the 1972 trident

We dedicate this book to Mr. Luther C. Skelton, our Supervising Principal. He is seldom seen in the spotlight, yet is the man who has set in motion the many changes and improvements here at Upper Heyford High School the past three years. To you, Mr. Skelton, we are grateful for all you have done and wish you the best in your retirement.

on one saturday last fall, upper heyford launched its first ever carnival. it was the biggest day of festivities ever planned by our school. an estimated five to eight thousand people came. highlights of the day were the twinkling toes of the letterman's club, the car bash, rides for the young, barnhill's bomber truck, and the yearbook's fun-foto booth.

staged by mr. arthur sharr a play by ronald alexander time out for ginger was one of the plays presented at u. h. h. s. this year. it was a great success, and well recieved by the student body and the faculty. the story revolves around ginger, a tomboy type, who interprets a speech given by her father at a school assembly, as justification for her to join the school football team. this is not taken well by her family, or her boyfriend, who threatens to walk out on her. the resultant publicity almost causes her father to lose his job. finally ginger sees that she is still being treated as a girl by members of the team and resigns in time to save her father, her boyfriend and clear up any unrest in her family.

the moving cubicle follows the ribbons of highways leading it to its place of rest. anonymous to all but those whose bodies are confined within.

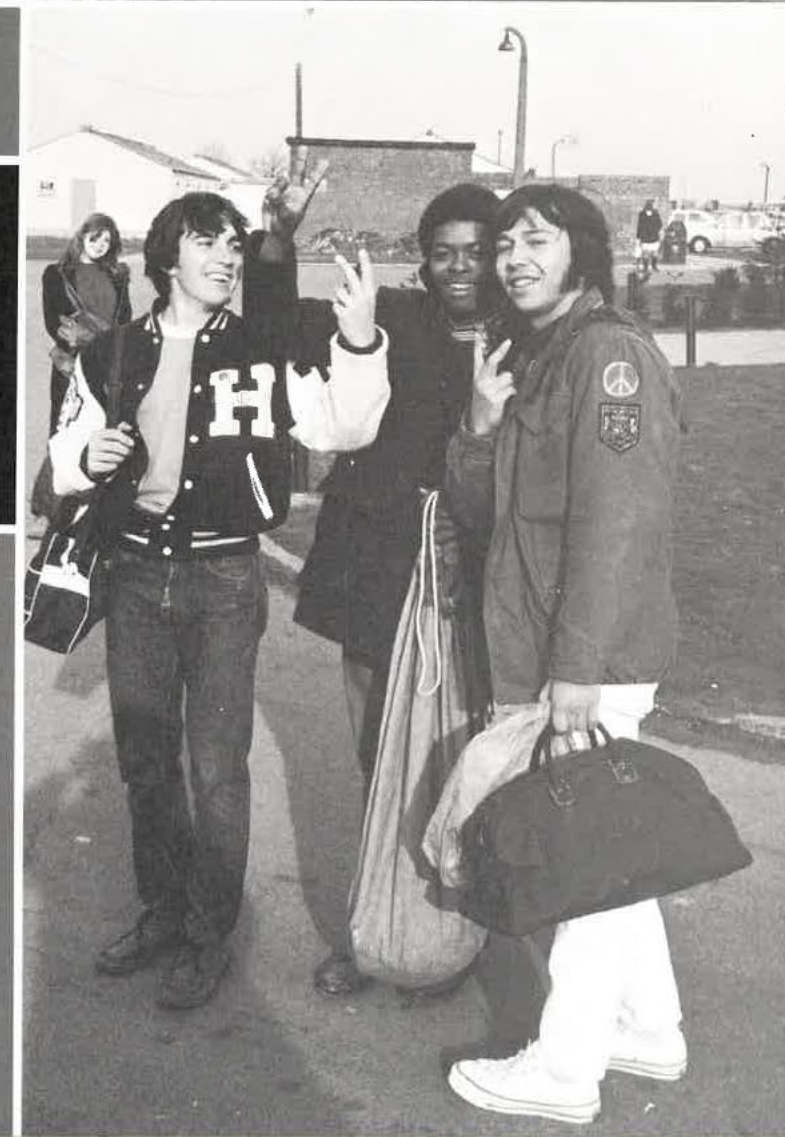

each heart cries out to be heard.
each mind is a web of intricate design.
each body is a piece of marrow and flesh; whether black or white.

we are all together, but separate in our identities.
we are going home to our ways of life carrying a treasure no money can buy.

who am i to speak of friendship? i am but a poor man who feels.
each heart beats sadly.
each mind sheds a tear.
each body slumps with sadness.
for we are going home.

in memory of valerie hodge

for all those people who didn't know val, you missed one of God's great miracles. to describe val with her blonde hair in her face and her cassette close at hand, val was a true james brown fan. you could talk to val, especially when you're diggin' on a guy, and he shows no response to your liking him. in conversation with her, val would drop a few good words in for you, which is exceptionally far-out.

at home val had a beautiful room, and the darlinest little sister you could ever have. she was very close to her two pekingese dogs whose names were mulligen and son.

one of val's greatest gifts was that she was not prejudiced. she liked a person for what he or she was, a gift more people should have. she was a true friend, or rather a sister, to everyone she knew.

valerie hodge was a friend we will always remember.

editor's note

the year 71-72 has been a good year, not only for the few, but for the majority. our sports did well, our moral has improved and the physical features of the school have improved too. this is what the trident staff has tried to make clear in this book, to join all the good times and all the bad times together in one book — so that you can hold on to these many memories for future reference.

as this book comes to an end — i would like to extend my deepest and sincerest appreciation to mr. bruce solomon, our sponsor, for his advice, work and over-used patience — and also to my staff for their long and hard hours of work and their patience.

on behalf of my staff and myself, we all hope you have had happy reading with this book and that it has brought back many pleasant memories.

sincerely,
