NJHS & STUDENT COUNCIL

Leaders working together to make a difference at YMS!

Admiral Kelly spoke to the NJHS & Student Council on leadership and potential opportunities.

Then it was time to have some fun at the joint overnight lock-in.

March 16, 2007
Thanks Ms. Huff and Mr. Adair for putting up with us!

2006 WHAT HAPPENED WHAT DIDN'T WHAT WAS

YEAR IN REVIEW * YEAR IN REVIEW * YEAR IN REVIEW

Media mogul, Oprah Winfrey fulfills her promise made to Nelson Mandela nearly six years ago. Winfrey is joined by some of the first students of the Oprah Winfrey Leadership Academy for Girls during the ribbon-cutting ceremony in Meyerton, outside Johannesburg. Winfrey started the private learning and residential institution for teenage girls who show outstanding promise despite their social circumstances.

The Shape of our Nation

America grows every year. In 2006 we hit the 300 million mark. Here's how times have changed over the last 92 years:

	1915	1967	2006
U.S. POPULATION	100 million	200 million	300 million
AVG. FAMILY SIZE	4.9 people	2.9 people	2.6 people

YOU'D BETTER (NOT) EAT YOUR SPINACH!

In August an outbreak of E.coli bacteria on fresh spinach killed three people and left 199 others sick. All spinach was quickly removed from grocery store shelves and restaurants as illness spread across 26 states. By the end of September the scare was over and the cause was found. The FDA determined that the E.coli bacteria came from wild pigs that snuck into the spinach fields.

THIS MAGIC MOMENT

High school senior, Jason McElwain, kisses his award for best sports moment as presenter, actor, Jake Gyllenhaal, looks on at the 2006 ESPY Awards on July 12, 2006. McElwain, an autistic student at Greece Athena High School in New York, had been the longtime basketball team manager. As a surprise to him, the coach let him suit up and play in the last game of the season. The coach ended up getting the surprise as McElwain sank six three-pointers and another shot for a total of 20 points.

broadcast yourself

In October of 2006, internet giant, Google, Inc. bought YouTube, a popular free video sharing website that lets you upload, share and view videos. In its short time on the web, YouTube has grown quickly and received much attention. According to a July 2006 study, nearly 100 million clips are viewed daily and on average, 65,000 video clips are uploaded per 24 hour period. Google purchased YouTube for a mere $1.65 billion in stock.

You Got Game

The video game industry saw record profits with an almost 20% increase in sales in 2006! Leading the charge were the November releases of Sony's Playstation 3 (1.2 million units sold) and Nintendo's Wii (3.2 million units sold). Among the newest consoles, Microsoft's Xbox 360, which was released a full year before the PS3 and Wii, leads the way with about 10.4 million units sold. Top selling console games of 2006 included "Madden NFL 2007" & "Cars".

a Fond Farewell

Long time TODAY Show co-anchor, Katie Couric leaves the morning news program after 15 years. In September of 2006, she took over the CBS Evening News. Couric is the first female news anchor to fly solo on a primetime newscast.

BIG HITS on the BIG SCREEN

and the winners are...

(L-R) Eddie Murphy, Jennifer Hudson, Beyonce Knowles, and Jamie Foxx attend the Golden Globe Awards. The foursome appeared in the movie Dreamgirls which received the award for best motion picture (musical or comedy). Murphy was honored with the best supporting actor award, Hudson won best supporting actress, and Knowles was nominated for best actress. The movie was also nominated for best original song for "Listen".

'06 winter games

The 2006 Winter Olympic Games were held in Turino, Italy. The U.S. sent 211 athletes to participate in 15 sports. Grand total, U.S. teams brought home twenty five medals [9 gold, 9 silver & 7 bronze].

Tanith Belbin and Benjamin Agosto of the USA show off their silver medals earned in the ice dancing competition in Turino. This was the first medal the U.S. has brought home for ice dancing in over thirty years!

Shaun White of the U.S. [R], and Daniel Kass celebrate on the winners' podium after the final of the men's half pipe snowboarding competition. White received a gold medal and Kass the silver in the competition.

WINTER GAMES XX Turino, Italy

THE WORLD OF SPORTS

St. Louis Cardinals catcher Yadier Molina (C) jumps into the arms of teammate Jim Edmonds while Albert Pujols runs alongside, as the St. Louis Cardinals celebrate their World Series victory over the Detroit Tigers in St. Louis on October 27. The Cardinals defeated the Tigers 4-2, finishing the series 4 games to 1.

36 year old Andre Agassi ended his tennis career to an eight minute standing ovation at the US Open. During Agassi's 21 years in professional tennis, he won over 60 tournaments including eight Grand Slam titles. He will retire to spend more time with his two children and wife, former tennis champion, Steffi Graf.

Simply the BEST!

Super Bowl XLI was won by the Indianapolis Colts 29-17 over the Chicago Bears. This was the first time two African American head coaches appeared in the championship game.

Italy defeated France in the 2006 Soccer World Cup in Germany. Italy won the title after a tense final game and a championship shootout.

The Miami Heat won the 2006 NBA title by beating the Dallas Mavericks in six games. Miami's Dwayne Wade was named the finals MUP, while his teammate Shaquille O'Neal won his fourth NBA title.

The Detroit Shock upset the defending WNBA Champion Sacramento Monarchs in five games to win the 2006 WNBA title. Deanna Nolan was named the finals MUP for leading the Shock to its second WNBA championship.

MILLION DOLLAR MATH PROBLEM

Russian mathematician Grigory Perelman was credited with solving one of the seven hardest math problems in the world. The Clay Mathematics Institute of Cambridge, Mass. identified these seven problems and offered a one million dollar reward to anyone who could prove they have the solution to any of them. Instead of collecting his large cash prize, Perelman posted his solution on the internet and refused any recognition for his accomplishment.

In August he was awarded the Fields Medal, the top award in mathematics which is only awarded once every four years. He didn't show up to receive this honor either.

plant a tree

To celebrate its 50th anniversary, Enterprise Rent-A-Car Company has pledged to plant 50 million trees over the next 50 years. The National Arbor Day Foundation approached Enterprise with this idea as a way to commemorate the company's milestone and make a commitment to the environment.

GOIN' GREEN!

Enterprise wasn't the only company doing its part to help out Mother Earth:

- Yahoo! Autos and Environmental Defense teamed up to provide green ratings for cars advertised on Yahoo! Auto's website. Users can now find out how much impact different car models have on global warming and smog emissions.
- Wal-Mart has made a commitment to sell only sustainable fish in its North American stores. Each fishery that supplies Wal-Mart with its fish must follow strict guidelines that prevent over fishing and eventually the extinction of species.
- Several delivery companies have added hybrid trucks to their fleets. Fed Ex started the trend in 2005 and UPS followed suit last year adding 50 diesel hydraulic hybrid trucks that store energy from braking in hydraulic fluid, rather than electricity. Frito-Lay and the US Postal Service are other companies who are leading this greener trend.

President Gerald Ford
(July 14, 1913 - December 26, 2006)

Gerald Ford was our nation's 38th president, and the only American President to have assumed the office due to a resignation. In 1974, President Ford took over the White House after President Richard Nixon stepped down because of the Watergate scandal.

James Joe Brown, Jr.
(May 3, 1933 - December 25, 2006)

The "Godfather of Soul", James Brown was a major influence on American popular music for over 50 years. His hits included "I Got You" (I feel good) and "Papa's Got A Brand New Bag". Brown has been inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and also received the Grammy Award for Lifetime Achievement in 1992.

history makers

Edward R. Bradley
(June 22, 1941 - November 9, 2006)

Ed Bradley is best known for his work on CBS's 60 Minutes news show. This 19 time Emmy Award winner was best known for his war reporting and was even injured by a mortar round during the Vietnam War.

Stephen Robert Irwin
(February 22, 1962 - September 4, 2006)

Steve Irwin, also known as the Crocodile Hunter, died doing what he loved best. While filming near the Great Barrier Reef in his home country of Australia, he was fatally struck in the chest by a stingray. Irwin spent his life as an environmentalist spreading the word, through TV shows, about living in harmony with nature.

Mary,
Thank you for giving me the opportunity to grow at this school. I have especially enjoyed dressing up on Halloween, hearing Mike's and the 8th graders - what fun. I've really enjoyed working here and I have developed close
