SCHOOL ACTIVITIES CATALLACE.

Farewell, Dr. Smith

After thirty-one years with the best school system in the world, I am returning to the United States. Following a year in Naha, Okinawa, and two years in Chateauroux, France, I was fortunate to be assigned to Wiesbaden, Germany, where, quite untypically, I have spent twenty-eight years, thirteen as an English teacher, four as the assistant principal, and eleven as the principal. Except for four years teaching in the States, my entire professional life has been with DODDS. I could not have made a better choice.

Although some of you don't realize it yet, you are among the luckiest students in the world. You have the best of two worlds: You attend an outstanding American school, Wiesbaden Middle School, in a community which maintains much of the American culture, and, at the same time, you can take advantage of the many cultural experiences that living in Europe provides.

I leave DODDS and Wiesbaden Middle School knowing you and future students are in good hands as students always have been. All of your teachers, administrators, and the whole staff are special people who are dedicated to one goal — to help you acquire the skills and knowledge you need to be successful, thinking, responsible individuals now and in the future. Although WAMS has changed over the years from a huge school with nearly 1200 students to today's 370, one constant that has remained is the dedication of its educators. The adults at Wiesbaden Middle Schol have chosen to work with you at the most difficult and most challenging time in your lives when you are experiencing the greatest number of changes — physically, emotionally, socially, and psychologically. They work harder, give more of themselves, and deal with greater diversity in you behavior, maturity, and motivation than educators at any other level. Over the years, in addition to their classroom instructional responsibilities, they have exposed students to new customs, cultures, and languages and provided them with hundreds of activities, clubs, trips, sports, and additional assistance, before and after school, at lunch, on the weekends, and even over holidays.

If I can leave you with just one piece of advice, it is for you to take responsibility for yourself and to do it now. You and only you can make the biggest differences in your life: Whether you are skilled or unskilled, knowledgeable or unknowing, competent or incompetent, and, in the final analysis, happy or unhappy depends almost entirely upon your own efforts and initiative. You can't be a winner without working, because life is not a lottery where you can sit back, wait, and just hope you are the lucky one to win. You get what you want by working for it, and success doesn't come when you are an adult; you have to work at it now with persistence, perseverance, determination, and dedication by getting good grades, doing the work, and asking more of yourself. There are no shortcuts. I can't guarantee you a perfect life, but I can guarantee you that you will increase your options by working harder and learning more. Education is power — To learn more is to be more. With energy and education you can overcome any obstacles, and you can be and do anything for which you want to work.

I'll think of kids and colleagues and Wiesbaden Middle School with great pleasure, with hundreds of happy memories to sustain me when I'm on my tractor, plowing and planting the south 40. Will I find retirement difficult after 31 years? I don't think so. When you close one door, you open another.

Thanks for the memories and Auf Wiedersehen
