A vibrant, cluttered desk with a white background wall covered in colorful posters and notes. The posters include "HOORAY" repeated in various colors, a "CRAPTS CRAFTS" sign, a "home is where the heart is" quote, and a "Your Key Phrases" chart. A green plant in a white vase sits on the desk, along with a pink pom-pom, a white stapler, and a clear jar.

Meet the artist

Cecily Moore was born and raised in Kansas City, Missouri. She grew up attending arts festivals and experimenting with art forms from block printing to weaving as a Girl Scout. Her enthusiasm for art and creativity led to pursuit of a Bachelor's Degree in Fashion Design at the Fashion Institute of Technology in New York City, where she now resides.

After her BFA, Cecily realized a deep passion for layout and typography and pursued an intensive program in Graphic Design at Shillington. This armed her with a well-rounded design perspective from fashion to graphics that has been instrumental in the development and success of her aesthetic.

Out of her Queens, New York studio, Cecily runs The Paper Curator and explores her love of pattern, texture, lettering, and bright colors. Her bold color choices carried from her Midwest childhood are enriched by her New York experiences to achieve refined, curated collections of works done in a wide variety of mediums including watercolor, acrylic, ink, marbling, and embroidery—to name a few.
