Girl's Athletic Association

The girls in G.A.A. (Girl's Athletic Association) participate in sports on varsity level. These girls compete with other military schools. They also attend Letterman's club meetings and earn actual varsity-sized letters with "England GAA" on them.

There are four main sports that the club competes in; field hockey, basketball, gymnastics, and volleyball. They also run track and field but this event is mainly for grades seven and eight.

Miss Long is the club's sponsor, with Debbie Matthews as President for the second year. The club has no other officers because they feel that a president is all that is necessary, although they do have a captain for each sport.

Drill Team

The Drill Team, comprised of 20 girls, worked hard to fulfill their primary goal of promoting school spirit and providing halftime entertainment. Although the girls were to perform twice during the football season, heavy rain washed out their first performance; but for their second performance, they braved the thick mud to put on a great show.

Sharon Holt, Madeline Williams, Rosa De La Cruz, Jeannie Reyes, and Karen Unger performed only during football season with Sharon Barber, Nyra Ines, Nancy Call, and Peggy Beck taking their places during basketball season.

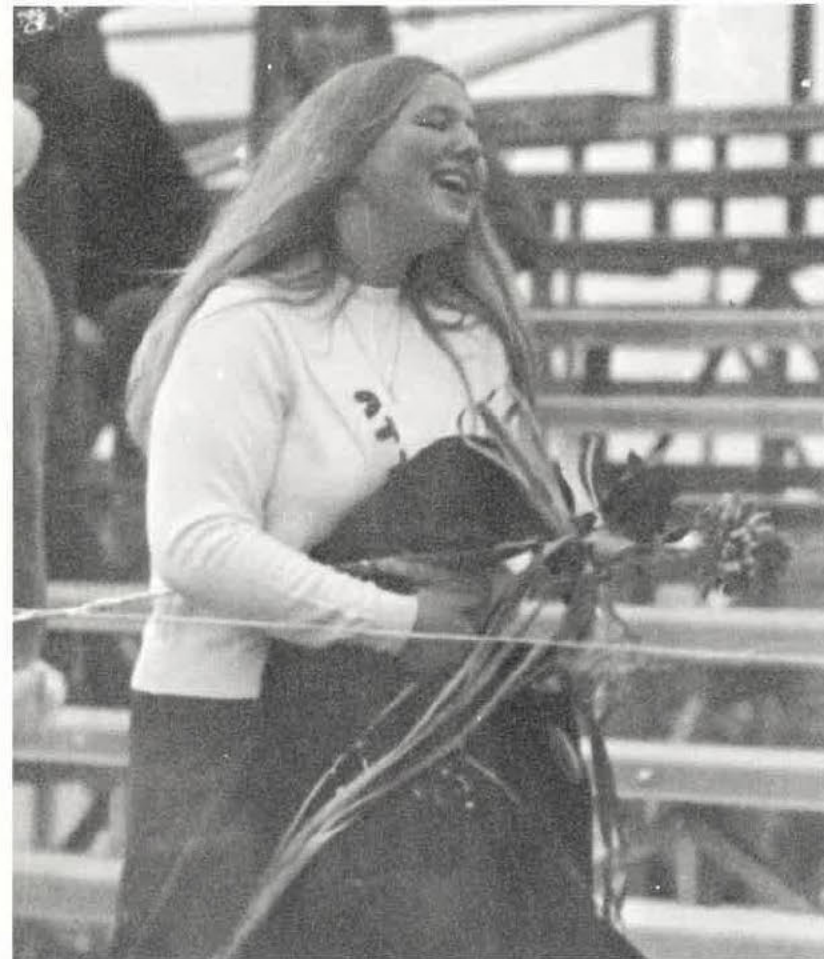

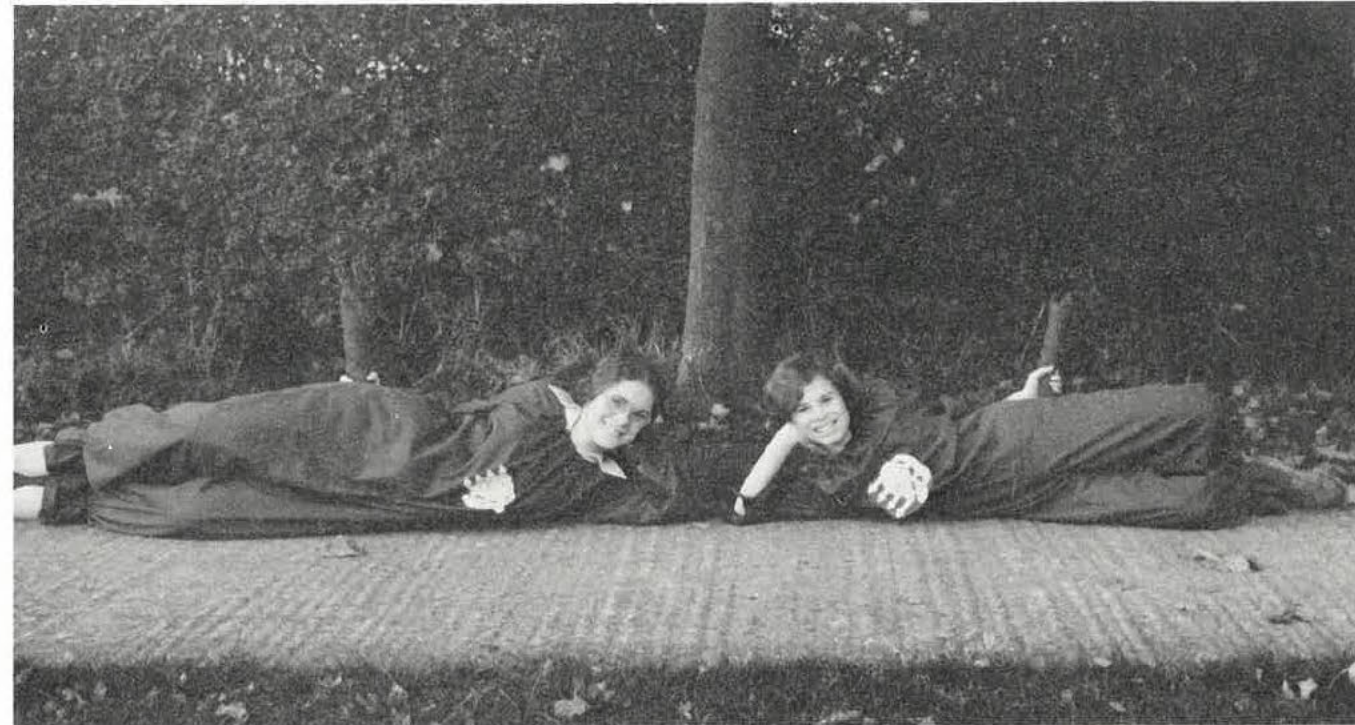

I think I got better than any other person I have ever met. I hope you will meet me again. I love you. Georgia

Mascots

The three team mascots Liz MacNamara, Sonya Richards, and Terri Swenson, each possessed qualities that made them outstanding mascots. Their spirit combined with determination and endurance made them perfectly suited for the job. Whether it was a home game or an away game, these three were out there braving the cold, rain and icy wind, urging their team on towards victory. Liz impressed everybody so much with her spirit that she was offered the position of alternate Varsity Cheerleader, and Terri Swenson took her place. For Liz, Terry and Sonya it was a way to express their school spirit—the Hadite spirit.

The spirit of the cheerleaders reflects the spirit of the school as a whole and the Hadite Varsity Cheerleaders showed that if Upper Heyford has one quality, that one quality is team and school spirit. The girls showed this spirit by turning out for every game whether it was football, basketball, wrestling, or soccer. You name it—they were there! Neither distance, fuel shortages, or weather mattered to these girls. They showed up for each game, cheering themselves hoarse, driving their team to victory.

Junior Varsity

Cheerleaders

It looks like next year's Varsity teams will have a bunch of faithful, dedicated cheerleaders and those cheerleaders will most probably be the J.V. cheerleaders of 1973-74. Present for every game, the J.V. Hadite cheerleaders were very successful in spreading their enthusiasm and spirit to every corner of the school.

AFJROTC

The Air Force has always had a way of shaping men's lives, and JROTC is no exception. JROTC belongs to the UK 71st Squadron. Its 130 members are divided into a staff and six flights. Each Flight is commanded by a Squad and a Flight Commander.

JROTC trains students to be the responsible citizens that America needs. It teaches students about the aero-space age and gives them a taste of what military life is like. In general, it prepares them for the future, whether it be in the military or civilian life.

The JROTC Honor Guard, under the commanding of Capt. Mike Lawson, has won all three of its exhibitions and received much well-earned praise from other schools. In addition, they served at the base Changing of Command Ceremony with great distinction. The Color Guard, too, is something to take pride in, as the cadets involved put in a great deal of work with their daily flag raising ceremony.

FADED IMAGES

I have so many questions,
 And no one to ask.
 People—faded images
 Rushing past my eyes.
 Someone slow down
 And come into focus.
 I have something to ask you.
 Don't you care how I feel?

I'm losing my mind,
 I'm the only one who exists.
 Hey you, stop and help me!
 Why do all these people not care?
 These faded people in a silent film.
 It's time to come out of the theater.
 It's time to face reality.

A.G.

I am like a grain of sand, scattered aimlessly amongst the vast beaches.
 By myself I may think me
 important,
 but with others I am not needed.

I run to get there first,
 but others have beaten me.
 My rights as a human being seem to be far less than that of another.
 Why can't people be fair?
 All that I have gained in life is mostly nothing.
 Do all little things in life count?
 I don't

Golden trees with leaves glowing in the glorious sun,
 Pink and orange rays sparkling in my hair, warming my face;

As thoughts of you sparkle in my mind. . .

A young collie bounding through the fallen leaves,
 His bushy tail rippling with delight
 as he leaps for joy;

As my soul leaps with thoughts of you. . .

Children laughing as they play in the friendly leaves,
 Appreciating the unique color and beauty
 of each individual leaf;

So do my thoughts appreciate the color and beauty of you. . .

Wandering through nowhere;
 feeling the empty nothingness.
 Nobody is there.

Alone, in loneliness;
 Afraid, in fear;
 Nobody understands.
 I see black solitude; for there is nothing to see where I am.
 A longing to break the chains,
 And fall like gentle rains,
 On all of dream's realities
 below.
 The winds blow through
 my hair;

And I smell the cool,
 sweet air,
 That cleans the
 withered parchment of my soul.
 Now there surrounds me,
 the things eyes can't see,
 But something only my inner self can know.

I float on a cosmic fortress 40 thousand years;
 Never to touch loneliness in man.

PEACE DOVE

I am the "Peace Dove".
 I fly blindly from country to country,
 Looking for little signs of hope or peace,
 For the destiny of the earth.

I spy on the different mechanisms
 Of death and destruction.
 Each leading country, potentially able,
 To destroy the other.

Always there are experiments going on,
 Polluting our waters, atmosphere, and earth
 With radioactive fragments and debris
 Which murder all living things needlessly.

Protests go on in my honor,
 But the establishment won't listen.
 The need for power and ultimate control
 Overpowers even the meekest of mankind.

I've almost given up on this mess.
 Soon the Hate Dove will take over
 And the world will come to an end.
 I don't care anymore!

I am the "Peace Dove".
 I fly blindly from country to country
 No longer looking for signs of hope or peace,
 For the destiny of the earth.

THE SONG

Everyone
all together
singing . . .
All sounds blending with reckless harmonious happiness.
Running, flying, chasing,
falling . . .
Some sounds soft and gentle
some loud and majestic.

But even though all the sounds are singing differently, with different voices, running
in different directions . . .
There is no clashing
of sounds.
For all are singing
to One in Whom
there is no confusion
at all,
only peace.

by Amy Barker

Seek Joy and there will be Peace;
Live in sadness and there will only be despair.
Find love, and it will concourse all
But when there is the ultimate in everything,
Look only for simplicity within.

By Terry Bagwell

AND THEN CAME THE SUN

Walking together,
sharing our summer.
Seeing the world,
in a much brighter way.

Then came the sun,
peeping through the clouds,
Making our summer
a time to be gay.

A bird in it's nest
making it's home.
Children out playing,
learning to be free.

And then came the sun,
shining down upon them
Giving them reason to be glad they're so young.

Whispers of love,
sweet melodies.
Sharing our tomorrows,
yesterdays were so sweet.

And then came the sun,
brightning up our world.
Turning our friendship,
into a song of love.

Class

Seniors

The Senior Class and the Senior Class Officers worked well together in organizing this year's activities which turned out to be very profitable for the High School and Senior Class. Tops on their list of events was the Winter Formal held at Weston Manor and the main event of the year, graduation. Both were well-planned and organized by the Senior Officers. Heading the Senior Class was Rick Bowden, president, Debi

Dunn, vice-president, Cathe Liverman, secretary, and Melinda Minor, treasurer. These four worked in an efficient, highly skilled way to provide Seniors with some fond memories that will always be a part of their lives.

Officers

Juniors

This year's Junior Class poured a lot of sweat into raising money for the Junior-Senior Prom. A new stand provided shelter from the wind and rain, for candy and soft drink sales.

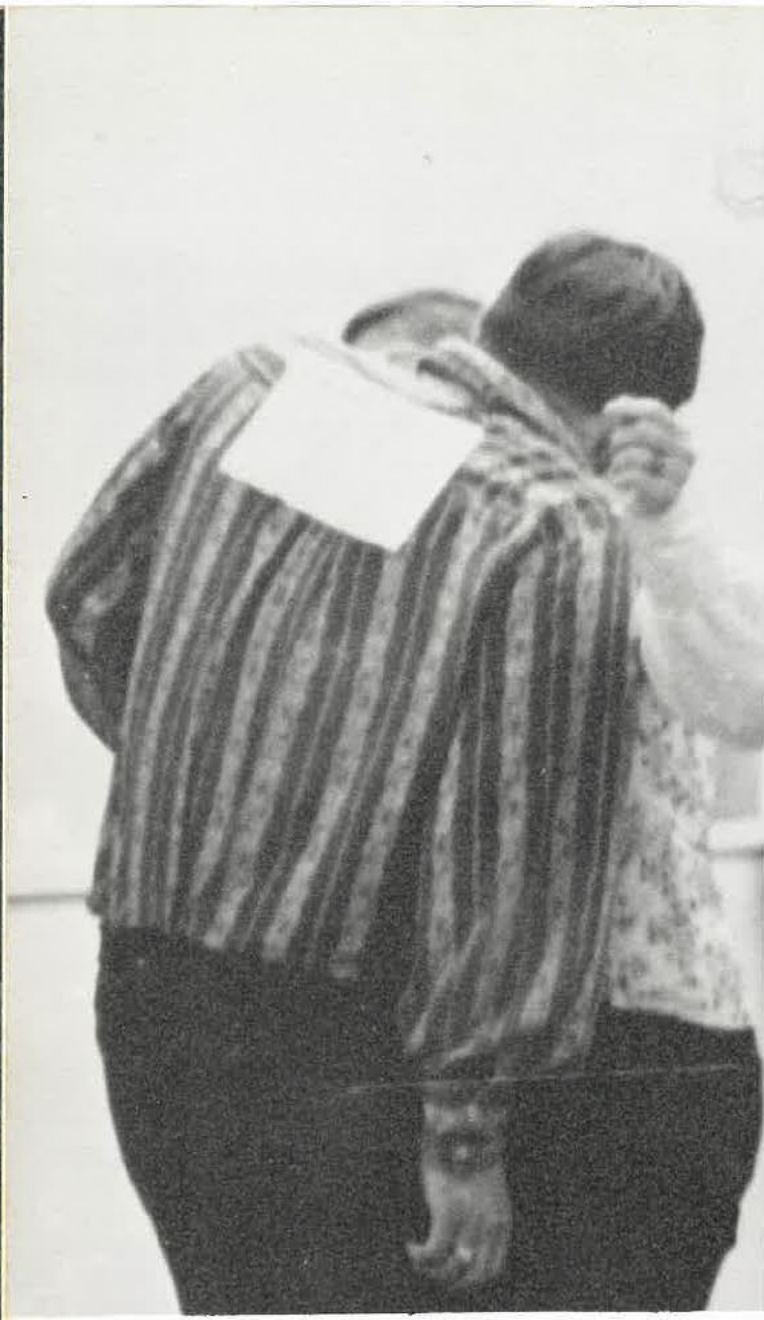

President: Blaine Brandon, Vice-President: Josh Minor, Secretary: Celeste Bebey, Treasurer: Terry Cox.

The Sophomore Class promoted spirit through their '76 Action Group officers. One of their methods was the printing of the UGH (UnderGround Hadite).

President: Jim Dunn, Vice-President: Bill Gawler, Secretary: Joy Hembree, Treasurer: Joe Williams, Not pictured: Alan Brisley, Public Relations Man.

Sophomores

"Seniors show how it's done."

"Wistful supporters."

"Kathye and Gail (BELOW) drink to success."

"Rusty cheers teammates to victory."

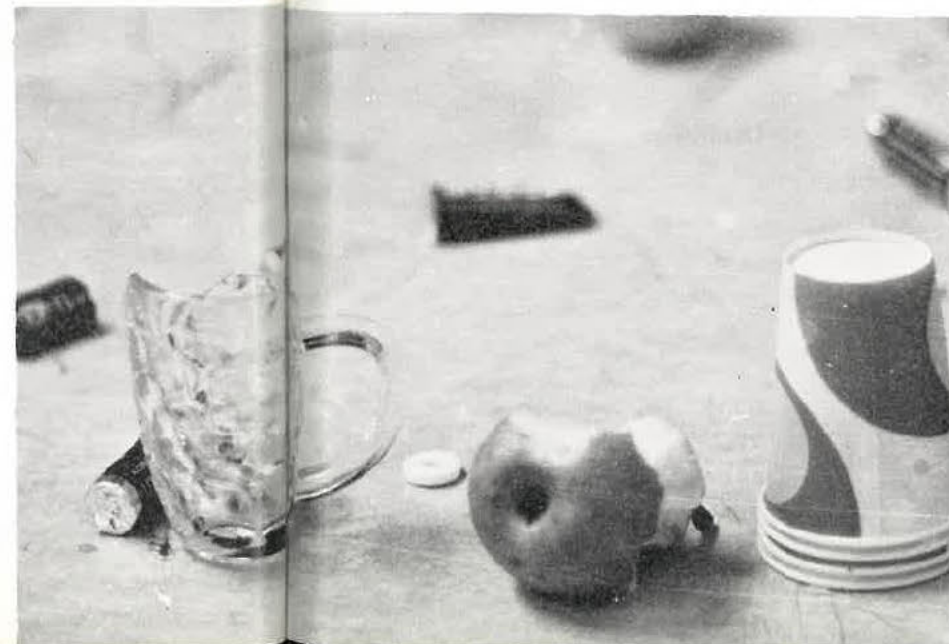

Spirit Games

Bored, sleepy-eyed students piled into the Old Aud to watch the Spirit Games held in October; they left relaxed, laughing, cheerful. The Spirit games had been organized to do just that. They did much in promoting class spirit.

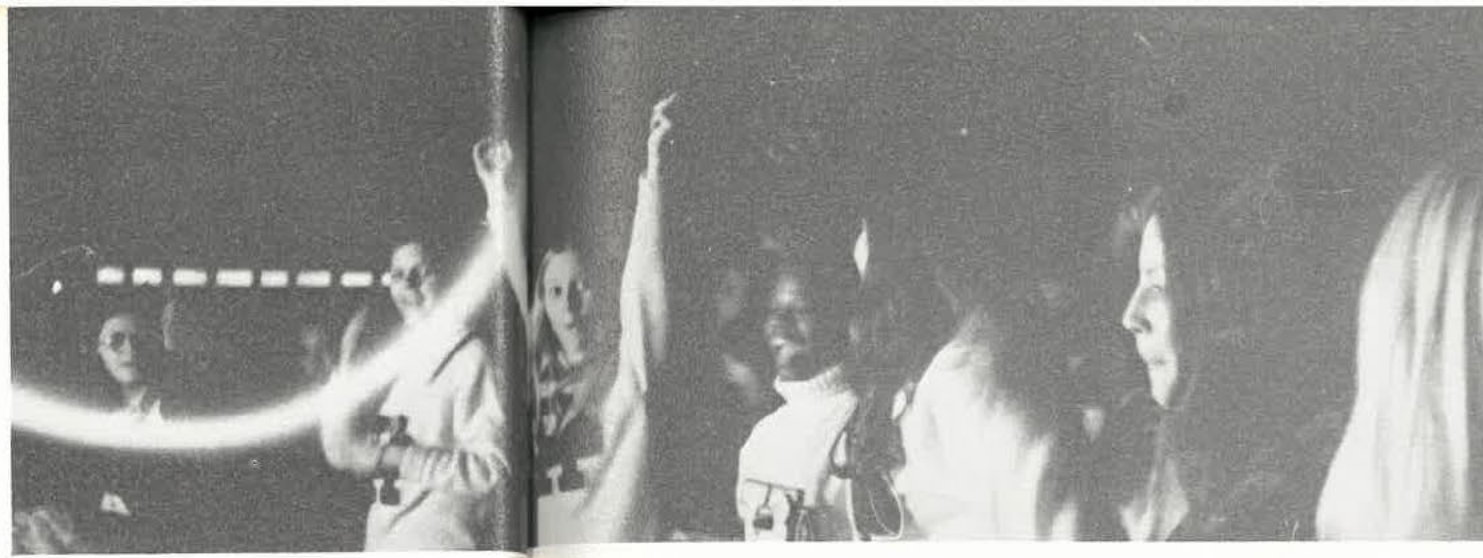

Among the games played were passing oranges from neck to neck, gulping down water, and passing life savers on toothpicks.

"Seniors leave a small (broken) reminder."

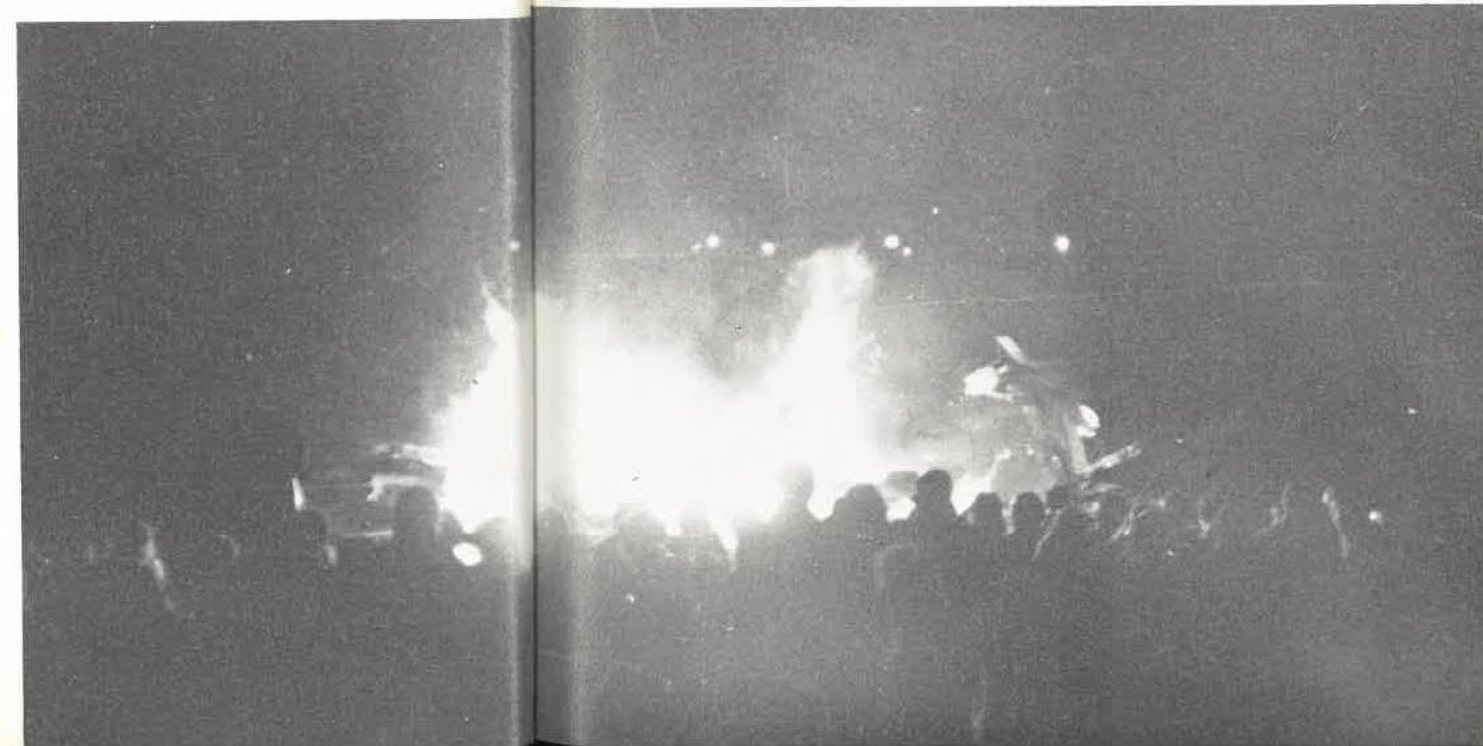

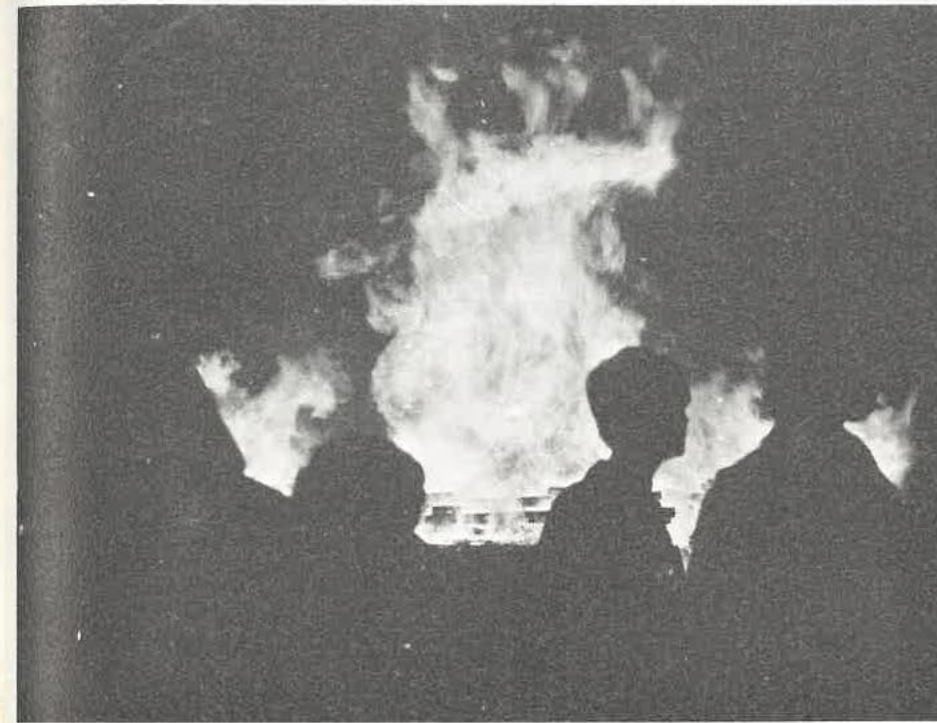

"Liz tells it the way it's happening."

Bonfire

Students, dressed in winter garb, turned out in fantastic numbers at the Homecoming Bonfire, one of the year's many high points. With the Cheerleaders keeping voices chanting and the Lettermen keeping the fire burning, the Lancer was slowly swallowed by the flames.

Theatre Arts

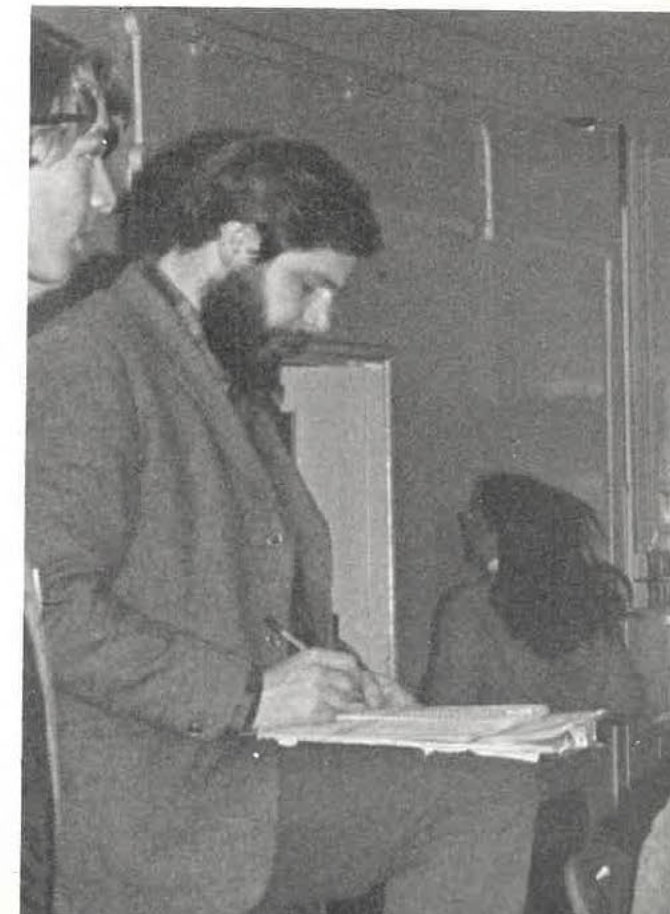

The Theatre Arts class, taught by both Mr. Hummer and Mr. Pinschmidt, is one of the few classes at this school that has no limit for the number of students who want to take the course.

This year's class has had well over fifty students who work together rehearsing and performing plays.

After a group has presented its play, the actors are open to criticism by fellow students. Then the group has a second chance to present its play, after a period of improvement through the use of those comments.

Some of the songs sung by the High School Choir were: Do You Hear What I Hear, 'Twas The Night Before Christmas, Jesu Bambino, and Wassail. The choir was accompanied by Debi Dunn and Connie Gilliland, first semester pianists.

Varsity

In order to become a member of the Upper Heyford Varsity Band, one must be able to play his instrument skillfully. The band helps to promote school spirit at different sports events, performs at various base functions and presents its annual Spring Concert in May; all under the dedicated and able direction of Miss Elizabeth Heater.

There are approximately 65 participants and each one of them is proud to say that he is a member of the Upper Heyford High School Varsity Band.

COOPERTIVE WORK EXPERIENCE
CAREER GUIDANCE COUNSELOR

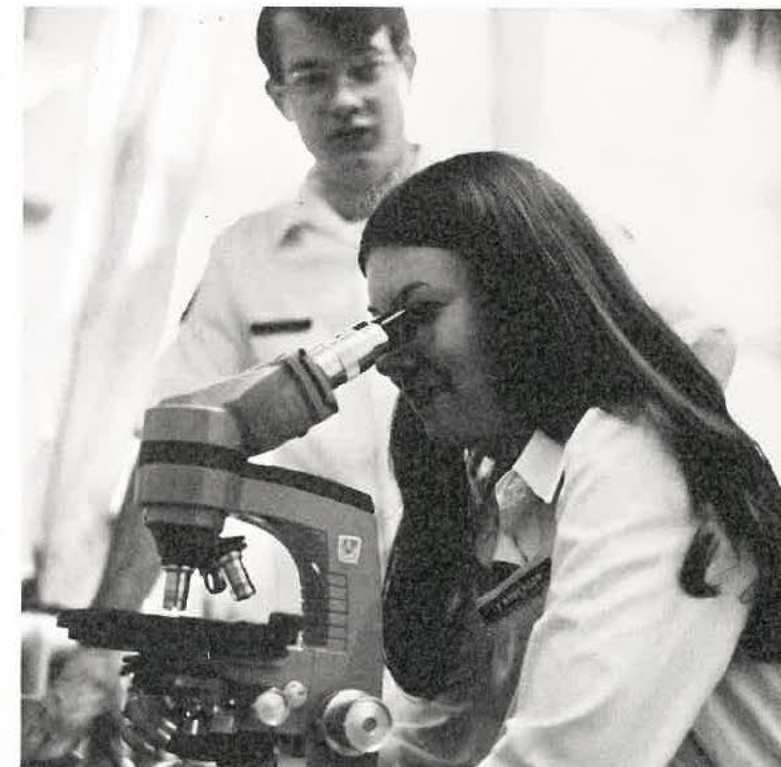

CWE

This year CWE (Cooperative Work Experience) has involved over 130 students in jobs around the school and base. CWE gives students a chance to explore the working world, firsthand, with jobs ranging from teachers aide to lab technicians, sales girl to secretary, post office assistant to auto mechanic, and many, many more.

Mr. Brisky, this year's advisor, has done a great job in providing new and interesting jobs for students.

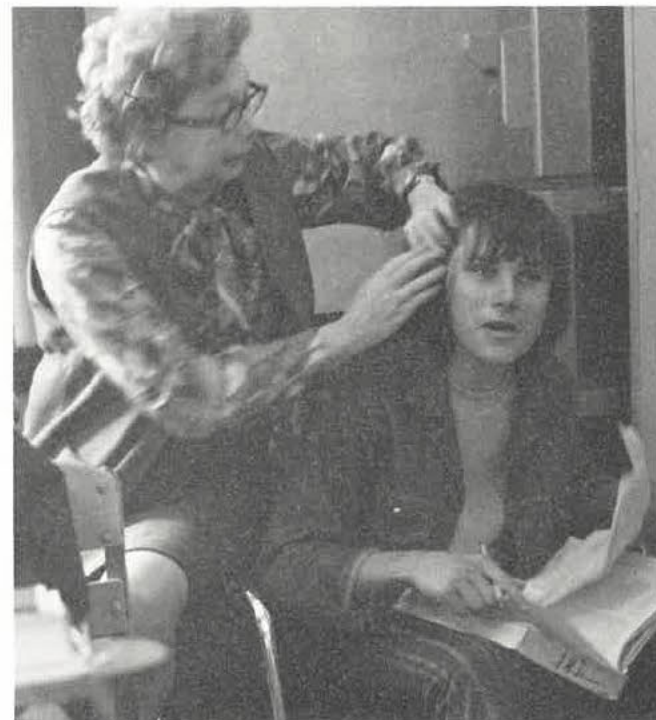

Riding Club

The Riding Club, a new group formed this year, is sponsored by Mrs. Lane-Burslem. A love of horses and horseback riding are the two primary qualifications for members.

Lettermen's Club

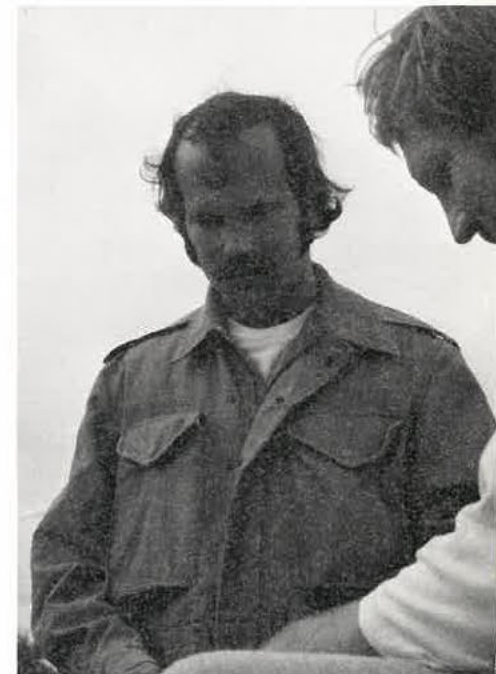

The Lettermen's Club, an organization consisting of students from Upper Heyford who have earned a Varsity letter in a school sport, experienced quite a change this year. For the first time at Heyford, girls who had earned a Varsity letter were allowed to join.

Each year, the Lettermen's Club sponsors the bonfire and the Homecoming Dance. Both events were very successful. Almost the whole school turned out to help the cheerleaders boost the football team before their Homecoming Game, and just as many were seen at the Homecoming Dance.

The Lettermen's Club earned their money through refreshment sales at the football games, and by car washes and bake sales.

This year's officers were: Steve Bergh, President; Rick Bowden, Vice-President; Steve Herning, Treasurer; and Blaine Brandon, Secretary.

Membership in the National Honor Society is based not only on scholarship, but also on leadership, character and service. New members are inducted each April.

The officers of the National Honor Society this year were: Amy Barker, President; Steve Bergh, Vice-President; Susan Sparks, Secretary; and Bill Broomall, Treasurer.

A yearbook tells the story of a school, and the TRIDENT is our story.

Our story is put together by interested and imaginative students who think memories are as important as tomorrow. So that's what will be found from cover to cover.

It's not an easy job to put out a yearbook, but the memories were worth all the time spent.

Imprint

The Imprint Staff this year did an excellent job of informing and keeping the students in touch with both academic and extra curricular events that happened in and around the school.

The staff, whose editor-in-chief was Debbie Dunn with Lela Jo Cox and Debbie Hiler as her two co-editors, worked hard towards producing the most interesting newspaper yet; one that the students both enjoyed and looked forward to reading.

LEFT-RIGHT: Marlys Spiegelberg, Mr. Frishberg, Lela Cox, Debra Baker, Debbie Dunn, Janette Harris.

This year's Junior High newspaper, the HOTSTUFF, surprised the school; they put out an exceptional, well-written paper full of valuable information.

Although there isn't a known staff, interested students from Mr. Frishberg's English classes submitted articles that were typed by Janette Harris, IMPRINT typist.

Being a SENIOR is . . .
 not having to worry about getting to class late. being looked up to. driving the family car. having to say good-bye to old school mates and teachers at the end of the year. going on to bigger and better things. overcoming obstacles on the way to independence in life.

Make the most of life you may.
 Life is short and wears away.

The People Behind Us . . .

Administration

This year, two newcomers were brought into the Administration: Mr. Brisley, Assistant Principal and Mr. Schlesinger, Supervising Principal. With help from Mr. Antrobus, Assistant Principal, a lot of new ideas were introduced to both teachers and students. Although everything didn't quite turn out as planned, the Administration did a tremendous job in the running of the school.

Counselors

This year, as every year, the counselors did a fabulous job. Whenever students had a need to discuss schedule conflicts, career planning, college application, or just wanted to chat, the counselors were there to listen and offer advice. The counselors gave students the guidance needed to enable them to help themselves.

Upper Heyford Football Season "73"

Although the Hadites' seasonal record of one win and five losses reflects a disappointing season; in determination, sportsmanship, will power, and energy, the Hadites came out on top. Wherever or whenever the Hadites played, they were out there giving their 110% learning from their mistakes.

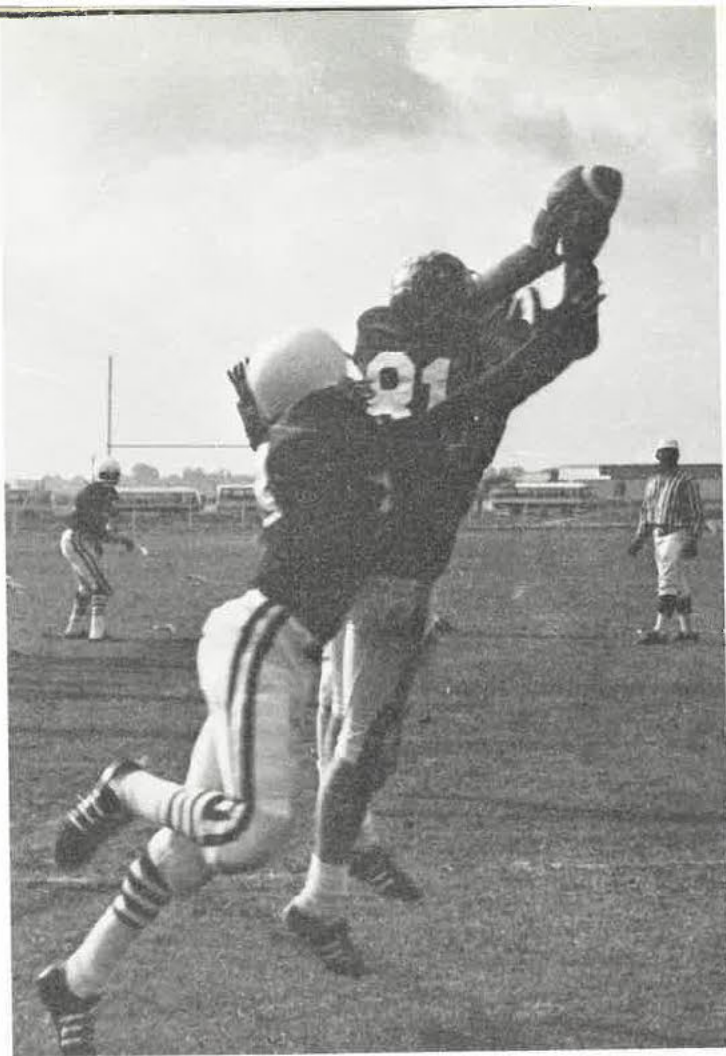

Although they came out on the shorter end of the score most of the time, the Hadite team sported some above average players, including two all-conference players, defensive end Bob Duke and defensive tackle John Cutright.

Up front on the line Blaine Brandon, John Cutright, and Fred Antrobus opened gaping holes in the opposing team's line to allow the hard-driving halfbacks through. On defense, Mike Webster and Danny Williams added some depth and experience into the hard pressed backfield. Linebacker Dale D'Alessandro proved to be a tough, hardhitting player who became a favorite of the fans through his aggressive style of play which also brought him the award of "Most Inspirational Player".

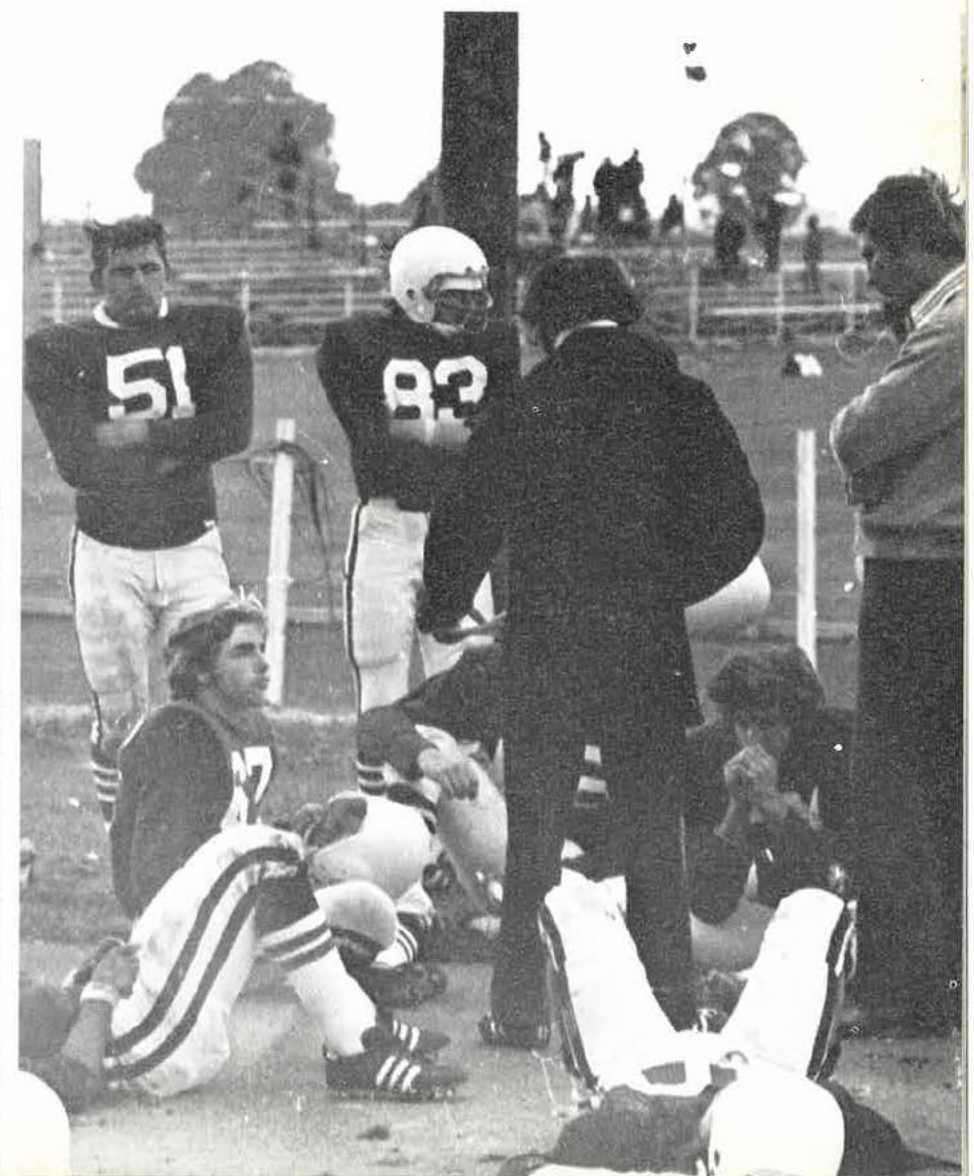

Outstanding players on offense were Danny Williams and Lenny Butts and fullback Rick Bowden. When this impressive trio were present in the backfield, they established a devastating ground attack.

Forming the core of the defensive line were Duke and Cutright. Duke, after a slow start, proved to be the type of player the Hadites needed by having a record 14 unassisted tackles in one game and helping out on many more. With Duke stopping them on the outside and Cutright holding them inside, these two formed a Fearsome Twosome.

With the end of the season comes brighter prospects for next year. Because we, the Hadites, can only get better.

Streilein proved to be the thief of the team with 2 interceptions, returning one for a 25-yard touchdown, and also accounted for several fumbles.

With one year of football behind them, these players with the valuable experience they've gained, will form the nucleus of the Hadite Varsity that will be a much improved team next year.

Patti Matthews, Phil Miranda (Captain), and Mr. Harrington (Coach).

The golf team had a sensational season this year with Lisa Perri taking first in the U.K. Girls Division and Patti Matthews taking third. Lisa then went to Luxembourg for the USDESEA finals where she finished 7th. Phil Miranda, the team Captain, finished third in both U.K. Boys and in Luxembourg with Heyford's best round of 81, only 4 strokes behind the USDESEA winner.

STANDING FROM L. TO R.: Sharon Holt, Peggy Wascisin, Liz Grabowski, Celeste Bebey, Denise Kepley, Dinah Kilgore, Beth Kilgore, Sue Snider, Mary Hall, and Ms. Bickle (Coach).

KNEELING: Stephanie Cochran, Sue Jeffry, Andrea Phillips, Karen Hunter, Dorian Jankowski, and Jeanne Reyes.

The girl's hockey team played two games this season, winning their last, against London Central, 1-0. The girls worked hard and would have liked to play more schools. All showed great enthusiasm and were willing to work.

Cross Country

in action, with Robert Ridgley, Gary Ross, Andy Aguirre (Capt), Steve Wallace, Brent Gilliland, and Mark Sobota.

The cross country team, coached by Mr. Cole, fielded a fairly strong team. Even though they didn't win all of their meets by score, they placed within the top six places in most meets. Andy Aguirre went to the finals in Stuttgart, Germany and placed 27th out of 84 runners.

The team also had meets against eight British schools which altogether included 54 runners. Out of these Andy Aguirre placed first and Robert Ridgley placed third.

Girls Volleyball

This year the girls volleyball team had a tremendous season with 3 wins against London Central and 2 wins against Lakenheath. In the tournament, held here at Heyford, the Hadite girls placed second with A.S.L. taking first.

The girls put in a lot of hard tiresome practice in order to achieve their high quality game, and deserved the many victories they had.

Meeting old friends.

For the third consecutive year, the Hadite wrestling team walked away with the Class B championship, breaking the USDESEA record. The Hadites remained undefeated all year and the only teams giving them a scare were Lakenheath in the Regionals and Baumholder, who placed second in the Finals with 77 points.

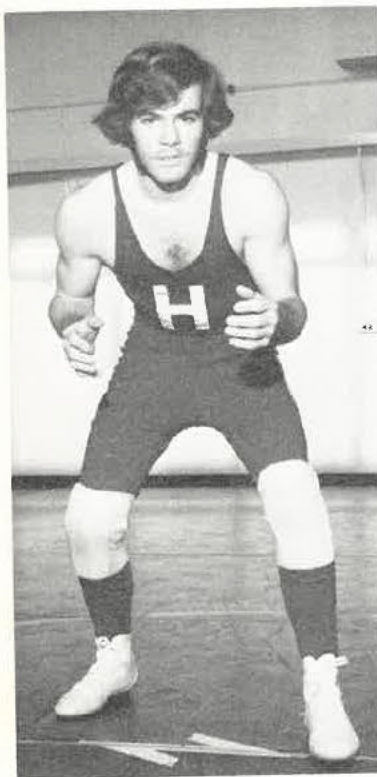

Everyone contributed his utmost towards the final victory but special recognition should go to Josh Minor who remained undefeated. Josh had 15 pins, 5 decisions and no losses this season. The 5 decisions came when the Hadites needed them most in the finals. Josh's perfect season is an example of the hard work, and diligence shown by all the wrestlers, although some of the opposition proved equally skilled.

John Cutright, in his first year of wrestling turned in a superb performance that could hardly be matched by anyone else. When the Hadites needed someone to pull through, there was John, especially in the Finals where he had 2 pins and 1 decision, which turned the Finals in favor of the Hadites.

Mark Jones placed fifth in the Finals after dislocating Europe's no. 2 mans' shoulder in his first match, which stunned everybody. So at the end of the Finals, Josh was #1, John #3, and Mark #5. With three wrestlers in the top five, who could ask for a better team? The standing speak for itself.

Girls' Basketball

The Hadite girls played a hard season of basketball, winning 5 out of 11 games. Unfortunately, playing their first game only one day after the team was picked, the Heyford girls couldn't handle ASL. Taking this defeat in their stride, the girls came back to win their second game after reaching the semi-finals in a tournament hosted by ASL.

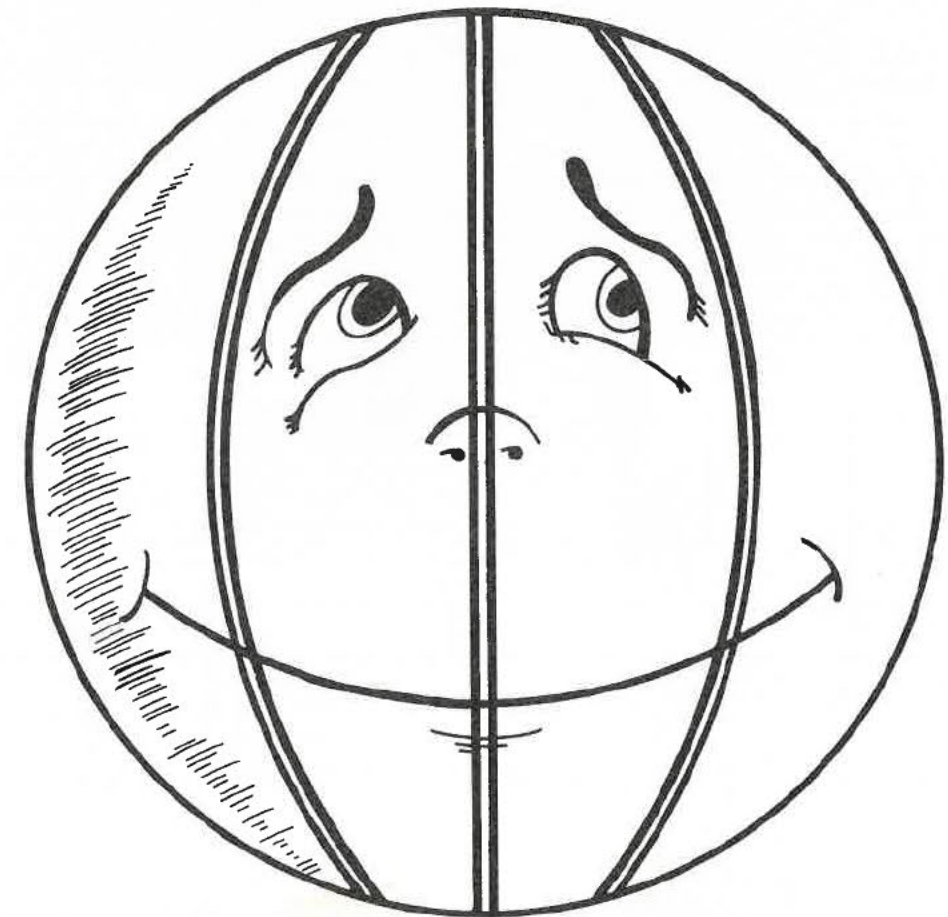

High scorers Lynn Chapman and Sue Jeffrys, demonstrated great skill and determination in their plans. With the aggressive Debbie Brown and quick thinking Terri Houck, who displayed tremendous form after becoming a guard mid season, the team was practically invincible.

The top Heyford girls played in an all-star tournament featuring the top girls from all over England.

May this year's enthusiasm be with next year's team.

This year, the Hadite basketball team showed England and everyone that they weren't just anybody's pushover anymore. They stunned Shape and Brussels in the USDESEA tournament and gave Bonn a run for their money before being subdued in the final minutes of the game.

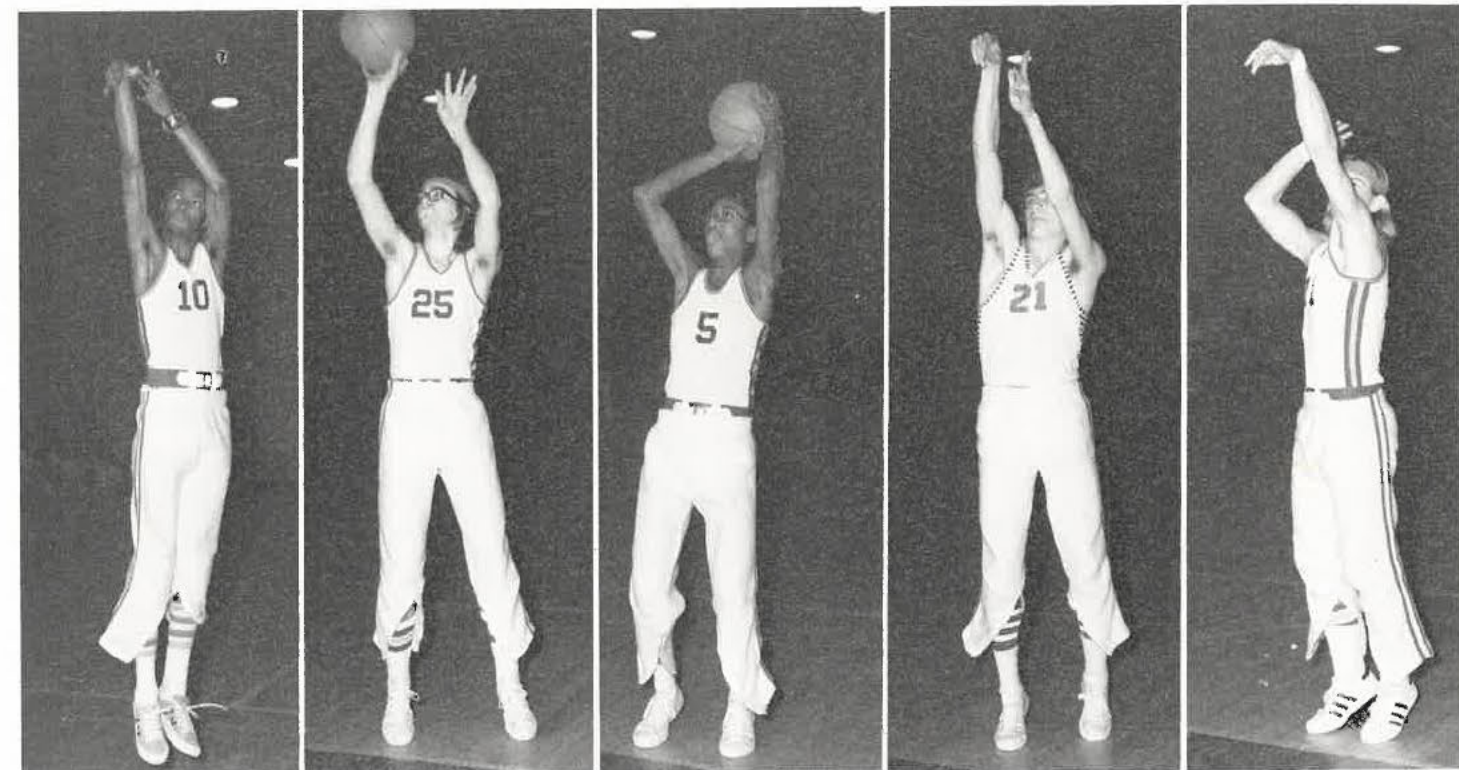

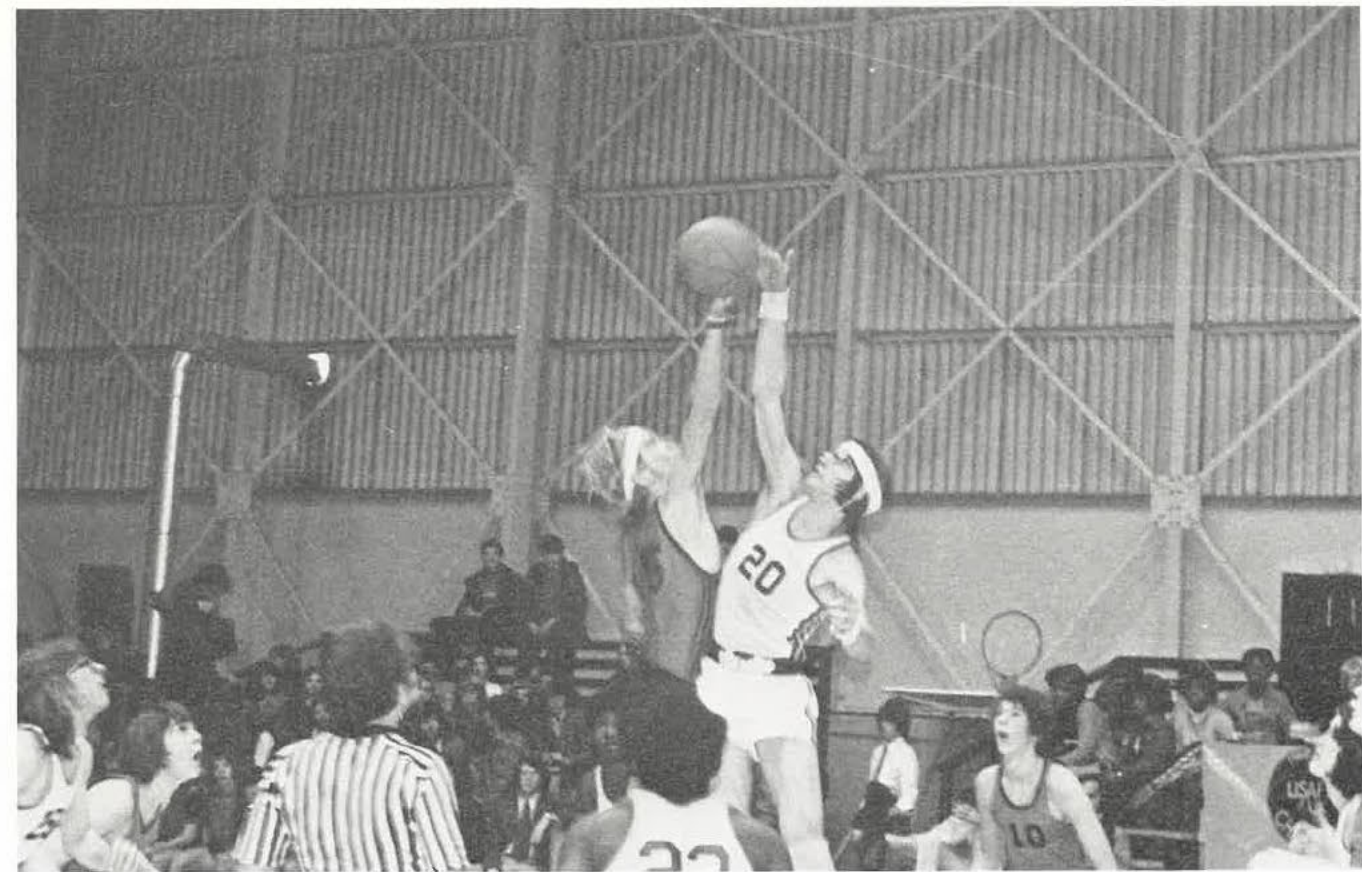

After a slow start, which brought them 2 wins and 7 defeats halfway through the season, the Hadites suddenly put it all together and stunned opposing teams with dazzling ball control and quick passes and became a respected, even feared, basketball team.

Two defeats, one questionable, against Lakenheath, brought the Hadites down off their pedestal and back to earth with a 7 win, 9 defeat record. But their 7-3 record in the Class B division was good enough to get them into the finals at Brussels.

The Hadites rampaged through Brussels' defense for a 60 to 50 win, then outlasted Shape, 57-51, before losing to the undefeated Bonn, 63-58. The game against Bonn was one Hadite fans won't forget; down by 19 points at one time, the Hadites came back to tie and even temporarily take the lead, but Bonn pulled themselves together and the last minutes were theirs.

The Hadites' offense was centered around big 6'2" Lester Hahn and the equally tall Jim Langston. With these big men controlling the boards and their deadly in-close shots, the Hadite attack was infallible. If the inside attack failed, Lenny Butts and James Futrell would pop the set from the outside, both thrilling the crowds with their dazzling ball control and skillful dribbling.

After a gloomy beginning the Hadites finally found themselves and, living up to their motto "Super Bad", became the team they should be. With this new found success and a crop of experienced J.V. players to fill emptied shoes, the Hadites should be even better next year.

Miss Schrieber,
 I guess many students would find it hard to sign a book, but I think that you are one of the teachers in this school that can find time to be a counselor or instructor. Thanks so much for your guidance and friendship.
 P.S. You are the best of counselors students remember warmly
