

SHANNON
SNOW

"its the artist's business to create sunshine when the sun falls."

Romain Roland

BONJOUR!

Shannon Snow makes colorful art for colorful people.

Since starting her design career, she's been nurturing her love for highly illustrative surface design, maximalist color, and bold typography. Her work is inspired by family, folk art, and flora and fauna.

Shannon firmly believes that art should make you feel good. Her brand is colorful, happy, and loaded with whimsy and wonder. Her rapidly growing audience on social media is drawn to the much-needed good vibes.

The vibrant colors and nature scenes are undeniably cheerful. Their uplifting, playful scenes- bugs climbing over mushrooms or a smiling turtle marching- will definitely bring a smile to your face.

Optimism

The background of the entire image is a dense, repeating pattern. It features a variety of colorful moths in shades of pink, purple, blue, yellow, and orange, interspersed with small, stylized flowers in similar colors. The pattern is set against a dark green background. A white rectangular box with a pink border is centered in the image, containing a quote.

"Be a rainbow in someone's cloud."

Maya Angelou

"i'd rather see the world as a rainbow than an endless shade of gray."
