MAKING

WITH THE PANTHERS

Dear Seniors:

Your graduation marks the end to your basic education and the commencement of your adult future, a part of your life in which you will find the educational process is a never-ending learning experience. It is an experience that will be mingled with increasing responsibilities.

Your teachers have endeavored to give you a foundation which will enable you to readily build upon future educational achievements and meet increasingly demanding responsibilities wisely as they arise. Patch High School has stood behind you in your effort to acquire the basic skills and knowledge. Its counselors and teachers have helped guide you in the directions of your interests and abilities so you will be able to expand this broad base of knowledge and focus your energies into the area of specialization of your choice.

Although today's world presents a great number of challenges for your generation, it also provides enormous opportunities. The answers are there for you to find. The question for you is, "Am I prepared to do my part?" If you took advantage of your time at Patch High School, you are prepared for the next step. If you have not made the best of these opportunities, now is the time to evaluate your attitudes and set new goals for yourself.

As you turn the pages of this Yearbook, I hope you will feel a sense of pride, accomplishment, and satisfaction for your role as a student at Patch High School.

Congratulations to each of you. It has been a pleasure knowing you. I hope our paths will cross in the future.

Sincerely,

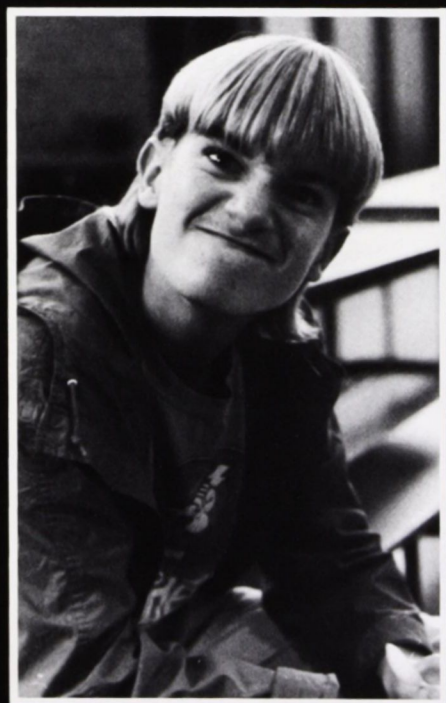

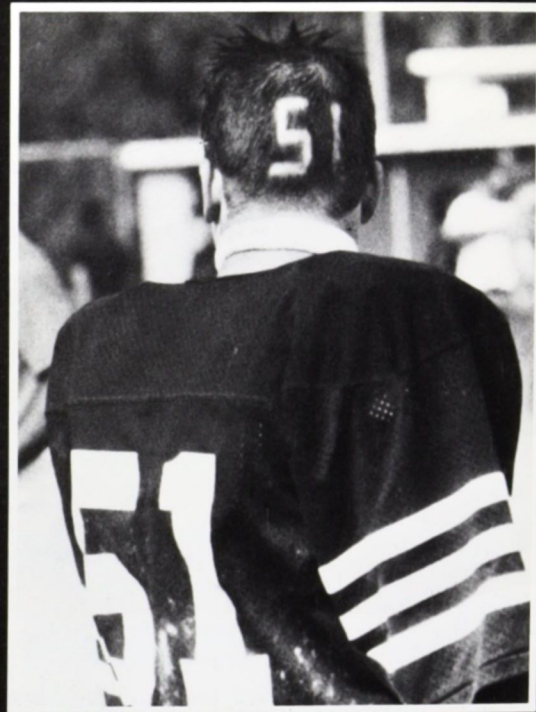

A. SMITH REEVES
Principal

What a bunch of nerds!

How 'bout them Sophomores?

Where is that Biology book?

During the year 1988, three spectacular events will occur; the Olympics in Seoul, South Korea, the election of a new United States President, and most importantly, the graduation of this years Juniors. As we look ahead to our final year in high school, we anticipate plenty of great times to come. For many of us, this year was an awakening for what is to come. Applying for colleges, taking the SAT and ACT tests, these were just a few of the major factors that will guide us the next several years of our lives. The upcoming year should be the most important of our twelve plus years of education. Juniors we are . . . Seniors we shall be!

The Panthers entered Double A with a combination of feelings. First, a feeling of confidence from last year's powerhouse display with a 6-1 record in Single A. The other feeling was uneasiness, because everyone said the Panthers weren't going to make it in Double A. The Panthers kicked off the season a little too overconfident and were humbled with a mere 0-7 decision under Stuttgart in a Non-conference game. They redeemed themselves with a well-deserved 13-0 victory over Zweibrucken. Patch's next game against Baumholder displayed an overall breakdown although there was a hard driving effort by the offense; Patch lost it 20-34. Their next battle at Nuernberg proved hard playing but Patch was defeated once again, 7-20. Patch's Homecoming the following Saturday was an excellently duelled fight with a 14-0 blanking of Hanau. Then Patch outlasted #1 Wurzburg 7-2. Patch ended their season getting spanked by the Bitburg Barons 3-32. Patch ended with a 3-3 record tied for second. The 86' Panthers made their mark in Double A. On behalf of the Seniors, we wish the 86' Panthers the Best of Luck.

To become a member of the National Honor Society, a student must maintain a 3.5 weighted Grade Point Average and display exemplary service, leadership and personality characteristics. The faculty members vote for the eligible candidates showing these qualities. Members of the NHS provide service for the community. This year, the NHS plans to deliver Christmas goodies to the children of Bad-Canstatt as well as sponsoring the annual awards ceremony in the spring. In addition, the NHS acts as a role model for the student body.

In September 1986, the newly elected officers of FBLA promised to accept responsibility given to them by an organization which has over 80 members, one of the largest in DODDS-Europe. Some of the activities include: attending the Fall Leadership Conference; Chaperoning children from the Patch Daycare Center for Trick or Treating; hosting a Back-to-School Dance; selling ice cream during the daily break; saving used stamps for Bethel, a school for the Mentally Retarded; hosting speakers for our members; and planning to participate in field trips during the spring in Anaheim, California.

FBLA would like to extend gratitude to all who have helped make it a memorable year for FBLA.

During the week of June 22-30, eight Future Business Leaders of America members from the Stuttgart area along with 22 others from DODDS-Germany attended the National Leadership Conference in Washington, D.C. Over 3,800 FBLAers were in attendance from all over the United States, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. Throughout the week-long conference, members attended various business workshops and participated in competitive events.

PAHS ROTC offers many things to each student who takes it as a class. They wear the army uniform, drill, and learn such things as marksmanship and first aid. They have a Rifle Team and Drill Team which includes the well known Fancy Drill and Color Guard. The Fancy Drill Team earned the title of USAREUR Champions in the 85-86 school year. As a class they take many field trips including one-day trips to such places as the Stuttgart Air Field, and the East German border. During vacation periods we go to places such as Russia, Berlin, and France (Normandy and Verdun). They have many other events that occur throughout the year. They have fun as the Battalion of Patch High School.

With the money they earned from our wurst grill which ran snow, rain, or shine during lunch they sponsor such things as a Military Ball, and children from all over the world. Our Military Ball is a formal event that all ROTC students attend free of charge. The girls are in gowns and the guys in formal uniforms. They have their own ROTC queen and her court. This is the biggest social event of the year in ROTC. They also sponsor three children from all over the world. They have also sent money to such places as Mexico after their earthquake and money for the restoration of the State of Liberty. They give a Christmas Party for the handicapped children at RB with a Santa Claus and gifts for every child. Also from the grill comes the money for a Rifle and Drill Team Banquet and school letters for each member at the end of the year.

The objective of the Cosmetology Club is to give the students insight into the professional aspects of the cosmetology and modeling professions. These students are encouraged to develop the desirable qualities that are necessary for success. They must display self-confidence, visual poise, good grooming habits, personality development, charm, and self-acceptance. Some of the skills learned in cosmetology are: shampooing, hairstyling, manicuring, facials, facial make-up, hair cutting, permanent waving, hair coloring, eyebrow arching, waxing, and hair and scalp treatment. They are also taught professional techniques, related theory and vocabulary relating to the study and practice of beauty culture. The Cosmetology Club offers beauty services to be taken advantage of by students, staff, and the community.

Spurred by the excitement of a new school year, the Panther Press was put into action by the editorial wonder of Alan Campbell. From this point, the Panther Press went forward "to go where 'no — High — School — sponsored — computer — generated — meet — on — monday — for — a meeting' newspaper has gone before."

Soon challenged by their encouraging sponsor, Ms. Begandy, the Panther Press managed to meet their late deadlines and assemble a quality source of information for the "knowledge-hungry" Patch students.

Some of the more interesting and insightful "scoops" included in the exciting pages of the Panther Press were: Military activities, reports on Patch's excellent athletic teams (particularly the boy's Varsity Football and Basketball teams), features on Patch's Championship Fancy Drill Team, and reviews on your favorite cinematic flick.

Although confronted with the usual hardships associated with publishing a top-notch paper, the hardworking students of the Panther Press pushed on forward to "journalistic excellence." — Matt Kent

Yearbook class drives us crazy!!!!

"Why me?"

Dear fellow students,

This book is presented to you by the staff of the 1986-1987 Andenken Yearbook. We hope that you enjoy the book, for it will bring back memories you didn't know you had in the years to come. As the editor of this annual I can take great pride in saying that we have achieved our goal this year; we designed, photographed and printed a better book this year than in the years past. We attempted to cover everything, an impossible task with the many things going on at Patch.

Patch is a unique academic and social resource to be explored. The faculty takes the time here to teach aesthetics as well as the standard curriculum. This effort says a lot about how much the teachers care about the education of the students at Patch. Some of this extra care can be attributed simply to the environment in which we live. Living in Germany, we come to respect those things taken for granted in the United States. Since the nearest English speaking school to Patch is 25 miles away, we at Patch have learned to depend on the people within our own community for companionship. When we venture out among the local communities, we make sure to bring with us another American. This is due more in part to our own insecurities than to a rational fear for personal safety. It is when we learn to appreciate the experiences we have outside Patch that we get a true education. No textbook can tell you what it feels like to sit in a bahnhof and have a conversation with a person from a foreign country, realizing after a moment that that person is just like you in almost every way. If you can take with you some of your experiences when you return to the U.S., you will have accomplished something indeed, for a worldly education is not found in the pages of a book. This book is intended for you to store the memories of your experiences in its pages, to fill with the good wishes of your friends, and to then treasure for a lifetime.

There are a few people both within and outside of my staff that I want to thank for their outstanding effort. First and foremost, our advisor, Mr. Pinschmidt, a newcomer to Patch who was buried waist-deep at times by myself and the rest of my staff. He has yet to fail us in even one of our often impossible requests. I also want to thank Melissa Johnson, without whose assistance and information we would never have been able to produce this book. Last but certainly not least, I want to thank every one of you. You have, through your cooperation, made this book a pleasure to produce. Thank you for making this, my last year, the best year.

Sincerely,

Michelle Ekassa

Many people contribute long hours to create this book — especially those students who were dedicated in the yearbook class. You know who you are. A special thanks to five people: Dan Carroll and Michelle Grassa, the overworked senior co-editors; Chris Broughton, who helped us master the rudiments of black-and-white photography; Melissa Johnson, the evercheerful and resourceful Taylor representative; and finally, Ezra Rice, who like me knows the rigors of yearbook sponsorship — you left us two of our greatest assets, a well-stocked darkroom and a solid bank balance.

Soccer

Both the Varsity and J.V. teams had a very successful season. They were the league champions with the Varsity team continuing on to the championships, where they took second place after losing to Heidelberg in overtime (3-2). David Obermiller was chosen Best Goalie In The League. Congratulations, Guys!!
