Annie Quigley

Artist & Founder

Annie Quigley's life long love for art lead her to pursuing a creative career in her early twenties. As a young mom she knew her heart belonged at home with her baby girl. Annie painted during naptime and began selling her early paintings in her family's home and gift boutique.

Annie has carried her love for art into her adult life but holds onto childhood memories for inspiration. Memories like her mother's love for all things floral, her fathers love for gardening, and long summer days spent at the beach enjoying lifes simple and most precious moments.
