Threaded Iron, Welded Nipples, and Forged Steel Product Consolidation

September 28, 2020

In July of 2020, we announced the transition of our SPF brand to the SCI brand on malleable iron, ductile iron, cast iron, and nipple product lines. We continue to align our brands to simplify inventory, pricing, and transactions with the combined Anvil and Smith-Cooper business. As previously communicated, the change will be to the branding only (stamped logo, packaging, and label), while the design, function, and industry approvals of the product will not change. These changes will continue to be a rolling change as the inventory of products with the SPF logo is depleted and transitioned to the SCI logo and updated packaging.

Beginning November 2, 2020, the Anvil and Smith-Cooper malleable iron, ductile iron, cast iron, welded nipples and forged steel product lines will be consolidated. The consolidation will eliminate duplicate SKUs while retaining any unique items offered within the Anvil or Smith-Cooper portfolio. To simplify this transition, we have created a merger web page where you will be able to find and download critical information related to this consolidation. <https://www.anvilintl.com/company/merger>

The information available on the website includes:

- The complete list of malleable iron, ductile iron, cast iron, welded nipples and forged steel SKU's that are available on a single cross-reference
  - Merged Anvil and SCI Final Item Number including previous item/part numbers
  - Merged Anvil and SCI Final UPC Numbers including previous UPC numbers
  - Cross-reference of overlapped SKU's
- Important communications regarding the merger
- Key contact information to assist as we move through the merger
- Product conformance letters

We are excited to align our brands and the products they represent with the quality and service our customers have come to expect from both businesses. We thank you for your continued support and look forward to continuing our growth together.

Thank You,
