"School always starts off kind of hectic in the Fall, but it slows down as people get comfortable." ~Tracy Thornbrugh

Autumn! A season full of exciting events: the first day of school, the beginning of Autumn sports, Spirit Week, Homecoming games, the Homecoming Dance, and much more!

During the first week of school we found out that we have more students this year than we've ever had before! This increase was due to the new shipment of freshies and newbies to Germany. We also welcomed our new vice principal, Ms. Pulliam.

Autumn sports got off to a good start with Volleyball, Golf, Football, Tennis, Cross Country, and Cheer having plenty of members for each team! We had quite a few good highlights of Autumn sports with Football wins against many of our rival schools and our very own Katie Cooper being the #1 female golfer in Europe!

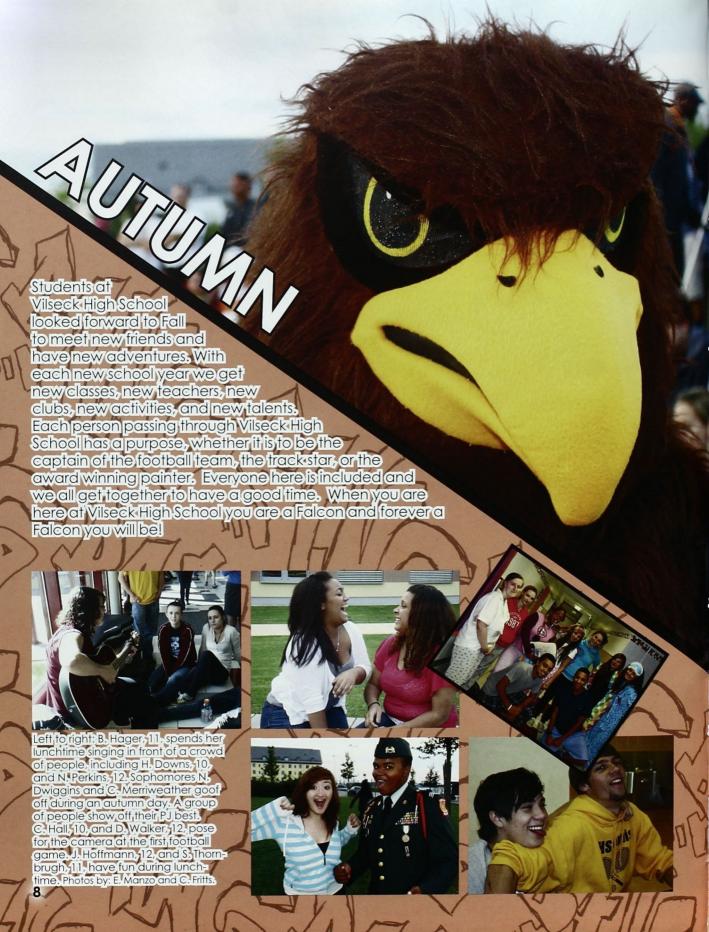

Spirit Week was full of fun! With a schedule filled with exciting dress-up days, including Nerds vs. Jocks Day, Superhero Day, Multiples Day, Roll-Out-of-Bed Day, and Breast Cancer Awareness, Day. The amount of spirit at Vilseck High School was overwhelming!

Homecoming was also exciting with wins from our sports teams and an amazingly fundance!

Much more funis to be expected in the future seasons!

Tackle It

"They have been playing with more heart, focus, and determination," says running-back Daniel Arroyo about the Vilseck football players this season. The team has come a long way with winning three games this year. The team really took hold of the reins by winning their first game against their long-time rival, Wiesbaden, with a score of twenty-five to eight! The team was following what one sophomore, Robert Ryan, said, "If you don't work together, you can't win."

You just got served by the Falcon tennis team! "We had a really good season and I think we really improved!" Carolyn Pippin commented about the season. To get ready for the season the players did a lot of conditioning, including practicing backhand and forehand strokes. The entire team had a great season, but a select few qualified for Europeans. Amy Maitner, India Pinkney, Christy Chanin, Miguel Cordero, Sage Thornbrugh, and Gabe Ruiz went to Europeans this year to represent Vilseck High School. Although our players did not place in this year's Europeans they worked hard and made it far.

Run Itt

Running the distance is all about determination and motivation. If you fall, just get back up and keep running. Every runner kept their focus on the main goal this year, which was getting to the finish line. The cross country team members competed with themselves to continuously get better and to succeed during the season. Each person strived to get a faster time every week at their races. The top eight boys and girls traveled to Heidelberg for Europeans to compete in the last race of the season. During Europeans, Zoey Viera placed 9th and Malia Carson placed 13th in the Girls' Division. Ben Nelson also placed 8th in the Boys' Division.

FORE! Watch out, Vilseck High School's Golf team is coming through! This year's team consisted of fourteen freshmen, sophomores, juniors, and seniors. Each team member was equally determined and every person tried their hardest throughout the season.

Although every member did well during the season, only one person qualified for Europeans -- Katie Cooper. Katie qualified as the first seed at this year's Women's Golf Europeans, which was held at the Heidelberg Golf Course. Katie, who was declared the number one female golfer in Europe, did a fantastic job and placed second overall. Good job Katie and good job Falcon golfers!

Bump. Set. Dominate. That is what our Falcon girls are all about. The volleyball team had a very successful season. They worked hard in practice and especially during the games. Sophomore Beth Siatini said, "So far we have been working hard as a team, and we have accomplished our goals not by ourselves, but as a family."

The season ended with Varsity: 9-3.

This fall season, VHS Cheerleading made a lot of adjustments to their team, from a new coaching staff, to adding a lot of new members to the team. Co-captain of Varsity, Shelby Hall, said, "I think fresh experience is good to have because it allows you to mold your team." On that note, Coach Medsker added, "As a new coach, every team member, every practice, and every game helped me learn more about cheer."

Winter cheer is always more intense than fall because it is competition season. Varsity girls traveled to Wiesbaden to compete in Division I against six other schools. Preparing for the competition meant that the girls had to have extra all-day practices held on Saturdays. They held fundraisers during the basketball games and on the weekends to raise money for the trip. Both JV and Varsity cheerleaders also participated in a holiday gift wrapping fundraiser sponsored by the Red Cross to raise more money for the season. The JV Cheerleaders also attended Vilseck Wrestling Matches to cheer on the Falcon Wrestlers. Overall, the winter cheer team put in a lot of hard work to come out with a successful season.

This year the girl's basketball team started off with a strong season, both JV and Varsity won their first games against Hohenfels. The Lady Falcons proved to stay focused all season and had intense practices everyday, and worked hard as a team to make a successful season. This season also had touching moments with Taylor Hall, and Deraj' McClinton, both playing together since freshmen year, finally played now as Seniors. Everyone had a lot of motivation this year and overall the Lady Falcons had a great season and definitely showed team spirit, determination and their stride for success.

Basketball at VHS means everything to these boys; they eat, sleep and breathe basketball. From lay-ups to rebounds and three pointers our varsity and junior varsity basketball teams looked forward to their winter season. The games were very exciting and the suspense and the cheering was overwhelming. In spite of their differences, the boys come together as a team during the games and were able to play their best. Overall, the boys had a great season and look forward to next year.

During this season of wrestling, for another year in a row, there was a huge turnout of wrestlers. The only differences this year was that not only were there even more people but the practices were even harder! Wrestling is one of the few individual sports at Vilseck High School but the scores received at meets can benefit the entire team. The athletes wanted to do good for themselves to be better wrestlers and to also become a better team. This sport's goal was to always learn, no matter if it was during practice or at an actual meet. Every routine or technique was practiced for a purpose so that it could be used later on in the season. "It's a fun sport that keeps you disciplined," Remington Edwards, 12, commented and Jesee Partee, 12, added that," You can only get through if you're determined and strong willed."

Determination and Teamwork are two essential qualities for girl's soccer. The team began the season with a fresh start, with plenty of new faces joining the team. The team does dribbling, passing, and shooting drills to polish their techniques. "The competitive aspect of this sport is my favorite part of playing soccer," says Shelby Hall. Both teams, Varsity and JV, have the potential to dominate this season.

This softball season started off with a swoosh of the bat. Softball is a sport that requires skills from agility to teamwork, which the team demonstrated at each of their games. They proved their strength on and off the field. One of their goals was for each player to improve in some way. To help meet this goal, during spring break the team challenged Italian teams.

The Lady Falcons put up a big fight against their biggest rivals, the Patch Panthers. They went to Europeans craving and demanding to bring it all home. They might have had a few rough patches on their way but the Lady Falcons overcame them and had a great season.

The season started off with snow still on the field and a chill in the air. There were a few changes to the boys' soccer team this year with the introduction of the new coaches, Coach Sabala and Coach Thornbrugh and the incoming of several first-timers to the team. The soccer players only had two weeks to practice working together before their first game which was on March 17th. To prepare for their games the team did a lot of conditioning and had several practices at the beginning of the season that only involved running to get the team members into shape. Even though both the Varsity and JV teams had new members and a new coach, the entire team would come together at their matches and do their best to score. The boys' soccer team ended the year with a successful season.

Swing batter, batter swing! The sun was shining and the boys were out to bat. "Our team is really good and I think we can make it all the way," said Andrew Zdeb. Under the direction of Coach David Nelson, the boys practiced hard in hopes of improving their skills. They worked batting and pitching technique, and strove to improve running speed. They worked to improve their RBI's. Baseball is the ultimate spring and summer sport: sunshine, warm weather, camaraderie.

Sprinting and striving for first place, until you can't feel your legs anymore, is what track is all about. This season the running falcons really showed that their team had motivation and devotion. Over eighty students tried out for the track team and did their best to become a sprinter, long-distance runner, thrower or jumper. The runners had four weeks to get ready for their first meet, and during that time they put in 110% effort into their practices to be the best. Field events would be practiced on Tuesdays and Thursdays, and the sprinters and long distance runners would do hard or easy workouts every other day. The team sprinted, jumped, or threw with determination to represent the school in every meet. All the practices and hard work during the season paid off when the track team went to Europeans in May. Overall, the flying Falcons really showed their pride throughout the season.

What started out as a class of merely five students four years ago has now grown into a program that draws many new students each year. The presentation of the magnificent strings group was what brought many students into this enriching program. Many students described the concert experience as nerve-wracking but exciting. Adriana Ramos says that the strings program was a new and exciting learning experience. At the beginning of the year, many students hadn't even touched a stringed instrument before. After an exhilarating year of learning, they can play complex pieces written by famous composers such as Mozart and Beethoven. The strings program has brought many students together to create one unified sound.

Drill It!

The JROTC drill team practices armed stationary movements, marching, and exhibition. They perform in squads, platoons, and a two men and single man exhibition. Drill is all about teamwork; the smallest mistake can affect the routine which is why the drill team is made up of dedicated cadets. The drill team also participates in color guard competitions. All their hard work and months of practice definitely pay off at their meets.

"My favorite part of the Rifle team is my team. We motivate each other and always stay positive before shooting. In the end, even if we didn't do as great as we wanted, we always practiced harder for the next meet. The team is always supportive of each other no matter the outcome. What doesn't kill us only makes us stronger."

Marksmanship is a unique sport. Unlike many others, it requires more mental focus than physical work. Everything is taken into account: their breathing, trigger pull, concentration and even their eating habits; all of it really effects how they shoot. Marksmanship is all about precision, patience, and confidence in one's own abilities. These are the main components of having a good meet and coming home with a victory to be proud of. Our Marksmanship team had a very successful season, taking first place in conference, second at Europeans, second for division, and making it to Nationals at Camp Perry, Ohio where they placed ninth nation wide

Multicultural club brought the diversity of our students to a brand new level. It was the perfect opportunity for students from all corners of our world to meet up and share their culture's legacy. This club brought to life the many different cultures that can be found throughout our Courtesy of: Herr Hertel. school. One event in particular that stands out to member Julia Bentley was in the exchange student program in which she hosted two German girls over the Thanksgiving holidays and showed them American traditions. Whether they are from the North or South, each student's culture had a place in the club. Multicultural club surely lived up to its name.

MUSS

Model US Senate is an opportunity for VHS students to practice debate skills, learn about how the US Congress functions, and discuss important issues affecting our nation. The VHS MUSS team has worked on developing bills that cover a diverse range of topics from obesity and natural resources to welfare reform and immigration. Their goal is to be one of the most vocal delegations. Our MUSS has won "Best Senators" 3 out of the 4 years that it has been active, and this year Jermaine Barkley won best democratic senator!

Art Club can be found in Mr. Anglim's classroom right after school. This club was for students who enjoyed art and wanted to further master its concepts. This after school activity was open for both students that were enrolled in an art class and students who weren't. The students would work on art assignments and individual projects which helped improve their artistic skills. One project the students worked on this year was their own interpretation of Van Gogh's "Starry Night," which showed the different sides of the different artists. Art Club gave individuals an opportunity to be as creative as they wanted.

FBLA – Future Business Leaders of America is a club that discusses and studies business and all of its aspects. The club members learned how to fundraise and work with Word documents and other technology. This year, FBLA traveled to Garmisch for the annual FBLA competition. At the competition, every member picked a business-related subject and was tested on it. This club competed with other FBLA clubs from other DoDDs schools from Europe.

NHS – The National Honor Society is a club which consists of select students from Vilseck High School who earn the highest GPAs and acceptable amounts of community service. The members didn't just sign up to join, the process of becoming a member was a lengthy one. The students were required to fill out detailed packets, write an essay, and acquire good recommendations from others. This year's members enjoyed creating new service projects with the help from their new sponsor, Ms. Hare.

Academic Games consisted of a club of students that were motivated to gain knowledge of all school subjects. Throughout the year, students had been striving to study and accomplish their mission of learning with their sponsor, Ms. Teresa Hahn. Our students had been working towards the chance to compete in a successful competition with other academic teams in tournament format. At the end of the year, our students compete in a "College Academic Bowl" in February to determine their knowledge and show how hard work pays off.

Dedication, determination, and intelligence are three main skills required to be a member of the Robotics club. This year, Vilseck High School's Robotics club registered themselves for this year's FIRST Robotics Competition. The members traveled to the Netherlands to compete against American and European teams. The club's members learned how to build and program robots that performed tasks like moving around, lifting objects, and pulling and pushing objects. With the help of their sponsor, Mr. Chanin, their knowledge, and their resources, the Robotics club was able to produce intelligent, multi-tasking robots.

Calling all Future Educators! The FEA membership increased this year. With more people, more activities and fundraisers took place, from T.A. (Teacher's Assistant) for a day, to selling Thanksgiving Thankful chains, and even the occasional, lock-in. The conference involved several teaching-based competitions that the FEA members worked on months before hand to complete. "FEA teaches good life skills and gives students an insight into what the education field is like," says FEA member Carolyn Pippin.

Kelly Pulliam

Ms. Pulliam, Vilseck High School snew Vice-Principal, is enjoying her first time in Germany with Vilseck's enjoyable students and staff, including the unique "challenges" living overseas without her four children, and missing out on her grandchildren's birthdays. Before we were graced with Ms. Pulliam's presence, she ran two all boys prisons, along with being a principal at two separate schools for seven years. Those schools may miss her, but Vilseck High School opened their arms on the first day of school in August 2011, to make her feel welcome.

Duane Werner

Mr. Werner loves this school and living in Europe; as he put it, "Europe is the center of the universe...a lot happens here, like sports events and governmental conferences." Mr. Werner has been here since August 2005, when he joined us from Würzburg, where he was Dean of Students. Mr. Werner's occupation is principal of our school, but in his free time he enjoys scuba diving, watching sports, and talking to his three grandchildren whenever possible.

PARTANTESS 3.

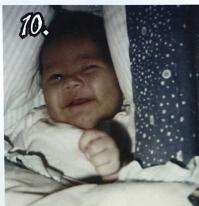

Justin Rushford

Justin.

Look back and realize what you have accomplished today, and just imagine what you can achieve tomorrow. I am so proud of you! Always believe in yourself and never give up, you are a fighter. There is a whole new world out there and you are the one who can solve the mysteries that are presented to you. I know you are going to make it in whatever you do because that is who you are! As a great man once said, and I quote: "You have brains in your head, you have feet in your shoes, you can steer yourself in any direction you choose. You are on you own, and you know what you know, you are the guy who'll decide where to go." -Dr. Suess. And always remember that things in life may change your direction, but if you focus on where you have been you can always see where you are going clearer. And we as a family will be there regardless of where the road leads. Love you always,

Mum

Justin.

My little brother has grown up! I am very proud of you and your accomplishments. You made it! You have been through a lot in 17 years and I can't believe how great you turned out.

Good Luck at NAU!

Shannon

Justin,

I am very proud of you! You did it Dutch Boy! Now go out and hit a home run and make your dreams come true! Good luck in Arizona (NAU), Danny

Dylen,

It seems just like yesterday we brought you home from the hospital. Now 18 years later you are graduating and getting ready to start the next phase of your life. You have given us many laughs, tears and joy over the years. You are the best son and greatest big brother anyone could ask for. We are so proud of everything you have accomplished. The world needs dreamers and the world needs doers. But above all, the world needs dreamers who do. We know you will be a dreamer who does.

Love Dad, Mom and Rebecca

Amy Maitner

Dear Amy,

There are no words to express how grateful I am to have you in my life. You are my greatest accomplishment and continue to amaze me every day. It is hard for me to imagine not having you here close to me, but I know that you will always be my little girl. I am so excited for all of the adventures that await you! I love you so!

Love, Mom

Liebe Amy,

Du bist die beste Stieftochter auf der Welt. Ich werde dich vermissen. Für Deinen Weiteren Lebensweg wünsche ich Dir viel Glück und Erfolg.

Hove you,

Ivonne

Dear Amy,

It's possible to have a lot of things; however having a daughter might just be the best of things. You've kept me in a state of wonder and admiration as you sprinkle spice and happiness into my life. You've done well daughter, keep climbing, you have a little higher to go...

Love, Dad

18 or so years ago, you decided to make your appearance in our lives. Not a day has gone by that we have not been in awe of the precious gift that was granted to us. The smile you share with us, the loving hugs that bond us, and the unforgettable presence you bring to our family. Zachary, you have made us the definition of proud parents, because you continue to raise the bar on just what a good son should be. As you go forward to the next stage of your life, just remember to be humble and to thank everyone who helps you along the way. It has been our pleasure to be your parents ... Take charge of your life - Continue to give

110% - And as always - Be proud of yourself and we will be proud of

Love You Zach! Moma & Dad

Zachary Rogers

Termaine Barkley

Jermaine Manuel Barkley

We love you, believe in you, and are so proud of you. Spread your wings. Use your talents. Make a difference. Give praise. Pray. Read your Bible. Laugh. Love. Forgive. When you stumble or fall pick yourself up and keep going. Be proud of who you are and where you come from. Don't let "fear" ever rob you of your dreams. And if you ever need "home"; it's just a phone call away. "The Lord bless you and keep you; the Lord make His face shine upon you and be gracious to you..."

Love always, tu familia!

Tiffany,

You have finally made it through high school and we are extremely proud of you. You have grown into a wonderful, kind and loving woman. We know you can do anything you put your mind to. We all love you very much and you will leave a big whole behind when you leave for college.

Love you,

Mom, Dad, Jenn, and Courtney

Dear Sharell-"Rell Rell"

Your mother and I have been very blessed and fortunate to have a daughter like you! Throughout the years you have brought nothing less than absolute joy and pleasure into our lives. Thank you for being such a great person, role model and leader and not a follower.

We are so proud of your current accomplishments and wish you nothing but the best in all of your future endeavors. As you encroach upon the next chapter in your life, remain humble, focus and driven. These things will assist in ensuring that you attain all in life that you desire, deserve and have always hoped for. Always remember that the entire family is cheering you on and is with you every step of the way.

Ill assure you that as you go through life there will be challenges.

However, you must remain optimistic and look at every challenge as an opportunity to excel and get better. Hard times don't last- hard people do. We love you and will always be there for you.

The years went by too fast and each one was special. Being the baby sister and last child gave all of us no end of pleasure and a source of amusement. We are proud of you every day and respect your determination, compassion, and loving nature. We can't wait to read the next chapter in your life

With all our love, Mom, Dad, Byron, and Katherine

My sweet Shella-Bella, I have loved you with my whole heart since the day you were born - on my birthday! I am so proud of you. Love you, love you more, love you most, love

Shelby, you have grown into a beautiful, young, woman, that I am so very proud of. You have a warm heart, filled with kindness and love. You have been so very fortunate to have had some amazing experiences from your travels. Your life will have many different journeys as you now enter the 'big world.' I know you will accomplish great things! I love you Shelby.

Thank G-Day you made it.
Yippee! Dad brought your suitcases from the basement.
Your room, is now your brother's game room. Don't misunderstand, but we don't want to drag out the goodbyes.
We understand you must go on with you life, and go to college to get a good job.
Isn't it great to graduate. We love you and we are so very proud of you.

Well, here we creat the finish line "NOI!!" Identieven know where to begin, we have come along way, notifust as a family but as father and daughter. This is the beginning of a new life for you, the past eighteen years was just the crawlphase, now you have to learn how to walk, just like watching bylan, he sometimes struggles just to stand and when he is standing he debates whether he should take that first step and when he does take it he loses his balance and falls down on his buit. What is the one thing he always does when he falls? That is right, he gets right backup, The next four to five years is going to be what you make of it, it is going to be a challenge, an uphill battle but it is all up to

DECISIONS-Momand|| aren'it going to be there to make decisions for you, the decisions that YOU make will determine the path to your future, I'm not talking about it little petty things like hanging out, diinking, smoking and partying or celebrating with friends, what I am talking about its WHO you hang out with, if you are going to drink DON'I drive and drink in moderation, if you are going to smoke DON'I smoke the stupid stuff, if you are going to party or celebrate, DON'I party too hard because ihere is always another day.

Ilwas never the perfect dad or Inever a laim to be, but Il tired to the best of what Ilknew about being a parent, of course II had another daughter but how long did that last. You are my daughter Iraised you, no matter what anyone else says, no matter what you think when I am getting mad at you. I know with all my hear that you will do great things with your life whether you are a Teacher, Doctor or a Pilot you will succeed in what ever a hoteeyou make. It is proud of you every day, proud of every thing that you do (Even when you massage my feet, Haha!) Keep your chin up and don title tanyone or anything bring you down. Il LOVE YOU.

Dear Georgie,

Words cannot express how proud I am of you and how much I love you. You are my daughter, my first-born, and a true light in my life. We waited so expectantly for you 17 years ago, and it seemed at times that you didn't want to be born. Eventually, however, you emerged, a beautiful gift. Of course, even that wonderful day involved me getting in a little trouble – you were crying in the delivery room and I was talking to you, saying soothingly, "my baby, my baby," but you kept crying until I whispered, "Shut Up," at which point you stopped instantly. The 17 years since have come and gone with astonishing speed. I remember vividly how, as an infant, you loved to watch cartoon network and you loved to sleep in my arms (a confession – I loved it more than you did).

Germany

Your years at grandma's house, kindergarten at Maria Artero and now at Vilseck High have flown by, although I know there were times when you thought they would never end, and there were times when we thought we might not make it to the next step. But that is all part of life and part of family and part of love – enduring, being constant, and always remembering that we are together – forever - as family. As I think about you over the years and reflect on you now, the word that keeps coming to me is "blossom." You are so beautiful, physically, emotionally, and intellectually, it is as though you have simply blossomed into an extraordinary young woman. I know, of course, that it hasn't been simple and that the years ahead won't be simple, but I am absolutely confident that you can handle anything that comes your way. And you know you can always count on me (and Daddy) to be there for you. As far back as I can remember, Daddy and I have stressed the importance of building a good foundation that will give you the best possible options in everything you do, and we have done our best to see that you have had the opportunities to do the things you want to do. It may not always have seemed like it, but everything we ever did, every decision we ever made, was with one question in mind—will this guide Georgie in the right direction? From what I can see, you are not only headed in the right direction, you will define the right direction. You have a big post-it note over your desk from a young lady that says, "Go to Bed Young DREAMER. You can do anything." You gave me good advice there, and I hope you remember it. Georgie, only you can limit your future. Never let anyone else define it for you or put any limits on it. You will go as far as your imagination and determination can take you. The idea is not to grab what is easily taken, but to strive to go farther than we think is possible, to reach for heaven. That thought is something to keep in mind as you go about the task of preparing for and achieving your future — push yourself, do more than is necessary, and always expect the best from yourself. With all of its trials, life is beautiful, and the stresses of life emphasize the beauty of life's most wonderful moments. Georgie, to me your 17 years have been one of life's most beautiful and wonderful moments, and I can't wait to see what the future will bring. You know, Daddy and I have tried to raise you to be independent, but there is a big part of me that is not looking forward to you leaving for college, next fall. Honestly, I don't know what I will do when you leave home. The house will seem empty, and I will miss you more than you could possibly know. And it is that realization that underscores further what an incredible young woman you are. I don't have any specific dream for your future, only the transcending hope that you will be happy. Nothing is more important to me than your happiness, but I want you to remember that happiness is the result of achieving your goals, not a goal in and of fiself. There is no such thing as happiness without accomplishment, happiness is never empty. When I say "accomplishment," I am referring to accomplishing gods of, for example, education, career, marriage, or children. Such a daughter has her encouraging, understanding morning in her head, not simply as a woman but as a whole, unique human being with unlimited possibilities." That is you, my girl — a whole, unique human being with unlimited possibilities. I will always be here for you, Georgie, cheering you on, and I will always love you, unconditionally and forward. ally and forever. -Mommy.

Dear Sarianna.
You have been a shining light in all of our lives. We are so very proud of you and marvel at your enthusiasm for life in all that you do! Although you are not a "dragon" this year, you have the heart of one. You have embraced the adventurous spirit of a falcon - who is soon to take flight into a new and wondrous journey. You have many friends and family around the world who love you and believe in you! Stay happy, healthy and strong. We love you, Sariberry! Mom, Dad, Alyssa, Laura, Nanny, Papa,

Katie,

Wow, where did all the time go??? We have watched you grow from that precious big-eyed baby girl into a beautiful young lady. You have always been a determined and hard charging daughter. From memorizing and reciting all of your favorite Disney Princesses stories well before you could read to the outstanding student, athlete, and leader you have become today. We have always and will always be so very proud of you and will continue to support you in all of your future endeavors. We have every faith and know that you will succeed with whatever career you decide to pursue. You can count on us to be there when you need that motivational comment or thought. We love you so very much!

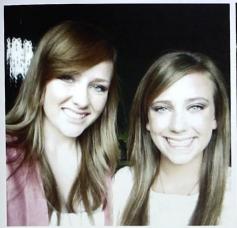

Shelby,

Just a few words to let you know how blessed we feel that God chose us to be your family. Never did we imagine that time would pass so quickly. It has been a privilege to be your mom, dad, sister and we are so very proud of the amazing young woman you've become. Always put Christ first, live your life with purpose, find your passion and pursue it. Remember to take your mustard seeds everywhere you go and know that you can do all things through Christ who gives you strength.

Sathaniel Hocker

Dear Nathaniel and Ashley, remember love and wisdom - in that order. It is the common sense that guided your father and me to raise you all those years and it has never failed. In your relationships remember the same, heart first then head. Honestly if the two are in sync you won't ever go wrong. We think you are both very fine people and that your mark on the world will be tremendous, whether it is the "world" in the global sense or the "world" in a tiny community somewhere. We can say that because we love you and also because we like the people you have become. We will always be friends!

Sean,

There are no words to describe how proud we are of you! From the moment you entered the world 18 years ago we were forever changed for the better. We look forward to knowing the amazing man you are becoming and we are so grateful that God chose us to be your family. Best of luck as you move on to the next wonderful chapter in your life and always know that you will have a home wherever we are! Without you, we wouldn't be us! Love you Seaner Bear!

Years have passed by too fast and you've worked hard to get your diploma!

It's time to take a bow, but as you make a new beginning in your life, Julia, be aware of important things you didn't learn in school:

As you pursue your dreams, remember to take time to help and serve others even if doing so slows you down a little.

As you explore and develop your unique talents, remain humble, realizing that your special abilities are gifts from God.

As life hands you challenges, welcome them as ways to become smarter and stronger.

As you acquire material things, know that you're most important possessions are honesty, integrity, and the desire to make a difference.

May your new path take you where you want to go and also bring you pleasant surprises!

We are very proud of you, always have been, and wish you the very best for your future!

Laura.

We are very proud of you and everything you have become. You are a bright, smart and beautiful girl who can accomplish any goal your heart desires. The adventure of college is right around the corner. We will miss having you here every day, but understand that we have to let you grow up and become a woman, but you will always be our little girl. Good luck on your journey ahead. Always remember that your family loves you and is here to support you.

We love you with all our hearts, Dad, Mom and Michael Grandma used to say "That child is bright!" (talkin' bout your skin...lol). But if she only knew how BRIGHT you turned out to be. How your heart and spirit shine every day. And how amazing it is to see such "BIG" love overflowing from such a skinny auy*wink*. When you were young you were as quiet as a mouse. Now every word you speak brings laughter to people all around you. I've watched you climb over obstacles and still smile. I'm sure there will be many more that will come. But remember all trials and tribulations are just arowing pains. And if you keep your eyes on Him they will always come to pass. You, my Blue Jay, are a gift to the world. You are a special creation of joy that cannot be contained or destroyed. And although people may try very hard, Our Creator has other plans. I am so proud to see you have faith and understanding of He who has control over all situations. Isaiah 54:17 I love you so much,

Donovan,

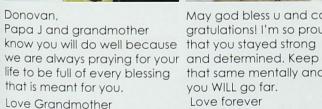

I was so proud when you took your first step. I was more proud when you learned to tie your shoes. I'm proud of every vard, every swing of a bat, and every basket. Every time I've watched you fall, get up, wipe your own tears, and keep going. I would say to myself "Look at my tuff little Stinky". I still show off your pictures from elementary school. Like it was just yesterday you bought them home with that big grin. Sayin' "She-da (Shelia) look what I did." But because I've had the pleasure to a front row seat in the amazing stories of your life. And because you have arown into such an extraordinary and handsome young man, I'd say this by far is my proudest moment. I chose your name after you were born. It's said to mean "Dark Warrior". When I looked into your eyes I knew that is what you are. Never forget that through your journeys in life. May God bless and watch over you. Always keep Him first because He is ALWAYS there. Jeremiah 29:11 Hove you so much,

Deraj' McClinton

Our letter to Deraj,

We want to start off thanking GOD for you. You have always been a Blessing to us. You are very wise & beautiful young lady. Remember to always be yourself because that is how GOD made you. With the funny sense of humor a pep in your step and a vibrant smile. Keep GOD close to you for the time you can't seem to find your way because he will never steer you wrong. You have a very strong mind and a beautiful spirit, now it is time to blossom into a young adult. It has not been easy trying to direct you in the right direction and we have not always seen things the same way. But we have always worked them out to understand and see each other's point. We will always love you, no matter what! It is your time to shine, go out and make the world yours. You can do anything you want to do with love in your heart and desire in your soul. Don't let anybody discourage you from doing what you want to do. GOD said it is yours he gave it to you. This is one of your shortest life lessons you will get from us. Always show Love & Compassion and go forth. and make us Proud.

I can do all things through Christ who strengthens me. ~Phillipians 4:13

The 2011-2012 Talon was created using Adobe Creative Suite 4. The "done it, said it; noted, quoted" theme was created by Co-Editors in Chief Carolyn Pippin and Cassidy Fritts, who for the second year in a row have spent more hours in the yearbook room than they might like to count.

The 225 copies were printed by Walsworth Publishing Company. Our plant representative, Russell Viers, has been invaluable in teaching us about InDesign and helping us fix pages.

We would like to thank the teachers who allowed us to interrupt their valuable class time to get photos and quotes from our fellow Falcons. We would also like to thank those teachers, community members and former staffers for providing us with additional photo coverage.

A very special thank you must be given to Ms. Sandy Davis, who for the third year gave us gracious permission to use her photographs in our book; the sports team group photos are fabulous, and make our teams look even better.

Additionally, we would like to apologize to anyone whose name we misspelled or misrepresented.
