ACTIVITIES

Johnny Ard leaves his well muscled stomach to Philip Taft so he can learn to be a bouncer.

Nydia Aguilu dedicates her silken hair to Albert Van Varick so he will never know what's it's like to be bald.

Dorothy Buchanan wills her ability to stay in the ninth grade Toni Penland so she can be a freshman the rest of her life.

Barbara Brown leaves her flashy clothes to Anita Ard so she too will stand out in a crowd.

Don Counts passes on his know-it-all attitude to Johnnie Flynn so he too may teach all subjects next year.

Allen Duhon wills his height to Jo Doyle so she won't have to stand on a box to look him in the eye anymore.

Marie Gauthier leaves her stunted growth to Rink Blake in hopes that he will never feel like a midget.

Jack Harrison dedicates his ability to pay attention in class to Ellie Trent so that she will make high standard grades such as his.

Margitta Henson, in order to maintain a high physical fitness rate for the jaw, wills her talkativeness to Kathy Lyszka so she may be well known also.

Barbara Holmes dedicates her glasses to Charlyne Hause so she can see the boy across the table.

Conrad Hudak gives his black belt in Judo to the student body so they can defend themselves against the next principal.

Ron Price leaves his basketball ability to Carl Sessler so he too can warm the bench.

Ken Peters leaves his greedy attitude to any other treasurer who needs money badly.

Jeff Routch leaves his attractive personality to Pat Franke so she can attract more boys like him.

Steve Shake won't leave anything until next year, including himself.

Leslie Sheldon wills her vice-presidency to Albert Lovel in hopes that he will do a better job than she.

Elizabeth Sheldon gives her present student council to Ronald DeWitt so he can move up from vice-president to president.

Ray Singleton leaves his test paper to himself so he can look over it and study for the same test next year.

Jim Sloane leaves.

Linda Stratton leaves her ability to get into trouble to George Weissberg so that he won't sit idle in class.

Robert Teeter wills his herculean physique to anyone else who would enjoy the sport of tearing down old houses.

Frank Lukesek leaves his art ability and friendly attitude to Miss Reinhart.

Ron Hause leaves his jack-ass books to John Vrabel so he too may indulge in this extremely educational art.

Nancy Howell dedicates her ability to find some matter or boy to fight over to Michele Vrabel so she won't get old without a fight.

Ron Antill wills his intelligence to Carol Young so she will, for once in her life, know what it is like to make grades that are even a little bit better than what she has made in the past.

Cherlye Soulds dedicates her bow legs to cowboy Boswell so he may know what's it's like to ride a donkey.

Janet Walsh leaves Toul so it will have time to make repairs.

John Wheeler wills his bulging muscles to Richard Marshall so he can lift 25 pounds.

Don McGrath dedicates his breakable bones to Tracy Henderson so he can miss school for bone repairs.

Andy Staryak leaves his well-groomed hair to Jack Lister so he too can have that wind-swept look.

Lynn Ziegler leaves her unfailing charm to Mary Murray so she can make the high light as soon as she gets into ninth grade.

Cindy White leaves her dyed streak to Pat Kinney so she will make millions of boy-friends in one year.

On the distant planet of Boggie which is only 93 miles in diameter and is 816,000,000 miles from earth, we find three Bogg scientists laboring over project $x^2 y m^3$. The names of these three scientists are none other than Imanutztoo, Holein Thehead, and "Beat" Dust.

Imanutztoo-"Well, Beat Dust, I hope this project pays off. We have to have an earthling by the end of this week in order to begin our experiments."

Beat Dust-"Listen Daddy, don't bug me, these earthlings are all squares anyway."

Holein Thehead-"Now Beat; you must take this project with a positive attitude otherwise it will be a complete failure. Now here is the list of the best qualified earthlings."
