The Yearbook Class

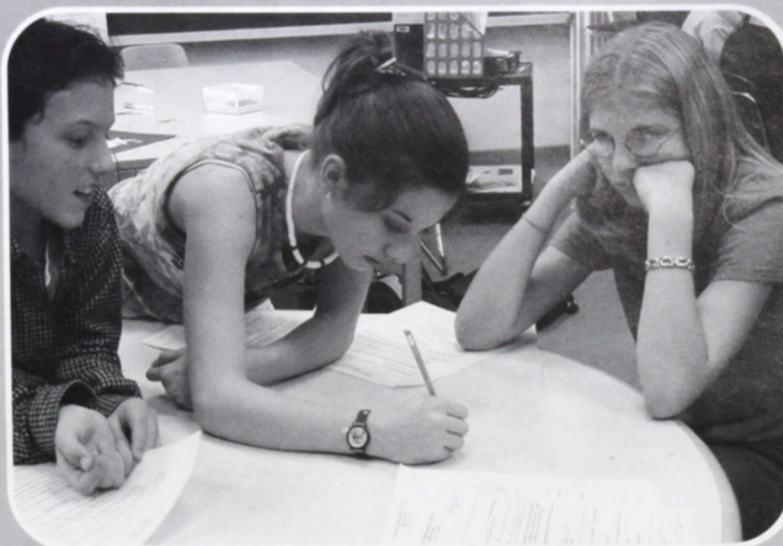

Würzburg Middle School prepares to ride into the battle of creating the school's yearbook.

Mr. Voce, Yearbook Advisor

The Yearbook Club is made up of students who voluntarily decided to work on the yearbook. There is a yearbook class during the school day. For those whose schedules do not fit the class time, they can still come after school on Wednesday and be part of the yearbook. Students are divided into groups as they work on the different parts of the yearbook.

The students are busy working on some papers for the Yearbook Club in their assigned groups.

Basketball and Book Club

Basketball Club was a fun time for the participants. Mr. Kowalski coached these events, and many people came out to have a good time playing ball. They didn't really play other teams like our soccer team, but played each other to gain skills needed to be a better player.

Book Club was a good "readers" club for the... well... reader. Mrs. Reich hosted this after school activity, and many youngsters quickly joined. They read many books and do book-related stuff to help kids learn better, or simply just for enjoyment.

By J. Patterson

School Spirit Week is a very interesting time. It allows students to be creative and have fun by going to school and dressing different during the week. School is very different during this time period.

School assemblies are kind of cool, because after a long time, sitting in tutorial everyday can get kind of boring. At the end of every Spirit Week we have a pep rally. We don't have a football team to specifically have it for, but we do it anyways. At the pep rally, the teachers do something crazy and the kids get to come up and do activities in front of the whole school, its cool.

Patrick Duran

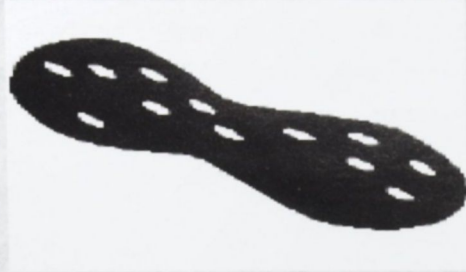

Dear Partick,

I love you so,
Though I am always on the go.
Life for you has not been easy,
Because we are always busy.
You are such a smart boy,
But rather play your Game Boy,
If school was nothing but computer games and sport,
Life would be much easier for me of sort.
To do homework with you - is like being on a battlefield,
We face each other - both of us won't yield.
I try to help you get better,
Instead you bring me home a detention letter.
It's hard for me at times to understand your stuff from school,
That dosen't mean I am not cool.
You think your mom is a little crazy,
And I think you are to young to be so lazy.
Right now you think you know it all,
Facing me square, pround and tall.
I hope with time you see the light,
And pray we stop to fight.
I want you to know that no matter what, I love you with all my heart,
And I hope we never have to be apart.

Your mom

In The Beginning

A little peanut blessed our home.

He soon grew to become
our amazing angel,

our wonderful Wootie,

And is now our beloved B.
Head.

We love him to the moon and back.

We have so much in life to be thankful for. Especially the gift that God has given us in our son Taquan Jamel Julienne. We have a Kings son, who was born into royalty. He is truly a blessing to us. Taquan is a hard working son who strives for excellence in all that he does from sports to school work to video games. He plans with a purpose, always keeping God in his life and proceeding positively and persistent of his goals for his future. Taquan is a loving big brother to his brother and sisters and has been a positive role model for them. Taquan Mom and Dad LOVE you so much and we are proud of who you are and will be in the future. Keep up the good work. God Will Bless You, Always.
