The Ambassador speaks
With the voice of a people.
He is a new people
United---yet divided
By the same factors
Which make him
United and free.
He is a messenger
Of freedom?
Of democracy?
He is a messenger
Of the people.
He embodies the people.
We are the people.
We are the Ambassador.

SENIOR OFFICERS

68

As we stand here in the present,
Glancing back on years gone by,
We see that what we strive for,
Is achieved in all we try,
But we also look before us,
To the challenge of new ways.
We will build a train of wisdom,
And will always ride it through our days,

We will always burn the oil of love
And our lamps of life we'll fill.
We will unite a world for man and child.

With the mortar of good will,
We will dream beneath the shining stars,

And will keep our heavenly tie,
And through our lives we'll thank the guiding hand,
Of our honored Wurzburg High.

HOMECOMING 1967-68

Wurzburg Wolves vs Berlin Bears
Loyal fans are everywhere.
The score is tied, it's halftime now,
Drill Team and cheerleaders take a bow.
A heart is formed, the court is named,
A happy queen takes on her reign.
The fearless Wolves battle some more,
Fighting like mad to raise the score.
"Victory, victory that's our cry,"
Says the crowd that's standing by.
The game is over and both crowds mix.
The Wolves beat the Bears 24-6.
And then the celebration began
With the parade of floats, girls and a band.
The mourning Bears and the triumphant Wolves,
All meet together in front of the school.
And last but not least to top it all
The Wurzburg Wolves Celebrate with a ball.

Sugar coat the memories
Of the class of '70
The Frankfurt Zoo
The class picnic
An Exotic Night in Arabia
Biology dissections
Sophomore class elections
Geometric bisections
And asymmetrical imperfections
Thoughts of these are tucked away
And treasured for a future day.

JUNIOR CLASS

Here's to the Juniors of Wurzburg High Pushing through days that never go by Working for something that comes next year
Working, well sometimes, for that "freedom" so near.

Here's to the Juniors, the spirited bunch,
Finishing late term papers all during lunch.
Rushing to K's for a bit of seclusion
Debating the difference 'twixt fact and illusion.

Here's to the Juniors, of frugal intent
Selling school sweatshirts and pencils, they went,
To bolster the prom fund, in this to succeed
They sold almost everything except maybe weed

Here's to the Juniors with the personal touch
Their vocabulary lacking not very much.
Here's to the Juniors-the prime of the future
The class with the will to succeed come what may
The class you'll remember, 69 did you say?

Diane Riggs

To everything there is a season...

W. H.

And for all things
there is a reason.

There is a purpose for every time...

And a time for every purpose under Heaven.

A time to look forward.

And a time to look away.

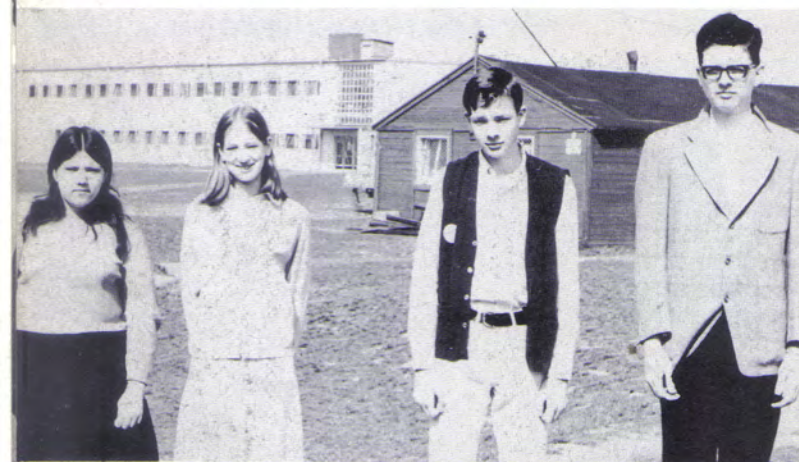

A time to sow

A time to see...

And a time to be seen.

A time to say what you really mean.

A time to stand up...

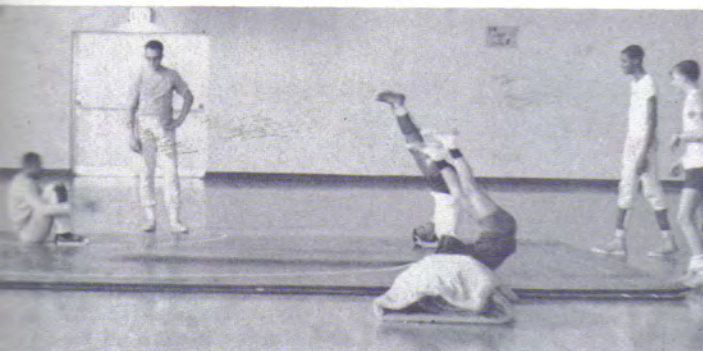

And a time to sit down
42

And a time to reap

A time to work, to play, and to sleep.

A time to cast little stones away ...

A time that we may Embrace... For the thoughts we shared together.

And a time to gather stones
together.

A time to discard...

And a time to keep.

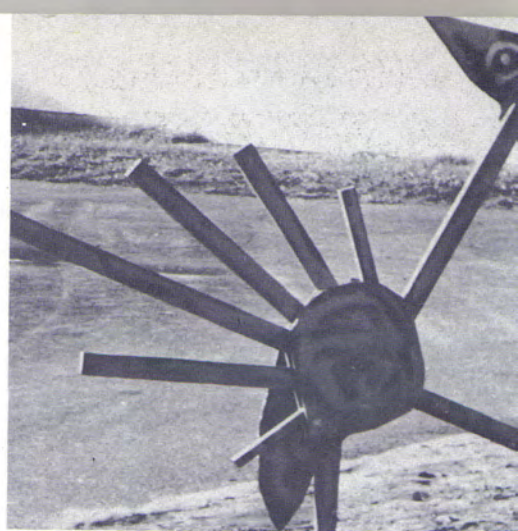

A time to go..

And a time to stay.

A time to laugh...

And a time to weep

A time to love.

And a time to hate. 46

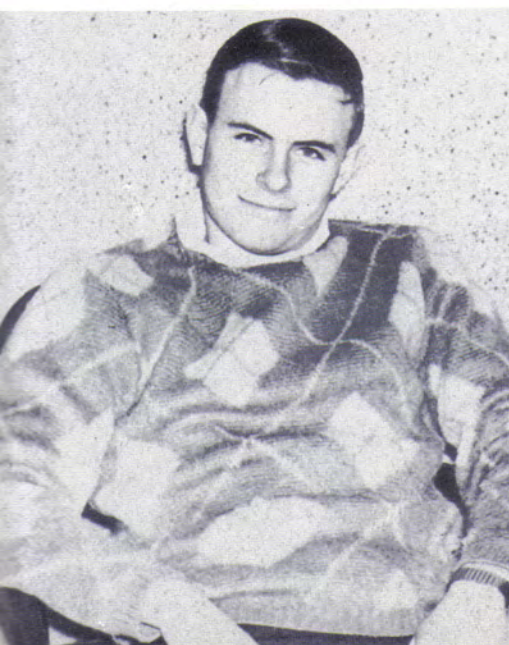

A time for concentration...

And a time of exasperation.

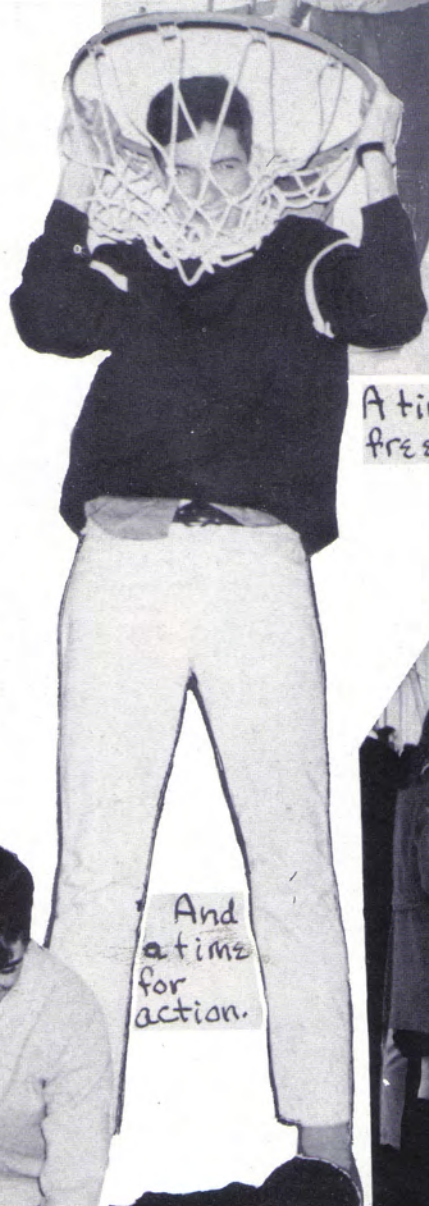

A time for explanation...

And a time of desperation.

A time to look forward.

A time to freeze...

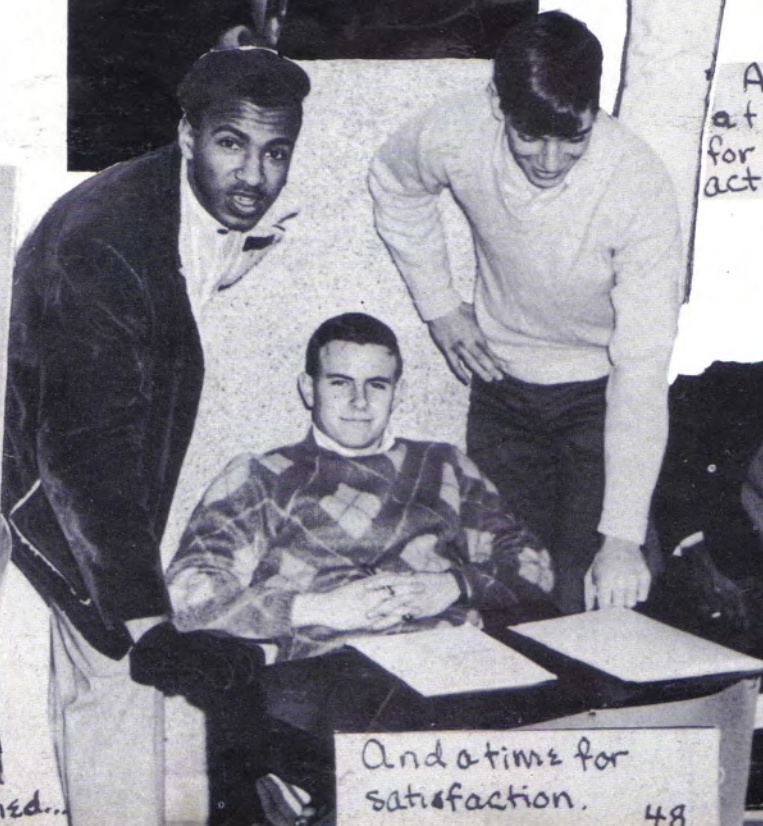

And a time to turn around.

And a time for action.

A time to be concerned...

And a time for satisfaction.

Old Boyes

A time for peace...

I swear it's not too late.
