Hello! I'm Angela, an artist, and graphic designer living in Sacramento, California. Welcome to my quirky, sweet, silly collection of puzzles and patterns inspired by myths, monsters and mash-ups.

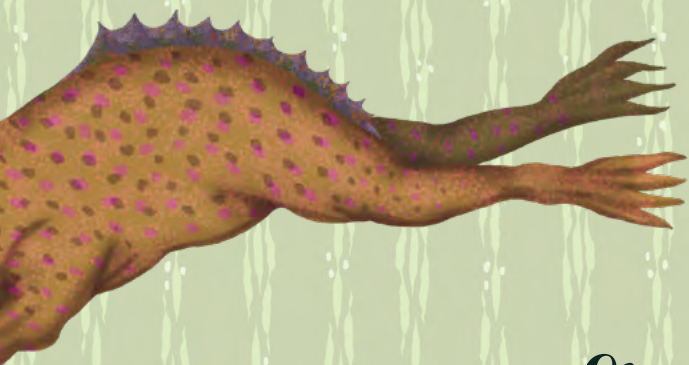

Angela Tannehill-Caldwell's work has been featured in exhibitions, in galleries and cultural centers, including Art Attack in San Francisco; The Art Cave in Santa Cruz, CA; Art Thou in Berkeley, CA; and the Northwest Collage Society in Seattle. In Sacramento she has had exhibitions at Sparrow Gallery, the SMUD Gallery of the Sacramento Metropolitan Arts Commission; Sacramento City Hall, 1810 Gallery, Atelier 20, Arthouse on R, and the Contemporary Dance Conservatory. Tannehill-Caldwell's work has been published in many publications, including a cover story article in Submerge Magazine.

Here Be Dragons

20" x 30" | By Angela Tannehill-Caldwell

Here Be Dragons is a digitally rendered group of playful seamonsters and dragons. All of these brightly colored creatures are based on inked drawings dating back as far as the 1400s. It's a delightful mystery imagining what real creatures the long-gone artists were trying to depict.

Mythical Mice

10" x 10" (each) 20" x 20" (grouped) | By Angela Tannehill-Caldwell

Koi Garden

48" x 48" (original) | By Angela Tannehill-Caldwell

Koi Garden is a hand-cut collage commissioned by 1810 Gallery for the offices of California Medical Association in Sacramento, California. The original piece measures 48" x 48" and hangs in a diamond shape (right). Here, it has been tightly cropped and converted to illustrate a circular puzzle. Due to the repeating elements and areas of solid color, this would be a wonderfully challenging puzzle. It would also work in a square format.

Feathered Fins is a digital work created for Tannehill-Caldwell's 2020 solo show, "Magical Thinking," at Sparrow Gallery in Sacramento, California. The full piece measures 18" x 36" but can be cropped in several ways to fit a standard puzzle size. This example highlights an 18" x 24.5" section of the original.
