Trier

Trier claims to be the oldest city in Germany. It is believed to have existed 1300 years before Rome. It has an interesting history. The Romans left behind many landmarks. The Ampitheatre is dated about 100 A.D.. It is being restored at this point. Trier has many beautiful churches throughout the city.

St. Peter's Fountain on the Market Place, from 1595

The Porta Nigra with the Simeon monastery is the gateway into the more than 2,000 year old history. It demonstrates the power and extension of the Roman Empire.

Trier Community Women's Club.

McDonald's! Our favorite dining spot. Reminds us of home.

The Three King's House, built around 1230, originally had no door in the first two stories. The front door could only be reached by a retractable ladder.

The Organ Grinder and his monkey

This page is donated by
Trier Community Women's Club.

The Red House, on which is written in Latin a boast: Trier is older than Rome by 1300 years.

The Amphitheater is the oldest Roman structure in Trier. There was room for 20,000 spectators to view bloody gladiatorial contests. Still visible are the oval ring, 24 rows of seats, entrance portals, 12 animal cages, and a cellar under the arena which may have been a grave trap.

The Rococo Palace of the Electors with a stately garden and figures.

Ruins of the Roman Baths, begun in Constantine's time, but never finished.

One of two old cranes on the Moselle River.

Amphitheater

The Imperial Baths of Emperor Constantine were never completed. A visit of the passages is a special experience. It has a complicated passage system.

Constantine's Basilica, now a Protestant Church.

The Abbey of St. Matthias claims to contain the only grave of an apostle in Germany. It was built in 1127.

In 325 Constantine built a mighty double church. The episcopal church was in the north, the parish church in the south, and a baptistery in between.

Library

Kindergarten through sixth grade enjoy working with the computers. Mrs. Stodola works with Christy Troutman, Kindergarten.

Mrs. Flynn takes time out to read to the 1st graders.

Mr. Whittaker worked with 1st thru 6th grade teaching them the basics of the Logo language. The children enjoyed making the turtle move all over the screen.

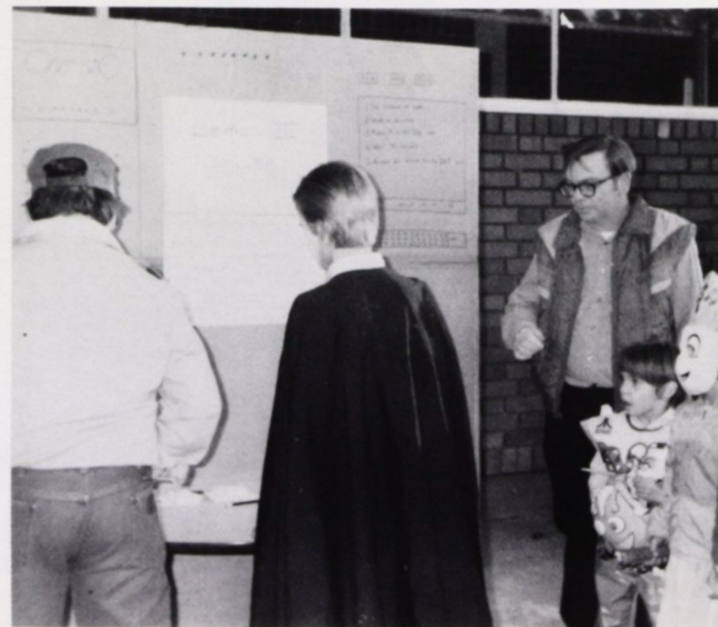

I want this one, Mrs. Sargent.

Halloween

Our Halloween Parade was enjoyed by all our witches and goblins. Our Halloween Carnival was also a big success.

Thanksgiving

Each class prepared something different for our many Thanksgiving guests.

Kindergarten did "Rudolph, The Red Nosed Reindeer."

Wendy Herman
Emcee

This page was donated by

The Second Grade sang "Santa

My Two Front Teeth".

3rd and 4th Grade were Carolers
and shared their favorite songs.

Christmas Program

First Grader, Dominic Orlando, comes to cut down the Christmas Trees. "If I'm an ugly tree maybe he won't choose me."

But all the trees were saved by the Tree Angel, Selena Griffey.

Fifth and Sixth Graders presented their version of Dickens "Christmas Carol."

Assemblies

Mr. Bell sang a variety of folk songs. He even let us do the motions for one.

The Skip-It group, from Colorado, taught us many fancy steps. It's nice to know that keeping fit can be fun!

This page was donated by Spangdahlem Officers Wives' Club.
