pep rally on Husky Field.

The first half of the football game was full of suspense but the Panthers led at halftime. The Marching Band entertained the crowd with music and formations. Then the Homecoming Court was announced and Lisa Gardner and Michael Meisenhelter were crowned as the King and Queen. Patch, of course, triumphed over the Munich Mustangs with a score of 15-0. That night everyone was in great spirits at the Homecoming Dance. The theme, "The Best of Times," described the week perfectly.

WINTER ACTIVITIES

Winter

W i n t e r

Long before Winter had officially arrived, preparations were being made for the coming season. Heavy jackets, moonboots, and skis were pulled out of storage to wait for the cold weather to arrive. Soon Patch was covered in snow. Radios were tuned into AFN each morning to see if a few hours sleep could be gained because of a school delay or cancellation.

Winter at Patch was a time to bring up lagging school spirit. The jocks and jockettes on the Basketball, Wrestling, and Swim Teams got school support through Pep Rallies (and interesting banners), original locker posters, and new cheers from the Winter Cheerleaders. The teams responded with victory after victory for Patch.

Winter activities were planned to add some spirit and fun to the year. A pie-eating contest in the cafeteria seemed to catch many people's attention. On that day students took time out from lunch to watch the messy contest. Students gathered around the table, hoping to catch a glimpse of their class officer with his or her face buried in chocolate pie. The winner of the Contest was Senior Class Vice President, Debi Koons. The Sadie Hawkins Dance in February was a real "Humdinger." Marriages, divorces and getting thrown into the stocks or jail were all routine at this dance.

Fasching in Germany begins the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month. It is the period before Lent when you can do strange things and get away with them. Wild costumes and parties are normal during Fasching. At Patch the Seniors had their own way of celebrating Fasching. As the old adage goes, "When a Senior, do as the Romans do." Despite very cold weather (and snow!), the Senior Toga Day was a success. It was the beginning of many Senior activities designed to "add some excitement to your dull, dreary, homework-laden lives."

Coaches Comment

"The Patch High School Basketball team into their third year season is trying to put it together for an undefeated year. So far so good!"

Coach Washington's pre-game pep-talk sparked a frenzy within the players. They emerged from the locker room like a stampede of wild animals. Their hands clapped in unison with the crowd — "PATCH PANTHERS! PATCH PANTHERS!" The game was no longer between X's and O's on a chalkboard, but a test of physical stamina and skill. A contest of school pride.

This year's basketball team was #1 half-way through the season. The Panther guys dominated the court with height, superb shooting, and team spirit. Rodney Berry, our 6'7" top scorer, made 29 points in one game against Ansbach! The others were no competition. The team's goal is taking the championship in Berlin. It is definitely possible!

The girls' height, potential, experience, SPIRIT, and high ambitions led them to six victories in a row. Their first loss against Karlsruhe was a close game and a major disappointment. The highpoint of the game was the police escort to the bus, led by Marla Mundis. The vigorous team has gone through some changes this year, with new faces, and a new coach, Mr. Brad Rehwaladt. The atmosphere between the players and their coach seems to be a harmonious one. It looks like he has the patience needed for Michelle's "I got something in my eye, coach," and everyone's huffing and puffing after ONE Suicide Run! Their goal is a week in Berlin for Tournaments. The Patch Piranhas got off to a great start this year. Mr. and Mrs. Blythe, the new coaches, quickly worked the large team into shape. One thing the Piranhas did not lack was spirit! They went all out in trying to psych out the opposing team using many different techniques, such as sprinkling the team with Holy H<sub>2</sub>O, reading from their Bible — Swimmer's World, showing up at the SHAPE pool in togas, and listening to sermons about the other teams' swollen Ego Syndrome, which they learned to combat. The Piranhas' strong points were the relay teams. At one point, the 15-18 boys and girls were number one in Europe for the medley relay. Overall, the team put out a very large effort and proved to be successful in motivation as well as athletic ability.

What else needs to be said???

The 1982 Wrestling Cheerleaders had a very unforgettable season. Even though three of the four girls had never cheered for Wrestling before, by working together and introducing new ideas and cheers to the squad, they learned quickly and in no time were out beside the mats cheering on their team.

They were often seen at the PX buying pins to award the victorious guys, slaving to make their banners better than others, and running through the halls to put up their flyers. The long practices and hard work paid off when the Wrestling team ended the season with a 12 win — 2 loss record.

Skiing

Skiing was invented to make even the most graceful among us look like a klutz. Because of skiing a body can be twisted into contortions never before dreamed possible. Ski equipment is designed to frustrate even the calmest person. Ski boots, for example, may look nice, but under that innocent looking exterior lies a fierce opponent. When you try them on at the store or rental shop the boots fit perfectly, but once you reach the slope they suddenly become three sizes smaller. After you have finally got your feet jammed into the boot, there are still the dozens of little clasps to struggle with. The buckles are tricky enough to fasten under ideal conditions, but when clogged with bulky gloves and powdery snow it takes more than a miracle to snap them shut. To make matters worse, ski boots are specially made so that it is impossible to walk inconspicuously from Point A to Point B without seeming like there are cement blocks attached to your feet.

As if the boots alone aren't enough to contend with, there are also the skis. Most people have a difficult time trying not to trip over their own feet, but stick 6 foot boards on them and watch out. While at first glance it may seem easier to balance with skis on, that impression soon disappears the moment a person begins down the slope. The tips of skis seem to have a gravitational force of their own that causes them to either cross or to point towards the nearest clump of trees.

Contrary to popular belief, getting down a hill is not hard, one merely has to point his skis downhill and push off. Making it down alive, though, is another matter. More than skill is needed to master the art of skiing. Coordination, daring and above all a suicide wish are all essential elements needed to make a good skier.

TO THE CLASS OF 1982 . . .

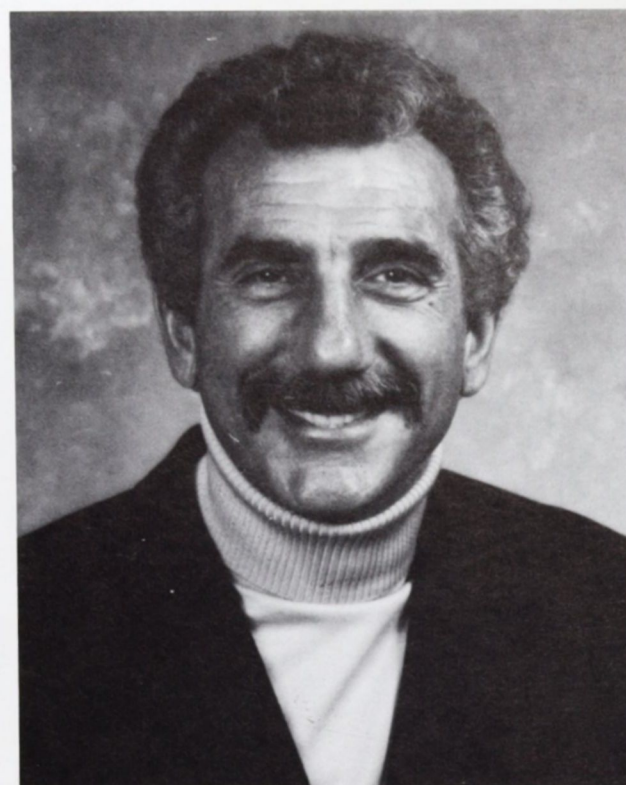

I would like to extend to each of you my warmest wishes for your every success and continued well being on the occasion of your graduation from the Alexander M. Patch American High School.

. . . Non multa sed multum . . .

Mr. William Mara

Education consists, I believe, in developing personal competency, environmental competency, and learning competency. These competencies are indeed the stated goals of the Department of Defense Dependents School System. You, as Seniors, have had the opportunity at Patch to work toward these competencies — Your futures depend in large part, I think, on how well you continue to pursue them either in institutions of higher learning or in the world of work.

The Concert Marching Band, directed by Ms. Marcia Dawson, has had a very busy year. They started off the year by marching at all the home games and ended the marching season in Würzburg. In February, they marched for the Fasching Parade in Neuhausen. They also provided pep and encouragement at home basketball games. The concert side of the band showed up impressively at the Christmas and Spring concerts. The Concert Band members combined with the Beginning, Intermediate, and Cadet bands played for the annual 24 hour Play-a-thon during which they raised $5700 towards the band tour. The tour took them to London and Southern England for a week to perform and sight-see. All in all, the multi-talented band deserves many notes of applause.

Ms. Dawson lends base support with her tuba-playing ability.

The lone oboe rests a few measures during the Christmas concert.

With its 18 members, the National Honor Society had more people than last year. The money from the twelve hour Rock-a-thon should have made a children's party at the Bad Cannstadt Military Hospital possible. But, because there was a lack of young patients, the funds were used for the societies' foster child, a 13 year old girl from Sri Lanka.

Traditionally NHS members also helped at the awards — and graduation ceremonies, and initiated new members in the spring induction.

PRESS

Extra! Extra! Read All About It!

This year saw a lot of changes for the school newspaper; a new name, a new sponsor, and a new image. The first issue was delivered by "old-fashioned newspaper boys" from their "Best of Times" Float. In that issue and all those that followed were interesting, informative and sometimes amusing articles. The Staff worked hard gathering information for stories on topics that varied from football to Fest. Getting information was only a small part of the work involved in putting the Panther Press Newspaper together. The Staff and Ms. Begandy, the sponsor, put in long hours to make sure that each article, title and picture was perfect.

CWE

The Cooperative Work Experience Program inspires many students to get out of the classroom and into the world of work. Students are assigned to job locations compatible with their career ambitions, and given on-the-job training. The Program is coordinated by Ms. Begandy, who works closely with the military community to identify job sites which can offer realistic training programs. Work sites include the dispensary, auto mechanic facilities, graphics/reproduction/photo lab, telephone installation and repair and the facilities engineers, to name a few.

Model United Nations:

The Model United Nations (MUN) is an international organization based on the real thing — the United Nations. All the schools which participated were assigned a country which they represented in the MUN Headquarters in The Hague. This year Patch represented France.

After a shocking current events test, (top score 49%) an exhausting research paper, and an oral presentation, seven delegates were chosen. The seven students prepared themselves for their week-long stay at The Hague by researching French politics. The issues debated this year ranged from the Pakistan refugee problem to the question of nuclear disarmament.

The Business Education Department at Patch American High School felt, that in addition to its excellent classroom experiences, their students should have the opportunity to develop strong leadership techniques in order to meet the demands of tomorrow's business world. Therefore, a group of interested business students, along with the Business teachers, decided to form a new chapter of Future Business Leaders of America. Besides our monthly meetings, where students learn to work effectively with one another, our plans include a field trip in January to the IBM Word Processing Center and participation with other American schools located in Europe in the State Leadership Conference. FBLA members also participate in various money making and service projects in both school and community.

Computer Club

This year the Computer Club is being sponsored by Mr. Reisinger. At lunch time every day members flock to the computer room to play such games as Star Raiders, Asteroids and Basketball. There are always people standing by the computer to cheer the players on. The club sponsored a game day for students to pay a quarter per game. That money went towards buying new games.

Print Shop

The Print Shop consists of two sections. One section silkscreens T-shirts for various clubs, teams and organizations and the other section works with the letter press and offset machines. Here, tickets, invitations, stationery and programs are printed for various clubs, and educational materials are duplicated for use in the class room. Herr Dobner, the Print Shop's sponsor, says that the function of both sections is to engender school spirit.

Steppin' Out is a student club guided by the principles of holistic health. The goal of the club is to attain "wholeness" of body, mind, and spirit through a deepened sense of awareness and activities that emphasize personal responsibility for one's well being. Our intention is to make this self-discovery real in our daily lives, and to enhance the wellness of ourselves and others!

The fall play this year was George Washington Slept Here by Moss Hart and George Kaufman. It was a comedy centered around a rundown farmhouse, a nostalgic husband, his overbearing wife, a flaky caretaker, and a rich old uncle. While the audience sat in front of the curtain enjoying the play, they had no idea of all the hard work that went into the performance they were watching. It took weeks of practice, under the direction of Maj. Doug Black, before the play was ready to be seen by an audience. During those weeks characters learned lines and blocking, props were gathered, publicity sent out and tickets sold.

Finally opening night arrived. Hours before the play was to begin cast and crew members were already in the Forum preparing for the performance. Mirrors were crowded with nervous actors. Both the cast and crew pitched in each night to get the set together. People could be seen in the rafters getting the "rain" ready on the stage, tossing garbage on the floor or pulling props from behind the curtains.

As the drama mascots opened the curtains a last "Break a leg!" was heard backstage. The play began and all the weeks of practice finally paid off.

Picture #1. Lights, camera, action! #2. The cast was very compatible. #3. The College Preps #4. "Hello back there, Your cue to come on was a sneeze, and I've already sneezed 10 times." #5. If they'd hold the play on Halloween, I could kill two birds with one stone. #6. "Just look at that floor, those kids have been playing in the dog walking area again." #7. The stage crew did an outstanding job cleaning up between performances. #8. On Broadway the cast gets a bouquet of roses, but at Patch the players get a pot of poison ivy. #9. "Do you want what's in the box or behind the curtain?"

Thespian Troupe #2555

The Thespian Society is an honorary drama group. It is an international organization dedicated to the promotion of theater. Anyone who has worked in drama, as an actor or actress, stage hand or in any of the crews, is a Thespian apprentice. Before an apprentice can be initiated as a Thespian, he or she must earn 10 points, which is equivalent to more than 100 hours of work in Theater.

The main projects of the Troupe this year were arranging the Fall Comedy, GEORGE WASHINGTON SLEPT HERE, and the Spring Musical, ONCE UPON A MATTRESS. Many Thespians also attended the Speech and Drama Festival in Mannheim, where they received excellent scores.

Club Beyond

Rick Fraser poses modestly for the camera.

A stone outer-wall surrounds Castle Breuberg.

Club Beyond at Castle Breuberg.

The wild and crazy Club Beyond started off the year with a trip to Castle Breuberg where students and leaders were transported magically back into medieval times, and spent a weekend jousting, crusading, and fighting off occasional dragaons before they were beseiged by a mad mob of irate peasants, (not to be mistaken for pheasants) who forced an overnight retreat to sanctuary in another town. The fun and excitement continued all night long and didn't stop until late the next day. After running out of gas twice and breaking a rod in our modern "horse carts" everyone finally arrived safely back home.

With such a beginning one had to expect it was going to be a weird year. Along with the regular weekly meetings, Preppy Night, Country Night and Kiss an Aardvark Night, the club enjoyed skiing in the Alps, caroling on Christmas Eve and has planned much, much more that will have to remain secret until ... PSSS (Could it be true they are going to bicycle over the Alps and climb the Matterhorn?)

Andenken Staff

"Oh My Gosh. I put the football team photo under the Fasching Day Caption."

"O.K. kids, you have five minutes to complete three more pages ... and the stop watch is running ... now."

"Hey, Esther, if you're not busy tomorrow — how about getting together and drawing some more lines?!"

We're going to have to censor these photos!! They must have been taken in the locker room showers!"

"... and if Duane mentions putting HIS name on the cover ONE more time — I'll club him!!!"

The Andenken Staff room (occasionally known as the Art Room) was the center of constant activity. Staff members not only worked during the second hour class, but also gave up their own lunch hours, time after school, and even weekends. Other classes often came second to getting the yearbook together. The staff members worked hard to make this yearbook not only more interesting than past yearbooks but also more memorable.

Staff members crowded the art room, typing room, and halls, armed with layouts, pictures, Quad-paks, croppers, typewriters, and cameras. Even though we started as almost a totally inexperienced staff, we soon learned what to do when deadlines started appearing. Staff members enthusiastically (and sometimes unenthusiastically!) drew countless layouts, typed (and RETYPED!!!) hundreds of pages, took pictures of students and wrote copy to tell about clubs, activities and sports at Patch.

But it was not only the staff who worked hard putting the Andenken together. Our sponsor, Ms. Fero, spent much time checking over the final pages and re-doing whatever needed to be done. This involved many late nights at school plus dragging home piles of yearbook supplies to work on over the weekends. Melissa Johnson, our Taylor representative, visited the class to see how we were doing and to give ideas for improvements.

We hope you enjoyed the memories, the staff has tried its hardest to bring you the best yearbook you've ever received.

Modeling Workshop

In 1981, a small group of interested students came to Ms. McKenzie with an idea to set up a club that would present the professional aspects of a modeling career. With a lot of work and care, Ms. McKenzie and her students put on exciting fashion shows. The interest of the students broadened, therefore Ms. McKenzie set up a special class just for the MODELING WORKSHOP. The basis of this class is to introduce students to the world of modeling; to build up their self-confidence and the true beauty within each individual. The students appreciate the time and effort Ms. McKenzie contributed in setting up this successful WORKSHOP!

Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps

The Patch Junior Officers Training Corps, is a task force attached to 5th JROTC Battalion, Stuttgart High School. The ROTC program offers a wide range of enjoyable activities, field trips, and serves as a helpful edge for a military scholarship or military career.

During the year ROTC had many field trips going to various places such as the Stuttgart Army Airfield, where the cadets got to ride in helicopters over the Stuttgart Area. Another Field Trip was to a Tank Battalion and the cadets rode in the tanks. Also for field trips, the cadets went to the East German borders and to Berlin. Finishing off the year, the cadets have a formal ball and an Annual Formal Inspection.

Spring

Summer

ONE LEAF

At least a month away from the autumn season
I saw a leaf from the maple break and fall,
Fluttering down for no apparent reason
One windless day when nothing else moved at all.

A sea gull cried in notes that tended to linger.
A sailboat lay becalmed on the summer ocean.
I reached to touch the falling leaf with my finger
And asked myself what fate had put it in motion.

Now in the scarlet glory of late September
As leaves drift down, too many to notice well,
It's odd how often and clearly I remember
The summer day when the single green leaf fell.
